

The Best Son in Law Chapter 141 – 143

Chapter 141

Master Lin also told Lin cheng very little about the holy relics.

Although Lin Xiang is very close to Master Lin, he doesn't dare to casually tell her about such matters that concern the sky, or else he might harm Lin Xiang.

Lin Xiang only knew that Haoden Ye had a magical treasure that could do what he wanted, and that the treasure would suffer the wrath of God if it was used improperly, and she had heard the old man say that once.

That or when Lin Xiang asked why she didn't buy Haoden Ye's holy relic, the old man told her that this holy relic had already chosen Haoden Ye as its master and couldn't be bought, and that the heavens were unpredictable, so it was impossible to say whether it was a blessing or a curse to have such a magical thing in one's hand.

"In that case, you can simply refuse, you're not a doctor, even though you know how to heal!"Hearing this, Lin Yao couldn't help but frown.

In her eyes, was it still not Haoden Ye's freedom to help or not?

But Haoden Ye shook his head and said, "A doctor is a patient, no matter what their purpose is!"

Lin Xiang's eyes glowed inside, not picking up Haoden Ye's words, and his mouth mumbled.

Without waiting too long, it was less than noon before Dr. Li's call arrived, and Haoden Ye drove his Maybach to the central hospital, where a man was already waiting at the door.

"Dr. Jiao!"

Seeing Jiao Yuchun, who was dressed in a tang suit, standing at the door, Haoden Ye was a little surprised that Dr. Li had invited him here as well.

Jiao Yuchun saw that Haoden Ye also showed a surprised look and rolled her eyes to say to herself, "Dean Li even invited Mr. Ye here, I should have known I wouldn't have come!"

Haoden Ye smiled an embarrassed smile at the words, "Dean Li is a doctor, he should be afraid that I'm not as experienced as you are!"

"Humph!" Jiao Yuchun shrugged his shoulders, "I don't know if he's a doctor or not, but since he invited me and called you here, isn't that embarrassing me, I definitely can't treat someone you can't treat, I can't treat someone you can!"

Haoden Ye revealed a bitter smile, and when the two of them spoke, they were already inside the hospital.

"Two divine doctors coming together to our hospital, our hospital is shining!" When Dean Li saw the two men, he was immediately all smiles.

A doctor, and a dean at that, addressing two young men as divine doctors, how bizarre this scene was, but Dean Li said it very naturally.

"I said Dean Li, you hired Dr. Ye, why did you ask me to come? Are there any patients in this world that Dr. Ye can't treat?" Jiao Yuchun had a reproachful look on his face.

Dean Li smiled apologetically, he actually believed in Haoden Ye's medical skills, but today's situation was urgent and he was not sure if Chinese medicine was useful or not.

The people of the Spiritual Medicine Hall were not only good at Chinese medicine, especially the younger generation who were involved in Western medicine and all kinds of equipment, so Jiao Yuchun's medical skills could be considered a combination of Chinese and Western medicine.

"Both of you are superb healers, group tactics, haha!" Dean Lee made a beat and led the two men inside.

"Oh my God! This is Jiao Yuchun of the Spiritual Medicine Hall! So handsome!"

As soon as the three men entered the hospital lobby, the little nurses' screams rang out.

"Is this Jiao Yuchun? It's the first time I've met a real person, so handsome, I heard that when he first came to Dan City, there were a lot of young ladies wanting to chase him!"

"It's not that exaggerated. You're not so bad looking!"

"Not only is he handsome and highly skilled in medicine, but even the powerful and influential in the capital are sucking up to him!"

Whispering voices continued to ring out, and Jiao Yuchun's face was calm, as if he couldn't hear them.

Compared to the female doctors and nurses, the male doctors were focused on Haoden Ye.

"Isn't that man the one who cured Holander? I heard that Holander gave him a lot of money!"

“That’s too young, is it true that he only took a few minutes to heal someone that Dean Li couldn’t even heal?”

Haoden Ye felt very odd about these whispers, especially the looks of approval and admiration, which gave him a nervous feeling.

Is this what it feels like to be in awe of someone?

“Dr. Lee, you’ve finally come!”The three had just reached the door of a hospital room when a tall figure approached, accompanied by a hard Chinese accent.

Seeing this figure, Haoden Ye couldn’t help but be stunned.

European and American girls are taller and sexier than Chinese girls, and full of a wild and active allure, and this girl is certainly one of the best.

Her face is on the demonic side, with some of the flavor of Scarlett from the Gone with the Wind movies, and her eyes are shrewd and tough.

The girl’s pair of big bright eyes swept over Dean Li, then landed on Haoden Ye and Jiao Yuchun.

“Oh, Ms. Avril, now you have absolutely nothing to worry about, the two healers I was talking about have arrived!”Dean Lee laughed at the girl.

The girl revealed a look of surprise upon hearing this, her gaze swept over Haoden Ye and Jiao Yuchun again, then extended her hand to Jiao Yuchun and said, “This is Mr. Ye, isn’t it, Dean Li has praised your medical skills, and the doctor who studied in our country also mentioned you to me, saying that you have the medical skill to bring the dead back to life!”

With one sentence, Jiao Yuchun and Dean Li froze on the spot, and Haoden Ye looked very embarrassed.

“Er... beautiful lady...” laughed Jiao Yuchun awkwardly, then uttered a string of fluent Italian, “I’m not Haoden Ye, he’s the one who’s!” After saying that, he pointed to Haoden Ye.

Ai Wei Er was dumbfounded by his words, and her beautiful big eyes looked over at Haoden Ye, her eyes filled with confusion.

Obviously, in her opinion, Jiao Yuchun was more like a divine doctor, and as for Haoden Ye... he looked like an ordinary person anyway!

“I’m so sorry, I thought you were a patient!” Ai Wei’er showed an apologetic look, her tone was not as warm and inviting as when she had just spoken to Jiao Yuchun, and it was clear that she was beginning to question Dean Li’s words.

“It doesn’t matter, a lot of people will get the wrong idea!” Haoden Ye replied in an authentic Italian language.

Hearing his words, everyone present turned pale, especially Jiao Yuchun and Dean Li.

Dean Li couldn’t speak Italian at all, while Jiao Yuchun knew a little, but his accent was very stiff, just like a foreigner speaking Chinese.

And Haoden Ye’s spoken Italian was simply perfect, with the kind of French emphasis that had been present in Europe when French was popular in the eighteenth century.

“Oh my God! You speak our country’s language with such a pure accent, and to tell you the truth, there are few people even in Italy nowadays who know this Corsican taste of Italian!” Avril was filled with wonder and surprise.

French became the standard language of Europe during Napoleon's time of criss-crossing, and Napoleon himself, a native of Corsica, spoke with a maritime accent, which the Italians were adept at imitating.

Chapter 142

Haoden Ye smiled modestly and said to Avril, "You're overpraised, let's just go and check on the patient."

Avril nodded quickly and led the three inside.

Jiao Yuchun followed behind Haoden Ye and gently patted Haoden Ye's shoulder, exclaiming, "Brother Ye, you really never stop surprising us!"

"Avril!" The three of them entered the hospital room, and Haoden Ye saw a girl sleeping on the bed, fifteen or sixteen years old, looking somewhat similar to Avril.

"Xavier!" When Avril saw the girl, she quickly walked to the bedside and stroked the girl's forehead with one hand, "That most powerful doctor in Warsaw is here, you'll definitely be fine!"

Avril finished with a guilty glint in her eye.

Haoden Ye had been observing the two girls, he originally thought that the two girls that Long Ao had invited to deal with him must be very scheming, but this half day of observation, Haoden Ye found that neither of them seemed like bad guys.

"Avril...they're the ones who said...you didn't have to do that for me!" Xavier had a sad look on his face, not much of a happy one.

Dean Li and Jiao Yuchun didn't know the purpose of the two men's visit, and certainly didn't know the reason for Xavier's sadness.

Dean Li thought that Xavier was worried that Haoden Ye's medical skills were not good enough, he smiled and said, "The two ladies don't worry, this Mr. Ye has the medical skills to bring the dead back to life... Er, Ms. Avril, you translate for me!"

Avril smiled slightly and said something to Xavier, who nodded gently and thanked Dean Lee, "Good work!" It's in raw Chinese.

"Okay, let's cut the crap and get on with the diagnosis!" Jiao Yuchun observed Xavier for a while, and seemed to see some clues, walking up to Xavier he reached out and pressed his hand on her pulse.

Haoden Ye also began to observe, but unlike Jiao Yuchun who was focused on diagnosing his sister, Haoden Ye was diagnosing his sister.

Just now, Dean Li said on the phone, the two sisters are suffering from the same disease, but the younger sister has an early onset, the disease is more serious than her sister.

While Jiao Yuchun starts with the sister whose illness is more obvious, Haoden Ye diagnoses from the sister whose illness is not obvious, but shows signs of illness.

These two diagnostic methods require a different level of difficulty, after all, the symptoms have already been revealed, the diagnosis is also easy, but ruthlessly prone to complications interference.

This was also the reason why Haoden Ye was reluctant to choose his sister as the subject of diagnosis, and the diagnosis of his sister needed to be very difficult, it was not enough just to have superb medical skills again, one must have keen observation and rich medical knowledge.

"Avril, what are you doing, you actually brought Xavier to Warsaw!" As the two men were diagnosing, several figures burst into the room.

A few people turned their heads to see a tall, handsome man rushing in with a couple of doctors, several of them Italian and looking very close to Avril.

“Mr. Marton, this is a family matter that has nothing to do with you, and I hope you won’t interfere with us!” Avril saw the man and her eyes flashed with fear.

“Of course this concerns me, as an Italian public servant, I cannot watch you endanger Xavier’s personal safety, she is still a minor and apart from her guardian, our state has the right to protect her!” Marton’s face looked stern and took on an aggressive air.

After he said that, he turned his head to President Li, “Are you the person in charge of this hospital? I’ve already contacted the embassy, someone will be here soon to negotiate with you Warsaw, you are violating human rights, I’m going to expose and condemn you to the media!” The tone is very arrogant.

Dean Li’s brow furrowed as he heard this.

The two patients had been referred by a friend of his abroad, and they had been seeking medical treatment all over the world, almost desperate, and would have been ready to give up their lives if that friend hadn’t occasionally run into two of them.

A friend also reminded him that the Italian medical community had treated the two girls’ illness as a classic case, medically declared untreatable, so if they heard that the two girls were coming to Warsaw, they might react.

Dean Li had wanted to refuse, but after hearing about the two girls’ current misery and despair, he softened.

“This gentleman, we are a regular hospital and our medical methods are all internationally standardized, we would never do anything that would endanger the two ladies!” Dean Lee didn’t want to make a scene with Marton and spoke politely.

“Huh?Wachovia Hospital?Didn’t we teach you medicine in Warsaw?How can there be even better medical skills than ours when Huaxia has been behind us for hundreds of years?”

With a look of disdain, Marton whirled around to Avril, “Now please have them stop the diagnosis immediately or I will petition our state to remove your custody of your sister!”

Avril’s pretty face fell apart at his words.

When Haoden Ye saw Marton’s arrogant appearance, he couldn’t help but feel angry.

This man is trying to protect the reputation of his country’s medicine, but he doesn’t even care about other people’s lives, so that’s not enough, he also insults Chinese medicine.

But he didn’t want to exacerbate the conflict, so he held back from opening his mouth, while Jiao Yuchun had already been unable to hold back.

“Did we learn to pinch people in medicine in Warsaw?It’s ridiculous. Which of the four Chinese inventions has no inspirational effect on you Westerners?Without Warsaw’s inventions, you Westerners would still be eating blood!We did learn some science from you in modern times, but it doesn’t mean you surpassed us, at least in terms of medicine, the Chinese medicine that has been passed down for thousands of years in Huaxia is better than yours!”He spoke in Italian, very slowly.

Marton and a few of the doctors he brought with him heard Jiao Yuchun’s words, and they all burst out laughing, their eyes filled with contempt.

“Do you mean TCM?This is ridiculous!We have used many high-tech methods to study TCM, but there is no scientific principle at all, it’s all a fabrication.You Huaxia people rely on this kind of medicine to treat your own people, which in itself is disrespecting life, and you still have the nerve to say it!”Marton scowled.

“You!” Jiao Yuchun turned red with anger and clenched his fists.

Dean Li was also furious, this group of foreigners, on Warsaw’s own soil, were so insulting to the Chinese medical art.

Haoden Ye had been watching indifferently, and although he was also very angry, he kept a very calm mind.

“This Mr. Arden, I won’t immediately contradict you when you say that our herbalists are useless, but may I ask what the diagnosis of several of your doctors is?” Haoden Ye walked out of the crowd and looked calm to Marton.

Chapter 143

Marton looked at him in his ordinary clothes and thought he was just Jiao Yuchun’s chauffeur kind of guy, he didn’t care about him at all and snorted, “Our diagnosis is written in the case, you Chinese doctors can’t even understand this, can you!”

Several other doctors nodded as well, and someone said disdainfully, “Are you Chinese doctors so irresponsible? Don’t even look at the case!”

“What kind of responsibility do Chinese doctors have, they treat people and often prescribe the most expensive drugs, not to cure them, just to make money!” Marton smirked, his eyes full of contempt, “You Dr. Warsaw are trading Ms. Thirlwell’s life for your reputation for low moral character!”

These phenomena that he was talking about, Haoden Ye naturally knew about the chaos in Huaxia’s current pharmaceutical industry, and he was very clear about it.

Instead of immediately retorting, he said to a couple of foreign doctors, “I’m not talking about the lady in the bed, but about this Mr. Marton’s diagnosis!”

Everyone couldn't help but reveal surprise when they heard Haoden Ye's words.

Marton looked very unhappy, "What do you mean? Are you saying I'm sick?"

Haoden Ye nodded gently, "Yes, you have a disorder of the three jiao, water and soil, you should have anorexia in the past two days, and after a while, you will vomit and have diarrhea, meanwhile the air in Dan City is dry and you will have problems with your trachea!"

Land and water is not a serious condition, but it can afflict a person very badly.

Several Western doctors immediately revealed ridiculous looks when they heard Haoden Ye's words, and Marton couldn't help but laugh, his eyes despising Haoden Ye, "Ridiculous, it's really ridiculous, this is the alarmist talk from you Chinese, I won't fall for it!"

Marton sneered and glared at President Lee, "When did your hospital let people like this in, even if we're going to cheat there, we have to pretend to listen to my heartbeat first, and you just look at me for a few seconds and say I'm out of water!"

Dean Lee's brow furrowed, not everyone had a watery disorder, and while it was possible for Marton to have this disorder, look at him now, where is the sign of a watery disorder.

If Haoden Ye was wrong, Madden definitely wouldn't let them treat the Avril sisters.

And the hospital would be ridiculed by the Italian medical community even in Warsaw.

Thinking of this, Dean Li turned his attention to Jiao Yuchun.

When Jiao Yuchun heard Haoden Ye's diagnosis, he also surrendered his gaze to Marton and observed carefully.

Sensing Dean Li's gaze, Jiao Yuchun turned her head, her face admiring to Haoden Ye, "I've been concentrating on observing Xavier just now, but I didn't even pay the slightest attention to this person's condition, and I never thought you'd be tender enough to notice his illness at such a time."

Haoden Ye smiled modestly, while Dean Li immediately had some confidence when he heard Jiao Yuchun's words.

"Mr. Marton, is our doctor lying, you'd better get checked out first, I understand that the acid secretion of the stomach can be abnormal in people who are not well hydrated, and if you don't get checked out now, you might be very uncomfortable for the next few days!" Dean Lee looked good-natured to Marton.

"You Chinese doctors are ridiculous!" Marton looked disdainful, thinking that Dean Li was lying to himself along with Haoden Ye and the others.

But the few Italian doctors he had brought with him had also smirked, just a few glances could determine a person's illness, this kind of medical means they didn't say they had never seen anyone perform it, even if someone did perform it, they still felt it was a fraud.

"It's just a checkup, it doesn't take much time, and if you don't have any symptoms of hydration, I can promise you that I won't treat the two ladies!" Dean Lee smiled slightly.

When he heard Dean Lee's phone call, Marton's brow furrowed and he thought for a moment before he looked suspicious, "You keep your word?"

Dean Lee nodded with great certainty, and Marton immediately had a smirk on his face.

Just a couple of glances and you can tell it's just water and soil? It was simply a joke, he didn't feel anything unusual himself, how did Haoden Ye see that?

“Remember what you said, Dr. Warsaw, I’m going to do the checkup!” Marton said and turned around.

Five minutes later, Dean Li couldn’t wait any longer and asked Haoden Ye, “Mr. Ye, what’s your diagnosis?”

Jiao Yuchun had already finished her diagnosis, and smiled an amused look as she said, “It seems that Mr. Ye is more serious today, starting with Ms. Avril, he should have just finished diagnosing Ms. Avril, and only started diagnosing Ms. Xavier next!”

Hearing his words, Avril frowned, a worried look on her face as she said, “Has Mr. Ye just been diagnosing me?” Her tone became unhappy, “It is my sister who is sick and everyone knows that in this case you should see my sister first, what are you diagnosing me for?”

Haoden Ye smiled slightly and said nonchalantly, “Don’t worry Miss Avril, I’ve already finished diagnosing her!”

“What!” Several people were stunned at the news, and Avril glared, “Are you making a diagnosis on me? Not my sister’s more pronounced ailment?”

Jiao Yuchun was also very surprised to hear this, but she quickly thought of the reason and frowned, “Diagnosing for Miss Avril is indeed more accurate than diagnosing for Miss Xavier, because Miss Xavier has been ill for too long, and many complications will interfere with the judgment, but....” At this point, he looked worried, “Diagnosing Miss Avril is extremely difficult, are you sure about this?”

Dean Li didn’t understand the reason for Haoden Ye’s diagnosis for Avril at all, and only after hearing his explanation did this make sense, and a worried look appeared on his face.

Haoden Ye smiled faintly and said to Jiao Yuchun, "Tell me about your diagnosis!"

Jiao Yuchun was still worried in her heart, but honestly said: "This lady should have a genetic neurological weakness, and is very sensitive to narcotic substances, the cause of the disease is excessive drinking, stimulating the body organs, many organs stopped working in a short period of time, although a short period of time after dialysis to filter out the alcohol, but the nervous system has begun to slowly weaken."

At this point, he looked at Avril and said, "In Chinese medicine, this is called innate divine decay that leads to internal organ weakness, and the weakness of the five organs in turn continues to make the divine decay worse."

The human body is made up of three components: the essence which governs the blood, the qi which governs the veins, and the spirit which governs the nervous system.

The Avril sisters were both born with neurodevelopmental defects and could not be attached to any substance of the narcotic class, otherwise their body muscles would be incapacitated and their brains would be paralyzed.

Hearing Jiao Yuchun's diagnosis, Avril even nodded her head, "Yes our country's doctors also have this diagnosis, do you have a treatment?"

Jiao Yuchun smiled slightly and nodded, "There is, but it's very dangerous, using Chinese acupuncture to stimulate the nervous system and keep the nerves active for a long time, just like the human muscles, the nervous system will slowly strengthen when it is gently exercised for a long time."
