

Chapter 26

The audience burst into an uproar again when they heard Mr. Wang said that both shared identical compositions.

Part of them was infuriated at the Lin family for deceiving them with fake and low-quality medicine.

Another part of them was astonished by what William did a while ago.

It seemed that such a magical doctor did exist in the world. He was able to distinguish accurately various herbs used to produce a drug.

Upon hearing this, Fernando's face turned as pale as a corpse. It was as if he was just struck by lightning.

He cried out, "No, it's impossible! They're lying! They're in it together!"

Mr. Wang snorted. "Hmph, Fernando Lin, you're the one who invites me here. Besides, I am making this claim based on my fifty years of experience. Why should I lie and put my reputation on the line? Are you doubting my ability?"

Mr. Wang's reply made Fernando feel groggy, his energy seeping away from his limbs.

He was filled with fury and regret.

It was impossible!

The medicines in his company were nearly authentic. He only mixed one-tenth of them with fake herbs. How could this happen?

How could William replicate the powder with the same composition by using a bunch of spoiled herbs?

How on earth did he do it?

Fernando wanted to explain himself. The despair that he felt at this moment was as thick as the frost covering his heart.

How was he going to explain that?

He had already grounded all the herbs in his company into powder. They were essentially equivalent to ashes.

He could not turn back time and change these powder back to its solid form.

He couldn't say anything to defend himself.

Fernando's heart missed a beat when he saw William smiling at him triumphantly.

He finally understood what William meant.

He was so confident that he could win by grinding all his herbs into powder.

However, this was also his biggest mistake of the day.

Lydia, on the other side, stared at William who remained indifferent. Her eyes were twinkling with admiration.

This little b*stard had again created another miracle!

The people in the Genuine Care Medical Center were aware that they could hardly prove their claims when they saw Fernando grind all the herbs he used into powder, even if he did use herbs of inferior quality.

Unexpectedly, William was able to solve this problem by thinking laterally.

Since he couldn't prove himself in the usual way, he came out with another method to demonstrate the truth.

Perhaps, he was the only one who had such magical ability in the world.

William was practically giving Fernando a slap in his face. It made Fernando feel so miserable. He had no choice but to cry in silence.

The ingredients he used were definitely not those spoiled herbs that William had mentioned earlier.

If he took out the ingredients he had used and ground them into powder again in front of everyone, he would be able to use it as proof against William.

However, in order to avoid all potential events that might not do him any good, Fernando had grounded all the ingredients he had in his company into powder.

He had tampered with all the evidence he had.

Despite knowing that he was framed by William, he could do nothing about it.

Well played, William!

He managed to defeat Fernando while making sure he could not fight back.

The anger within Melissa dissipated at once when she thought of this.

She felt so relieved and elated.

William's tactic was so brilliant! It made her feel being in cloud nine.

Yes, although it was obvious that the Genuine Care Medical Center was framing the Lins, what could Fernando do?

He had burnt his own bridges!

The rage, grievance, and regret...

He had paid the price for his own wrongdoings!

There were things in this world that even gods could not accomplish.

But William could achieve something that even gods couldn't.

When the reporters heard this, they rushed forward immediately and took pictures of Fernando and the herbs.

Fernando accused these reporters of not upholding their professional ethics a while ago. Now that they had a chance to fight back, they were not going to back down. They were more determined than anyone else to ruin the Lin family.

Everyone could already foresee the headlines of the news the next day. The Timber Group was definitely going to be fiercely criticized.

The reporters' questions lingered in Fernando's mind like a spell and haunted him.

His mind had gone blank.

He was almost driven mad by their questions. He blurted out, "I promise we do not use any fake herbs! Just a small portion of them is fake! That little b*stard is slandering us!"

His explanation made William, who was standing by the side, burst into laughter again.

It was over.

Everything was over.

The reporters burst out laughing right away. "Did you guys hear him? He admitted that the Timber Group did use a small portion of fake herbs! The truth has been revealed!"

Stunned, Fernando's knees buckled and he slumped onto the floor.

He had been left dazed after being assailed by the reporters a while ago. He could not believe that he blurted out the truth himself.

What had happened?

He was filled with remorse.

He should have given in while Melissa wanted to apologize to him a while ago. His first trump card would not be totally wasted then.

If the Bai family did not act so stubbornly to embarrass Felicity publicly by forcing her to testify...

He wouldn't have offended that devil!

Things would never escalate to this state either.

William played his cards steadily, one after another, and each of them was more powerful than the previous one.

He just wanted to avenge all the humiliation Felicity received.

The humiliation she received from the Bai family.

They were nothing but an idiot.

Fernando gritted his teeth at the Bai family and thought, "Look at what you've done to me!"

Fernando shouted at the Bai family, "It's the Bai family! These are their ideas! They're the ones who ask me to go against the Genuine Care Medical Center!"

The people from the Bai family were stupefied.

Yasmine was so frightened that she immediately stood up and yelled, "Fernando Lin, what did you say? You are the one who drags us into this matter. How dare you twist the fact and defame us!"

"If you guys do not make things difficult for Felicity and chase William out of the house, we wouldn't end up in this situation at all!" Fernando roared with a ferocious look on his face.

The hall had turned into another battlefield, a fight between Fernando and the Bai family.

In the blink of an eye, the allies who were working hand in hand against the Genuine Care Medical Center a while ago had revealed their ugliest side to each other.

The reporters were intrigued to see them fighting like cats and dogs. They were eager to see them spit out more secrets and scandals.

Mr. Wang, who was standing aside, looked at William with a bitter smile on his face.

He could not beat a young man despite having fifty years of experience.

William's capability was beyond everyone's imagination. It made people admire him and wanted to be better than him. However, it felt like a mission impossible. No one would be able to achieve this in his lifetime.

William told Melissa whose eyes were sparkling with excitement, "Well, I'll leave it to you to clean the mess up."

He was not interested to see the brawl between the Lins and the Bais. His eyes were only fixed on one woman.

If she didn't cry, he wouldn't have gone crazy...

Melissa stared at William and mumbled, "William, I have underestimated you. Anyway, thank you very much for what you've today."

William waved his hand and replied, "Let's talk about it later. This matter will not end so easily."

Melissa was dumbfounded.

Wasn't this the end?

Wasn't it over?

The Genuine Care Medical Center had won the battle and had become famous overnight.

The reputation of the Bai family and the Lin family had been tarnished.

"Is there anything else that I overlook?" Melissa thought.

However, William had already left the stage and walked down.

There was someone he had been worried about.

William walked to the front of Felicity. Her face was covered with tears.

However, these tears were no longer the tears of grievance.

Instead, they were tears of happiness. She was overjoyed to witness her husband's success. Her dream must have come true.

He gently wiped away the tears on her cheeks and whispered, "Felicity, are you feeling better?"

He draped his hands over her shoulder. "If there is any resentment or anger left in you, I still have one of their weaknesses on hand..."

He gnashed his teeth and continued, "I will make sure they suffer."

VAMP2.0 WOLF

Chapter 27

Felicity had been enveloped in William's gentle yet domineering aura since the moment he went on stage a while ago. She was completely stunned by his mightiness.

Like a dragon that had undergone a transformation, he had turned from a good-for-nothing into a dazzling man. He was no longer a man whom everyone could lookdown on.

The most stunning person of the day was none other than William.

Firstly, he tricked the Bai family and Fernando by giving them a different type of ointment to make them dig their own graves without realizing it. He then made Steven and Fernando experience all the shame they put on her.

He was doing this to console her...

It seemed that he was saying, "Cheer up, Felicity. Do not feel guilty."

He didn't do anything to harm her.

He was actually helping her.

If it weren't for him, how could she keep her head up before the Bais and Lins? She would never stand a chance to beat them.

Secondly, everyone thought that he had bribed the reporters. In fact, he didn't, but he did it in another way round. With this, he had defeated the Lin family. He not only cleared the name of the Genuine Care Medical Center, but he also made the Lin family offend the reporters of the entire city.

13:57

His last move was the most destructive one. He replicated the ingredients the Lins used and crumbled their family business.

These three strategies were so delicately planned and each of them was more fatal than the previous one.

She could not help but wonder if William was the man whom she had spent the last decade with.

It seemed that this perfect plan of his was aimed to make the Lins and the Bais be ashamed of themselves.

What a clever, wise, powerful man! She felt that she didn't deserve him.

William was practically a black horse. Had he been enduring all this humiliation while he was in the Bai family because of her?

Felicity was left dazed. She only came back to her senses when she heard William's voice.

She quickly waved her hand and replied, "No, it's okay. I'm not angry anymore."

William smiled and touched her head before he caught a tinge of awe and respect in her eyes.

He sighed secretly.

He had proven his own worth to others and as expected, this had exerted a tremendous amount of emotional pressure on Felicity.

It was true that a man should not be too stunning and outstanding.

It seemed that he had to make up some stories again with her later to divert her attention. Otherwise, this silly wife of his would probably be traumatized for the rest of her life.

William assured her, "Felicity, remember this, I will be your husband forever and I will always hold on to this promise. No matter wealthy or poor, this fact will never change regardless of what I become in the future."

Felicity nodded and forced a smile.

William felt a twinge of bitterness in his heart. He did not show any fear a while ago. His mind was full of tactics and plans.

However, when it came to Felicity, he would always turn into a poor guy who squirmed under his wife's thumb.

How pathetic!

"Why don't you go home first? I'll meet you when I'm done with everything here," suggested William.

Felicity nodded again and walked out of the hotel, still in a daze.

William, Melissa, and Lydia returned to the Genuine Care Medical Center.

As soon as they arrived at the office, Lydia, who had been keeping quiet all the way, suddenly shouted and slammed the table. She chortled, "What a great show! I can't hold it in anymore! Willy, do you want to have babies with me?"

The previous day, the favor that William asked Lydia to do was to produce a bottle of similar ointment based on Mr. Wang's ointment.

From that moment onwards, Lydia already had a hunch that William was about to do something big and shocking.

She knew that he was up to something, but she didn't know what it was exactly. She didn't expect that it would turn out to be so exciting.

How could she stay calm?

Melissa was speechless and pushed Lydia out of the room to let her calm down.

Melissa stared at William for five minutes and sighed. She was totally blown away by him.

When exactly did this little b*stard start setting up these traps?

Was it from the moment he told her that he wanted to please those reporters?

Or could it be the time when he said he wanted to declare war on them?

Perhaps, it was even much earlier than that...

Did he begin strategizing his plan from the moment Fernando laid his finger on his wife, Felicity?

He must have wanted to make sure Fernando hit rock bottom and reflect on himself.

Therefore, he came out with all these plans to fight against the Lin family.

He had achieved what he wanted. The results were beyond her imagination.

He not only vented his anger, but he also managed to defeat the Lins and the Bais.

Most importantly, without spending a single penny, their new product, the Cherry Blossom was publicized across the city. This was totally unanticipated!

Besides, even Mr. Wang, an experienced expert, showed the utmost respect to William. He even created a good impression on all the reporters in the city.

Melissa couldn't help telling all her guesses to William to express her amazement.

When William heard this, he did not give her any response besides a smile.

Melissa was confused. "Am I wrong? Aren't these what you want?"

13:57

William looked at Melissa, feeling a little embarrassed. "All the things you mentioned are just secondary aims of mine. They are nothing compared to the two main goals I want to achieve today. Firstly, I want to prove to you that I'm not an incompetent man so you don't feel being mistreated to work for me."

Melissa was glued on the spot upon hearing this.

What the...

Well, she did tell him that he must be capable enough if he wanted her to obey his order. Oh my goodness, had he been bearing grudges against her all this while?

Was he making such a big fuss to prove to her that he was qualified enough to have her lavish compliments on him?

She never knew that she was so 'important' for him.

She thought, "Well, thank you for doing this for me! Should I feel indebted to you forever then?"

"You deserve it," uttered William.

For some unknown reason, Melissa's heart missed a beat.

She deserved it...

She immediately shook her head to get rid of this ridiculous idea and asked, "What's your second goal then?"

13:57

William smiled and explained, "I need money. I need to get a lot of money, fast."

He remembered what Felicity told him the previous night.

"Money? Why don't you ask me for it?" asked Melissa.

"Haha, we don't need outsiders to meddle in this matter. This is between Felicity and I. I'll earn this money on my own," said William.

Melissa rolled her eyes. His answer almost made her pass out.

An outsider? How could he take her as an outsider when all she did was to offer help to him?

She didn't mind him acting all lovey-dovey in front of her. However, she was infuriated to be called an outsider by him.

Melissa thought, "Go to hell, you little b*stard!"

"I'll see how you can make money on your own!" Melissa roared.

William replied with a smile, "Wait and you shall see how money comes to my doorstep on its own."

Melissa's heart skipped a beat.

To come to his doorstep?

He told her previously that this matter was not over yet...

13:57

Could it be...

Melissa cursed secretly, "You little b*stard, don't you know that you have just caused such huge chaos and havoc? How shameless are you to say that you want to earn money on your own?"

He was going to blackmail someone for money, wasn't he?

At this moment, Melissa couldn't help but feel sympathetic for William's opponents.

They were vying against a demon!

While Melissa was roasting him, a sense of loss engulfed him all of a sudden.

Perhaps, he was the only one who knew what he had gained out of all these.

After this battle, he finally understood his grandfather's relentless efforts.

His grandfather asked William to earn a hundred billion yuan. It seemed absurd at first, but he had finally understood his grandfather's intention.

"Grandpa, you want me to experience life to gain more wisdom."

Only in this way could he equip himself with sufficient strengths and powers to fight against the Lu Family in North Lake City.

William murmured, "Thank you, Grandpa..."

Melissa could not help feeling sullen. Her understanding of this world had been overturned by the two reasons William gave.

13:57

However, she had to admit that William's ability was indeed beyond her imagination.

"Anyway William, I must say that you're really amazing. I doubted my grandfather's decision previously, but now it seems that I'm the one who's too narrow-minded. I apologize to you for being rude to you previously. You deserve to be the boss of the Genuine Care Medical Center."

William's brows shot up and his eyes twinkled. "No, you are still the boss of the Genuine Care Medical Center."

He put his chin on his hand and continued, "I quit. I don't want to be the boss anymore."
