

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 483

Michael commented in a professional tone, “Mm-hmm, not bad at all. However, I think the hollowed out skirt design doesn’t make much sense because it will shift attention away from what you’re trying to present. Besides, it makes the entire gown lose its focus point.”

“Huh?” Sophia seemed puzzled when she heard that. However, she agreed with Michael’s comment after looking down at the gown. Therefore, she went off in a hurry to try on another wedding gown.

When it involved choosing her wedding gown, Sophia seemed especially serious about it, and Michael seemed focused on keeping her company too.

Michael observed while Sophia tried on a new wedding gown, one after another. Suddenly, he stood up abruptly to say, “The Murrays are causing trouble at home. I should head home to check on Nate.”

After weighing his options, Michael decided that it was best to return to check on the situation.

Sophia replied hastily, “In that case, you should go home first. I’ll visit grandpa in the military compound after trying on the gowns.”

“Mm-hmm, I’ll send someone over to pick you up at night.”

Michael left in a hurry. Although he did not have to worry about the situation at home, the thought of Nathan being alone at home made him determined that the Murrays must never harm Nathan.

He rushed home in a hurry, and he noticed that the entire house was sealed shut. Therefore, Michael returned home through the basement and arrived at the garden to see Nathan playing with the cat, dog, and his robot in the garden.

“Nate, did someone drop by earlier?”

Nathan did not even bother looking up. “I told them that my parents were dead.”

Michael was rendered speechless when he heard that.

Sophia was still trying on wedding gowns in the bridal shop. Michael has picked out a suit long ago, and so I have to find a wedding gown that matches well with his suit.

Due to Taylor’s identity, the whole floor was specially sealed off just for the two of them.

The bridal shop was part of Ido’s flagship stores for marriage products. Not only did Ido make wedding rings, they even tailored premium wedding gowns.

Ido’s Flagship Bridal Shop was a huge store, and they took up a few floors as their operation space. The higher the floor, the more premium it was, and thanks to Michael, Sophia was currently on the highest floor in the shop.

Trying on wedding gowns was a physically demanding activity. After spending the whole day trying on countless wedding gowns, Sophia finally found one that she was happy with. After taking her measurements, she left to use the loo in a hurry. Unfortunately, it so happened that the washroom on that floor was under maintenance because the flush was faulty. In fact, the workers were trying their best to repair it as fast as they could.

The workers were extremely nervous because they did not expect the washroom to be out of order upon the arrival of such an important client. Hence, they were worried that she would lose her temper. Nevertheless, Sophia did not comment further; instead, she made her way downstairs to look for another washroom.

In the washroom, Sophia, who was seated on the toilet in one of the cubicles, was playing her phone in silence. The washroom had a very nice fragrance that smelled wonderful. Besides, the toilet had a massage and auto-flush function that was paired with... an auto bum-wipe function.

Sophia sat on the toilet for a bum massage to relax herself. Simultaneously, she was thinking of a way to explain to Old Master Fletcher that she had been sleeping with Michael for a very long time.

She was an important client after all, and so she couldn't possibly stay in the washroom forever. Otherwise, the staff might misunderstand. Therefore, she placed a 'Under Maintenance' sign in a hurry at her cubicle door. After that, she shut the door in relief to mull over her choices in life.

After a moment, she heard some footsteps outside of the door. Soon, she heard a woman asking tentatively, "Is anyone in there?"

Sophia put her phone on silent mode in a hurry while keeping quiet.

There were only two cubicles in the washroom, and Sophia had already occupied one of them. Therefore, the other person could only take the remaining cubicle.

The woman entered the washroom to knock on both doors. After confirming that one of it was empty, whereas the other was under maintenance, she walked out.

After a while, Sophia heard the uniform footsteps of a pair of high heels and a pair of leather shoes walking into the washroom.

Thud! The main door of the washroom slammed shut with a dull thud.

Soon, the cubicle door adjacent to Sophia was closed as well. Then... she immediately heard the suggestive panting sounds of a man and woman being engaged in unspeakable acts. After that, there was a loud clunk of a belt buckle hitting the floor, followed by a series of intense slapping sounds.

Sophia was rendered speechless when she heard that.

The couple next door was lost in their intense activities while recklessly having a tryst. The woman was moaning sensually, and there were even sounds of leather slapping against flesh intermittently.

“B*tch! Say it! Do you like being f*cked by your younger brother-in-law?”

“You are a brute! Your fiancée is trying on her wedding gown next door, but here you are, fooling around with your fiancée’s cousin... You are truly a brute!”

“Don’t you enjoy my brutal ways?”

“When are you planning to make things clear with that b*tch?”

“I have just received my marriage certificate. Don’t worry—once I’ve taken my share of money from the Huffs, I’ll ditch her immediately!”

Slap, slap, slap, slap!

Sophia was at a loss for words. I can’t believe it’s actually Faye and Richard!

A leopard never changes its spots, indeed. I can’t believe he’s actually doing this right in the washroom of a bridal shop!

The couple, who was lost in the heat of their passion, did not realize that a phone camera was extending from the next door cubicle in silence from the top...

At the counter on the second floor of Ido’s tailored bridal shop, Xyla and Faye had already waited for half an hour, but Richard was nowhere to be seen.

Earlier, Faye left to use the loo, whereas Richard had to excuse himself after receiving a business phone call. Currently, Faye was already back, but Richard had not returned.

Today was the day for Xyla and Richard to try on their wedding clothes in Ido. They even invited Faye for her opinion. After going through countless options, Xyla finally selected a wedding gown that she liked. Now, she was just waiting for Richard to return to pay the bill.

There were a lot of people trying on wedding gowns, and most of them were acquaintances of Xyla and Faye's. The bunch of rich women gathered together to chat while boasting about their respective wedding gowns.

One of them claimed, "The accessories alone on my wedding gown are worth more than a million! They are all authentic, and it's super heavy!"

Another woman exclaimed, "How heavy can your wedding gown be? It must be just about 20kg! Mine is more than 30kg! In fact, the veil itself is 5 meters!"

"My veil is 8 meters long! When the time comes, my husband's children will all lift my veil during the ceremony!"

Their wedding gowns were just like their wedding rings and jewelry. The wedding gown was one of the more important items that the group of madams were comparing and boasting to each other.

After listening to everybody boasting about themselves, Xyla remained silent until they were done talking. Then, she dropped a bomb. "My wedding gown isn't that expensive too; it only costs 7 million. Previously, the designer designed Princess Kate's wedding gown."

Upon hearing that, the bunch of rich women stared at her in jealousy and resentment.

As expected from the Harper Family's Young Mistress. Those doing business in property are all rich! Other families can't even compare to their extravagance!

The group were chatting away happily. Along the way, one of them would brush their hair distractedly while showing off the large diamond ring on her finger.

Once in a while, another one of the women would lift her wrist to show off a priceless jade bangle...

Suddenly, Faye, who had always had a keen eye, noticed Sophia, who was dressed modestly, sitting in a corner.

This was a premium tailor bridal shop, and so commoners wouldn't be able to afford shopping here. Hence, the client base here would either be rich or powerful. All the clients in the waiting room were either clad in jewelry or wearing designer brand clothes. Sophia was the only outlier because she was wearing a t-shirt, a pair of shorts, and sport shoes, paired with a baseball cap.

Sophia looked like an ugly duckling which had barged into the territory of a pride of peacocks by accident, while emitting an untimely stench and was reeking of poverty.

Why is she here?

Faye and Xyla exchanged a glance...

Sophia couldn't be bothered to cut the queue with her VIP status, and so she made Gemma wait in line to pay the bill while she sat in the corner, sending Michael pictures of the wedding gown she had chosen.

Michael was playing sand with Nathan at home. He had been very busy lately, and Nathan had been distant toward him. Hence, it felt like the longest time since both father and son enjoyed some playtime together.

"I chose a wedding gown which I really like, and I've sent you a picture of it via Messenger. I'm getting someone to pay the bill now, and I'm paying for yours as well. My treat this time, and don't worry about it."