

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 465

That comment was suddenly posted under Michael's tweet. After reading that, Sophia immediately rushed to the modern area with Sean and Stanley. Cooper is still in the film studio!

She was so excited that she almost burst into tears. I'm going to meet Cooper soon! I will have a father soon!

When they finally arrived at the modern area where Cooper had allegedly appeared, many people were already there—most were the fans from Twitter.

After she ignored the crowd, she saw a tall man in the middle, who was at least 1.9 meters tall.

He was blond and he wore a black coat, having a similar posture to Cooper in the pictures.

Upon looking at his back, Sophia was stunned.

After searching for him for a long time, the person whom she had been looking for now stood in front of her, but she did not dare to take another step further.

Everything was perfect in that moment—like she was in a dream. She was worried that the dream would disintegrate and fall apart like bubbles once she took another step forward.

While holding his breath, Sean walked forward in nervousness. Before he could approach Cooper, the man had already turned to look at them.

The moment he turned had shocked both Sean and Stanley.

He had a handsome appearance with golden blond hair, prominent facial features, and eyes that shone like blue jewels. However, he was not Cooper.

Indeed, they looked very similar—almost 95% alike. After taking into account that most locals shared similar facial features, the picture uploaded online was merely a picture after all. Hence, the man looked exactly like Cooper on it.

However, everyone in the Mitchell Family lived together after all, so Sean was very close to Cooper. The first time he saw the man, he almost thought that it was Cooper. Now that he took a second glance, he could tell the difference.

Sean stopped in his excited footsteps and stood rooted to the ground for a long time without moving. In the end, he turned in disappointment and glanced at Stanley and Sophia for a long time before saying with regrets, “They just look alike. He is not Cooper.”

Sophia, who was waiting to be reunited with her father, felt as if a bucket of cold water had been thrown on her. Filled with disappointment, she looked at that man in a daze with a blank mind. They just look alike? The person whom we are looking for these past few days... He is just someone who bears a similar appearance to Cooper?

Maybe, the man whom Nicole saw seven years ago is also this man, not Cooper.

In that case, is everything a misunderstanding then? A misunderstanding that dated from seven years ago? All the surprises that I received were nothing after all?

Sophia had no idea when she left that place or how she walked away. She mechanically followed behind Sean and Stanley until they arrived at a cafe. After she drank a cup of hot coffee, she finally returned to her senses.

The aroma from the three cups of coffee spread in the air, but the three of them remained silent. After being busy for the past two days, everything was merely a misunderstanding. Of course they would be unhappy about it.

Sean had hoped all along that Cooper could return to the Mitchell Family and salvage the current situation—Alex fooled around for his personal gains and Old Master Mitchell could no longer hold it together anymore. Cooper was the only person who could save them. But...

Sophia felt like bursting into tears, but tried to act normally in front of Sean, so she took her phone out to read the latest news.

The man who looked like Cooper now became extremely famous. Due to his appearance, the fans took a liking to him. On top of that, they were in a film studio, so many higher-ups involved in the entertainment industry were also there.

Even though he only appeared for a short time, he was invited for a chat by a few directors of the nearby film set. With his looks and a model's height, he could build a strong fanbase, so many people want to sign him up and promote him.

In such a short period of time, there were many videos of him online.

In the videos, the man who looked like Cooper spoke in broken English. Upon facing the large fanbase, his blue iris reflected fear and helplessness.

I guess this expression will never appear on Cooper's face. While looking at the man, Sophia tried to imagine what an older Cooper would look like. I wonder if we will get to meet each other in this lifetime.

Suddenly, Maria called her. "Madam, Nicole finished all of her scenes yesterday, but after she completed her filming, she lost consciousness. She's now in hospital and about to be transferred to the one in Bayside City. Are you going to visit her?"

Nicole has finished with all of her parts and she fainted? Since Sophia was busy with looking for Cooper for the past few days, she did not visit the film set, so she had no idea what had happened there.

After she put her phone down, Sophia quickly said, "I'm going to the hospital to visit a friend. You guys should grab something to eat first."

Although Sean was in low spirits, he tried to act cheerful. "Sophia, you've been helping us out for the past few days. We'll accompany you to visit your friend."

Sophia rejected them immediately. "That's fine. It's not suitable for you guys to be there. She has gynaecological problems."

She thought, If I visit Nicole, I will definitely tell her about the fake Cooper. After all, she has been waiting for him for seven years, so it would be expected that she would share about the incident seven years ago. Then, Sean and Stanley will know that I've seen the pictures of the fake Cooper before this.

Logically speaking, if she had seen the picture, she would definitely have said it aloud and informed Sean. However, she didn't do that. Since Sean is so thoughtful, he might assume that there is more to this than meets the eye.

Since Sophia had already rejected them, Sean also stopped insisting. "In that case, let me drive you there since I drove here."

Then, Sean and Stanley drove her to a florist to buy some flowers before they went to the hospital.

After the car stopped, she hurriedly exited the car with the flowers in her hand. "You don't have to wait for me here. I'll head back on my own."

...

In the car, Stanley yawned. "I'm dead on my feet after searching around for two days. I'm going back to the hotel to rest first."

Sean, who was in the driver's seat, looked calm and composed. However, he suddenly said, "Sophia's presents are still here. Stanley, rest in the car for a bit first while I send this to her."

Stanley lay down in the backseat of the car and closed his eyes. "Go, go!"

Sean exited the car and walked upstairs without locking his car.

In the ward, Sophia found Nicole and saw her case history folder.

"My goodness! Why didn't you tell us that you sustained many injuries? Yet, you flew here and there in the air with the metal cables around you! If something happens to you, what will the kids at the orphanage do?"

Not only did Nicole suffer some slight internal hemorrhage, but she also had many bone fractures, many of which were from old injuries. She had not said a word about that and persisted while filming many intense action scenes for a long time.

Laying on the bed, Nicole had removed all of her makeup; her face looked extremely pale with little trace of blood at all. Even she spoke in a soft voice. "I'll be fine. It's an action film, after all, so it's normal to have injuries."

She did not like to trouble others with her matters, so she was used to handling everything herself.

Even though Sophia only hung out with Nicole for less than a month, she understood the latter's behavior well and merely shook her head helplessly. "I'm still looking forward to your future movies. If you are crippled now, do you know how sad I will be?"

After chatting with Nicole, Sophia suddenly remembered about the fake Cooper and quickly took out her phone to show her his video. "See, the man you met seven years ago is also here in the film studio and he's even famous now! He's been hired by a famous director.

You have to take care of yourself, especially when you guys might have an opportunity to collaborate together!” Even though I didn’t manage to look for my father, I found the man Nicole has been thinking about for years. This is something good, at least. Perhaps, their relationship might blossom into something else!