

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 494

Upon hearing the school leader praising Natasha, even Linus was interested to meet her. All at once, the girls felt bitter. Ha! She's just a traveling tramp who was called out on her lies!

However, this was a major occasion so naturally, they could not tear each other down in the presence of their guests. It would affect the reputation of Cethosian education, not to mention the reputation of Bayside University. After all, Natasha was representing the top performing students of Cethos.

As the group entered the complex building, the sound of the piano got louder. The closer they got, the more beautiful the music sounded; they could even feel the emotions of the song as they listened at a closer distance.

Finally, they were able to see the person playing the piano as they entered the hall. It turned out to be a very young girl who seemed to be underage.

Natasha was wearing a snow-white long dress, with a tassel hanging on each of her wrists. As she played the piano, it was as if her hands were dancing across the piano keys as the tassels swayed.

The guests immediately surrounded the piano as they watched Natasha perform and praised her as they listened to the music. In fact, most of them were familiar with playing the piano so just by listening, they knew that her piano skills were top-notch.

However, they did not expect the performer to be a 17 or 18-year-old girl. Bayside University indeed deserved to be Cethos's top institution!

As Sophia watched Natasha's performance, she kept a polite smile and chatted with the guests beside her. As soon as the music stopped, the guests gave Natasha a round of applause. At that moment, Natasha walked up to everyone and murmured politely, "Welcome to Bayside University."

Speaking eloquently, Natasha managed to gain the favor of the foreign guests. One after another, they all came forward to ask her for piano lessons.

At that moment, Natasha was filled with enthusiasm. As one of the most well-known students of Bayside University, she deserved all the glory and attention at this moment. Taking to it like a duck to water, she arrogantly glanced at Sophia who was neglected by the foreign guests.

While the guests spoke to Natasha, the eight student representatives who were carefully selected by the school leaders were left out. Keeping a smile on their faces, they tried not to look awkward. At this moment, Linus approached Natasha as the group of girls gawked in jealousy. With a handshake, Linus greeted her.

As soon as Natasha saw Linus, she was stunned. What a handsome man! she thought.

As he gazed at Natasha, a thought occurred to him before he happily announced, "I know you; you're Mrs. Murray, Taylor Murray's wife!" As soon as he said this, the atmosphere became a little tense. The foreign guests had no clue what was going on, while Natasha and the school leaders' hearts sank. Linus wouldn't just happen to know what Natasha did, right?

Embarrassed, Natasha was about to say something when Linus happily introduced her to everyone. "This is Taylor Murray's wife. Taylor Murray is my favourite actor!"

Taylor Murray and Ethan Winston were world-renowned superstars from Cethos. As such, many of the foreign guests knew who Taylor was. Looking at Natasha now, they were all surprised and stared at her in admiration. She turned out to be the wife of Cethos's movie star Taylor Murray!

All at once, Natasha felt extremely embarrassed and she couldn't admit nor deny it. Although the foreign guests did not follow celebrity news, they were still curious about the mysterious movie star Taylor Murray. Thinking that they were meeting his wife, they were all excited and started to take pictures with her.

Many of them gave Natasha their business cards, hoping 'Mrs. Murray' would pass it to Taylor. They all seemed to have forgotten her name as they all addressed her as 'Mrs. Murray', which made Natasha and the school leaders' expressions darken. However, because there were guests present at the moment, Natasha had no choice but to hide her emotions. She could only play along and admit to be Mrs. Murray.

Nevertheless, she would spitefully glare at Linus from time to time. If it weren't for him, she would not be put on the spot like this. But her vindictiveness was only temporary, since she already knew Linus' true identity.

The school leaders might not know it, but this young man who was disguising himself amongst the guests was in fact the second in command of the Michel Family, Linus Michel! Rumor had it that this man had achieved extraordinary accomplishments at a young age.

He had started working with his family when he was just a teenager and he would take part in decision making for the company. Aside from that, he was exceptionally skilled in software and hardware development, as well as company management. At the ripe age of 18, he had successfully taken over the Michel Group. He was the best of the best!

With qualifications like Linus, not even Taylor Murray could beat him! The Mitchell Family was hoping that Natasha would be acquainted with Linus Michel. Although she wanted Taylor Murray now, she could not help but yearn to win Linus' attention as he stood before her.

She had hoped to impress him with her talents and make a good impression on him. In other words, she wanted Linus to be her plan B. In fact, she had known in advance that Linus would be here, which was precisely why she agreed to play the piano. If they were regular guests, she would not even bat an eyelash.

As Natasha was surrounded by the guests asking for pictures, Linus looked back and winked at Sophia again. This time, he was grinning brightly. At that moment, Sophia realized he deliberately put Natasha on the spot! What an interesting man!

After touring the multipurpose building, the student representatives breathed a sigh of relief. Whenever Natasha was present, everyone's attention would stay firmly on her while the rest became irrelevant. No one expected Natasha to volunteer to guide the foreign guests for the remaining tour of Bayside University.

At that moment, the student representatives were embarrassed as Natasha confidently chatted with the foreign guests. Being the most talented young lady of the Mitchell Family, Natasha quickly found something in common with the foreign guests.

They chatted about the stock market, futures, classical music and many more; there was nothing that Natasha was not well-informed on.

At that moment, being the Young Lady of the Mitchell Family who had received the best education since young, Natasha's brilliance and excellence were on full display. Meanwhile, the other student representatives had become irrelevant and the atmosphere became awkward.

Natasha knew her actions would offend the other students, but she was not afraid because they were not on her level. She would not consider the consequences of offending them, simply because there was no need to. Even the school leaders were embarrassed. Glancing around, most of the guests were speaking to Natasha, but Sophia was still speaking to one of the guests, which made the atmosphere less awkward.

In fact, that guest was another one of the Michel Group's executives, so Sophia and him had common topics to talk about. Not only did they exchange name cards, Sophia even took the opportunity to ask him for advice on some issues she faced at work.

As they chatted happily, Natasha suddenly interrupted them. “No way! There are only two of those wrist watches in the world. One belongs to my father; who would’ve thought the other one belongs to you!” Natasha said in amazement as she looked at the watch on the guest’s wrist.

Upon hearing that, the guest was pleased that someone had finally recognized the value of his watch. Without missing a beat, he flaunted his wrist watch in front of Natasha.

Soon, they started their own conversation while Sophia was neglected. Truth was, Natasha did that on purpose because she wanted to embarrass Sophia!
