The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3281

Esmeralda was instantly dumbfounded.

'This was originally for me? But, why can't I understand it?'

"I... Didn't she say this hair stick was not mine in the first place? I never knew why half of the hair stick was with me. For the past few lifetimes, I always thought I had engraved in my memory an unforgettable love... Even after I died. I had searched for so long, but this is someone else's life."

"However, my heart hurts so much right now!"

Alex took her hand as his eyes were watery. "Although I still can't remember the previous memories, this Divine Bead has given me some information that should have existed in the first place. Esmeralda, do you know who gave you the name 'Esmeralda'?"

Esmeralda thought for a while. "I forgot it. It seems I was born with the name Esmeralda. It hasn't changed after reincarnation a few times."

Alex shook his head. "I named you."

"What?!"

Esmeralda was stunned. Xienna was also stunned.

Then, Alex took the complete hair stick that joined together from Xienna's hand and said to Esmeralda, "Moreover, this hair stick initially belonged to you."

The expression of the crowd present turned strange.

Meanwhile, Xienna was about to explode with rage. "As expected, you didn't want to give this hair stick to me at first! You b*st*rd, you gave me something that someone else didn't want! What did you take me for? A run-down trash collector?"

She screamed hysterically. She had gone through so many reincarnations and suffered various hardships to keep her memories. She had been crushed by the Flesh Grinder again and again, but it turned out to be such a broken relationship.

She harbored the thought of killing him.

Alex looked at her. He couldn't tell whether she was Xienna or Dorothy for a moment.

"Hold your horses. I'm not done speaking."

Alex said to Xienna. Then, he turned around and faced Esmeralda. "Do you remember it now?"

Esmeralda shook her head. "I don't understand it."

Alex said, "Esmeralda, you were originally a spiritual fetus born from a piece of immortal jade in the 100,000 mile deep sea that inherited the luck of heaven and earth. I found you by chance! Then, I kept nourishing you with divine power, turning the jade fetus into a spiritual body in the end."

As soon as that statement was made, everyone was stunned again.

Staring at that hair stick, Esmeralda had a look of disbelief on her face. "Could it be that this hair stick..."

Alex nodded. "Just as you thought, this hair stick is you. You are the hair stick."

"The Divine Bead was a gift for you so that you could bypass the restriction of races and set foot on the path of cultivation more easily. You were also determined. In just a few decades, you gained achievements that others may not have achieved in a thousand years. You took the initiative to become a hair stick and stay by Xienna's side to protect her."

"This is the content of the memories I acquired from the Divine Bead. If those memories are real, then I think that's why that half of the hair stick was with you."

Xienna froze.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3284

'Is this the Peacock Heavenly King's Tomb?'

Such a thought crossed everyone's mind. This place was probably hell, wasn't it?

They saw corpses all over the place below the huge pit!

They were human corpses. Some corpses had already decayed, leaving only white bones. Meanwhile, some other corpses were bloody, and the white bones were drenched in blood with an overwhelming stench of corpses.

"It stinks!" Esmeralda grimaced as she covered her nose with her hand, looking as if she was about to vomit.

Everyone held their breath and protected themselves by condensing a shield with divine power.

Alex said, "This pit of ten thousand corpses is full of resentful Chi. Look at those corpses in the outermost area. They probably haven't died too long. The blood is still fresh and isn't coagulated. What on earth happened here?"

"Yuno... Yuno, could it be..."

After witnessing such a scene, he naturally felt anxious.

"There are more than ten thousand corpses here, right?" Agatha lashed out a mass of light. It looked like a lamp floating in the air, going down little by little.

At that moment, everyone could see things more clearly. This corpse pit showed a kind of spiral shape with a passage winding downward in the middle. Its diameter was five meters in total, surrounded by corpses and bones. Speaking of that, it was strange. Those bones did not fall off the passage for some reason. Under the illumination of the light mass, the passage stretched down without an unknown depth and distance.

Alex activated the primordial eye and X-ray vision, trying to find out what was underneath. Consequently, he discovered that his X-ray vision was utterly ineffective.

“Not only is the resentful Chi here overwhelming, but an atrocious demonic Chi is floating around here. Everyone, be careful and don’t let your guard down,” said Agatha.

She stepped into the air with one foot, planning to fly through like that floating mass of light.

However, just as her body was about to float in mid-air, she suddenly fell straight down at a breakneck speed. No matter how hard she struggled, she couldn’t find a way to stabilize her body. She fell into the pit the next moment, landing in the middle of countless corpses’ bones.

“Flight ban!”

“Abnormal gravity!”

Standing on a corpse’s bones, Agatha knitted her gorgeous brows slightly. She disliked this kind of environment right now.

At the same time, she thought, ‘Is this place the Peacock Heavenly King’s Tomb? It can’t be a great sham, right?’

Dorothy looked down and said, “Why don’t I go back to the Cleansing Vase? Let me out again after you have walked past this passage of white bones.”

Alex nodded. “You can, of course! Esmeralda, you too should take a break for a while!”

However, Agatha then told them that the spatial rings were unusable and the spatial law was not working due to the restriction of the space in the tomb. Hence, the Cleansing Vase was very likely unusable after going down there.

Even so, the space of the mind palace was not subjected to the restriction. Dorothy and Esmeralda did not enter it upon hearing that.

Wouldn’t their trip be in vain if they could not get out?

“Make some preparations first. Take some items out of the magical treasure storage, place them inside the backpacks and carry them around,” said Alex

“I have many bags here!”

Esmeralda took a few bags out of her magical treasure storage. At a glance, they were all branded bags, Louis Vuitton, Prada, Coach, and more. The key was that their sizes were tiny.

How many lipsticks or mobile phones could they hold?

Dorothy complained, “You are really a fashionista. These bags are more suitable for a catwalk!”

Esmeralda looked awkward. “I have a bigger one.”

After she took it out, it was a large satchel at a glance.

“Are you going shopping while holding that bag?” sneered Dorothy.

“Use mine! I have some, too!” said Alex. He rummaged around and fished out a few large sacks as tall as a person.

Esmeralda was shocked. “Why are you carrying these things? What did you usually use them for? To cover someone else’s head and beat that guy up?”

Alex said, “To contain medicinal herbs.”

Dorothy was speechless. “Alright! Alright! You can’t drag a sack all the time! Use mine!”

What she took out was appropriate, three travel bags.

Shortly afterward, the three people prepared many things, mainly ropes, hooks, pills, clothes... Dorothy glanced at Esmeralda, but she ended up rolling her eyes. She saw the mess of things she had taken, skincare products, hand creams, a comb, a toothbrush, and sunglasses.

“Excuse me. Are you going to the beach for a vacation?”

“Nobody knows what is going on down there. It may be a different world. The bag is so huge. I’m not wrong for putting more things. Oh, by the way, there are also essential snacks, chocolates, beef, and water...”

Dorothy stopped talking. 'This must be an incompetent teammate...'

She said to Alex, "You better stay away from her. I'm afraid she will drag you down."

Agatha in the pit also wanted to come up. She also wanted to prepare things, but the problem arose. She discovered that she could not get out. With the flight ban and abnormal gravity, she simply could not climb without a rope.

"Hey. Put a rope down and hang it there, or else I will have no way to go up." Agatha was slightly dejected.

She was the dignified powerhouse at the level of the king of gods, yet she was trapped in this dozen meters deep pit. No one would believe her if the news was spread.

"Fine!"

Not only did Alex keep a rope, but he even set up a force field around the place, concealing everything in this place. Then, the three people climbed down the rope.

They only realized how terrifying this place was when the gravity acted on their bodies. Surprisingly, this gravity was a thousand times more powerful than a normal situation.

Snap!

The rope simply could not withstand this kind of strength and was broken right away.

"Ah!"

The three people fell down, landing on a pile of bones.

Agatha looked at the few people beside her feet. "Ah. Just now, I forgot to mention that the gravity was too strong and the rope should have been sturdier."

Esmeralda got up and looked completely upset.

She just fell flat on her buttocks on a bloody white bone, causing her pants to be stained with blood. She looked as if she had an accidental menstrual leak.

Alex took Dorothy's hand. Both of them were fine while standing steadily. "It's strange. The abnormal gravity only showed up in mid-air, but it's normal after landing on the ground."

Agatha said, "This is the concept of a double flight ban. Looks like someone in this tomb doesn't hope that we can walk out alive."

After a pause, she continued, "By the way, can you still contact your friend right now?"

After sensing for a while, Alex shook his head. "I can't contact her right now."

Agatha said, "Be careful. It's hard to tell if she is your friend."

She implied that Yuno might be dead. Some evil entity had controlled Yuno and tempted them to come over by sending a message to Alex.

Esmeralda asked nervously, "Master, then what should we do now? This place shouldn't be a great trap, right?"

"Take things as they come. We will find out after we go down and take a look." Stepping on the white bones, Agatha took the lead and walked toward the passage.

At first, everyone was quite careful and did not allow the blood on the white bones to stain themselves. However, it did not take long before those bloodstained white bones suddenly came to life one after another. All of them stretched their hands and tried to grab them.

"Oh my goodness!" shouted Esmeralda. A few hands almost dragged her into the pile of white bones.

"Kill them!"

Wielding the Dao Killing Sword, Alex severed a dozen hands with a slash and pulled Esmeralda back.

"Follow me!"

"Go!"

At that moment, everyone's faces and bodies were drenched in blood. They couldn't care less about decorum and just strode away, the same even for Agatha.

“As long as we alert him on purpose, we would be able to face him head-on.”

Alex said, “I need to go to the bottom of the ocean and save Phoebe first.”

Agatha spoke up. “We should carry out both plans together. We can’t afford to waste any time.”

“Okay!”

“Master, I’ll go with Alex. I’m good with water, and I can swim very fast! ” Esmeralda said.

“Be quick!”

After that, Esmeralda turned into a green snake and rushed into the sea.

Dorothy initially wanted to join them too, but compared to Esmeralda, her cultivation element leaned towards fire more. Hence, she decided that it was best that she stayed.

On the other hand, Agatha brought out staff from her mind palace.

Whoosh!

Throwing it into mid-air, it floated on top of the underground ocean. Just then, the pressure in the air instantly disappeared for some reason. Hence it wasn't able to bring the staff down into the sea.

Shing!

The staff suddenly started glistening, with several glowing spots all over. A phantom of multiple galaxies suddenly appeared as well. Suddenly, the staff burst with a large amount of energy, which sounded like a loud explosion. The entire space started shaking as the water levels lowered drastically. Seconds later, it bounced back and turned into a tsunami.

Still standing at the head of the snake, Alex could feel the vibrations. Clearly, it seemed quite powerful.

“Alex, can you tell me how we got along back when I was still your Esmeralda?” The woman used telepathy to speak to him. After all, she didn't specifically volunteer to come with him because of Phoebe.

Dorothy obviously knew her intentions as well.

“My Esmeralda? Let me think... From what I remember, Esmeralda was a friend, or should I say... Family? Mhm, she was a sister to me. We shared a good relationship.”

“Sister? Like, those types of ‘sisters’?”

“Just a sister!”

“I refuse to believe that!”

“Then what do you think our relationship was?”

Esmeralda replied. "We'd at least be in a relationship, a sexual one at that!"

Alex replied. "You're overthinking this. From the memories I received, you were still a little kid. Your body hadn't even matured back then!"

"What? Huh? I haven't matured yet?"

"Yeah, you looked like you were at most ten years old. You had a very round face, you know?"

"Stop lying. How could I have been that chubby?"

"It was likely baby fat. You came out of a divine rock, you know? So you'd have lots of nutrition since birth!"

Just then, an extremely eerie voice came from beneath the sea, as if it were a large torpedo rushing towards them.

Esmeralda's snake body was sent back a few feet within the water. The impact was so hard that she was forced to turn back into her actual form, unable to keep up the snake form.

"Sh*t, the guy is underwater!" She said anxiously.

Moreover, the roar had to have come from a Demon King to be able to stir up such a large commotion.

"Let's go!"

Alex took the woman into his embrace and activated the Great Cover Spell, trying his best to hide his entire body. Suddenly, they were able to vaguely notice a city at the bottom of the sea. At the time, a burning light was shining from within.

There was a flaming peacock that was the size of a mountain, rushing out of the underwater city in front of their eyes.

Whoosh!

In an instant, the water temperature rose to a boiling state as several waves came crashing through, forming yet another tsunami. Any adjective used to describe tsunamis wouldn't even be enough to show how large the waves were. An exceedingly intense pressure covered the entire ocean. It was endless, paired with pure demonic Chi.

When forced onto a human, it was like a sharp blade, stabbing and slicing their minds into shreds.

"Ahhh!!!" Esmeralda let out a painful shriek, holding her head with her hands. She felt like her brain was about to explode.

Alex initially wanted to bring her over while hiding the both of them with his spell so that the big guy wouldn't notice them. However, seeing Esmeralda like this, he knew that he must help her somehow. If she didn't have enough mental power for this, her mind might break down, causing her to become mentally crippled.

"Namo Namo..."

"Reveal thee..."

He started chanting a holy melody, with patterns of lotus flowers coming out of his mouth. Every note within this chant glistened with gold, leaving several golden petals flowing around the two. This formed a beautiful golden shield to protect them from the Peacock Heavenly King's spiritual pressure.

In the end, the peacock noticed Alex and Esmeralda, hence becoming its target. Shrieking, it dashed towards them immediately.

"You dumb*sses, what are you two doing?!"

"Why did you make such a loud commotion? Do you have a death wish?"

"Just run!"

Alex could hear how panicked Esmeralda sounded when she yelled at him through telepathy. He knew that she was currently within the Peacock Heavenly King. She could also be using some other way, but it was clear that she could see or sense Alex's current movements.

He brought out the Immortal Butcher and whispered. "How else would I be able to lure this big guy out?"

He then turned to Esmeralda. "Esmeralda, run now! I'll stall it!"

Yet Esmeralda seemed confident. "I don't need protection. I'm here to fight! So don't treat me like a weakling."

She took two steps to the front, putting her body before Alex. Shouting, a large green snake appeared right before her, rushing towards the peacock with great speed.

That was not Esmeralda herself and was instead a type of phantasm. Despite this, it looked real and seemed tremendously strong. Even then, she was currently facing the Peacock Heavenly King, a being that ruled the world for an entire era during ancient times.

"How annoying!" The Peacock Heavenly King slashed his claws towards it, instantly turning the snake into dust

"Uhm. I guess that's not exactly weak!"

Alex couldn't bear to watch any longer, but something didn't seem right...

Whoosh!

A bright green light shone through where the snake disappeared. It had been replaced by a long green sword, heading straight for the peacock's eyes. Hence, the green snake was just a decoy, and the sword was the actual attack.

Despite the smart move, the results were still not quite ideal...

The Peacock Heavenly King immediately closed its eyes, revealing its golden eyelids. When the sword landed on its eyelids, it was instantly blocked off. It was simply unimaginable how hard a mere eyelid was.

"It's so tough!"

Esmeralda let out a shout again, controlling the green sword again. After it bounced back, it turned into hundreds of flying swords, forming a circular sword formation that surrounded the peacock.

Later on, she attacked it relentlessly.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3289

Caw...

The peacock let out a high-pitched shriek. The soundwaves could break Esmeralda's sword formation in the blink of an eye. It even swung its wings and smashed all the flying swords to the ground.

"You garbage, go to hell!"

The peacock spoke with utter disdain, swinging its other wing towards Alex and Esmeralda. That wing was nearly as big as a galaxy, looming over the two as it covered the whole space, locking it while causing more earthquakes.

Just then, the three thousand lotus flowers in Alex's body seemed oddly excited. All of them were waving and shaking vigorously. Even the ones that hadn't bloomed were trembling as if they saw a sworn enemy. This filled Alex with sheer fighting spirit.

"Forbidden Spell, The Great Fart Spell!"

Pfft!

Alex ran as soon as he let out that fart, dragging Esmeralda along. "Quickly!"

Esmeralda felt her mind go blank. Never would she have dreamed of Alex doing such a thing. She thought he would swing his giant sword at the peacock, yet he just raised his behind and attacked the peacock with a large cloud of fart.

The orangey-yellow fart felt like a bomb explosion.

The Peacock Heavenly King was usually quite fearless, as it viewed Alex as an irrelevant being, like how elephants viewed ants. Hence, it wasn't afraid of his attacks at all. However, as that yellow cloud of stinky farts approached its delicate nose, it was still frightened despite not breathing it in yet.

Kaw!

The peacock let out a shrill scream, flapping its wings to escape frantically. It was even making puking noises while doing so.

“Oh my god, he’s full of farts... Bleurgh!” The peacock shook its head vigorously.

Some of the poisonous gas filled with law power remained in its nose, which made it hack and cough over and over again. It was a rather disgusting image.

Just then, a ray of light, along with an angry yell, came from behind the peacock.

Alex raised the Immortal Butcher above his head, stabbing it right into the Peacock Heavenly King’s anus.

Clang!

As the sword crashed into the hole, it let out a metallic sound.

“What the f*ck?!” Alex cursed.

He didn’t expect this bird to have such high defense, to the point it had such a tough anus too.

‘It must have trained that area daily. Did it penetrate itself with something all the time? Else who would focus on increasing this area’s defense?’

However, Alex realized that he had somewhat injured the peacock when he heard it cawing angrily. Even if it didn’t leave a physical wound, the attack still scarred it mentally.

“I’ll kill you, stink bug!” The peacock was enraged, turning around to deal with Alex.

Suddenly, it halted out of nowhere and turned its head, looking at its tail. Something felt different, especially in the area Alex had attacked.

‘It’s freezing!’

After that, it understood that this damned ‘stink bug’ had tried to ambush it right after letting out a musty fart. Moreover, this sinister ‘bug’ even used an ice spell to freeze its anus.

“Arghhh!”

It was going on a rampage now, roaring with all its might.

The peacock’s flaming feathers turned into tens of thousands of flying swords, aiming straight at the two, falling like raindrops.

Just then, Agatha had finally arrived. She immediately threw a red hand fan in their direction as the fan continued to enlarge. As she swung her arm forcefully, a gigantic tornado appeared in front of Alex and Esmeralda. All the peacock swords in its way were then sent flying in another direction.

“It really is the Peacock Heavenly King!”

“But there’s a demonic spirit inside of it!”

“Ultimate Carrot Formation, go!”

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3290

Thump, thump, thump...

Gigantic carrots descended from the sky one by one. Although this was part of the depths of the sea, the carrots landed at quite the speed, as if they were meteorites. The water pressure had no effect on them at all. Besides that, these carrots were horrendously big, as if they were buildings with roots on the bottom and leaves on top.

A total of thirty-six carrots descended, completely surrounding the peacock.

Alex actually wanted to crack up whenever Agatha summoned these carrots. He would always think, ‘Oh, she is so young at heart. Even her attacks are so cute.’

Yet this time, he felt some kind of malicious intent, which was powerful, stern, and terrifying. Those carrots were very menacing, and it was more suitable to call them nuclear bombs in the shape of carrots. They then connected, becoming a formation. Between the carrots were tiny rays of pink light intertwined with each other. It was hard to identify what substance it was, but they all found out when the Peacock Heavenly King touched it with its body.

It was some kind of high voltage electricity.

Bzzzt...

The pink electric bolts landed on the peacock, causing several explosions right there and then.

Agatha gave out orders. "What are we waiting for? Let's all attack together and break her defense! Then we can use mental attacks to bring out the demon inside her!"

With this, they used every single attack they could think of.

Alex, on the other hand, was slightly worried about Yuno. Yet there didn't seem to be any other way to handle this situation.

The peacock let out another earth-shattering roar a few seconds later, visibly mad. Its defense had finally been broken through. Agatha's formation was too strong, no matter how weird it looked. However, this was only natural after all. She was, in fact, an ancient queen of gods. Without any power, there was no way she could live this long.

This peacock was basically not the true Peacock Heavenly King since Yuno was the actual divine spirit of this being. While Yuno wasn't around, some guy had taken over her body.

Not only that, he even wanted to swallow her now.

Roar!

"You're dead meat, woman!"

At the time, a completely different voice came out of the peacock's mouth. It definitely wasn't the Peacock Heavenly King's voice. Hence, it could likely be the voice of that demonic god. He couldn't take any more of Agatha's Ultimate Carrot Formation, finally showing his true form.

The flames on the peacock were extinguished at a rapid pace. After that, its beautiful feathers started changing in color, turning black. It even started burning with pitch-black flames.

It was a type of demonic flame.

Whoosh!

Alex's three thousand lotus flowers reacted excitedly again, stronger than before.

'What's happening? My three thousand flowers react this much to this sort of demonic flames! Could they be trying to... Swallow it?'

Upon closer inspection, he noticed one of them was waving even more frantically than the others. It was a translucent lotus flower.

"What traits does it have?"

This was the first time he had ever seen a semi-transparent lotus flower. Using his mind, he immediately absorbed all the pollen on this flower and received a new spell called the Great Swallow Spell.

'This can't be real, right?'

On the other side, Agatha, Dorothy, and Esmeralda were still attacking the peacock harshly, even after it turned entirely black.

Unexpectedly, such powerful attacks meant nothing to these black flames. As the demonic flames continued to burn, it took in every attack without fail.
