The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2931

Although the Ancient Divinity had repaired and refined the Demon Vase into the tower, its original source was still the red gourd. Even if it'd been repaired after being cut into half, there was still a scar. The healed wound couldn't compare to the original innate gourd. It was much weaker.

Thus, the Ancestral Bodhi Tree could pass through this weak spot and leave this place.

As Alex got the answer, he immediately asked Andariel and Cydaea if they knew where Heaven's Mark was. The two demons shook their heads as they had never heard of such a thing.

Yet Andariel then said, "Swordmaster, there's a limit to both our powers. After being thrown into this tower, we could merely survive under this forest's protection."

"We don't dare explore what's outside this forest, but I know someone who might know where this the Heaven's Mark is."

"Who's that?"

"The Peacock Heavenly King!"

Alex and Jade had never heard of such a person, questioning the sisters about him.

The two demons seemed to admire The Peacock Heavenly King very much. They said, "His identity is a mystery."

The answer left Alex and Jade speechless.

However, Andariel told Alex that the Peacock Heavenly King had once come here long, long ago, telling them roughly where he stayed.

The Peacock Heavenly King could roam freely within this tower. It was very likely that he knew where the Heaven's Mark was.

Alex and Jade immediately decided to go look for this Peacock Heavenly King. Just then, a rustling sound came from the forest. It sounded like a gust of wind had passed through. The leaves were rubbing against one another.

However, Andariel's expression changed as she said confusedly, "Today's a weird day. We sisters have been here for thousands of years, and no one else has ever come. There are so many visitors today, though, I wonder who it is this time."

Alex walked to the door of the bamboo house and looked outside. He retreated back quickly and said to Jade, "It's Jeremy."

Jade sneered. "That guy's pretty lucky to not be killed by the astral wind."

Cydaea asked, "Master, is the comer your enemy?"

Jade said, "We have a blood feud with him."

The Returning Sword sect had killed countless members of the Flying Eagles. They were all comrades that followed and stayed loyal to Jade in many life-threatening situations. Her comrades were just like family to her, so calling it a blood feud was not an exaggeration.

Andariel smiled. "Master, how do you want to get rid of him?"

Alex said, "That guy's a half-stepped Incarnate Deity. You both... Don't seem to be his opponent."

Alex noticed Andariel and Cydaea's high cultivation levels, so their only advantage was increased mental energy...

The two demons could see that Alex's and Jade's cultivation wasn't high too, but they didn't know that their powers were not as they seemed. Alex and Jade were different.

They'd fallen for the demons' tricks by accident. If they were to fight them seriously, the demons would be contemplating their life choices.

Andariel smiled. "Master, I never get my hands on blood when I'm killing someone. This is our home, and even if his cultivation is high, we won't let him leave this place."

Jade and Alex were requested to hide inside as the sisters got rid of Jeremy.

Alex heard how the sisters had so skilfully tricked Jeremy in the bamboo house as if it wasn't a wrong thing to do... In a blink of an eye, Jeremy was within the sisters' control and drank a cup of spiked tea.

He then fell unconscious.

"Master, this man is unconscious now. Without my antidote, he won't wake up for three days. How do you want to get rid of him? Kill him? Or boil him alive? Or should I suck out all his blood?" Cydaea smiled and said proudly.

Alex's lips shuddered. 'This lute fairy is definitely not a kind person!'

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2932

Jeremy was dead. He died peacefully and quietly, without making a sound. Jeremy himself probably didn't understand how a half-stepped Incarnate Deity like him could die. It was especially because he had led a long life, leading the Returning Sword Sect to become the greatest sect in America.

After the recovery of spiritual energy, the dojos of the spiritual valley had reopened too. It was the best time for the Returning Sword Sect to become stronger, even as great as Stoermer Sect.

However, at such a critical time, Jeremy died. Moreover, he died so easily, without anybody knowing.

Cydaea offered him a cup of tea politely, and his life ended just like that.

He was unresigned to such a fate!

If God had given him a second chance, he would've never followed Alex into this tower... He might've not even come to Terra Mountain. He would've worked hard in Yukon, making the Returning Sword Sect invincible.

However, there was no turning back.

After that, Andariel and Cydaea entered the Xavion Sword, which was then kept away in Alex's mind palace.

Jade said, "According to history, Andariel and Cydaea weren't good people. Would there be a problem for you to bring these two demons around with you?"

Jade couldn't mention it when the two demons were still here, but now, she felt the need to remind Alex.

Alex said, "There shouldn't be a problem. The Xavion Sword has already recognized me as its master, and Andariel and Cydaea are the sword's slave."

"Under the great laws, that means they are my slaves too. They won't hurt me! More importantly, during the Fuzen war, they'd been sacrificed in the battle."

Jade said, "As long as you know what you're doing. I'm just worried that you won't react fast enough in front of these beautiful ladies. You wouldn't even know if you were tricked by them."

"Stop bickering about me. You haven't even explained the drool on my lips!"

Jade had actually remembered what'd happened, but she would never tell the truth. She sneered. "I spat on you. My throat wasn't feeling well, and there was some phlegm."

Alex was speechless.

***

Before they left, Alex and Jade chopped down a lot of bamboo.

These shoots could defend the tower's astral wind, which was definitely quite precious. Unfortunately, the spatial ring couldn't be used here or Alex would've brought the whole forest away with him. However, they could still chop some and carry it on their backs.

The truth was that Alex's sudden idea had made things much easier for them.

Along their way, even if the astral wind blew, it was blocked out by the laws on the bamboo. They finally didn't have to endure the wind's torture.

Alex then told Jade about the time of civilization and the Heaven's Mark of the tower. The two couldn't discuss much of what had happened during ancient times as their knowledge was limited. Most information about that era had probably been lost or hidden due to the rewind of time.

Three days later, the two of them reached a place according to Andariel's clues. This was the home of the legendary Peacock Heavenly King.

However... The place was completely empty.

Jade said, "From these marks, someone seemed to have stayed here before, but it must've been quite a long while since then. Looking at these stones, it was most likely at least a thousand years ago!"

Alex frowned as he searched around the ruins until he finally found some writings. The writings were blurry and worn out in many places. However, overall, it was still quite readable.

Jade said, "You understand that?"

Alex nodded. "Can't you?"

Jade brushed her bangs aside like an embarrassed little girl. "I don't think this is a universal ancient language."

"It is."

"Quit lying. I know more than half of them."

"It's like our language now. There's the simplified version and the traditional version. According to the era, there are other differences, such as the oracle bone script, bronze script, or a small seal script. This was the writing used during the Middle Bronze Ages."

Jade's pretty eyes blinked awkwardly as she felt her face heat up. Her disciple, of all people, was teaching her about different writings.

"What does it say?"

“Hmm, it’s like classical literature. Let me translate for you. It says... Gaea was envious that the Grand Priest could command all the demons. But in contrast, she was slowly losing her status and powers.”

“She was no longer a necessity to the demons. In order to regain her place as queen of demons and her control of them, she planned and led the Fuzen War intending to extinguish the Siepata and the priest.”

Jade butted in, “Then what Andariel said was all true?”

Alex said, “Probably! There’s mention of the three demons of Xavion Tomb here too. The misbehavior of Andariel and the others during the Middle Bronze Age and how they persuaded the Emperor to act cruelly were all planned. It was so that the Emperor would lose the people’s trust.”

“War could be then triggered easily, and the Siepata would be sacrificed in the process too. Finally, Gaea would regain the power of all demons, while Andariel and her sisters would become her scapegoats.”

As he continued reading further, Alex finally found what he was looking for.

“The Heaven’s Mark!”

“So the Heaven’s Mark really exists. According to that, it’s three hundred miles from here. Peacock Heavenly King plans to risk destroying most of his soul by escaping through Heaven’s Mark, and when the time is right, he will come back to take control of this tower.”

Alex’s eyes glared widely in disbelief as he read until the sign. “Yuno? The Peacock Heavenly King’s name is Yuno?”

Jade questioned. “What’s wrong with that name? You know her?”

Alex said, “Yuno is Phoebe Larson!”

“Phoebe? Oh... I remember, your woman.” Jade was shocked too.

She’d met Alex through Phoebe, never expecting the woman to be the Peacock Heavenly King.

Jade asked, “Could it be the same name?”

Alex shook his head. “No! I remember some things that further prove she’s Peacock Heavenly King... Uhm, Phoebe is actually possessed by Yuno now. She’s temporarily taken over Phoebe’s body, but she promised me if I reached Spirit Severing in three years, she’d set Phoebe free.”

“Within three years? But it’s been two years already! What’s your cultivation level now?”

“Core Formation!”

“You’re joking?”

“I have three thousand golden cores.”

“What...?”

Jade was stunned and obviously didn’t believe Alex. No one in the world could possibly have three thousand golden cores. She would’ve believed him more if he said that he had three thousand eggs.

Nonetheless, she used her Chi to look inside Alex’s body and had a clear view as Alex spun his golden cores around for her to see.

“Do you really have three thousand golden cores?”

“Are you still human at this point?”

Alex said, “Right back at you, you’re not human either! You’re a titan! Speaking of titans, the first thing that comes to my mind is a gorilla...”

“Do you have a death wish?”

“Ouch...”

Jade kicked Alex tens of meters away and landed in the ruins. As he crawled back up, he had something in his hand. It was a box.

“Huh, what’s this?”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2934

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2934

“What’s that?” Jade came over and took the box from Alex’s hand. “It’s pretty heavy. How could this tiny box weigh at least five hundred thousand kilograms?”

“What’s inside it?”

The box was entirely black. There were no patterns that indicated any mechanism on it, and after Alex had observed it for a while, he still couldn’t find any runes.

Most importantly, the box couldn’t be opened.

Jade took out the Martello Celia. “Let me take a hit at it and see if it’d open.”

Alex quickly stopped her. “Don’t smash it. Don’t! If you hit it, it might be ruined. If I’m guessing correctly, this was probably left here by Yuno. She can’t take it out of this tower, and she’s going to come back for it once she’s powerful enough. Fortunately, I could bring it to her.”

Jade pouted her lips. “Hmph! She’s definitely your woman. Look how protective you are of her!”

Alex said, “I’d take good care of your things too.”

Jade snorted. “I’m not your woman.”

Alex searched within the ruins again to make sure nothing had been left behind. Only then did they leave for Heaven’s Mark. Three hundred miles was a quick journey.

They saw a green glow between the skies and the land from a distance. It ranged thousands of miles up high in the sky as if it split the land and sky into half. Law power leaked from above the glow as colossal cultivation surrounded it.

It made anyone who looked at it feel pressured. It could shake one’s soul and drive mental strength to the edge.

Jade marveled, “So this is the Heaven’s Mark?” It looks like a crack in the sky. I can still feel its dense aura. I can’t imagine how it must have been during the war.”

Alex nodded. “No matter if it’s the red gourd or the Demon Vase, this was still a one of a kind treasure. To think that it’d be damaged so severely by the Heavenly Ax, I’d like to see what it actually looks like!”

‘It must be an invincible weapon.’

The two looked on for a little while more before continuing their journey.

“Now that we’ve found Heaven’s Mark, what do we do next?” Jade asked softly.

“We can leave this place then. Why? Do you want to stay here?”

“Why would I want to? I’m not crazy.” Alex smiled and conjured the Ancestral Bodhi Tree.

‘Earth Escape Technique, activate!’

***

At the Fuzen Tower, The men of Rakshasa Temple were going insane. The force field around the tower had become uncontrollable after Alex activated the tunnel at the sanctuary for imprisoned demons.

Initially, Rakshasa Temple had control over the formation here, with the ability to activate it to their will. Just like when they’d activated the force field to control Alex and Jade. Not only did it prevent Alex and Jade from running away, but it also prevented the American experts from coming forth and saving them.

The circumstances now were different, however. They couldn’t leave the tower themselves as they lost control of the force field.

At first, the men of Rakshasa Temple didn’t take note of it. They were busy worrying about the Dao Field on Terra Mountain being taken over by the Returning Sword Sect...

However, they soon realized what was happening. The disciples they sent through the door were dying, and their Soul Stones were shattered consecutively within a short time.

They didn’t think that Alex and Jade did it, so they suspected that the Returning Sword Sect was behind it.

More importantly, the Rakshasa Temple didn't stop sending people in. To their horror, no one came back alive. Everyone died. The door was like a human-eating monster.

The sect master had ordered the disciples to come back out immediately after taking a look, but no one was able to return.

After a while, the sect master of Rakshasa Temple finally realized that the door that Alex had opened didn't lead to the Dao Field of Terra Mountain but to the Demon Cleansing Tower.

She believed that everyone who entered was now dead.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2935

This hadn't been a big issue at first. She had been ecstatic at Jeremy's death, but the problem now was that they didn't know how to close the entrance to the Demon Cleansing Tower. If the door wasn't closed, the force field to Fuzen Tower couldn't be opened either.

Back then, when the Ancient Divinity placed the Demon Cleansing Tower here, he must've considered this problem. When the Demon Cleansing Tower entrance was opened, the outer force field couldn't be opened to prevent the demons from escaping.

However, this was a tragedy to the Rakshasa Temple, it meant that they were permanently trapped here.

***

At the time, the Flying Eagles were still outside the force field. They were waiting for Alex and Jade to return. Therefore, Xerxes and the others knew what had happened within the force field and heard the people's conversations...

In an instant, everyone's mood was down.

A few days passed, and Alex and Jade weren't back yet. They felt as if the two had indeed died.

Gilbert asked Xerxes, "Don't you have Jade's Soul Stone?"

Xerxes shrugged. "She took it back long ago."

Gilbert sighed. "I pray that they're safe! Alex... I really don't know what to say about that fellow. Back at the True Martial Shrine, we all thought that he'd be dead."

"My daughter even searched up and down for him. It's only been a few days, and he's in danger again! Being his girlfriend takes sheer courage, or else it'd be great torture."

As he spoke, he glanced to the bottom of Yuzen Tower and noticed two people strolling leisurely towards them. It was a man and a woman. The man was stunningly handsome, and the woman was extremely beautiful. In their hands were two ice cream cones, which they were licking away happily.

"Oh d*mn. Look, who's that?" Gilbert rubbed his eyes in disbelief, as the two looked like Alex and Jade.

"It's Commander Benmore!"

"And Alex!"

"They're alive! That's great!"

The two were indeed Alex and Jade.

At Heaven's Mark of the Devil Cleansing Tower, Alex had used the Earth Escape Technique to escape far away. When they emerged, they came out right in front of an ice cream shop in a town at the bottom of Terra Mountain.

The sudden appearance of the two even shocked the waiter.

They were feeling a bit hot, so they bought ice cream to eat on their journey up the mountain.

The men of Rakshasa Temple were baffled. One looked at the two and said, "How did you come out? Didn't you go into the Devil Cleansing Tower? There's no escape from the tower! How are you both still alive?"

Alex licked his ice cream and grinned. "We're alive to see you monkeys."

The man was stunned. "Our sect doesn't own monkeys."

Alex said, "Yeah, you do. You're all monkeys! Don't you think this force field is like a cage in the zoo? Now the cage is locked, and you're all monkeys..."

"Oh, if you don't want to be a monkey, you can leave through that door! You might have a chance at living in the Devil Cleansing Tower."

The man was so furious he could taste blood in his mouth.

The sect master asked, "How did you both escape?"

Alex answered. "It's a secret!"

The sect master asked, "What about Jeremy? Is he alive?"

"He's dead!"

Even though the sect master had guessed the answer, she still couldn't help shuddering in fear. Jeremy was much stronger than she was, yet he still died within the tower.

Alex smiled and said, "You should feel lucky compared to him. You can still live for quite some time within this sealed force field. As long as you're healthy enough, you can live for quite a long time... Because no one can help you remove the force field. You'll be very safe inside."

Jade then waved her hand. "Come, let's go to Yukon and give the Returning Sword sect a piece of our mind!"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 2936

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2936

Why couldn't Jade just wait until the Returning Sword Sect was destroyed?

It was because she truly despised its members.

In comparison to the Rakshasa Temple, the Returning Sword Sect was the most humiliating and hurtful to her and the Flying Eagles, the Returning Sword Sect was the first of the six ancient sects, and the Flying Eagles were the first to face them.

The origins of this sect were unknown at the time. When Flying Eagle's people arrived at the door, the two sides opened it to the end of the war.

The end result was imaginable. A dreadful defeat!

Half of the Flying Eagles' battle group was sacrificed. What a tragic death!

Among them, Jade's best sister died at the hands of the Returning Sword Sect. She vowed to avenge her. Before this, her strength was insufficient, she had been suppressed and did not even have the room to fight back. But now, things were different...

"Wait a second!"

"The Returning Sword Sect in Yukon, the current Yukon, has been operated by the Returning Sword Sect with huge power. There is news that people from Mount Oro are contacting the Returning Sword Sect. Inside Mount Oro, there are formation masters. If you are rash, you are likely to be caught in a jar," Xerxes rushed up, blocking Jade.

"Are you afraid?" Jade asked Xerxes.

Xerxes patted her on the back and said: "What am I afraid of? Let me go to death for your sake, Jade. Can't you... Talk to me properly?"

"You misunderstood me," Jade said, waving her hand.

"I wasn't talking to you. I was talking to my Alex. There's no need for you to go to the Returning Sword Sect Alex and me are enough."

Xerxes was overcome with heartbreak.

"Alex, you come with me. Let's talk alone," he said, his eyes red with rage.

Jade encircled Alex with her arm. "For what purpose? Do you still wish to murder someone? I'll tell you the truth. A lot of things happened in the Demon Cleansing Tower between Alex and me. Long ago, we broke through ordinary male and female relationship. He and I... He lives, and I live, he dies, and I die. If you want to kill him, kill me first!"

The founder of Flying Eagles Academy heard Jade's words, and was very anxious. His heart felt like it was being stabbed with a knife, and a mouthful of blood spurted out.

Jade's expression changed, and she reached out subconsciously. However, she resisted. Her fingers were tightly pinched together.

Alex sighed and took Xerxes in his arms, saying, "What is your motivation for doing this? I'm going to say a few words to him."

The preceding sentence was obviously addressed to Jade. He could see Jade's feelings for Xerxes, but this ex-couple truly loved each other.

Alex was violently pushed away by Xerxes, "You must leave! I didn't expect you to be such a person. She's your master. How could you do that? Are you still deserving of the title of a human being? Do you consider yourself a Condor Hero?"

Alex stated, "I'm not Condor Hero, and she's not Shooriyojou, but if you don't talk to me now, you might lose her forever... In fact, as far as my personal preference is concerned, I hope you will truly let go. If you do not, you will have a very difficult time."

"Bullsh*t!"

"You want me to let go so you can take advantage of the situation. No way. I, Xerxes, have no other skills, but as long as I still have the ability to fight, I will not let go," Xerxes growled.

Alex gave a nod. "That's great! Then I'm going to tell you the truth."

Alex didn't have anything to hide. He described what occurred in the Demon Cleansing Tower.

Xerxes's tangled face stretched out when he realized it wasn't that kind of breakthrough boyfriend-girlfriend relationship that he imagined. But he was upset again when he realized the two people actually shared the same destiny.

Alex was punched on the shoulder by him. "Why is Jade so kind to you? Your woman isn't any less pretty than mine. What makes you so special?"

"Do you still not understand?" Alex patted his shoulder.

“What do you mean? ”

“To me, Jade, this is not love between a man and a woman, so even if I have more women, she doesn't mind. She's even happier, in fact. Look at my mother. She can't wait for me to marry a few more women, to give her a few more grandchildren. But you are different. Every additional woman you find is hurting her in her heart.”

Xerxes bowed his head as soon as he mentioned his affair.

Oh, that damned peach blossom robbery!

“Since you insist, I'll tell you that Jade is not an earthling but rather a member of the Titan Tribe from another universe.”

“Titan women are a disaster for ordinary men... ”

Alex discussed the frightening aspects of the Jade.

Then he added, “So, Xerxes, if you want to marry my master Jade again, you must become stronger. When you are stronger than the Titan Tribe, when you can withstand her special physique, you will be qualified... However, this path, destined to be difficult, may cause your other women to have reservations. You think about it!”

Xerxes turned around, feeling surprised. The two men of similar age were looking at each other...

“Kid, I heard your first wife, a reincarnation of a great power, ran away after giving birth to your child, didn't she?” Xerxes asked abruptly.

“Why do you inquire?”

“I also heard that she was reincarnated to find her husband in a previous life, and if she finds him, are you going to watch your wife throw herself into the arms of another man, warm the bed and give birth to a child under another man... Or are you going to risk your all to steal your girl?”

Alex heard and blushed. “You basta*d, how could you say such disgusting things?”

Xerxes chuckled. “When there is affection, what can you not do? I’m considered euphemistic.”

“Crap!”

“D*mn you!” Alex exclaimed, pointing at Xerxes’s nose. Then, he was enraged. “I, Alex, am alright with any role, except a cuckold. I don’t mind Dorothy... No, Xienna can find her previous husband. If she occupies my wife’s body, I will penetrate her as usual.”

Xerxes answered, “That’s correct! As a man, we have to face difficulties. The Titan Tribe is nothing. I, Xerxes, have lived for forty years. I have seen life and death. Watch out. I’m going to let your master give me a big fat boy.”

“Good!”

Alex returned to the scene.

“What did you say to Ferdinand?”

Jade grabbed him. “Who exactly is Ferdinand?”

“Xerxes!”

“Pfft! It’s nothing... Men’s topic.”

“He... Is he okay after vomiting blood?” Jade couldn’t help but wonder.

Alex burst out laughing, “If you’re curious, ask him yourself. I don’ t know... Emotional injuries such as these are difficult to say. This is heart disease, and heart disease still requires heart medicine. And if the disease enters the heart, it is finished.”

“What is going to happen?”

“Is he going to die?”

Alex noticed a flock of warblers darting up the mountain road as he spoke. At first glance, it appeared to be his redheads!

“I’m not going to talk to you any longer. My wives are here!”

Alex left Jade and dashed over.

Daya, Waltz, Maya, Luna, Beatrice, and others arrived. Dr. Cheryl and the Fairy Doctor were also present.

The seven most beautiful women gathered on the mountain. They were simply seven fairies brought down to earth from the heavens. The men immediately erupted in a commotion.

The end result...

“Dear wives, I am here!” Someone rushed out of the crowd.

“You’re such a brat!”

“You have a woman and forgot about the master!” snorted Jade coldly.

When Jade saw Alex running towards the seven fairies, she felt a little disoriented, as if she had been left out...

These two people were used to getting along during this time period, especially that brat, who constantly teased her and made her hate him, but... When she saw the lone shadow, she could not help but feel lonely.

She finally approached Xerxes after looking at him...

***

“Honey!”

“I was so worried!”

With her unique Southern Californian accent, Waltz rang in Alex’s ears. She was still a few dozen meters away, and gently moved near Alex’s body.

Her two long legs coiled around the man’s waist.

“I heard you had an accident here. There were nine deaths and one survivor. The sisters can’t bear it. Waiting is really hard. Husband, can’t you think about our feelings?” Waltz’s jade-like arms hooked Alex’s neck, and she French kissed him as if no one was around.

Several men looking at them were full of envy.

“Brother, you can’t have favoritism!” Maya said jokingly by the side. Her joy at the corner of her eyes was obvious.

Alex had survived and was more open-minded now. If one did not love his own woman, did one wait for her to be spoiled by others?

“You must as well!” Alex kissed Maya passionately as he wrapped his arm around her.

Then, Daya, the big star, was a little put-off and tried to squirm away, but she too was embraced by Alex, who gave her a deep kiss, and the remaining few could not escape. Luna, Dr. Cheryl, and the Fairy Doctor were all treated the same... Initially, the relationship between the Fairy Doctor and Alex had been kept a secret.

Alex, on the other hand, was unconcerned and kept kissing.

The Fairy Doctor fixed her gaze on him.

The people around were stunned, shocked, and jealous, especially those who had previously known the Fairy Doctor, such as Gilbert, Xerxes, and Jade.

“My God, how did the Fairy Doctor end up in this guy’s clutches?”

“Who taught this kid to pick up girls?” Jade was deafeningly silent.

Alex was openly and honestly swearing sovereignty in front of so many people, and these women of his could actually live in peace with each other.

“Jade... Look... Your disciple. His fate of being surrounded by many people of the opposite sex is more luxurious than mine. He has more women than me. You can accept a disciple like him, but why are you so cruel to me?” Xerxes asked.

“That is his ability. He is called peach blossom luck, yours, peach blossom robbery,” Jade snorted coldly.

“Look at my little Alex’s wife, each is one in a million of the most beautiful, but yours are like crooked melons that nobody wants,” she said after a brief pause.

“Are you scolding yourself?” said Xerxes.

“I don’t even want to care about you,” Jade exclaimed angrily.

Xerxes abruptly knelt in front of Jade. “I know I didn’t do well enough, Jade. I once made you so sad. I am sorry! Please give me a chance. I swear I’ll never touch another woman again.”

“Please. Stop! Is making such a promise beneficial to you? How do you get Mandy to look at Helen or Helen to look at me? Alex should have warned you. I’m doomed never to have a man in my life. So treat them well!”

Jade sighed softly and walked slowly towards the mountain’s base. She looked incredibly lonely from the back.

The opposing viewpoint was, however, a completely different atmosphere.

Alex kissed six fairies, but one who had not been kissed, Beatrice. This little sister had a sudden change of heart.

“Brother, I’m still here. Where am I?”

“How come you didn’t notice me? I’m such a big living person standing here.”

“Do you have me or not in your eyes? I’m your child’s mother.”

Beatrice yelled angrily, fearful that others did not know her intimate relationship with Alex.

“Stop!” exclaimed Alex.

“Fine! Alex Rockefeller, since you have changed and do not recognize me, I will go back and take away Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter, and tell them that their father is a bastard who abandoned his wife and children. He is scum. In the future, I will not allow them to acknowledge you!" Beatrice said.

'Crap!'

This was the clincher!

Alex was stunned!

"Go. Beatrice has a deep love for you. I saw it when I had the concert. She took good care of your children. Go, for the sisters have long accepted her," Daya gently pushed him.

"Yes, you flirted outside, messing with so many confidantes. You have ignored this person at home. In terms of time, she is earlier than all of us," Waltz said.

"You can't say that. He and I were married in a previous life," Daya said with a smile.

"A past life belongs to the past, and this life belongs to this life. Anyway, I want to set ten lives with him...No, a hundred lives of marriage," Waltz said.

Alex smiled, and the last lump in his heart vanished. He walked slowly over and gently picked up Beatrice.

Instead, Beatrice panicked, her heart pounding like a lost deer, "Alex, you...What are you doing?"

"Isn't it going to be as you wish?" Alex asked.

"Uh, uh... Can you tell me if you like me at all?"

"Well, let's see..."

When Beatrice heard that, she hurriedly stopped pursuing the question and kissed heavily, fearful that he would backtrack and retreat again.

The young girl, on the other hand, simply did not know how to kiss. She only knew one way to kiss, and that was by pouting. Alex laughed. He turned the tables by placing his tongue. Beatrice was like a scared deer, and she became soft...

Jade simply walked to the mountain's base. Xerxes finally caught up with her.

“What are you still after me for?” With a frown, Jade stated.

“The Returning Sword Sect killed many of our Flying Eagle warriors. This vengeance is not solely yours. I, too, have a role to play,” Xerxes explained.

“We have a share as well!”

Gilbert appeared from behind, accompanied by a group of Flying Eagle experts.

“Vengeance, Vengeance, Vengeance!”

The killing aura rushed to the sky as the group became agitated.

Swish!

Human figures flashed by.

Alex appeared in an instant, accompanied by the seven fairies. “How can we be overlooked? The Returning Sword Sect has still taken over our Rockefeller family manor. Despite the fact that my Rockefeller family is good at talking and is uncontested, we can’t be bullied, don’t you think, Master?”

Jade rolled her eyes and thought, “You are the one who locked someone up, okay? Don’t you think I’d know?”

However, this was the moral of the story, it was what she wanted and what she enjoyed. It was over for the men!

“What I sought was comrades in arms!”

“Good!”

As Jade drew out the Martello Celia, her body glowed with a mysterious golden luster, and a strange totem beamed at her brow.

“Forever for the Blade!” yelled one.

“We will protect America with our blood!” yelled the rest of the group.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 2940

There were many people on Terra Mountain's mountain path. Many of them were left behind when they came to see the king a few days ago.

Everyone knew the Rakshasa Temple had created a forbidden area at Fuzen Tower with the intention of introducing Alex into it and killing him. Many were also following the news, constantly refreshing pages on the internet, hoping to be the first to see the developments. Now, the word was getting out.

"The Rakshasa Temple has raised a stone in order to crush its own feet!"

"It has locked itself inside the formation and is unable to escape!"

"Flying Eagle Commander Jade and her disciple Alex returned safely and were even seen leisurely licking ice cream."

Then, there was that.

"Commander Benmore led many flying eagle experts to Yukon to find the Returning Sword Sect to settle accounts after the fall!" a message exploded on the network.

Many now knew that the Grand Elder and the head of the Returning Sword Sect, along with a group of sect experts, were stuck at Terra Mountain's Fuzen Tower, and the Returning Sword Sect now had no leader, making it a good time to strike back.

Then there was that. The live broadcast was started by Michelle. It wasn't Grandpa Pig who did it for her this time, but Michelle herself...

This was also the first time Michelle appeared following the news of the serious injuries she had sustained in the Returning Sword Sect's attack on the Rockefeller's family manor. Alex had healed her injuries as a result of her careful conditioning. Her cultivation level had also increased.

Thousands of people rushed into the live broadcast room as soon as it began.

"Michelle, you've been missing for three months. Did you go on your honeymoon with brother Alex?" a slew of people speculated.

"Brother Alex is at Terra Mountain's Fuzen Tower, hand-feeding Commander Benmore vanilla ice cream. Have you ever been fed?"

“How could you still have the heart to broadcast here live when your brother is about to be snatched.”

Michelle had long been used to fans flirting with her. It appeared, however, that these were the fans’ feelings toward her. The more flirting there was, the livelier the live broadcast room became. On the other hand, she had not chosen this moment to start a live broadcast for fun.

“I know what my brother is doing. They’re heading to Yukon, to talk to the Returning Sword Sect to recover the blood debt!” she cupped the weight of responsibility that seemed to have grown again. Since their appearance, the six ancient sects have been making waves in our country, killing and slaughtering cities. They do not treat our native people as equals. They are ferocious, greedy, and inhumane, they can slaughter one city, a second, then a third! We are all sons of America, and as its masters, we cannot tolerate such scum. So I appeal... I hope that those who can come forward will do so, and we will form an alliance to protect the country and fight together!”

How many people had tuned in to watch the live broadcast?

Nearly 300 million. And the figure kept rising.

More than a thousand people responded and traveled to Yukon in a matter of minutes.

They included psychics, evolutionary warriors, and, most importantly, those who had practiced Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation.

Yukon.

The Returning Sword Sect had already received word that Flying Eagle’s men were on their way.

“What are our options? Do we have to fight Flying Eagle’s people head-on now that the Sect Leader and Grand Elder have died?”

“What’s there to be afraid of? Even if the Sect Leader and the Grand Elder have fallen, those natives can’t compete with so many of our Path of God disciples. They killed the Sect Leader and the Grand Elder, and now is the time for us to retaliate. Let these natives see what happens when they offend our Returning Sword Sect," someone yelled.

"That's right. If we kill the indigenous, they won't dare to be so reckless."

"We will follow in the footsteps of the Rakshasa Temple and massacre them, so they will always remember the miserable outcome of opposing our Returning Sword Sect."

The Returning Sword Sect's students were all Sword Immortals.

Furthermore, they were not fighting alone. They had people from Mount Oro with them.

"Those American natives just can't see the situation. They think they are the masters of the Wasteland, but in reality, they are nothing... Just a bunch of fools! People like them will not get the chance after the spiritual energy recovery. It's pure waste. I have sent a message, a group of our people is coming. This time, let's be ruthless. Let's completely exterminate this organization, the Flying Eagles," sneered a few Mount Oro experts.
