

Chapter 369

Thinking about it now, it's actually better to go to the construction site and find a technician or something like that.

Although it may be dirty and tiring.

However, people are pure.

Suzi decided that the goal of looking for a job tomorrow would be various construction sites.

Next day

She did not tell Arron about her unemployment. She was afraid that Arron would ask her about the trouble. She didn't want Arron to know that she had only been in the company for two days and had a conflict with others.

Anyway, I don't do that job anymore, not to mention it.

As usual, with Arron, Suzi and Arron drove Lilly to kindergarten first, and then Suzi to the place where Suzi went to work yesterday. When he got off the bus at the place, Arron said to her again: "Get off work early in the evening. Staying in the company, I will take you to learn to drive."

Suzi nodded: "Yeah."

After watching Christopher and Arron go far, Suzi got on a bus. After five or six stops, she got off when she saw an Internet cafe. She spent most of the day in the Internet cafe and invested in several construction sites. As a technician, Suzi took the bus back to the original place.

Wait for Arron there.

Arron arrived very early, and came to pick her up before five o'clock. To see Suzi waiting for him at the intersection, Arron and Christopher were very strange.

"Madam, why did you get off work so early today?" Christopher asked in surprise.

"Um..." Suzi lied: "Well...I went to the construction site today, I didn't have to go back to the company, I'm not here to wait... .."

After speaking, she glanced at Arron.

I blushed somehow. She thought that today Arron would teach her to drive. Wouldn't it be Arron who taught her to drive?

Suzi likes this to the driver who drove in front of him. The lady's face is so thin that she blushes at every turn.

Actually, what Suzi guessed was right. Arron took her to a driving school and greeted the coaches, and saw those coaches waiting outside respectfully, while Arron taught Suzi to drive.

A non-professional driving school coach, even if you are a high-ranking and highly respected chief executive, is still non-professional in teaching driving. The non-professional coach Arron taught Suzi to drive without all theoretical knowledge and directly started driving.

The man sat in the co-pilot and taught Suzi step by step.

But Suzi still doesn't.

She didn't even know where was the clutch, where was the brake, where was the gear, or how to start the engine.

And Suzi was a little afraid of Arron.

"I'm right in front of you, what are you afraid of? If you ask you to drive, you can drive boldly. Driving is not theoretical knowledge, you have learned the skills!" the man said next to him.

Suzi: "..."

Under the pressure of Arron, Suzi finally held the steering wheel and stepped on the accelerator.

That is neither light nor heavy.

'Woo...' The car flew out like an arrow.

The coaches behind him were all dumbfounded.

Suzi was also frightened. The steering wheel was released. She covered her head with her hands, and tied Arron's arms like a cowardly mouse.

Arron: "..."

Chapter 370

Seeing the car speeding forward uncontrollably.

The woman flinched in the arms of the man, crying and screaming, but the man did not panic at all. He clasped Suzi tightly with one arm, and then clenched the steering wheel with the other hand, his thin lips coaxed in Suzi's ear: "Don't Fear, don't be afraid to have me here. Relax under your feet."

Only then did Suzi slowly relax.

At first she did not dare to open her eyes. Gradually, when the man drove the car steadily, she dared to raise her head. The whole person was still flinched in the man's arms. The man put his arm around her and drove the steering wheel with one hand. .

Suzi's heart pounded unconsciously, she could hear her own heartbeat, and her face gradually turned red.

The car drove a long way out.

This is a section of road dedicated to students learning to drive, and there is no one on the road.

Suzi didn't know when the car stopped, let alone when Arron's kiss covered her lips.

She only knew that when she was awake, it was already more than an hour later, her clothes were disheveled and her lips were red.

She was too shy to speak anymore.

However, the man seemed to have nothing happened. He drove the coach back to the driving school yard, and after getting out of the car with Suzi, he saw that Christopher had already picked up Lilly and came to pick them up again.

Seeing her mother blushing, Lilly ran to her mother and commented: "Hate badass dad and mother, you two will hide here and play without me! Humph! Ignore you."

After speaking, the little princess pretended to be angry and ran back into Christopher's car.

Christopher immediately turned around and joked to Shen Wei'er: "Little princess, do you know why your parents came here to play, don't you take you?"

Lilly shook his head, she really knew.

"Because you were not born when your parents were in love," Christopher said.

"Oh, I see." Lilly is a very smart kid.

As soon as the conversation between the two was over, Arron and Suzi had already arrived by the car. Christopher got out of the car and drove. As soon as Suzi and Arron got into the car, Lilly said in a twittering, "Small badass. Dad, you will have a lot of love with mom in the future."

Suzi: "..."

Arron: "..."

Mom and Dad are a little uncomfortable, but the little princess is very happy. If Mom and Dad can fall in love a lot in the future, it means that the things she did in the grandfather's old house have not been done in vain.

Hehe.

This night, the only sensible Shen did not spend too long with her father in the toy room. She pushed her father and asked him to accompany her mother for a while.

At this time, Suzi was washing in the bathroom.

The skin care products on the washstand have been in use for the past two days. They are very easy to use. They are very comfortable to apply on the face. Today she applied a mask to herself again. In 15 minutes, the skin seemed to be full of water. The same.

The water is moisturized, Q bombs, like jelly.

Suzi can feel the changes in his skin.

When Arron came in, she just took off the mask and washed her face. She had just applied the toner, and she looked back and saw Arron.

Arron was also taken aback.

She was beautiful and looked more pure and tender than her peers, he always knew.