

Chapter 731

"What? Your father used Bai Dayou to coerce you into marrying someone from one of stampo's powerful families?"

"What an age it is, your Bai family is also a powerful family in the capital city, not worried about food and drink, and some famous people know each other, they can't even afford to flatter each other, and they are still not ambitious enough."

Somewhere under the cherry blossom tree at the shrine, Qin Ming listened to Bai Yuchun's complaint and sort of understood.

Bai Dayou had gotten a hint from Qin Ming earlier and had approached Bai Yuchun again, explicitly and implicitly helping Bai Yuchun against her real big brother, Bai Jingchen.

Naturally, Bai Dayou, a cheap brother who had not even finished high school, was unable to fight Bai Jingchen, and after he spoiled Bai Jingchen's marriage several times, Bai Jingchen found someone to beat up Bai Dayou and his wife, and has been hospitalized for a week.

The family has been in hospital for a week now. Because of Qin Ming's troubles with the Bai family and the Zhao family, the celebrities in Beijing are all on edge, so how can they be in the mood to marry the declining Bai family?

Bai Jingchen's father and son thought about looking for other powerful families in other countries, and this search led them to the stampo side.

If Bai Yuchun did not agree, Bai Dayou's hospital expenses would be cut off immediately, and Bai Dayou would probably be in danger of dying.

Biting her lip and clenching her fist, Bai Yuchun said, "It's all because I'm useless, my entire savings, which only amounted to tens of thousands of dollars, were not enough to hospitalise my brother him."

Qin Ming asked, "So, in order to save Bai Dayou, you could only agree to come on a blind date?"

Bai Yuchun nodded, "That couldn't be helped, although she used to hate brother, but I have lived with him for twenty years after all, brother, apart from being greedy for money and gambling, actually treated me quite well. Now that he has changed his bad habits and helped me a few times, I can't bear to see him die like this even more, because sister-in-law she is pregnant."

Qin Ming's mind recalled the sarcastic sister-in-law Bai and thought to himself how quickly time had passed.

Qin Ming said, "Such a father and brother, it's better not to have them."

"Eh?" Bai Yuchun was stunned, why did Qin Ming suddenly say that?

Qin Ming said, "Pure, originally you, too, were following your mother's hard life, relying on your daily part-time job to still support that pair of money-hungry brother and sister-in-law. You were actually quite capable you know? Now that your mother is gone and your Bai Dayou has reformed, you can work on your own if you finish university, how easy it is to support yourself. Why still listen to Bai Jingting and the others?"

"But they are my family after all." Bai Yuchun hesitated, "Blood is thicker than water."

Qin Ming thought of his own situation, how similar!

He said indifferently, "It's true that blood is thicker than water, but if they treat you badly, what's the difference between that and an enemy? Now they are already wrong to force you to marry a gentry's son without regard to your thoughts. You have to learn to resist."

Suddenly, a group of black-clad men surrounded the two men, and a familiar voice was heard in the crowd, "Oh yah! Have you abetted your little sister like that? Zhao Zhengyin or, should I call you Qin Ming?"

The man in black moved out of the way and it was none other than Bai Jingchen, who had not seen him for many days.

Qin Ming raised his head and said, "I am Qin Ming, Bai Yuchun's friend."

Bai Jingchen said, "I have heard that the Zhao family has a lost son who looks exactly like Zhao Zhengting. You are, aren't you? With your aura and eyes, you were the one who made me go out and disgrace myself a few times in the capital city a few months ago, and played some kind of divine magic trick to deceive people, weren't you?"

Qin Ming chuckled, "Oh, when you say a divine miracle like the gold-dotting hand, that's not fake, that's real, that's my banknote ability. You can try again if you don't believe me."

Bai Jingchen shouted angrily, "That's enough, I'm not here to talk nonsense to you. You needn't instil any strange ideas into my sister. Xiaochun, come here."

Saying that, Bai Jingchen tugged Bai Yuchun over and said, "Dad is worried about you, don't run around. When you meet these unscrupulous people, do you think he will really want to help you? He just craves your body, he's cheap, he's not that wastrel Zhao Zhengyin, this guy has sinister intentions."

Qin Ming said with displeasure, "Watch your mouth, Bai Jingchen."

Instead of restraining himself, Bai Jingchen became even more arrogant and said, "Hmph, what? Do you want to make a move here? Have you asked my friend?"

As soon as the words left his mouth, several bodyguards around Bai Jingchen immediately stepped forward to block Qin Ming.

A man at the head of the group spoke broken English and warned, "Kid, behave yourself, no matter how powerful you are in China, this is stampo."

Qin Ming was stunned, surprisingly it was not the Bai family's own bodyguards, it was probably the Bai family's intended marriage partner.

The corner of Qin Ming's mouth lifted as he said, "Just four or five of you and you think you can take me down?"

"Then you can try." Among the four men, a man of medium stature suddenly pulled out the wooden knife at his waist.

A flash of knife shadow came towards Qin Ming to kill him, his heart instantly ruptured and his breathing stopped.

But in a flash, Qin Ming regained consciousness, but the wooden knife had already reached his head. Before he understood what that strange illusion was about, he immediately retreated, but behind him was a cherry tree, so he could not retreat and fell straight to the ground.

The man with the wooden sword stopped his sword and scoffed, "What a non-starter, a Chinese martial artist."

The man who spoke was fluent in Chinese.

Qin Ming was stunned, "How can you tell?"

The man with the wooden sword said, "Because I have killed many of your Chinese people, hahaha, they are all practitioners of martial arts like you."

Qin Ming said, "Then do you think I will be afraid? You may not be able to eat me."

In this stall of speech, Bai Jingchen had already pulled Bai Yuchun away.

When the man with the wooden sword saw the way Qin Ming stood up and wanted to continue, he said in a cold voice, "Hey hey hey, what a terrible expression. But are you going to continue? It's New Year, so many tourists are here to worship the shrine, and you have to see blood? We are from the Toei Society, and I don't know what your relationship with that little sister is, but she will be our young master's fiancée. If you don't like it, come and rob someone."

With that, the man with the wooden sword dropped a wooden token, a maple leaf symbol, an image used by some powerful families on this side of stampo to pass on their heritage, symbolising a certain family.

Qin Ming picked up the wooden plaque, now that he knew who the other party was, there was no hurry.

Moreover, this person from the East Anglian Society did not know him, so he was really lucky.

Qin Ming was about to go back when suddenly his mobile phone rang, and just as he picked up, he heard a gunshot sound.

Jiang Chengwu said urgently, "Hey, young master, are you alright? We've been attacked, Mr. Inoue's men are wounded and we're on the run."

Qin Ming asked, "Have you figured out who it was?"

Jiang Chengwu said, "It was some betrayed members of the Dark Ministry and spies that Chang Jun Dong had planted in Stampo."

Qin Ming responded, "Tsk, tsk, tsk, the trail was exposed last night, and there was nothing that could be done about it."

Qin Ming looked around, it was all travellers and there was nothing sensitive to see, he added, "I'm fine now, you guys go to the industrial area on the east side, there are less people, hold on until I get there, I'll kill them all."