The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1861

Why was Anna here?

Of course, Alex had called her earlier. If the news of someone dying in the hospital were to spread, it would be a serious matter even though the current Alex did not have to worry about this aspect of trouble at all. However, Cheryl was the dean of this hospital. It would be the most appropriate for Divine Constabulary to step in and solve this matter.

To his surprise, that damn Pete Watterson actually had a father who was involved in the underworld. Then, he was even more prescient.

Buzz!

When Tom saw Anna and the bunch of Divine Constabulary members in uniform standing behind her, it was as if a bolt from the blue to him.

As the underworld boss of Long Beach, how could he not know about Divine Constabulary? Even it was not his first time to cross paths with Anna, the tigress. She was a shrew. Moreover, he even heard that Anna had been promoted recently.

She had become the head of South California Divine Constabulary, and that was all the more reason not to offend her.

“Ah! It’s Captain Coleman! What brings you here?”

Tom’s expression immediately changed.

Anna grunted coldly, but she turned around and pulled Alex’s hand. While acting cute, she said, “Master, when did you come back? Why didn’t you inform me? I missed you so badly! Look, my chin is all pointy now, touch it!”

What?

Tom and his subordinates were stunned. ‘What’s going on? This brat is Captain Coleman’s master?’

Tom stuttered, “Captain Coleman, h-he’s... Your master?”

However, looking at them, why did they look more like a couple?

That would be even more frightening.

Anna would go berserk on the spot after knowing that he had asked her boyfriend to kneel before his son and even told him that they would keep his corpse intact, right?

Just then, the other person who came along with Anna went up to Alex and gave him a hug. He smiled and said, "Brother Rockefeller, it has been a while!"

That person was Sky Melvis.

Alex smiled and said, "Captain Melvis!"

Anna smiled and said, "Master, Brother Sky is not a captain anymore. He's now honored as one of the Eight Protectors of Divine Constabulary and his cultivation has also sky-rocketed! He's now at Advanced-Earth rank."

Sky said, "This is all thanks to Brother Rockefeller's elixir that I could break through the shackles! It's also thanks to the president's appreciation to appoint me as the Protector! Speaking of which, it's a bit of a pity..."

Anna said, "What pity? Is it not enough to be a Protector? Do you want to be the president?"

Sky smiled and said, "Are you kidding? I, Sky Melvis, know myself well. How can I ever dream of getting the president position? It's just a pity, if Brother Rockefeller could inherit the president's legacy, he'd become the new president. With Brother Rockefeller leading the overall situation, we would definitely be superior to Department Six as long as we follow him to go into the battles and kill the enemies! Brother Rockefeller, I heard that the president mentioned that he really wanted you to become the next president but unfortunately, he said that Divine Constabulary is too small for you! What's your cultivation rank now, Brother Rockefeller?"

Alex chuckled. He shook his head and asked, "How's my grandfather doing lately?"

Sky said, "He's doing great. It's just that he has been thinking about retiring lately but he can't find a suitable successor."

Alex said, "Grandpa has spent most of his life in Divine Constabulary. He might not be able to adapt to it if he's going to take a break. Don't worry, I'll visit him when I'm free. It shouldn't be a problem for him to work hard for another few more years! Recently, it has been quite eventful and there might be big changes in America. So, you people should be mentally prepared."

"Huh? Master, what kind of big changes?" asked Anna shockingly.

Just when Alex was about to say something, he noticed that there were a lot of outsiders around. He glanced at Tom on the spot. That look was calm and harmless, but Tom felt like he had just been struck by lightning. He was completely dumbfounded to the point he almost forgot who he was.

Oblivious of others, Alex and the few people chatted while treating the rest of the people like air. However, their conversation caused Tom to perspire heavily and his heart was about to jump out of his throat. He started cursing his son, Pete in his heart. 'You son of a b*tch! What kind of trouble did you just get me into?'

Even though he did not understand most of it, he could roughly tell that the young man before him was a big shot with an impressive background.

Not only was he Anna's master, but he seemed to be the grandson of the Divine Constabulary's president as well. This kind of big shot could easily annihilate the Wattersons just by speaking, yet his foolish son went up against him head-on. Did he want some excitement because he was bored with his comfortable life in the Wattersons in Long Beach?

Thud!

Tom directly kneeled before Alex.

"Sir, please forgive my son for what he has done. We weren't aware of who you are!"

"I'm really sorry, sir!"

Alex looked at him, "Huh? Why did you say sorry to me?"

Tom said, "Sir, I, Tom Watterson, failed to teach my son properly and let him offend you and your girlfriend, please forgive me."

"You don't need me to kneel down anymore? You don't want to have my intact corpse anymore? My girlfriend doesn't need to mourn your son as his wife for three years, huh?"

As soon as Alex said that, Tom's face turned pale as he shivered. He dropped to the ground and slapped himself on the forehead as he said, "I deserve to die, I deserve to die..."

"You should die then!"

Alex stretched out his palm and pressed the void.

Crack!

Tom shriveled on the ground with all his bones crushed, turning into a pile of remains.

The moment Tom mentioned that he wanted Cheryl to be his son's wife and mourn at his place for three years, he was already in Alex's death list. If he had not killed this person, wouldn't that mean that he did not care about Cheryl?

"Ah!" Tom's subordinates were in disorder due to shock. Since when had they ever seen someone using such astonishing technique before?

Alex was like a deity to them.

Several people by the laboratory's entrance wanted to sneak away to escape this undesired situation. However, at this moment, a large divine sword flew out from the inside, smashing the door with a bang and completely blocking the entrance.

"This..." The people's expression turned pale as they started to doubt their lives.

This world was way too dangerous. How did they survive the past few decades?

Not just Tom's subordinates, even Sky and Anna were dumbfounded too. They had already overestimated Alex's strength, but the more they knew about him, the bigger the gap they saw. No... This was not just a gap anymore, it's a vast difference between different realms.

“Did I say you all could leave?”

“Pay for the equipment that you people have broken first!” said Alex calmly. Afterwards, he turned to Anna. “Anna, please deal with the matters over here. The situation now is bothersome enough. If these underworld forces cannot restrain themselves and act recklessly by preying on the citizens, then there is no need for them to exist.”

Anna accepted the command. “Yes, Master!”

Then, Alex turned to Sky and said, “Captain Melvis... Protector Melvis, I heard that there have been many cases of poisoning here recently and I believe things are not that simple. We are going to see some patients now. Would you like to come along? Since, this matter may need Divine Constabulary's help.”

Sky immediately said, “Brother Rockefeller, I've taken over this case and that is why I'm staying in Long Beach now.”

Alex nodded his head. It was no wonder that they came so quickly.

“Let's go then!”

When they walked out of the laboratory, Sky accidentally bumped into Guilherme. However, it was as if he had bumped into a piece of paper. He hurriedly turned his head with a look of disbelief.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1863

Soon, Alex saw the several poisoned patients.

As Cheryl described, these people's sanity was destroyed after they were poisoned, and they behaved like a beast in a zoo. Moreover, they were even more savage. They were all locked inside the isolation ward and tied-down with straps around them.

However, they were really powerful. Their eyes were blood-shot, and a surging blood energy emanated from their bodies. When they saw Alex and the others coming in, they hissed loudly and screamed in anger. The sounds they made were no different from beasts.

At this time, a little girl in one of the beds suddenly made a wild scream “Ah!”. Her eyes turned dark red and her originally snow-white face had blood-colored lines formed. In her opened mouth, fangs were extending at a rate visible to the naked eye while her fingernails and toenails were growing savagely as well.

Bang! Bang!

Unexpectedly, she broke off the incomparably strong belts that were tied to her body at once. The little girl jumped up abruptly and clawed fiercely towards Cheryl’s face with her long fingernails.

“Ah!” Cheryl exclaimed.

After that, Alex blocked the little girl’s attack with his hand. He grabbed her by her throat, charged forward and pinned her back down to her bed. The girl opened her mouth and hissed. She wanted to bite Alex with her mouthful of sharp teeth but she could not reach him no matter what. However, she stomped her hands and feet around, making loud thumping sounds. She randomly scratched Alex with her sharp fingernails, scratching his clothes into strips. However, he had the protection of the Mystic Armor and the Benares Dragon, Neela, so how could this little girl break his defense?

Swoosh!

Alex formed a seal with his fingers and tapped on the little girl’s forehead.

The little girl was only about ten years old at most, but the strength that she had depicted earlier surprised Alex. Even a Royal ranked martial artist could not have her strength. How did she become so strong?

Sky walked over shockingly. Looking at the now calmed down little girl, he said, “I could feel the strength that she displayed earlier on was very powerful. Could it be that she’s a martial artist?”

Right after Sky said that, another one broke loose from the belts and jumped up.

This time, it was a young man. Like the little girl from before, he jumped up and began to attack people, but he also went after Cheryl. This time, Sky took action to stop the young man. To his surprise, upon touching the young man, he was hit by an overwhelmingly strong force that sent him stumbling a few steps backwards.

Sky himself was stunned.

Sky had taken the elixir that Alex gave him previously to rejuvenate his energy core, and ever since then, he had made a breakthrough in his cultivation through accumulation. Now he was slowly getting close to the Advanced-Earth rank, but he could not even take a hit from a poisoned young man. No one would believe it!

Alex, who was watching from the side, asked, "Do you need help?"

Sky rejected his offer. As the Protector of Divine Constabulary, if he could not even settle a poisoned, ordinary citizen, how could he possibly keep his position as the Protector?

Afterwards, Sky and the young patient fought against each other in the isolation ward for a full five minutes before he managed to pin the young man down.

Sky sweated profusely in exhaustion. His clothes were torn and even his arms bled from the scratching. Extremely embarrassed, he said, "I apologize for the goofy scene. But this patient's strength is unbelievable."

Cheryl saw the injuries on his arms and immediately said, "Hurry up and disinfect your wounds. Their poison might be contagious."

Sky was frightened.

Alex shook his head and said, "Don't worry, it's not contagious."

Through the Third Eye, he did not find any odd blood energy's poisonous element in Sky's wounds.

"Master, did you see anything?" said Guilherme.

Alex nodded his head. "Indeed, I've found something. Look closely at these poisoned people. How are they different from the ordinary people?"

Guilherme thought for a moment and said, “The bloodline flowing in them seems different.”

Alex said, “That’s right! These people’s attacks are powerful. In terms of strength and speed, they are far beyond normal people! If it was just a simple poisoning, it definitely wouldn’t be like this, it’s because these people possess special bloodlines! The poison has stimulated the potential bloodlines in their bodies, so they are more powerful than ordinary people.”

Guilherme said, “Does that mean only people with special bloodlines could be infected?”

Alex said, “That’s the key.”

Sky scratched his head. “So, I wasn’t infected because I don’t have a special bloodline?”

Even though it was a good thing, why did it sound like he was inferior to the others?

Alex nodded his head and said to Cheryl, “You’re a special bloodline holder, that’s why they attacked you first. If you’re injured by them, you might be infected. So, you have to be extra careful.”

Cheryl was stunned for a moment before she asked, “What kind of special bloodline do I have?”

Alex smiled. “You’ll know when the time comes.”

“So what should we do now?” Asked Sky. “Can we cure the poison in these people? If we can’t find the antidote, the problem could be serious.”

His phone rang as he spoke.

It was a call from a Divine Constabulary colleague. That person said that they found a suspected target who was hurting other people in a wet market in Long Beach. During the investigation, they noticed some suspicious behaviors, and someone seemed to be in command at the scene.

“What? Someone is commanding them?”

“So this isn’t a natural disaster but a human act?”

Sky was shocked.

Alex immediately said, “Let’s go and have a look!”

He asked Cheryl and Guilherme to stay in the hospital and urged Cheryl. “Stay away from these people and don’t let any special bloodline holders get close to them. Otherwise, they will cause these people to go berserk and attack.”

Cheryl hugged him. “Be careful. I’ll wait for you here.”

“Alright!” Alex gently pinched her burn.

After that, he followed Sky and rushed out. On the way, they met Anna who was looking for them.

Anna had settled Tom’s subordinates and left the remaining task to her subordinates. She had not seen Alex in a long time. Now that she had finally met with him, she just wanted to be by his side and did not want to go anywhere. Eventually, she saw them leaving in a hurry, so she immediately caught up to them. “Where are you guys going?”

Sky briefly explained it.

Anna immediately said she would like to tag along. After running out of the hospital, Anna took out a key to unlock the car. However, Alex casually waved his hand and summoned the Sword of the Universe. He grabbed Anna over and put her on the sword that was big as a door plank. “We don’t have to drive there. This is faster.”

As he activated his divine consciousness, the Sword of the Universe flew up in the sky.

Both Anna and Sky were immensely shocked. They nervously lay on the sword and did not dare to move, as if they were afraid they might fall off accidentally.

Anna even raised her head and shouted, “Master, have you transcended into an immortal already?”

Alex glanced at her and said, "That's to describe a person's death. Do you want me dead so soon?"

"No, but, how did you learn to fly?"

"This is nothing unusual. There are plenty of people that know how to fly in Flying Eagle Academy!"

Anna and Sky were incomparably amazed at once.

Looking at the firm Alex, Sky was overwhelmed by emotions in that instance. Wasn't a lofty heroic spirit and an immortal with a flying sword the ultimate dream of all men?

He wanted it too!

But now, he could only lie on other people's sword and tremble. He did not even dare to stand up.

Seeing their ridiculous looks, Alex smiled and said, "Don't worry about falling down, stand up quickly!"

Sky grabbed on to a certain groove pattern on the sword tightly and desperately shook his head. "No, no! Brother Rockefeller, I think it's quite comfortable to be lying here. Oh, I've never been this comfortable."

Alex speechlessly shook his head. He helped Anna up with one hand.

Anna immediately jumped up and pounced on Alex, wrapping around his body like an octopus. She was so frightened that she refused to let go of him, and yelled, "Master, you have to hug me tightly. Don't let me fall off. I... I'm kinda afraid of heights!"

"So, you're afraid of heights. Why didn't you tell me earlier?"

Alex stomped his foot lightly and the sword tilted, Anna closed her eyes and hugged onto Alex's neck.

Sky still wanted to maintain his image at first, but soon, he started screaming loudly. "Ah! Ah! I can't hold on any longer, I can't hold on any longer! I'm going to fall off..."

Alex said, "You won't fall."

Even the veins on Sky's hand started bulging as he yelled, "I really mean it! I really can't hold on any longer. I'm really going to fall off. Brother Rockefeller, save me..."

He clenched his fingers tightly.

The recesses on the Sword of the Universe were not that deep, but he did not have any strength and his fingers started loosening their grips one by one till he flipped over and cried out in distress. Finally, he felt like he had fallen to the ground.

He looked up in the sky with a pale look.

"Sh*t! Am I dead already? I must've turned into a pile of flesh from falling so high up."

At this time, he saw a woman holding a little girl walking past him. The little girl looked at him strangely and said, "Mom, is he crazy?"

"Never mind the psycho!" The woman pulled the little girl away.

Sky sat up, only to find that he was just lying down on the ground without any injuries on him.

He hurriedly got up. "What happened? I didn't die?"

Alex and Anna were standing by his side. Alex said, "You didn't die. We're here."

"Huh?"

Anna laughed and said, "Brother Sky, you were ridiculous just now."

Sky looked around and realized they had reached the market's entrance.

Soon, two Divine Constabulary members walked up to them. They were both familiar faces, Steel Tower and Ted Summers.

They were excited when they saw Alex Alex had saved Steel Tower from the brink of death back then, so he was very grateful toward Alex. He charged toward Alex and gave him a bear hug upon seeing him. Alex was considered a tall man. He was about six foot three tall, but in front of Steel Tower, he seemed like a midget meeting a giant. Steel Tower was about seven foot three tall, about the same height as Peter Mayhew but much more sturdy.

Steel Tower's admiration for a person was very simple.

Meanwhile, Ted had much more complicated feelings when he looked at Alex. He was born in the Summers family of California, and his older brother was the mayor of California.

Naturally, he had more information and knew more about Alex than Steel Tower. With all the information intertwined, it was hard for him to behave as purely as Steel, and he gazed at Alex with much more awe.

Ted also came over and gave Alex a hug. After that, he said, "Weren't you guys at Mercy Hospital earlier? How did you people get here so quickly? After I made the call, I just went to the toilet and you people have arrived?"

Sky looked at Alex with a face full of resentment. "It's a long story. Let's get down to business first!"

Ted nodded and immediately said, "Two people were attacked in the wet market. It's a pair of sisters who do marine product business here. They were both poisoned and have not been sent away. I only realized someone was giving commands behind the scenes when we checked the wet market's surveillance camera."

Alex said, "Let's go and check on the sisters first."

"Alright. They're inside."

On a corner of the wet market was a place that specialized in selling marine products. At that moment, many people surrounded the place.

Ted gave them a brief introduction. The pair of the sisters were twenty three year old young twins this year who looked lovely. They were quite popular in the wet market and were known as the 'Pretty fishmonger duo'. When the incident happened, they had just set up their marine products.

"Quit watching! Quit watching!"

"The officials are here to clear the scene! Now, get out of the way and do whatever you people are supposed to do. Otherwise, don't blame us if you get into trouble!"

Ted was experienced in settling matters like this. Soon, the group of people dispersed. However, a bespectacled man whispered, "Sir, are they poisoned? I heard that it's contagious. Is it true?"

Anna glared at him. "Where did you hear it from? There's no such a thing."

The man glanced twice at Anna. "You're the senior officer, right? To be frank, I have several friends who have been poisoned, and the people from your department have dragged them away. I don't know where they have been sent to nor I can get in touch with them. I'm worried that I may be infected, but I don't know who I should look for to get it checked."

Alex glanced at him. "Don't worry. You won't be infected."

The man kept asking, "How do you know?"

Sky said, "Alright. This is a state secret. You just have to care about yourself. If you're infected, you'd have been the same as them."

Alex immediately went up to check the twins' condition. Indeed, they had special bloodlines too. Moreover, the bloodline in them was quite strong. Even though it's in a state of being activated slowly, there was already a vague, strong blood energy fluctuation that was even stronger than those people who had broken loose from the straps in Mercy Hospital earlier. If they were to awaken, Ted, Steel Tower and the others probably would not be able to stop them at all.

At this moment, one of them suddenly opened her crimson red eyes while erupting an aura that did not belong to a human.

Starting from the eye position, blood red veins began to appear on her face's skin... These veins were much clearer and denser than what Alex had seen previously.

After that, he was suddenly shocked. It seemed that these veins were not formed randomly, but it was some kind of ancient totem. The more these totems appeared, the stronger the blood energy on her.

"Ah! She's mutating!" the man shouted in shock. "Is she turning into a zombie? This is a contagious virus, right? This must be some kind of zombie virus! Oh God, oh God! Are the zombies going to take over our city?"

"You watched too many sci-fi movies!" said Alex. He turned to Steel Tower and said, "Ask him to leave and shut his mouth. Don't let him spread rumors!"

Steel Tower asked, "Boss, do I have to kill him?"

He addressed Alex as boss now. The man shivered with fear, such that he could not speak a word.

"No need!"

Alex reached out his finger with Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation condensed on it. Just when he was about to print it on the man, Neela inside his body suddenly shouted, "My lord, wait!"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1867

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1867

Alex's hand trembled. He used mental voice transmission telepathy. 'Neela, you have an opinion?'

The Benares Dragon, Neela, was injured earlier and had been in a healing state. Her injuries were very serious at the time. If Alex's golden core had not possessed the unparalleled healing spiritual power, she might not even wake up.

Now, she had almost recovered after a day's time.

Swoosh!

Neela left his body and directly transformed into a human, appearing in front of the crowd.

“God d*mn it!”

Sky behind Alex, who felt the most intense impact, stumbled backwards terrifyingly when a person suddenly appeared.

Eventually, he fell sitting in a plastic bucket that the twins used to sell their marine products and could not get out. Everyone else was shocked too.

“Master, who... Is this?” asked Anna dumbfoundedly.

The straightforward man, Steel Tower, immediately shouted, “Sister-in-law!”

Neela blushed slightly. “You’ve mistaken. I’m not your sister-in-law. I’m my lord’s maid, Neela.”

Steel Tower was wide-eyed as he stared at her. “Maid? Neela? Where did you come from? Were you... Hiding inside my boss’ pants?”

Neela was speechless.

Luckily, she had listened to Alex’s words and had put on some clothes when she transformed.

Otherwise, there would be a serious misunderstanding!

She ignored Steel Tower. Instead, she squatted down and put her hand on the forehead of one of the twins who was about to awaken. There was a pale green light appearing from her palm, her lips gently moved, chanting a string of very subtle voice into the twin’ ears.

This must be the dragon language of the Benares Dragons!

Meanwhile, the other half of the twins was also about to awaken, similar to the previous one. Neela reached out her hand again and placed it on her forehead as well. The same dragon language went into her ears.

Soon, the two women who were about to awaken, did not move once again and the totem on their faces also disappeared gradually.

After Neela finished doing all of these, she stood up. She placed her lips by Alex's ear and said with mental voice transmission telepathy, "My lord, these two women possess the bloodline of the Benares Dragons. If I'm not wrong, they're my reincarnated clanswomen in this era after the sacrificial reincarnation."

"What?" Alex was stunned.

A few seconds later, he asked Neela, "What do you want me to do then?"

Neela said, "The sacrificial reincarnation of the Benares Dragon is very cruel. People who have undergone the sacrificial rite will go through reincarnation and lose all their powers! Countless clansmen had undergone the sacrificial rites in the war three thousand years ago. However, the Benares Dragons have a reincarnation secret spell. As long as we use the soul pillar, we can recover our previous memories."

"You want me to go look for the soul pillar and then help them recover their memories?"

"My lord, I beg you..."

The whispering posture of the two of them was very intimate.

After watching the two people, Ted and the other men just smiled as they had a mutual understanding.

However, Anna was slightly jealous.

She had liked Alex a long time ago, She had tried seducing him several times to the point that she wanted to sleep with him. Unfortunately, Alex did not give her a chance at all. Eventually? All of the other people who knew Alex after her had joined his harem one after another, and all she could do was be anxious... Now, she thought the maid was a member of his harem as well.

Looking at that ethereal, stunningly beautiful appearance, she knew that her Master would not spare her for sure.

'Hmph! What a promiscuous jerk!'

While Anna could not stop cursing Alex in her heart, Alex agreed to Neela's request. That was actually a good thing.

If these two reincarnated Benares Dragon twins could accept the soul pillar's baptism and regain their memories, they could cultivate and restore their Benares Dragon bloodline completely. That would be a great addition to his combat power, so he was really happy about it.

At this moment, Neela said, "I could sense a rush of sinister Chi."

As she spoke, she went up to sniff the twins and confirmed it. "That's right, it's the same sinister Chi left on them."

Alex immediately said, "It's most likely from the person who poisoned them secretly. Where is that guy?" Neela stood up and looked around.

Eventually, she pointed at a short, young man standing in a group of faraway onlookers outside the wet market and said, "There he is! "

Neela instantly charged over.

Alex said, "Go!"

Anna, Ted and Steel Tower immediately ran over. Sky, who was seated in the bucket, yelled, "Hey! Can any of you guys pull me out of this first? I can't come out, I..."

However, nobody bothered to help him.

At this time, two men in casquettes quietly got close. Their target was the twins on the ground... These two men were not tall and were less than five foot seven. They had a dark skin tone and were covered in beards. They first looked at Sky twice.

It seemed that they found him non-threatening, so they went to pick up the twins respectively.

Sky was shocked. "Hey! Who are you people? What're you people doing?"

One of them looked over.

The other one with a rough voice said, "Don't bother about this stupid human. His butt is stuck inside and he can't even get out of it. How stupid! We'll take the twins and leave."

The person nodded. "He's really the dumbest human I've ever seen."

Sky was shocked, dumbfounded and furious. He was a dignified Protector of Divine Constabulary and an expert who was infinitely close to the Advanced-Earth rank, yet they called him the dumbest human.

"You people have a death wish!" shouted Sky as he struggled vigorously and jumped with the bucket, but he could not jump out of it.

The short one laughed. "Look! I've never seen such an idiot before!"

The other one said, "Brother, is he trying to sh*t but he couldn't find the toilet?"

"Probably. He still has his pants on. What a dumb*ss to sh*t with his pants on! Let's go!"

Sky was angry. He yelled, "Open!"

His surging inner force finally broke the entire water bucket with force.

He jumped up and bellowed, "You two dumb thieves! Could it be that you're the ones who poisoned the twins? Have you asked me before taking the twins away? Do you really think I'm a dumb*ass?"

The infuriated Sky made his move. However, the next second...

Boom!

His body slammed to the ground heavily. He sat into a bucket once again. More importantly, there were a lot of crabs in the bucket. Very soon, he cried in pain.

"Brother Rockefeller, Anna, over here, over here... Ouch! It's painful!" shouted Sky.

Swoosh!

Alex rushed back while carrying a big-bearded young man.

When he saw the two men in casquettes trying to leave with the twins in their arms, only then did he realize that they were almost fooled by their decoy tactic.

Dong!

A loud sound rang out. Alex's Sword of the Universe hit a man's thigh, knocking him over the ground.

Neela captured the other one and threw him to the ground. In that instant, countless bones in his body were broken.

After carefully checking the few people, Alex was instantly shocked and blurted out, "The members of the Blood Cult!"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 1869

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1869

Why was Alex so sure that these people were the Blood Cult members?

It was because they had the same aura as Colton and the others that belonged to the Blood Cult techniques. He had seen it more than once and even experienced the baptism of these demonic techniques first hand.

It was too memorable.

"Blood Cult?" Anna was stunned.

The Divine Constabulary members were no strangers to the Blood Cult. The experts from Missouri's Divine Constabulary died under the hands of the Blood Cult. It was also that time that the Blood Cult had caught Divine Constabulary's attention. Divine Constabulary was also very concerned about this matter, so they had been investigating clues about the Blood Cult

However, the Blood Cult was very mysterious. They had been investigating them for a long time but they had not found any useful information. Instead, they had suffered a great loss of manpower.

"That's right. These must be the Blood Cult members. No... they aren't human, they're demons!" Alex added.

Eventually, everyone around was dumbfounded.

They were not from Flying Eagle Academy but they were all worldly people. Since when had they ever seen a demon before? Even Sky had only heard a word or two about it from the higher-ups, so he did not know about the details. How could he have a chance to meet a demon in the past?

“So this is a demon?”

“Why does it look like a human?”

Ted and Steel Tower kicked the several people’s bodies a few times. They even squatted down to check carefully, trying to find out their differences from humans. However, the moment Ted grabbed the most injured person’s arm and turned him over, a crimson light beamed past the short, young man and his body rapidly transformed.

In the blink of an eye, he turned into a wolf with a furry body and covered in torn clothes.

“Ah!” shouted Ted. He was so scared that his heart almost jumped out of his chest.

‘A transforming wolf! You were still a human a moment ago, yet in the blink of an eye you have turned into a black, furry wolf. How exaggerated and barbaric! You didn’t even say anything in advance!’

In fact, it was because after Neela had smashed him, his injuries were so severe that he could not maintain the shape-shifted form anymore, so he transformed back into his original form.

Anna was dumbfounded.

She nervously grabbed Alex by his arm. That was a natural human fear from the unknown.

“So, this is a wolf demon!” Steel Tower kicked the black wolf but very gently and tentative. He paused for a moment and asked, “Since this dude is a wolf, can we kill it and eat it? I’ve eaten wolf meat before and it tastes pretty good. Can this wolf demon be eaten?”

Alex said, "Demons are a kind of spiritual beings that have been absorbing the essence of the Earth to nourish their own blood, flesh, bones and meridians. The fact that this wolf demon can transform into a human indicates that his cultivation base is not weak. This is a great tonic, you can eat it."

Anna frowned and said, "He was still a human just now. How could you possibly have the appetite to eat it?"

In this regard, Ales did not make any comment. Anyway, with his cultivation base, the flesh and blood of demons like this were no longer rare to him.

Steel Tower was slightly moved at first but after what Anna had said, he did not want to eat it anymore.

"Take them away!"

"Take them to an isolated place to interrogate them!"

Several people immediately acted upon command. They seized the few people together with the twins and took them away.

Splash!

A pail of water was poured on one of them.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 1870

That person was the only woman amongst the few captured people... Rather, a female because these were not actually humans but demons. They were wolf demons, same as the one that had transformed back into its original form!

The female wolf demon woke up.

Upon waking up, she saw Ted scratching her body with a sharp dagger. Even though it did not hurt her, the sense of sharp dagger scratching against her body was very unpleasant.

"Speak! Who are you people?"

“Why did you poison the people?”

“If you behave obediently, you don’t have to suffer. Otherwise, the consequences aren’t something that you could bear!”

“Look over there!”

Ted pointed behind him. There was a huge pot out of nowhere. At this time, a torch was set up under the pot and the water inside the pot was about to boil... It seemed like he was going to cook her and eat some wolf meat. “I heard that the wolf meat tastes good and a female wolf like you is even more nourishing. If you don’t speak, I won’t ask anything either. In a moment, I’ll strip you naked and throw you in without washing.”

The female wolf demon seemed quite young, around twenty years old.

She had a casquette and mask on previously, so her appearance could not be seen. But now on a closer look, she seemed very ordinary, and there was even a slight ugliness. She had lines on the edges of her eyes that looked like tattoos, her lips were particularly prominent and her nose was slightly slumped.

The female stared deadly at Ted and said, “Come over here, I’ll tell you.”

Ted was already standing in front of her with his dagger still placed against her body. Upon hearing it, he smiled and said, “You still want me to get closer? If I get any closer, we’re going to have skin contact, do you plan to kiss me? Sadly, you’re too ugly and I’m not interested in you... Pft! You and Vixens are both demons but they’re much prettier than you. Why do you look so ugly? You looked like a half-finished product from the assembly line.”

The female wolf was furious when she heard that. She spat out a wind blade from her mouth.

“Sh*t! What the hell?”

Ted was shocked. Even though he had never seen demonic arts before, he had witnessed a martial Grandmaster converting the inner force into Chi. This thing was about the same as the conversion of the inner force into Chi, so he subconsciously raised his dagger to block it.

That block saved his life!

Dong!

A crisp sound rang out.

The wind blade hit the dagger, resulting in a gap in the middle of the blade. The length of the wind blade crossed upward and instantly sliced through his right upper arm.

Poof!

A gush of blood splashed. His arm holding the dagger flew up and it was completely severed. Ted cried painfully and kicked the female wolf's body. The female wolf, whose chest was kicked, wailed and fainted.

"What's going on?"

"Ted?"

Sky and the others rushed in.

Just now, Ted said that he was good at interrogation, so the others did not pay attention to him. Meanwhile, Alex was telling Anna and the others about the Flying Eagles and the situation at the ancient force field so that they could be mentally prepared.

Jade once said that the ancient force field would only last for another six months.

However, the situation now was different. The poisoned Jade left her position while the Flying Eagles was in the hands of the American officials. According to Nora, these officials each harbored an ulterior motive and they were not coherent at all because the highest authority was in the hands of several large families that refused to give in to each other.

There was an ongoing great war in the ancient force field right now. Once a large-scale attack was formed, those people of the large families would not have self-sacrificing spirits like Jade. They only cared about their own and they would definitely lose!

When the time came, Alex did not wish Anna, Sky and the others to rush in like fools. They would only serve as cannon fodder. The matter at the ancient force field was something that they could manage at all.

While everyone was startled by Alex's speech, Ted's terrible scream carried over.

Alex frowned and immediately grabbed the severed arm on the ground. He pulled Ted back and said, "Neela, I'll leave this place to you."
