

Nothing to Give but My Heart Chapter 313-318

Chapter 313

Ana directly reached out and took it, Phillip was not willing to give it to her at first.

But seeing the calm expression on Ana's face, he actually gave the information to her.

"Young grandma, Mr. Walter... is really very angry."

Ana took the document and opened it silently.

She had some guesses in her heart, but she was still not sure, she didn't know... whether Walter really didn't want her.

After opening the bag, Ana pulled out the information inside. After seeing that the information inside was the one she had thought in her heart, her lips completely lost their color.

The pupils were enlarged countless times at that moment.

Ana's pale lips trembled lightly, and the data slipped weakly from her hand, and fell to the ground with a click.

Phillip was shocked, "Young grandma..."

"Does he really want to do things so absolutely? Just because...because I didn't show up at the banquet...will he give me this divorce agreement?"

Tears slid down the corners of the eyes one by one, and fell on the paper, quickly dampening the surface of the paper.

She knelt down and picked up the information again.

“Well, even if he wants to do it so absolutely, let me see him one last time, right?”

“Young grandma, listen to Phillip’s advice. Go back today. After two days, Mr. Walter will get rid of his anger and come back to her. Maybe Mr. Walter will change his mind when that time comes. You believe me, Mr. Walter really treats you. He is deeply affectionate, and he must be sad to make such a decision.”

Ana didn’t know whether Walter was upset, she only knew that she was upset. He actually took out the divorce agreement so easily. The agreement was like a sharp blade in front of her. Inserted into her chest.

“I don’t want to go back.” Ana stretched out her hand and wiped the tears from the corners of her eyes again. She gritted her teeth and stood up with the information: “I have to see him today. He won’t come out. I will wait here until he comes out.”

Phillip: “...but Mr. Walter has already issued a death order, we can’t go in and disturb him anymore, grandma, you...”

“He has his death order, and I also have my stubbornness. He doesn’t want to see me, but I just want to see him. Unless, I fall here, otherwise...I won’t go.”

Phillip: “Young lady, why are you so stubborn? Many times you can’t ask for good fruit. You go back first. Will you come back in a few days?”

Ana didn’t answer his words again, but stood there expressionlessly, motionless, like a sculpture.

Phillip stared at her for a long time, only to see firmness in her eyes, he also instantly understood that it seemed that Ana would not leave without seeing Mr. Walter tonight.

What to do then? If she is dressed like this, if she really stands in the cold wind all night, she will get sick, and there are still wounds on her body that have not been healed!

“My grandmother, or... I'll find a doctor for you to see your wounds, and deal with them first?”

“No need.” Ana directly rejected his kindness. Phillip's expression changed. It seemed that Mr. Walter could not be seen. Did she not even look at the injuries on her body?

This is not good.

Phillip had a foreboding that the outcome of this incident was very bad. If Ana insisted on standing here stubbornly and refused to heal her injuries, for her, she would surely fall down if she could not support half of it.

By the time...

Thinking of this, Phillip was so angry that he turned his head and went into the gate again. In any case, he had to find Walter and let Walter give Ana a chance, at least let her come in.

When Phillip wanted to find Walter, he saw Zhu Yun standing by the door.

“Where is Mr. Walter?”

“Assistant Xiao, Mr. Walter said...No one can go in and quarrel him.”

Phillip's face was ugly and said: "Zhu Yun, the young lady is still waiting outside. If Mr. Walter doesn't go out to see her, she will probably wait outside for one night. Didn't you do well with her before, don't you feel sorry for her at all???"

Zhu Yun bit his lip and hesitated: "I, I don't want to save Grandma, but you have heard Mr. Walter's order. He just doesn't allow anyone to enter and disturb, otherwise...we will all be fired. !"

"So? Because of fear of being fired, where do you put your young grandma?"

A trace of guilt flashed in Zhu Yun's eyes, and he explained, "Phillip, it's not that I am selfish. You know Mr. Walter's temper the best, can you get good results if you go in now? Even if you persuade Mr. Walter, let The young grandma came in, but do you think they are suitable to meet tonight? In this kind of irrational time, once the two of them meet successfully, things will be even more uncontrollable, and emotions sometimes simply cannot control you. Do you understand?"

Phillip was taken aback.

"If it wasn't for you to go in and talk to Mr. Walter so much, Mr. Walter wouldn't give you the information!"

Hearing, Phillip was annoyed for a moment,

Yes, Mr. Walter was only angry when he left. If it weren't for him to go in and brush his face in front of Walter, Walter would not throw out the information.

"So to speak, blame me for this matter?"

"Don't blame you who blamed it? If you have a conscience, you can persuade the young lady to go back now, or take the young lady to another place to settle down, and arrange for the two of them to meet after Mr. Walter's anger subsides."

After thinking about it, Phillip also felt that what Zhu Yun said was reasonable.

He nodded, "Okay! Then I'll go to the young lady, thank you for today, I just... I'm sorry to say those things about you."

"I'm so sorry, do you think I don't like the young grandma? She is so kind, so generous, and very good to us. We all hope that she can be our young grandmother forever. Okay, no having said that, go and settle the young grandma. It has been so long since autumn, and the wind is so strong at night, the young grandmother..."

"I'm leaving." After Phillip saw the situation clearly, he didn't dare to delay time on the spot anymore, and quickly turned and left.

After he left, Zhu Yun couldn't help but sighed.

This time, Mr. Walter was really angry, and he didn't know... whether he could get through this difficulty.

Phillip went and returned, and returned to Ana's front.

"Young grandma."

Ana glanced at him and saw that there was still no joy on his face. She probably guessed that he hadn't brought any good news to him, so she simply stopped talking and remained standing there.

"I know what you are going to say, you don't need to say, I won't go,"

Phillip looked helpless: “My grandmother, it’s not that I want to persuade you to go. It’s because today’s situation is very special. You can listen to my advice. Today I will take you to another place for resettlement. After two days, I will lose my breath. How about coming to see him again? I promise then that you will be as good as ever.”

“No!” Ana insisted on standing still.

“You are too naive to think.”

Walter is not that kind of person.

Chapter 314

Normally, he did not take out the divorce agreement. At this point where he took out the agreement today, it means that he has already made his own statement on this matter, and it shouldn’t change anymore!

But Ana couldn’t figure it out!

It was just a banquet. Why did he care about this? Even if the banquet was really important, even if she didn’t go, he should be angry.

But why did you care about it like this? Even the divorce agreement was taken out.

Among them, what are the twists and turns that she doesn’t know?

But the more so, she must have to ask Walter more clearly!

“Miss grandma, just listen to my advice and treat it as Phillip begging you. I and everyone don’t want to see you fall apart like this!”

Ana did not speak, nor did he talk to Phillip any more.

She didn't believe that the anger would disappear after a few days. The matter was originally to be dealt with on the spot. People like her and Walter would only freeze both of them if the cold war continued.

But if it is one day, two days, or even a week, Walter's anger may not disappear.

Moreover, his anger will only become more and angrier as time increases.

"Young grandma..." Several guards nearby also ran to persuade her.

Ana said helplessly: "Don't talk about it, I have my own plans."

She was really stubborn. She couldn't stand her body, but she persisted. Phillip persuaded her for a long time, but still did not persuade Ana, and finally had to give up and go to Zhu Yun.

After Zhu Yun arrived, she could see Ana Shen standing there from a distance, her thin body becoming more slender under the light of the street lamp. He was so distressed that he stepped forward and called out: "Young grandma."

"Zhu Yun..." Ana glanced at him when she saw him.

"I have the same thoughts as Phillip. Mr. Walter is now in anger. Even if the young grandma really stands here for a night, it really won't help. Does the young grandma really not consider going back to rest? Anyway, it's the same if you don't stand. Just choose another one."

Ana looked at her: "Even you came to persuade me?"

“Zhu Yun didn’t want to persuade the young lady, but this is the situation right now. I heard Phillip say that the young lady is going to wait here for one night. If something really happens, isn’t the young lady going to suffer? But she doesn’t know. , Even if the young lady suffers, Mr. Walter can’t feel sorry for you.”

Ana didn’t speak, but just looked ahead in silence, and said after a moment: “I want to wait here. It doesn’t matter if he wants to come out to see me or not, it doesn’t matter if he feel sorry for me. This is just my personal thought. I broke my promise, even if I waited here for one night and waited until I couldn’t make it, that’s what I should bear. Because, indeed, I broke my promise.”

Having said this, she lowered her eyes.

“So, I am not only waiting for him, but also punishing myself for my mistake today, can you understand?”

Zhu Yun had a meal and couldn’t say a word when she looked at her.

If Ana really thinks like this, then she... if she says anything else, she is really nosy.

Thinking of this, Zhu Yun glanced at her deeply: “Does the young lady have to do this? Don’t you regret it?”

“No regrets.”

“Okay!” Zhu Yun nodded: “I know, then I won’t persuade the young lady, I will tell Phillip, let him stop persuading you, young lady don’t worry.”

Hearing that, Ana glanced at her gratefully: “Thank you.”

Zhu Yun turned around and left, but Phillip anxiously chased after him:
“What’s the matter with you? I asked you to persuade her to leave, not for you...”

“You’ve heard it all. My advice doesn’t work at all. Moreover, he has made up his mind. It will be useless for others to say anything. The young lady won’t work, and there is nothing we can think of for Mr. Walter. It’s up to you to look at your young grandma outside, but if there is anything uncomfortable about her, take care of her.”

“I...”

Zhu Yun left directly, leaving Phillip alone in place. He turned his head helplessly and glanced at Ana under the street lamp.

Forget it, I can’t say anything anyway, just let them go.

As Zhu Yun said, as soon as something happens, it’s fine to act immediately.

As time passed by, Ana kept standing, Phillip and the others nearby were all staring.

Ana didn’t know how long she had been standing until midnight, the temperature in the air was lower than before. Even a few big men in coats felt that the surroundings were chilly and unconsciously reached out and hugged them. Own arm.

And look at Ana standing there again. She is wearing a sleeveless dress, standing at the gate that is not blocked at all, waves of sea breeze pour into her dress and search her skin. Know how she has to be cold.

Phillip thought for a while, turned around and poured a bottle of hot water in the room, then walked to Ana Shen.

“Young lady, take a sip of hot water.”

Ana glanced at him, and the pink lips moved.

“I know that the young lady is confessing her mistake, but if you fall down, you really can’t wait for Mr. Walter... for your own body, young lady must drink.”

What he said also made sense, Ana smiled at him, and reached out to take the kettle: “Thank you.”

When she reached for the hot water, Ana’s body swayed for a while and she almost fell.

Fortunately, Phillip quickly helped her with his eyes and hands: “Young lady, are you okay?”

Ana stood up again and shook her head: “I’m fine.”

After seeing her standing firmly, Phillip let her go. Ana Shen took a few sips from the hot water bottle, and the warmth instantly covered her whole body, not as hungry and cold as before.

“I’m much better, thank you,” Ana smiled at Phillip, and then returned the cup to him.

In fact, most of her body is numb. She underestimated the coldness of the night. Although it hasn’t arrived in winter, she is really cold now. Not only the body, but also the heart is cold.

So cold, so cold.

Walter...

She has been standing for so long, is he still reluctant to see her?

Or maybe he didn't even know she was waiting for him here? Or would he not come out to see her even if he knew?

Because he had asked her to wait for her all night tonight, but she didn't show up at all, so... he is retaliating against her now.

Rumbling...

There was a sudden thunder in the sky, and the lightning pierced half of the sky, shocking everyone.

Phillip raised his head: "No, it may be raining, so let's go to the door with the young grandma to avoid her."

Shelter from the rain?

Ana blinked and raised her head to look at the lightning sky.

There is no star, just like her heart at the moment, it is also a darkness.

"Is it going to rain?"

Phillip looked at her for a while, feeling that he could not persuade her, suddenly turned and ran inside.

He walked so fast that Ana didn't have time to stop him, and soon after he ran out, the rain suddenly fell.

"Young grandma, come here to avoid the rain."

Chapter 315

Ana nodded. She didn't want to fall down at this time, otherwise everything she had done before would be wasted.

So she took a step towards them, who knew that after just two steps, she fell forward uncontrollably.

With a plop, Ana fell directly onto the cold ground.

Dou Da's rain fell on her face, and her body quickly wetted her dress, and her hair was stuck together. It hurts...

But she still had to get up, she was going to take shelter from the rain and waiting for Walter to come out to see her.

She has so many things to tell Walter, she wants to believe him, she wants to love him without hesitation.

But why didn't he come out?

For a while, Ana felt that some warm liquid came out of her eyes, but it was quickly mixed up by the cold rain, so she couldn't tell whether her face was rain or tears.

"Young grandma!"

When those people saw her fall, they all exclaimed.

But before Phillip came back, Ana blinked, and just about to get up from the ground, a gentle and angry voice suddenly sounded above her head.

"Don't go, it's unnecessary."

“Uh...” The voice sounded familiar. Ana just wanted to see who it was, but before she could move, her body was lifted up, and a pair of warm hands strongly supported her shoulders.

Ana reached a warm embrace.

“... Everything you have done is enough.”

A gentle voice rang above her head, and her body was surrounded by warm arms, and Ana smelled a breath that was not unfamiliar, with a touch of blood.

“Come with me, you don’t need to stay here anymore. If he doesn’t see you, you can keep your self-esteem.”

In the next second, Ana was hugged directly by the beating, her hands moved towards the person’s neck subconsciously, and when she raised her head, she met Curtis Ye’s distressed gaze.

“Curtis Ye?” Ana was stunned when she saw him. How could he be here? Shouldn’t he go back to the hospital? It’s already midnight, but he is still here, and what he said to her!

Does this mean...

In an instant, tears filled Ana’s entire eye sockets, and she stared at him blankly: “You, why are you here?”

“Fool.” Curtis smiled faintly: “Didn’t I say that I want to bring you to him? You haven’t seen him yet, how can I rest assured to leave alone?”

“I... he doesn’t want to see me.” Ana bit her lower lip, tears still falling.

“It’s okay.” Curtis resisted the urge to wipe away her tears, and smiled lightly: “It doesn’t matter whether he sees you or not, Walter...Since he doesn’t want to see you, then I will take you away. “

After speaking, he took a step forward and turned to leave.

Ana’s expression changed, and she quickly grabbed her sleeves: “No, no! I can’t leave here, I’m going to wait for him here, I have a lot to say to him!”

Curtis’s steps stopped for a moment, and he lowered his eyes, with some reproach in his eyes.

“Don’t you understand? He doesn’t want to see you at all, but if he hurts you a little bit, he won’t let you go. Until now, I have been holding back the urge to get off the car, just to make you understand that you still want Persistent?”

His words immediately hit the sore spot in Ana’s heart, making her unable to say a word.

She stared at him blankly for a long while, then cried softly after a while.

“But tonight, it was indeed my fault. I said I was coming, but I asked him to wait all night and I didn’t show up. He... is now taking revenge on me, let me also taste what it’s like to wait for others. He should forgive me...”

“Don’t think too much, these are not your fault. Car accidents, accidents, if this is also your fault, then Walter...today is heinous. Ana, the eldest brother will take you out of here,His body is too weak, and he was injured again today. You will not be able to stand it any longer.

After that, Curtis didn’t care whether she wanted it or not, so he held her and strode away.

Ana reacted violently and struggled vigorously.

“No, I don’t want to go! I said I will wait here until he sees me! I can’t go!”

“Hmm...” Curtis snorted, and Ana didn’t dare to struggle anymore, because she knew that Curtis was seriously injured, and she must have touched his wound when she was struggling just now.

When Curtis stopped, he smiled bitterly at her: “Why don’t you continue to struggle? You can push me hard, and then go back to the door, but I want to tell you that I have been on the sidelines, now that I intend to take you away, I won’t let you go easily. Unless I fall into the rain, I won’t let you go back and let your dignity sweep the ground.”

Ana: “...Curtis Ye, why are you doing this?”

“What about you? Why are you?”

Ana was speechless, and she bit her lower lip: “I know this is what I owe you. According to reason, I have to promise you, but I still want to beg you, put me down, this is me I want to deal with the matter with Walter by myself. No matter what I do, it is my own willingness. Didn’t the eldest brother always emphasize to me that this is the eldest brother’s willingness? Then let me be willing again and again how is it?”

“No matter what you say, I won’t let you go again today.” Curtis Ye hugged her and walked towards the car, while the people at the gate looked at the scene dumbfounded. What’s the matter? How could the eldest young master of the Ye family suddenly appear here, and even carried her away?

“Big brother, I beg you, let me go, I really want to continue waiting for him here, I said yes... I can’t break my promise again, big...”

Ana's body load has passed, and she was still energetic just now, and she could still argue with Curtis Ye, but in the next second, her voice weakened, and then her head fell back dizzily.

Curtis Ye was startled, and narrowed his eyes: "Ana?"

"Brother, let me... go back!"

She said something unconsciously.

Damn it!

It must have been standing for too long just now, and the wind blew her mind so hard.

Otherwise, how could she feel that her eyes are getting more and more blurred now, and her head is getting more and more dizzy.

The whole world... is spinning around.

As if there was an earthquake.

No, she can't faint... She has to wait for Walter to come down.

She still has a lot of questions to ask Walter, what happened? Why was he so angry, why did he give her the divorce contract agreement if he didn't agree?

By the way... the divorce agreement.

"You are tired, get a good night's sleep, I will take you away now."

"No, do not want..."

Ana heard his voice farther and farther, until he disappeared.

She still fell into darkness.

Chapter 316

“I am pregnant with his child, but you are pregnant with wild species, do you think... will Mr. Walter still want you?”

“Young Master Ye doesn’t want to see you, and you can never step into this door again. From now on, you will no longer be the second grandmother of the Ye Family. Please go.”

“This is a divorce contract, sign your name, and you will have nothing to do with me in the future.”

“You are married to a good and wealthy family like Yejia. It was not Yueyue who gave you this opportunity. You have a chance to be Yejia’s second young wife? What’s wrong with asking you to help me pay off my gambling debt? Big, shouldn’t this be?”

“Look at how ugly you are. Which man will want you? The husband who sleeps with you hasn’t touched you for two years. Wouldn’t you think about why?”

“Get out, get out of the night house, and never come back again,”

No, do not want...

The people and things from the past appeared in front of her one by one, seizing the weakness in her heart and attacking vigorously.

“Don’t... don’t drive me away, don’t...”

Curtis Ye, who was guarding Ana's bed, had already heard her muttering silently tonight. Except for no, just don't drive me away. It was these two sentences repeatedly.

Curtis sighed straight after hearing it, his eyes filled with distress.

Since he brought Ana Shen back to the hospital, she developed a high fever, and the fever has not subsided until now. Because she is pregnant, she can't use drugs indiscriminately and can only physically cool down.

Curtis guarded her for a long time. For more than an hour, her fever had not subsided, but instead it got worse.

The little nurse has been taking care of her all the time. At this moment, she couldn't help but glance at Curtis Ye and reminded: "This gentleman, you have been taking care of her without sleep for more than an hour, and your own body can't stand it either. , It's better to go to rest and get treatment soon, as long as there is me here."

"No." Curtis Ye pursed his thin lips and shook his head: "Her burning doesn't go away, so I can't feel at ease."

"I'll take care of her here. Her fever will definitely go away. It's no way for you to keep it like this. If you keep on guarding it, your body will not be able to stand it anymore."

Curtis stopped talking, and his eyes never left Ana for almost a moment. He kept changing her wet cloth and compressing her forehead.

The little nurse was really helpless. This person was really stubborn and refused to persuade her. They were injured in the first place, but they ran out together. When they came back, they both got wet. The woman had a high fever and was in a coma, and the man's wound was also infected, but he just didn't deal with it and kept calmly cooling down the woman physically, which made her really a headache.

“Sir, don't blame me for saying something bad, your whole body is wounded, and you have been exposed to the rain. If your wound becomes inflamed and infected, you will also have a high fever. Once you have a high fever, you think that even if her fever is gone , Will you not spread the disease to her by yourself?”

Hearing, Curtis's movements seemed to be moved by what she said.

Seeing this, the little nurse hurried on the railroad while it was hot: “So leave it to me, I must take good care of her, you go and treat the wound first.”

Curtis nodded, and handed the veil in his hands to her.

The little nurse finally breathed a sigh of relief when she saw this. This was the patient she was taking. If something went wrong, her conscience would be disturbed.

Curtis didn't go far. The two of them were in the same ward. He was in the next hospital bed. The little nurse asked the doctor to treat his wounds. Here she is taking care of Ana.

Although someone had already treated Curtis's wound, his gaze was still on Ana here.

“Lie down, you also have a fever.” The doctor patted his shoulder and motioned him to lie down.

Curtis Ye couldn't help but stared at the place where Ana was.

“If you don’t receive treatment well, you will fall down, who will stare at her? So quickly lie down for treatment. Your physical fitness is very good. As long as you receive treatment well, you won’t faint.”

Curtis then lay down in peace.

After some tossing, Curtis’s wounded doctor finally helped him deal with it, and Ana’s fever slowly receded, but she still seemed to be in a nightmare, she kept saying With all kinds of sleep talk, cold sweat has been on her forehead.

The nurse sent from behind got together with the little nurse before, and then left the ward, walking along.

“Oh my God, this man is so affectionate, and his perseverance is so good, you see that he has been injured like that and he has not fallen down until now. It shows how strong the willpower is. If I am injured like this, how can I hold it? Huh?”

“Hey, you don’t understand, some men really can’t even want their lives for a woman. He looks at the girl’s eyes, so affectionate that I’m almost drunk. Why can’t I meet such a man? Affectionate, so handsome.”

“Okay, don’t talk about this. The head nurse will hear that we have to be trained again later.”

“Ah, I didn’t say anything bad, I just sighed.”

“Don’t sigh, the head nurse will say that you have nothing to do, go quickly.”

The two talked as they walked away.

The surroundings were quiet. It was already early in the morning. The corridors of the hospital were still very quiet. Except for the sounds of individual instruments, all that was left was the patient's even ups and downs of breathing.

Curtis lay on his side on the hospital bed, looking at Ana, who was not far away from him and opposite to the bed.

After tossing for most of the night, he was really tired, especially since the doctor didn't know what medicine he was giving him, why did he feel so sleepy? The eyelids were so heavy as if they weren't his.

It seems to be going to bed soon, but Curtis Ye and immediately opened his eyes,

Can't sleep. Who will look at Ana when you fall asleep, what if she wakes up midway and runs out again?

It was still raining outside. She had a high fever like that before, and her body would definitely not be able to withstand the second injury.

Forget it, hold back.

Curtis wanted to call the secretary Ye Zi, but the mobile phone ran out of power. In the end, she was really helpless, so she could only borrow the mobile phone from her when the nurse came to the ward round, and then called his secretary.

Although it was early morning, Ye Zi hurried over after receiving her call.

"Vice-General Night, how could... make it like this?" Ye Ye was stunned when she saw this scene when she arrived. They were clearly sitting in the dining room when she was sending the materials. How could it be all night? Both fell ill without seeing them.

"It's a bit complicated, anyway, I need your help now."

Ye Zi nodded immediately: "Vice always has something to order, even if you order, I was your secretary to help you deal with these things."

"Sorry, there is a reason for it, but it is not working hours to call you over."

Chapter 317

"It's okay night vice president, how is Miss Shen? It looks like she is in a very bad state." Ye Zip is indeed Curtis's effective secretary, and immediately knew what was most important for Yu Curtis.

"She has a high fever, which just went down."

Ye Lin turned his eyes, and then glanced at Curtis Ye: "The night veteran can rest assured. I will call and arrange for someone to take care of the company's affairs today. As for Miss Shen, I will take care of it and the night veteran will watch it. It looks like I haven't had a rest all night, so you can rest soon, you can't hold it until then."

"Yeah, thank you." Curtis gave Ye Zi a grateful look. As expected, she was the secretary with whom he had been with her for many years. After only a few minutes, he immediately understood the situation and knew exactly what he should do and what he was. Valued.

Curtis Ye has always been very reliable in doing things for so many years, so Curtis Ye was relieved at once with her.

He finally dared to close his eyes, and as soon as he closed his eyes, endless darkness swept in.

But Curtis Ye knew that this time, he could finally enter Fengxiang safely.

After a while, Curtis Ye heard Curtis Ye's even breathing. She looked at Curtis Ye helplessly, and sighed softly, "Ask what love in the world is, and let life and death promise."

After the second grade, Ye Ye covered his chest again: "No, you can't talk nonsense about this. The night vice-master just slept over, but...he was really kind to Miss Shen, hey."

Ye Zi cleaned up, and then found a place next to sit down. In the middle of the night, her boss called her. She guessed that there might be something important, so she brought out all the materials, including the notebook, now she It should be able to handle the work well.

Thinking of this, Ye Ye directly took out her notebook, put it on her legs, and started logging in to her account to deal with the rest of today.

She will probably stay in the company all day today, but Ye Rin's fever is like this, and the company will definitely not be able to go today. Then she must clean up the preparations for today, or else it will arrive. At that time, there was a lot of mess left, didn't she have to let her clean it up?

Ye Zi's work efficiency is still very high. Soon, she sorted out the preparations that need to be done today, and then sent it to the employee mailbox of her department. When it was finished, she took a look at the time, and it was less than seven o'clock. .

Can wait a little longer.

Ye Zi lifted her eyes and glanced at the two people on the hospital bed. They didn't know when they were going to fall asleep.

Finally, Ye Ye directly sent a message to the employee and asked him to call her back after seeing the message. She felt a little sleepy, so she went to make a cup of instant coffee by herself, and then drank it slowly in the ward.

Until ten o'clock in the morning, the two of them showed no signs of awakening.

Ana was still in the nightmare. Those people in the dream continued to attack her with relentless words. She didn't know how to refute, and even if she refuted, those people would counterattack quickly, defeating her and defeating her. And escape.

"No, don't!!" Ana suddenly yelled and opened her eyes vigorously.

What is reflected on the ceiling is endless white, like a piece of snow with no end in sight.

Ye Zi drank two cups of instant coffee, still drowsy with boredom, and when she almost fell asleep with her hands on the table, a scream suddenly awakened her.

She opened her eyes suddenly, and then looked at the source of the sound, only to find that Ana Shen was awake.

She rubbed her cheek quickly, then got up and walked towards her.

"Miss Shen, you are awake."

Hearing the soft female voice, Ana Shen was stunned for a moment, then reacted after a while, and she looked at the incoming person.

It's a bit familiar, but her head hurts... it seems that she knows this person, but she doesn't seem to know this person.

"you are..."

Ye Zi's complexion changed a little, "I am Ye Zi, the secretary of the night vice president. How many times have we met before when we were in the company, can't Miss Shen remember?"

After her reminder, Ana suddenly remembered that they had indeed met before in the company.

She fell asleep so hard that she didn't remember who she was just now.

Ana nodded and said softly: "I remember."

Ye Ye was a little bit dumbfounded: "It seems that my sense of existence is really low. I have met several times, but Sister Shen Xiao hasn't remembered me yet."

Hearing, Ana was a little embarrassed, she moved and wanted to sit up.

Ye Zi hurried forward to help her sit up, and then put a pillow on her back. Without asking her afterwards, she turned around and poured her a cup of warm water.

When she came back with warm water, Ana happened to be looking at Curtis Ye's position, her eyes worried.

"Miss Shen, don't worry, our night vice president is all right now, and you don't have to worry about him."

"Really?" Ana lowered her eyes and remembered what happened last night. She was turned away by Walter. Who knew that it rained heavily later, and then she fell in the heavy rain and was caught by Ye Lin. Hugged away.

When she thought that he was hurt so badly, but still followed her all the way, Ana blamed herself.

“Yes, Miss Shen, drink warm water first.”

Ye Ye offered a glass of water, and Ana Shen took a few sips, and then couldn't drink it anymore.

“What did the doctor say? He was in the rain with me yesterday.”

Hearing that, Ye Zi was stunned. When she came, everything had been taken care of here. She only saw the results, so she didn't know what happened before, and no one could ask her. Now I heard Ana Shen's question. , She raised her eyebrows: “The vice president was still awake when I came. He called me and asked me to take care of Miss Shen. After that, he couldn't help but fall asleep.”

“...” Ana opened her lips and couldn't say a word.

Ye Zi thought for a while, and added another sentence: “It was early in the morning when I came. Does Miss Shen remember when she arrived at the hospital?”

Ana didn't answer the conversation. Although she didn't know when she arrived at the hospital, she could probably guess it. In other words, Curtis Ye kept guarding her for a while after she arrived at the hospital, until Ye Lihan appeared.

This person...really!

Ana didn't know what to say about him, but she could reject him thoroughly whenever he had a bit of harm, even if he treated her well, she could reject him mercilessly.

But why should he still treat her so well, so good that she has no way to pay it back.

Doing so much for her makes her feel guilty now.

She has no way to respond to these feelings!

But Curtis... why didn't he understand! ?

“Ms. Shen, I have been a secretary next to Vice President Ye for many years. Although he is a gentle person on the surface, he will not change things or people easily. You don't need to blame yourself. It was the night vice president willingly himself.”

Chapter 318

Of course she knew he was willing.

But he didn't ask her if she was willing to pay directly.

“Of course, Miss Shen doesn't have to think of giving back. I think, since Vice President Ye has done this, she never thought about asking Miss Shen to respond to him. After all... Ye Vice President is still a very gentle person, Miss Shen. Feeling pressured, he will not force you.”

Ana: “...”

It was indeed her villainous heart before, but she didn't think about it like that again in the rest of the matter.

“I see.” She nodded and stopped talking to Ye Zi.

Ye Zi's words have already been said, and she didn't bother her anymore.

When the nurse came to the ward round later, she was finally relieved after checking her.

“You are really lucky and fateful. You were pregnant with the rain for so long, and you had a high fever for so long. And you had a car accident before, but none of the children in your stomach were hurt. Now, really a very lucky little guy.”

“The people in our hospital are very worried about your condition, but now it seems that your condition is not bad. As long as you recuperate for these two days, there will be no problem.”

“Thank you.” Ana thanked the person with a pale face. After thinking about it, she asked again: “May I ask, how he is doing?”

The doctor was stunned for a moment. After knowing who she was referring to, he calmed down: “His condition is much worse than you. In that car accident, he suffered more severe injuries than you. Although they were all skin injuries, they were all over. His area is quite large, and he was caught in the rain later, and the wound was not allowed to be treated by us. He had to take care of you personally, which caused his high fever.”

After hearing these words, Ana’s face became paler, “Then he...”

“He is all right now, don’t worry. His physical fitness is still very strong, coupled with his strong willpower, it is estimated that he will wake up soon.”

Ana only felt a little relieved, and then she thought of Walter.

One night passed, and I don’t know what happened to him. I wonder if he still blames her and annoys her and doesn’t want to see her?

However, Curtis Ye hadn’t woken up yet, and Ana didn’t dare to leave, so she could only lie on the hospital bed.

After the high fever, her hands and feet were limp, and she could only lie on the bed.

At noon, Ye Zi asked her mother to make white porridge and some side dishes, and then served them to Ana personally. Ye Zi's mother was a very kind woman. Seeing Ana like this, she kept telling her to take good care of her body. .

Ye Zi couldn't help saying, "Mom, I just asked you to deliver the porridge for me. Don't talk too much, it's annoying."

Ye Zi's mother said with a smile: "Don't be surprised girl, I have this temper. Seeing that your girl is about the same age as my girl, I feel very distressed."

Ana felt warm in her heart, and she couldn't help but lifted her lips: "No, Auntie's porridge is really delicious. You are also very good to your daughter, thank you."

Then she thought of her mother.

It seems that when she was very young, her mother gave all her care to her younger sister, Erika Shen. When she was young, she used to care about her very much. She felt that her mother didn't care for her, and she felt a little bitter towards Erika Shen.

But when she grew up later, she thought again, Erika Shen is a younger sister after all, and both of them are the children of their mothers. How can mothers and children in the world love their children? But Erika Shen is a younger sister, so it is normal for her to feel a little bitter towards Erika Shen.

Ana has been using this kind of thought to paralyze herself, and in the end she herself is very kind to Erika Shen, this kind of thought has been deeply ingrained in her mind.

Until... mother asked her to marry to Yejia instead of Erika Shen.

Later, her mother changed her face. She gave her savings to Erika Shen and asked Curtis Ye for another 300,000 yuan. When she went back, her mother didn't even bother with her wounds and asked her for money.

For a moment, she wondered if she was the real daughter of the Shen family.

But if she is not the real daughter of the Shen family, whose family can she be?

It would be nice if it was her mother who came to see her when she was in the hospital, Ana thought so, and her face also showed a sad expression.

“What’s the matter? Did I say something wrong?” Ye Zi’s mother asked her something wrong, and then blamed herself a little: “Sorry, I’ve always been speechless. I packed my things and left.”

Hearing that, Ana Shen came back to her senses abruptly, and quickly explained: “Auntie, you misunderstood, I thought of my mother just when I saw you, so... I miss her a little bit. I’m sorry, I misunderstood you. .”

“It turned out to be so, I thought I said something annoying.”

Ye Zi said helplessly: “Mom, if you go on nagging, it’s really annoying. You go back quickly. Our vice president is still resting. Mom, your voice is so loud that you bother her.”

Hearing, Ye Zi’s mother took a look in Curtis Ye’s direction, and realized that her voice was a little louder, and she quickly covered her mouth, “Then I’m leaving now!”

She whispered, and Ye Zi waved to her, “Go back quickly, or dad will be anxious for a while.”

Before Ye Zi's mother left the ward, she waved to Ana. Ana also waved to her before watching her leave.

After she left, Ye Zi sighed helplessly: "I'm sorry, my mother has this kind of personality, and it may be annoying to you."

"It's okay. Auntie has such a good temper. You must be very happy."

Ye Zi recalled the past events and nodded: "Indeed, my mother has no heart and is very enthusiastic about people. My dad sometimes feels helpless because she is too enthusiastic, which makes people feel embarrassed. , But she didn't feel it herself."

While talking, Ye Zi couldn't help laughing.

Seeing her sincere smile, Ana felt envy. If possible, she also wanted such a happy family.

In fact, she didn't hold much hope. She just sometimes thought that she was married, so when she returned to her natal house, her mother could ask her if she was doing well and hug her, and she was very satisfied.

But... none of these...

It's just these, nothing.

"Hurry up and drink the porridge. It won't be good for a while." Seeing that she seemed to be lost in thought, Ye Zi urged her to prevent her from thinking too much.

Ana recovered and nodded.

After they had eaten, Ye Zixie sat with her for a while, Curtis Ye woke up, and Ana was lethargic and almost fell asleep. Hearing the sound, she quickly looked in the direction where Curtis Ye was.

“Vice President, you are awake.” Ye Zi walked forward quickly and asked warmly, and then poured water on him, too considerate.

Curtis looked at the place where Ana was.
