

Chapter 293

Along the way, Christopher drove, but Arron was silent.

It made Shen only want to say a few words to him, and wanted to ask him, who was the pair of old men and old ladies that I saw early in the morning, and who was the older old man in the hospital bed?

Seeing the bad guys always keep silent, Lilly had no choice but to keep silent.

Arron was thinking about something.

At eleven o'clock this morning, just after the meeting in the company, Arron received a call from his father Fu Zhengxiong.

"Dad? What's the matter?" Arron asked coldly.

"Arron, you can't let that child go!" Fu Zhengxiong said at the other end.

Arron sneered: "My own child, do I want or not, do you think you are asking me?"

Fu Zhengxiong's tone suddenly eased: "Arron! Dad knows that Dad doesn't have much weight with you, but Dad told you with my own lesson that I was sorry for you back then, sorry for your mother, and let you live abroad and suffer. For many years.

However, I also have difficulties.

The huge Fu family business can't be ruled out at all. If everyone wants to be in power, then the family business will have to fail.

However, even if you and your mother were exiled so far, you still came back, and in that capacity, you seized the power of the Fu Group.

This allows Dad to see a fact clearly.

What illegitimate child is not illegitimate child? They are all children of the Fu family, and as long as they are children of the Fu family, those who are able are superior.

There is no such thing as illegitimate or illegitimate life.

When you took that child to the hospital to visit your grandfather this morning, I saw the child with my own eyes.

Although she is a little girl, she has the same unyielding look in her eyes. That child is a very difficult child to tame. If you don't want her now, you don't even want to give her a surname, don't you be afraid that she will grow up in the future Do you resent you too much? Like you resent me now?

Dad is your only son, and Dad treats you well.

You can disregard the child's mother, but the child is your own flesh and blood. You can't throw it away!

I discussed with your aunt and your grandparents that the child must be surnamed Fu and brought back to the old house to raise. There are many servants and nurses in the old house, so that the child can be raised better. "

Arron: "..."

At the other end, Fu Zhengxiong's voice was slightly older: "Qin'er, your grandparents are almost 90 years old, and my father and I are also over 60 years old. In the big old house, we live four old people, one under the knee. Without children and grandchildren, is your heart so hard that you don't feel sorry for us at all?

The child is your daughter.

But, isn't it our granddaughter? "

Arron raised his eyes and looked at the front of the car. The car had reached the door of his house. He paused and said to the phone, "I see."

The line was closed, and the door was opened wide, and Arron hugged Lilly out of the car.

When taking her hand into the elevator, Arron asked, "The only thing, the grandpa, grandpa and grandma I saw this morning, do you like them?"

Lilly raised his eyes to look at Arron, his eyes blinked, and after thinking about it: "I don't hate the old grandfather and grandfather on the hospital bed. I don't like that grandma very much, it's fierce."

Arron sneered.

That is!

Both grandpa and grandpa are related to you by blood, grandma has nothing to do with you, and you are quite clear about the points.

Lilly asked again: "Who are they?"

Arron didn't answer Lilly, he only took the key to open the house.

The door opened, and Suzi waited outside. Seeing Arron and Lilly coming in, Suzi immediately said, "You...finally came back. I have something to discuss with you."

Chapter 294

Arron asked while changing shoes, "What's the matter?"

Here, Arron held the hand of Lilly, who had already plunged into Suzi's arms, and said excitedly: "Mom, I met two old men today, and an old lady. The old lady is a little bit fierce, and so does the small old man. A little bit fierce, but the old man sleeping on the bed is not fierce. I defeated the old man!"

Suzi immediately thought of who Shen was talking about.

She looked at Arron puzzled: "You took the only one to visit the hospital...your grandfather went?"

Arron did not answer Suzi's question, but calmly asked Suzi: "Aren't you having something to discuss with me?"

Suzi bit his lip and asked, "You have actually admitted in your heart that the only daughter is yours, right?"

Yeah!

The brain is not all stupid yet!

Arron glanced at Suzi, "What are you going to discuss with me?"

With that said, he had led Lilly to wash his hands in the bathroom, but then he came out and sat at the dining table.

Sister Li, who is in charge of today's dinner, is just the same serving dishes to the table.

Li's cooking skills are very good, and attentive, because knowing that the child will eat at home during dinner, she deliberately made a corn brand for Shen only.

It is cooked with fresh tender corn in a pot, then the starch is stirred evenly, then oiled, the fried golden and crispy, top with salad and tomato sauce.

"Wow!" Lilly, who came from a small remote county town, was the first to eat corn. Seeing that golden color, full and crisp corn kernels, heart-shaped salad, tomato sauce, Shen's only pleasant saliva flowed out.

Seeing the only one who was so happy, Li's wife said: "Mrs., when the little princess is growing up, your family of three will eat first. After the meal, I will cut some fruit for you, and the three of your family will sit on the sofa and talk. Isn't it better?"

Suzi gratefully looked at Sister Li, who was indeed a competent all-round domestic helper. Only, are they a family of three?

Suzi had such a flash of fantasy thought in her heart, but she herself thought it was ridiculous.

Suzi said gently: "Thank you Li Sao."

Sister Li retired respectfully, and only three people, Arron, Suzi, were left on the table.

"Mom, cut it for me quickly." Lilly said impatiently.

The little girl beat her grandfather violently early in the morning and used a lot of physical strength. When she arrived in the kindergarten, she played crazy with the children for another day, which would make her feel hungry.

Suzi took the knife and fork, and slightly sliced the corn to Lilly, who stretched out his paw and took a piece of it and put it in his mouth.

"Be careful!" The man sitting on the left immediately pinched Shen's only small paw, branded the corn in her hand, and took the napkin next to it and folded it to fan the corn.

Here, Suzi also took out a paper towel and wiped the sole mouth, fearing that the sole would be hot.

Two people, one on the left and the other busy.

A piece of corn fan in Arron's hand was not hot anymore, and he sent it to Lilly's mouth. Lilly took a bite. It was crispy, sweet but not greasy, with a sour salad and sweet and sour tomato flavor.

It's delicious!

Both round eyes of the little girl smiled and turned into two crescent moons.

The corners of her smiling lips were dripping with tomato juice.

Suzi quickly drew a tissue to wipe the mouth of the only one.

"It's delicious, it's delicious, Dad, I still want to eat it." Lilly blurted out.

Arron hurriedly took another piece and was about to give it to the only mouth, but Suzi smiled and said, "You fan her, go to the heat, and then give it to her. The child can't eat it too hot."
