The fate of the Li family's future development hinged on Li Genhong.

Li Zhengshang was getting on his age, and he was contented to have brought the family this far. They had to rely on Li Genhong to lead their family to become like the Bao family or even outshine them.

The Li family was wealthy but lacked martial arts experts. So they held the men who used to be from Qing Sect in high esteem.

"I know. Don't worry, Dad. I'm not a rash person."

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce was comprised of three families now. And Li Genhong wanted to become the most influential person in it.

If the Li family controlled the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, the family could generate great profit.

"Let's not send the Qing Sect fighters out for now. They just need to be prepared," sighed Li Zhengshang with the same look of worry on this face. "I don't know how the Bao family was destroyed. I can't figure it out! I really can't figure it out!"

He also suspected that the Bao family and Qing Sect's internal conflicts led Bao Rongdong to get assassinated.

Who else could have brought down the Bao family while they were at their peak?

Was it that man from back home?

He had heard a thing or two about this man. But no matter how powerful he was in China, could he come overseas to kill Bao Rongdong?

It was impossible.

No one could have done it.

“Don't worry, Dad. The Li family won't become like the Bao family!” sneered Li Genhong, “Bao Rongdong is suspicious in nature and a little obstinate. I'm certain he died under the hands of his own.”

Li Zhengshang nodded. He guessed the same thing.

He didn't speak further. Then he instructed his son to be wary before leaving to discuss some matters with the two other families.

They wanted to raise the conditions for joining the Chinese Chamber of Commerce. At the moment, they only demanded a 20% annual profit and it seemed too low.

Shortly after Li Zhengshang left, someone ran in through the door and whispered into Li Genhong's ear.

“Maimed?” asked Li Genhong anxiously. “Bring him in!”

NH

All four of Chen Guo's limbs were broken, and even his manhood was crushed. It was impossible for him to ever be a true man again in his life.

"Who did this?!" roared Li Genhong furiously.

No one dared to utter a word.

"What about the others?"

"They...they are all dead," replied someone cautiously after a long time. "We went to check at the warehouse. They're all dead."

Li Genhong's was utterly livid.

Of course he knew who did this.

Li Genhong was the one who ordered Chen Guo to teach Lin Group a lesson. He told Chen Guo to catch a few Lin Group employees to threaten Jiang Ning and Lin Yuzhen with and eventually Chen Guo caught Number Five's woman.

Now Chen Guo had been maimed!

And he might not even survive the night.

"Young Master Li, please get the fighters in the family to..."

"No, we can't!" sneered Li Genhong. Li Zhengshang had just said that they needed to prepare for any sudden attacks, especially from those who might have destroyed the Bao family.

Even if there was only a slight possibility, he didn't dare to be careless.

Moreover, it just that puny Lin Group and Jiang Ning. They were nothing!

There weren't good enough for him to call upon the highly skilled fighters of the Li family.

"Lin Group, oh Lin Group. You were too rash," said Li Genhong as he laughed coldly. "I gave you a chance, but you didn't treasure it and you just keep provoking the Li family. Did you think my family is going to let you off easily?"

Li Genhong's eyes twitched as he looked down and glanced at Chen Guo, who was barely alive. Then he said, "Send him to the hospital and try to save him."

He turned without so much as glancing at him. Then he picked up his phone and dialed a familiar number.

"I have a rock-solid business proposal worth up to $100 million. Are you in?"

Jiang Ning brought everyone back to the hotel.

On the way back, Number Five didn't say anything. He just held Yu'er in his arms and pursed his lips. He didn't know what to say.

He wasn't good with words and didn't know how to say the right things.

The rest didn't disturb them.

It was best that she was fine. Otherwise, they wouldn't hesitate to turn the world upside down if they had to!

"Big Boss."

Lin Yuzhen had already arranged for a room and she was inside talking to Yu'er and comforting her.

Number Five stood outside the door with bloodshot eyes. "Thank you, Big Boss!"

"Number Five, why are you thanking me?" Jiang Ning shook his head. "This is not the end of things, do you understand?"

"Yes, Big Boss!"

CREAAAAAK...

Lin Yuzhen pushed the door open and walked out. She nodded at Jiang Ning and turned to Number Five. "Number Five, go in and accompany her. Don't worry, she's fine."

NH

Number Five nodded and turned to look at Kent standing next to Jiang Ning. “Bro, I owe you a favor!”

If Kent and the rest hadn’t helped, there was no way he would have found Yu’er so quickly.

They were unfamiliar with the place, so by the time they found her, goodness knows what would have happened by then!

“You don’t have to, you don’t!” Kent laughed and waved his hands about. “We’re all one family, you don’t have to be so polite.”

Jiang Ning was the one who told Kent to look for Number Five. If anyone owed anyone a favor, Kent was the one who owed Jiang Ning a favor many years ago, and he’d never finish repaying it for the rest of his life.

Number Five didn’t say anymore and went into the room to be with Yu’er.

“You should rest soon.” It was very late at night and Lin Yuzhen had to work the next day, so Jiang Ning told her to get some sleep.

This definitely wasn’t the end of things.

Jiang Ning knew that the Li family’s aim was to destroy Lin Group’s expansion overseas and they didn’t want to let Lin Group gain a foothold overseas at all. They tried to attack Lin Group’s employees, but they were all next to him in the hotel, so they found Yu'er instead.

If Kent didn't find her in time, Number Five would regret this for life.

Jiang Ning walked out to the lobby with Kent where Brother Gou and the rest were waiting.

Brother Gou and the wolves walked over to Kent and he shuddered because he thought they were going to hit him.

"Thank you so much!" said all the wolves in unison.

This wasn't just a favor to Number Five. It was for all of them.

"You're welcome! You're welcome!" Kent quickly returned the formality.

He turned to look at Jiang Ning. He felt rather uneasy and this was the first time someone was so grateful to him.

"No need to be so polite around him," said Jiang Ning. "As long as you're in Las Vegas and you need Kent to help, just say so."

"That's right, that's right!" said Kent. "Brothers, if you need anything, just tell me. Your business is the same as Mr Jiang's business, and Mr Jiang's business is my business!"

He noticed that the wolves were rather dark skinned and thought it was natural. He only found out that they were very sunburnt after asking.

Just after they were done talking, Kent's phone started ringing.

He looked at the number and frowned.

"What is it?" Kent picked up the call and his expression immediately fell. "You stay on your side and I stay on my side. I don't think you have anything to do with my matters."

He glanced at Jiang Ning and pointed to his phone as he mouthed, "Trouble is here."

Jiang Ning didn't say anything and just nodded. Kent got the message.

"Fine. If you want to talk, we'll talk."

He hung up.

Kent said, "It's someone from the Ninth District. He said I went over the line because the person we rescued was taken away from a place near the Ninth District and it's affected them."

NH

Of course Kent knew that wasn't considered the Ninth District. There was nothing worth fighting over at the border of two districts, and that was exactly why both sides agreed to draw the line there.

But now someone from the Ninth District was accusing Kent of crossing the line to rescue someone.

"What did they say?" asked Jiang Ning.

"They said they want to talk and told me to hand her over. They probably think I was the one who rescued her."

The commotion in the Eighth District was quite big and many people were on the move. It wasn't surprising that the Ninth District had misunderstood.

But Kent knew that all his men put together were nothing compared to the wolves with Jiang Ning.

They were at a completely different level!

"Then we'll talk," said Jiang Ning calmly.

He looked straight at Kent and narrowed his eyes as he spoke in a low voice, "Anybody who comes at this time is not a friend."

"Got it!"

Kent immediately ran off to make preparations.

NH

Meanwhile.

The one in charge of the illegal circle within the Ninth District was Mackery.

He put the phone down and stroked his goatee.

“This is a $100 million deal and there’s no need to use knives or guns. Would Kent dare to not handover the person I want? Does he think his position in the Eighth District is stable?” Mackery snorted and his expression was filled with disdain.

The Eighth District was the poorest district in Las Vegas. If he weren’t uninterested in the district, there was no way Kent would have been able to take control of it.

If he wanted to, he could take it back from Kent anytime!

“Come on, let’s go get our money!”

To him, that US$100 million was his for sure.

He wasn’t afraid of anything and brought his men straight to the Eighth District.

The Eighth District was the famous slum area of Las Vegas. There were homeless people everywhere, curled up against the walls and hiding from the cold wind of the night.

Kent had a complicated expression on his face. He noticed that the wolves were looking at these people and so he explained, "The Eighth District is too poor and nobody is willing to set up business in this area and there aren't any job opportunities."

"So in order to survive, many of them resort to illegal activities, including normal citizens."

Crime was rampant here and there were all sorts of people in this place. Even some children learnt how to commit crimes from a young age, and Kent felt terrible inside when he saw these things.

Brother Gou looked at him and Kent quickly waved his hands about. "I've already stopped doing such things, Mr Jiang doesn't allow me to harm others anymore!"

He knew that very well.

Back then, the ones that Jiang Ning killed were those who gave some of these ordinary citizens things that would harm them.

"Have you ever thought of changing this place?" Brother Gou looked at Kent and spoke very seriously. "Change the people here and change the environment here."

It was Kent's turn to be stunned.

Change this place?

He had thought about it before, but he didn't know where to start. He didn't have money nor the ability, and the Eighth District was the weakest out of all the 13 districts.

“I asked, have you ever thought of changing this place?” Brother Gou asked again.

“As long as you want to, then you can definitely do it.”

Before Kent could say anything, Brother Gou continued, “We can help you.”

They didn’t need Jiang Ning to handle such a small matter himself.

Jiang Ning had more important things to do. So the wolves could take on this small matter and take it as repaying Kent.

Kent didn’t say anything. His heart pounded wildly and seemed to still be thinking about what Brother Gou just said.

Change this place?

Many images appeared in his mind.

There were some young children who ran along the streets, rummaging the trash and hoped to find enough food for the day.

There were pregnant ladies who were still hooked on drugs. They could neither control their addiction nor care for the child in their womb.

There were also those homeless people who had nowhere to go even in the bitter winter, and they couldn't even find a wall to protect them from the wind.

“Can I?” Kent asked himself in his heart.

NH

At the border between the Eighth and Ninth Districts.

Jiang Ning sat in the car and didn't get down. He was making a call.

Kent stood outside the car and could see several cars making their way from the Ninth District. It looked like there were quite a number of them.

"They're here." Kent started to frown.

He wanted to call more people along but Brother Gou said it wasn't necessary.

Of course Kent knew that as long as Jiang Ning was here, then even if every single district sent men here, none of them would make it out of here alive.

But he didn't dare to let Jiang Ning fight these people personally. He didn't have the right to!

SCREEECH.

The cars stopped.

Mackery got out of one of the cars. More than 30 men followed behind him.

"Long time no see, Kent. I heard you're not doing well lately," said Mackery sarcastically and didn't hold himself back at all. "The Eighth District is too poor and you don't have any future there. Why don't you come to the Ninth District? I've got a space for you.”

Going over meant that he would become a lowly subordinate to Mackery.

He was the boss of the illegal circle of the Eighth District, so why should he go over and become a lowly follower?

Kent wasn't going to accept such an arrangement.

“I grew up in the Eighth District, so I'll die here too. You don't have to worry about that. You're the one looking for me, so let's get down to business, stop wasting time.”

Kent glanced at Jiang Ning's car and saw that Jiang Ning was still on the phone. His heart suddenly felt at ease.

As long as this man was around, he didn't have to fear anything!

“If there's nothing else, then don't bloody waste my time!” Kent's voice became louder now and he was more confident.

Mackery scoffed and frowned slightly. This was the first time Kent dared to speak so loudly to him.

“Hoho, fine. I won't waste anymore time. Hand over the woman you took from the Ninth District,” he went straight to the point. “Also, hand over those fellows who actually took her away. The rest is none of your business and you can leave.”

NH

Mackery wanted Kent to hand Jiang Ning and the wolves over?

Kent wanted to laugh. Did Mackery know what he was asking for?

“Mackery, I’m warning you, don’t go overboard!” retorted Kent. “Since when was that section considered part of the Ninth District?”

“HAHA! As long as I want to, then even your Eighth District is considered part of my Ninth District. You went over the line and this is not something that you’re allowed to do. Kent, are you still so stupid?” Mackery laughed loudly.

His face suddenly darkened again and the men behind him got ready to attack. Their expression were very threatening.

“Don’t waste anymore time, otherwise, from today onwards, the Eighth District will have nobody in charge of them.”

Kent clenched his teeth.

His face was filled with fury.

“Hand them over to him.”

A voice spoke from behind.

Kent turned around to see that Jiang Ning had gotten out of the car and was walking over.

NH

He stood beside Kent and looked at Mackery as he went straight to the point. "The Li family sent you here, didn't they?"

Mackery's eyes immediately narrowed. "Who are you?"

"Aren't you looking for me?" said Jiang Ning calmly. "And them."

He pointed at Brother Gou and the rest.

"You mentioned the ones who rescued the girl from the Ninth District. That's us."

He took one step forward and the wolves took a step forward too.

"You want to take us away?"

Mackery looked at them and noticed that their aura was slowly changing. His heart trembled violently. He didn't expect Jiang Ning to know immediately that he was sent by the Li family.

"Since you've already come out, then we'll bring him back!"

With that, the men behind Mackery immediately dashed towards Jiang Ning and the rest.

But Brother Gou and the wolves were faster than them!

NH

SWOOSH!

SWOOSH!

SWOOSH!

The wolves were furious inside. Before they could look for the Li family to settle this matter, this Mackery came looking for them first.

These figures moved like ghostly shadows in the night, aggressive and domineering!

The wolves dashed into the crowd of men and started their massacre.

BAM!

BAM!

BAM!

It was as if a pack of wolves had infiltrated a flock of sheep, and they were extremely vicious!

Mackery got a terrible shock. He didn't expect the wolves to be this ferocious.

His expression changed and he reached his back to pull a gun out. He aimed it at Jiang Ning and looked in front murderously. "All of you are tired of living!"

Kent immediately panicked. "Mr Jiang, watch out!"

NH

But just after he said that, Jiang Ning disappeared!

Mackery had just lifted his hand to find that Jiang Ning had vanished before him.

He was too fast!

Suddenly.

A strong gust of wind suddenly came from nowhere and before Mackery could figure out what was happening, he felt like his wrist was being twisted and he couldn't feel his fingers anymore.

"AHH!!"

A howl pierced through the dark night.

The gun in Mackery's hand fell and Jiang Ning caught it. He spun his fingers at a shockingly rapid speed. In just seconds, he had dismantled the entire gun into several small parts and sent all the parts clinking onto the ground.

"You..."

Mackery paled in fright. He had never seen anybody so scary before.

CRAAACK!

Before he could finish his sentence, Jiang Ning grabbed Mackery's neck and held him up with one hand.

NH

He weighed nearly 100 kilograms but Jiang Ning lifted him up effortlessly.

“Who in the Li family sent you?”

“You...let...let...AHH!”

“WHO?!” roared Jiang Ning.

“Li Genhong!” said Mackery quickly.

“It’s really him.” Jiang Ning guessed as much, but now he could confirm it. “How much did he offer for my life?”

“Each...each person...US...US$2 million!”

PAK!

Jiang Ning slapped Mackery hard across the face and sent him flying. He rolled on the ground a few times and his face was filled with terror.

“I’m only worth $2 million?”

Jiang Ning narrowed his eyes. Ten years ago, his life was already worth US$5 million. Eight years ago, it had increased to US$30 million. Seven years ago it was US$200 million. Five years ago... nobody dared to offer money to kill him anymore.

And now the Li family was only offering $2 million and hoped to kill him?

If those real international bigwigs found out, then

NH

Jiang Ning wouldn't have to do anything and those people would step Li Genhong to death for him.

Because Li Genhong didn't even have basic respect towards Jiang Ning, the terrifying God of War of the East.

Mackery was already in a terrible daze. He turned to look and found that none of his men were still standing. They either had broken arms or broken legs, and had all become cripples in mere seconds.

The Eighth District...when did they have so many vicious people?

When did Kent have such frightening people around him?!

"Who...who on earth are you?!" Mackery's voice was trembling.

"Who I am doesn't matter." Jiang Ning walked over and looked down at Mackery. "I will only give you one chance."

Mackery gulped. He felt death looming so close to him for the first time!

He had a gun, but with Jiang Ning around, he was still going to die.

"Sabotage and damage as much of the Li family's assets in the Ninth District. If you can't damage anything, then you're going to lose your life!" said

Jiang Ning coldly.

NH

The cold and murderous air made Mackery tremble all over.

He nodded profusely and didn't think about anything else. He only knew that he had to agree to whatever Jiang Ning said.

Damage the Li family's assets?

Harass the Li family's businesses?

They were from the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and were extremely influential. Who would dare to offend them?

But if he didn't agree to it, he would die on the spot.

Mackery looked at the pieces of his gun that were dismantled by Jiang Ning with his bare hands on the ground and gulped. He never imagined he would run into someone this terrifying.

Even with a gun, it was useless before Jiang Ning!

"You'd better remember that." Jiang Ning stared at Mackery one more time and didn't say anymore before getting back into the car.

Kent walked over to Mackery and bent down. "I warned you not to go overboard but you didn't want to listen to me. Now that you have a chance, I hope you will cherish it. Otherwise...the boss of the Ninth District is gonna change."

NH

He scoffed and felt so good inside.

He had never seen Mackery in such a pitiful state before.

These people usually threw their weight about and never had any regard for Kent. But today, Mackery would know that the Eighth District folks weren't pushovers!

And that was because he had Jiang Ning backing him!

Jiang Ning and the rest got into the cars and left.

Mackery was still sitting on the ground. His entire body was covered in sweat and he was still trembling.

The men behind him were still howling in pain and he felt his head go numb just hearing their howls.

"Who...who the hell is he?!"

Mackery gritted his teeth and suddenly felt a hatred for Li Genhong.

This asshole said that he had a good deal for Mackery, but there was no way Mackery would live to earn it.

Would he even have the life to spend it?

Li Genhong had made him offend a man whom he didn't dare to offend at all!

NH

What a bastard!

But Jiang Ning's instructions to make trouble for the Li family made Mackery hesitate as well. Jiang Ning was too powerful and he didn't dare to offend him, but he didn't dare to offend the Li family either.

In the car.

Jiang Ning already predicted that Mackery might not be trustworthy.

But he would make sure Mackery was obedient.

"Kent, bring Gou and the rest to the various districts."

Kent was stunned. "Whatever for?"

"Pass my message to the 13 districts. As long as they are Chinese run businesses, they must not harass, extort or make these businesses upset. Otherwise, they will have to bear the consequences!"

"Also, tell them to look for any assets that belong to the Li family and damage them as far as possible. Those who don't do this will have to bear the consequences!"

These two 'bear the consequences' made Kent's body tremble.

"All the other districts?"

NH

He gulped hard. This was pretty crazy!

Mackery wasn't very powerful, but some of the other districts were run by old timers who had plenty of ammunition. Wasn't it a little crazy for just the few of them to go around and say such things?

"Big Boss said all, then he means all." Brother Gou nodded. "Whoever doesn't listen..."

He started to think about whether he should use his example to convince them and speak reasonably to them, or if he should use his fists and punch them until they listened to him.

Jiang Ning didn't say anymore and there was no need to. He left the wolves and returned to the hotel first.

The wolves sat in the car with Kent.

"Is Mr Jiang serious?"

Kent didn't really dare to believe it. Just the few of them in the car were going to do this?

Wouldn't it be better for him to call more people along? Just the few of them would be as good as courting death!

"Your job is to take us there," said Number Six.

"Leave the rest to us. This fucking Li family dared to touch Number Five's woman and even thought of touching the employees of Lin Group, so they're the ones courting death!”

He turned and looked at Brother Gou. “Are you ready?”

“Of course I’m ready. But I’m just wondering which method I should use.”

NH

Brother Gou frowned slightly. "Should I use my example to convince them, or just use my fists...I didn't understand what Big Boss said the last time."

Jiang Ning always emphasized on using their example to convince others, but they'd never seen Jiang Ning use this method before.

"When in doubt...ask the Legend!"

Brother Gou gritted his teeth as he remembered what Jiang Ning told him before.

He took out his phone and made a call to Su Yun, the Legend of Shengcheng.

It was daytime on the other end. Su Yun had just finished class and was about to go for lunch when she saw that Brother Gou was calling and she excitedly picked it up.

"Brother Gou! Where did you go to have fun this time? Why didn't you bring me along?"

Su Yun started chatting merrily immediately and she spoke so quickly, Brother Gou didn't even have the chance to say anything.

After a long time, he finally cut in loudly, "I have a question for you!"

"What is it?"

Brother Gou immediately told Su Yun about what was troubling him. “How should I choose?”

“You’re so dumb!” Su Yun immediately scolded him. “In front of my brother-in-law, then you have to use your example to convince others so that it looks good on him. But when he’s not around... then who cares what he said? Whoever does anything bad or is disobedient gets bashed up! Smash his face in!”

Su Yun was also speechless when it came to this matter. “Brother Gou, what sort of example are you going to use to convince others anyway? You get tongue tied after a few exchanges, so who’s going to be convinced by you?”

Only Su Yun would dare to talk like this to Brother Gou.

Number Six and the rest in the car were stifling their laughter and their faces were all red from trying so hard not to laugh.

Brother Gou quickly turned off speakerphone and coughed a few times. “Why did you have to say the truth.”

After that, he hung up and his expression immediately became stern.

“We’ll use fists then!”

Only his fists were of any use, so what choice did he even have?

NH

The car drove along and Kent brought them round the various districts.

Meanwhile, Jiang Ning returned to the hotel.

Lin Yuzhen had already gone to bed. Lin Group's overseas branch office was officially opening the next day and she had to conserve her energy.

Jiang Ning walked to the stairwell outside the hotel door.

A man was standing in the shadows of the stairwell. He was entirely hidden, but it was possible to tell who it was from his silhouette.

"How's your injury?"

"All recovered."

"The Bao family is gone and you've taken your revenge. Where do you intend to go from here?"

"I have nowhere to go."

Jiang Ning laughed. "Just speak your mind."

"I want to follow you."

The figure in the shadows walked out into the light. It was Chen Huangtang!

His eyes were electrifying and they sparkled brightly like two stars in the dim lighting.

NH

“I want to become strong! Even stronger!”

Jiang Ning looked at Chen Huangtang. “Aren’t you strong enough?”

Chen Huangtang didn’t say anything.

This was a dumb question.

If he was strong enough, he would have killed Bao Rongdong a long time ago. Who dared to say they were strong after seeing what Jiang Ning was capable of?

Who would dare to?

At least Chen Huangtang didn’t dare to.

“You have many who work in the light, and they’re quite sufficient. But you don’t have anybody in the shadows, and I’m suitable for that role.”

Chen Huangtang paused before continuing, “There are many things I could help you with. For example, I could protect Yuzhen in the shadows.”

“Wouldn’t I end up owing you more and more favors?”

“You’re not going to return any of them anyway, so this is a sure-win deal. What do you say?” Chen Huangtang laughed.

Jiang Ning laughed as well.

NH

He looked at Chen Huangtang. "I know what you want to do. I'll give you that chance."

With that, Jiang Ning went back to the room while Chen Huangtang went back into the darkness.

The next morning at 9AM.

Lin Group's overseas branch office was officially open for business!

The news reached the Li family and Li Genhong heard about it. His expression immediately fell.

"What the hell are all of you doing? Can't you even settle such a simple matter? Where's Mackery? Didn't he say it won't be a problem? Where is he?" Li Genhong started yelling away angrily.

"Young Master Li...Mackery..." His subordinates trembled as they reported, "He went to smash the Li family's offices!"

NH

Li Genhong was shocked by what he heard.

He turned around and stared at his subordinates.
“What did you just say?”

Mackery was going to take his money and then smash his offices?

“The businesses that the Li family has in the Ninth District have taken a lot of damage and vandalism, and after checking, it turns out to be Mackery’s men.”

PAK!

Li Genhong slammed a palm on the table. “Is he nuts?!”

Mackery didn’t complete the mission that Li Genhong gave him and now he was going around sabotaging the Li family’s assets?

Mackery must have gone crazy!

Li Genhong was livid. He picked up his phone and called Mackery immediately.

These two had worked together many times before this.

Anything that wasn’t convenient for the Li family to do was assigned to Mackery. Mackery had earned a lot of money from the Li family over these years.

NH

And now this asshole was turning around to attack the Li family?

DUUU DUUU... The phone rang for a few times before Mackery picked up the call.

“What’s the meaning of this?” Li Genhong immediately flew into a rage. “I told you to deal with those people from Lin Group but you went to attack my family instead? Do you want your money or not?!”

The other end of the phone was quiet for a while.

Then it was a tirade of curses and F bombs as Mackery went on and on angrily, and he seemed to be even angrier than Li Genhong.

“You sent me to die and I have to thank you?!” Mackery yelled furiously. “Li Genhong, you’re a real heartless one! I don’t want money, I want to fucking live!”

PAK!

Mackery hung up the phone.

He was panting and his face was red.

It was just one day!

All the people in the other districts, all 13 districts had been beaten to a pulp!

Mackery had hesitated initially, wondering if he could just ignore Jiang Ning's orders. As long as he didn't offend Jiang Ning, then he didn't think Jiang Ning would come looking for him again.

But he didn't expect all the other districts to fall in just one day!

When he got the news, he went into a daze from fright.

All the bosses of the other districts were also thinking of ways to track down the assets in their area that belonged to the Li family and to give them as much trouble as possible, because that was Jiang Ning's order.

Of course he knew about that.

The Li family had the most number of assets in the Ninth District. If Mackery didn't display the right attitude, then the 'bear the consequences' part of the message would fall on him for sure.

"All of you, listen up!" Mackery clenched his teeth. "Arrange for people to do whatever you can to the businesses that belong to the Li family. I don't care what you do as long as you make life hard for them!"

This wasn't just Jiang Ning's orders. It was also Mackery's fury.

If not for Li Genhong, Jiang Ning wouldn't be on his tail.

NH

After Mackery hung up on him, Li Genhong felt like his lungs were about to explode.

This asshole didn't talk like that when he earned money from the Li family.

"Mackery, you asshole! Go to hell!" cursed Li Genhong.

"Young Master Li!"

Some men came running in with frantic looks on their faces.

"Young Master Li, our shop in the Third District has been smashed!"

"Also the ones in the Fifth District, the Eighth District..."

The news kept pouring in and Li Genhong's expression turned from red to livid until it was so dark that he felt like killing somebody.

What on earth was happening?

The Li family was an important part of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and were highly influential in Las Vegas. All those district bosses never crossed his paths and sometimes they even had to work with him and ask him for favors.

And now all of them were attacking the Li family's assets?

NH

Even the illegal business that the Li family had in the slum area of the Eighth District was facing issues!

“This is ridiculous! Ridiculous!”

Li Genhong got up and was about to go out and find someone to handle it when Li Zhengshang came marching in. His expression was so dark, it was terrifying.

“Dad.”

PAK!

Before Li Genhong could say anything, Li Zhengshang slapped his son across the face. “What have you been doing behind my back?!”

Li Genhong clutched his face and gritted his teeth.
“I...”

“A number of our partners have reached the end of their agreements this year and I allowed them to renew their contracts, but they actually said that they needed to think about it.”

This was something that had never happened before. Who would dare to turn Li Zhengshang down?

But those Chinese businesses actually turned him down and said they needed to think about it first. Did they even have a choice in the first place?

Li Zhengshang immediately went to investigate this matter, to find that the Li family’s businesses had been sabotaged in so many places.

This was definitely something that had absolutely never happened before. In Las Vegas, who would dare to strike the Li family besides those few powers?

Everyone worked for profit. Offending the Li family was the same as offending the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, so they could forget about getting any benefits from the Chinese Chamber of Commerce.

But now the very thing that the Li family counted on was wavering!

“I don’t know what’s happened either,” said Li

Genhong. "Dad, you must believe me!"

"Humph, I'm telling you, do not think that I'm clueless about these things. Li Genhong, you're the heir to the Li family. But if you ever do anything that harms the Li family's benefits, then don't blame me for being nasty!" shouted Li Zhengshang. "Go and settle this matter right now!"

"Yes, Dad!"

Li Genhong was furious as he turned and left.

He knew who did this. Lin Group!

He knew that Lin Group had managed to open for business while his family's businesses had been sabotaged everywhere, making the other Chinese merchants think that there was a problem in the Li family.

Since Lin Group could successfully gain a foothold overseas without relying on the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, then why couldn't they do that too?

Why should they continue to pay the Chinese Chamber of Commerce fees?

Whatever for!

Ever since Jiang Ning had sent him sprawling on the ground at that banquet, Li Genhong had been worried that this would happen. And in the end, it really did happen.

“In that case, I’ll have to make Lin Group disappear forever!”

A nasty glint flashed in Li Genhong’s eyes.

At the same time.

Lin Group’s overseas branch was officially open!

They had unveiled the signboard, cut the ribbon and went through all the usual ceremonies. Xiang Gao was even slightly superstitious and lit some joss sticks to bow in the direction of the God of Wealth.

The office was done with renovations.

Xiang Gao walked in after Lin Yuzhen and Jiang Ning had just taken a seat.

“Mr Jiang, there are some Chinese merchants here, they said they would like to congratulate Lin Group for setting up an overseas branch.”

“Let them come in,” said Jiang Ning calmly.

In no time, some businessmen walked in and behaved very politely.

“Congratulations, congratulations!”

“Congratulations Lin Group, for opening an office overseas!”

“CEO Lin, Mr Jiang, this is a joyous occasion!”

There was a complicated expression on their faces and their hearts were even more tumultuous.

They had come overseas to expand their business for many years and they had paid a few hundred million to the Chinese Chamber of Commerce over all these years. It really hurt them to pay this money, but they didn't have a choice.

But early this morning, someone sent them flowers and an apology letter, which was written personally by the boss of the illegal circle in this district. The letter was clear and stated that they would never disturb nor affect their business anymore, and hoped that the merchants would not be angry.

All of them were so shocked by this.

Everyone knew that the illegal circle of each district was a mess.

Those people were not to be trifled with. And in this country, many of them had guns, so if you weren't careful, you might get shot dead!

But now, these same people actually apologized and asked for their forgiveness.

Everyone had been in business long enough and were intelligent enough to figure this out quite quickly.

Lin Group!

Those people were afraid of Lin Group!

It was because Jiang Ning from Lin Group had disallowed the illegal circles to harass Chinese run businesses, otherwise they would have to bear the consequences!

Those words like putting a sword against those people's necks!

Jiang Ning didn't make the rounds himself. Brother Gou was the one who brought this message to them.

He only knew that Brother Gou gave a punch with every sentence he spoke, so as to make sure that all these illegal circle bosses could understand him well.

When he thought about it now, it was true that convincing others by his own example was really not a method suitable for Brother Gou to use.

The few merchants sat on the sofa and seemed a little reserved.

They weren't young anymore and they had gone through a lot in life before coming overseas to expand their own business.

But they were still rather nervous in front of Jiang Ning.

One of them had even witnessed how Jiang Ning had kicked Li Genhong to the floor and bashed him up that night!

"Mr Jiang, we've come today not only to congratulate Lin Group, but we would also like to ask a few questions. Is it a convenient time to talk?"

One of them was the leader and spoke up after looking at the other two. They had clearly already discussed about who would approach this subject before this.

“No problem, say what’s on your mind,” replied Jiang Ning.

“It’s like that, we would like to confirm one matter.” The man hesitated for a moment. “Is Lin Group working with the Chinese Chamber of Commerce?”

“As in, are you giving them annual fees and paying them 20% of your annual profits?”

Those were the conditions to be part of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce. These merchants were all bound by this agreement.

All these years, they gave the Chinese Chamber of Commerce 20% of their annual profits without fail.

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce was just sitting there and waiting for the money to roll in. They only guaranteed that nobody would dare to harass them if they expanded their business overseas, especially in Las Vegas.

“No.”

Jiang Ning answered very simply.

“We are not doing that now, and we will never do that even in the future.”

He looked at the men seated in front of him and suddenly laughed. “That’s Lin Group’s money, so why should I give the Chinese Chamber of Commerce any of it? What have they done for Lin Group?"

"Protect us? We don't need it."

"Provide resources? That's bullshit."

Jiang Ning looked at them. "I know why you're here. You're trying to ask if it's possible to safely expand your business if you don't work with the Chinese Chamber of Commerce, right?"

They all nodded.

"Mr Jiang, we'll be honest with you. We didn't want to work with them at first either. After all, 20% of our profits is really a lot of money to a company!"

This amount of profit was not just needed for further expansion of the company, or to increase the welfare of the staff. It was the key to being able to gain a strong foothold overseas.

Nobody was willing to give away 20% to the Chinese Chamber of Commerce just like that.

"We didn't want to work with them, but we didn't have a choice. If we didn't work with them, then we would face difficult in even registering our business here."

They all shook their heads helplessly.

Everybody would be more than happy to save this cost.

The Chinese Chamber of Commerce were obviously being gangsters but they had no choice.

But now, Lin Group had appeared.

They didn't work with the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and even fought back. This gave them hope, so they came looking for Jiang Ning directly.

"Since you don't want to give anything, then don't," said Jiang Ning directly. "These people are just leeches who keep sucking others dry. They call themselves the Chinese Chamber of Commerce and pretend that they are representing the Chinese merchants and protecting the Chinese Merchants, but I'm sure all of you know what they are actually doing."

"But..."

They were all hesitant, and one of them spoke up, "If we choose to side with Lin Group, will you be willing to take us?"

"We can pay you to take us in, as long as it's less than what the Chinese Chamber of Commerce is asking for. Even if you ask for 10%, we'll accept it."
