

Chapter 397

Help him dress?

Suzi had never helped a man put on clothes in her life. She didn't know where to start. She saw that the man was waiting for her with her arms up. She took out the top of the house clothes and put on his left arm first. Then the right arm was put on both sides, and there was only a button left.

When buttoning the buttons, she had to be close to him, basically she had to be close to him, she could smell from him a breath of clear lines that had just come out of the bath, despite the cold weather now, he has always been Take a cold shower.

However, his skin was hot again.

When the fingertips touched a little bit, she would feel a numb sensation in her fingers, and she immediately retracted in fright, only the first few buttons, but it was particularly difficult for her to buckle.

Especially for the two above, he is 1.9 meters tall. She is not short, but is shorter than him by more than 20 centimeters, so she has to tiptoe to button him. As a result, she could not stand firmly.

Inadvertently, the whole person crashed into his arms.

She realized that it was his hard as iron arm that held her behind her back. She immediately pushed her hands out subconsciously, but the tighter she pushed his hoop.

Before she struggled out, his lips were already covered.

However, at this moment, his cell phone rang.

The phone was in the pile of clothes he took off. When the man heard the phone ringing, a stern and cruel expression flashed across his face, but it just flashed past, and he let Suzi go to answer the phone. .

Suzi took this opportunity and finally escaped.

The call was from his father Fu Zhengxiong: "Arron, since you brought the only one here last time, it hasn't been here for two or three weeks. Your grandfather, I, and your aunt all miss the one. Tomorrow is the weekend, you Come back with the only one!"

The father's words were half pleading and half command.

"I see." Arron did not refuse either.

Since his father asked him to go back to the old house, he will go back to the old house with a family of three tomorrow.

When he took up the cord, put the phone down, and looked at the twisted buttons on the front of his shirt, the man couldn't help laughing. Then he adjusted the buttons again, put on the house pants, and then came out with slippers. It just so happened that Sister Li also returned with Lilly.

After all, what a man has to do is not done, but it is okay. Leave it to the evening for a longer time.

This evening, it was destined that Suzi would personally reward the man who taught her to practice driving skills.

After the reward was over, the man still sneered at her with a grim look: "I'm unlucky enough to marry you. I have to teach you how to drive during the day or night. After teaching you for so long, you are still so stupid! You are everywhere! I hold you!"

Suzi raised his wrist and hit the man's chest.

As soon as the man grasped her wrist, the other arm circled her from under her head and neck for a week, then raised his arm and pressed off the wall lamp, and said only one sentence: "Sleep."

Next day

She woke up very early, got up and chose a comfortable casual outfit. She thought they would go to practice cycling today. However, the man said, "I won't practice cycling today."

Suzi: "Oh..."

She felt relieved. She didn't want to practice the car too much, and she didn't want to drive too much, because she was a person who couldn't afford a car. Even if she saved some money, she had to find a way to find Xue Sanford.

And, go back home to visit the grave of the dead mother.

These are the two big things that she has at the center of her life.

Where is she who can afford to drive a car? Although he bought a car for her, she didn't want it too much.

Therefore, it would be nice not to practice driving. She can accompany the only person at home today, and then check some information to consolidate her knowledge of design. After all, when she goes to work, she is also considered the chief designer.

However, what she didn't expect was that Arron said next: "After dinner, I changed into clothes and took the one and only back to Fu's old house with me."

Suzi: "Ah? Going back to the old house again? That...isn't it as long as you take the one back home? The only time you went back to the old house caused such a big trouble, this time... Go?"

"Don't you want to recognize your in-laws?" Arron asked.

Chapter 398

Suzi shook his head decisively.

She is a self-aware woman, and a woman who never clings to it.

Even now Arron taught her to drive, took her to get a marriage certificate, and slept with her every night.

To her, it can be considered gentle.

They were already a substantial husband and wife, but Suzi still didn't think she was Arron's. At best, she is an expensive mother and daughter. Arron gave her such treatment because she felt so sorry for his daughter.

Suzi never did anything that he didn't know when he pushed his nose on his face.

When I was a child in the Lin family, I was very scarce in terms of eating. Suzi had never eaten all kinds of snack chocolate, but Lanita never lacked these. Lanita often deliberately ate it in front of Suzi.

Suzi never looked directly at Lanita.

Never ask for something to eat.

She behaved very lightly, even if her heart was miserable.

It still is.

She raised her eyebrows and smiled lightly, even with a cold smile on her face: "The only thing that goes back to see grandpa and grandma every week, grandpa and grandma, this is the only thing you and I have to do. ... I don't want to go."

I really don't want to go.

She thought it was not rare for Arron to go to Fu's old house.

But never thought, the man grabbed her by the arm in a cold tone and couldn't allow her to refute: "Go! Change clothes and dress the only one more beautifully. You can't let the only one's father appear every time instead of nothing. Mother appears!

The only reason you killed two birds with one stone last time was that a little thing defeated two women at the same time because it was maintaining your status! Don't you think about it for her? "

D*mn woman!

At this moment, Arron almost wanted to strangle her to death!

Be nice to her every day, teach her to drive during the day, and teach her to drive at night. During the day, she shrank in his arms in terror, and screamed in his arms for enjoyment at night, and when she was about to take her back to the door, She didn't hesitate to shirk it bluntly.

Do you disdain to enter the Fu family?

Isn't it rare to be Mrs. Fu?

If you are Arron's wife, you can't talk and laugh with Lenny, and you can't flirt with Joan?

Can't you think about Sanford anymore!

Seeing Arron's almost murderous expression, Suzi was aggrieved, aggrieved and stubborn!

Where did he offend him? !

She is already so behaved, what else is she thinking!

She didn't take the initiative to ask him for anything, didn't cry and clamor to go to the old house, he was still angry because of him.

But on second thoughts, he was angry for the only one, for the only one to have a family of three, and to be a father to do this, what can she say about him?

Suzi was happy for the only one in his heart.

At least the only one in the future will have father's pain and mother's love.

It won't be like her childhood, left alone, under the fence, and framed by others.

Suzi said apologetically: "Uh... sorry, I ignored this, I will change it now."
