

Medical Genius's Unspeakable Marriage

Chapter 623

After the Cunningham Family mocked James, they left triumphantly.

James, on the other hand, couldn't even say a word.

Deep down inside, he was panicking badly.

He came over here joyfully after he attended the celebration banquet today.

Who knew that they would get into such a huge conflict?

However, the matter was not over yet.

While he was standing there in a daze, his phone suddenly rang.

James took a look at it and found that it was Sasha who was calling.

He quickly answered the phone and said, "Sasha, I have something to tell you. You—"

However, Sasha interrupted him furiously, "Tell me, Dad, what have you done?"

James was stunned for a moment. "W-What did I do? Why are you asking me such a nonsensical question?"

"Don't act dumb!" Sasha countered furiously. "Jefford and the others just returned to the company. They were extremely furious and demanded to withdraw their investment from the company. Not only that, they also want you to return their investment in the construction company to them! Dad, what... what did you do? What happened at the construction company? Do you know with the company's current situation, once Jefford and the others withdraw their investment, the company will collapse!"

Upon hearing that, James was stunned. He was already devastated by the Jackson Family wanting to withdraw their investments. He would have never imagined that something like this would happen to Cunningham Pharmaceuticals.

"They... Why would they want to withdraw their investments?" James questioned in a hurry, to which Sasha replied, "How would I know? They said that you know why they're doing this! Dad, isn't Matthew in charge of the construction company? Did you ask him to return the shares in the construction company without letting me know?"

It was only then that James realized, beyond a shadow of a doubt, the reason for Jefford's withdrawal of investment was the same as the Jackson Family.

To put it bluntly, these people only invested because Matthew was in charge.

Now that someone else was in charge of the construction company, they immediately wanted to divest.

As he thought of this, James became enraged.

"They are f*cking stupid! I am the head of our family and I personally control the construction company. I'm of a much higher status than Matthew! Why do they want to withdraw their investments? Are they crazy?" James roared.

Sasha countered furiously, "I knew it! I knew it! You took away the shares in the construction company, right? Dad, can you please stop making me worry? Do you know how big the scale of the project that the construction company is doing now? This project was won by Matthew himself and these people trust him, so they cooperated with the company. Now that you have taken away Matthew's shares, how can they continue to cooperate with the company if they don't have anyone they trust? Dad, what are you trying to do? Are you glad to see our family completely ruined?"

James was dumbfounded and he trembled as he said, "H-How is this possible? Why do these people trust Matthew?"

Sasha countered furiously, "It doesn't matter why they trust Matthew. Matthew was the one who negotiated the deal, so you have to let him be in charge. It's normal that they want to withdraw their investments now that you have taken Matthew's shares! Alright, I have nothing else to say to you. Quickly return the company's shares to Matthew and I will try to persuade Jefford and the others. If we screw up this project, our family will have to bear billions in debt!"

Sasha then hung up the phone furiously and James froze in place.

Meanwhile, Helen and the others were curious and asked in a low voice what had happened.

James explained the situation and everyone was dumbfounded after listening to him.

"D-Does Matthew really have that much influence? Why is the Jackson Family also on his side?" Liam muttered, unconvinced.
