

Chapter 533

After dawn, the morning light slowly blossomed in the east.

The light draped over the deck of the yacht and fell on Qin Ming and Sun Changxi, the two of them were wearing nothing, cuddled together, merely draped in a thin sheet, but unable to cover her delicate figure.

Qin Ming felt a nudge and heard Sun Changxi's voice in his ears, "Qin Ming look, the sun is rising, the coastline is so beautiful."

Qin Ming was drenched in fatigue and sleepy-eyed, he could only see Sun Changxi's back to him, the flat back with a white complexion, nothing like her perennially tanned arms.

Qin Ming looked at the messy clothes on the yacht deck and recalled the last madness an hour ago, he couldn't help but feel weak in both legs.

Qin Ming never imagined that it wasn't sitting around until dawn, it was actually making it to dawn, and his body was hollowed out.

He then had sex with Sun Changxi for the second time, and this time it was longer, more awake and committed. Sun Changxi's beauty, which he could take in, was superb.

Qin Ming could not help but sigh, it was good to be rich.

If they hadn't had money and a yacht, they would have gone back to Guangzhou last night, and it wouldn't have been Sun Changxi's turn to find him out of the blue to chat and talk, nor would they have kissed together again under the effect of alcohol.

Qin Ming sat aside, watching the sunrise, and said, "Not as pretty as you."

Sun Changxi smiled, turned around and said, "Greasy mouth, coaxing me?"

Qin Ming looked at Sun Changxi's perfectly curved body again and hurriedly put on her clothes, saying, "Be careful of catching a cold."

Sun Changxi's heart was warmed, yet she said shyly, "You weren't like this last night, as soon as you did it, you ripped off my clothes."

Qin Ming made a red face and hurriedly said, "I, I will be responsible for what happened last night, I will make it up to you."

Sun Changxi said, "Forget it, what responsibility is there for a dewy couple? I was the one who was impulsive first. I'm an adult too, I have to take responsibility for what I did."

"You're at a disadvantage like this." Qin Ming said.

Sun Changxi shook her head and said gently, "No, you're fine, I didn't suffer a loss last night. Besides, you couldn't have married me, my father is a very strong man and my mother is also a very resourceful person. They wouldn't like the average businessman who wants the background of a rich and powerful family, and my mother has a background herself. If you are rich, can you be richer than those young masters of the gentry? Just think of it as a dream, go back to Guang City, and forget about it."

Qin Ming's heart was beating straight up, it was amazing that there was such a good thing under the sky, to eat and wipe clean and not be responsible for it, it was simply too good.

But last night was so exciting, how could he forget about it?

Sun Changxi's body was on one side, nestled in Qin Ming's arms, like a lover, and said: "We may never see each other again. But I will always remember these days in Guangzhou City. Let's go back."

Qin Ming did not respond, he suddenly lowered his head, embraced the woman again, caressed her body again, rolled over her again, bathed in the sunlight, felt the sea breeze blowing, and finally melted into one.

It was not until noon that Qin Ming and Sun Changxi drove their yacht back to the pier in Guangcheng.

Sun Changxi got off the boat and said, "I'll go to the hospital to see my mother first, and I'll probably leave tomorrow. Don't mess with Li Xinghong, he's not a businessman you can mess with, no matter how rich and capable you are. But he's still a man of his word, if he says he won't pursue you, he won't pursue you. Qin Ming, goodbye."

Qin Ming nodded in silence and added, "Sister Changxi, you must call me if you need anything, there is nothing that I, Qin Ming, can't solve, trust me."

After sending Sun Changxi away, Ah Long sent someone to clean up the yacht.

Ah Long came over and said, "Young Master, you didn't even use a condom last night? That's very unsafe."

The corner of Qin Ming's mouth twitched and he lied in a serious manner, "Nonsense, we just sat and chatted on the deck until dawn last night. We had a very pure relationship, OK? Ah Long you have a nasty mind."

Ah Long laughed and said, "Young master, that's not possible, is it? From what I know about you. Your resistance and willpower to women is very low."

Pfft, Qin Ming really wanted to spurt out a mouthful of old blood when he heard Ah Long spouting off like that, was he that bad?

But for the sake of saving face, Qin Ming denied it and said, "Nothing happened last night, I just drank with her and got drunk, otherwise wouldn't I know how to take safety measures?"

Ah Long shrugged, saying that he didn't know and didn't want to know.

Qin Ming was reminded that he hadn't taken any safety measures last night, so Sun Changxi would have bought a pill afterwards, right? No, it should have been a safe period, otherwise how could she be so relieved to give herself to Qin Ming?

Qin Ming was a bit anxious, but he couldn't care less since they had already left and he didn't know when he would see them again.

Qin Ming and his group were about to leave when suddenly a BMW stopped at the intersection and a man came down.

Why was this bastard still here?

Qin Ming was now very contemptuous of him, his mouth saying to Sun Changxi that he was true love, only to be scared away by Li Xinghong.

"What are you doing here?" Qin Ming asked.

Huang Shaohao licked his lips, narrowed his eyes at Qin Ming and said, "I underestimated you, you're not a normal college student. I got the news later about what happened last night. You saved Auntie Yang, and the Sun family owes you a great debt of gratitude."

Qin Ming said, "Human favours or not, I don't care. What do you want?"

Huang Shaohao lit a cigarette, took a deep breath, seemed physically a little weak, and said, "I squatted all night, I saw it all just now, your yacht, you didn't even come back last night, right? And you and Chang Xi have only just returned. In other words, the two of you took the yacht out to sea last night, do you have anything to say?"

Qin Ming cursed in annoyance, "Are you nuts? Do I need to explain to you what I did? You've disappointed Sister Chang Xi to the core, do you have the nerve to present yourself as a boyfriend again and come here asking questions?"

Huang Shaohao didn't say anything back and said after a moment of silence, "I am indeed, no longer good enough for her. But your status is also too ordinary. Even if Chang Xi likes you, you won't be able to be the Sun family's son-in-law."

Qin Ming frowned, what was this guy trying to say?

Huang Shaohao said, "I really like Changxi, but I can't afford to give up money for Changxi, so I lost. But Chang Xi, she likes you, brat, you've cultivated your blessings from your ancestors. Don't you give up."

Qin Ming was surprised, "What do you mean by that?"

This time it was Huang Shaohao's turn to lose his temper and said, "I mean, don't let her down, she's the most perfect goddess in my heart and I want her to be truly happy. You're a college student, you can afford to drive a yacht and hire such a powerful ex-special forces soldier, you're not doing too badly, are you? Work harder, get the Sun family's approval and give her happiness."

After saying that, Huang Shaohao sighed and walked away lost in thought.

The Huang family was also one of the powerful families in the capital city, and last time when Qin Ming was negotiating with the Lin family in Xiangxi, he also ran into Huang Shaohao's brother, such a powerful young man, it was reasonable to say that there was no shortage of women.

But he had lost his love, and Qin Ming was quite surprised.

Qin Ming suddenly felt that this Huang Shaohao wasn't too bad a person.

"I'm not destined to give her happiness." But Qin Ming shook his head abruptly, what he couldn't get out of his mind was still Nie Haitang and Mu Xiaoqiao.

As Sun Changxi had said, the two of them, united by impulse, had no foundation of love for each other, as if they were a dewy-eyed couple, although they were also destined by previous fate, but they could not go on.

Not long after, Ah Long drove the limousine over and asked, "Young master, where to now?"

"To ....." Qin Ming was about to say back to school, but at that moment his mobile phone rang.

When Qin Ming looked at it, he was surprised to see that it was Zhang Quanzhen who had taken the initiative to call.

Chapter 534

"Little Qin ah ....." where is it?"

When Qin Ming heard Zhang Quanzhen's smiling voice, he felt bad in his heart, when this bad old man was usually not serious, that was when he started to punk people.

Qin Ming said, "No, I'm in class."

Zhang Quanzhen said, "Bullshit, I just came out of your school. The people in your dorm said that you went out to pick up girls, you've only been practicing kung fu for a few months and you're indulging yourself like this, are you really not afraid of kidney deficiency in the future?"

Qin Ming was a little embarrassed by the comment, he had indeed indulged too much last night and his legs were still a little weak, it was all Sun Changxi's fault for being too charming.

Qin Ming said, "Ahem ..... Teacher, what's the matter?"

Zhang Quanzhen said, "Oh, you should come back right away, it's at a tea house outside your school."

After hearing this, Qin Ming immediately rushed back, and Zhang Quanzhen was waiting at a quiet tea house on the side of the road outside the school.

When he entered the tea room, Zhang Quanzhen was his usual self, dressed in a Taoist robe, holding a string of beads and wearing a pair of old-fashioned glasses, a social and religious figure, sipping aromatic tea slowly.

Qin Ming sat down and said, "Old man, why are you looking for me so suddenly? There must be nothing good."

Zhang Quanzhen reprimanded, "Call me teacher! You brat. Ahem ..... Indeed, from the day I found you, I definitely wanted you to do something for me. As I told you, I want to get something done, but right now, if I do, I don't even have the qualifications to see the other side. I need to rely on you."

Qin Ming's heart moved and he asked, "Teacher, you mean from the day you found me, not from the day you took me as your disciple. I think we first met by chance on the roadside of the pedestrian street, right? At that time, my ex-girlfriend Li Meng was still pestering you and calling you a godly man."

Zhang Quanzhen said, "I sometimes, also tell the fortunes of ordinary people to pass the time, but I didn't expect to have a destiny with you as a result, so it can be said that it was destined by heaven."

Qin Ming thought for a moment and said, "Teacher, what do you need me to do? If it's within my power, I won't resist, but there must be a time for this, right? I'm also very busy over at work."

Zhang Quanzhen took out a photo, and on it was a young man wearing glasses, quite gentle and clean, giving the impression that he was a bit of a nerd.

But Qin Ming said in surprise, "This man looks like me. Tsk ..... Teacher, you have to introduce this person to me, he can be my double."

Qin Ming was full of joy, he didn't expect Zhang Quan to really find him one.

Qin Ming had always wanted to find someone who looked like himself to use as his double, so that he could sometimes deal with some sudden assassinations. Although he had instructed Song Ying to find one, it was not easy to find one in a sea of people, so he never found one.

Zhang Quanzhen said: "Can you be a body double just because you say so? You kid, you've only got a little fame and you've seen your temper grow?"

Qin Ming smiled and asked, "What do you want me to do, teacher?"

Zhang Quanzhen said, "This man's name is Zhao Zhengyin, both his temperament and personality are far different from yours, it won't be easy for you to play him."

Qin Ming asked curiously, "Play him? Is he willing?"

Zhang Quanzhen nodded and said, "He has been living a hard life and has always wanted to escape, to change his identity and start afresh in a different environment. I knew his father well, which is why he approached me for help. I then made a spell for him, guiding him to come to Canton to encounter you, and once he finds you, he will offer to swap lives with you."

"Fuck, you old liar, still so good at fooling around." Qin Ming sighed in his heart.

Qin Ming said, "Does this help with what you are going to do, teacher? Why do I get the feeling that you are going to screw me over?"

Zhang Quanzhen knocked Qin Ming with one hand and said, "Brat, this is not a discussion with you? Is this called screwing you over? It was always part of my plan to have you replace Zhao Zhengyan. That brat can hardly become a great man, you can."

Qin Ming said unhappily, "Then teacher, you have to tell me the result you want to get first, and why, you have to tell me, otherwise how can I trust you?"

Zhang Quanzhen sighed, took a sip of tea and said, "Okay, I'll tell you everything. As you know, I learnt my skills under Teacher Zhao Demin back then. We had five brothers in total, and we could say that we talked to each other without fail and were as close as brothers, and then the brothers turned against each other because of a woman."

Qin Ming nodded his head, such a dogged affair was no soap opera.

Zhang Quanzhen said, "We five brothers, me, Old Chang, Old Bai, Zhao Zhen and Mu Hai Ran, I have been wondering all these years how the five of us got into this mess, I could never figure it out and I regret that I was incapable back then. So I'm going to spend the rest of my life finding out the truth!"

He pondered over the past and opened his mouth despondently, saying, "That woman, her name was Chang Rui, was also a young lady from a famous family back then, with a beautiful face and a very distinguished temperament, she was also very capable, it is not too much to say that she was the pride of heaven. At that time, countless young talents fell under her skirt. Of the five of us, except for Mu Hai Ran, the other four brothers all had a crush on her at one time or another."

"She was also very clever between Zhou Xuan and us, and she wanted to pick the best and most suitable husband."

"I was the first to notice her inappropriate behaviour, I felt that was not right, I persuaded Chang Rui to make her decision early and follow her heart, not to make things difficult between us brothers."

Qin Ming took a sip of tea and listened to this matter, feeling that the woman back then was too much, wasn't this a typical scum girl? The woman was a typical slut?

The key is that those spare tires are still close and good brothers.

Qin knowingly asked, "Teacher you said this Zhao Zhen, the Zhao family ..... is the one of the super gentry in the capital city, right?"

Zhang Quanzhen nodded and said, "It was the Zhao family that Chang Rui chose in the end, and he married his teacher's son, Zhao Zhen."

Qin Ming chuckled and said, "Zhao Zhen, that name, it's just like the emperor of the Song Dynasty, it's very emperor-like. So this Zhao, how did he beat you, teacher?"

Zhang Quanzhen's old face flushed, cleared his throat and said, "Cough cough, I just once liked Chang Rui, that was when I was young and ignorant, but I later became intoxicated in the Dao, and was imbued with the Dao day and night, and saw through the red dust early, and formed the Golden Elixir of the Dao, and my Yuan Shen has transcended the mortal world, so she and I are just like red powder skeletons."

Qin Ming laughed and said, "Teacher, don't pretend. In your autobiography book, you wrote that you had kidney stones when you were in your twenties, and you had been treated for a long time, but you were still fooled by the top specialist doctors who gave you free treatment for a long time. You have kidney stones and you have the nerve to say that you have formed the Golden Elixir of the Dao Sect, and you are hospitalized and have the nerve to say that you have transcended your Yuan Shen, you are also outrageous."

"Cough cough, cut the small talk." Zhang Quanzhen hurriedly pulled back to the main topic and added, "Many things happened afterwards, and we brothers could see among each other that Chang Rui seemed to be picking on us. So the three of them were competing with each other to be first in everything they did, and slowly the uninhibited atmosphere between the brothers was gone, and they even fell out over some things and quarreled more and more."

"Ahem ..... At that time, I was transcending my Yuan Shen and enlightening the Daoist dharma, so I didn't get much involved in their competition."

"Not long after, something happened to Mu Hai Ran's family and he was approved for smuggling. Mu Hai Ran said that the Mu family was framed, but at that time there were no conditions to prove the Mu family's innocence, instead countless evidence that the Mu family was smuggling national resources. Mu Hai Ran approached Zhao Zhen for help."

"But Zhao Zhen was angry that Mu Hai Ran didn't help him in his pursuit of Chang Rui, but instead helped Old Chang, so Zhao Zhen watched in vain as the Mu family declined. As a result, Mu Hai Ran left the capital and came to Guangzhou, where, with his wife's mother's family and a little help from me, he won a battle between his brothers for the family fortune and established himself in Guangzhou."

"Before Mu Hai Ran left, he angrily questioned Chang Rui if she was involved in the destruction of the Mu family, Chang Rui did not respond, but instead angered Zhao Zhen, and the two brothers have not been seeing each other since."

Zhang Quanzhen raised his cup of tea again, his hands were trembling a bit, and kept shaking as he put it to his mouth, unable to drink, and simply put the cup down.

It seemed that he still held a grudge after so many years had passed.

Qin Ming asked: "Teacher, you said this old Chang, what is the full name of ah? Is it the same surname as Chang Rui? Is there a blood relation?"

Zhang Quanzhen nodded, "Chang Dekai, Chang Rui, same surname and same family, but the blood relationship goes beyond four generations."

Qin Ming dawned on him and thought of something in his mind, but he couldn't quite decide, so he asked again, "Then, teacher, how did Zhao Zhen finally get his hands on a beautiful woman?"

Zhang Quanzhen sighed and said, "This begins with the Chang and Bai families, who were driven to destruction by Zhao Zhen."

Chapter 535

Inside the tea house, Zhang Quanzhen shook his head and sighed as he recalled the past: "The five of us, who studied with teacher Zhao Demin when we were teenagers, ate together and lived together for ten years, carried guns together and went to prostitutes together, never thought we would end up in a feud."

"I must ask Chang Rui for the rest of my life, ask her why she broke up the five of us brothers back then."

It dawned on Qin Ming that this knot in his heart was probably something that Zhang Quanzhen would never be able to get over in his life, and he would not be able to rest in peace until it was untied.

He asked again, "Teacher, how did Zhao Zhen get his beauty in the end?"

Zhang Quanzhen sighed and said, "This begins with the Chang and Bai families, who were driven to ruin by Zhao Zhen."

"Chang Dekai had been having an affair with Chang Rui, who told Zhao Zhen that it was Chang Dekai who was pestering her. And Old Bai was also passionately pursuing Chang Rui, the relationship here could be said to be very complicated, at the time it was not at all clear who exactly Chang Rui liked?"

"She attended an event with Zhao Zhen one day, then went abroad with Chang Dekai to run a factory and do business the next day, and came back to participate in Lao Bai's hotel opening ceremony."

"She's like the most dazzling socialite in the capital, she enjoys being surrounded and courted by everyone, she wants to be the brightest star in the night sky."

Zhang Quanzhen clenched his fist, and after a moment of silence, he added, "Then, something happened to the Bai family too."

"Old Bai's father died suddenly, and the Bai family became embroiled in a long-running dispute between brothers over the family fortune. In those days, there weren't many domestic ones, naturally, but there were especially many foreign ones. But it couldn't be brought to the fore, so Old Bai hasn't been in the country much since then."

"The Chang family was even worse, almost one or two people from the Chang family died a year, all inexplicably, and even the murderer could not be found, and finally only Chang Dekai was left."

"Old Chang was forced by his mother's last words before she died to hastily marry and have a son, then hide abroad to escape the storm."

"Rumour had it that it was all Zhao Zhen's doing, and the destruction of the Chang family had brought Zhao Zhen's reputation down. I had questioned him if he did it, but he didn't give me any answer."

Qin Ming narrowed his eyes, Chang Dekai, still associated with the Zhao family? Could this be the internal struggle of the Huan Yu Century Group?

Qin Ming asked curiously, "Teacher, then does your brother Chang Dekai have a son called Chang Hongxi?"

Zhang Quanzhen looked up in dismay and said, "Yes, do you know him? I had heard of him earlier, he seems to have done a big business abroad and is doing well. It's a pity I've never met him."

Qin Ming's heart dawned on him, it was really his righteous father, so wasn't this an internal struggle within the group?

The Chang family and the Zhao family were both member families of the highest board of directors of the Group which had existed in China for a relatively long time.

And Chang Hongxi had also mentioned that it was his Chang family that was killed and injured by the Group's internal struggle, leaving Chang Hongxi alone, and that was what stirred Chang Hongxi's determination to carry out a revolution against the Group.

But back then, Chang Hongxi was incapable of finding the murderer behind the scene.

Then, Chang Hongxi was set upon by the Zhao family again, and he was forced to marry Zhao Turnip reluctantly, with the result that his three sons and two daughters were not his own, and he stayed with a cuckold on his head for decades.

When Qin Ming thought about it, this Zhao family, it seemed a little scary.

If Chang Hongxi did not notice that he was cuckolded in the end, then the efforts of two generations of father and son, Chang Dekai and Chang Hongxi, would logically be inherited by Zhao Turnip and his three unrelated sons, and eventually, most likely, all of them would fall into the Zhao family.

This was truly a centuries-old poisonous scheme.

Qin Ming shuddered as the top board of directors of the Oneworld Century Group, which had previously been in control of the global business beast that was the Oneworld Century Group. But the people on the top board were the most hypocritical group of people, superficially earning money together, secretly eliminating other members by any means necessary, absolutely self-interested, and growing stronger by annexing the wealth of other members.

Qin Ming rubbed his hands together, it seemed that what Zhang Quanzhen wanted to do overlapped in some places with what he and Chang Hongxi wanted to do.

If Qin Ming was to take over Chang Hongxi's burden and take sole control of the Huan Yu Century Group, then all the members of the top board and the powerful families had to be eradicated.

Qin Ming took a sip of tea, calmed down and asked, "Teacher, who do you want to see then?"

Zhang Quanzhen said, "I want to see Zhao Zhen, and Chang Rui. Zhao Zhen has refused to meet with me time and time again over the years, and no matter what methods I use, he won't meet with me. I, Zhang Quanzhen, an ordinary Taoist priest, can't help a man in power of a powerful family like him."

"After Chang Rui married Zhao Zhen, she gave birth to his children and also lived in deep seclusion, it has been a long time since I have heard from her, she must know something about the Mu, Bai and Chang families' mystery case back then."

"I want to find her, meet her, and ask her what is in my heart."

Qin Ming heard this wish from Zhang Qunzhen, which was simply too humble, but it also reflected sideways that the Zhao family was wary and strong towards Zhang Quanzhen.

Zhang Quanzhen patted Qin Ming and said, "Ah Xiao Qin, from the first time I saw you, I recognised that you looked like Zhao Zhengyan. This may be a destiny of fate, so I had a plan to have you replace Zhao Zhengyan, and then through you, let me reach a call with Zhao Zhen and Chang Rui."

Qin Ming asked incomprehensibly, "Teacher, you are not qualified to meet that Zhao Zhen even though you have a great reputation among the gentry and have an iron mouth and a divine mind?"

Zhang Quanzhen shook his head helplessly and waved his hand, saying, "Zhao Zhen believes in Buddhism and doesn't eat this from me."

Qin Ming had heard a lot about the Zhao family's power from Chang Hongxi, and no one in China could shake it.

The Zhao family had also been subjected to unknown enemy assassinations, poisoning, creating accidents, creating unrest, planting evidence, etc. As part of the Huan Yu Century Group, the Zhao family was used to these tactics and also had its own set of protection and response mechanisms.

Chang Hongxi once said that the Zhao family was an old and powerful family, and that his ancestor was a minister of the Ministry of Rites and an imperial teacher. Even now, someone from the Zhao family has served as a ministerial-level official of the State of China, and even as a commander of a military region.

Since its rise in the middle of the Ming Dynasty, the Zhao family has never fallen from grace and has always been the mainstay of the highest board of directors of the Huan Yu Century Group.

It is not easy for Qin Ming to clean up the Zhao family, but becoming a part of the Zhao family's descendants first now is a shortcut to the end of the road, to see more of what is normally invisible.

Qin Ming said worriedly again, "Teacher, if I fail, won't it be a waste of your hard work? Besides, I might have to be targeted."

Zhang Quanzhen said, "If you fail, then you have failed. I only seek to meet the couple and question them about what happened back then, it's not like I want to do anything illegal to them. The identity change was also proposed to you by Zhao Zhengyan on his own initiative, so when the time comes, you can just deny it and pretend to have amnesia, and when you are found out, you can just say, you have lost your memory. There won't be much of a problem."

Qin Ming narrowed his eyes, Zhang Quanzhen was really worthy of being an old godly man, beating around the bush one way or another, the back road was all laid out for him.

Zhang Quanzhen's purpose was relatively simple, but Qin Ming's purpose was more complicated.

Qin Ming thought for a moment and said, "Teacher, I need to think about it."

Zhang Quanzhen nodded and said, "When will you reply to me?"

Qin Ming thought for a moment, clenched his fist and said, "In less than a month, after my brother gets married."

Chapter 536

Qin Ming was walking along the university campus road, holding a picture of Zhao Zhengyan in his hand.

This man looked like him, about the same age, but myopic and with a very different temperament. As a descendant of the Zhao family, his father, Zhao Songli, was born to a mistress, and even Zhao Zhengyan, his grandchild, was not very well received by the Zhao family.

Qin Ming recalled that Ao Mei had previously collected information on the Zhao family and had left this Zhao Zhengyan behind.

However, his mother was the thousand-year-old Miss Qin Mo of the old Qin family in Hai City.

Unlike his father, Zhao Songli, who was not treated well by the Zhao family, his mother, Qin Mo, was very popular and favoured by the old Qin family in Hai City, thus giving Zhao Songli and Zhao Zhengyan a slight status as father and son.

It must be said that Zhao Songli had a good eye and an ability to marry a good wife, and Qin Mo was also a good-looking woman with a lot of charm and skills, and a wise wife.

But somehow he gave birth to a not-so-brilliant son, Zhao Zhengyan.

Qin Ming suddenly tapped his head and said, "I do remember! That time, at the ? The ancient castle of the country, when I went to save Nie Haitang, that Qin Zhongbai of the old Qin family in Hai City, yes, it seems to be called this. That guy called me cousin, and said I had a fiancée, and that he would recognize me even if I turned into dust. Dare I say that at that time, he took me for this Zhao Zhengyan, huh? No wonder, no wonder."

Now Qin Ming finally figured out that there was such a coincidence under the sky, and he had run into it.

Qin Ming shredded the photo in his hand and said to himself, "What's wrong with this rich young man, he doesn't want to be a rich young man. How dare you want to live a different life? Do you think it's easy to suffer? Why on earth would he want to escape from his original circle? I really don't understand."

Qin Ming threw away the photo and took out his mobile phone to call his elder brother: "Hey, brother, how are the wedding preparations going? Oh, next week? I'm not going to Suzhou. I'm not going to Suzhou, I'm going back home to make arrangements for you, hahaha, mum and dad are very happy this time, brother you have to work harder, let the two old people hold their grandchildren soon .....

you can leave the company side of things, my classmates are very capable, okay, okay, okay, in a couple of days I will also go back home."

The company's main business is to provide a wide range of products and services to the public.

Li Meng looked at Qin Ming's back and quickly ran to the rubbish bin she had just seen, where she had retrieved the photo Qin Ming had thrown away.

Li Meng muttered, "This Qin Ming, after becoming rich, is away from school all day, it's hard to show him that I'm already different even if I want to. Huh? Who the hell is the person in this photo? Take it back and stick it for good measure."

At this moment, the Mu family compound.

Zhang Quanzhen and Mu Hai Ran were looking at each other in the study.

Zhang Quanzhen said, "After all these years, the time is ripe and a storm has brewed. What happened back then, I must get justice for the dead Old Bai and Old Chang."

Mu Hai Ran was silent for a moment and said, "Over the years, I haven't stopped moving around and have been looking for the person behind the murder of my grandfather and my father back then, but every time the Zhao and Chang families were involved, they broke off. My Mu family used to be in the capital city, although it was not a prestigious family ranked in the top, but in terms of influence, back then I was young and vigorous, but I ended up being driven out of the capital city, clinging to the last bit of family business in Guangcheng, I also want to seek justice."

The two men looked at each other and seemed to have reached a common goal.

Zhang Quanzhen said, "Little Qin is such a pleasant surprise, I had thought that when he joined the family, I would immediately arrange for him to change his identity with Zhao Zhengyan so that he could make good use of the Qin family's influence and continue to shine for you, but it turns out that he is capable of doing so himself."

Mu Hai Ran laughed: "Indeed, Little Qin is a surprise. It's comforting that you've taken on such a disciple, isn't it?"

Zhang Quanzhen suddenly stretched out his hand, pinpointed for a moment, shook his head and laughed, "I see that his fortune is really good, one in a million, the face of an emperor. In terms of arithmetic, this kid will definitely rise to the top in the future, but he still has a big hurdle, and with the problems his qi and pattern show, I guess if I help him step over it, he will shed a layer of skin even if he doesn't die."

Zhang Quanzhen added, "It's not a loss for you to have such a granddaughter-in-law. With Qin Ming's skills, he might help you get your ancestral home back and bring your Mu family back to the capital city, no matter what, you were born and raised in the capital city, you've been away from your hometown for so many years, you miss home, right?"

Mu Hai Ran stroked his palm with pride and said, "Indeed, Xiao Qin and Xiao Qiao are a good match. I used to worry about my two granddaughters, they are so elegant and beautiful, what kind of brat would be good enough for them? Thank goodness you sent me Xiao Qin. Unfortunately, the two of them still have occasional conflicts, but they're doing much better now. I just don't know when I'll get a grandson, hehehe."

Zhang Quanzhen said, "Hahahaha, sooner or later."

At this moment, in a certain flat in Beijing, Mu Xiaoqiao, who was rushing to do her publicity copy, suddenly sneezed.

She gently rubbed her nose and muttered, "Why are you sneezing all of a sudden? Who is talking badly about me behind my back? Ah ..... my back is so sore."

Mu Xiaoqiao stretched again, she tiredly lay down on the table, tried to drink water, found that the cup was already out of water, looked back at the flat, there was no one there.

Although she had grown up early and independent, and had long since got used to and enjoyed being alone, every time she saw the wedding photo on the counter, she wanted a man to take care of her, such as the expressionless Qin Ming in the photo.

Mu Xiaoqiao took the photo and muttered, "Qin Ming, did you badmouth me behind my back?"

But there was no response to her muttering to herself.

She sighed sadly, looked at the photo in her hand, and muttered to herself, "Although, when you're done with what you have to do. I'll play fair with Nie Haitang. But it's too much for you not to send me a single message for months."

"Mum, urging me to have a baby soon again. But how am I going to have one, all by myself?"

"A few days ago, I heard from Mom that you've taken Zhang Zhen Zhen as your teacher, and you also told the Cao family's fortune, set up a feng shui formation, scared off that fop young master Qin Shou, and made the whole Cao family grateful to you. You're getting better and better now."

"Nie Haitang must also know know that you're so brilliant, right?"

"She's so good now, she's obviously broke but somehow managed to come up with a hundred million to give to her father and brother to start up again, and she's also taken on her aunt Mu Shuyun as her teacher by the way, and now things are getting better and better."

"You must also know that Nie Haitang is very good, right?"

Mu Xiaoqiao bit her lip, her eyes staring motionlessly at the man in the wedding photo, inwardly resigned and sad.

She recalled Qin Ming's dominance, Qin Ming's gentleness, Qin Ming's reliability, Qin Ming's modesty, her past of kissing Qin Ming, Mu Xiao Qiao felt that she was somewhat obsessed, her mind lingered on this man.

Suddenly, the doorbell rang.

Mu Xiaoqiao walked to the door and saw through the cat's eye that it was the delivery man.

But when she opened the door, she was stunned, wasn't this Nie Haitang? Why is she still delivering? Didn't the Nie family start a new business? Isn't it so hard for them to make a living anymore?

Nie Haitang was also stunned when she saw the person who opened the door, and subconsciously looked around her flat. Having delivered takeaways so many times, it was surprising that they were delivered to Mu Xiaoqiao's bachelor flat.

The two women looked at each other and fell silent, seeming to have a lot to say, but neither could say anything.

Thinking back in Guang City, both of them could be Miss Thousand Gold, the existence of the stars.

Now one was struggling to start a business, and the other was delivering takeaways in yellow robes, and this meeting of circumstances could be really unexpected.

Mu Xiaoqiao took it outside and said, "Aren't you studying with my aunt? I heard that you even got a hundred million, why are you still delivering takeaways?"

Nie Haitang smiled confidently, she could be described as smiling like a flower, she looked at Mu Xiaoqiao and said, "I want to eat the hardships Qin Ming has suffered and experience the hardships he has experienced, I want to make myself better."

When Mu Xiaoqiao heard this, her heart sank, she closed the door unhappily and threw the outside into the bin with a huff.
