

Chapter 155

When William finished speaking, the people on the spot were all stunned.

A chilly feeling spread throughout their bodies!

William had pointed out all the key points!

Earlier, everyone was still in a daze. After all, too many plot twists had happened, and there was too much information to absorb.

But after William's explanation, everyone came to their senses at once!

The Bai family should not be held guilty because they never knew about the poisonous effect of the Heption Herbs!

But, on the other hand, the Zhao family...

They clearly knew the danger of overconsumption of the herbs yet they deliberately turned a blind eye to it!

The Zhaos were truly sinister indeed!

The Zhao family was so despicable that they had the audacity to feed the Hexaleaf to the patients in front of everyone's eyes!

The case had been set in stone.

They couldn't deny it even if they wanted to!

Nathan's face was blanched!

The move Lincon had been so proud of turned out to be the deadliest weapon in William's hands!

And now, there was no chance for the Zhao family to refute!

In a blink of an eye, the Zhao family was branded with the crime of spreading false information and murder!

But was this the end?

Not yet!

William continued, "I'm sure no one has any objections to the second crime. Let's talk about the third crime, which is the crime of deceiving the public."

Everyone was looking at William as their eyes lit up!

William had managed to twist the two crimes mentioned by Nathan without any difficulty earlier!

What about the third crime?

Felicity had admitted herself a while ago! What more was there to say?

What was William going to do to defend Felicity?

This time, William did not show any evidence, but slowly walked to a corner.

At the sight of that corner, the crowd started to let out a sound of exclamation.

Those people who were sitting at that corner were the poor farmers from Heption Village.

All this while, their faces were colored with worry because the Heption Herb was something even more important than their very own lives.

Why did William approach them?

William walked up to Elder Li and said to him, "Elder Li, my wife has been slandered by the entire city. They accuse her of being unkind and unrighteous. You two have met up quite a few times, what do you think of her character?"

Elder Li stood up shakily while William went over and gently supported him.

Elder Li looked at Felicity as tears suddenly welled up in his eyes.

"The Director Bai that I know is very kind-hearted."

Elder Li's eyes began to glisten as he recalled the peace and tranquillity at Heption Village, a place that was far away from the hustles and bustles of the city.

He then began to tell everyone about the times when Felicity went down to Heption Village twice.

"It was raining so heavily that day. Director Bai saw that all our herbs were being damaged by the flash flood and sympathized with us. I will never forget when she kneeled at the entrance of Heption Village as she prayed on our behalf. I will never forget her helpless and desperate face..."

Elder Li sniffled as he remarked, "She has a heart of gold, and her kindness will forever be etched in our hearts!"

"Besides, she had never deceived people! The day she said she would purchase the Heption Herbs, some of us did receive five million yuan from Mr. William and sold a portion of the Heption Herb to her. If you don't believe me, we can show you the proof," Elder Li said while looking at the farmers behind him.

Those old men nodded and took out more than a dozen purchase contracts with their trembling hands.

It was William's name that was signed on them.

The date coincided with the day Felicity announced that she would buy the Heption Herb too.

The appearance of these contracts made everyone quiet.

Felicity did not deceive anyone.

She had done what she had promised!

At that time, the Heption Herb was already considered to be a poisonous herb. Yet, she still gave five million yuan to help these pitiful farmers...

Everyone was trying to avoid it but only Felicity offered a helping hand to these poor farmers!

And, most importantly...

She was the first one to do it!

No one did anything before she.

The Genuine Care Medical Center only started to follow her suit in purchasing the Heption Herb after she made the announcement.

How could someone dare to say that Felicity was vicious and malicious! She was obviously the opposite!

For a while, everyone looked at Felicity with regrets in their eyes.

Felicity was not only beautiful on the outside but also kind. It was as though she was a fairy that had descended among them.

Where on earth could they find someone as kind as her?

Her compassion touched everyone's heart at that very moment.

Felicity was tearing up, too.

But at this time, a voice was heard again, "Hmph, she only forked out a small sum of money to purchase these herbs from the farmers! Didn't she say she would buy all the herbs in the city when she made the announcement! She never kept her word!"

It was Nathan!

When Nathan saw that William was able to clean

Felicity's name, he was even more furious than before!

"I must make this woman fall with me! I won't let her off so easily!"

But William looked at Nathan mockingly and said with a smile, "Well, let's talk about the situation at that time. After Felicity announced it, you all went to her house to surround her that day, didn't you?"

Some people at the scene, especially reporters, nodded blankly.

"She actually wanted to leave the house to continue her purchase, but she was swarmed and chastised by all of you. Have you all ever given her an opportunity to explain?" William asked.

Everyone was dumbstruck momentarily and shook their heads in unison.

At that time, as Felicity did not show up, everyone assumed that she had chickened out and couldn't keep her promise.

Hence when she finally appeared, the crowd scolded her without giving her any chance to explain herself.

"And then, you all left in a rush after hearing about the news that the Genuine Care Medical Center wanted to buy the herb. But, which one of you heard in person from Felicity that she refused to buy the herbs?" William questioned.

Everyone on the scene was dumbfounded.

It seemed that what he said rang true...

Hearing this, Nathan's face turned pale once again!

He clearly knew that William was eloquent!

And at this very moment, he couldn't word his rebuttal against William at all!

What the f*ck!

William was simply insane!

He was so good at playing with words!

And now, the way the people at the scene looked at Felicity had changed.

There were no longer hints of assertion in their eyes; they were ashamed of themselves for accusing her earlier.

Suddenly, a reporter stood out and bowed slightly to Felicity. "Miss Bai, I'm sorry. I am wrong and I apologize to you now. You are kind-hearted, but I have been malicious towards you. I'm greatly ashamed of my own ignorance."

The rest of the people behind him rose from their seats and bowed together to Felicity.

At this point in time, everyone was seen bending the upper part of their bodies toward Felicity. Silence permeated every single air particle.

Anyone with conscience could tell who was kind and who was evil now.

Looking at the crowd's reaction, Felicity held her tears to prevent them from spilling out of her eyes.

Grievance...

She had never felt so aggrieved in her life...

She wanted to help those farmers, she really meant to help...

However she ended up being framed; she couldn't even find words to explain herself.

But now, everything had turned out fine.

When she thought that there was no way out of this hardship, a man stood up for her and found a route to solve all her troubles.

Her husband, William, was the one who made all this possible!

He dared to offend everyone in the city for just her!

He did not mind taking the risk to go against the world if this was what it took to make the people who had wronged her bow and apologize to her.

Gone was all the grievance that had been nursing in her heart.

Instead, it was now replaced with gratitude for William.

However, in addition to it, she felt another strange feeling.

When did William become so eloquent?

That day when her place was crowded by angry citizens and reporters, it was true that she felt wronged being framed and hence she chose not to leave the house.

However, William skillfully twisted the scenario and put the blame back onto the crowd themselves.

He was really good at seizing these loopholes and using them as a fatal blow.

"Since Felicity had not deceived anyone, then it was clear that Nathan was making up these three crimes earlier to defame us! Therefore, I would like to call out the Zhao family for deceiving the crowd!" William continued.

Chapter 156

Everyone was stunned!

The Zhao family was guilty of another crime too!

It seemed that William would not give up until the Zhao family was properly punished!

What a terrifying man William was.

No one would ever dare to mess with him in the future.

Otherwise, they would definitely die a miserable death!

He was so skillful that he could attack the Zhaos from all angles, and everything was so well woven that the Zhaos could not even refute him!

Melissa looked at William who looked so merciless on stage and suddenly sneered silently.

"Oh the Zhao family, you shouldn't have messed with Felicity."

If they had provoked William instead, based on William's personality, he probably wouldn't even pay any attention at all and just let them be.

But they had provoked Felicity instead!

How dared they lay a finger on her! She was someone William most treasured!

No one knew what crazy things William would do for the sake of Felicity!

This matter was far from over.

"You all should look carefully, and atone over it," she thought.

At this moment, William continued, "You omitted the other half of my thesis, isn't that deceiving the crowds?"

"You are the ones who have harmed these patients and poor farms. But you invited them here while trying to act kind. Isn't it deceiving?"

Nathan was completely dizzy when William said those sentences.

All the means of the Zhao family used to harm the Bai family and the Genuine Care Medical Center were something they were so proud of before!

But now, it had turned into the most powerful weapon for William to hurt them!

The three crimes he announced earlier...

The Bai family had escaped unscathed, all thanks to William!

What was even more terrifying was that William had twisted these three crimes onto the Zhao family!

They were done...

The members of the Bai family on the other hand, up till now, were all in a daze.

They could not believe their ears. Were they going to leave this place in one piece?

Without paying any price?

How on earth did William do it?!

They could not believe that a good-for-nothing that had been holed up in the Bai family for almost a decade had now become someone who was able to move the crowd!

Steven looked at William with indifference and he felt a strong sense of jealousy in his heart!

Why was this guy taking the lead?!

Why should he just stand aside and look at this good-for-nothing shine bright!

It was impossible for William to do all of this!

"Hmph! Didn't Felicity say earlier that she gave William to speak on her behalf? So all of this must have been instructed by Felicity and the evidence was also provided by her. Otherwise, why didn't she say anything when I transferred the company to her at the beginning?"

Steven could only find this reason to rationalize William's action. "This was not the way she would do things. So there was only one possibility. Felicity had already collected all the evidence secretly and knew that nothing would happen to the Bai family today. So that was why she didn't quarrel with us in public just now."

After the Bai family heard Steven, they all nodded as well.

Indeed, there was no other reason more plausible than this.

Yasmine gritted her teeth and hissed, "Now, I can see clearly what this little b*tch is up to. The reason why she wants William to speak for her is that she wants to build up her own image! If these words were to come out of her, it would make her sound arrogant. So it is only appropriate for William to explain them on her behalf. I never knew this little b*tch was such a shrewd girl! Our family was almost sabotaged by her!"

The Bai family was horrified as they all looked at Felicity in a different light.

There was a change on the field again.

Now that they knew the full context of the matter, the anger in their hearts could no longer be suppressed.

They all rushed to Nathan in unison.

Nathan was so frightened that he almost peed himself!

He had been beaten up badly a while ago. If he were to get hit again, he was afraid that he would lose his life there and then.

He suddenly shrank behind Bernard and said pitifully, "Uncle Hsu, please save me."

Bernard had been looking at Nathan with apathy since the beginning.

This was because he didn't know the full picture either earlier. He didn't dare to take any action for fear of angering the public.

Now that everything was crystal clear, he was cursing the Zhao family in his heart!

The Zhao family was truly worthless and useless!

They were so loathsome! More importantly, they got caught red-handed by someone!

They had only themselves to be blamed as they brought all these upon themselves!

Looking at Nathan who was hiding behind him, Bernard didn't want to help him at all.

But in the end, Bernard let out a sigh.

After all, he had a good relationship with that guy.

Thinking of this, he stood up slowly.

And everyone stopped in their tracks.

Bernard was someone very well-known in Qena City.

After all, he was a member of the Qena City Pharmaceutical Association.

"Mr. Hsu, are you intending to protect this traitor?" everyone asked.

Bernard shook his head.

He knew that it was not a smart move. The Zhao family was resented by the public.

If he brashly took their side, he might be hated by these people as well.

Next month, there would be a transition in the Pharmaceutical Association. The old chairman was finally going to retire. Bernard was one of the candidates for the chairman's position. Therefore, he couldn't afford to make any mistakes.

Hence, he had come up with another solution, which was to transfer the public's anger to someone else.

The Genuine Care Medical Center...

"Since all pharmaceutical companies are under my jurisdiction, then I'm sorry to make you the scapegoat."

Bernard thought of this and boomed, "We are still in the midst of the meeting. Please solve all these on your own after this. Since the Zhao family can no longer hold the responsibility as the host, I will take charge."

The crowds were obviously reluctant to comply.

However, Bernard's statements were objective, thus, everyone swallowed their anger and returned to their seats.

Seeing that everyone had left him alone, Nathan breathed a sigh of relief.

Bernard looked at the Genuine Care Medical Center and said, "Although we have learned quite a number of truths earlier, there are still some matters I have to bring up as a representative from the pharmaceutical association. The Genuine Care Medical Center, please explain to us why there are poisonous elements in your new product! Why do you use the Heption Herbs?"

William chuckled and asked, "Mr. Hsu, are you trying to divert our focus?"

Bernard's face turned stiff!

"This boy!"

He thought, "How dare he be so rude!"

Now that William had discovered his true intention, he could no longer be haughty in front of others!

The Genuine Care Medical Center!

How could they disrespect him?!

"Your product contains the Heption Herb and this is a fact. You have to explain it sooner or later. I'm just trying to give you a chance to explain for yourself now. Otherwise, I could have issued a letter to restrict your product from the market and sealed it off! I have been kind to you!" Bernard said coldly.

William smiled. "Okay, since we have to explain it sooner or later, let's do it now then."

"Let me ask you all three questions. First, isn't there a sentence in the test result that states, although the Heption Herb is poisonous, it is still permitted within a limited scope of usage?"

Everyone was dumbstruck.

All medicines were drugs if used in the incorrect doses! How could there be any medicine in the world that did not have a toxic element?

When everyone heard that the Heption Herb was poisonous earlier, they exploded in an instant and had ignored the later half of the statement.

But now that William mentioned it again, a thought flashed across everyone's mind.

The Genuine Care Medical Center's journey on refuting their wrongdoings was still going on!

"There is indeed such a conclusion. However, how can you guarantee that you are able to control the poisonous effects of the Heption Herb?" Bernard asked, feeling reluctant to give up so easily.

William chortled again. Then he turned over, found a bottle of their new product, and put it on the projector.

"So, the second question I'm going to ask is, don't you see that it also has Hexaleaf in it?"

Chapter 157

On the LED screen, right beside the word 'Heption Herb' read the word 'Hexaleaf'!

The crowd had their hands covering their mouths in unison!

What the f*ck!

The Genuine Care Medical Center really included the Hexaleaf in it!

The crowd had no idea that the Hexaleaf was able to neutralize the poison of the Heption Herb.

Hence they had not pay any attention to it previously.

Now that William had mentioned it, everyone understood the reason the clinic included it in an instant.

Everyone already knew that the Heption Herb and the Hexaleaf were able to neutralize each other. With both, they could work wonders.

And, now that these two elements were inside the product, this showed that the Genuine Care Medical Center had long considered the toxicity of these two herbs.

Moreover, since Henry had successfully saved the patients a while ago, it meant that the Genuine Care Medical Center knew the ratio clearly. Thus, these two medicines were not only non-toxic but also beneficial.

At the sight, Bernard's face suddenly turned pallid!

"Sh*t! This boy knew that I would ask about this!"

He looked at William who remained very calm as a strange feeling enshrouded his entire being.

Everything he had said seemed to be within William's expectation.

William was like the maker looking over his vast lot, and Bernard was just one of his many creations.

The world was nothing but a playground for William!

There was no secret that could be kept from him!

Bernard felt his heart churn as he felt an intense unwillingness to accept this cruel reality!

His voice also became louder. "Hmph! Previously, you were only able to prove that these two medicines could detoxify each other. How can you prove that these two medicines are harmless when they are being used at the same time? What if the consumers become poisoned upon consumption before the neutralization effect kicks in?"

This time, William did not answer.

Instead, Lydia, who was at the side voiced, "That's why we've already prepared it beforehand. Let's test the medicine."

Test the medicine?

Everyone was dumbstruck.

How were they going to test the medicine?

Lydia waved her hand, and then a staff member came up with a bowl of herbal broth.

"Just now, we have inferred that those patients were poisoned by three shots of Heption Herbs. It took roughly five minutes for the poison to take effect. Now, this bowl of broth consists of five shots of Heption Herbs with the corresponding amount of Hexaleaf."

Hearing her words, the audience burst into an uproar!

What the f*ck!

It only took three shots to make those people so ill that they warranted an ICU admission!

And now, Lydia was going to use five shots?!

They were practically digging their own graves!

Lydia asked the crowds, "Who would dare to give it a try?"

The crowd took a few steps back together!

D*mn, so it was how they were going to test the medicine!

How could they take their lives so lightly?!

The Genuine Care Medical Center had gone too far!

If they were not being careful enough, they could have killed people!

Who would even dare go up and try it?

"Huh, since you guys brought this medicine, why don't you guys try it yourself? Why did you ask someone else to try it instead? Is it because you don't have confidence in yourselves? Or is it because you'd long expected that other people would not dare to drink it and want to bluff through it?" Bernard sneered.

He was right though as some of them truly thought that way.

But right at this moment, a voice said, "I'll do it."

Everyone was shocked when they turned to the source of the voice!

It was Vinson!

Vinson slowly walked to the stage and looked at William.

William's eyes were bright and clear as he nodded to Vinson.

Vinson closed his eyes.

Although he had been forgiven by William, he still felt guilty.

Perhaps, if he put his life on the line, he might be able to forgive himself.

Before the crowd could stop him, Vinson opened his eyes and downed all the broth in one large gulp!

Everyone was dumbfounded!

Vinson!

As an experienced expert, how could he be so reckless!?

If something bad happened, the Genuine Care Medical Center would never be able to atone for their sins even if they paid with everything they had!

At this moment, they could only pray that the broth was truly not poisonous.

Time was slowly ticking away by as the crowd grew more anxious.

Some were staring at their watches.

And some were trying to check on Vinson's condition.

A doctor had already carried a stretcher to Vinson's side.

The air was tinged with uneasiness.

Felicity was also extremely nervous!

The way William was doing things was really worrying! Didn't he know that it was always better to be safe than sorry?

Didn't he think he was being overconfident?

Vinson, on the other hand, finally found peace within himself.

However, at the same time, he was also having an inner conflict.

Instinctively, he wanted to die, to prove his sincerity towards William.

But deep down, he wanted to live too!

To prove that William's product was workable!

William would never say something unreal!

Nothing could go wrong with William's words!

Vinson believed that he would definitely not die!

Three minutes... four minutes... five minutes!

It was not until five minutes later that the tension in the crowd faded.

Then, they saw Vinson's complexion turning slightly rosy red.

They were puzzled, curious, and awestruck.

"F*ck! He is really fine! Look at his face."

"His hair is grey but he has the complexion of a teenager. Is that what it can do? Doctor, please run a test on him."

The doctor next to him immediately connected numerous wires and instruments onto Vinson's body.

The machines next to him showed Vinson's vitals.

Five minutes passed by.

The doctor widened his eyes and said in disbelief, "D*mn! This is so amazing! Amazing! Dean Zhang's vitals are all normal."

Normal?

"What's so special about being normal? That can only mean that these two kinds of herbs are not poisonous when mixed together." Bernard had no choice but to take in this fact in the end.

But the doctor immediately retorted, "No, normal is already shocking enough! Do you have any elderly at home? Don't they have high blood pressure and high sugar levels? At a certain age, the elderly will usually have different degrees of chronic illnesses. No way that their vitals can be normal!"

The doctor was really shocked by the healing effect brought by the broth. He did not even notice that the person he rebuked was Bernard.

He continued, "Dean Zhang has been suffering from cardiovascular diseases all year round. You can find it in the hospital's medical records. But now, be it his heart rate or other indicators, it's all within normal range! Isn't it enough to prove the miraculous effects that come with combining these two herbs?"

After hearing what he said, everyone's eyes suddenly lit up!

What the f*ck!

This was going to be a magical product!

The negative impression brought by the Heption Herb was swept away by Vinson's test results at once!

Everyone was filled with curiosity and shock!

Seeing the crowd's reaction, William spoke calmly, "You don't have to be too surprised. To be honest, these two medicines are not some magical herbs. Dean Zhang had just taken the first gulp, hence the effect is at its most potent stage. For the next few days, if he doesn't take much care of his body, he will return to the same state as before. But it is proven that these two herbs are truly effective. We won't exaggerate nor hide the facts."

The crowd gasped at William's words again.

The Genuine Care Medical Center didn't take the opportunity to hype up their product.

Instead, they chose to tell the truth.

Frankly, after hearing that, everyone who was excited became much calmer.

However, they were greatly touched by William's honesty.

He did not deliberately mislead them. He was truly a benevolent doctor who only spoke the truth.

The Genuine Care Medical Center was truly genuine and caring!

Melissa sighed in her heart as she thought, "That little b*stard has made himself look like a saint again!"

Not only did he change everyone's impression about the Heption Herbs through this incident, but he also made a name for the Genuine Care Medical Center.

"William, what about the third question that you're going to ask?" someone shouted at William excitedly.

William said that he would be asking three questions.

The first two questions had brought so many pleasant surprises.

They could not wait to hear the third question!

Was it going to be a continuation of this endless mystery?

William suddenly looked at a person, and his voice was no longer ice cold.

Instead, it had become warm and sweet.

"Elder Li, what do you think? Isn't the Heption Herb a good thing now?"
