The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2991

On the other hand, the two old men were utterly shocked.

“Why isn’t he afraid of the lightning tribulation?”

“He can’t possibly be the reincarnation of Zeus, right?”

The terrifying tribulation had killed their disciples in one hit. The two old men were in a messy position too. They protected the divine stone on their waists with their lives. However, they still had to spend a lot of energy fighting it.

After the first hit, the tribulation started attacking crazily.

“Fine, fine!”

“It doesn’t matter if we don’t get the Cleansing Vase!”

The two old men were scared that they’d die before getting the vase. They immediately tried using some tricks to leave the area of tribulation.

Alex was not going to let them go so easily. He created some mirror images of himself and followed them around.

Bang! Bang! Bang!

Another barrage of lightning struck down, most landing on Alex and some on the two old men.

Yet it didn’t affect Alex at all. The two old men were shuddering in fear, trying hard to keep their divine stone safe, their bodies now drenched in blood from head to toe.

“Die!”

Alex’s attention was no longer on the tribulation. He took out his weapon and charged at the two old men. When the three thousand golden cores were fulfilled, he could feel his battling powers increasing greatly. Even if he hadn’t reached three thousand Nascent Soul, there was a huge difference in his abilities. They were further enhanced as the nine Bodhi's hearts merged with the Holy Golden Pond.

"Ksitigarbha's Ten Wheels Earth Incantation!"

"Great Mighty Divine Palm!"

"Genbu Slash!"

The continuous attacks scared the two old men to the point they dared not fight anymore. Frustrated, Clinton spoke up. "Alex, how about we call it a truce? Yukon's so big. There must be many secrets hidden here. There might be disciples of those experts who'd survived the ancient times. You can't handle them on your own, but we can do it together."

Alex was stunned, "People are still alive inside?"

"Duh?! Yes! Of course, those ancient sanctuary sects would've had plans on surviving."

"That's right! I've got some insider information. Back in ancient times, Grand Emperor Rowan set up the Six Eternities and turned back time. The universe's spiritual energy was taken and placed in the wastelands of America..."

"This came as good news to the ancient sects of the wastelands, but there were certain conditions to gaining the energy since not everyone could handle it. Usually, the bodies of ordinary people would be destroyed. Under normal circumstances, there was no way to survive, and they wouldn't be able to wait for the Grand Opportunity underneath. But there were exceptions..."

Alex was fully attracted by his story, mainly because he wasn't familiar with ancient times and was eager to learn more.

"Rumor has it that to survive, you can only live under your own medium."

"This medium refers to a part of yourself, such as... A finger, a bone, or even a strand of hair."

Alex hadn't thought of such circumstances.

If this was true, it meant that there was danger within the core of each sanctuary's Dao Field...

'When the spiritual energy recovers, could there be heaps of bones waiting to regain their bodies inside that bejeweled jade palace in the mountains?'

'That's... Terrifying.'

'And it's going to be a huge problem.'

"Alex, how about this, Let's work together for the better?" one of them suggested.

"How would I know that you won't back out suddenly and attack me? Then, I'd really die from stupidity. So, it's better if you... Go to hell!"

"Remember to tell the devil my name when you reach hell!"

"Just die!"

This time, Alex used his full force, an impact far greater than what an Immortal Emperor could bear. At the same time, the lightning tribulation continued to attack. The two old men couldn't handle it any longer...

If they didn't fight back, they'd die. If they fought back, they'd reveal their cultivation levels. The two had no choice but to use their cultivation that surpassed Incarnate Deity.

At the same time, the Immortal-Slaying sword appeared again to send the last fatal hit.

Slash!

The two men were beheaded. The sword then circled Alex a few times and disappeared.

Alex himself hadn't noticed that there had been a faint shadow on the sword... It seemed to look like the Phoenix Goddess.

"The Immortal-slaying sword! It really does attract everyone!"

Alex looked at the place the sword had vanished and muttered to himself. Eagerness could be seen in his eyes. It was a precious treasure everyone would love. Unfortunately, it was too difficult to attain.

Alex took a few deep breaths and regained his calm. He then glared at the tribulation clouds, unafraid.

“Awh. This lightning tribulation is too weak!”

“I was wondering what sort of havoc it’d cause, but it didn’t even leave a single bruise on me. How disappointing!”

Within the Cleansing Vase, Shelley and Ancestor Bodhi looked at one another, speechless. They had seen what had happened outside.

Alex was nearly killed by the two intruders before. Yet he’d taken the chance and used the tribulation to solve his problem.

‘How ungrateful of him to complain about the tribulation’s attacks!’

‘What a b”tch!’

‘He’s so annoying!’

Ancestor Bodhi asked, “But what just happened? Why can’t the lightning tribulation harm him? I know that he’d trained some lightning attributes, but so did many others. I have never seen them so powerful.”

“It probably has something to do with the Blue Demonic Lotus!”

“The Blue Demonic Lotus can protect him from the lightning tribulation?”

“I’m not sure either. By the way, that lady on the immortal-slaying sword seemed weird. Would she cause trouble?” Shelly was worried for a moment but quickly let it go. “Forget it; if she’s an enemy, we’ll just kill her.”

Outside, the lightning tribulation gradually became fiercer, seemingly mad at Alex. However, Alex remained unscathed. The attacks were absorbed by his mind palace into the soil where the nine lotus seeds rested. A few streaks of lightning still flashed above ground as if it was trying its best.

Despite this, there was no use. All of them vanished within the swamp.

Whoosh!

The lightning tribulation dispersed, having no way to get to a creep like Alex.

“Time to collect my rewards!” Alex smiled as he looked at the corpses on the floor.

He ignored the weaklings, but there had been five intruders who snuck in with a disguise. They were experts of Heavenly Deity, hence they must’ve brought some valuables.

Indeed, their belongings satisfied Alex. Each of their storage rings was extremely huge. Inside them were countless resources for cultivation. Other than different pills and elixirs, there were many other ingredients for smelting.

Alex took a closer look and found many of the ingredients were still fresh. It was very likely that they had been harvested here at the wastelands.

“I wonder how many more people like them there are.”

“It’d be hard to fight them without the recognition of the Immortal-Slaying sword!” Alex sighed gently. He’d almost lost his life, after all.

“Huh, what’s this?”

Suddenly, Alex found numerous flagpoles in one of the rings. He gave them a rough count and realized at least ten thousand of them. “Damn, could he be running a flagpole wholesale business? What does he need that many for?”

He looked through the ring more thoroughly and found an ancient book at the side.

It seemed to be made of some kind of leather and was slightly damaged. The patterns were special like it was a sky full of stars. As he continued staring at it, the stars even seemed to be spinning... The back was filled with script, symbols, and drawings.

“Could this be some sort of formation?”

“There are up to ten thousand poles. Could they be formation flags?”

Alex was shocked. He wondered what sort of formation needed so many flags.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2993

These flags were enough to surround the whole of Yukon. Unfortunately, Alex couldn't fathom their use in such a short time. Thus, he set the book and flagpoles aside and would investigate further when he had the time.

Just then, a cylindrical ray of golden light shone down from the sky, aiming at Alex.

He didn't hide from it as he looked at the golden ray and muttered, "I thought I didn't have the honor! So it doesn't matter if someone's controlling the lightning tribulation. It'll definitely still follow the rules."

This golden ray was from the lightning tribulation. As it engulfed Alex, energy poured from it and entered his three thousand golden cores...

The lightning tribulation had ended, and the three thousand golden cores hatched. Each golden core had a huge change. What seemed to be fairies were within, slowly awakening.

"Is this Nascent Soul?" Alex was curious. He looked more attentively. He was then shocked.

It wasn't Nascent Soul. It was a bunch of seeds.

Alex was dumbfounded. When others advanced from Core Formation to Nascent Soul, they attained realistic infant like spiritual bodies. On the other hand, his three thousand golden cores had turned into seeds.

'What would I use seeds for?'

'Can they grow into beautiful ladies?'

"Shelly!"

"Come quick!"

In the face of the problem, Alex summoned Shelly. He understood now that she was special. She was his protector and leader who also shared the same goals, which was why he could ask for her help.

Shelly and Ancestor Bodhi came out together. When they heard about Alex's situation, they, too, were stunned.

Ancestor Bodhi telepathically spoke to Shelly. "Shelly, this ain't right, those... Those things in the nascent souls seem to be lotus seeds?"

'The seeds of the Blue Demonic Lotus?'

This shocked them even further. 'It's indeed the seeds of the Blue Demonic Lotus!'

'How did they become his nascent soul? Could the lotus have planted itself within Alex's body and grown more lotuses?' Ancestor Bodhi was afraid of his own guesses.

If that was true, Alex might be in big trouble.

The two discussed in secret. Shelly didn't dare tell Alex about it. It was just so odd, even she didn't know what was truly going on.

Just then, Alex asked, "So? Have you found out what it is?"

Shelly was calm. "It's nothing much, just that your training methods are too special, and you can't exactly compare to the average person. Think about it. Who else could have had three thousand golden cores, then transformed them into three thousand nascent souls?"

"Three thousand is the supreme number. There had been a rare treasure called Jade Disc of Fortune. The original three thousand Colossal Cultivations are written on it. Your three thousand nascent souls are somewhat similar to those."

Shelly was talking gibberish, but Alex couldn't refute her.

Nonetheless, Alex obviously felt that his powers had greatly strengthened as he advanced from three thousand golden cores to three thousand nascent souls. The two stages were clearly different.

"I wonder if I could beat the tricksters if I fought them now."

Nonetheless, Alex was satisfied with this ending.

Alex packed his clothes and headed deeper into the sanctuary of Mount Yukon. He quickly reached the barrier where the five largest forces had fought. This should be where the Troop Raising Pond was.

“Should we enter by force?”

Alex had a feeling that if he had to use force, he should destroy the barrier and unearth the Troop Raising Pond. However... As he thought about the possible dangers within, he hesitated. It was like opening Pandora's box, where whatever lay inside could change everything.

“How about we come on another day?”

With the thought, Alex stepped back when the barrier suddenly shook violently. A hand reached out from within and grabbed his neck. With a pull, Alex vanished from where he had stood.

“What the f*ck!” Startled, cold sweat dripped from Alex's forehead.

The hand was as fair as snow, her fingers slender and beautiful. Even the nails were painted and had faint flower patterns. They looked. exceptionally stunning. Shockingly, this hand also had immense strength.

Alex had just gone through tribulation and reached three thousand nascent souls. He was now one of the most powerful people in America. However, compared with this beautiful hand, his powers seemed like nothing.

He had been captured by a phantasm of this hand and dragged into the barrier. His struggles were futile.

Crash!

Alex landed roughly on the floor, letting out a loud thud. His organs were almost destroyed from the blow, its powers far greater than the few otherworldly tricksters from before.

“Where am I?” Alex looked at the view before him with his jaws dropped.

Before he was a vast sea of tall towers that continued for thousands of meters, there were three kilometer tall buildings... And he was currently in a garden.

There was a huge bath next to the garden.

Over three hundred meters in length, spiritual energy floated above it like mist, and visions of cranes, phoenixes, and dragons made of spiritual energy appeared every once in a while. It made the whole place seem extremely mystical.

What shocked Alex most was...

There were people in the bath. There were women, young women. There were dozens of them as well. All of them were absolutely stunning.

Even though the mist of spiritual energy covered their bodies and faces, it couldn't block out Alex's X-ray vision.

'Oh my god!' Alex was stunned.

'These ladies are all beautiful in their own way.'

They were simply flawless in their own different ways. Some looked pure and innocent, some sexy and seductive, while some were shy. Each was unique in her own way.

"Where... Is this?"

Alex finally looked away and was about to stand up. Just then, the hand that had grabbed him here suddenly appeared again. This time, it pressed him down hard with his face to the ground. He had no way of getting up.

A woman's voice rang in a chilly tone. "Stay there, don't you dare get up!"

Alex was furious. No woman had ever dared to order him to lay down.

"No! Unless you lay underneath me, I'll lie down!"

Alex controlled his Chi and attacked with his nascent soul. It flung the woman's hand away.

The laughter of other women echoed within the pool. “Sis, did you turn weak upon seeing a young man? Can’t you handle him? Do you need our help?”

“Shut up!”

“Try your best, sis, and get us a brother-in-law!”

“Hehehe...”

The women in the bath looked upwards at Alex through the mist. Even though they were naked, they weren’t embarrassed at all.

The spiritual energy mist covering the bath was special. Without supernatural power, one can’t see through it. From their point of view, Alex couldn’t possibly be able to look through it.

Hence, they thought he couldn’t see them bathing and couldn’t hear what they were saying.

However...

They would most likely have a different reaction if they knew Alex’s primordial eye could see and hear them.

“Hmph!” a lady, the one who’d attacked Alex, snorted.

She used more force as a gigantic palm phantasm came from the skies onto Alex’s waist. He couldn’t move one bit. In an instant, Alex felt as if the entire sky had fallen on him.

Just as he was about to use more force, Shelly spoke to him via telepathy. ‘Don’t move and keep your strength! This person’s cultivation is much stronger than yours. Besides, there are so many other people here. It’s better to hide your powers.’

Alex forced his powers back in.

He let the woman's palm phantasm pin him down and telepathically asked Shelly who these people were.

Shelly answered, 'If I guessed correctly, these people were here before the sealing of Yukon.'

Alex replied, 'So the old man didn't lie. The people from before survived in the various sanctuaries.'

'It's better to be more careful. They might kill you easily.'

Shelly didn't say anything more. The woman who'd attacked had high cultivation, so she wasn't sure if the woman had the ability to find out if she continued talking to Alex through telepathy.

Alex slanted his head and stared at the bathing pool. There, a girl in her twenties stepped forward. Her skin was smooth and her body curvy, she wasn't covered at all. As she walked, her body swayed gently, which was quite a beautiful sight. She didn't know that Alex had seen everything.

'She... Doesn't seem to know that I can see her?!' Alex thought.

No normal woman could remain elegant and overly confident under such circumstances. Alex could tell from the girl's expression that she was a narcissist. However, she wouldn't have remained so confident if she knew her naked body was being exposed to Alex's eyes.

'The mist seems to be special?'

Alex suddenly realized something was up. His primordial eye could analyze things for him while using X-ray vision.

He just noticed that as he used his X-ray vision, his eyes consumed a lot of spiritual power, and it was also supported by the power from the pond. If it weren't for the pond, he probably couldn't see through this mist.

Whoosh!

The lady put on her clothes. Alex continued looking at her attentively, without even blinking. The lady, on the other hand, looked at Alex and sneered. She obviously hadn't suspected that Alex could see her body. Finally, she dressed herself in a long white dress before appearing gracefully before Alex.

“Who are you?” Alex asked.

“You have no right to ask! ” the lady answered coldly.

‘F*ck! What a b*tch,’ Alex cursed in his heart. He looked at her and activated his x-ray vision again. ‘You can’t even answer a question? I’m going to stare at your body as long as I want! ’

“What do you want with me?” Alex was starting to get dizzy.

Anyone would get bored of even the most stunning thing if they looked at it for too long. Moreover, Alex disliked this lady.

“Are you a native from outside? You sure have some powerful abilities to be able to get here.” The lady stood tall and arrogant as a goddess would. “Do you know where this is?”

Alex asked, “Isn’t this Yukon?”

The lady nodded. “That’s right. It seems like you’re here to search for the Great Opportunity. Fine, I’ll grant you something. We’re missing a butler anyway.”

“I see that your body’s quite special. I’ll grant you the handyman position so you can stand up. Kneel, and thank me for my generosity!”

“What?”

Alex was taken aback.

“Was she being too arrogant?” Alex wondered.

The palm phantasm had moved away, and Alex could move his body and climb up. After he stood up straight, his height was half a head taller than the woman. The situation immediately reversed. Previously, she looked down on Alex, but now, Alex was the condescending one...The key point was that her dress revealed her cleavage, leading his eyes to unconsciously focus towards that area.

“Where are your eyes looking?”

The woman yelled, raising her foot to kick Alex. If Alex hadn't dodged quickly, the kick by that f*cking bitch would have broken his vitals.

'What a jerk!'

Alex was flung a few dozen meters away, and when he climbed back up, his eyes were filled with rage.

'B*tch!'

'Who wants to look at you?!'

“Come on!”

The woman, on the other hand, remained smug and stood there waving to Alex.

Alex, on the other hand, took a step back and then dashed down the mountain.

For a brief moment, the woman appeared stunned. However, the next second... A dozen women still in the bath appeared in the air like butterflies. They divided to guard the path descending from the mountain, and he was stopped instantly.

“Elder Sister, your charm is insufficient!” a woman in a sexy red tutu smiled as she spoke.

“I gave you the chance to work here as a handyman, something that many want but cannot get. Why do you want to run away?” the white-clothed b*tch asked as she stared meanly at Alex.

Was it true that after spending so much time on the mountain, people would become stupid?

Could it then be considered an opportunity to work as a handyman?

“You are welcome to come to my house to work as a handyman. I would provide you with three dishes and one soup every day, as well as a night's sleep!”

“Because I don’t want to be a handyman!” Alex replied.

“What do you want to be if you don’t want to be a handyman? Do you still desire to be the ruler of the Yukon Sacred Realm?” The woman’s beautiful face was icy cold, and she was unsatisfied with Alex’s response.

Alex reflected, “Yukon was originally mine. The country gave it to me.”

However, if this were to be stated, he was simply looking for a backlash.

“Sister, you caught this man hard and fast. Since he does not want to stay here, let him go. Yukon’s cultivation techniques are not cheap goods,” a woman next to him said.

Big Sister disagreed. “No. It is difficult enough to catch someone, and if you let him go, you will never know when he will return! The house in Yukon Sanctuary is too dusty, and you’re all too lazy and sick to clean it. If you don’t, you’ll be unable to live there.”

Alex’s eyes were wide open. ‘You are looking for a cleaner?!’

“How could I come here to sweep the dust for you when I have a beautiful wife and grandchildren at home, and I still have to complete a big job of saving the earth?”

“This... Fairy... I’m a slug. Let alone sweep dust, I can’t even wash dishes, so this job is definitely not for me. Just let me go, fairy!” Alex explained.

“How can you be a man when you’re so lazy?”

“That’s right, after becoming the handyman, you can change the lazy disease in you. All right, the matter is decided. From now, you will go to the shrine. That entire building should be cleaned.” The white-clothed b*tch raised her eyebrows.

“ ... ”

“Are you still not going?”

Alex considered it, but... This woman in front of him was too terrifying to resist, and there was nothing he could do. In addition, the ancient building was large. He wanted to see what was inside and, at the very least, find a suitable time to escape again.

He simply raised his foot to proceed.

“Wait a minute, since you are a handyman here, I will naturally treat you well. As a handyman of this sect, you are entitled to receive one airway pill a month. Here you go!” the woman said.

Alex’s hand was filled with a pill.

A grade five, level two spiritual pill.

‘How dare she give me such garbage? My friends won’t take these garbage pills, as I can refine hundreds of pills with my hands. As a super expert, how dare she take these out?’

Alex turned around and walked away.

“Hmph! He appears unconvinced. Then let’s add a lock!”

A red light shot down at Alex as she waved her hand. He was unable to flee, and a second collar was wrapped around his neck.

“What?!”

“Hmph! This is to keep you from being sluggish and to stop you from running away!”

Alex scrutinized it. This was a collar made of rules. The initiative was in the hands of the woman, that was to say, this was a lethal switch. If she wasn’t happy, he could wipe him out with a single press!

‘Oh my goodness! This evil woman is as vicious as a viper!’

In the shrine.

Alex took the cleaning supplies and began sweeping the thick dust. This great shrine was a thousand feet tall. The space inside was even more terrifying, where in the center stood a statue of a woman who existed a long time ago.

“It can’t possibly be the Western Queen Mother, can it?”

However, based on everything he’d heard, he didn’t think so. This was because it seemed so young.

“Move fast. I’m watching you. Your task today is to clean the first floor of this hall. There should be no dust at all, so wipe the statue first!” said the collar around his neck.

That’s right! It’s that b*tch.

“How am I going clean such a large hall alone?”

“That’s your business!”

That rude snap angered Alex, an inappropriate reaction since he was a slave.

After ten minutes, Alex cut a hundred paper dolls out. They became humans, and he let them use tools to clean the hall, greatly increasing efficiency.

“Paper Doll Curse of the Three Realms?”

“He’s not too bad. He’s somewhat capable,” the woman in white said softly and nodded.

“Sister, can I play with him?” a woman asked.

“Outside Yukon, three thousand years had passed, but we were locked in and were unable to leave. I’d like to ask him what’s going on outside!”

“Not today. We have to work together to refine the Great Star Pill. The young master has been in seclusion for a period of time, so the Great Star Pill must be prepared. It is a wasteland outside. No matter how it changes, it’ll still be a wasteland. There’s no need to worry!” the white-clothed woman said.

“Okay!”

A dozen women who had been staring at the great hall had also stopped paying attention. Alex’s arrival added a dash of spice to the proceedings. They had no idea, however, that their catch would turn out to be a heavenly scourge.

Alex stood in front of the lovely statue, his mouth agape, “This statue... I’m not sure who she is, but she stands here like a station lady every day and eats ash and dirt. This is really sinful. Amitabha... Since you have met me, you have met a good person.”

He took a rag and began wiping the top of her head. There was no other way because the collar was on his body, and that b*tch could check him at any time.

He didn’t notice that the hundred meter tall statue had a faint flash of anger in her eyes.

“Is it just me, or is this statue still wearing earrings? No way! This appears to be a hidden treasure...?”

Alex rubbed the statue’s ear and discovered that the earring was very different, with divine power swirling around it.

“Hey, lady statue... Hanging this on you is a waste of time. I’ll help you wash your body today, and this earring will be my reward!”

Alex removed the statue earrings, and a turn of spiritual power caused them to shrink and fit into his pocket. The collar around his neck remained motionless, implying that the woman in white should not have known.

Then, Alex continued cleaning.

“Wait, this necklace around my neck is also a magical treasure as well?”

“Holy sh*t, this turtleneck... Appears to be remarkable as well!”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2998

“Huh, this bodice appears to be a magical treasure of a certain great person from the past?”

“Ah, I remember, isn’t this the Seven Feather Flag?” Shelly spoke in Alex’s mind.

Alex froze for a brief moment. “What is a Seven Feather Flag? What exactly is it?”

“It is a magical treasure made from the native feathers of seven divine birds, which means that there are seven divine birds who gave their lives for this. These must’ve been bred in the prehistoric era, including the Phoenix, Golden Crow, Vermilion Bird, Four-Eyed Bird, One-Legged Stork, Red-Tailed Bird, and the Nine-Headed Bird. Think about it. This flag was so powerful,” Shelly said.

“Unfortunately, it was actually on the statue, but given as a bodice. How extravagant this woman must’ve been when she was alive,” Alex explained and looked around.

He took another look at the law collar around his neck. He grabbed it and slid it into his own treasure chest without hesitation. The statue’s body was a little unusual... Its clothes had been removed, revealing its actual body.

Surprisingly, this statue was not the usual type one saw normally. Everything that mortals had, it had too. Moreover, it was also more perfect than a real person. It was more appealing.

‘It couldn’t have been... Initially a real person, right?’ Alex had an absurd thought, and he forcefully poked at the belly of the statue only to discover that the hardness was incomparable. Even if he were to use fifty percent of his strength, it wouldn’t hurt the slightest.

Alex considered this, and his movements were fast.

The bodice on the statue was awesome, but then there are other things... Like belts, pants, and shoes... Although everything appeared to be incomparably large, the magical treasure could freely change size.

“All that remains is to complete the task because everything has been done in the beginning!”

“Take it away inside out!”

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

Alex was like a hamster in motion, stripping the statue of everything he could get his hands on.

In some unnoticed space. A woman sat with her legs crossed.

Alex would have screamed in terror if he could see her because this woman looked exactly like the female statue in the Yukon Shrine.

The only difference was that Alex had stripped the female statue in Yukon Shrine bare. It was now clean and slippery while the woman in this hidden space was all dressed up.

Anger was her current emotion!

She was sitting on a sacred stone, situated in some dark and boundless lake... Nothing could be seen around this hidden space... Everything was gray and dull, as if in chaos.

“You’re an a*shole, a beast!”

“How can there be such d*mned bastards in the world?”

The woman erupted in a rage despite sitting still on the stone. She opened her mouth, and the words that came out were extraordinarily furious. She had a spiritual connection with the female statue in the hall.

That statue could be considered a statue, but it also couldn’t. It was because its very existence symbolized her, an incarnation of her, and her double. Her double, on the other hand, had been desecrated by a man.

“Ahhhhhh!!!”

The woman also had no idea what she saw again. All of a sudden, her emotions were out of control. She shouted in horror with a frenzied expression.

“Wait! Just you wait! I’m going to bruise you to death!”

“If I don’t succeed, I’ll take your surname!”

The woman could no longer contain her rage, and her nature, which had previously been calm, became manic. She had a feeling Alex was up to something.

The chest of the female statue appeared to be encrusted with two massive gems... These gems gave Alex a very special feeling, and they had to be some kind of treasure. It was like what Shelly had reminded him.

“These two gems are very special. The divine energy on them is very powerful, but... I can’t say for now what kind of gem this is, but take it. You can’t go wrong.”

Alex then puffed and panted, vowing to take those two treasures.

“It’s a shame! You will unquestionably pay the price!”

The woman was trembling in the hidden space, unable to believe she was being treated this way. She fell into a hysteria, nearly losing her mind. Then, she started to function.

Her Chi rioted, and her divine power swayed.

Although she couldn’t directly descend into that space, she could communicate quickly and get a portion of her ability... She wanted to challenge Alex!

All she needed was some time.

Meanwhile, Alex felt that the consequences of stripping the statue naked would be severe. Those women were bound to be enraged when they saw it. After thinking about it, Alex quickly cut out clothes and pants using paper. With the Paper Doll Curse of Three Realms, he made clothes out of the paper cuttings and wore them on the female statue’s body.

“Not bad at all!”

“Everything is the same as it was.”

Alex was quite satisfied with the effect, as long as they didn’t deliberately come to investigate the situation. According to the women, the statue has existed for at least three thousand years, meaning they shouldn't be scrutinizing it. Faced with a three thousand year old object, they would naturally be unconcerned.

Alex, on the other hand, quickly shifted his focus to other locations.

“Hmm... What potent medicinal aroma!”

Alex's nose twitched as he caught a whiff of a medicinal fragrance.

He was a highly skilled alchemist, and according to the the Ultimate Book of Medicine, could now be called a Grand Master Alchemist. And unlike those who had his cultivation, the firstborn could use the laws of heaven and earth to refine extremely extraordinary pills known as fairy pills.

The medicinal fragrance Alex could now smell, on the other hand, went beyond the realm of fairy pills. It was a divine pill of rather extreme value.

“Who is refining pills that smell like that, where a single sniff can increase one's power?”

Intrigued, Alex followed the smell and looked for it.

Not long after that. He discovered the source of the odor in a section of the hall.

In the aisle, someone was refining a divine pill. The fragrance was so strong that it created a vision in the air. There were phantoms of immortal devils dancing, and the laws vast and trembling. The entire hall appeared to be a heavenly fairyland.

Alex stood in the doorway for a while, just smelling that smell, and the three thousand nascent souls in his body seemed to blossom. The seeds inside drew energy and had a sense of belonging.

“Could this be the Great Star Pill?” Shelly's voice suddenly rang out excitedly.

“What is the Great Star Pill?” Alex inquired.

“It is a heavenly divine pill that seizes the creation of heaven and earth. Refining it is extremely difficult, as it requires not only incomparably precious pill-making materials, but also seizing heavenly tribulation and luck.. .But, this is the Yukon Sacred Realm, and three thousand years ago, this place was could capture the luck of the universe outside. This truly makes it a one of a kind situation.”

Then, Shelly explained that eating the Great Star Pill would compensate for his lack of physical cultivation.

What exactly did she mean?

There could never be perfection during the cultivation. Each advancement, each breakthrough, might be infinitely close to perfection, but there was always a flaw in the middle. And this flaw would cause instability and defects in the realm beyond.

The Great Star Pill, on the other hand, could be dissolved and perfected.

Alex sat there listening in a daze. While he wasn't paying attention, his foot brushed up against something and made a light sound. The next thing he knew, his collar was vibrating with laws.

The woman in white's voice rang out in his head, and she was furious.

“Who told you to come here?! Go away!”

Boom!

Alex's neck was nearly severed by the laws as the collar flared up, and he was sent flying thousands of meters away by a massive force. When he landed, he spat out a mouthful of blood.

Alex's heart was so enraged after landing that his anger could break through the clouds and sky.

When had he ever been mistreated so badly? This b*tch really treated him like a slave.

When he couldn't control his rage and wanted to fight, Shelly came to a stop in time. “Don't worry! It's pointless rushing over now, regardless of the circumstances.”

“At the very least, I can make her fail to refine the pill,” Alex grumbled angrily.

“I have a better way of stopping her from refining the pills,” Shelly said.

“How so?”

“Steal them.”

Alex was shocked. What a joke! That woman was refining pills, which meant her strength was still terrifying, and even her consciousness of protecting the pills was very high. Alex had just arrived at the side hall door and ended up being severely outgunned. Once he touched her pills, she would definitely break him into pieces.

“So, I’m not talking about robbing, but about stealing!” Shelly wisely instructed.

“Speak. I’m paying attention!”

“We must rely on Ancestor Bodhi when it comes to this.”

Alex quickly realized that Shelly intended to use the underground travel of the Ancestral Bodhi Tree. He could steal all of the raw materials for the pills that the woman was refining by ignoring the spatial barrier.

Alex ruthlessly executed the plan.

“In addition, this law collar around your neck is not without a solution. That woman, who knows nothing about you, has no idea that you practice the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell. This spell is not bound by heaven and earth, not bound by the rules, and naturally, breaks it. As a result, this thing cannot kill you. If she is truly moved to kill you, the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell will undoubtedly be able to break this rule collar.”

When Alex considered it, he realized that this was a real possibility. The rule collar was not particularly advanced.

Then... What to be worried about?

Previously, this thing hung above the head of the sword of Damocles, always keeping him on his toes. Fearful that the b*tch would show displeasure, it eventually cost him whatever little life he had left. It was now equivalent to the stone pressing against him being moved away.

Even so, he immediately used the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell, the Great Seal Spell in the Holy Book, and condensed one point slightly before approaching a specific point in the collar. It was clear that rules were being sealed above the rule collar.

“Haha...”

Alex was ecstatic.

What made him feel even more incredible was that the collar could be modified using the Great Seal Spell. Through its medium, he was able to locate the white-clothed b*tch and quickly see what she was doing and saying.

“This...”

“God really helped me!”

When Shelly heard that Alex could detect the caster’s situation in reverse and see it at a glance using the rule collar, she was astounded, even when she was categorically unable to do so. This could only mean that the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell was truly something that heaven and earth could not allow.

“What did you see?” Shelly asked.

“Alchemy is being worked on! Not one, but fifteen women seated in a circle!” Alex used the Great Seal Spell to peep and change the rules in order to prevent the woman in white from detecting his movements. He also wanted to set up a false scene, and what she would see through the collar would be the content Alex purposefully created.

“It’s really difficult to refine the Great Star Pill. Besides stealing luck, one has to lose blood essence. The fifteen people could be refining the pill using their own blood essence!”

Shelly’s guessing was accurate, and she also saw a glimpse of the future, they were refining the Great Star Pill for that seed.

Alex could also hear voices saying, “Sister, we’ve already refined the Great Star Pill three times, are we certain it’ll work this time?”

“Don’t be concerned. It will definitely work this time! The previous two times were due to unqualified materials. But this time, I am 100% certain. Fifth Sister, don’t get distracted. This is a critical moment, and there is no room for mistakes.”

“Yes, sister, I am aware!”

“By the way, don’t let that man outside ruin our big event. ”

Alex became aware of a rule energy rhythm above the collar around his neck, which was the woman in white using her spiritual power to communicate with the collar and spy on Alex

Alex interjected himself via the forbidden spell. What he saw was an image of him cleaning inside the shrine.
