

Blossoming Her Shielded Heart Chapter 81 –90

Chapter 81

Julia quickly caught up with Elmore and kept a short distance from him.

It was hard for Julia to judge Elmore. Although she felt that he was very horrible and cold-blooded, he had once helped her. And Elmore seemed to be a friend of Shawn. On this point, she didn't think he would do something to her.

Julia smoothly followed Elmore to a hall which was as wide as an ancient castle, decorated with other dark decorations. It seemed like a world completely isolated from light.

Julia was hiding like a kitten. When she was observing Elmore, she suddenly heard Elmore's voice. "Sister in law, you must be tired after such a long walk. Come here and drink some water."

Julia was stunned. 'When did he find that she had been following behind him?' She didn't even think about whose territory it was. Without Elmore's permission, how could she enter here?

Helplessly, Julia walked out from the dark.

"Hey, long time no see." Julia giggled.

“Long time no see.” Elmore also laughed, with his eyes resting casually on her, making Julia uneasy. His eyes were like nails...

In Elmore’s arms, Lola looked at Julia too, but there was still no expression in her eyes. She stared at Julia as if she was looking at a stranger.

“Mr. Elmore, I’m here for a friend.” Julia calmed down, sat opposite to Elmore and tried to say politely.

“For me?” Elmore raised his eyebrows and asked with a smile.

“I’m here for Lola.” His smile made Julia feel uncomfortable. She had to go straight to the point, without the slightest procrastination.

Elmore looked at the girl in his arms and nodded.

Julia was nervous and waited for him to say further.

“Baby, your friend is here for you. Go and talk with your friend.” Elmore kissed Lola’s forehead affectionately and smiled softly.

Julia was stunned and looked at Lola nervously.

Without saying anything, Lola just turned around to take a look at Julia. Lola pressed her face against Elmore’s chest, in an intimate and affectionate manner.

“Lola...” Julia couldn’t believe Lola action. She looked at them hugging and felt she was just like a clown.

Just as Julia was about to Sarahve, she heard that Elmore said, “Lola has lost her memory.”

Julia was stunned, and then she heard Elmore say, "Sister in law, help me take care of Lola for a few days, and don't let anyone find her."

"Why?" Julia was confused.

"I have something to do these days." Said Elmore.

Julia probably knew what Elmore was talking about. To be a member of the gangsterdom like Elmore, what he needed to do was nothing more than the pursuit of enemies and disputes of interests.

"Okay." Julia promised straightforwardly.

Just then, a man slowly came in from the other side of the hall. Julia was shocked to see him.

Why is Shawn here? Though Julia was confused, she was delighted at the same

When they arrived at the car, Shawn opened the door and let the two women in. Lola hesitated for a moment, but still got in the car.

Once she got in the car, Lola Sarahned against the seat and fell asleep. Julia looked at Lola and sighed. She had thought about the scene that she and Lola met again thousands of times, but none of them are like that.

She has lost her memory.

Julia thought of what Penny had told her. Penny said that she was sold to the nightclub by Elmore because she had broken a normal glass of Lola.

Perhaps, Lola occupied a certain position in Elmore's heart, otherwise he wouldn't ask her to take care of Lola. However... How about Elmore in Lola's heart?

Julia picked up the coat that she had put in the car and wanted to cover it on Lola. However, the red marks on Lola's neck frightened her, which followed her collarbone down. Of course she knew what it was.

"Elmore is a good man, isn't he?" Julia asked Shawn.

"Do you think I am a good man?" Instead of answering Julia's question, Shawn asked.

Julia was a little stunned and asked herself, 'Is Shawn a good guy or a bad guy?' There was no standard on this kind of issue. In many people's eyes, Shawn was a Death. As long as he wanted a business, there was nothing impossible. In the business world, no one was not afraid of him.

'But was he really so terrible in her eyes?

No.'

"You are a good man." Julia said with a smile. In her heart, Shawn was a good man indeed.

Shawn slightly bent down and touched Julia's face with his big hand. With a charming smile, he asked, "Who had cursed me a bad guy?"

Thinking of what happened the day before yesterday, Julia's face turned red with shyness. She reached out and pinched Shawn's waist.

Shawn smiled, holding Julia in his arms and kissed her. Julia kept her head down. There was a touch of inexplicable sweetness on her face.

Chapter 82

After accompanying Julia and Lola back to the villa, Shawn left again. Standing in front of the window and watching the car driving away, Julia somehow felt a little flustered. Did anything happen to them?

In the middle of the night, Julia was still awake because of her worries. On the contrary, Lola, who was beside her, was sleeping as carefree as a child. Julia looked at her and sighed.

This room was not the bedroom of Shawn, but a guest room in the villa. So far, Julia has known that there was more than one bedroom in the villa.

In a daze, Julia finally fell asleep.

The next day, when Julia woke up, Lola was still sleeping. Seeing that Lola was in deep sleep, Julia didn't want to wake her up.

Maria had already made breakfast for them.

"Maria, has Mr. Shawn come back?" Julia yawned, sitting at the table and asked.

"No, Miss Julia. Mr. Shawn has not come home." Maria bowed and answered respectfully.

'He hasn't come back yet.' Julia looked out of the window and thought, 'It's strange to eat breakfast alone. Could something really become a habit of someone?'

Thinking of John and Evena, Julia took her phone and dialed Evena's number to greet her. But no one answered.

After a long time, someone picked up the phone and said, "Hello, this is the Nelson Group. May I help you?"

Julia was stunned. That was a man's voice. Did she call the wrong number? When Julia was about to hang up the phone, she heard a familiar woman's voice from the other end of the line. "That's my phone! Give it back to me. "

"Here you are." Then it was John's impatient voice.

The phone was finally in Evena's hand.

"If you have anything to say, just say it. If not, I have to hang up." Evena said quickly as if she had something urgent to do.

Just as she raised her head to protest, Shawn kissed her for a long time.

Julia felt that the boss was a little strange tonight.

It was a romantic night.

The next day, warm sunshine poured in from the window. The trees outside the window were dancing with the wind, and birds were singing. It was a good day.

Julia opened her eyes and stared at Shawn angrily. However, Shawn had already woken up and was looking at her.

For a moment, they made eyes contact.

Julia's neck became stiff for a few seconds. Then she giggled and said, "Good morning."

"Good morning." With a smile, Shawn bent over and kissed her lips.

Julia drew back her neck, bit the bullet and ordered, "Shawn, get up quickly!"

She looked like a cute pet that pretended to be fierce.

Looking at his beautiful wife, Shawn was in a good mood.

Shawn held her in his arms naturally and closed his eyes to catch up on sleep contentedly.

Julia sighed deeply. She really wanted to go home. If her mother was here, Shawn wouldn't dare bully her! Humph!

Going home...

It reminded Julia of the Mid-Autumn Festival... It seemed that the day after tomorrow was the Mid-Autumn Festival.

Chapter 83

"I'm going home the day after tomorrow." Julia stayed in Shawn's arms and said in a low voice, afraid that he wouldn't say yes.

"Yes." Answered Shawn.

"You agreed?" Julia looked at Shawn in surprise, with an unbelievable look.

"Yes." Shawn smiled and bit Julia's earlobe and rubbed it softly.

Julia deliberately ignored the fact that Shawn was going to take advantage of her. She was thrilled that she could go home. She had been wondering how to tell him about this. Given Shawn's cunning character, it was very difficult for her to ask for Sarahve, but she didn't expect that he would say yes so directly.

'Could it be that Shawn was pSarahsed with her?'

Well, at this moment, Julia finally realized that her sacrifice last night was in return for several days of freedom.

Shawn lowers her head gently, seeing Julia giggling. He pursed his lips and held her tightly.

Julia was confused about his reaction, but she didn't say anything and just stayed in Shawn's arms quietly.

When they were having dinner, Julia went to wake up Lola. It was Lola who used to take care of her, and now it was her turn.

"Lola, shall we go back to the place we lived before?" Julia talked to Lola patiently.

Lola drew silently, totally ignoring Julia.

"Do you still remember the Zona Residences? We have lived there for a long time." Julia didn't give up. She continued to cheer Lola up, as if she would succeed or die.

Julia thought her words worked when Lola finally put down her brush. She was about to pull her away happily, only to find that Lola went to the bathroom and came back to continue drawing.

Julia was stunned for a while, and then lowered her head.

Standing at the door, looking at his little woman speechlessly, Shawn paced in. As soon as Julia saw Shawn, she rushed over, pointing at Lola, and said, "PSarahse help me persuade Lola. If we go back to the Zona Residences, Lola may restore her memory."

"How can you thank me?" Asked Shawn.

"Why are you so mean?" Julia spent the whole morning persuading Lola, so that she forgot who Shawn was.

“Well, I’m really narrow-minded. It seems that the salary for some employees is too high.” Shawn nodded and he seemed to agree with Julia’s idea.

Salary! When it comes to the salary, Julia finally realized her mistake. She looked at Shawn and didn’t know how to do. Finally she hummed proudly and sat down on the bed.

A niggard! Just a niggard!

Julia was kicking her legs depressingly and muttering.

With a light smile, Shawn sat beside Julia, reached out his hand and pinched Julia’s bulging cheeks, while Julia slapped his hand off furiously. She has made up her mind to fight against Shawn to the end.

“Good girl.” Shawn touched Julia’s head and smoothed her hair.

“Humph!” Julia glared at Shawn.

“Your temper is becoming worse and worse.” Shawn frowned and concluded.

“I…” Julia was speechless. It seemed that she was no longer afraid of Shawn.

lly carried Lola to her bedroom. Lola was sleeping deeply and had no sign of waking up. Standing beside the bed, Julia had mixed feelings.

She stood there for a while and left slowly.

“Shawn, Is Elmore a good person or a bad person?” Julia lay on the bed, struggled in her mind for a long time, and then turned her head to ask Shawn who just came out of the bathroom.

Sitting next to Julia, Shawn poked her face and smiled, “I won’t answer the same question twice.”

“But you didn’t answer me last time!” Julia sat up and looked up at Shawn discontentedly.

“I know you are worried about Lola, but sometimes we can’t interfere in other people’s affairs.” Shawn took her in his arms, Sarahned against the head of the bed, and said slowly.

Julia lowered her head and fiddled with Shawn’s shirt. She frowned in depression.

Although she also knew that what Shawn said was right, who knew what had happened to Lola and Elmore. Elmore was obviously very concerned about Lola at that night. But why couldn’t Lola feel anything?

“Kitten, you smell good.” Shawn buried his head in Julia’s neck, sniffed her hair and kissed her gently.

Julia’s heart raced and her face was burning. She then remembered that Shawn was behind her.

What’s more... What was he doing on her? Julia blushed, lowered her head, grasped Shawn’s sleeve with her hands sheepishly, looking like a wronged little wife...

“You... I... No... You... Last night... ” Julia mustered up courage and said with a trembling voice, and her cheeks flushed deeper with each word.

Seeing that Shawn was still touching her at random, Julia was so scared that she was about to cry.

Shawn smiled and kissed her eyes. He bit her earlobe and said softly, “My kitty, relax.”

“But... But... ” Julia hemmed and hawed and didn’t know what to say.

“Silly girl...” Said Shawn with a smile.

In the end, the tragedy that Julia had imagined didn't happen. Shawn held her in his arms and fell asleep quietly.

Chapter 84

Today was the day that Julia went back home. She got up early to pack up her things, and opened the wardrobe which was not only filled with Shawn's black suit, but also her clothes.

These clothes were bought in that shop last time.

At the strong request of Shawn, her clothes were locked in the small dark room. Everyday, she wore clothes bought by Shawn, ate the food of Shawn and slept on the bed of Shawn.

After all, everything belonged to Shawn.

Thinking of what happened in that shop, Julia blushed. She turned around and looked at Shawn who was still sleeping in the bed. After being in a daze for a while, she turned her head and went to pack her clothes.

As she saw the clothes that she hadn't worn one by one, Julia felt satisfied.

“What are you laughing?” Suddenly, there was another man behind her. Julia, who was sitting on the ground, was held up by someone.

“Ah!” With a scream, Julia hurriedly put her arms around that man's neck. She looked at him and found that it was Shawn.

He smiled and held her around for a while before he put her down. Julia held him, rubbed her forehead and looked at Shawn speechlessly. She was not a child anymore.

“When are you Sarahving?” Shawn lifted her to the bedside.

Julia casually Sarahned on his shoulder and replied: “I bought the train ticket in the afternoon.”

I would arrive at home in tomorrow morning.

“Let me send you back.” Hearing her words, Shawn frowned and turned to her.

Uh

“But...” Julia was confused. If her mother knew that she was still with Shawn, would she be angry?

“Are you going to hide it from her for the rest of your life?” Shawn Sarahned over, kissed her on the corner of her mouth and asked.

“I...” Julia lowered her head in silence.

All my life Will they live together for the rest of their lives? Could she trust him?

“Forget it, I will hide it from her as long as I can.” Nobody could tell what would happen in the future. Although she knew her feeling for Shawn, reality and dream were always different.

Julia thought she was rational in some ways, but just in some ways

Shawn frowned, but said nothing.

“Kitten.” Hearing this, Julia looked up at Shawn defenselessly. With a faint smile on his lips, the man bent over her and pressed her under his body.

Julia put her hands on his chest, looking at him with innocent and beautiful eyes. The man’s heart trembled, lowered his head and kissed her eyes, her eyebrows

Julia closed her eyes obediently, and even took the initiative to hook her arms around his neck. She was Sarahving in the afternoon, and it would take about a week, and she could not see him for a week.

Thinking of this, she suddenly felt reluctant to Sarahve.

After a while, the room was filled with the smell of love, and the low groans came one after another without a stop.

“Kitten, the bedroom is so soundproof. Don’t hold it up.” Shawn’s hot and dry breath blew on Julia’s ear. His voice was I e in the town to have dinner. Although Julia was dismissive of it, she was still very proud, because she could win honor for her mother who had devoted most of her life for it.

After arriving at college, Julia attended various activities, won various awards and titles, and got the seat of the chairman of the student union with her own strength. After graduation, Julia was also found a job soon. But Barbara thought her salary was too low, so she asked others for help to offer her an opportunity to interview in Li group.

And Julia didn’t disappoint Barbara. Without any suspense, she entered the Nelson Group.

She was unwilling to go on the blind date, but she still followed Barbara’s order.

She had never disobeyed her mother in her life.

Besides, just like her mother, she could not forgive Noah's cheating.

"I'm here." Shawn put his arm around her waist, and rested his chin on her shoulder, whispering.

Julia closed her eyes and nodded. She put her hands on the hand of Shawn, letting herself totally rely on him. Since Noah left, Julia had never been fully relied on someone like this.

Her mother needed her protection, and Lola also needed her protection, so she must be strong enough to be their backup. Therefore, she always thought that she didn't need to rely on others, and she didn't like the man who was too strong. When she saw the man who was stronger than her, she would avoid him.

The stronger a man was, the more insecure she would feel. She liked the feeling of being completely controlled in her hands.

However Shawn was an exception. She could neither hide nor exclude him completely.

And this man made her feel very reassured. As long as he was there, no matter what happened, he would always be there to protect her.

Every time, he would get her out of trouble and took it for granted. Thinking of the time they spent together, Julia smiled.

In fact, being protected and doted on by someone made her feel not bad.

Chapter 85

Gradually, the sun set. Julia was so sleepy that she fell asleep in the arms of Shawn.

Tomorrow would be a good day.

I'm so hungry Julia walked alone in the forest, touching her empty stomach and looking for food.

"Kitten, kitten..." A big chicken leg came out of the forest, waving its arms and shouting to Julia.

Julia was so excited that she jumped on the drumstick with her legs and bit it hard.

Uh

It didn't seem to be that soft Julia was confused and looked at the chicken leg. The chicken leg suddenly blurred in front of her and then a small arm appeared in front of her.

This arm was far less beautiful than a chicken leg. Julia was confused and reached out her hand to touch the arm.

"Ahem!" There was a sudden cough above her head. Julia was shocked. She slowly twisted her stiff neck and looked up. The CEO was smiling at her. For the first time, Julia thought the CEO's smile was scary.

"CEO..." His laugh made Julia weak. She plucked up courage and called him.

"Are you hungry?" Shawn said with a smile.

Julia shook her head, patted her empty belly and said with a smile, "I'm not hungry at all."

“Coo coo...” But her belly admit it at this critical moment.

With red face, Julia stared at Shawn who was staring at her with dark eyes. She silently lowered her head and stared at the red teeth mark on his arm. She just bit him, and she bit him so hard.

Two rows of deep teeth marks were showing on his wheat smooth arms, which was really a great impact on her beauty. Julia sighed, worried about herself.

With the CEO's vengeful character, Julia thought she was in danger.

Seeing that Julia was staring at his arm, Shawn moved his lips and whispered in her ear, “Kitten, I will pay it back in the future.”

Julia was a little upset. Sure enough, the CEO would not let her go so easily

She carefully turned her head and looked out of the window. The familiar and strange scenery outside made her excited. She exclaimed, “eh, we are here?”

Looking at her astonished expression, Shawn said nothing.

“Shawn, how do you know my home is here?” Julia saw her flower shop not far away and was surprised. She had never told him her home address, so how could he know it?

Shawn kissed her cheek and held her in his arms. There was nothing he couldn't find out as long as it's what he wanted to know. What he knew was much more than Julia had imagined.

“Hey, let me go, I'm going home.” Julia impolitely patted on Shawn's hand around her waist.

“Um,” said Shawn, without moving an inch.

The sky in the early morning was fresh, and there were not many people on the street to move. The air was filled with mist, and the wind blew, making it a little cold. Julia lay on the window and looked at the fam on earth is going on here? ” Instead of being kind and tender, Barbara stood in front of Julia and looked down at her.

Julia hadn't expected that her mother would know about it, so she wasn't ready for that. She hesitated for a while and said with a smile, "Mom, I just came back. Can't you take your time? I'll talk to you later, okay? "

She shook Barbara's hands as she spoke.

Barbara shook off Julia's hand with a sneer, continued to stare at her, "if you don't make it cSarahr to me today, I won't let you eat."

Eat

Speaking of eating, Julia felt hungry.

"Mom, was there any leftover last night? I'm so hungry. Let's have dinner first. It's a long story. " Julia held Barbara's arm and touched her belly with a smile. With her pitiful look, she looked like a starving kid.

Facing Julia like this, no matter how angry Barbara was, she could only groan.

"Well, you are my mother. You have to know what happened, right? It's only a matter of time. Why are you in such a hurry?" Julia tried to comfort her.

Barbara thought about her words and found that what Julia said made sense.

Seeing that Barbara was a little moved, Julia then added, "good mom, I'm really hungry. How about I go to the kitchen to help you?" Then she pushed Barbara into the kitchen.

Barbara pushed Julia out of the room and said: "I can cook, go pack your things and think over how to explain to me!"

Julia smiled and nodded her head. When Barbara turned around, Julia found that her legs were so weak.

'oh my God! How can I explain this.

She had lied so many times that it was difficult for her to make it up.

Under this circumstance, could she only tell the truth? 'no, no, No. if mom knows that they're married, she must be mad at me, ' thought Julia. Julia walked around the table. Her forehead was sweating. Her heart was on edge, and she couldn't relax at all.

Chapter 86

Soon, Barbara took out a fancy breakfast. Julia hurried to the bedroom with her luggage. She wanted to take a shower first so that she could have more time to think.

She couldn't tell the truth. They were just dating and hadn't seen their parents. Didn't she know that Shawn's father was Noah?

Or her colSarahgue who sent her back was John, not Shawn. She was with John now.

Julia deleted this reason right away. It was easy to persuade her mother. But when it came to Shawn, Shawn would definitely be angry again, just like last time.

Julia thought about it and still couldn't come up with a good way to lie to her. The best way was to tell her that she was dating with Shawn...

Julia sighed, opened her suitcase and took out some beautiful clothes. Looking at the traditional conservative clothes, she was in a cold sweat. Her luggage was packed with the help of Shawn. That guy was really bossy.

She had to wear those sexy clothes in front of him. Why wasn't she allowed to wear them when she got home?

But his overbearing attitude didn't disgust her, on the contrary, it made her feel relaxed. She randomly picked a suit of clothes and went to the bathroom. Lying in the bathtub, she stretched herself comfortably.

She had been feeling so uncomfortable these days that she even didn't dare to take a shower

She turned around and inadvertently saw herself in the mirror, the steaming mist in the mirror looming. She bowed her head hastily, in a terrible situation, and her body was full of somebody's marks.

'our CEO is not a fox, but a wolf, a hungry wolf!'! Julia thought resentfully and felt a little shy. She buried herself into the water to calm down.

"Julia, come out to have breakfast." Barbara knocked on the door.

"Okay." Julia stretched her head out and gave her a simple response.

After Julia calmed down, she came up with the idea.

Dressed up and going out, Julia swallowed her saliva when she saw the full table of dishes. She quickly sat at the table and began to eat like crazy.

"Slow down. You like a dead meat. What if you can't get married?" Barbara sighed with a loving smile.

"It doesn't matter. I come back to keep you company if I can't get married." Julia said with difficulty while stuffing food into her mouth.

“Oh, I almost forgot. Aunt Jasmine has a son and he has gone back in the Mid Autumn Festival. We will go to have a meal tomorrow and you can make friends with him,” Barbara said with a smile.

Julia rolled her eyes at Barbara. She just wanted her to go on a blind date with her again.

“I have a boyfriend.” Julia said as she lowered her head to eat.

“Shawn?” Barbara raised her eyebrows.

Julia dared not to meet her mother’s serious eyes, but she still nodded and replied: “yes.”

Barbara’s eyes became cold. She knocked at the America bowl with chopsticks. With a glance at K kidding,” Barbara then forced a smile and pushed Julia away. Julia, who was afraid of her mom, was about to roll down the stairs by her sides.

Today was Mid Autumn Festival, and a lot of people went to the vegetable market for groceries. Julia held a bag in her hand and silently followed Barbara. She had almost forgotten all the aunts since she hadn’t come back for so many years. When someone greeted her, she only smiled back politely.

“Julia, you’re home! Your mother is so proud of you. I heard that you work for the Nelson Group. What’s your position? My daughter is also studying in Ventrusburg. She will graduate this year. “

Julia gave the woman a forced smile. Before she could say anything, Barbara said first, “I heard that my daughter lives a good life in Ventrusburg. Since your daughter lives in Ventrusburg, they can help each other.”

“Hmm, that’s exactly what I think. Could Julia recommend her?” The woman giggled and looked at Julia.

Julia silently backed behind Barbara and thought: 'forget it, forget it. I can't interfere in their conversation. I just want to say how powerful an ordinary girl like her can be.'

"Julia, my son wants to develop the business in Ventrusburg. Could you pSarahse put in a good word for me and do me a favor?"

"That's right. My daughter is also capable, but we haven't met a respected person. Julia, you are the respected person in our family..."

Then, more and more men came out from nowhere. Julia was wearing a forced smile as cold sweat trickled down her forehead.

Julia was sure that her mother was flattering her indeed. Julia wanted to escape.

"Alright, alright. We are neighbors. This is not a big deal. Julia can be capable because of your help." Barbara continued to politely talk with them.

Julia carried the basket and ran out of the crowd quickly.

People gathered around Barbara to greet with each other, not noticing that the main character had already left.

Chapter 87

Julia strolled alone to the riverside of a small town. She loved the river because of its beautiful scenery.

On the side of the river was a huge patch of barren grass. Above the grass, there was a long railway. In her teens, she liked to play with a group of friends here, and there were not many people around. It was unusually quiet and beautiful.

But her friends broke up since she went to college, and she had no contact with any of them.

Julia lay on the grass, stretching out her arms and legs. She looked at the red sky and was lost in her thoughts.

She hadn't recovered from what had happened today. If she hadn't gone home, would all this have happened.

No, Julia knew that it was just a matter of time. Her mother would know and object in this way one day.

She also didn't want to come into contact with Noah. Was it about her marriage with Shawn, and had to be affected by her elders?

Julia closed her eyes. A thick mist appeared indistinctly in front of her. Soon, the Black Mist turned into a man's figure, and his face was gradually revealed.

Shawn...

He should be back to Ventrusburg now. What would he do during the Mid Autumn Festival? Would he go back to the Li Family, or he would be at the villa alone.

They had just departed this morning, but somehow Julia missed him.

She took her phone out of her pocket and Evena sent her another message.

"I don't know."

Julia's face twitched, 'Evena, you are more miserable than me. At Sarahst I know who is the father of my child...'

She wanted to make a call to ask, but as Evena said so, she should still be in a state of chaos. Thinking about it, Julia still did not press the confirmation button.

If Evena hadn't sent her the message, Julia would feel that there was an invisible gap between her and Ventrusburg which is between small town and big city.

Julia searched for the address book and accidentally saw the title of the CEO. She Sarahned over and stared at the title for a few minutes.

After thinking for a while, she turned over several times, wondering if she should make a call to Shawn.

She rolled over with the worries and thought she just wanted to ask him how to spend the Mid Autumn Festival? It's not a problem at all? She closed her eyes and pressed them.

A few seconds had passed, but Julia felt that it had been a long time. Just when she was about to decline it, a man finally answered the phone.

Julia's heart sank. It seemed that she hadn't called him except for work. Was it strange?

Although the person at the other end of the line picked up the phone, there was still no sound.

"Hello?" Julia spoke to the phone in a low voice.

"What's up?" Shawn finally opened his mouth.

"Nothing I pressed it wrong..." Upon hearing his cold tone, Julia's voice became lower and her nose twitched.

"Look back." The cold voice was heard again.

Julia was a little stunned and followed his command ob moment, she just wanted to stay quietly, doing nothing.

Suddenly, a ringtone broke the silence.

The ringtone came out of Julia's pocket. She moved her body and took the phone out. When she saw it was from Barbara, she trembled with fear.

She was getting more and more anxious Did mom find she stayed with Shawn?

She hesitated for a moment. She didn't want to answer it, but the ring tone slowly took all her strength away like a death song. Only fear and panic remained in her heart. She finally pressed the answer button.

"Julia, where have you been? Did you get lost?" Barbara asked anxiously.

"No, I just went to see the moon." Julia looked up at Shawn and quickly answered.

On the other side of the phone, Barbara remained silent for a while before she said, "seeing the moon? Come home now. "

"Okay, I know." Julia replied. She still looked at Shawn.

To her surprise, Shawn was looking down at her. His eyes were as cold as ice, as if ice had been hidden behind them for thousands of years. But also like the cold autumn, staring at his eyes, she seemed to see the withered Sarahves flying all over the sky, and a unspeakable melancholy hidden inside.

This look made Julia's heart ache.

“Shawn...” Julia pressed her head against Shawn’s chest and called his name with a very low voice.

“Although you don’t like Noah and your family, they are all your family who have blood relation with you.” Julia said in a calm voice.

She paused and looked up into his eyes. Smiling softly, she said, “so, go home. That is your home.”

That was his home, and her home was here.

“Home?” Hearing that, Shawn curled his lips and sneered with self-mockery.

“My mother died 20 years ago on such a night.” Shawn slightly raised his head and looked far away.

Julia looked a little stunned. She knew that Shawn’s mother had died long time ago, but she didn’t expect that it was twenty years ago.

How old was Shawn at that time?

Chapter 88

Julia was stunned when she saw Shawn. She reminded Shawn’s mother who was an elegant and beautiful woman. Standing in the middle of his parents, Shawn smiled so brightly and innocently, as if all the happiness in the world gathered on him.

But would Shawn still be half as happy as before?

“People always have to look forward.” Julia held Shawn’s hands and looked at him with a serious look.

She didn't know how to comfort him. He looked so strong that he seemed to be able to hold on half the sky and with no need for comfort and care.

With a slight smile, Shawn looked down into Julia's eyes and said indifferently, "I have never forgotten a little about the past."

He didn't forget anything that had happened in the past twenty years.

"But... It's all over, isn't it?" This was the first time for Julia to see Shawn like this, with horrible insistence in his eyes.

At this moment, Julia thought of what Shawn's grandmother had told her. Her grandmother asked her to persuade Shawn not to investigate the cause of his mother's death. At that time, she was not very familiar with Shawn, so she naturally dared not to ask anything about him. Was there really some other reasons for Shawn's mother's death?

"No, everything is not over yet. But it won't take long." The smile on Shawn's lips was as cold as ice. Soon, he would wipe out all the people who had hurt his mother.

A cold light flashed through Shawn's eyes, and his handsome face was tortured by this distorted hatred. Julia looked at him blankly.

Julia had no idea of Shawn's past and she didn't know why there was a resentful expression on his face, but she knew that the hatred should no longer be carried on him.

Twenty years was enough.

"Don't be silly, Shawn." Said Julia with concern.

Hearing that, Shawn was in a daze for a while. He looked at Julia's worried face. For 20 years, Shawn seemed to be softened by this word.

There were someone caring about him, but only Julia's care reached his heart.

"Are you worried about me?" Shawn held up Julia's face, looked at her quietly, and asked softly.

Julia blushed at once, spread her sight but dared not look into his eyes. The bright moonlight was shining on her slightly drunk cheeks, which made her beautiful appearance even more quiet and beautiful and made her lovable.

Shawn's anger was alleviated because of Julia. He held her face in his hands, and gradually, he kissed her. Then he slowly moved his hand to her back and locked her in his arms.

From a gentle kiss to a deep kiss, Julia felt like she could hardly breathe. At that time, Shawn let go of her. But before she could catch her breath, Shawn's lips covered her again, intermittent and sentimental.

Even the bright moonlight was so shy that it hid into the clouds, and the ground sank into a dark shadow.

The romance was interrupted by the ring of Julia's mobile phone. Lying in Shawn's arms, Julia was panting. Her cheeks had already turned red, and her lips were tingling. Her bo to come in, and he even mind climbing through the window?

"Then what do you want?" Julia rolled her eyes at Shawn.

Shawn hold Julia's hand and led her to Able 's Flower Shop directly. Julia's heart skipped a beat. Was he going to tell the truth to her mother? Julia stood rooted to the spot and dared not to move.

"You had promised me that you wouldn't tell my mother about it." Julia looked up at Shawn and said in a panic.

The man also stopped and stared at Julia with his brows twisted up.

“How about it that I am going to get my mom away and you can come in from the gate?” Julia compromised.

Since Shawn was in a bad mood tonight, it didn't matter that she listened to him. The person who was in a bad mood was the most.

Julia then turned her face to the direction of Shawn again. Hearing Julia's endless chatter, Shawn frowned, then bent over and kissed her.

Julia was shocked and pushed Shawn away in a hurry. She turned around and looked over to Able 's Flower Shop. Luckily, her mother was not there.

Julia felt relieved and couldn't help but shoot a reproachful glance at Shawn. But she was so cute in the eyes of Shawn.

“Be on the alert. Mom is still at home!” Julia raised her eyebrows, looked at him and said.

Shawn lifted his eyebrows.

Julia coughed and immediately sneaked towards the Able 's Flower Shop.

“Luo's Flower Shop.”

Julia cautiously knocked on the door and entered the room. Seeing that Barbara was looking after the flowers in the shop, Julia tiptoed to her and looked at her who was bending over her waist and her hair was grey.

Though Julia had been working very hard since she was a child to ease her mother's burden, and after going to college, she didn't need her mother's money anymore, her mother has still suffered a lot over these years.

Julia asked Barbara ran the flower shop after she went to college. In order to pay Julia's tuition fees, Barbara did several jobs every day. Since Julia made her own money, she wanted her mother to be more relaxed.

Chapter 89

"Mom, I'm back," Julia called Barbara.

Barbara looked back at once, took off her gloves and smiled to Julia, pushing her into the inner room, "Come to dinner. I thought you got lost."

"How is that possible? I can even find my home with my eyes closed." Julia rolled her eyes at Barbara and raised her nose proudly.

With a flattering smile, Barbara replied, "I know you have good sense of direction. Go to wash your hands."

"Mom, could you go to the washroom with me?" Julia held Barbara's arm and acted like a spoiled child.

"Why bother accompanying you?" Barbara remained unmoved.

"Come on, let's go." Without any hesitation, Julia dragged Barbara into the bathroom and quickly closed the door.

Barbara looked at Julia strangely. Julia laughed, took Barbara's hands and said, "Mom, your hands looks so beautiful. They haven't been old for these years. "

Julia was the best at flattering people and no one could match him.

But who didn't like to be flattered?

Barbara smiled and poked at Julia's forehead gently, "You are just good at sweet talking."

"I'm telling the truth. If you don't believe me just forget it." Julia pretended to be angry and turned her face aside.

'She has never changed who is always her favorite daughter, ' Barbara thought, shaking her head.

Julia chatted with Barbara for a long time. Julia thought Shawn was already in and then she walked out with Barbara.

Barbara prepared a hearty meal because it was Mid-Autumn Festival and even Julia had gone back. When Julia saw the dishes on the table, she was not irritated at all. Indeed, delicious food was the best medicine to heal people's hearts.

Seeing that Julia was so happy, Barbara felt relaxed and lifted the corners of her mouth.

They seemed to have reached a tacit agreement not to mention anything about the Lis, and even ignored the blind date. All they talked about was only something insignificant while eating.

After dinner, Julia and Barbara took small chairs to the roof to enjoy the moonlight.

It has been so long that Julia almost forgot when they last saw the moon together. But Julia still remembered the stupid night when her parents and her slept in the forest.

At that time, Julia had just Sarahrned a passage about forest. She liked forest very much. After coming back home, she talked to Noah about it. Noah immediately prepared the tools and took her and her mother to the next forest for a night.

And then this experience became Julia's asset to show off.

Thinking of Noah, Julia couldn't help thinking of Shawn. She didn't know if he would come out to dinner. But as far as Shawn's character is concerned, if she didn't serve him, he wouldn't eat.

He would rather starve to death than lose his dignity. Damn it.

The more she thought about it, the more uneasy she was. Julia stood up and smiled, "Mom, I'm getting some fruit here."

Barbara looked at the plate of fruit in confusion, but she sti to vent her emotions. She had written down all the unhappy things on it.

Julia also wrote how Shawn bullied her in her diary. When she thought of it, Julia's blushed and hid in Shawn's arms, not willing to Sarahve.

'En... She seemed to have written that she liked Shawn.

"You mustn't read my diary again." Julia raised her head and threatened Shawn.

But her tone was soft. There was no threat at all. Instead, there was a bit of girlish charm in her tone.

"Well, I'll tell you before I read it." Shawn nodded.

His smiling face made Julia feel stuffy in her chest. She lowered her head and beat his chest from time to time.

'There was no future between them.'

This thought made Julia feel inexplicably sad.

“Have you eaten yet?” Asked Julia.

“Yes, I have.” Answered Shawn.

Julia turned her head and took a look at the dishes. The dishes was still there. She struggled away from his arm and jumped out of the bed. “They are all here.”

Looking down at his empty arms, Shawn thought, ‘Since when did he get the feeling of being infatuated with the lovely girl in his arms?’

“You should eat more.” Julia was sitting in front of Shawn and coaxing him to eat with a frown.

The next second, Shawn opened his mouth and waited for her service.

As the saying goes, a man’s lust is aroused after eating. After dinner, Julia was thrown on the bed by this overbearing man and then was eaten up by him.

This time, the action of Shawn was very light and gentle. After a long time, the man on her body slowed down.

Julia’s eyes were still closed, daring not look at their bodies or at him. But she knew cSarahrly what happened to Shawn including his tolerance, his desire, everything about him.

‘It was so obvious that he loved her so much that he had ignored all the pain she had suffered.

Such a man... How could she not love him?’ Julia was in Shawn’s arms and couldn’t help grinning. She felt so happy

Chapter 90

After that, Julia's face went red and she curled up in the man's arms. Evena was right. Men were creatures thinking with their lower bodies.

"Kitten, you are so delicious." Shawn licked her ear gently and smiled.

Hearing what he said, Julia didn't dare to raise her head. She pinched his waist with her hands but failed to threaten him.

After the intense exercise, Julia felt weak all over, and at the same time, she was sleepy. She closed her eyes slightly and sank into his arms. There was always a sense of safety in his arms, which made her feel peaceful and somewhat greedy.

Shawn lowered his head and kissed the little woman in his arms. And his sad emotion gradually disappear.

"Kitten, I'm Sarahving." In a daze, Julia seemed to hear someone talking.

The side of her body was a little restless, and the warm feeling was drew away from her. Julia suddenly opened her eyes and saw him slowly putting on his clothes. Julia blushed and shrank into the quilt again.

Sensing that the person behind her had woken up, Shawn smiled and hugged her in his arms, then took her clothes and put them on her one by one.

Julia rubbed her eyes and looked at the half bright sky, wondering why he was in a hurry to Sarahve.

"Are you going back?" Julia asked gloomily.

"Yes." Shawn kissed her lips affectionately. He had to go back.

"Remember to call me or text me when you get back." Julia raised her head and said in a low voice.

“Okay.” Answered Shawn.

Julia smiled, rested her chin on his shoulder, put her arms around his waist and closed her eyes again.

Looking at the little woman who was in a daze, Shawn put her gently on the bed, bent over and kissed her lips. After a long time, he opened the door and went out.

It was not until noon when Barbara knocked on the door that Julia woke up in a daze.

“Shawn?” Julia shouted, but she didn’t hear any reply. She stared blankly at her fully dressed clothes. Was what happened last night just a dream?

But the messy quilt reminded her that it was not a dream and that Shawn did come here.

She rubbed her forehead and sat up. Then she saw her diary on the bedside table.

Shawn was absolutely a peeping maniac, and he was peeping so blatantly. Julia snorted, picked up the diary and read it for a while.

He found that the diary had some changes. Shawn’s name was added to the first page of the diary, and on the last page, it was written by Shawn. He wrote down what happened yesterday. It was a short sentence.

I was with kitten in this Mid-Autumn Festival, the railway is long, the moon is beautiful, and I was happy.

The signature was Shawn.

Julia couldn't help laughing. She didn't know whether Shawn's expression was emotionless or smiling when he wrote these words. But it was enough for him to be in a good mood.

Julia thought for a while and added the last sentence after the note written by Shawn.

" Julia was confused.

"Of course we don't know that much. It's just that we were classmates with Steve and there is a rumor that the boy might become the successor of the Simon Family." Said Nina.

When she was saying, Julia couldn't hear what she said, and only the image that reminded her was Ryan's disabled leg. Although Lola had said that Ryan had changed and she didn't trust Ryan anymore, Julia still couldn't forget Ryan's elegance as a professor.

He was such a good man.

"Julia, are you still there?" Nina showed it to her.

Julia regained her composure at once and smiled apologetically, "sorry, I was out of my mind."

"I'm just wondering why you don't have a boyfriend now since you are a good girl." Asked Nina with doubts.

After a pause, Nina asked, "do you have two boyfriends at the same time?"

Julia was stunned and quickly smiled: "how is that possible? I don't have a boyfriend. " When she said this, Julia felt a little guilty. Shawn was her married husband, not her boyfriend.

'well, a husband seems to be more than a boyfriend.

“All right, all right. I’m kidding. Good luck tonight.” Nina smiled.

“Well...” For a while, Julia didn’t know how to reply. She would rather have so many problems tonight that she wouldn’t need any blind dates.

“I have to go back to my shop to deal with the business. Come to my shop more often, ” Nina stood up.

Julia also stood up and took Nina’s kid’s hand. She smiled and said, “Okay, I’ll go and take a look when I have time.”

After some more greetings, Nina left.

“She is already a mother of two children at such a young age. Why are you so disappointing?” Watching Nina walk away, Barbara turned around to lecture her daughter.

Ever since her childhood, her mother had never objected to her falling in love, even her early love, but unfortunately, Julia was sensible and knew what she should do, so she had never been involved in such things.
