

The Best Son in Law Chapter 90 – 92

Chapter 90

Haoden Ye nodded lightly, and Jiao Yuchun immediately had a bitter smile on his face.

He thought that the medicinal herbs needed by a divine doctor like Haoden Ye must be very expensive, and was already prepared to cut his flesh.

He hadn't expected Haoden Ye to want a few herbs that weren't even worth anything!

"Doctor Ye, you're welcome, just say what you need, if you don't have it I can go to another shop and drop a batch over!" Jiao Yuchun thought that Haoden Ye was embarrassed, so he used inferior quality medicinal herbs to concoct medicine.

Haoden Ye quickly shook his head solemnly and said, "I just need these herbs, just prepare these for me!"

Jiao Yuchun was unsure, but obediently prepared the medicinal herbs for Haoden Ye.

When the herbs were handed over to Haoden Ye, Jiao Yuchun couldn't help but wonder in her heart, "What do you need these herbs for?"

"Alchemy!" Haoden Ye didn't intend to conceal Jiao Yuchun.

Jiao Yuchun's face changed when she heard it!

Alchemy in his understanding is alchemy, and alchemy has long eh now medical certification as a pseudo-medicine, Haoden Ye to why alchemy?

"Divine Doctor Ye, did you see the secret recipe for alchemy from inside that ancient book? I'm not going to lie, I used to have research on Chinese medicine alchemy, but only later did I understand that it's all a lie, it's simply using toxic heavy metals to make people hallucinate!" Jiao Yuchun couldn't help but persuade Haoden Ye.

When Haoden Ye saw his worried look, a mysterious smile appeared on his lips and said, "Oh, don't jump to conclusions, wait for my medicine to be refined and bring it to you to try... By the way, do you have a better environment here, I still need some medicine refining instruments!"

Anyway, it was already here, and Jiao Yuchun seemed to have great respect for himself, so Haoden Ye simply asked the rest of the questions together.

"Of course there is, you come with me!" Jiao Yuchun brought Haoden Ye to the Spiritual Medicine Hall after An.

There was a wide courtyard behind the Spiritual Medicine Hall, surrounded by warehouses, and Jiao Yuchun arrived at the place and said to Haoden Ye, "Do you think it's okay here?"

The environment here was quiet, and it was surrounded by medicinal herbs, giving off a strong medicinal smell, which was considered to be a more suitable place to refine medicine.

Haoden Ye nodded lightly and had Jiao Yuchun prepare something and start refining medicine.

The medicine he was going to refine belonged to that kind of ordinary herbs, but even though it was ordinary, it was still a panacea when taken now.

Haoden Ye chose this kind because of its function and his method of refining it.

It worked as an aphrodisiac, and the method of refining it was very simple.

According to the medical techniques he had learned, Haoden Ye followed the steps.

Jiao Yuchun had been standing beside him, watching the signs of the medicinal herbs inside the furnace gradually start to form again, and his eyebrows furrowed again.

According to the herbs that Haoden Ye had chosen, they were all relatively small in heavy metal content, and two such content was completely unable to form the regular shape of the pills.

However, soon, Jiao Yuchun was surprised, because the medicinal herbs inside the little weng gradually began to coalesce after a period of time in a state of chaos, and they quickly condensed into a small translucent ball, about the size of a small thumb.

“Mr. Ye, is this the pill you were talking about?” Jiao Yuchun looked at the herbs and studied them all stared.

The materials were cheap, even in alchemy, there were no good ones, and although this Chinese medicine looked good, Jiao Yuchun didn't think it had too many effects.

“Oh, if you don't believe me, you can eat one and try it!” Haoden Ye was half joking.

He was just joking, not expecting Jiao Yuchun to be obsessed with medicine, eager to prove whether this medicine refining method of Haoden Ye's was useful or not, and directly picked up a drug and swallowed it.

Haoden Ye was stunned and looked at Jiao Yuchun in dismay, “Doctor Jiao, this medicine is an aphrodisiac, you're not afraid of doing something rude later.”

Jiao Yuchun ate the herbal medicine, only to feel his abdomen begin to gradually heat up, then a hot current surged up, flowing vaguely inside his dantian!

“Ah, it feels so...so strange!” Jiao Yuchun only felt as if he was filled with strength all of a sudden, and immediately understood that it was the medicine that was coming.

“Mr. Ye, your medicine is a bit spicy, I'll go out and drink some water!” Jiao Yuchun raced out.

Haoden Ye saw a bitter smile in his heart, according to the medical records, this medicine was not very strong, but it would develop one's potential.

If a person with problems in this area ate it, just one pill would slowly recover, and if a normal person ate it... of course, it would develop his potential to the maximum!

Seeing Jiao Yuchun's reaction, Haoden Ye felt that the medicinal herbs should be useful and refined a second one.

Without waiting for Jiao Yuchun to return, Haoden Ye had to take the medicinal herbs and leave the Spiritual Medicine Hall.

When the car pavilion was in front of Shen's house, Milda Hao just happened to return from outside.

"Haoden Ye! Whose car are you driving!" Milda Hao's entire body was stunned when she saw Haoden Ye coming down from the Maybach!

"Mom, this belongs to a friend of mine, lend it to me for a couple of days!" Haoden Ye quickly explained, not daring to say that it was given to him by someone else.

A ten million plus car, given to himself? My mother-in-law wouldn't believe me if I told her.

"Since it's someone else's car, don't drive recklessly, be careful of scratching it and selling you out won't pay for it!" The worried look on Milda Hao's face said, "Park in my parking space, I'll find another place to park!"

Haoden Ye listened to the car in Milda Hao's parking space and went home with his mother-in-law.

"Haoden Ye, what is that friend of yours doing, introducing me to him?" On the way, Milda Hao was curious about Haoden Ye.

The one who can afford to drive a Maybach must be a very rich person, and Haoden Ye has such a rich friend that Milda Hao felt the need to know more about it.

She was very uneasy about Haoden Ye, afraid that Haoden Ye would regret missing this friend for the rest of his life.

Moreover, it would be nice if this person could help his son-in-law a bit, so that he wouldn't be in such a lair.

"He's abroad these days, I'll bring you to meet him when he comes back in a few days." Haoden Ye casually explained.

“Haoden Ye, I hope you can cherish this friend!” Milda Hao heard that people were abroad, so she had to give up.

The two of them arrived home, Haoden Ye went to cook, and in a short while Maya Shen returned home, surprised as soon as she entered the door, “Mom! We have a Maybach parked in our parking space, is it your friend’s?”

Milda Hao glanced at Haoden Ye inside the kitchen, “It’s not my friend’s, it’s Haoden Ye’s friend’s!”

“Him?” Maya Shen revealed an incredulous look.

How many people in the entire Dan City could afford to drive a luxury car like the Maybach, and Haoden Ye actually knew such a friend?

“Really, even if people are willing to lend it to him, he doesn’t even look at his own identity, and he’s driving this luxury car home!” Maya Shen started to complain.

Of course, angry is angry, but there was more worry in her heart.

Chapter 91

Haoden Ye listened to the heart is not a taste, his own woman actually feel that he is not worthy of driving a luxury car.

I don’t know if the car gave him confidence, Haoden Ye bold also shaped, listened to Maya Shen words to: “People say it doesn’t matter if it’s broken, I just dare to drive!”

As soon as they spoke, Maya Shen and Milda Hao were both stunned.

Haoden Ye actually dared to talk back!

Maya Shen, in particular, was so dumbfounded by Haoden Ye’s one sentence that she forgot to enter the door.

Haoden Ye finished a sentence, the heart also a bit panicked, no longer dare to say more, turned around and went back to the room, leaving the two women staring at each other.

Go back to take a bath to sleep, Haoden Ye lying in the nest has been afraid of it, worried that Maya Shen come to be angry.

Never thought that until bedtime, Maya did not mention this matter.

Maya Shen returned to her room, took a shower and went to bed, but did not sleep immediately, but pushed Haoden Ye with a lot of force.

“Don’t pretend, I know you didn’t fall asleep!” Maya Shen snorted coldly.

Haoden Ye quickly opened his eyes and turned around to look at Maya Shen.

She had just taken a shower, her hair was damp, and her pretty face was a peachy red, beautiful and sexy.

It was a pity that her pretty face was plastered, so Haoden Ye wasn’t in the mood to admire it either.

“What I told you today is indeed a bit too much, I just want to remind you that that car is very expensive, scuffing up a little skin will cost hundreds of thousands, even millions!” Maya Shen frowned and looked worried.

Haoden Ye’s heart was touched, and he even said, “Don’t worry, I’ll be careful when I drive.”

Maya Shen pursed her lips and frowned, “If you can give it back to someone, you’d better give it back to them, if you really want to drive, be careful... Right, who is that friend of yours who can afford to drive such a luxury car, he must be very important in Dan City!”

Haoden Ye quickly nodded, “En! His family is really rich, and he lent me his car for a couple of days after I helped him get well!”

Maya heard the eyebrows furrowed up, Haoden Ye gave people a cure, people want to be grateful to him, he even just needs to borrow people's car to drive.

You don't help people, or nothing matters, let others look at you differently, maybe useful later, or you just need some money, to do some business is also okay.

Haoden Ye even directly borrowed someone's car to drive, and it was such an expensive car.

The favor is used once less, when Haoden Ye uses someone in the future, does he still have the nerve to ask?

The more I thought about Maya Shen, the angrier I got, but then I thought, why would Haoden Ye want to borrow a car?

Thinking about how Haoden Ye behaved today, she immediately understood that Haoden Ye was just trying to punch his face in front of himself and others.

"As much as you can, just drive whatever you want, if you don't have the ability, don't drive, don't you know that this will make me hate you even more?" Sighing in her heart, Maya Shen didn't say anything more, since she had already decided to part, why not give this time a little bit of good memories?

Maya Shen didn't say much, lay down and went straight to sleep, and Haoden Ye stopped worrying and started to continue thinking about how he should open the pharmacy.

The next morning, when Haoden Ye got up, Maya Shen had already gotten up, Haoden Ye got up and looked at the time, it was only six in the morning.

It seemed that Maya Shen was very busy these two days, and came back late yesterday.

Haoden Ye got up to cook, and drove to the shop after eating with his family.

It wasn't until noon that Zyden came to his shop.

Seeing the Maybach parked at the entrance, Zyden was very satisfied and smiled, “Still Old Wu is good at doing things!”

When Haoden Ye saw him coming, he quickly ran out, “Little Ming, you’re here, I have something for you to try!”

Zyden entered the door, swept a glance at the stale two-dollar store, and skimmed, “Brother Ye, you’re still opening a shop here, you’re not turning enough money from this business to pay for the gas for your car, why don’t you shut it down and come with me to America, I have a few businesses to invest in there!”

Haoden Ye quickly shook his head, “My English is still half-assed, let me go I can’t even speak!” At this point, he licked his lips and said, “Last time I told you about opening a pharmacy, let’s talk about it today!”

Zyden’s eyebrows furrowed as he heard, “As I said last time, it’s true that pharmacies aren’t making any money right now, unless you engage in large-scale cultivation, and you have to work with a century-old shop like Spirit Medicine Hall to have a chance to make money, but the profits are also very small!”

Haoden Ye pulled out his own concocted herbal medicine and placed it in front of Zyden and said, “I’m not trying to sell herbs to others, but I concocted my own herbal medicine!”

Zyden was stunned at this, picked up the pill on the table and stared at it, “This is a pill, right, Brother Ye you still know how to make pills? But I’ve heard that the pills are poisonous!” There was a worried look on his face.

Haoden Ye didn’t know how to explain to him, pills were indeed considered poisonous in the history of Huaxia, but his pharmacy was different.

“Don’t worry, my pills are absolutely non-toxic, if you don’t believe me, you can ask someone to do a test, and the efficacy is much better than ordinary Chinese medicine!” Haoden Ye quickly explained.

Zyden revealed a look of surprise upon hearing this and looked closely at the pill for a while, “What effect does this have!”

Haoden Ye's face was slightly red, he was still a bit embarrassed to refine aphrodisiacs for the first time.

But apart from aphrodisiacs, there were only a few pill refining materials that were cheap, while the rest of them were either slow to take effect or treated some very rare diseases.

"This... it's an aphrodisiac!" Haoden Ye whispered.

Zyden's eyes lit up at this and he smiled, "Good, I like this medicine, I'll bring it back and try it, if it works well, it might sell well!"

Haoden Ye sent him away, which was why he returned to the shop.

All morning, Haoden Ye waited for Zyden's news, and waited until the afternoon before Zyden called.

"Brother Ye, this medicine of yours is amazing, it works even better than Western medicine!" Zyden was panting, along with the sound of a girl's rapid breathing, clearly having just gone through a battle.

"Does Holander think this medicine is working?" Haoden Ye also got excited.

"Of course it's effective, it's not just effective, but it's also special, unlike western medicine, where the body feels tired after the effects pass, it's so refreshing!" Zyden laughed on the phone.

Haoden Ye was also happy to hear it, and he thought for a moment, "If it were sold to you, how much do you hope to spend?"

"Ten thousand... no, twenty thousand, and if there are other healing effects, the price will be even more expensive!" Zyden hurriedly said.

Haoden Ye was a little disappointed to hear that, a single medicinal herb selling for 10,000 was too cheap.

But thinking about it, his medicinal materials were simple to refine and the materials were cheap, the cost of a pill was only a few tens of dollars, and he could at least refine a dozen of them a day.

Chapter 92

Haoden Ye was very happy to hear that, and discussed with Zyden about opening a pharmacy, before hanging up the phone.

In the afternoon, Haoden Ye drove home, anxious bar to tell Maya Shen the good news.

When he came home to make dinner, during dinner, Haoden Ye spoke out his idea of opening a pharmacy.

Shen's family was dumbfounded when they heard it.

"Pharmacy? Isn't it a bit impulsive to open a pharmacy when you've only learned a little bit of medicine!" Milda Hao frowned when she heard, "I don't think you're business material, just how complicated is it to open a pharmacy?"

Open a pharmacy is not only to have good purchase channels, but also specialized sales channels, many pharmacies are and hospitals are partnerships, even the usual kind of small pharmacies, most of the target customers are acquaintances.

And pharmacy procedures are very complex, regulatory departments are very many, industrial and commercial taxation have to have a very hard relationship, or just a reason, people put your pharmacy to close.

Always not just to relationship hard, but also and good source of goods, customer relations must also be good.

"What does he know about doing business, he is actually tossing around blindly, it's good to open your binary store in peace!" Robert Shen also frowned upon hearing this, looking very unhappy.

"Yeah, Haoden Ye, don't be too impulsive, I don't think you're fit to do business in herbs!" Maya Shen also looked worried.

Haoden Ye was disappointed to hear that Zyden had confidence in him to open a pharmacy, but his own family kept throwing cold water on him.

“The pharmacy isn’t opened by me alone, there’s also that friend of mine working together, the main thing is still him doing it, I’m just responsible for watching over the shop!” Haoden Ye casually found a reason to stall them.

Only after hearing his words did the three of them put their minds at ease, apparently they felt that the so-called cooperation that Haoden Ye was talking about was just someone’s friend who wanted to open a shop and asked Haoden Ye to go over and help out.

“That friend of yours is good to you, let’s have a meal together some other time!” Maya Shen began to feel that this so-called friend of Haoden Ye’s was really good to Haoden Ye.

Haoden Ye casually responded, which was why he said, “You’ll be able to see him when you open the shop, he’s usually very busy!”

Robert Shen listened to him and left his mouth open, “I’ve been very busy lately, I don’t have time!”

Maya Shen also frowned, obviously she had been very busy lately and didn’t have the time to be there when Haoden Ye’s pharmacy was open.

Haoden Ye’s heart could not help but feel bad, his family could not even be present when his pharmacy opened.

In the end, they just didn’t have confidence in their own pharmacy, or else they felt that Haoden Ye’s pharmacy wasn’t his own at all, it was simply Zyden’s, and Haoden Ye was just going to work.

Haoden Ye didn’t explain too much, all his thoughts were on the pharmacy.

A few days later, Haoden Ye’s pharmacy was opened, Zyden investment of course is not small, he bar Haoden Ye pharmacy on both sides of the two stores are down, and find someone to decorate.

Haoden Ye followed the design of the internal structure, the first is to buy a furnace, copper cast, refining the medicinal materials may be lower grade, but the amount is large, the second is to empty a special put medicinal materials cold storage.

Large freezers are very difficult to install, and the price is also low, the most important thing is to preserve a dry environment, a set of equipment down to even more than four million, if not Zyden Holander, Haoden Ye can not afford to spend so much money.

The rest of the design was the responsibility of a special master, and Haoden Ye was merely involved in helping out.

After decorating the pharmacy, Haoden Ye officially opened the business.

Because of the limited amount of refined medicinal materials, Haoden Ye rejected the idea of Zyden making a big publicity campaign, and only had Zyden reveal his face when he opened, which was considered publicity.

The first thing that the pharmacy opened its doors, Haoden Ye first refined a batch of aphrodisiacs.

Putting the medicine inside, Haoden Ye put all the herbs into the furnace and began to refine the medicine.

Because the amount of refining was more, it took a full day for the herbs to come out of the furnace.

Haoden Ye roughly calculated that this time, twenty pills were refined, and according to this amount, there would be hundreds of thousands of income a day.

Putting the pills inside the custom-made small box, Haoden Ye took them out and slapped them on the container, while he sat at the counter and waited for business.

In one morning, Haoden Ye sold twelve pills, but looking at the appearance of the medicine buyers, it was obvious that they were here for Zyden's relationship.

At noon, Haoden Ye ate his meal and idly slept on the counter, when an old man suddenly remembered laughing at the entrance, "Haha, little friend, this pharmacy business is not very good!"

When Haoden Ye heard the voice familiar, he frowned slightly and raised his head to see a white-clothed old man walk in.

Seeing the old man, Haoden Ye's face changed violently!

The old man officially saved himself that night in white, Haoden Ye quickly stood up and said, "Old man!"

The old man smiled and stepped in, he was followed by a young girl in her early twenties, wearing a plain dress, her appearance was pretty and graceful, the beauty was the many dense freckles on her white face.

"Oh, you don't have to be polite, I heard about the opening of Little Friend's Pharmacy, I wanted to see what you need help with, well!" The old man smiled slightly and walked over to a tea table in the pharmacy and sat down, while the girl had been following behind him, her ears and eyes drooping as if she was a robot.

Haoden Ye was very curious about the old man's identity, and couldn't help but say, "Where does the old man live in Dan City, I've been wanting to find you again, but I don't know where you live... and..." Haoden Ye lifted up Head looked at the girl and lowered his voice, "And that thing!"

The old man turned his head to look at the young girl, his eyes flashed with a teasing meaning, then laughed, "She's my disciple, just feel free to say anything!"

Haoden Ye put his heart at ease and couldn't wait, "Old man, you still haven't told me exactly what that thing is, how should I restore my lifespan?"

The old man smiled faintly at this and waved his hand, "I can't tell you these things, you need to comprehend them on your own, otherwise it may not be good for you, you just need to know to do more good deeds and your life expectancy will naturally recover!"

Haoden Ye was disappointed to see that he was reluctant to speak again, and couldn't help but say, "How did the old man know about this thing!"

The old man's eyes shone and he took a sip of his tea cup, "This, I can tell!"

After saying that, he spat, seemingly tasting the fragrance of the tea.

Haoden Ye waited patiently for the old man to speak, but the old man tasted the fragrance of tea for a while, then said, "But I don't want to tell you for now!"

Haoden Ye almost didn't jump up to curse, mind you don't want to say you don't want to say it, so hang me for what!

He laughed bitterly, "Old man won't say anything, at least tell me what you call me!"
