The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2951

“Yes. We are lucky to be alive.”

The two people were aliens. They broke through the outside the atmosphere during the thunderclap earlier. They did not know the earthlings’ way of life, nor did they understand the webcast. Hence, they totally did not expect that the conversation between the two would be heard by at least thirty thousand people in the live broadcast room.

Moreover, the traffic of the recently deceased anchorwoman’s live broadcast room increased greatly as soon as the news spread.

If the anchorwoman were to know about it in the afterlife, she would probably be rolling in her grave. It was because the target that she couldn’t achieve before her death broke through in a short time... To make matters worse, it was a breakthrough of at least a hundred times. There were only thirty thousand netizens online previously, but it had risen to three million in an instant

The two people were still healing their injuries while chatting.

“The spiritual energy of the Wasteland has really been resurrected.”

“Surprisingly, the spiritual energy in a normal room like this can match the cultivation sanctuary of our Floating Island. Unfortunately, we missed the first spiritual energy tide, or that moment would’ve been worth ten years of cultivation.”

“It’s all right. There is a next time. Besides, the real opportunities are in those ancient Holy Churches. There is still time before the real opening of the Holy Churches’ Dao Fields!”

The internet instantly erupted in an uproar as soon as that statement was made.

How many people could even manifest extraordinary abilities during the first wave of spiritual energy?

Presently, nosy parkers had selected four great psychic kings among the psychic tier list. They were the strongest four among the psychics, the Nightmare King, the Thunderstorm King, the Flame King, and White Bear King.

Rumors were that with their strength, those four kings could challenge Immortals.

And, how long had it been since the spiritual energy tide?

As a result, many looked forward to the second wave of spiritual energy tide. Since they had missed the first chance, they couldn't possibly miss the second time.

After that, the subject was changed.

Those two alien visitors suddenly mentioned someone on Earth.

"At first, I didn't sign up to come to the Wasteland, but I ate poorly and failed to focus on my cultivation after learning that swindler is there. My first purpose of coming to the Wasteland is to find that scammer."

"Are you talking about Alex Rockefeller?"

"That's right! That d*mn swindler! Despicable! He's immoral to the core!"

"Hmm. I heard of that man before. He's conned thousands out of their resources in their storage rings. Even worse, those people were still grateful to him... However, I even heard that the deceived took a spiritual blood oath, acknowledging him as their big brother and wouldn't resort to violence against him. Are you not afraid of the spiritual blood oath?"

"I... Am afraid, of course, but I don't resort to violence! I'll open my mouth! I'll scold him harshly!"

After that, the live broadcast room was in an uproar again.

[Holy crap! Holy crap! What's going on?]

[Is Michelle's elder brother so overpowering? Has he long gone to an alien planet to deceive these pigheads?]

[Moreover, he has become their big brother... Oh gosh! Oh my God! How did he manage to do it? He actually made them take the spiritual blood oath, equivalent to a mental cage for cultivators. They will have no way to violate the rules for the rest of their lives]

At that moment, Alex, who had just returned to Mount Dragon-Tiger, suddenly sneezed a couple of times.

“Huh? Hubby, did you catch a cold?”

“Impossible! Some bast*ard is probably scolding me!”

After the group entered the door, they saw Brittany and the others who had been waiting long.

“Alex! It’s nice to be back! It’s nice to be back!”

“I was worried about you! Now that your father is in trouble, I’ll be overwrought whenever I hear about a slight commotion.”

Alex hugged Brittany. “Mom, your son has nine thousand lives. How could he die? Dad will be safe for sure. When the time comes, you can bear me a few more brothers or sisters... Ah... I suddenly remembered something...”

He smacked his head. His biological grandfather was still locked in a world of darkness inside the Cleansing Vase!

“What? Your biological grandfather?”

Brittany was restless when she heard that Alex had found his biological grandfather, William’s father, and brought him back. She hurriedly asked him, “Where did you find him? Are you sure he is your biological grandfather? It better not turn out to be another false alarm.”

Back then, they always thought Bill was William’s father, but he turned out to be fake.

“Mom, the present has long been unlike the past. I can sense with the bloodline power to find out if he is my biological grandfather. He is really my biological grandfather,” Alex said. “Moreover, Dad has met Grandpa before. Before his accident, he was with Grandpa in the Rockefeller family, but something terrible happened to the Rockefeller’s... ”

When the mother and son were talking, they did not avoid the few daughters-in-law and future daughters-in-law. They were also eager to know the details on how Alex got back his grandfather.

Alex said, “The Rockefeller family has been wiped out.”

“Huh?!”

The crowd of women gasped at such a result. Brittany asked, “Are you telling the truth?”

Alex nodded solemnly. “It’s absolutely true. The Rockefeller family comprises 136 members, including Dad. 134 were killed in the end, leaving only Grandpa and Dad. Someone planted a soul in Dad, whereas Grandpa was deprived of his cultivation. His hamstrings and tendons were broken before being imprisoned in an eternally frigid pond in the Shura Realm for the sake of the Rockefellers’ Holy Book.”

Hearing that, Brittany trembled all over. Although she did not know the rest of the Rockefellers, those were her in-laws. Now that the Rockefeller family had been wiped out, her heart broke on her husband’s behalf.

“Who did that?” asked Maya.

Alex said, “It’s a family with the last name Fourcade!

The ancestor of the Fourcade family has planted a soul in my dad. I have to find that man and kill him.”

After that, Alex took out the Cleansing Vase, releasing Nolan.

The interior of the Cleansing Vase was safe and contained spiritual energy, and it was an enclosed space, after all... Nolan was already severely injured, and when he came out, he was unshaven and in terrible condition. The aura in his body was also messy.

Alex secretly blamed himself.

He indulged in intimacy with Luna right after leaving True Martial Shrine. When he returned, he saw that the Returning Sword Sect had occupied his house, and Ynes was gasping for air. He was fully focused on revenge and treated Ynes's illness, by sleeping with her. As a result, he was delayed for a few days at Terra Mountain and almost forgot about Nolan.

"My dear grandson. How are you, my dear grandson? Are you alright?"

"Julian Fourcade, don't hurt my dear grandson. I'll give you the Holy Book..."

Nolan had been inside for several days, and he did not know what went on outside. He was worried sick and thought Alex was still fighting the Fourcades.

Alex was the last descendant of the Rockefeller's.

"Grandpa, I'm here! I'm alright!"

Hearing Nolan's words, Alex's eyes reddened.

Nolan, however, did not hand the Holy Book over even if 134 members of the Rockefeller family were dead. However, he said he would hand it over because of Alex.

"My dear grandson, you are alright! You are really alright! That's great! Where's Julian Fourcade? Did he not catch up to you? Where is this place? Why are there so many ladies?"

Looking at the beauties around him, Nolan was startled for a moment.

Brittany's lips quivered for a moment before she mattered, "Dad!"

"..."

Nolan froze. 'Why would a lady call me Dad?'

He quickly came to his senses, and his eyes glowed fiercely. "You... You are William's wife and my daughter-in-law, Brittany Rockefeller?"

Tears fell out of Brittany's red-rimmed eyes. "Yes. I am Brittany Rockefeller."

Nolan nodded excitedly. "Bravo! Bravo! Bravo! When William previously returned to the family, he often talked about you, saying how good a wife you were and how sorry he was for you! Sigh. The Rockefeller's have failed you. I'm neither a good father-in-law nor a decent father as I've never taken care of William since his childhood."

Brittany said, "It's all in the past now. I believe you must have had your hardship back then. Moreover, he chose to go back to the Rockefeller family. It means that he doesn't blame you."

Nolan sighed. He then asked, "Who are these few ladies?"

Brittany said, "They all are your grandchildren-in-law."

"Huh..?"

Nolan was shocked. "There are so many of them? Don't I only have a grandson?"

Brittany said, "Your grandson has no other capability than attracting beautiful girls. He brought in daughter-in-laws one after another, and I don't know what to do." Having said that, Brittany looked delighted.

Nolan laughed heartily. "It's good that he can attract girls. The Rockefeller family will flourish. The more, the better! Haha! My dear grandson, continue working hard and strive to keep the Rockefeller bloodline flowing."

Next to him, Beatrice exclaimed, "He already has five children!"

Then , Beatrice brought over the four children, Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter, and asked them to call him 'Great-Grandpa.'

Nolan was overjoyed as soon as he saw them. The four children had outstanding, exquisite appearances and looked extremely similar to each other. Nolan could also tell at a glance that the four children had powerful bloodline talent. They were just several year old, yet their blood energy far surpassed some cultivators.

Nolan looked at Beatrice, very satisfied. "I never expected you'd give birth to so many Rockefeller's at such a young age. What a great feat. It must be registered in the family history book. You will be highly rewarded. Unfortunately, I have nothing with me now. So, I owe you one."

Beatrice reported, embarrassed, "Grandpa, I didn't give birth to them, but it was my sister who did. However... However, I'll work hard and help the Rockefellers increase their descendants."

After saying that, she glared at Alex.

"Haha!" Nolan laughed loudly. "Bravo! Bravo! Bravo!"

Meanwhile, next to them, Daya looked gloomy. She, too, missed her daughter. However, she had to wait for Alex to reach sufficient cultivation level before he could open that secret realm where her daughter was located. Even if some Incarnate Deities were to come over, they would have no way to open the passage and find her daughter inside.

After talking for a while, Alex took Nolan away to heal his injuries.

When Alex treated Nolan with the Ultimate Book of Medicine, Nolan asked him, "My dear grandson, what level are you in the Rockefeller family's Ultimate Book of Medicine?"

Alex replied, "I don't know either."

Nolan asked, "Are you wearing the Ring of Legacy?"

"Huh?"

Alex recalled the process of acquiring the legacy.

"That black ring? It automatically turned into ashes when I acquired the legacy."

Nolan exclaimed, "What did you say?!"

Alex scratched his head. "Grandpa, I didn't do it on purpose. Well... I'll craft another Ring of Legacy when the time comes..."

Nolan suddenly slapped his thigh. "That's great. It's really great."

He was excited, uplifted, even.

“Someone in the family could acquire the complete Legacy after so many years. Moreover, he is my biological grandson. God’s been kind to me. Finally, there is hope to pay off old scores. My dear grandson, come over. I will now pass on the complete Holy Book to you. Since you have acquired the complete legacy, you will be able to open the Holy Book for sure.”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2954

Alex had heard of the Holy Book a long time ago. Moreover, the Japanese force and the top echelons of Department Six coveted the Holy Book at that time. He had also heard that his father found the Holy Book and some prescription from a shipwreck under the sea...

Only then did the heyday of Rockefeller Group exist.

But now, why did he come to this point again? Because of the Holy book?

Noticing Alex’s doubt, Nolan said with a smile, “My dear grandson, you are unaware that the Holy Book your father found at the bottom of the sea back then was not real but a replica. In fact, the sunken ship he found was the broken ship I abandoned.”

“The real Holy Book has always been the Rockefeller family’s top secret.”

Alex asked, “What exactly is the use of the Holy Book? Because of this counterfeit, my dad previously faked his death to escape, my mother was in a vegetative state for a year, and I hit rock bottom, almost unable to get back up. Now, the Fourcades have wiped out the Rockefellers because of this Holy Book I think it is simply an ominous object.”

Nolan shook his head. “You can’t say that. Do you know the real origin of the Holy Book?”

Sure enough, Alex did not know about it.

Nolan said, “This is a supreme treasure that a Rockefeller ancestor had obtained from another universe back then.”

He then continued, "Do you know who the ancestor of the Rockefeller family is?"

Alex shook his head, but a person's name suddenly crossed his mind, Blaine Rockefeller, God of Medicine.

"That's right. It's the God of Medicine, Blaine Rockefeller, the peerless powerhouse who created the Ultimate Book of Medicine. He was a few generations older than Grand Emperor Rowan and could be considered a great deity of antiquity. He had long attained the position of Divine Emperor and was a step away from reaching Supreme God... Moreover, this was something from the distant past. Now that so many years have passed, the ancestor may have long existed as Supreme Overlord."

Alex was shocked. "Grandpa, is our ancestor that awesome? Besides, judging from what you just said, he should be still alive, shouldn't he?"

"When someone reaches that old man's cultivation level, his lifespan can be compared with the world. It's a trivial matter living ten millennia. Wouldn't it be normal that he's alive now?" Nolan said. "Hear me out. The ancestor had painstakingly obtained the Holy Book from another universe by chance. What's recorded on it is the supreme cultivation technique with infinite power from that universe. It doesn't belong to our universe."

Alex asked, "Have you seen that cultivation technique, Grandpa?"

Nolan shook his head. "No, but I once read records in the family books. The universe where the ancestor had gone completely differs from ours and is more advanced. In comparison, our universe is considered a low-level realm, whereas that universe is a high-level realm. They are worlds apart."

Hearing that, Alex's eyes widened. The information recorded in the books of the Rockefeller family was too shocking.

Furthermore, there was an even more startling fact Nolan told Alex that back when the ancestor entered that universe by chance, his cultivation level had reached the Divine Emperor, which was supremely lofty in this realm. However, when he reached that side, he was captured, forced to be a miner, and dug for thousands of years.

Every miner around him was stronger than he was. That was simply terrifying.

Alex was dumbstruck. He started to doubt his life.

However, he suddenly remembered what the True Martial Starlord once told him. He said that the Supreme God of this realm would be at rock bottom when he reached the realm of the other universe...

Hence, the record of the Rockefeller family was not a pipe dream.

In that case, the cultivation technique brought from the realm should probably be really powerful, wasn't it?

After a moment, Nolan forcibly took out a tortoiseshell from his cardiac acupoint. Although ancient, dilapidated, and palm-sized, nobody could stand the sight of it.

It seemed that one would be branded a traitor and receive Heaven's judgment as they would go against heavenly law after taking a glance.

Nolan said, "Since the time of that ancestor, no one in the Rockefeller family has ever learned the supreme cultivation technique in the Holy Book Sigh. Even the Ultimate Book of Medicine of the Rockefeller family is in decline. The Ring of Legacy has been passed down to this day, but it was only completely inherited after it fell into your hands."

After a pause, he excitedly continued, "Dear grandson. Hurry. You should try to see through the essence of the Holy Book and acquire the supreme cultivation technique within it.. Remember. The Holy Book is extremely mysterious and powerful. Your spirit and soul will be injured if you look at it for a long time, so you should stop at once if you feel you cannot bear the observation process."

Alex asked, "There is such a situation? Grandpa, how long can you last?"

Nolan said, "I lasted a quarter of an hour in my best try."

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2955

A quarter of an hour was equivalent to fifteen minutes.

“According to the record of the Rockefeller family, Blaine Rockefeller excluded, the descendants of the family could last a quarter of an hour at best. It is about fifteen minutes under normal circumstances.”

Alex received the Holy Book from Nolan. As soon as he got his hands on it, it felt as light as a feather, as if it was weightless. However, that traitorous sensation from the heavenly law’s repulsion deepened while he held it.

In addition, he also had a sense of déjà vu.

“This is...”

Alex closed his eyes and placed the Holy Book close to his forehead.

Nolan was startled for a moment. He wanted to remind Alex that his divine sense would be useless. He simply could not penetrate into the Holy Book with it, and he could only see vague content with his eyes. However, he said nothing when he noticed the dazzling light on Alex’s forehead.

That was the primordial and the divine eye working together.

Just as Alex placed the Holy Book close to his forehead, the three thousand golden cores all over his body seemed to activate, moving rhythmically. The surging energy inside was at its limits, and a Nascent Soul transformation was imminent. Thus, he took a step forward.

Alex felt something. He could reach Tribulation Crossing if he tried to trigger the Lightning Tribulation, but now, it was clearly unsuitable. Hence, he suppressed his cultivation level without letting it loose.

Buzz!

Blood energy churned, causing a mental domain to be unleashed. The power of the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell inside his body rushed out of his forehead and impacted the Holy Book.

The next moment, Alex felt his divine consciousness flickering and detaching from his body, entering a bizarre space.

‘Where is this place?’

‘An alternate space of the Holy Book? Am I inside the Holy Book?’

Alex looked around, but all he could see was a boundless pitch-black. However, fleeting runes of different colors flowed from time to time.

Alex couldn't see them clearly at first because they were rapid. However, after getting used to the darkness, he stunningly read a clear line of words.

It was exactly the same as the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell he had cultivated.

'The Holy Book is the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell?'

'No! It's different! There's a difference inside!'

Alex carefully observed it once again before he deduced and figured it out.

Then, he shockingly discovered that the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell he had inexplicably learned before was now like child's play, just like what he learned in kindergarten. On the other hand, the content within the Holy Book was vast and magnificent, equivalent to university-level studies.

They were worlds apart.

The discovery utterly shocked Alex.

He had only learned the mere basics, and it was merely among the many martial skills within the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell. Despite this, he was already quite strong... Hence starting his journey on a different path compared to most cultivators.

Others had only one golden core and were limited to just one. Yet he possessed three thousand, along with the pleasure many women surrounding him.

'If I learn the complete version of the spell now, would my golden cores increase drastically again?'

'Honestly, I'm getting kind of scared.'

After that, he saw another nine types of forbidden spells, 'The Great Storm Spell... The Great Flame Spell... The Great Void Spell... The Great Seal Spell... The Great Silencing Spell... The Great Summoning Spell... The Great Reincarnation Spell... and The Great Resurrection Spell.'

'Oh my god, this means I've gathered all of them!'

'The Holy Book is so powerful. To think it's my family heirloom...'

Since he had learned and trained the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell, he felt very compatible with the contents of this book. Alex's divine consciousness wasn't being rejected at all, nor did he feel out of place, not even the slightest discomfort. It was as if he had returned to his own home.

With this, he was able to understand the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell in its entirety.

Shing...

Just then, Alex's body started glowing as all his golden cores automatically activated.

Standing next to Alex, Nolan stared at him with undivided attention. He was timing him to see how long he could continue in such a state. Only after they had looked into it on their own could they could only reuse their eyes. This was the first time he had seen anyone use their divine consciousness to read something, triggering something within the Holy Book.

He was overjoyed. "He succeeded!"

"As expected from my amazing grandson! You truly are a prodigy!"

"We Rockefeller's have a chance at revival!"

Five minutes passed, then ten...

As Nolan realized that Alex had been doing this for fifteen minutes straight, he was delighted that Alex was stronger than him.

Twenty minutes went on, then thirty...

Nolan became even more excited. 'Has my grandson obtained the unique skills inside?'

An hour... Two hours...

Alex remained still for a total of eight hours, worrying Nolan quite a bit. However, his body was still next to him, breathing steadily as his Chi continued to flow quickly within his veins, just like rapid waves.

“Hey Alex, you’re scaring me.”

“Don’t tell me... Have you learned everything on the spot?”

Suddenly, Alex’s hands quivered slightly when his divine consciousness returned. The Holy Book, which was plastered over his forehead, dimmed down as well.

“How was it, Alex? Did you see what’s in the book?” Nolan asked anxiously.

Alex nodded. “Yes, Grandpa. I even trained for a while.”

“Great, that’s great! What are the contents, though?”

He had been holding onto this book for his entire life all while experiencing the worst times in their family history. Despite this, he still hadn’t found out what secret martial arts were hidden inside this very book. That was why he was determined to find out the contents.

Alex asked, “Grandpa, do you know the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell?”

Nolan froze. “Ten-Point Forbidden Spell? I naturally have heard of it since it appeared during ancient times. But rumor has it that this spell has been rejected by every plane in the universe due to its intolerable nature. Even lightning tribulations strike harder on those who’ve learned it.

“At this point, no one wants to train this spell anymore. Not only it is too hard to master, but it also brings death to your door, as the heavens wouldn’t allow it.”

After a brief pause, he widened his eyes. “Are you saying that... This book contains... The... The Ten-Point Forbidden Spell?”

Alex nodded. “That’s right, this is its complete version.”

Upon hearing this, his excitement was instantly replaced with debilitating sorrow.

'I have been longing to learn what's in this Holy Book, yet it turned out to be such a scam.'

'The Ten-Point Forbidden Spell has been rejected by the universe. There's no way we could practice this!'

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2957

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2957

'So what if Alex read it? If he can't learn it, then it's nothing but trash!'

'What a shame, the Rockefeller family was nearly exterminated for such a scam.'

Nolan sighed. "My dear grandson, you completely can't learn the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell. It's a spell rejected by the entire universe... Even if you try to learn it, you will be greatly limited!"

"Our ancestor could only master it because he had been to a certain place in the universe. It's a given that none of our family were able to master the spell."

He became rather remorseful when thinking back to the hundred and thirty four members in their family who had passed. If he knew, he would've given the Holy Book to the Yaakov's right then.

However...

"Grandpa, I am learning the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell."

Nolan was stunned. "What did you say?"

Alex grinned. "I said... I can learn... This spell... In the Holy Book."

Nolan was appalled. "You can learn it... But can you master it?"

Alex explained with a soft smile. "This is a real good book. I could only receive scraps back then, and there weren't any complete steps for the spell. I had to work my way through it blindly, and I had no way of continuing the spell. So, this is great. With this complete book, I know what to do next."

Upon hearing Alex's explanation, Nolan was surprised and happy, never expecting things to be so coincidental.

'Alex had been walking down this path, waiting for the Holy Book all along.'

'Is this fate?'

Alex stayed within the Holy Book for a total of eight hours, indicating he must've been able to learn a lot. He learned how to concentrate his three thousand golden cores, turning them all into nascent souls at this point. Before this, he could only upgrade the spell passively. Yet now, he was able to train himself with all the details of the ten skills in this spell.

The two talked for a very long time in the room.

After that, Alex used the Ultimate Book of Medicine, along with divine power and drugs, to heal Nolan's injuries.

Since he was heavily injured, he wouldn't be recovering within a short period of time, especially not with his core wounded. Alex had to gather enough heaven-defying herbs and turn them into pills. Only then would he be able to heal Nolan completely. Two hours later, Alex walked out of the room while Nolan continued healing inside.

The quadruplets, Beatrice and Michelle, seemed to be playing in the garden at the time.

Summer noticed him coming out and immediately hopped towards him. "Papa, Aunt Michelle was talking bad about you. She called you a liar."

"Uhm?" Alex picked Summer up and looked in Michelle's direction. "Why would Aunt Michelle call Papa a liar?"

Spring skipped towards them, too, jumping onto Alex's back and pointing at Michelle. "Aunt Michelle said Papa promised to massage her boobies, but you didn't."

In an instant, Michelle's face turned beet red in its entirety.

"Spring, you little rascal! When have I ever said that?"

“Just now. We heard you.”

“Yeah, yeah! I heard that too!”

“Aunt Michelle looks so sad, Papa. Can’t you just massage her? Do it gently, though. Look how swollen they are. They must be painful, right?”

Beatrice, standing at the side, laughed so hard her stomach hurt.

Michelle couldn’t take this any longer. She turned away and huffed. “I’m leaving!”

“Stand right there,” Alex spoke up.

Michelle turned back to him. “What is it?”

“Something is indeed wrong with your body part,” Alex replied. “I’ll massage... No wait, I mean I’ll... heal you.”

Michelle’s face reddened even more after hearing what he said. It looked as if her face had been soaked in a fresh layer of bright red paint.

“I... I...”

Autumn clapped with joy. “Oh yay! Papa promised! Aunt Michelle, now you can’t call Papa a big liar, right? Papa’s very skilled. Grandma even said Papa’s a miracle doctor.”

“No, no, he’s a great miracle doctor!” Spring corrected.

Winter chirped in a sweet voice. “Both of you are wrong. Grandma said that Papa is the greatest and most powerful miracle doctor in the whole wide world! That’s what she told us, understand?”

Alex laughed out loud. He hadn’t had many chances to take care of his children since their birth, leaving Brittany, Claire, and Beatrice to take on that role. His sister-in-law was especially good at this.

Although she wasn't their actual mother, she could definitely be. Not only had they grown up in a safe and loving environment, they were raised and taught well, even able to debate with each other now.

Beatrice, on the other hand, was completely infatuated with him. She had never complained nor regretted her decisions, and it touched Alex's heart. He even found himself genuinely growing fond of her.

Life was just that fascinating.

Back then, the two hated each other's guts. Beatrice would bully him and find other men for her sister to marry as if her life depended on it. Despite this, she fell in love with him later on, as if she were under a spell.

As though she could touch Alex's passionate gaze, Beatrice blushed slightly, her heart pounding out of her chest. She then twirled a few strands of hair around her index finger. "Is Michelle's problem serious?"

Alex nodded. "Yeah. The martial art she previously learned was flawed, causing direct problems to her heart. Her inner force and Chi were all concentrated around that area, which triggered growth in that part."

"In other words, all her nutrients gathered there."

Michelle was extremely embarrassed, and she could only stare straight at the ground.

"But... Didn't you alter it for me back then?"

"I did, and there shouldn't be any problems. But who would've known that there would be a spiritual energy revival on Earth? When it overflowed, your body had to take on more energy than what you're used to, and your previous condition arose again."

"Then... What do I do now? I... I look horrible now."

Beatrice smiled. "How so? You look amazing! You just don't know how many men out there have fallen for you, calling you their curvy goddess! I could never achieve that even if I wanted to!"

“Stop joking around,” Michelle snapped. “Why don’t you put these on yourself and give it a go? Careful, or you might fall down the stairs from all that imbalance!”

Alex looked at the two, trying hard to hold in his laughter.

“Don’t worry, it’s just a small issue. It’ll be solved once I get to healing.”

“Really?”

“Why would I lie?”

After that, Alex brought Michelle to her current room. The disciples of Mount Dragon-Tiger had most likely lived here in the past, so there were quite a few rooms and buildings around this place.

Moreover, the mountain was just like other spiritual valleys and rivers. Larger than the average mountain, there was enough space even if more people came.

However, Alex had already decided to have every Rockefeller moved to Yukon in a few days before he built a wall around it. If so, no otherworldly outsiders would dare overstep, let alone ancient clans of this world.

“Awhhh... Why can’t we watch Papa heal Aunt Michelle?”

“Yeah, yeah! We want to see Papa heal Aunt Michelle’s boobies. ”

“Mhm, when we’ve learned it, we can heal Aunt Michelle too...”

Rendered speechless, Beatrice had to blurt out a flurry of odd reasons and explanations to make the four children give up on the idea.

Michelle was feeling slightly nervous as she went into the room. “Alex, how are you going to heal me?”

Alex replied. “Don ’t worry, no surgery will be needed. I will just remove all the problems within your heart by clearing all the veins in your body, opening up some new capillaries to improve blood flow.”

“With this, all your problems would be completely solved. And I can use a reduction spell to partially reduce the size of your chest.”

Michelle was worried. “Would it look weird after healing?”

“It won’t I’ll be careful.”

“I’m scared of getting wrinkles.”

“I promise your skin would be even smoother than a baby’s bottom.”

“Would it be disproportionate, then?”

“Uhm... No.”

“Alright!”

A little while later, Michelle spoke up. “Alex, don’t make it too small, okay!”

The healing process was complicated and indescribable. Anyhow, when Beatrice saw Michelle again, she noticed her walking rather awkwardly, unlike her usual self.

On the other hand, Alex wore a weird expression. Never had he expected Michelle’s body to be so sensitive.

At that time, some unwanted guests had arrived at Mount Dragon-Tiger. Everyone at the mountain became nervous. The Flying Eagles were alerted, and even Jade herself came running out, despite training halfway.

“What happened?” Alex asked.

“Snow Dragon Valley? How many are there?”

“Just one!”

“One?”

“Yes, one. It’s Snow Dragon Valley’s sect master, a masked woman. She’s requested to see you.”

Alex frowned as Alba’s words coursed through his mind. She’d said that the sect master of Snow Dragon Valley wanted to take Maya in as her disciple.

‘Could it be that she hadn’t given up that idea yet?’

Daya asked, “Honey, does she know you? Is she an old friend?”

Alex shook his head. “I’ll know when I meet her. We’re at Mount Dragon-Tiger, and countless experts are here. Even if all the elites of Snow Dragon Valley came, they can’t act as they wish, not to mention if she’s here alone.”

So on, Alex met the sect master of Snow Dragon Valley.

Dressed in a snow-white robe, her face was masked in silk, sending out a cold aura. It was obvious that the attributes of their martial art techniques were related to snow.

“Master Snow, how can I help you?” Jade spoke first.

It was now a known fact that all members of Snow Dragon Valley belonged to the Snow family, and they were extraordinarily stunning too.

The sect master of Snow Dragon Valley was called Lenneberg Snow. That name alone was able to make the atmosphere seem cold.

Lenneberg smiled, yet, it still sent chills down everyone’s spine. “Commander Benmore, don’t be nervous. I do not come with ill intentions. I have not brought anyone else with me, you see! I would just like a few words with Mr. Rockefeller, alone.”

Jade looked towards Alex, and he nodded gently.

Soon, Alex was left alone with Lenneberg. They were on one of the steep cliffs of Mount Dragon-Tiger.

Alex looked at Lenneberg’s masked face and secretly tried to look through it with his X-ray vision. He was shocked to find that it couldn’t penetrate the thin silk. The mask seemed to be a powerful treasure. He then noticed that he couldn't look through her clothes either. Some sort of law seemed to have blocked out his sight.

Lenneberg frowned as she looked at him. "Mr. Rockefeller, your eyes are somewhat like a primordial eye, right? You can look through clothes, can't you?"

"Huh?" Alex was taken aback, embarrassed that she had noticed.

"You're quite a famous person and leader of many. Don't you think it's immoral to use such techniques to investigate a woman's body?"

Alex remained calm and said, "Master Snow, we're enemies from what I've seen so far. You suddenly came here to find me, what more with your face masked up."

"I have to be more careful, you know? Who knows what you have hidden in your clothes if you were to suddenly take out a..."

Noticing Lenneberg's furious expression, he immediately stopped talking.

"Ahem, Master Snow, I don't think we have anything to talk about. Why not be forthcoming and tell me the real reason you've come?"

Lenneberg held up her elegant hand and took her veil off, leaving Alex absolutely shocked.

"You... How could you look like that?" Alex took a few steps back out of instinct.

He wasn't shocked because Lenneberg looked hideous or weird. In fact, she was actually very beautiful. Having the finest of facial features, her skin was smoother than most women her age, flawless and soft. Her eyes looked like crescent moons, curving up slightly. She didn't look old at all. Those with high cultivation levels like hers had great longevity and could easily live a few millennia. Thus she looked at most to be twenty eight.

However, Alex was mainly surprised that her face looked exactly like Maya. If he wasn't informed of this woman's identity, he would've mistaken her as Maya herself.

"Are... Are you in disguise, or did you have plastic surgery?" Alex asked.

"This is how I originally looked," Lenneberg groaned grumpily. Alex's words would infuriate any woman after all.

Alex asked, "So, you're Maya's... Twin sister?"

Lenneberg rolled her eyes. "I'm her mom!"

"Huh, mom?"

Lenneberg nodded gently. "Hmph. And you should call me Mom because of your relationship with my daughter."

"I... You... Are you really Maya's mother? But I've never seen any daughter look exactly like her mom. Humans aren't single-cell organisms."

Lenneberg said, "Maya is indeed my daughter. You're a doctor. You should trust your own judgement. Call Maya over, and you'll be able to tell our relationship."

"We look alike because my DNA is dominant. The martial art techniques of Snow Dragon Valley are rather special. That's why my children would look exactly like me."

As Alex listened, his brows furrowed together slightly. "So you came today to bring Maya away?"

"Yes! She's my daughter, I have the right to take her away."

Alex shook his head. "She might not want to leave with you."

Lenneberg nodded. "That's why I came to beg you."

"Beg me..?"

"She listens to you. If you ask her to do so, she'll leave with me."

Alex said, "I won't, and I can't! Even if you're Maya's biological mother, you've never taken care of her. She knows nothing about you and has no actual relationship with you. She might not even recognize you as her mother!"

Listening to Alex's words, Lenneberg's eyes reddened immediately. She then started crying in front of Alex.

"Uhm..." Alex felt awkward. "Miss..."

"Miss? I'm your mom!" Lenneberg glared at him and continued crying.

Things were getting tricky now.

"Alright then, Mom. Could you tell me what happened back then?"

"To be honest, I don't know much about Maya's background. Every time I asked, she would switch the topic. I think she must have some bad memories of her parents..."

"So if you want to reunite with her, you can't just take her away like that. You'll scare her, and I won't allow that..."

Lenneberg said, "What do you suggest I do then? You have to come up with something. I have no other ideas."

'That's straightforward...'

Alex was troubled. 'So that means I have to come up with a way to send Maya away?'

"Tell me about what happened back then, and I'll think about it."
