

Chapter 309

That's not right!

Don't you always say that there is no overnight feud between husband and wife?

He Christopher, an unmarried bachelor knows this reason.

Or, last night, Madam didn't even want Master to get close?

While Christopher was making wild guesses about gossip, Lilly stared at Christopher with his squishy eyes: "Uncle Yan, who is the madam?"

Christopher: "It's your mother!"

After speaking, Christopher looked at Arron again: "Four Lord, is the madam still packing up there?"

It is true that women are more troublesome to go out.

As soon as Christopher's voice fell, he heard the father and daughter speaking in unison.

"She is not rare to go to the old house!"

"My badass dad won't let my mom follow!"

Christopher: "..."

Okay!

He was very aware of the current affairs and shut up, then opened the door for the father and daughter to get them in the car, and then he sat in the front and drove.

No words on the way.

Instead of going directly to the old house, the car went to the dress shop that Arron went to a few days ago. The dresses in the shop were made by Arron when he received a call from the old house asking him to go back with the child. Of. The store manager told Arron: "A big red mother and daughter suit came in the store, which is very beautiful."

However, it is not used anymore.

When Arron looked at the five-year-old Lilly wearing a big red tutu, his eyes lit up.

It's his own daughter after all.

That noble, cold and slightly mischievous look. Not to her mother in the slightest, it's worse.

After changing the dresses, Arron also gave the little girl a stack of regular clothes. For fear that she would no longer be bound to wear skirts at the family banquet, Arron bought all the clothes for her.

The father and daughter took the car again and went straight to the old house.

When they arrived outside the gate of the old house, they found that there were no less than twenty or thirty cars parked outside the gate.

What are the old man, father and aunt doing? Is it possible to entertain the dignitaries of Jeonnam City and let them take a look at the newly-recovered granddaughter of the Fu family?

Arron's guess was correct.

The old man Fu Hengsheng, his father Fu Zhengxiong and his aunt Qin Wenyu were just like this. Not only this one thought, they also have to clarify things in front of so many people.

However, at this time, Arron still didn't know their thoughts.

Taking Shen Weiwei into the old house step by step, he heard chats in the huge main hall one after another.

"Oh, don't you know, that little girl is very exciting, she is just like Arron when she was a child, and gave me the old man to Doule, this child will be here soon, and you will see them all in a while.

Me, I will call Arron now. "It was Fu Hengsheng, the old man of the Fu family, who was sitting on the main seat and was introducing the great-granddaughter he had just met to the guests.

The guests sitting below looked at each other.

At this moment, Arron also led Lilly to the living room slowly.

Chapter 310

The father and daughter have surprisingly similar faces. The father stands upright and has a well-rounded suit. His whole body exudes an imposing manner of being cold and domineering, but the little dumpling he is holding in his hands is all red, which looks festive and playful. .

His length is only a little bit more fiery red than his knees

At first glance, the red dumplings are very cute.

But if you look closely, it's also unbelievable, looking at everything, a very stinky little appearance.

This kind of father and daughter walked slowly hand in hand, enough to shock the audience.

Just yesterday, the old man Fu Hengsheng called them one by one and asked them to come to the house for a banquet. These rich and powerful people who usually walked with the Fu family had heard of it. Most of them were Arron who captured a woman, and the child next to that woman, and Arron is very similar.

At this moment, seeing that Arron only brought the child back to the old house, but did not bring the woman back. Everyone knew that Arron was a bastard. He had gone through wind and rain to establish his own country, so, He won't just watch his own daughter fall away.

As for the child's mother.

Once in jail, this cannot be changed. The fact that the upper circle of Nancheng was twisted into a pool of sewage cannot be changed. The most important thing is that the woman ruined Arron's wedding ceremony.

This really touched Arron's big troubles.

These Nancheng dignitaries who were invited by Fu Hengsheng here have different thoughts.

Half of them are those who have suppressed Suzi and insulted Suzi in public. They naturally do not want Suzi to appear here. They have to look at Arron's face and act, and the other half are those in Nancheng who intend to marry Arron. The upper-class women who have never had a chance.

In the past, Arron's fiancée was Lanita, but Lanita's grandfather Shu and the Fu family had a good relationship from generation to generation, and he once saved Arron and his mother's life, so that no one dared to talk to Lanita. Rob the man. Even now, no one dares.

In the eyes of the outside world, Lanita is still Arron's fiancée.

However, it will be different after today.

Because Arron had a little princess in his hands.

Just from the eyes of the old man of the Fu family, you can see how important this little princess is in the eyes of the Fu family. If you can serve this little princess well in the future, you might be promoted to Arron's true wife.

How many people here think so, the little princess Lilly doesn't know.

Shen's only eyeball looked at everyone present. They were either jeweled or flamboyant. They all looked at her in unison.

Still looking at her badass dad!

Especially for those women who look like vixen, the look in their father's eyes is very annoying.

Is Dad so good-looking?

Lilly glanced up at the stinky villain in disgust!

It is not difficult to see!

But mom never seemed to look at him directly.

However, even if his mother didn't open her eyes to look at this stinky villain, Lilly couldn't let others take this stinky villain away!
