

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 490

Upon hearing that, Michael felt like punching something. It hadn't been two days since Nathan's living cost was increased to 1,000 per month, but his ego had started to grow yet again. How wonderful.

Sophia burst out laughing while pinching Nathan's tender cheeks and rolling them back and forth like dough, her eyes full of affection. This kid must have been itching for a spanking again! "He's just joking! He's my son and I'm his stepmother."

Linus was astonished. "You've gotten married at such a young age?"

Sophia nodded. "Yeah. I've been married for two years. Other than being old, my husband is the best. I even got a free son."

Michael was speechless. Not long after, Sophia had unleashed her fun side in the game. She logged onto Michael's game account 'Scary Phoenix' and started to show off in front of Linus.

"Linus, let me lead you in the game. This is my man's game account and I've borrowed it from him."

Michael went to his study as well and in just a few minutes, 'Call Me Taylor' logged onto 'Swordsman Game'. Without saying a word, he requested to join Sophia's team.

On the other end, Sophia knew why he had come. What a petty man, she thought. He just had to be on his guard although she was purely chatting with Linus to train her language skills. And so, Sophia, Linus, Michael and Nathan teamed up to start the game.

Meanwhile, 'Swordsman' was confirmed to be released as a film with the same title. In the past, many fans of games absolutely abhorred the idea of adapting a game into a film, because the film would normally be ruined and none of the actors could satisfy the fan's expectations. However, when news that Taylor Murray would be acting in 'Swordsman' spread, the gamers rejoiced. With an ever popular actor of the film industry portraying the heroic character which everyone admired in 'Swordsman Game', it was bound to be a perfect production!

'Swordsman Game' was the top-notch game in Cethos and it inevitably followed the trend and was adapted into a film. Even so, the game's fans fervently anticipated for it. In their eyes, no one in this world other than Taylor could meet their expectations for the character. Hence today, as soon as Scary Phoenix appeared, the game burst into an uproar.

There was a function in the game that allowed the gamers to like and send flowers to the other gamers. Therefore, wherever Scary Phoenix went, he was showered in flowers. Every time Scary Phoenix went online, the whole server would be shaken. Within seconds, No. 1 Beast of the Server, Snow Fox and Dragon Belle Warrior came to ride on his coattails.

When everyone had formed a team, Stanley realized that there was a stranger present.

Snow Fox: 'Hello newcomer. Who are you?'

Scary Phoenix: 'This is my friend, Linus. He's a young man imported from the African grasslands and he's extremely handsome, but you're not allowed to swing the other way!'

Outside the game, Sean and Harry gasped, "What?"

Could it be Linus Michel? How did the two of them know each other? When they noticed that 'Call Me Taylor' hadn't spoken a word since the beginning, everyone decided to shut their mouth and started to clear the monsters as a team.

Since Michael hadn't involved Stanley in locating Cooper, Stanley didn't know much about Linus. He was just curious about the person who had suddenly appeared so he asked, "Where did you come from and who are you to play games with Sophia?"

Sophia seemed to be unaware of everyone's strange looks. She even set up a Messenger gaming group and added Stanley, Sean, Michael, Sarah, Linus and Harry. Herself included, there were seven of them. Instinctively, Michael tapped into Linus's profile from the list and found that he was indeed Linus Michel! What a strange fate that both of them got to know each other!

Unexpectedly, before the game started, a stranger suddenly requested to join the team. The player's account name was Nat. Looking at that account, the look on everyone's face became odd. Despite remaining silent, Scary Phoenix accepted her into the team.

After Natasha joined the team, she appeared in front of everyone. This time, she had changed into an expensive game outfit again and was dressed up like an angel. Pitifully, she walked over to them and they could sense the coquettishness from her even from behind the screen.

Nat: 'Taylor, I'm sorry but I didn't expect that things would turn out this way...'
After Natasha snuck out that day, she was kidnapped and the Mitchell Family had to pay an exorbitant ransom to get her back. Now, she was grounded at home. She even tried to call Michael but he didn't answer her call. Fortunately, she knew that he would log into the game so she waited for him in the game. As expected, she saw Michael turn up.

It was only now that she knew his true identity. He was Michael Fletcher, not Taylor Murray, and she realized how childish she had acted previously.

‘Taylor...’ Natasha typed.

But he replied, ‘Sorry, but I’m his wife.’

His wife again? Upon seeing that, Natasha felt annoyed but it wasn’t long before a malicious smile appeared on her face. She had always thought that Eddie had a powerful backing, hence why Michael had hesitated and refused to be with her.

Now, it seemed like Eddie wasn’t the one with a powerful backing but Michael. Currently, the Mitchell Family was displeased with what she and her father did. For the very first time, she felt pressured and it intensified when they found that Cooper was still alive. However, she had other solutions and her target remained the same—she wanted Michael!

The Mitchells were extremely displeased back then when Celine married Justin. They weren’t unhappy about Celine, but they were mad because Justin didn’t deserve her. After all, she was Mark’s most beloved granddaughter but she married an outsider from the collateral family of the Mitchells. According to Celine’s status, Cooper, who was the head of the family back then, should be the one that matched well with her.

Even Old Master Fletcher was extremely unsatisfied. Initially, he planned for Celine to marry Cooper but unexpectedly, she insisted on marrying Justin. That just showed how much Mark favored that pair of siblings. Later on, Cooper was the one who stepped out and helped to bring the marriage to fruition. Therefore, if Natasha managed to marry Michael in the end, the Mitchell Family would finally establish a connection with the Fletcher Family! By that time, who from the Mitchell Family would dare to question her father and her?

Besides, Natasha still had a trump card up her sleeve. Giving up halfway was never an option in her world and after all the effort that she spent, she definitely would not give up. She must marry Michael—it was her long-cherished dream as well as her only solution now!

Smiling, she typed on the keyboard and Sophia soon saw a wordy message from Natasha.

'I'm sorry, Mrs. Murray. What happened that night was all my fault. I accidentally fell into the Murray Family's trap, causing the misunderstanding to happen between me and Taylor... I know that you're not on friendly terms with the Murrays and I initially planned to mediate things between you and the Murray Family. Unexpectedly, the Murrays forced Taylor to divorce you and even vilified him. To protect his reputation, I had no choice but to hold a press conference. I am truly guilty for that, but I only see Taylor as my brother.'

After sending the lengthy text, Natasha waited for Sophia's reply. That night, the fact that she slept with Michael was undoubtedly true. As long as that incident existed, a bomb would always be ticking between Michael and this b*tch.
