

My Dreamy Old Husband Chapter 791

Sophia couldn't help but laugh. At that moment, she thought about the role of a beautiful lady that Michael had played... To be honest, the beautiful lady that Michael played is the most realistic one that I've seen!

Michael, on the other hand, was really distressed because he didn't want Carmen to be in the entertainment industry.

It'll be great for her to go into business when she grows up. That way she can inherit my company, or be a soldier, or even inherit her grandfather's business to manage coal mines in Africa. However, Carmen seems to inherit all of the Fletcher family's acting talents. Even though she's really young, she already knows how to learn to dance and sing on her own by watching television.

"Alright. I promise you that when you are three, I'll send you to kindergarten. The teachers there will teach you how to sing and dance. Once you graduate from kindergarten, I'll let you join the movie industry, okay?"

When Carmen heard this, she was so happy she did a flip and yelled, "You're the best, Daddy! I love you!"

Then, she made a heart shape with her hands. Seeing this, Michael asked curiously, "Who taught you to do that?"

Carmen replied, "I learned it from the TV show 'Dad, Where Are We Going'. The father in the show taught his children how to do it."

Well, that's Carmen's favorite show and she never misses a single episode. She even dreams of getting on that show...

"Alright, it's getting late. Carmen, it's time to sleep. Only children who sleep early can grow up beautifully."

Carmen was jumping around and was really energetic but she nodded and replied, "Okay, Daddy."

Then, Michael added, "Your Mommy has just had an operation so you have to sleep in a separate bed for a few days."

Carmen glanced at Sophia's face before she pouted her lips. "Okay."

As a father, Michael was really worried about his child. Then, he nagged again, "You have to listen to Grandpa and Mommy and you can't run around alone, understand?"

"Okay!" Carmen repeated. "Daddy, when are you coming home?"

In a gentle tone, Michael replied, "I'll be back in two days."

When Carmen found out that her father was coming back soon, she was overjoyed and she yelled, "Mommy said that after you come home, we'll go to see lions and pandas!"

Hearing this, Michael was also happy. He was looking for a chance to bring Sophia to places they had been before. "Alright then. Darling, go to sleep. If you don't sleep soon, you won't grow up to be pretty and children who are not pretty can't go on TV."

As soon as Carmen heard that she wouldn't be able to go on TV, she hurriedly said, "Okay, Daddy. Let me give you another heart." Then, she quickly made a heart shape with her hands and chirped, "Mommy, you have to make a heart shape for Daddy too!"

Sophia was a little embarrassed but she followed Carmen's lead and made a heart. This is so embarrassing!

Seeing Sophia and Carmen made heart shapes, Michael also made a heart shape for the camera. After that, Carmen climbed into her small bed, got under the quilt and covered herself up. "I'm going to sleep! I'm sleeping now! I want to be pretty!"

Looking at his lively and cute daughter, Michael's gaze was filled with tenderness and love. Then, Michael looked at Sophia and said, "Sophia, I'm sure that Carmen has been bothering you for the past few days."

Sophia was watching Carmen sleep when she suddenly heard Michael ask her a question. She blushed and replied, "Not really. The nanny takes care of her most of the time. I just play with her occasionally." Later, she added, "Carmen is a really good girl and she didn't make me worry about her."

Then, they heard a voice from under the covers. "I've been a good girl. Mommy said so!"

At the other end of the video call, Michael couldn't help but chuckle. However, after laughing, he said, "By the way, I heard about the shops. Would you like me to help you?"

Sophia was speechless. I only rejected Sandra's offer to give my two rows of shops to her in exchange for a 'luxurious' two-bedroom condo. Why does it feel like I've caused a huge trouble and the whole world knows about it?

"It's fine," Sophia muttered. "I can handle it myself." Those shops belong to me and no one can take them away from me. Now that I have returned, I'll make sure the business at Pouri will get better.

She finished transferring her previous fortune in the past two days and Cooper gave her some gifts. Moreover, Sam was about to give her another few levels of offices so she was not short of money and she was ambitious.

Feeling guilty, Michael said, "It's my fault for not managing Pouri properly..."

Hearing this, Sophia hurriedly reassured, "You've already done a great job and you have a lot of things to deal with yourself. It's normal for you to not be able to take care of everything." I'm already really grateful that he has taken care of Carmen so well. She is more important than anything else.

Later, the two of them talked about work matters for a while. "What's your next step?" Michael asked, to which Sophia replied, "I want to renovate the store and maintain the previous customer base. I'm also planning to hold another new product launch conference."

Michael hurriedly said, "I remember that when Pouri opened, I was the model for your new product launch conference. If you need me, I can head over to help."

Michael is offering to come over to help? To be my model, no less? If he can be my model, my conference will certainly blow up! However, she was hesitant. "Aren't you 'dead'?"

Michael didn't take it seriously. "I've never said that I was dead and my agent never announced my death. It was just rumors that the media simply made up. Besides, I'm prepared to make a comeback after a while."

"What?!" Sophia shouted before she fell into deep shock. After being stunned for a while, she started to feel a little excited and surprised. Carmen had been bringing over Michael's movies to watch lately and Sophia had almost watched all of them. After watching his movies, it was hard to watch movies by other actors.

Michael was able to win the Oscar twice and became a national treasure. This was not only because he was handsome, his acting skills were also worthy of his fame. His movies were all very profound and significant. If he stopped acting, it would be Cethos, or even the whole movie industry's loss!

Now that Sophia heard that he was about to make a comeback, she was excited. Suppressing her joy, she asked, "If you're going to make a comeback, what are you going to shoot? Can you tell me a little bit about it?"

Sure enough, Sophia is still Sophia. Even though she lost her memory, she is still the chica that I remember.

Michael replied with a smile, "I recently got a really good script and I've already let my grandfather read it. It's about the story of when my grandfather was rescued by your grandfather after being trapped in the snowy mountains. I will bring the script over to show your father in a few days."

Hearing that, Sophia was overjoyed. She had just read the genealogy record book and found out about the past. After she learned about the wonderful story, she was thinking that it would be great if it could be made into a film. She didn't expect that Michael had already prepared the script.

"That's great," Sophia said. "I hope you start shooting soon because I'm excited to watch it." Then, she suddenly remembered something and asked, "Is the movie about the national treasure—the imperial seal—that you shot a few years ago going to be in theaters soon?"

It is said that he died before he finished filming that movie. Now that he's making a comeback, he should be able to continue filming it!

Looking at her excited expression, Michael shook his head and smiled helplessly. Then, he replied, "Of course. What do you think I was up to all this time?"

Turns out that it was to shoot a movie!
