The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3021

'Even if the second one can't join me, there's still another two.'

All the Yakshas made their move after receiving their orders, slowly approaching the three women.

In mere moments, they found Alex and Lorelei.

"There! Big Sis is there!"

"That brat is there too."

"What's happening? Why isn't Big Sis taking him down?"

The three women were stunned, motionless, not knowing what to do.

Suddenly, Lorelei spoke up. "Don't come near me, all of you! Just go back right now."

"Huh? Why, Big Sis?"

"Because..."

When Lorelei was about to explain, Alex activated the Cuneiform formation and altered her words. "Because I've decided to turn over a new leaf!"

"Eustace Underwood has always been cruel and harsh, so he isn't worth following! Even the goddess has given up on him. The real seed is this guy right here."

"What? Big Sis, are you alright? Why would you say that?"

"You know exactly what I'm saying. Now then, if you're willing to follow the real seed like me, stay here and become my master's slave."

"Otherwise, all of you might die."

The Yakshas instantly went into action, surrounding the three women completely. It came as completely unexpected for them.

The third sister, who tried to borrow the umbrella and received a slap, spoke up. “Big Sis, I trust your judgment! I’ve mentioned that I’d follow you wherever you’d go!”

“The young lord... No, I have seen how harsh Eustace can be. I’d rather go against him now than wait for the day he ends up killing me.”

After that, she joined Alex’s team as well.

When Alex had successfully inserted the Cuneiform formation into the mind of the woman in red, Lorelei felt her blood boil. She glared at Alex, but there was nothing she could do in this situation. All of this was Alex’s doing. He had forced her to do something she didn’t want to. In the end, Alex let go of the second and fourth sister.

“You... How dare you take control of me?”

“You even dragged my third sister into this!”

Lorelei was infuriated, her voice shaking from rage. She then grabbed the woman in red by the arm. “Why would you do that? Great, now you’re his slave too! Who knows what else he might make you do? What are we going to do now?”

“I was taking the opportunity to have all your sisters join me,” Alex said.

After a short pause, he continued. “Alright, I think I’ve collected all the treasures in the pond. So Lorelei, tell me. What’s the most precious treasure in Yukon? And where is it?”

“Like, are there any treasure troves or secret chambers?”

“Nope!”

“Strip then!”

“It’s at the North Peak!” Lorelei replied, humiliated. “But Eustace and the others must be guarding the moon gate now, and you’ll have no way out! You would be beaten to death once you take a step out of this place.”

“I have my ways. Just draw me a map and mark the location of the treasure trove.”

Ten minutes later, Alex obtained the map.

Employing the Earth Escape Technique, he summoned the Ancestral Bodhi Tree.

Whoosh...

Alex disappeared from the two women's view. Lorelei widened her eyes in disbelief, searching for him within the area, but she couldn't find anything.

"Sister, what is happening here? What's your relationship with him?" the woman in red asked. She was called Nebula Finley.

"I'm in the same situation as you are. I was forced to be his slave, but you were willing. I don't even know what to say."

"Of course I'd believe what my sister says. Who would've thought that he could control your words and the Yakshas..."

"What an interesting guy! I'm starting to get excited. Eustace is a bastard. I tried to borrow the Umbrella of Destiny, but he refused! He even slapped me. He's way too cruel!"

Fortunately, there weren't many people within the Yukon sanctuary. Since there were only ten or so people, no one was guarding the treasure trove. It seemed they weren't worried that their treasures would get stolen. This, however, ended up benefitting Alex.

His eyes lit up as soon as he stepped foot into the trove. There was simply an abundance of resources there, mountains full of very precious materials.

"Mine, mine! This is all mine now!"

Ancestor Bodhi was moved, as he roamed around the trove next to Alex. He pointed at the treasures with his pale fingers as if counting his own wealth. Among all treasures, spiritual herbs were of the largest amount, so much there wasn't enough room in the storage rings.

Alex immediately opened a portal to the Kala Temple and told the people to help take everything in this trove. Pigsy was clearly the most excited one.

This pig was very interested in treasures, and it was able to sniff out and locate spiritual herbs. While moving the treasures, it even secretly chowed down a good bit

Suddenly, its nose perked up as it muttered. “No... No...”

“No, what?” Alex asked.

“No... No! I smelled something, a very high-quality treasure. But it’s not something in this trove. It’s of higher quality than all of these,” Pigsy exclaimed as it kept sniffing hard.

Finally, it lifted its head.

“Outside!” It said as it ran out with sheer excitement. “Hey Pigsy, don’t run around! Careful, or you might turn just into a roast!” the man yelled from behind.

The trove was completely cleared out as if it had been deep cleaned, so he followed Pigsy and caught up to it. As the receiver of the Ultimate Book of Medicine’s legacy, Alex was among the most knowledgeable in medicine within the universe. Thus, he noticed that none of the herbs stored here were low quality.

It was only natural after all, especially since the seed was here. The League of Cultivators had to put in a lot of effort back then, going as far as to steal spiritual energy from the entire universe, their ultimate goal to train the seed. Yukon was also the best place, thanks to the abundance of high-quality spiritual herbs growing around the area. Owing to that, they didn’t bother gathering any average herbs. This was why every herb they found within this trove would be extremely precious. As he thought about it,

Alex couldn’t help but scorn.

‘What were those emperors thinking? All of this just to train one person? And he ended up becoming a grade-A douche too.’

In mere moments, Alex had caught up to Pigsy. He ended up on the peak of another mountain.

Pigsy had its nose to the ground, sniffing at random spots. It then pointed to the bottom and said, "It's there!"

"What is this?" Alex asked.

"I don't know yet, but it makes me feel really good!" Pigsy's eyes glistened with delight, and it jumped down to the mountain valley.

Clang!

However, instead of entering the valley, Pigsy was blocked mid-air. This caused it to bounce backward and topple over in dizziness.

There was a boundary around this place.

"D*mn! It won't even let us in?"

Alex noticed it as well.

'If there's a boundary here, it means some very good stuff that people are trying to protect are down there... No one was guarding that trove back there, nor was there any boundary around it. Not even a single lock!'

"Alex, come over here. See if you can open it up." Pigsy impatiently waved to Alex.

The man dashed over and appeared on the top of the boundary.

Down there, there seemed to be a shiny, golden tree bearing bright red fruits.

"What kind of tree is this?" Alex was shocked. He had never seen anything like this. No information about such a tree was recorded within the Ultimate Book of Medicine either.

"I don't know, but it's definitely some good stuff," Pigsy said while drooling.

Although there was a boundary, the fruit still radiated some fragrance. As that scent reached Pigsy, it felt relaxed and energized. Every single one of its cells felt like it was cheering for joy.

Alex could smell it as well, which affected him even more than Pigsy.

All three thousand of his Nascent Souls vibrated with glee, eager to get their hands on the fruit. On the other hand, Pigsy was drooling so much that it left a pool of saliva on the ground. It urged Alex to open up the boundary, unable to wait any longer.

“Alright, I can try. Stand back!”

“Yes, yes, anything you ask, bro. I may be unable to do many things, but I’m still a pretty good errand pig.”

For the fruits, Pigsy even started acting like a servant.

Alex replied. “Stand guard, and don’t let anyone notice you. Every single person here is as strong as a beast. It’d be a piece of cake to kill hundreds of you.”

Pigsy had no opinions and immediately went on high alert.

Alex stared at the boundary and tested some methods. With that, he obtained some basic information. Based on this boundary’s structure, it might have been set by the same person who placed the formations within the Troop Raising Pond. Compared to the pond, this was much more complicated. There were layers upon layers of formations as if the person was being extra careful with it.

‘Looks like Pigsy really did find some good treasure.’ Alex thought as he started breaking open the boundary.

At the time, he was rather happy about the items he obtained from those five ‘I’ricksters. He could also make use of the ten thousand formation flags... It seemed that the flags were made to open this boundary.

Alex couldn’t help but feel curious. ‘Were those people after this tree?’

Half an hour later, he managed to open a corner of this floating boundary. However, something unexpected happened.

Boom!

A powerful beam of light shot up into the skies with a fascinating melody playing alongside it. It would grant sudden enlightenment to anyone who heard it.

Whoosh!

Pigsy rushed over and grinned. "Alex, is it open?"

Alex stared at the light and frowned. "Sh*t. This is making too much noise. That seed must've seen it. They'll be here at any minute. Quick, Pigsy, go grab the fruits."

Pigsy was waiting for this very moment. With a joyful oink, it snuck into the boundary through the hole.

Eustace had just received news of Lorelei and Nebula's betrayal at the pond. They were currently serving the native, someone be viewed as a piece of pure trash. At the time, he couldn't believe what he was hearing.

"Have they gone mad?"

"Fine then!"

"If that's so, Lorelei and Nebula are now our enemies! Listen up, all of you. Those two b*tches have betrayed me, which means they have betrayed the ancient Supremes. This means that they have betrayed all of you! When you see them, kill them without mercy!"

"Understood?"

"I refuse to believe that they can hide in the Troop Raising Pond forever."

After putting in some thought, he spoke up once more. "To prevent such things from happening again, I need you all to sign a soul contract with me. Line up."

Upon hearing this, the women felt somewhat conflicted.

"Come here now!"

"Dawa, you're up!"

The woman narrowed her eyes, struggling to give him an answer. “Young Lord, I... I...”

“What? Do you not want to Sign? Are you also thinking of turning into a traitor like that b*tch, Lorelei?”

“No, Young Lord, I wouldn’t dare. But... But...”

“Yeah, yeah. Just shut up and get this over with.” Eustace grabbed Dawa and forced a soul contract, binding them as master and slave. He then flung her aside and grabbed another woman.

“Lila, come here.”

The woman squeezed her hands tightly, still conflicted. She was shocked to hear about Lorelei and Nebula’s betrayal at first but understood their actions afterward. Since she was the closest to Nebula, she really didn’t want to sign it.

Finally, she mustered up the courage and lifted her head. “I’m sorry, my Young Lord. I won’t do it!”

Eustace’s expressions darkened the moment he heard that.

“What did you say?”

“You won’t sign? So you’re saying you want to serve that piece of garbage like Lorelei, huh? Are you going to betray me?”

He released his aura, malicious intent so overpowering that it felt like a large boulder. After that, he swung his palm and slapped her.

However, Lila seemed to have expected this. She leaped from the ground and dodged Eustace’s attack.

“I don’t want to be the slave of someone. I enjoy freedom! Young Lord, I served you because her highness requested I support you for three thousand years! Three thousand years have passed, but you're forcing me to sign a soul contract now?"

"I'm truly sorry. I simply can't agree with this!" she said before running off to the west.

"Hmph! Do you really think you can be free after three thousand years?" Eustace lunged towards her with a cold sneer.

Three thousand years ago, Eustace was no match for Lila at all.

Now that it had passed, his cultivation level had long exceeded hers-his powers even more apparent when he attacked her out of anger. As the sword came slamming down, Lila had to block his attack while escaping.

Ding!

Lila used a sword as well, but it instantly broke in half.

Pshhh!

Lila's entire arm was cut off just like that. The difference in strength between the two was evident.

"Lila, I'm giving you another chance. Will you sign the contract or not?" Eustace asked with a chilling expression.

"Without freedom, I'd rather die!" Lila said, determined. "I'm beginning to regret listening to her highness, supporting someone like you. Maybe Big Sis made the right choice. You don't deserve to be the seed."

"I'll kill you!"

Eustace was even more intent to kill, his sword glistening in the light as he brandished it. It looked like it was falling from the skies as it slashed towards Lila's neck.

Lila knew that she wouldn't be escaping death. She simply closed her eyes and awaited her fate.

Clang!

Aloud clunk filled the air. It appeared Eustace's sword didn't land on Lila's neck.

It wasn't because he wanted to show mercy all of a sudden, but two of Lila's sisters had come to her aid, blocking his deadly attack.

"Resha Jamison, Cordelia Wilde, are you two trying to go against me too?" Eustace demanded, glaring at the women with sheer rage.

Cordelia said, "Young Lord, Seventh Sis may be wrong, but she had served you for three thousand years. Please spare her, especially since she has done so much for you."

Eustace yelled. "She betrayed me, yet you're asking me to forgive her?"

Resha replied. "Seventh Sis doesn't want to betray you, Young Lord. She just doesn't want to sign the contract."

"What about you two, then?"

"We... Won't sign it either."

"Then you should all go to hell!"

Eustace was even angrier at this point, swinging his sword once more.

Boom!

The ground started shaking.

After all, the sword was very strong, it could destroy the mountain on the other side. After a slash by a weapon of such magnitude, it was obvious how a person would've had ended.

"Run!" Cordelia shouted and brought out a secret weapon. Along with Resha, they helped Lila up and picked up her broken arm, running off to a far distance.

"Do you think you can escape? I am the lord of this sanctuary!"

"Come to me, Umbrella of Destiny!"

The moment Eustace pulled out the umbrella, Lila and the others instantly knew they were in grave danger. The mystical tool was extremely powerful, able to attack and defend. It was a gift from the God of Destiny from ancient times to defeat the Undead clan.

Yet now, Eustace was using it to fight the women who had helped him for the past three thousand years.

Boom!

With the appearance of the Umbrella of Destiny, the entire environment started changing. The skies began thundering, slicing through the space several times.

“Resha, bring Seventh Sis with you and go!”

Cordelia yelled at the top of her voice, grabbing her natal magical treasure. It was a piece of long green silk. With the slight movement of her hand, it covered the skies and blocked off Eustace’s umbrella.

The next second, a large energy collision occurred before everyone.

The umbrella spun gently as it shredded the silk into pieces. The malicious energy remained, wrapping itself around Cordelia tightly.

“Fifth Sis!”

“Run! Just run!”

Bish!

Cordelia yelled out to Resha and Lila, urging them to leave immediately.

As Eustace spun the umbrella again, the beams of energy around Cordelia’s body quickly tightened up. And with that, the woman’s body was diced into pieces.

“Ah!”

“Eustace Underwood, you ungrateful, cruel b*stard!”

“You will face your karma one day!”

Eustace didn't care one bit. “I am the seed, the savior of this universe. Millions of people are waiting for me to save them. So what if I kill a few?”

“Then both of you will have to die too!” Eustace raised the umbrella readied to strike the second time.

Just then, a tall beam of light appeared in the south, as waves of Dao-filled melodies filled the entire area. Eustace halted in his tracks, his face turning pale. “No... The Kalonex Divine Tree!”

He started panicking. Not caring any less about Resha and Lila, he turned into a ray of light and rushed towards the skies.

“Fifth Sis!”

Resha and Lila came back to the scene and knelt before Cordelia's corpse. It wasn't even a corpse at this point, it was a pile of flesh. The other sisters came over as well.

Cordelia was one of them. They have been together for three thousand years and were like family. Yet, their sister was murdered by their young lord.

Lila teared up. “My sisters, that man has always looked down on us. He is a self-centered prick. All he cares about is himself. Everyone is weak to him as if we all owe him something! Do you really think such a man can save the universe?”

“I don't know what Big Sis thought when she made that decision. But now, I want to follow her. I'd rather serve an outsider than support a cold-hearted tyrant!”

However, their second sister huffed coldly. “The young lord has his reasons. He's the son of destiny, the one who the ancient Supremes have chosen! Even if he's wrong, destiny will always be on the young lord's side!”

“Lila Kelson, I won't stop you if you want to leave. But don't you dare stir up a ruckus, or I will kill you too.” Lila shot her a glance and left.

Resha picked up Cordelia's body and bowed. “Take care, my sisters.”

“Wait. I... I want to go with you too.”

Another woman stood out from the group and walked to Resha’s side.

“Are you going to betray the Young Lord as well, Alika?” The second sister, Nadia Shelvey, scolded harshly.

“I just... I don’t want to sign the contract,” Alika answered softly.

“And neither do I,” another said as she took a step forward.

Nadia was furious. “Fine then. Who else doesn’t want to sign the contract? Step up. But I’m telling you right here, right now. If you do this, you will become traitors to the Young Lord. He will not let you off this easily!”

“Besides, you will be destroying all your efforts from the past three thousand years. You will never be able to follow the Young Lord anymore.”

In the end, no one else dared to step out.

Nadia turned to Resha and the others. “Leave now! But we’re no longer sisters from now on. If we ever meet again, we’d be facing each other as enemies. Fate will then decide who lives.”

“Take care!”

At the time, Eustace’s angry shouting came from the south of the mountain valley, where the Kalonex Divine Tree was. “You’re looking for a death wish, you brat!”

Nadia’s eyes turned sharp. “Let’s go. We have to help the Young Lord.”

The group immediately rushed over.

Eustace was furious. He hadn’t been this enraged in many years.

He’d been standing guard at the Troop Raising Pond’s entrance for seven or eight days, waiting for Alex to run out on his own once he couldn’t stand it any longer. Thus, he had no idea that Alex had already come out. Furthermore, he had opened the Kalonex Divine Tree's boundary.

"How did this mole get out of the Troop Raising Pond?"

"Could there be another path inside?"

Only Alex could think so. But now he was even more concerned because he saw that the mole was not alone. There was another. There was a pig beside him, and it had burrowed inside the boundary.

'Oh, no!'

'What a jerk!'

Alex was naturally aware that Eustace was approaching, and from the moment this boundary emitted a Skyward pillar of light, he knew it was going to be bad. Such a large commotion would be impossible to miss unless one was blind and deaf.

"What should I do?"

"Escape...isn't it impossible?!"

There was currently only one option...

With boundless rage, Eustace ran to the front of the boundary, while Alex quickly got into it and kept the formation flag. Naturally, the boundary closed.

The moment Alex entered, The Umbrella of Destiny in Eustace's hand smashed viciously against the edges of the boundary.

Boom!

The entire perimeter shook. Alex's heart shook as well. He was concerned the boundary wasn't strong enough to withstand this person's assault.

Piggy, who was already standing next to the Kalonex divine Tree, looked nervous. Fortunately, the boundary remained intact and unbroken.

Alex patted his chest and said, "Thankfully, thankfully, this seed of mine appears a little luckier than yours. It seems I'm now inside and you can only stand outside. Bye!"

Alex waved to Eustace. He then noticed Nadia approaching with a group of sisters.

When they saw Alex clearly, the group of people began to have doubts about their survival.

“Is that you?”

Nadia’s face was filled with dismay as she looked at Alex.

Alex grinned and waved at her. “Yes, hello fairy. Meeting again means we are meant to be together! How about that? What’s your take on what I said? There is only one true seed, and I am the representative of the goddess who cares most for the women I love. Do not choose the wrong team.”

When Eustace heard that, his face turned even darker. He cast a gloomy glance at Nadia.

Nadia scolded sternly, “What are you talking about, bastard? Do you believe you can incite our internal conflict in this manner? You say such tricks won’t fool children... But weren’t you in the Troop Raising Pond? How did you escape?”

Alex laughed. “Why should I tell you? You are not my wife. Let’s worship heaven and earth, enter a bridal chamber, and I’ll tell you how I got out. How about that?”

Alex’s words amused several women.

The truth was that there weren’t nearly enough men in the Yukon Sacred Realm.

There was only one Eustace. The point was Eustace was a cold-blooded and ruthless individual, and his talk neither sounded good nor funny. Alex, on the other hand, was clearly of a different breed.

What would happen to a woman who had been bored for 3000 years?

There would be a yin-yang imbalance!

Alex, on the other hand, was like a cardiac enhancement that brought... Pleasure. This was probably the reason why Lorelai, although in pain and shame when viciously spanked by Alex, felt wonderful pleasure.

Nadia's face burned with rage as she yelled at Alex. "You... Shut up!"

Alex motioned with his hand. "How do I stop talking? Are you going to gag me with your mouth?"

A woman dressed in purple was unable to hold back and laughed loudly.

And by this time, Pigsy had already approached the Kanolex divine tree, and it was drooling over a red fruit.

It reached out and was about to snare the fruit when Eustace's eyes turned bloodshot. "Stop!" he yelled. "If you dare to touch one of these Kanolex divine tree fruits, I will use all means to hunt you down and kill you!"

Pigsy's hand came to a halt. The next second...

He reached out decisively and quickly plucked a red fruit into his mouth.

Barf!

"It smells fantastic!"

"Wow! It feels like I'm listening to the preaching of Three Pure Ones in Taoist mythology... Understanding the laws of the universe, seeing the golden Dao, understanding the true meaning of time..."

Pigsy swallowed the fruit and stood under the tree in a trance.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3027

Eustace was enraged to the point of exploding.

"D*mn it! D*mn it!"

"You deserve to die by a thousand cuts, and you deserve to be cast into hell's eighteenth level!"

"Wait for me, kid! "

Eustace took out a side of the painting scroll after retrieving the Umbrella of Destiny and spread it tenaciously. The scroll was miraculous, when spread, it was dotted with stars. The entire scroll was like the deep sky of the universe, with countless stars dotted on it.

“This is the Star Ethereal Diagram used to break the formation,” Alex heard the voice of the Mysterious Maiden of Nine Heavens saying.

The Mystic Maiden’s ability in the formation was more extensive than Alex’s, as was her knowledge. No one knew this for sure, but the ancient Yellow Emperor’s method of laying formations was apparently taught by her.

Alex was completely taken aback.

If Eustace could break the formation, there would truly be fishes in a barrel.

Nadia burst out laughing, “Aren’t you perplexed? You ‘re breaking in from hell. Now I’ll give you a chance to come out and hand over the Great Star Pill. I can assist you to plead for mercy and find a way out.”

Alex’s face drooped like a bag of jelly. Immediately, he grabbed a handful of formation flags and inserted them into several formation eyes.

He wanted to compete in formations with Eustace. If Eustace wanted to unlock the formation, he would change it right away.

“Old pig, old pig!” Alex yelled at Pigsy.

After eating one and entering a trance, that pig was actually ignoring him right now.

“You greedy pig head, how dare you eat it before you figure out what it is?”

Alex smacked the pig on its head with a kick, instantly waking it up.

“Ah..!”

“Who smacked me? Damn, I had an epiphany and was actually hit to wake up.”

Alex chuckled, “You’re having an epiphany my a*s. Is this the time to daydream?”

Pigsy was shocked when he noticed the Star Etherea Diagram in Eustace’s hand.

“What is this grandson doing?” Pigsy asked as it ran over.

“He is breaking the formation,” Alex said.

“What? Oh my gosh! ”

Pigsy was stunned and immediately looked around, discovering that there was no other way out.

“I’ll hold him back You go pick the fruit,” Alex said.

“Right. I’ll go right away and pick all the fruits,” Pigsy said, nodding.

“Stop eating or you’ll dream again... And I’ll leave you here, ” Alex warned.

“Don’t worry, I won’t steal food,” Pigsy said, his body stiffening.

It then rushed joyfully to pluck the Konalex divine tree’s fruits.

At the sight of this, Eustance was so angry he wanted to vomit blood. He yelled, “Beast, beast, the fruits on this Kanalex divine tree are not fully ripe. How dare you take them? I want you to die. I want to kill your entire clan!”

“The fruit isn’t ripe?”

“Stop, old pig!”

Alex yelled angrily at Pigsy.

“What’s wrong, brother?” Pigsy asked as he turned around.

“The fruit is not ripe,” Alex explained, “And this may affect its effects.”

“So, what should we do now? Don’t tell me that grandson has an advantage?”

“Let’s see...”

“Will the ripeness of the fruit affect a lot? ” Alex asked.

He looked at Eustace, who was still trying to break the formation, and the fairies standing next to him, who didn’t know what to do.

“As long as the ripeness is less than one hundred percent, the fruit’s effects differ by a hundred thousand miles. They can’t be compared at all,” Nadia responded.

“So..?”

“There!” said Alex, tapping his head.

He first used the formation flag in his hand to make a mess up the boundary formation map. Then he greeted the pig. “Old pig, come over and help. Dig!”

Pigsy was taken aback, “Dig what?”

“This!” Alex said, pointing to the Konalex divine tree. Nadia and the others were taken aback.

This guy had a brain problem, right?

After realizing that the fruit wasn’t ready to pick, he was now ready to dig up the entire tree. It was such a large tree, and no one knew whether it was safe to dig it. Even if it was, there was no place to grow it!

They did, however, succeed.

Boom, boom, boom!

A man and a pig, with the Konalex divine tree in the background, burst into an indiscriminate bombardment of swords. The group of women was stunned.

Eustace almost passed out from rage, because the Konalex divine tree meant a lot to him.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3028

Eustace spat out a large mouthful of blood on the Star Ethereal Diagram. This was his blood essence, which was incomparably valuable. At this point, he had gone entirely insane.

The Kanolex divine tree had existed since the ancient era when the seed plan began. He, too, had waited three thousand years, a very critical step in the seed plan. Others only knew how to steal and rapidly accumulate Chi from the universe's wastelands. They, however, did not know the existence of this Kanolex divine tree.

It was drawing on the universe's qualities. This was the most crucial point.

"Young master!"

The immortals were taken aback when they saw Eustace vomiting so much essence blood.

"Cut the crap. Come on, help me break the formation!" grumbled Eustace.

Several fairies joined in.

The Star Ethereal Diagram instantly lit up with supreme star aura. The stars within began flowing, changing angles and pulling the spell formation in the valley while calculating its pulse.

After ten minutes.

Eustace finally noticed the formation's doorway. He instantly started moving the orientation and breaking the formation.

However, When Alex, still digging, saw that the formation was about to break, he ran back. He inserted three formation flags into the formation eye and changed the orientation of the previous formation flag.

"Young Master, fairies... You broke the formation pretty quickly. Now tell me. How long will it take before it breaks open?"

When Alex was finished, he went back to digging trees. Eustace's eyes were wide open and trembling with rage. He was helpless.

He broke the formation down further. Nonetheless... The outcome was the same as before. Whenever Eustace saw hope and was about to break the boundary, Alex would run over and cause a burst of changes to the formation map.

Wasn't that irritating?

It took no effort to change the formation, but one must first sort out the choroid to break open.

This time, Eustace notwithstanding, Nadia and the others were enraged enough to vomit blood.

“How could you look at this b*stard with favor?”

“How despicable, catch him. I have to break his legs.”

However, the next moment, they shut their mouths.

“Old pig, it’s ready,” Alex said as he put away the digging tools.

He looked around at the crowd, which was still attempting to break the formation, and drew Pigsy around to the back of the Kanolex Divine Tree, where no one else could see them.

“What are they after?”

“Are they done digging?”

Then, without warning, there was a tremor in the valley.

Swish!

The pillar of light that was rushing to the sky had vanished. The wonderful sound had vanished, and so did the enormous Kanolex divine tree. Alex and Piglet, too, vanished along with it.

“What exactly is going on?”

“Where is everyone, and where have they gone?”

“My goodness, they really yanked out the Kanolex Divine Tree’s roots!”

The fairies looked at each other, all of them puzzled. Alex and Pigsy’s disappearance was particularly strange. Within the boundaries of this valley, there was nothing but the Kanolex Divine Tree, and there was no way of concealing it either. So where did they go?

Eustace became enraged and yelled. He spat blood several times. This time, it was genuine rage.

“Break the formation! Break the formation! Break the formation!”

“Break this broken formation for me right now!”

He screamed, hysterical as a lunatic. Being a seed, being a savior, this was simply the greatest humiliation.

The Great Star Pill had been stolen, his main female assistant had been lured away, the weapons in the Troop Raising Pond had been taken, and even the most important Kanolex divine Tree had been dug up by that beast to god knows where.

After five minutes. The boundary was eventually breached, resulting in the formation of a hole.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3029

Eustace couldn't wait to get in. He rushed to the place the Kanolex divine tree was first planted, only to discover that what he saw was not an illusion but was real

The divine tree of Kanolex was unearthed. In addition, a large glob of soil had been dug away. The two people had also long since vanished.

Nadia and others rushed in, looking at the empty valley, where a hundred meter deep crater had been dug out. They didn't know what to say.

“Young Master...”

“Don't you say anything!” Eustace grumbled.

The spirit was on the verge of collapsing, and he looked at the ground and the fully enclosed boundary. ‘No, no. This is a very domineering boundary. No brute force can break through it... They should still be here,’ he thought.

“Nadia, hurry up and block the entrance...”

However, before he could finish his sentence, a human figure violently rushed out from beneath the ground and shot straight at the entrance of the boundary they had worked together to open.

Alex was the person in question.

“Ah... He’s really in there! Stop him!”

With bloodshot eyes, Eustace acted without saying anything. He moved like lightning, rushing beneath Alex in the blink of an eye.

“Ten-Point Forbidden Spell, Great Seal Spell!”

“Ten-Point Forbidden Spell, Great Icebound Spell!”

“Ten-Point Forbidden Spell, Great Flame Spell!”

Alex used the Earth Escape Technique to hide underground and into the Cleansing Vase so Eustace and others could not find him. When he rushed out, he had prepared some Ten-Point Forbidden Spell moves and used them.

Eustace faced the onslaught head-on but largely ignored it. The direct blast from a fist was unleashed.

Boom!

Thunder erupted from thin air.

This punch of his had the potential to destroy the entire planet. It was also fortunate that Alex had taken the lead in attacking with the three forbidden spells because Eustace’s attack was directed at the forbidden spells rather than him.

It, however, managed to get penetrated.

Alex felt as if he was being blown out of the crumbs. Luckily, he had swiftly blocked the attacks using the Mystic Armor, or his legs would’ve been broken inch by inch, his flesh destroyed, and the most important male appendage would be missing.

Subsequently, Alex rushed out of the boundary’s entrance at an even faster pace. He launched an attack with one hand as he was about to rush out, a difficult feat in itself, while his other uncovered the Star Ethereal Diagram. Then, the formation boundary closed.

Eustace rushed up to land the second punch and landed hard on the boundary. However, the boundary wobbled only twice.

Ping!

Alex collapsed heavily. Blood filled the air directly above Eustace's head. There were bones, legs, and bloody flesh that had been blown off. It was a sight that was unbearable. Not only that, but his internal organs had been shaken violently, and his internal bleeding was severe.

Now that he was lying on the border, he didn't even have the strength to sit up.

Alex and Eustace looked at each other through the thin boundary. But, Alex laughed happily. At the very least, he was still alive. He escaped with his life at the hands of Eustace, a formidable expert.

"I won!" he whispered.

"I'm not finished with you... Not finished," Eustace roared, his face filled with fury.

Alex smiled, rolled over, and gazed at the blue sky and white clouds.

Nadia and the others rushed over at that precise moment. They couldn't help but have shocking waves in their hearts as they looked at Eustace and then at the seriously injured and dying Alex. The cultivation gap between these two people could be described as a heavenly rift, but Alex actually took chestnuts from the fire and snatched the Kanolex divine Tree right in front of Eustace's eyes.

"Young Master, the boundary has been closed. How can we open it?" a fairy inquired.

Outside, the Star Ethereal Diagram remained. They simply lacked the ability to open the boundary without this magical treasure.

"Star Ethereal Diagram!"

When Eustace looked beyond the boundary, he couldn't find his own Star Ethereal Diagram. Then, all of a sudden, he felt as if the connection between himself and the Star Ethereal Diagram had been severed.

"You..! You took my Star Ethereal Diagram?!"

Eustace was staring at Alex angrily.

Alex, however, tilted his head to the sky and did not look at him. “Actually, I envy you. Being a seed is not easy. The female statue asked me to take your seed’s place, and if I can’t do it, I have to be a pig. I don’t want to be a pig, but I can’t beat that female statue, so I have to fight for my life and try to be a good seed.”

“Female... Female statue?”

“Did the female statue really tell you that?” Eustace froze in shock.

Wasn’t that woman already dead?

The crowd of women couldn’t believe it as well. In fact, Nadia had heard of it before, but she did not believe it and could not tell others, so the women were the first to hear about it.

“Yes, the female statue actually came to life, and it’s stinky as hell. Thanks to me for giving her a bonus body rub!” said Alex.

“ ... ”

The audience was taken aback. If the female statue was truly alive, and he still dared to say such treacherous words, he had to be really brave.

Alex then stopped speaking. The most pressing task was to recover.

Alex swallowed a large handful of pills. The three thousand Nascent Soul released tremendous power, the Ymir’s Divine Bone trembled, and divine power flowed throughout the body. His injury improved at a rate visible to the naked eye.

It was then that Alex had an epiphany. The True Martial Marrow was summoning. But what?

Alex was astounded to discover that he had a wonderful sense of those leg bones, flesh, and blood that had been blown apart by Eustace next to him. The body remnants that were supposed to be dead could be sensed, and with the call of the True Martial Marrow, they began to gently squirm on the boundary wall, moving closer to Alex.

Then, like ants, they reentered the body.

“Is he, his body, capable of rejoining? What kind of a freak is this?”

“In the ancient times, great powers were reborn with a drop of blood. That was when the flesh body was cultivated to the extreme. What stage is he in for him to actually rejoin his body even with the decapitated bone and blood? This guy must have cultivated some divine technique.”

Alex’s broken bones and blood were all recalled to their original positions. Not only were the women surprised but Alex himself was astounded.

Was he still afraid of being dismantled in large pieces, with his ability?

The True Martial Marrow was too unbelievable.

Eustace screamed angrily, his voice as loud as thunder.

His sudden outburst of rage frightened Nadia and several other women. The woman who had just spoken was so terrified that she almost fell to her knees, but she had no idea what she had just said wrong.

Then, it dawned on her that what Eustace said was directed at Alex, not her.

“Three thousand years ago, that woman died!”

“I am the seed chosen in ancient times by the League of Cultivators. I am chosen by heaven. I hold the Umbrella of Destiny in my hand. How can I be replaced by a mole like you? My fate has long been favored by the Lord God of Destiny, even if the statue is resurrected, she cannot influence the fate of the seeds.”

Eustace appeared to have been struggling with this issue because the identity of the seed was the most important meaning in his life. It was difficult to bear the weight after being deprived of it.

Alex was unconcerned about what had happened to him, all he wanted was to live.

He had just noticed a problem, Eustace should normally have fifteen women around him, and now that Lorelei and Nebula had been tapped by himself, there should be thirteen more, but those who were locked inside the boundary were only eight women, and five more had not arrived.

This would be risky.

Not to mention that he was now in poor health and had been seriously injured. Even in his prime, he was no match for any of those women. So the first order of business was to get up and leave as soon as possible.

However...

Eustace was the most dangerous threat. He was on par with Eustace in terms of formation, but only to be second in actual combat power.

“It appears that the only way to be safe is to keep them here for an extended period of time.”
