The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2961

Then, Lenneberg told her story...

About twenty years ago, the Snow Dragon Valley hadn't been established. Everyone was in lockdown, waiting for the recovery of spiritual energy. Moreover, they weren't the only ones. Many other sects from ancient times locked themselves in, sealing their people away from the outside.

However, there are always exceptions to things, and Lenneberg was one of them. She had left Snow Dragon Valley secretly with her junior and traveled around. Something cliché happened during that time. The young Lenneberg had saved a young man who was being beaten up. They ended up falling for each other.

They then got married in secret, slept together, and had Maya. After ten months of pregnancy, their darling daughter was born.

Lenneberg had completely fallen in love with this normal life. The day-to-day training at Snow Dragon Valley and waiting bored her tremendously... In comparison, her current life was much happier and more interesting. Not to mention with the birth of Maya and the company of her family, Lenneberg only wanted to be a good wife and mother.

Unfortunately, dreams and ideals were often torn apart by the cruel reality.

Lenneberg wasn't just your average Snow Dragon Valley member. As a Holy Maiden and the next sect master, her disappearance alerted the whole sect. Her master even left the mountain to find Lenneberg on her own, and after three years, she was finally able to locate her. Maya was already two years old then. Her master was furious, wanting to kill Lenneberg's husband and daughter on the spot.

Needless to say, Lenneberg refused and tried to protect them with her life. She threatened her master with death, hence her master finally gave in. Despite this, Lenneberg was the next sect master, and she had to go back. Moreover, the fact that a holy maiden had given birth was to be kept secret from everyone in Snow Dragon Valley.

Therefore, the mother and daughter had to be parted. Lenneberg was worried, but her junior volunteered to stay behind to take care of Maya in the end.

“But if my junior stayed to take care of Maya, it meant her cutting all ties with Snow Dragon Valley.”

“So my master destroyed her core, then erased her powers and sealed her memories away...” As she spoke, tears fell.

Alex was able to guess what had happened next. Lenneberg’s junior became Maya’s mom, and she, the biological mom, was taken back to the sect, unable to leave for twenty years. Finally, she became the sect master... And now she had come looking for her daughter.

“Ah, I can’t decide on this. Let me ask Maya.”

Alex was about to get up when he heard a familiar voice from behind him.

“Alex, you don’t have to find me. I’m here!”

He was stunned. Maya had come over on her own.

‘Could it be...’

“Maya, did you hear all of that?” Alex asked softly. “She said that she’s your mom...”

Looking at Maya, Lenneberg couldn’t keep herself together. Tears fell from her eyes. She was quite an emotional person, after all.

Maya looked at Lenneberg, whose eyes were red as well. On the verge of crying, she said, “Actually, I’ve always known the truth. I have your pictures, and I remember many things from my childhood. Since I have a good memory, I remember everything that happened since I was one...”

Tears started trickling down her cheeks.

Alex was shocked to find that Maya knew the truth.

“Dad left when I was six. He was sick from missing you, and he drank a lot. Not long after that, he even started coughing blood frequently. He held me when he died, telling me that my mom was called Lenneberg. He told me to remember your name for life...”

As Lenneberg heard Maya's words, she covered her mouth in grief.

Maya continued speaking. "My mom was unhealthy too. She had to take care of me on her own and had to earn money. She was always bullied and beaten up. Finally, she fell sick one day. Before mom died, she recovered her memories. She said she never regretted her choice. I was ten that year..."

"Argh!" Lenneberg fell to her knees, covering her face as she wailed.

She approached Maya slowly. "I'm sorry, I'm so sorry. I owe you, all of you, so much. I'm so useless, I..."

A streak of red blood dripped down her snow-white chin. No daughter would be able to accept their own mother's begging.

Maya knelt down slowly, too, her eyes blurring with tears while looking at Lenneberg. "To be honest, I hated you. Dad missed you so much, but you never came back. He always called for you in his sleep..."

"But mom told me not to hate you because you tried your best. You didn't come back, and that was the greatest protection you gave me..."

"But I still miss Dad and Mom so much, I wish they could come back."

Lenneberg grabbed her chest as she felt her heart tearing apart.

Maya reached out her hand. "I miss you too, Mom..."

Lenneberg shuddered, and she embraced Maya tightly. "My daughter, my precious baby, I... Have missed you every second!"

The mother and daughter had reunited. Endless tears fell as they tried to relate their infinite yearning for one another.

Alex stood at the side and gently wiped away a tear.

Maya had been with the Rockefellers for a few years. He had never thought that she had experienced such a hard life. Alex wondered how she had survived since the age of ten. Despite going through a lot, she had always kept this story in her heart, telling no one about it. If Lenneberg hadn't come looking for her this time, she might've kept it a secret forever.

He then left quietly to give the two of them some private space.

"What did you say?"

"The sect master of Snow Dragon Valley is Maya's biological mom?"

Brittany couldn't comprehend when she first heard the news. Even so, it was definitely good news.

Lenneberg hadn't abandoned her daughter, she had lost her due to the harsh circumstances. Since Maya had always remembered a glimpse of her mother, it made the reunion much easier.

"But now that Maya's mom is here, I wonder if she'll bring Maya away. If Maya were to leave, I don't think I can get used to it." Brittany was slightly upset.

Waltz said, "Mom, a woman follows her husband no matter what. Now that Maya is your daughter-in-law, it's not right for her to go back with her mom. If she does so, then let's go to Snow Dragon Valley too! We can't let the couple live apart. That's just not right."

Brittany slapped her own thigh in agreement. "That's right. I was hoping that Maya would hear me a grandson!"

Alex said, "Mom, you already have several grandsons. If we have more, could you really handle them?"

"I can hire helpers if I'm too busy! Waltz, you should hurry too. It's better to have children when you're still young!"

Not wanting children at that time, Waltz hadn't expected that she would become the topic of the conversation.

As they talked, Michelle ran over.

Michelle had just been treated by Alex, so the problem with her heart was much better now. Yet her face still couldn't help turning red when she saw him. She'd remembered what happened during the treatment and it made her feel extremely embarrassed. Nonetheless, she had come with some news.

"Alex, something's happened!"

"What is it?"

Michelle found out something on her streaming platform. A female streamer had been killed during her livestream, and the words of the two murderers had caused chaos on the internet.

"There's going to be a second spiritual energy tide?"

This news spread like wildfire across the internet as they spoke.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2963

Many had made plans to leave the bustling city and head off to the remote mountains, especially the famous ones.

Some netizens had guessed that the places where the first tide of spiritual energy had appeared wouldn't be receiving the second tide this time, just like how rare flowers only bloomed once in a lifetime. Some so-called researchers even suggested that the second tide would appear at the famous mountains that had never had an eruption before.

When such news got out, the property prices on these mountains soared, with developers taking the opportunity to increase the prices overnight by ten times.

Even the American government couldn't control such profiteering. After all, there were people who were willing to pay these prices... It didn't matter anymore if the buyer even received the property ownership certificate. All they cared about was that they were there when the tide happened.

During the first tide, countless people experienced its magical effects. The sick recovered, the healthy became stronger, and the superpowers of many were awakened. The sky-high property prices were nothing compared to these great benefits.

Nevertheless, those who were able to afford these houses were the rich. The poor could only weather the elements and camp out in a tent. Hearing such rumors online and seeing the people going crazy, Alex didn't know if he should laugh or pity them.

"I'm not sure if the second tide of spiritual energy would appear, but I wonder where those two intruders heard the news. I'm sure that if there's a second tide, it won't erupt at those famous mountains that weren't included in the first."

Michelle was surprised. "Alex, do you know the reason behind it?"

Alex nodded. "I know a bit about that! The recovery in the Wastelands wasn't a natural phenomenon. It's a plan from three thousand years ago, coined during the end of ancient times by Grand Emperor Rowan and several other experts."

"All the mountains included in the eruption had a great legacy during the ancient times. There are spiritual meridians underneath them. The ancient experts drafted out the scheme and used these lands to steal heavenly tribulation from the universe, so there would be a recovery of spiritual energy in these lands after three thousand years."

"With this, our people would become powerful enough to defend our land against the Undead clan."

As he spoke, Alex suddenly remembered that the Undead Queen and True Martial Sovereign had both mentioned a seed before.

It was the backup plan Grand Emperor Rowan and the other experts had left back then, and True Martial Sovereign had confirmed that such a man had indeed existed. Since this was considered a top-secret, no one would speak of it easily. Alex had even been chosen as its substitute to draw the attacks of their enemies.

He felt mad at the mention of the topic. More importantly, now that the spiritual energy of America had recovered, the man could be hiding right here in the country, absorbing the grand opportunity and improving himself, waiting to strike.

"Damn it, who could that guy be?"

From the American experts Alex knew, no one had the potential. It would seem that this man could hide his identity well.

Michelle said, "So if there's a second tide, it would still erupt at the places where the first tide did?"

"That's right."

"Then what are we waiting for? Let's pack our bags and head to Yukon! That's the greatest sanctuary of the spiritual energy eruption, and it belongs to us Rockefeller's. There are too many people here at Mount Dragon-Tiger. Even if some treasure does appear, it wouldn't belong to us!"

Alex nodded, "You're right... But I have to correct you. You're one of the Yowell's, not a Rockefeller."

"Ahem... You've already done that to me. Don't you need to be responsible?"

"Did what?"

"You... I mean that... Argh. I don't care. You have to be responsible for me!"

While they spoke, something new happened on Mount Dragon-Tiger.

A member of the Flying Eagles came and said that someone from Snow Dragon Valley had arrived, and there were quite a few of them. According to him, they looked fierce and seemed to be looking for trouble.

Alex immediately went over to look.

As expected, there were thirty people there. All of them were flowing white robes and were stunningly beautiful ladies. The one leading them was obviously Alba.

He frowned. "What are you here for?"

Alba smiled coolly, "Ah, Mr. Rockefeller. We're here to capture our sect's criminal. Do let us in."

"Criminal? Who?"

"The ex-master of the Snow Dragon Valley sect, Lenneberg!"

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2964

Alex was utterly stunned. He looked at Alba's expression again, and he could guess what had happened.

Snow Dragon Valley had very likely found out about Lenneberg having a daughter, the reason they'd sent so many people here to find her... Although Lenneberg was already the sect master, her subordinates could still capture her as a wanted criminal. It seemed Lenneberg's position and power at Snow Dragon Valley were somewhat restricted. However... Lenneberg was Maya's mother, which meant she was Alex's mother-in-law. Alex wasn't about to let them catch her.

He smiled and said, "That's funny, Lenneberg is your sect master, but you call her a criminal? And her position was immediately taken away? May I ask who's the current sect master of Snow Dragon Valley?"

Alba raised her head proudly. "That would be me."

Alex laughed out loud. "So that means you, Alba, have seized the sect master's position, degraded Lenneberg to a lowly criminal, and tried to get rid of her completely. Is that right?"

A girl at the side snapped, "Alex, how presumptuous of you! How dare you speak to our sect master this way?"

Alex said, "Then how should I speak with her? Should I kneel?"

The girl replied. "Well, that'd be best!"

Alex laughed and looked at her as if looking at a corpse. In the next second, Alex's body disappeared from where he'd stood.

"Careful!" someone shouted frantically.

Unfortunately, it was too late. Everyone turned to the girl and found her body letting out a squeaking sound. She emitted a strong icy aura while her body started to freeze. In a split second, she ended up becoming an ice statue.

Crack!

The ice statue broke, and the girl was dead as she shattered to pieces.

With the sudden loss of a member, the remaining members of Snow Dragon Valley were furious. It was absurd that their comrade had been killed right before the whole troop. Moreover, as disciples of Snow Dragon Valley, they were trained with Snow attribute martial art techniques. They had high tolerance towards icy attacks. Yet one of them has just been killed by the cold!

There was no knowing how strong Alex's ice attribute abilities were.

"Mr. Rockefeller, do you want to start a war between America and Snow Dragon Valley?" Alba asked coldly. "Lenneberg is a traitor of Snow Dragon Valley, a criminal. This is a matter of our sect. Do you really want to stick your nose into this?"

Alex had already returned to where he'd stood.

"Then tell me, you keep calling her a criminal, but what crimes has she committed?"

"That's confidential!"

"Haha. Then could I see it as you lot being the real traitors and criminals of Snow Dragon Valley? Alba, I think you're committing treason now. You've teamed up with these people and taken away Lenneberg's place as sect master. Have you no shame?"

"Besides, Lenneberg came to Mount Dragon-Tiger. She's our guest, and I won't allow you to harm her."

"Hahaha!"

Alba laughed out loud, her expression turning hideous as if she'd finally taken down her mask. "Mr. Rockefeller, don't you forget that you too are only a guest at Mount Dragon-Tiger. If the Flying Eagles hadn't pitied you Rockefeller's and let you hide here, you all would've died long ago..."

"I'll be straight with you, Lenneberg had committed a crime by giving birth to a daughter as a Holy Maiden, and she'd even hidden the truth. That is a major crime in our sect, and the penalty is death!"

“I know that her daughter is your little lover. So, are you willing to carry that burden?”

Just then, a woman came over. It was Jade.

She stood next to Alex and spoke up slowly. “His wishes are the wishes of Mount Dragon-Tiger. If you want war, then let’s fight. Two of the six ancient sects have already been annihilated. Let Snow Dragon Valley become history too.”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2965

With Jade’s words, a group of Flying Eagle experts appeared from behind. Alex’s girlfriends stood up too. These were the best fighters here.

Alba looked troubled. “We’re not here to fight you Americans. We’re here to capture the traitor...”

Whoosh!

Just then, a figure jumped into the scene. It was Maya.

“Who called my mom a traitor?”

“Who defined her as that?”

Maya and Lenneberg had been reuniting on another peak, but the huge commotion still managed to catch their attention, especially since Snow Dragon Valley members practiced unique techniques. The release of ice Chi was hard not to notice, and the chill was very apparent.

“Alba, you’ve indeed been after the place of sect master!” Lenneberg was here too. She landed from the skies, her white robe flowing around her as if she were an angel.

“I originally planned on passing the position of sect master to you, because I’d never wanted to be the sect master in the first place. I longed for freedom and to be with my daughter. But it seems I’ve trusted the wrong person.”

An elder roared at the side, “Lenneberg, you have indeed betrayed our sect! You gave birth secretly, so you must die!”

Unable to bear it any longer, Alex stepped forward and yelled, “Bearing a daughter results in a death penalty? Then let me ask you, aren’t you a woman yourself? Didn’t your mom give birth to you? Don’t tell me that beasts bore you? If that’s a yes, I can shut up.”

“You, you...”

“What about me? If your parents hadn’t given birth to you, you wouldn’t even exist. So, according to your logic, your parents deserve a death sentence too. And since bearing you is a crime, you should just go kill yourself.”

Alba roared, “Alex, don’t you mess up the rules behind this. Snow Dragon Valley laws rule that as a Holy Maiden, you aren’t allowed to be with men, let alone giving birth! Lenneberg is a Holy Maiden, and she broke our rules. She has to die.”

Alex said nonchalantly, “Then the truth is, the whole Snow Dragon Valley deserves death as there shouldn’t be such a rule!”

With a wave of his hand, he took out the Dao killing sword and said with a sinister voice, “Do you know? Because of Snow Dragon Valley’s nonsensical rule, my wife lost her mother since she was a child, and her father died a tragic death.”

“She had to experience the losses and deaths of her loved ones at such a young age. I’m going to settle the pain she’d gone through with you all today, so... Snow Dragon Valley, be prepared to disband today!”

“Impossible! Alex, you’re too arrogant!” Alba was furious.

“I’ll show you exactly how arrogant I can be!” Alex attacked.

The Dao killing sword created a hundred meter long ice dragon, attacking the members of Snow Dragon Valley. This was a technique from the Holy Book. Each technique of the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell was stronger than the other.

“There’s something weird about his ice attribute attacks. Be careful, everyone!” someone from the sect shouted.

In an instant, the thirty experts of Snow Dragon Valley charged ahead, roaring and sending icy shards into the air.

Suddenly, Alex stopped the ice dragon and sent out a wave of burning flames. It was the Great Flame Spell of the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell.

“What?”

“Wasn’t his attribute ice? Since when did he learn fire techniques?”

It was simply unbelievable.

Fire and ice were complete opposites. Usually, if a person were trained with one, they wouldn’t be able to learn the other attribute. Alex’s ice attacks were deadly, thus it was very surprising that his fire attacks were equally powerful.

A fire lotus suddenly draped his enemies, catching them off guard.

Boom!

It exploded among members of the Snow Dragon Valley.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2966

Each of the Ten-Point Forbidden Spells had its own unique characteristics. If there were external objects to help, the efficiency would increase even more.

Alex, for example, could cast the Great Icebound Spell so quickly because he had obtained the Ice Mother Chaos. It increased the extremely high killing power of his Great Icebound Spell, and the Great Flame Spell could be cast so quickly because of the legendary flame of the Buddha’s wrath on his body.

That flaming lotus. The legendary flame was the source of the fire.

“Ah...”

“Sect leader, please save me!”

“Get away!”

Alex never expected the power of the Holy Book, which he had simply cultivated, to increase so dramatically in such a short period.

Five people were burned to ashes on the spot!

Souls notwithstanding, few matching swords in their hands were intact, and most were burned to a crisp by the legendary flame.

The scene was filled with howls of agony.

Alba was shocked and terrified. She had never considered Alex, believing that he was just one of the more prominent local cultivators. There was a limit to how powerful he could be, a heaven and earth difference from those from ancient times. The formation was his most powerful aspect. However, she realized that she was completely wrong.

“You... What kind of fire is that? How can it be so strong?”

“What kind of fire is that?” Alex grinned. “Alba, this is the fire that specializes in burning rebels. Rumor has it that you are now quite famous, known as one of the four ancient beauties. This cannot be your own fantasy, right? Look around me. Which one is not prettier than you? How did you get the courage to be the Sect Leader when you’re so ugly?”

“Husband, this is not a beauty pageant. Someone ugly can be sect leader too, right?” Waltz argued.

The Flying Eagles, Jade included, looked at Alex’s expressions that revealed his inner shock... One strike was so powerful that it was overpowering.

At this moment, the remaining Snow Dragon Valley crowd wanted to run away. This was not at all what had been anticipated.

“Go!”

“Don’t let anyone get away!”

Jade issued an order, and all of Flying Eagle’s people moved and surrounded the area, forming a semicircle with three layers inside and three layers outside, how could they still run?

“Disband the Snow Dragon Valley. Do you have any thoughts?” Alex asked Lenneberg.

“Lenneberg, the Snow Dragon Valley has been passed down for tens of thousands of years. It is a Daoist tradition passed down by the ancestors,” Alba said before Lenneberg could speak. “If you disband the Snow Dragon Valley today, you will be hated by many for a long time, when the time comes, all the sect disciples who scattered out, who once stayed in the sect and now straddle certain worlds, will not be willing to let you go.”

“What’s the point?” Lenneberg spoke, her voice filled with boundless resentment. She had lost her husband and best sister for more than twenty years. Her own daughter lived away from her for more than twenty years, living every day in a dark and heartless world. It was all because of the sect rules. What’s the point of keeping such a sect, which would only harm generations of holy maidens.

“I’ve been looking forward to the destruction of Snow Dragon Valley for a long time. Why would I have been stuck at the top of that snowy mountain for so many years, otherwise?”

Alba despised it!

It was not easy obtaining Lenneberg’s secret, persuading the Council of Elders to remove her, then ascend to the position of Sect Leader, but Alba never imagined that it would be an empty one in the end.

Blame it on Alex!

“Ah...”

Alba looked up to the sky and yelled, “I’m not willing!”

She wished to take one more shot.

Ice cold Chi erupted from her body, and she held a large golden egg that was slightly larger than an ostrich egg. It was black with golden patterns encircling it, together with strange, dense tadpole-like text. Complicated and profound, it oozed danger.

“What?”

“Divine dragon explosion?”

Lenneberg was taken aback when she recognized the object in Alba’s hand. Her entire body tensed up, thinking it had to be something extraordinary.

In a stern tone, she said, “Are you insane, Alba? How dare you bring this out? Elders, did you give your approval for this? You guys allowed her to use this against me?”

Those elders were astounded as well!

The divine dragon explosion, the ultimate secret weapon of Snow Dragon Valley could kill a thousand enemies while losing eight hundred. Since there was only one in the entire Snow Dragon Valley, would she perish along with Mount Dragon-Tiger?

“The king is defeated. Things have come to this. There is nothing more to say, Lenneberg. Alex, you forced me to do this. Let’s all die together!” sneered Alba.

She poured her entire essence into this egg.

“Everyone, retreat!” yelled Lenneberg.

The crowd quickly began to retreat.

Alba, on the other hand, had a cold smile on her face and seemed to think they were doing pointless work. “Is it of any use? When I activated the divine dragon explosion, this place was predestined to be razed to the ground!”

The egg exploded, leaving a path of golden light in its wake. That black eggshell cracked.

A terrifying aura spread from within, and everyone affected by the wave began to tremble from the bottom of their hearts. Their hearts and minds were taken away by it, and their souls couldn’t stop trembling.

“Go to hell!”

Alba unleashed the divine dragon explosion. Unintentionally, a strange, very-advanced talisman was also released. It pitch-black portal with no end in sight appeared right in front of her.

Alex was familiar with this strategy.

This was the entrance to a specific dimensional space. For example, there were two secret realm entrances in his body, one from the Kala Temple and the other to the world built by Emperor Genbu. This one was a little different, it required Alex to reach Immortalization to be opened.

Before stepping inside, Alba smiled at Lenneberg and said, "Since we are sisters, I will let you die with your daughter. I'm merciful enough for you. No need to thank me!"

The Snow Dragon Valley residents who accompanied her yelled, "Take us with you!"

"Don't do it, Sect Leader Alba."

Alba didn't care about those people and rushed straight into the portal that had opened.

However...

She discovered that she hadn't entered the specific secret realm but remained at her original location. The teleportation portal seemed like another door, and she had entered from the door to her right and exited the door to her left.

"What exactly is going on?"

"How can it be?"

With such a short interval, all the Snow Dragon Valley Sect members rushed to Alba. These people began to implode since Alba was about to leave them as cannon fodder.

However, they soon realized there was a problem. Why didn't the divine dragon explosion blow up?

Had it expired after half a minute?

"Doesn't it seem strange?"

Alex gently rested the divine dragon explosion in his hand, worrying many. If it exploded now, Alex would take its brunt and die instantly.

However...

He wore a relaxed expression and was unconcerned as if it was just a normal egg.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2968

Alba was in the middle of the portal, repeatedly weaving her way through. Despite her best efforts, it was completely ineffective.

“Save your energy. It’s useless. The portal you opened cannot lead to where you’re going because that space you are in is sealed,” Alex laughed.

“What?”

Furthermore, the passage doors were open, meaning the space was still open. How could it be sealed?

Alba had no idea she had encountered the Great Seal Spell of Ten-Point Forbidden Spell. In fact, it wasn’t just Alba, but the Snow Dragon Valley disciples she had brought were contained within the seal.

“Whatever divine dragon explosion it is, it’s a hot potato!”

Alex was apprehensive, despite the smile on his face. Close proximity to the divine dragon explosion would be required to truly appreciate how terrifying this thing was.

“This is a divine dragon who has left its essence in its prime!” Alex’s protector, Shelly, spoke up in the mind palace. “This is also somewhat miraculous; how could a divine dragon, in its prime, seal all of its life essence inside such an egg? Is it solely to fulfill the wishes of others and sacrifice itself?”

“Sister Shelly, I believe it’s truly terrifying. If it blows up here, there is a possibility that Mount Dragon-Tiger will blow up along with it,” Alex added.

The way Alex shouted out ‘Sister Shelly’ made her laugh.

However, at this point, there was nothing but disdain. "A tiny land boundary the size of Mount Dragon-Tiger is insufficient to cause it to explode. In fact, if this egg truly explodes, forget Mount Dragon-Tiger, the entire planet will experience a tremor. Do you know what that is? It is equivalent to the divine dragon, a lifetime of cultivation. With such power, a smaller planet can explode in a moment of self-destruction."

"That's terrifying..."

"There are many things that can frighten you in this world."

Alex was currently sealing the egg using the Great Seal Spell of the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell, but it was his first time and he was still very unfamiliar, making him nervous.

"Leave it to me. I'll seal it with water from River Styx. At the critical moment, it makes a great killing weapon that can turn the tide," Shelly muttered, then said, "How could a low-level sect like Snow Dragon Valley have such a thing in ancient times? Alex, if you have the opportunity, you should go to the Snow Dragon Valley's main camp and take a look. You might find an unexpected harvest."

Buzz!

Persephone's Folly Bridge appeared. Shelly didn't appear on it either, but instead, extended a small hand and beckoned the divine dragon explosion away.

The security concern has been resolved.

"What happened to the divine dragon explosion?"

Alba stared at Alex in disbelief, her eyes bulging. How could so many incredible things happen in this man's body? The divine dragon explosion should never be recovered in its activated state.

This man was far too strange.

"Mom, you are the leader of the Snow Dragon Valley. Its disbandment lies entirely on you, as is what to do with these people." Alex pressed the Great Seal Spell of the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell, and the area shrank further.

There were also a lot of Flying Eagles experts on the side.

The people of the Snow Dragon Valley were all captured and their cultivation sealed.

In the afternoon.

Alex went to treat Ynes' illness.

Ynes' life was already worry-free at this point, and her divine spiritual root had been partially restored, a spiritual root Alex had brought back to life with his own vital energy pill.

The initial results were extremely encouraging.

Alex smiled as she touched her smooth belly. "Don't worry. Your spiritual root will recover in time, and your cultivation will be a hundred feet further by then."

"This has been a difficult time for you," Ynes said, bowing her head.

Alex stated, "You've finally found your conscience. Throughout this time, I've been like a bull that not only plows the ground but also vomits blood. I'm exhausted. Most importantly, the ground is still uncooperative when it comes to plowing."

Ynes couldn't understand what he was saying. However, she also knew it had something to do with how they were treating the disease. Her cheeks flushed, she said, "Which part did I fail to cooperate? I did whatever you asked of me."

"Ynes, you are a living woman with a mind and subjective consciousness, not a robot. You have to have your own ideas and your own pursuits. You can take the initiative to..."

Alex spoke into her ear.

"This... Is this even okay?" Ynes asked, her eyes wide open.

“Of course it is., It’s actually very okay. You have no idea, but this is now popular fashion...”

“Then... Then I’ll try. And if I fail, you don’t get angry.”

“How could I be angry when I care for you so much?”

Then, another round of treatment began...

Alba had died.

Alex overheard Maya saying it during the second night. Snow Dragon Valley was removed from the name, but it wasn’t considered disbanded. Rather, Lenneberg regained control of the sect and renamed it the Snow Mountain Sect.

Lenneberg was vigorous and resolute, employing soft and stem methods to kill the elders in the Snow Dragon Valley. Some were dismissed, while the ones remaining were die-hard loyalists.

She issued the Snow Mountain Sect’s first rule, abolishing the holy maiden system. Snow Mountain Sect disciples were free to love as they were not bound by their rules.

Alex, Maya, and Lenneberg then headed to Alaska to pay their respects to Maya’s real father and stepmother. Alex learned later that Maya had to return to Alaska every year, claiming that something was wrong at home. But in fact, she came to pay respect to her parents. And when Maya was ten years old, her mother died as well, and she was raised in a social welfare institution.

“Alex, I intend to return Maya to the Snow Mountain Sect.”

“Maya’s body inherited my Cryo element, and she is more advanced than me. She suits practicing our sect’s martial arts, a tide of spiritual energy. It shouldn’t be too long before it erupts for the second time. It shouldn’t be at some spiritual mountain that has not erupted before, but within the Dao Field in the sacred spots of the major sects,” Lenneberg said to Alex.

“You are now temporarily in charge of Yukon, this is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, go to Yukon immediately to make preparations.”

“I can tell you this, Yukon is the immortal realm of immortals, and when the time comes, not only will there be a tide of spiritual energy, but a tide of spiritual and divine weapons may even appear.”

“Mom, what is the tide of spiritual and divine weapons? Will there still be a spray of spiritual weapons and divine weapons?” Alex froze for a moment.

Lenneberg nodded. “That’s correct! Yukon has a sacred place called the troop raising pond, which was very famous in ancient times. Many famous people would send their weapons to Yukon and head to the troop raising pond. Rumor has it that the troop raising pond holds thousands of spiritual weapons and divine weapons. When Yukon was sealed, the weapons in the pond were not taken out. After three thousand years, a soul of a soldier would have been raised inside a random weapon, right? Furthermore, none of the weapons sent by those great figures were ineffective.”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2970

Alex had no reason to stop Maya from going to the Snow Mountain Sect. He was eager to follow and take a look since Shelly had said that taking out something like the divine dragon explosion proved their background wasn’t that straightforward, he could get unexpected treasures from it.

Lenneberg, on the other hand, was unconvinced.

“Snow Mountain Sect has just undergone a major change. For now, some things shouldn’t be changed too drastically.”

“There are only women in the sect, so it would be inappropriate for a man to go up.”

“When the time is right, I’ll invite you for a visit.”

In response, Alex was forced to give up.

Alex took out a storage ring and handed it to Maya as they parted ways. Inside it was scarce pills and cultivation resources unlikely to be found on the market.

Alex kissed Maya passionately in front of his mother-in-law, Lenneberg, and turned to look elsewhere. He then quietly handed Maya a few carefully prepared paper dolls.

These were soul-infused puppets that could be worn in case of an emergency... Alex's true motivation for this was to see what the Snow Mountain Sect actually contained.

Even before the distance was served, their hearts had begun to ponder.

"Little brother, be sure to miss me..." Maya said hesitantly, holding her lover's face.

"I promise to think of you three hundred times a day," Alex replied tenderly.

"I'm not greedy, so three times a day is enough. You too. You must be careful. Since the Yukon Holy Land is so important, you'll never run out of people eyeing it. You'll have to make preparations... Especially the safety of mom and the children. Be sure to give it some thought," Maya said warmly.

"Don't be concerned, I have a plan in my heart."

Alex did, in fact, have a plan. He returned to Mount Dragon-Tiger and began the move after sending away Maya's mother and daughter.

"Wait a minute, Alex!"

Dressed in white, The flawless-bodied Fairy Doctor stood playfully behind Alex. Ever since she revealed their relationship to the Flying Eagles crowd, she rarely showed her face and appeared constantly irritated.

The Fairy Doctor was here to persuade Maya and share her viewpoint.

She felt that the situation in Yukon was much more complicated and dangerous than Mount Dragon-Tiger. Alex would be taking his family all the way there. It was a much riskier prospect, and if he wasn't careful, it could be used as a threat against him. All things considered, it was safer to stay at Mount Dragon-Tiger.

"Teacher... "

The Fairy Doctor rolled her eyes as soon as Alex opened his mouth.

“You’re calling me teacher now, but how about before?”

“I adore you! Speaking of which, I somewhat miss the days at Flying Eagles Academy,” Alex said as he hugged her.

The Fairy Doctor stated, “You didn’t even stay in the academy for long. You graduated after a month.”

“Yeah, it was only a month, and you spent half of it in your bed,” Alex explained.

“Bah, I’m falling into your pit. There are so many women out there, I can’t get my turn.”

Alex’s heart raced as he watched the beautiful woman in front of him, knowing she was dying to make love.

Furthermore, it had been almost two years since they had last made love. The Fairy Doctor never looked for another guy and had waited patiently for him. Indeed, she held a deep affection for Alex.

“I’m sorry. I’m to blame!”

“Aren’t you concerned about my mother and their safety, Dawn? I’ll take you somewhere.”

Swish!

Alex waved his hand, revealing a portal.

“Kala Temple?” the Fairy Doctor asked.

She, too, had visited Kala Temple and was familiar with it.

Alex pulled her in, and there, before him, stood the colossal gate of Kala Temple.

“That’s right! When the time comes, I’ll place them all here, in Kala Temple. It’s completely safe,” he said.
