

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3261

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3261

“Alright, let’s go to Mount Dragon-Tiger then!”

After a brief pause, Alex was reminded of something. “Bodhi, I have a question. Many say that you have a disciple called The Monkey King. Is that true?”

Ancestor Bodhi pondered and replied. “No, I don’t!”

“Holy sh*t, then the author really did make that up!”

“But I do indeed have a disciple, a woodcutter.”

“Uhm... Is it the one in Heart Mountain?”

Bodhi responded. “Mhm, how did you know?”

Alex was surprised. “So you really do have one. I saw it on television. Where is he now, then? Is he powerful?”

Ancestor Bodhi shook his head. “I don’t want to talk about it..”

‘Uhm, looking at his expression, could there be something about his disciple that he can’t say?’

They then reached their destination, so Alex set Cedric and the other elders free, including the strategist of the Flying Eagles. After that, they immediately started rushing towards the East.

***

Within Yukon, Rhys used the Shuttle of Nine Stars to attack the formation with brute force. Yet he couldn’t get through, even after quite some time.

“D*mn it! This formation is even harder to break through than the one in that Genbu Dungeon. The law power inside doesn’t even belong to the Diffracted Universe.” Rhys said with frustration.

Juvia asked, "So you're saying that everything within this formation came from the Chi universe?"

Rhys nodded. "It seems so."

Juvia continued. "I heard that the most powerful group within the Diffracted Universe had gone to the Abyss three thousand years ago, hoping to exterminate the entire Undead tribe..."

"But something just feels weird about this. Those people were quite strong, and they shouldn't have to go on a three thousand year journey, going entirely missing from then on."

"I tried sending people to the Abyss to investigate this too, but they couldn't find anyone. Big search Brother, do you think someone from that group managed to get back out at the time?"

Rhys seemed to have figured something out, looking rather rattled. "Impossible!" He instantly started shaking his head.

Juvia said, "Yeah, I thought so too. But how do we explain this Chi universe law power then? We've already cut off the passageway between the Chi universe and the Diffracted universe. The only entrance left would be that legendary place within the Abyss."

Rhys replied. "Don't overthink about this. That place is too mysterious and has been lost among records for millions of years. Not even the Chi universe Lords could find its location. Besides, we've only ever heard about that one person coming out alive from there."

Juvia nodded lightly. "I really hope I'm just overthinking this."

The group continued to attack the boundary. Cameras around the area had already captured this scene, as several powerful cultivators were hiding around the area, leaking information about the Undead currently going after Yukon.

At the time, the authorities within America had decided to evacuate the citizens to enter the dungeons in an orderly manner, hoping to take shelter there. At the very same time, members of the League of Cultivators were slowly arriving at the original Yorkshire Palace, which was three thousand miles to the South of America.

When Alex and the others reached, lots of people were already there.

“My lord!”

“Greetings, my lord! ”

When Esmeralda showed up, many came and bowed to her with their utmost respect. Some were even deity-tier masters.

This made Alex quite shocked, as he didn't expect Esmeralda to have such a high reputation among this group.

Esmeralda whispered in Alex's ear. “Actually, they don't really respect me. They just respect my master. My master shapeshifted into my appearance and had them submit to her.”

As she said that, she seemed to have sensed something and looked in a specific direction...

“My master is here!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3262

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3262

Alex turned in the direction where Esmeralda was looking, yet he couldn't see anyone coming over. However, there seemed to be a ball of energy forming in the air, as law power surrounding it. Alex was able to sense that this energy was related to space.

The ball of energy became a faint light circle in just a few moments. The circle of light turned brighter and brighter, with even more lines forming around it. In the end, it turned into a teleportation door... Indeed, it was a portal.

Alex was shocked to his core. He was familiar with space law power, and had done some research on teleportation as well. He could even fix a broken portal all by himself. However, it was just simply unbelievable... That one could make a teleportation portal without a surface or formations to work on, enabling long-distance travel as well. Such an ability was surprising to him, especially since there were no preparations needed for it.

Suddenly, a young girl crossed the portal and came over to their side. She looked like she was merely sixteen. Her eyes were black and clear, resembling a beautiful night sky. Her clothing was very girly, a pink dress that suited her appearance.

She was also holding a staff that was much taller than herself, as if she were just cosplaying for a convention.

Esmeralda had previously mentioned her first impression about Agatha. Seeing this, Alex believed her entirely, as it wasn't just an opinion, it was the truth. Anyone would think that Agatha was younger than Esmeralda. Yet if they were to reveal Agatha's actual age, many would be utterly astonished.

"Master!" Esmeralda skipped over, dragging Alex with her.

Behind Agatha were quite a few people. In comparison, these people looked way older, as most of them had gray hair, with long beards and eyebrow hairs... At the very same time, their presence instantly made everyone feel a crushing, limitless weight of pressure.

"Ah! Look at that old man with gray eyebrows, isn't that the legendary demon lord, Zagan?"

"Oh my god, he's still alive! He must be over three hundred thousand years old now, right?"

"And that nun... Could she be Sister Tavarious from Galaxia Caridade?"

"Look, there's also..."

There were many who came from ancient times after all, so they were very familiar with the great heroes from back then. They were also able to read about these heroes in the books within their clans. Hence, they were able to describe all these people upon first meeting.

With them joining the team, the group felt much more confident.

At the time, Esmeralda had already brought Alex to meet Agatha, as if she were showing him off. "Master, this is Alex. You know, the one I mentioned before? The universe's seed."

Agatha's big doe eyes turned to look at Alex, putting up an odd expression. She looked like she was smiling, but Alex felt as if he was entirely exposed in front of her, as if she could see through him. Just then, Alex had a sudden feeling that one of his three thousand lotus flowers was blooming. This time, the pollen bursted out of the flower, forming a large cloud and covering his mind.

At the very same time, a new Forbidden Spell appeared in Alex's head.

"The Great Cover Spell!"

This spell was mainly passive, as it didn't require any activating. It would automatically hide the person's cultivation level, mind palace, and any other weaknesses in his physical body.

As the spell upgraded, the more power it could cover up, hiding it from most.

Agatha was still checking his cultivation level, yet when Alex received his new spell, there seemed to be something fogging up her vision all of a sudden.

"You have some skills! You could hide your skills, even from me!"

Agatha smiled softly and didn't seem to mind one bit. "Not bad, not bad at all!"

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3263

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3263

Alex turned in the direction where Esmeralda was looking, yet he couldn't see anyone coming over. However, there seemed to be a ball of energy forming in the air, as law power surrounding it. Alex was able to sense that this energy was related to space.

The ball of energy became a faint light circle in just a few moments. The circle of light turned brighter and brighter, with even more lines forming around it. In the end, it turned into a teleportation door... Indeed, it was a portal.

Alex was shocked to his core. He was familiar with space law power, and had done some research on teleportation as well. He could even fix a broken portal all by himself. However, it was just simply unbelievable... That one could make a teleportation portal without a surface or formations to work on, enabling long-distance travel as well. Such an ability was surprising to him, especially since there were no preparations needed for it.

Suddenly, a young girl crossed the portal and came over to their side. She looked like she was merely sixteen. Her eyes were black and clear, resembling a beautiful night sky. Her clothing was very girly, a pink dress that suited her appearance.

She was also holding a staff that was much taller than herself, as if she were just cosplaying for a convention.

Esmeralda had previously mentioned her first impression about Agatha. Seeing this, Alex believed her entirely, as it wasn't just an opinion, it was the truth. Anyone would think that Agatha was younger than Esmeralda. Yet if they were to reveal Agatha's actual age, many would be utterly astonished.

“Master!” Esmeralda skipped over, dragging Alex with her.

Behind Agatha were quite a few people. In comparison, these people looked way older, as most of them had gray hair, with long beards and eyebrow hairs... At the very same time, their presence instantly made everyone feel a crushing, limitless weight of pressure.

“Ah! Look at that old man with gray eyebrows, isn't that the legendary demon lord, Zagan?”

“Oh my god, he's still alive! He must be over three hundred thousand years old now, right?”

“And that nun... Could she be Sister Tavarious from Galaxia Caridade?”

“Look, there's also...”

There were many who came from ancient times after all, so they were very familiar with the great heroes from back then. They were also able to read about these heroes in the books within their clans. Hence, they were able to describe all these people upon first meeting.

With them joining the team, the group felt much more confident.

At the time, Esmeralda had already brought Alex to meet Agatha, as if she were showing him off. “Master, this is Alex. You know, the one I mentioned before? The universe’s seed.”

Agatha’s big doe eyes turned to look at Alex, putting up an odd expression. She looked like she was smiling, but Alex felt as if he was entirely exposed in front of her, as if she could see through him. Just then, Alex had a sudden feeling that one of his three thousand lotus flowers was blooming. This time, the pollen bursted out of the flower, forming a large cloud and covering his mind.

At the very same time, a new Forbidden Spell appeared in Alex’s head.

“The Great Cover Spell!”

This spell was mainly passive, as it didn’t require any activating. It would automatically hide the person’s cultivation level, mind palace, and any other weaknesses in his physical body.

As the spell upgraded, the more power it could cover up, hiding it from most.

Agatha was still checking his cultivation level, yet when Alex received his new spell, there seemed to be something fogging up her vision all of a sudden.

“You have some skills! You could hide your skills, even from me!”

Agatha smiled softly and didn’t seem to mind one bit. “Not bad, not bad at all!”

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3264

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3264

Alex was able to benefit from this due to his associations with Esmeralda.

Agatha brought Esmeralda along on her War Rabbit, and Esmeralda called out to Alex, pulling him up to join them as well. The man clearly noticed the big rabbit turn around to look at him when he got on board. Its blood-red eyes stared at him for a short while. He really felt a shiver down his spine at that moment, as if he had turned into prey for a powerful beast.

It was fortunate that Esmeralda held his hand tightly the entire time, so it decided not to Alex in the end.

The War Rabbit's back was covered in armor, yet the people standing on top of it could maintain their balance effortlessly, no matter how much it jumped or ran. That was because there was a formation around the back of the War Rabbit's armor.

'This rabbit is amazing. It's so quick!'

Alex asked under his breath. "Is this a real rabbit, or just a mimic?"

Esmeralda shook her head. "I don't know either, but this rabbit is nearly as powerful as a Divine Sovereign."

"A Divine Sovereign rabbit?" Alex nearly shouted in shock.

Just then, Agatha spoke up. "You two have to stay close to me later. If you're too far away, I won't be able to look after you."

Heavenly Deities were able to travel three thousand miles within the blink of an eye. Both Zagan and Tavarious' team reached the deserted West Mountain near the Yorkshire Palace. Underneath them were a group of Undead patrolling the area.

Zagan wasn't that foolish to attack right away. Instead, he used telepathy to speak to his team. "Anyone who is a Divine Monarch or above, please step forward."

Whoosh!

A total of six people came out.

He frowned. "Is that it?"

There were almost ten thousand Undeads within that group, so it would be impossible to kill all of them without making any ruckus.

"No matter. You, and you, follow me and attack from the front. The four of you will attack at the end. Remember to be swift with your sword and keep a low profile. The rest of you will come down to aid us when you realize an all-out war has been initiated."

Zagan was obviously experienced in war. Hence, after he has assigned a role to everyone, they set out altogether after counting down to three.

The figures immediately turned into shadows under a dark night sky, slowly and silently approaching the Undead group. A wave of sand and dust rushed over to the Undead's heads, using the wind to get into their eyes. Many weren't even able to open their eyes because of this.

"What kind of wind is this?"

"I feel like I'm going blind..."

"Quick, take cover!"

The front section of the Undead patrol team instantly turned into a mess. Since there were just too many of them, the chaos was enough to make them trample over and bump into each other, creating conflict in the process.

In just a few moments, someone started shouting. "What the f*ck. Which one of you poked my foot? Can't you trim your toenails?"

Slash!

"Ah??? Who hurt me? Can't you watch your dang weapon?"

"Huh? Who fell unconscious? Holy sh*t, Sir Buggs, why have you fainted? Ah! He died? Who was it? Who killed him?"

Sand had gone into their eyes. With this gust of dust in the air, none of the Undead could see properly. Even if they tried using their divine consciousness, it would still be rather blurry.

All of this was caused by the Demon Lord, Zagan.

These elders had gone through wars during ancient times, and had fought the Undead in the past. Thus, it was only natural for them to be highly experienced. Facing them head-on would be the worst plan possible, significantly when they were outnumbered. Hence, everything required great calculations and planning

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3265

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3265

After that, Zagan led his team to blend in with the crowd, slaughtering as many as possible during this confusion.

From a far distance, the people who were ordered to be on standby were very impressed to see how Zagan's plan panned out. It showed how skilled he was, as he was able to minimize their risks by choosing not to face the Undead head on. Moreover, they were able to kill off even more enemies than expected.

"I've long heard about how smart the Demon Lord Zagan was when fighting the Undead back then. He could come up with many ideas and tricks, which helped create miracles during their battles every single time. Looks like he lives up to his name."

In comparison, Tavarious was facing quite a sticky situation.

The old nun let out a loud scream, raising her divine sword as she slashed into the Undead army. This caught the enemies' attention, and the entire team had to get into close combat right there and then. As Chi and wind blades exploded in the air, the entire army was alerted of their presence.

"How dare these disgusting natives fight back? They're just asking for a death wish!"

Aria received this news immediately, so she brought another team to join the fight

For a brief moment, Tavarious got injured by Aria, which led to several Undeads surrounding her, giving her no way to escape. It was fortunate that the two brothers who headed to the East found nothing along their way but managed to hear the battle noises coming from the North. Itching for some action, they abandoned their original path and rushed over.

When the two old men joined, Tavarious felt slightly less worried and depressed.

"Hey, old nun, aren't you supposed to thank us? If it weren't for our help, you might've been stripped naked and assaulted by those Undeads, forcing you to make babies!" Alijah, the older brother, said with a smile.

Tavarious was initially quite grateful, but hearing this made her expression darken instantly.

Salvador, the younger brother, chuckled. "Alijah, how could a human and an Undead give birth to a baby? They should be called Undead kids."

"Undead kids sound horrible. You should call them the Undying children instead."

Tavarious was furious. "Shut up, you old things!"

"Ah, we're talking about old things, huh? You seem older than us, though, so what are you then?"

"Boss, she's an old nun. She's not an object."

Just then, a yell echoed through the skies. "Stop talking. You all are so annoying. None of you are objects. You're nothing! So just die instead!"

It was Aria who was speaking. After that, a great war broke out.

On the other side, Agatha did a turn and shape-shifted into another woman. Upon closer inspection, Alex nearly fell from the War Rabbit's back. That was because Agatha had turned herself into Juvia.

Since Alex had seen the Undead Queen before, he had quite the impression of her. He could confidently say that her shapeshifting would most definitely fool anyone.

"Master, you..." Esmeralda shrieked.

"Esmeralda, you and Alex will have to follow the War Rabbit later. I'll shapeshift into the Undead Queen and distract the Undead for a while. We need to make sure we kill off all the core members of the Undead and destroy the Blood Pool with the least casualties possible."

This was quite an unexpected trick as well.

Alex said, "I can shapeshift into Rhy's appearance too."

Esmeralda asked, "What about me?"

Agatha replied. "Stay on the rabbit for now, and attract some of the attacks yourself."

"Huh?"

“Go, now. The Warrior Rabbit is high on defense, so it could take their attacks for ten whole minutes, so don’t be scared!”

Roar!

Just then, the rabbit leaped and let out a deafening roar, whereas Agatha and Alex went over to the back of the Blood Pool. Agatha then sent out a few spells.

“Carrot Meeting!”

“Ultimate Carrot Formation!”

Tens of large carrots appeared out of thin air and inserted themselves into the ground, setting themselves up as a formation.

The War Rabbit appeared at the site, killing off enemies immediately. Agatha, who had turned into Juvia, dashed out and yelled loudly. “A strong enemy has shown itself! Protect the queen! You, you, you, and you. Based on your positions, I’m calling everyone in the South to come over.”

Alex was in awe. He didn’t know that she could pull off such an unexpected move.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3267

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3267

Some members of the Undying Clan informed her that Juvia and Rhys had returned, but the situation was a little strange.

“The queen summoned three groups of people, but none of them appeared!”

Looking at the War Rabbit and Esmeralda on top, Aria’s eyes became very sharp, as she was irritated. She had been given the order to go out and fight, but she didn’t expect to be confronted by this level of the other side so soon, and crucially, she had only two Undying Clans left.

“War Rabbit!”

“I’ve seen this rabbit before. It appears to be an object belonging to a perverted woman. She must be coming here.”

Aria fixed her gaze on the spot where the boundary had been drawn.

Agatha, who had assumed Juvia's appearance, emerged soon after.

"There are powerful people from the aborigines appearing in the north," she commented as soon as she emerged.

"The number of people sent there is still insufficient. Another batch of people will come..."

"The powerful people in the north have been defeated. No need to travel over," she just said before being interrupted by Aria.

"Am I the queen, or are you the queen?" Agatha asked as she narrowed her eyes.

Aria made a sneering remark, "You're a twisted knucklehead, and you're trying to pass yourself off as my sister? Go to hell!"

She was Juvia's sister, and she could tell right away that Juvia was a phony. Then, enraged, she launched an all-out assault. Not only did she come out to help, but so did the other Undying Clan.

Boom, boom, boom, boom!

Agatha was an influential person who lived in ancient times and was now a living emperor; her combat power was unrivaled, nonetheless, battling with Juvia turned into a five-minute duel that was unexpectedly indistinguishable from one another.

Also rushing back was the War Rabbit.

"Because the zombie queen was away, the other undying clan has gone out as well, now is an ideal time to assassinate the queen's sister. I'll go help Agatha," Saria remarked as she opened her mouth.

She raced out after saying anything and waiting for the right opportunity.

Swish!

Poof!

Aria had not anticipated the presence of an expert such as Saria in the formation. It was yet another surprise attack. She was pierced through the shoulder by Saria's sword in a moment of inattention.

"Your Majesty!"

Aria was protected in a group by the throne of the Undying Clan, which was huge in number. The fighting had ultimately impacted the two northwesterly directions.

A short time cannot pass for Demon Lord Zagan and Sister Tavarious, as well as Salvador.

At this precise moment...

A loud boom erupted in the blood pool. Something blew up below. Unexpectedly, a massive carrot surged out of the blast.

This was, of course, Agatha's work. The main goal of their journey was to demolish the blood pool.

It was now a success.

Aria's eyes were red with anger. The Undying clan's combat prowess would dwindle without the blood pool, and they had only recently attacked the three thousand worlds with tremendous difficulty... She shouldn't have sent out so many troops, and now she regretted it.

"Hey, little sister, do you understand what this is?" Agatha quickly drew a blackish stone from her pocket.

It appeared ordinary, but Aria's spirit was scared out of her when she saw it. "Void Crystal of Annihilation?!"

"Run!"

Agatha slammed it down.

Boom!

A loud noise was heard. The entire universe, including heaven and earth, seemed devoid of sound and light.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3268

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3268

Some members of the Undying Clan informed her that Juvia and Rhys had returned, but the situation was a little strange.

“The queen summoned three groups of people, but none of them appeared!”

Looking at the War Rabbit and Esmeralda on top, Aria’s eyes became very sharp, as she was irritated. She had been given the order to go out and fight, but she didn’t expect to be confronted by this level of the other side so soon, and crucially, she had only two Undying Clans left.

“War Rabbit!”

“I’ve seen this rabbit before. It appears to be an object belonging to a perverted woman. She must be coming here.”

Aria fixed her gaze on the spot where the boundary had been drawn.

Agatha, who had assumed Juvia’s appearance, emerged soon after.

“There are powerful people from the aborigines appearing in the north,” she commented as soon as she emerged.

“The number of people sent there is still insufficient. Another batch of people will come...”

“The powerful people in the north have been defeated. No need to travel over,” she just said before being interrupted by Aria.

“Am I the queen, or are you the queen?” Agatha asked as she narrowed her eyes.

Aria made a sneering remark, “You’re a twisted knucklehead, and you’re trying to pass yourself off as my sister? Go to hell!”

She was Juvia’s sister, and she could tell right away that Juvia was a phony. Then, enraged, she launched an all-out assault. Not only did she come out to help, but so did the other Undying Clan.

Boom, boom, boom, boom!

Agatha was an influential person who lived in ancient times and was now a living emperor; her combat power was unrivaled, nonetheless, battling with Juvia turned into a five-minute duel that was unexpectedly indistinguishable from one another.

Also rushing back was the War Rabbit.

“Because the zombie queen was away, the other undying clan has gone out as well, now is an ideal time to assassinate the queen’s sister. I’ll go help Agatha,” Saria remarked as she opened her mouth.

She raced out after saying anything and waiting for the right opportunity.

Swish!

Poof!

Aria had not anticipated the presence of an expert such as Saria in the formation. It was yet another surprise attack. She was pierced through the shoulder by Saria’s sword in a moment of inattention.

“Your Majesty!”

Aria was protected in a group by the throne of the Undying Clan, which was huge in number. The fighting had ultimately impacted the two northwesterly directions.

A short time cannot pass for Demon Lord Zagan and Sister Tavarious, as well as Salvador.

At this precise moment...

A loud boom erupted in the blood pool. Something blew up below. Unexpectedly, a massive carrot surged out of the blast.

This was, of course, Agatha’s work. The main goal of their journey was to demolish the blood pool.

It was now a success.

Aria's eyes were red with anger. The Undying clan's combat prowess would dwindle without the blood pool, and they had only recently attacked the three thousand worlds with tremendous difficulty... She shouldn't have sent out so many troops, and now she regretted it.

"Hey, little sister, do you understand what this is?" Agatha quickly drew a blackish stone from her pocket.

It appeared ordinary, but Aria's spirit was scared out of her when she saw it. "Void Crystal of Annihilation?!"

"Run!"

Agatha slammed it down.

Boom!

A loud noise was heard. The entire universe, including heaven and earth, seemed devoid of sound and light.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3269

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3269

The two people were getting closer and closer together.

500 meters, 300 meters, 100 meters...

To Aria, such a distance could not even be considered a distance, it could be ignored. However, she discovered that all of Alex had done the same thing at this point.

A punch landed on the ground.

"Is this guy insane?"

As soon as such a thought entered Aria's mind, a force that caught her off guard suddenly spread up from beneath her feet and wrapped her body. Her body felt as if it had sunk into the muck, her body became unbearably heavy, and her legs appeared to be filled with lead. Her movement had been severely disrupted.

This was none other than Alex's forbidden technique, the Great Gravity Spell.

"What?! It's actually a divine ability to control gravity!" Aria was shocked.

This was one of the three thousand forbidden arts within. Its law was beyond the scope of this world. Aria's cultivation was at the highest. Her power was incomparably immense. But, to cultivate the Great Gravity Spell would not be because one's cultivation was high then the effect of gravity would be less. On the contrary, people with high cultivation would suffer more gravity.

Aria was closely followed by the Holy Rabbit.

Alex's secret art changed the law, embodied in the great gravity art. Against the Holy Rabbit, the Great Gravity Spell was ineffective. In the next second, a Holy Rabbit spotted Aria and charged up.

Boom!

It was a massive explosion. The Holy Rabbit exploded when it came into contact with Aria's body.

Then there was a second one, and then a third... The explosions were deafening.

Alex's Great Gravity Spell made it impossible for Aria to run now.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

More than a hundred suicidal Holy Rabbits swooped down on Aria's body. In the explosion, Aria was turned into smoke and dust with a shout full of unending hatred.

Instead, due to the Void Crystal of Annihilation's explosion, a wisp of divine soul quietly hidden into the ground, silently retreating, until it finally disappeared. This was Aria's Life Substitution Spirit. She would never have guessed that, in the end, because of Alex's interference, only her deity and spirit were left. It made her hate him even more. Only the Life Substitution Spirit was still alive.

Such a result was utterly unacceptable.

Pfft!

Alex knelt on the ground, gasping for air.

His Great Gravity Spell had reached at the first level. If it was not the first level, the effect on Aria would be minimal, and it would be unable to stop her at all. Hence, he looked for a way to superimpose a full thirty six images, each casting the Great Gravity Spell. This way, when they were superimposed together, the gravity reached a terrifying value. The only issue was that the consumption was excessive. Thirty-six images, each consuming Chi, cast the Great Gravity Spell.

He was about to collapse now. However, the outcome was satisfying. The Undead Queen's sister and her most important right-hand man were blasted to death.

"It's Alex!"

Esmeralda dashed over to Alex and kneeled before him, picking him up, "How are you doing? How dare you, that woman is the Undead Queen's sister. My master fought her for hundreds of rounds and didn't even know who won. Are you not afraid of being killed instantly?"

Alex laughed, leaned against her, and asked, "Did I look like myself in my previous life?"

***

Meanwhile, "Not good, something has happened to my sister!" said Juvia, the Undead Queen, far away in the wasteland.

Read Novel The Pinnacle Of Life Chapter 3270

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3270

Presently, Rhys was still concentrating on attacking the Thousand Flag Formation. Based on current progress, it would take at least one more day to break through this barrier.

Rhys was depressed, and in a place like the Wastelands, one could actually see a formation of this degree. All the formation laws were all from the Chi universe, which could not have been produced in this diffracted universe. Thus, the magical treasure that laid this great formation had to be something from the Chi universe. This was something that even Alex had not given much thought to.

He had no idea that the item he had snatched halfway from someone else was actually so powerful and of such high quality. He would have definitely set up the Thousand Flag Formation inside the Genbu Secret Realm.

“What happened to your sister? What could possibly happen to her?”

“She has ten Undying clans in her hands, each with a throne leading the team. All the experts of this diffractive universe are out to surround her, and after three days, I’m afraid they can’t even hurt half a hair of hers.” Rhys was less than impressed.

He could sense Juvia’s feelings for him. He didn’t like her, and he thought her older sister was annoying because she was always bothering him. He would have kicked her out long ago if she hadn’t been Juvia’s sister, whom he had identified as his sister-in-law.

Juvia’s face was as dark as water, and her eyes were solemn. Rhys did not understand her sister’s connection to her, which was mysterious telepathy.

She could now clearly sense that what her sister had witnessed was extremely serious and could endanger her life. She averted her gaze.

The supreme divine thoughts were fiercely scattered. She had arrived in the wasteland, a long way from Yorkshire Palace on the other side of the ocean. It would be a fool’s errand for an ordinary person to want to cross such a long distance and reach over there to check out the reality. However, it was not too difficult for Juvia.

Buzz!

Only in a few short breaths.

Using her telepathy, Juvia arrived above Yorkshire Palace. When she saw what was going on there, she was furious. Standing at the foot of Mount Yukon, with her as the center, the temperature dropped rapidly for dozens of miles around. The sky was just shining with sunshine, and all of a sudden, it turned gray and gloomy, with gusts of cloudy wind and goose-feather snowflakes drifting down.

When Juvia became enraged, she caused a sudden change in the weather.

Anyone in this range was emotionally affected by her. Ordinary people simply could not afford such an emotional outburst from her. In just a short moment, their hearts were full of hatred, tyranny, killing intent, and destruction. All these were kinds of negative thinking. Negative emotions were magnified a hundred and a thousand times, and then they acted very irrationally.

Exactly at this time. The criminal behavior had increased. The original benevolent people had suddenly turned murderous and violent.

Rhys, Juvia's eldest search brother, was the most affected. This was because he was closest to Juvia. Fortunately, his cultivation level was deep enough, and he quickly collected his thoughts, asking, "Sister, what's wrong with you?"

Juvia's body erupted with boundless hatred. "My sister, Aria, is no longer alive!"

Rhys was stunned, "Is Aria no longer alive? What happened?"

"Go to Yorkshire Palace, kill, and take revenge," Juvia said flatly.

"Ah, but this Yukon formation will be broken soon..."

"There's no need to break it. That brat Alex is in Yorkshire Palace, and he's one of those who murdered my sister! I want to draw this person's skin, extract his soul, and refine it into my shoes."

Juvia uttered these words with venom, revealing the depth of her hatred for Alex. To be refined into the shoe, stepping on his soul daily!

Rhys was overjoyed.