

Chapter 191

Darius: "It's not because of sister-in-law..."

"What's the matter with your little aunt! That woman is just one or two points like your little aunt, you said Suzi looks like your little aunt, I also said that Arron's fiancée Lanita looks like your little aunt!" The old man wanted to kick his grandson again angrily.

"Lin what?" Shu Qinggong asked his father.

Elder Shu sighed and said: "You also know that Arron is cruel and never procrastinates in doing things. When he came back, the Lin family helped him a lot.

Especially the daughter of Jarod, Lanita, actually used her body to help Arron. At the moment of Arron's crisis, Lanita gave her daughter's body. Because of this, she was pregnant with Arron's child.

Although Arron was cruel, he was a very responsible man. Of course, he did not want his child and the child's mother to suffer the sufferings his mother had suffered.

I can also see that he doesn't love Lanita.

However, if you don't love it anymore, it's the Fu family's business. A Zhen, you said why you were bewitched by that Suzi to disrupt Arron's wedding!

Ah! You are crazy!

Tell me now, where did Suzi go? She must be responsible for her troubles!

Where is Suzi hiding? "

"Dad, Dad!" Shu Qinggong heard it and now finally understood it, it turned out that Arron was married.

And he was married to Lanita, the daughter of the Lin family.

"Dad, you said... Arron was married to Jarod's daughter? Lanita?" Shu Qinggong asked excitedly.

"What's the matter?" Elder Shu looked at his son. "We searched for the whereabouts of my little sister for three months. It was not that we had no gain. We inquired about a factory where the little sister used to work. Once fell in love with a man named Lin, Jarod."

"Jarod?" Elder Shu was stunned.

"Jarod is also from Yuncheng, Dad, didn't you just say that Lanita is also a bit like my little aunt?" Shu Qinggong asked Elder Shu.

Elder Shu: "..."

"Will it..." Shu Qinggong said halfway.

Darius behind him: "..."

In this world, there is such a coincidence? Lanita is sister-in-law's daughter?

No!

Darius did not want to see such a fact.

He didn't want Lanita to be the granddaughter of the Shu family. Although Darius didn't know Lanita very much, he was the only one who had seen Lanita a few times, and his impression of Lanita was bad every time.

Hearing the news, Elder Shu didn't have any thoughts for a while to discipline Darius, but instead put all his thoughts on Jarod. The old man and his son-in-law discussed this matter in the hall.

Darius took the opportunity to dial Sanford's mobile phone number again.

If he remembers correctly, Suzi is the adopted daughter of the Lin family.

Suzi and my aunt are very similar, and Suzi is the adopted daughter of the Lin family, and Jarod and my aunt have been in love?

Why is it such a coincidence?

The phone was dialed, and the other end was turned off.

Chapter 192

At the other end, Suzi, who was in the small town, had already turned off his mobile phone.

It was Sanford who made Suzi shut down.

After Suzi talked with Darius on the phone for the first time, he went to a telephone booth and called the 120th emergency center. The ambulance came quickly. When he moved Sanford to the ambulance, Sanford woke up from a coma. .

Seeing Suzi crying like a man in tears, Sanford asked in the first sentence: "Suzi, don't cry, don't be sad, I won't die."

Suzi nodded: "Sanford, thank you for risking your death to save me. Just now Shu Shao called. Shu Shao said... Arron is looking for us everywhere. I ruined his wedding. He will definitely not let me go, since the big truck didn't hit me to death, he must have another way to let me die. Thank you, Sanford, maybe you will be troubled by me too, I'm sorry..."

Sanford frowned, "What did you say? Darius called?"

Suzi nodded: "What's the matter?"

"Shut down! Shut down immediately, don't answer anyone's calls in the future, everything in Yuncheng has nothing to do with us, understand? Everything in Yuncheng has nothing to do with us! Shut down!" Sanford weakly and very anxiously instructed Suzi .

Suzi's tears flowed more fiercely: "But...your parents..."

Sanford smiled weakly: "Don't worry, I still know something about Arron. Although Arron is fierce, he never kills innocent people indiscriminately. My parents have never offended him, and he is downhearted with Arron and Aunt Shanna. At the time, my parents had helped them, and because my parents had helped them, our Xu family was severely suppressed by Fu Shaocong.

Otherwise, the Xu family wouldn't be so in decline.

So Arron wouldn't do anything to my parents. "

Sanford almost exhausted all of his energy when he said this. He still had a high fever, and his injured left hand had turned black and purple. Although it did not bleed, it was swollen like a dirty big steamed bun.

And the wound was severely ulcerated.

"Stop talking Sanford, debridement is important first."

The ambulance took Sanford to the hospital and pushed him to the emergency room, first to reduce his fever, and then to clean up a large area of necrosis and ulceration in his palms, and then bandage the wound. The doctor spent seven or eight hours. Although it was a small hand wound with less than ten centimeters in the scratched area, it was considered a major operation due to the long delay.

Sanford only came out of the high-risk operating room the next morning. His entire hand was bandaged, his fever had gone down, and his face was extremely pale.

Suzi smiled comfortingly: "Sanford, the doctor said that your hands are fine, and you will be better after a few days in the hospital. Thank you."

"The phone is not turned on?" Sanford asked.

"No." Suzi said.

"Throw away the phone. My number will never be used again. When I am discharged from the hospital, we will buy a house in a hidden place in the suburbs of the county seat for you to live in, and have a good fetus." Sanford looked at Suzi gently. , Said.

Suzi suddenly cried: "Sanford, in fact...I don't know you very much, and I still don't understand why you are so good to me?"

"Afraid? Afraid that I would play you like Joan?" Sanford asked with a smile.

Suzi did not speak, she was indeed upset.

Sanford sighed: "You should be afraid.

But I will not.

I saw with my own eyes how you took care of Arron's mother for two months. That filial piety was not a pretense.

I also saw with my own eyes that you are diligent and diligent when you work in the design company, and your hard work on the construction site is not afraid of dirty and tired.

I even saw your return to Joan with my own eyes.

Meeting you is the blessing that Joan has cultivated for eight lifetimes, but he himself doesn't know how to cherish you.

It was Joan who was blind. "

Suzi: "... " She didn't know what to say. But after thinking about it, she still said: "Actually, I don't love Joan. I knew from the beginning that he was playing with me. The reason why I was so sincere to him is because he is the person next to me. In, the only man who gave me a beam of light, I wanted to treat him sincerely.
