

Chapter 469

He didn't speak, he raised his arms around her and came to the study, took out a card from the drawer and handed it to her: "There are five million in it, and the password is your birthday."

Suzi: "...Fifty thousand is enough, I can't use that much."

"This was originally to compensate you." This card was still six years ago, after his mother Shanna passed away, he took out the card to pay to Suzi, but Suzi rejected it.

Compensate her?

Because after Siu plays with her, or insults her, will it be very unbearable? So he compensated her with five million in advance here?

Also good.

As long as she is not killed, she can immediately return to her hometown to visit her mother with the five million.

Suzi immediately caught it: "Yeah." After he finished speaking, he took the card and turned back.

But the man held her waist behind him: "Isn't there any gratitude to me for giving you such a thick gift?"

Suzi snuggled against his chest, with a very light tone: "The only one who is still playing in the toy room, go and coax her, I will put the card in, and wait for the only one to sleep..."

She didn't finish her words, but her face turned red.

The man chuckled his lips and smiled, while holding her waist and forcing her to get close to him, he slapped her soft lips quickly.

Then I went to the toy room to accompany my daughter.

The man took his daughter downstairs and walked twice, and Suzi responded to several parents in the group. Lilly's mother: I will hand in 50,000 yuan tomorrow morning. I'm sorry, I will read any news in the group in time.

After closing the line, Suzi went to the bathroom.

If life and death are unpredictable tomorrow, then she should relax and take a bath to make herself more comfortable.

After running for a long time in the bath, she also made a beauty mask on her face. She also admired herself in the mirror before coming out of the bathroom wrapped in a bath towel.

He opened the door and saw Arron waiting for her outside the bathroom.

This night, the man was walking around.

The next morning, the man took the morning flight at 6:30 to Kyoto, and at 6:30, Suzi was still asleep.

Early in the morning, it was the only kid from Shen who kept patting his mother's door outside and awakened Suzi.

When Suzi woke up, she felt like she fell apart. Turning her head to see that the man was no longer in the bedroom, she hurried out, the only one who followed her mother like a little tail, and said mysteriously to Suzi: " Mom, mom, guess what did my dad do?"

Suzi pretended to be ignorant and asked Lilly: "Mom doesn't know, does the only one know?"

Lilly smiled triumphantly: "Of course I know!"

At this moment, Suzi's cell phone rang, she picked it up and saw that it was an unfamiliar number, and then connected: "Hello, who?"

An unfamiliar and familiar voice came from the other end of the phone: "Suzi, if you dare to come to work at the company today, I will get you out if you hide in the mouse hole! Then don't blame me for being rude to you!"

That tone was very relaxed and confident with pride.

Suzi's heart shrank: "Are you...Siu?"

Chapter 470

At the other end, Siu's tone is very leisurely: "Oh, Suzi, you are quite familiar with each other. I only spoke to me once yesterday, and you can tell who I am. I said that since you are so familiar with each other. , Since as early as six years ago you were able to connect the upper-class brothers in Nancheng together and try to make them a brother-in-law, why do you have to put big heads of garlic on the big star of Ivy, like a peacock with a flowery butt? ?"

Siu has a lot of scolding tricks.

Suzi was indifferent: "I will go to work on time, let's talk about it when I go to work!"

After speaking, he hung up.

The daughter is next to her, and she doesn't want the only one to hear her conflict with anyone.

She only squatted down and looked at Lilly gently: "Tell mom, what did your father do?"

Shen Wei said triumphantly: "My dad will be back after a business trip for several days. You don't know, mom."

Suzi shook his head: "Mom doesn't know, so how does she know?"

The only thing I became more proud of: "Dad told me last night that he said that I will take good care of my mother these days. If my mother loves to sleep late, she must remember to tell her to get up on time. Dad also asked me to give her a bunch of car keys."

After speaking, Shen Only handed the key to Suzi.

Suzi recognized that this was the car key of the car that Arron bought for her a while ago.

There are mixed flavors in her heart.

Lilly said again: "Dad said that these days, let my mother send the only one to kindergarten. My father went to Kyoto to buy me toys. I will have a lot of new toys in a few days."

Suzi smiled and said, "Congratulations on the only new toy to play with again." After dinner, when Suzi changed clothes, she felt like she was falling apart again. Standing in the cloakroom, she was just like the previous ones. Tian like that, I chose a casual loose jeans and cotton shirt to wear. This outfit looks ordinary and plain.

However, Suzi feels that for her physical condition today, wearing comfort is the most important thing.

When I went out and saw the car, Suzi realized that Arron was the only one to drive her to kindergarten, but today I feel sore everywhere. Isn't it suitable for driving, let alone a novice driver?

For the safety of himself and the only one, Suzi decided to take a bus.

Lilly doesn't matter. For the only one, the only way to go to kindergarten in Quxian County is that her mother drives a battery car to send her to kindergarten every day. Now she comes to the big city and is her father's private car every day. She hadn't really taken a bus to see her. The only person looking around was very excited. When she got off the bus at the bus stop near the kindergarten, Lilly saw Susan who had just got off the bus.

Lilly screamed happily: "Susan, Susan!"

Susan also saw the only one. She held her mother's hand and waited for the one.

Lilly looked at Suzi happily: "Mom, Susan is the best to me. I will give Susan half of the toys my dad bought from Kyoto. Do you agree with me?"

Suzi smiled and said: "The toy is yours. It is your own right to give it to anyone. Of course, my mother agreed."

Seeing that his daughter was happy, Suzi made up his mind to attend the small parent party.

Although Suzi felt that it was definitely wrong for a small group to unite to exclude a poor mother, Suzi also didn't want her baby alone. She didn't know where she would go next, so she had to consider the only problem of adaptation.

However, Suzi also decided in her heart that she would only participate in small gatherings, but she would never participate in squeezing out the poor mother.

Leading Lilly, Suzi came to Susan and Susan's mother. She yelled and said with a smile: "Susan, I brought 50,000 yuan today. Are we going to hand over the expenses to the group owner? Or what? Get it?"

Susan's mother looked at Suzi up and down, and stopped talking.
