All of them were employees who had followed Xiang Gao for the past decade or more and trusted Xiang Gao. So when Xiang Gao moved to Lin Group, all of them followed him.

But they weren't very trusting of Jiang Ning at first because Jiang Ning was way too young.

But in no time, these people changed their opinions after what they had gone through while working for Jiang Ning.

Jiang Ning's foresight and broadmindedness was something that most people didn't have.

On top of that, it felt so awesome to work for Jiang Ning.

The feeling of being on top and in control of everything was really amazing, and really... exciting!

While Lin Group was still pretending to be busy working, things at the Ceyranka family were different.

Kidd sat on the same chair he had sat on for the past few decades and his expression was very nasty.

"Mr Ceyranka, all of Lin Group's current projects have pretty much stalled, and all those Chinese merchants don't dare to work with them anymore."

"The Ceyranka family isn't the Chinese Chamber of Commerce. They could defeat the Chinese Chamber of Commerce by going through China, but there's nothing they can do about the Ceyranka family since we're based overseas!"

"That Jiang Ning hasn't appeared yet, but since Lin Group's overseas branch is on the verge of collapse, he's definitely going to appear."

Several subordinates were taking turns to report the situation to Kidd.

They had made several attacks, so in just a few days, Lin Group's overseas branch had fallen completely silent.

Even though Lin Group's employees continued to report to work and knock off on time every day, Lin Group refused to see anybody, so they were obviously just trying to keep up appearances. But even so, they were doing a bad job of it.

"How many more days will it take to make Lin Group pack their things and go back to where they came from?!"

Kidd didn't want to hear so much nonsense.

After something like that happened, he felt terribly embarrassed.

He wanted to bring down Lin Group and make Jiang Ning kneel in front of him to apologize. This man...deserved to die!"

"Lin Group is pretty capable, so we might still need another five days," said the subordinates after some hesitation.

“One day will do!” Dawson walked through the door with a cold expression on his face. “Leave this matter to me. I’ll take a maximum of two days – I’ll make Lin Group disappear from Las Vegas!”

He walked over to Kidd, bowed slightly, then scanned Kidd’s subordinates.

“They’re too inefficient at their work. There are many people watching the family now, so this is a matter of our reputation.”

Kidd narrowed his eyes slightly. He didn’t like the way Dawson talked.

He knew better than anybody else that Dawson was constantly competing with Amelia to become the next head of the family.

Amelia was a girl, so if she wanted this position, she had to remain single. But now...she was actually pregnant. Kidd was really furious.

This was equivalent to giving up the position of the head of the family to Dawson. Of course he was angry.

“Two days?” Kidd scoffed. “Dawson, I have confidence in your capability, but Lin Group isn’t a simple company.”

Lin Group was able to get rid of the Chinese Chamber of Commerce so easily, so how could they be an ordinary company?

The status of the Chinese merchants out here was low, so even the Chinese Chamber of Commerce in Las Vegas oppressed their own fellow countrymen who came here to do business. But after Lin Group arrived, everything that had been set for decades was changed completely in no time.

If couldn't be easy to destroy Lin Group completely in two days.

“As long as you hand this matter to me, I can get it done,” said Dawson calmly. “I’m not like these pieces of trash.”

The few men standing to one side looked a little upset but they didn't dare to say anything.

“This isn't just about your reputation but the reputation of the entire family. Surely we can't let the entire family suffer the consequences of one Amelia being rebellious, right?”

Dawson didn't mince his words and dared to talk like this to Kidd's face.

Kidd couldn't answer nor argue back when it came to Amelia.

He was the head of the family, but the Ceyranka family was too large and all the different factions in the family were fighting to be the leader. Amelia had to prove herself if she wanted to take over his position in the first place.

He had always trusted Amelia and believed in her capabilities.

But he didn't expect one Jiang Ning...that bastard!

He had cut off Amelia's future just like that.

"Dawson, you've eyed the position of the head of the family for a long time, haven't you?" scoffed Kidd.

"As a member of the Ceyranka family, it is most certainly my honor and delight to be able to bear more responsibilities for the family."

He never denied it. There was no need to deny such a thing.

Not especially at a time when he was highly favored. Amelia had committed a mistake and damaged the reputation of the Ceyrankas. This had greatly angered some of the elders of the family.

Even though Kidd was the head of the Ceyrankas now, he couldn't decide on everything on his own.

Dawson placed a hand on his heart and said with a smile, "I exist solely for the advancement of the Ceyrankas!"

Kidd looked at him and didn't say anything.

He knew that Dawson had already gathered the support of the other factions in the family. Dawson was excellent at getting people on his side.

If nothing else went wrong, the next head of the Ceyrankas should be Dawson.

Even though Kidd was really not willing to let him have it.

"Since you're willing to do this, then go ahead." He took a deep breath, stood up and walked over to Dawson. "You're going to win soon, so you must be very happy."

"I should have won in the first place." Dawson knew what Kidd was talking about. "In fact, I still have to thank Amelia for giving me this chance."

With that, Dawson didn't say anymore. He bowed slightly and left the room.

He was left with just one last step.

Kidd's expression was complicated as he watched Dawson walk away.

He never thought things would turn out like that.

He thought that there was still a fighting chance, but Amelia...how did she commit such a mistake?

She wasn't a rash person.

"There's one more way to salvage the situation."

Kidd took a deep breath.

He turned around and all his trusted subordinates were looking back at him.

"Get that Jiang Ning here to marry into the Ceyranka family. I think this method will work."

Kidd had investigated Jiang Ning long ago and found out that Jiang Ning had married into his wife's family, which meant that he was just her lawful husband and was not entitled to any inheritance. So Kidd thought that since Jiang Ning didn't mind marrying into the Lin family, then why not the Ceyranka family?

The Ceyranka family couldn't be any worse than the Lin family, right?

"Mr Ceyranka..."

"Let Dawson settle the matter of destroying Lin Group. When that Jiang Ning has nowhere else to run to, bring him over here."

"Yes, Mr Ceyranka!"

Kidd didn't want to talk anymore, so he just waved his hands and returned to his own room.

He didn't even want to see Amelia. Now while he was still angry.

Dawson returned to his own house and the way he carried himself was completely different now.

“You're all here?”

He sat on the chairperson's seat as he looked down at the ten odd men in front of him with a darkened expression.

“Everyone gets US$100 million. That's good enough, right?” Dawson scoffed, “All of you here were thumbed down by a young punk from the Eighth District. I'm really surprised.”

His words made some of them unhappy.

“Dawson, the situation wasn't as simple as you think. You have no idea how incredible those people were.” The boss of the Fourth District leaned back in his chair. “Have you seen someone who isn't even afraid of guns?”
