

My Dreamy Old Husband

Chapter 433

The director explained calmly, "I told the scriptwriter to make a change. We'll do it in a different way."

Nicole was already doing her part according to the new script. Originally, she was supposed to endure hardships and eventually find her sister. After having a word with her sister, she would be forced to retreat as the enemies had powerful arms.

However, due to the fact that the supporting actresses kept making mistakes, the director had no choice but to do it differently.

Just then, the female lead was rushing over from afar. Unfortunately, the bad guys caught her as her sister and the other girls were pushed into a truck before they were sent to another place.

Seeing that her sister, whom she had been searching for months, was taken away by the bad guys, she fell on her knees and bawled her heart out.

Despair, fury, helplessness and regret were what she had to express in a short period of time. She was doing a solo because her interactive scene with the other actresses was canceled. Other than a brief shot for Olivia, the other actresses only had their limbs shown.

To show how tragic the scene was, the girls, who were trying to flee, would be beaten up by the bad guys. This scene was played by male martial artists who wore female clothes. Therefore, the female walk-ons didn't even get to take part in it.

“Our part is gone just like this?” Olivia stared at the director in disbelief. This is one of the most important scenes for me! Even one shot less will make me sad!

However, the director had all his attention on Nicole’s acting.

At that moment, the bad guys pressed Nicole against the ground and pointed a pistol at her head while she watched her sister being taken away in despair. The expression on her face clearly projected her thoughts. If she’s gone, I might not be able to find her again!

This part was a turning point for the female lead. Before this, she was a proud spy who had received an elite education. Upon learning that her sister was smuggled to Africa, she believed that she could save her sister alone and even rejected the male lead’s offer to help. Ignoring the male lead’s advice, she found out her sister’s whereabouts and immediately took action on her own.

She was confident that she could save her sister easily, but unexpectedly, not only did she fail to save her sister, but she was also caught by the enemies.

Feeling regretful, this would be the first time she came to the realization that she was weak and ignorant. At that instant, she was gripped by regret, resentment and sorrow.

Focusing on the act, Nicole growled, “Monsters! Let go of my sister! I will never let you off! Never! Sis, sorry. I’m sorry... I couldn’t save you...”

The director held his breath, for he was worried that Nicole might be unable to bring out the emotions of the character. To his surprise, Nicole’s acting was excellent and she struck the right balance. She didn’t bawl too hard, nor was she too lacking in intensity of her acting.

When the scene was over, everyone in the production site gave her a round of applause, except for the supporting actresses, whose voices of discontent were muted.

The director couldn't help but rush over to give her a hug. "It's so perfect! Keep up the good work!"

The script was tailor-made for the male leads when the director received it, so they had the most scenes. Moreover, the male leads gave off a powerful vibe, and almost no actress in the country was a match for them.

Therefore, when the director learned that the female lead was a newbie, he didn't object to it because the character didn't matter much in the drama. Even if all the female lead's scenes were deleted, it wouldn't affect the drama one bit.

However, the newbie's performance was beyond the director's expectation. Perfect! It's simply perfect!

When interacting with the male leads, the female lead didn't pale in comparison at all. Hence, the director decided to include more scenes for her.

Nicole wiped her tears off as she was extremely excited. Having been a walk-on for ten years, she was honored that the director, who was renowned internationally, acknowledged her hard work and praised her.

As Nicole celebrated with the others, she also hugged Sophia, who was equally excited. She's my idol after all! I cried watching her play the part just now! Her acting skill is natural and powerful! Sophia exclaimed in her mind.

The scene was so well done that the male leads came over and clapped their hands for her.

Harry teased, "As a young actress, she surprised me. Look, the newbie you're trying to support has more scenes than you now!"

It was Michael who lent a helping hand to Nicole. When the agent of Imperial Studio signed her up, she was recommended to be the female lead of 'War Dragon'.

Michael agreed to it because he saw potential in her, and his wife was fond of her as well. Since the drama featured the two male leads, having her join probably wouldn't affect the drama much, so he decided to let her have a try. However, he didn't expect that she was so excellent that even his scenes were cut short to make space for her. Seeing that Sophia was hugging and kissing Nicole, Michael felt somewhat jealous.

The scenes for the day were done smoothly as the male leads completed most of the action shots, and the female lead successfully brought out her intense emotions. Therefore, everyone was overjoyed, except for the supporting actresses, who were completely ignored.

Seeing the elated Sophia, Xyla was unable to control her fury. She was so incensed that even the air around her seemed to be burning. This slut is relentless and disgusting!

Sophia got so thrilled that she jumped about while hugging Nicole, she accidentally rubbed away the band-aid on her neck that she used to cover Michael's bite mark.

When the band-aid fell off, the bite marks on her neck fell into Xyla's gaze. At that instant, she figured out what happened. What a slut! She had sex with the director! She must have told the director to cut off my part! Sophia, since you're going against me, then don't blame me for taking revenge!

Since the scenes were completed, and there was no filming at night, they decided to celebrate the success at a nearby hotel.

When they reached the hotel, they occupied a few tables as the leading actors, the walk-ons and the staff members were seated separately according to their roles.

The leading actors never ate much because they had to keep fit for the drama. Even when they were having a meal, they were still talking about the scenes for the next day.

Meanwhile, the staff members drank wine and enjoyed their food.

On the other hand, the atmosphere around the supporting actresses was gloomy as they fell into a bout of resentful silence.

When they were done with blaming the director and the female lead, they shifted their blame to Xyla and Olivia. If these two people didn't keep making mistakes deliberately, perhaps the director wouldn't have cut off their part.

Sophia, Hale, Maria and Danny were seated together. In the middle of the meal, Sophia went to the balcony to breathe in some fresh air. To her surprise, Nicole was there as well. The lights on the balcony were off while the lights below the balcony were dazzling. The night view at the film studio was simply beautiful.

As the glittering lights outlined Nicole's profile in the dark, even her long eyelashes were made conspicuous.

She's so beautiful! Her beauty is beyond skin-deep! Sophia was awed by her allure. Walking over, she inquired, "What's wrong? What are you thinking about?"

Seeing her, Nicole flashed a gentle smile at her and said calmly, "I'm thinking about someone special to me."
