The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3291

“This... This isn't law power within the Diffracted universe.”

“Black flames come from the Chi universe.”

Agatha's expression became gloomy. She didn't know what to do in this situation, especially with the Peacock Heavenly King's true soul still being inside. Hence, she couldn't use the Void Crystal of Annihilation, or else the entire entity would be obliterated, which meant they did all this for naught.

Whoosh!

A large ball of black flames flew towards them. Dorothy used her own flames to guide it away and was able to dodge it.

On the other hand, Esmeralda bumped right into it, mainly because she was a water cultivator. Many defense treasures she had on her couldn't even last for ten seconds under those flames, shattering one after another.

Despite this, the flames continued to burn as if they wanted to burn everything down to the ground.

Agatha then used a secret spell to lock the peacock, hopping to Esmeralda's rescue. Unexpectedly, she ended up catching fire after saving her disciple. In an instant, her shoes, socks, and cuffs were burned off entirely. Even her fair leg was starting to burn.

The demonic flames were quite powerful. Agatha couldn't really take it, despite being a queen of gods. She had to grit her teeth from the pain.

“Master!” Esmeralda yelled as she rushed over in hopes of helping put out the fire.

However, Agatha stopped her right away. “Don't come near me. These are flames from the Chi universe, and they can burn through anything. You can't extinguish it.”

“What do we do?” Esmeralda was so concerned that she was tearing up.

The peacock cackled. "There is a way, you know? You can cut your leg off before my flames get to your heart. But I have to remind you that you wouldn't be able to recover in this state even as a queen of gods."

"So? What will you choose? Would you like to lose a leg or be burned to death?"

Agatha was resolute, instantly raising her hand fan to chop off her leg.

Just then, a heavy sword appeared and blocked her fan off. It was Alex

The woman continued to endure the pain, yet still frowning. "Alex, what are you doing?"

Alex said, "You don't have to chop it off. I have a plan."

Esmeralda immediately asked, "What is it? Can she really keep her leg?"

Alex nodded. "I can try!"

After saying that, he touched Agatha's burning leg. "Don't touch me!" She shouted, retracting her leg.

However, Alex's grip was quite firm while he put his mouth on her leg as if trying to kiss it. Yet he wasn't kissing her at all. He was sucking on it.

Agatha was shocked, thinking that the man was too brave for his own good. She would have to cut off her entire leg just from burning a small part of it.

'And you're using your mouth? Are you going to have to cut it off too?'

More importantly, Alex was using this to suck in the black flames on Agatha's leg, consuming it with his mouth.

"Ah!"

"Is he crazy?!"

"How could he suck on this thing?!"

More surprising was that Alex's mouth didn't catch fire despite sucking in that much fire. Moreover, the fire really did decrease by half after he did this.

Although it was still rather painful, the pain wasn't as unbearable anymore. After taking another few deep breaths, Alex managed to suck in every bit of the flames. Without the demonic flames, Agatha could use her powers with ease again. In the blink of an eye, she recovered from her wounds.

"Alex, are you alright?" She stared at Alex.

It didn't matter that he just kissed her thigh. Before speaking, he even let out a burp.

'What a weirdo!'

After that, he responded. "I'm fine. I just want to keep sucking."

Agatha raised her leg to his face. "There's no fire anymore, so why do you need to keep sucking?"

Alex stared at the flames on the peacock, clearly feeling a strong desire toward it. He proceeded to jump onto it without hesitation.

"Has this guy lost his mind?!"

Agatha didn't pay enough attention, only to watch as Alex rushed in like that. Everyone else was utterly speechless too. According to what they'd seen, not even Agatha could easily defeat that peacock.

'Does he think he has nothing to fear when he could suck in its flames?'

"Come back here!" Dorothy shouted.

"We can't let him get over there. That's the ancient Peacock Heavenly King, a being who had been living since ancient times. What is this kid doing? That's not the best way to go out!"

Agatha wasn't slow with her actions, even when she was still talking. She immediately activated her carrots once again, releasing even stronger electric bolts while locking down the peacock. She also threw her fan, which was following right behind Alex.

Esmeralda, however, turned herself into a snake, trying to catch up to Alex.

“So you can consume my flames, human brat! Interesting, but do you really think you can take in all my flames, just from the little bit of flames you sucked in just now? Alright then, I’ll just have to grant your death wish!”

The demonic god within the peacock started growling angrily. The black fire started burning even stronger, gathering together as it formed into a black fire dragon, dashing straight towards Alex.

None of the women dared to look at this point.

Shelly even started yelling at him in his mind palace too. “You idiot, do you have no will to live? This thing is at least a king of gods. Any of his attacks could demolish you. Why are you acting like a hero now?!”

“Oh, I know. Are you trying to get with Agatha just because she’s a queen of gods who looks like a young girl? I’m telling you, she is married. She literally has a husband. Can you not search control yourself for a second?”

Alex ignored her entirely and activated his Great Swallow Spell when faced with the black fire dragon. All of his lotus flowers were now quivering, getting ready for him.

Just then, the dragon wrapped itself around his body in an instant.

“Ah!”

“My love!”

Esmeralda and Dorothy yelled at the same time. Agatha’s eyes widened, too. She figured that Alex wouldn’t be able to escape from such a large ball of fire. Hence, he would definitely be injured by the flames. Leaping into the air with a stop, she brought along her strongest weapon, the hand fan.

Alex was the seed who is very important to their plan on defeating the Undead. They couldn’t afford to lose him at all. However, before Agatha could reach Alex, she noticed golden light shining out of his body. Behind him was the image of a lotus flower blooming beautifully.

Alex was very familiar with such lotus flowers since he quite literally had three thousand of them inside of him. Yet this was still the first time a golden phantom of a lotus flower appeared out of thin air. With this, Alex felt like he had an immense amount of security as if he didn't need to be afraid at all. He didn't know where this feeling came from, but his subconscious seemed to have prepared itself to handle the black flames when the golden lotus flower protected him.

Boom!

The black dragon was trying to eat Alex whole. At the very same time, Alex opened his mouth up to consume it as well.

“Huff!”

“The Great Swallow Spell!”

Shaking, the golden lotus flower seemed to have given Alex a lot of support. Not only did it protect him from the demonic flames, it helped him absorb the flames quicker, transferring the energy to himself.

The large dragon was completely swallowed within minutes.

“What?!”

“How is this even possible?!”

The demonic god within the peacock was utterly shocked. He knew how powerful his flames were, as they could burn everything down, even law powers. Yet this human kid was able to swallow it just like that.

‘Is he not worried that his stomach might get burnt to crisp?’

In reality, the energy that Alex had absorbed didn't go into his stomach. It went into that golden lotus flower instead. The energy of these flames didn't have to go through Alex's body and entered the three thousand lotus flower bases, turning itself into nutrition for the flowers.

At the time, Alex's lotus flowers were chanting and wavering happily. They seemed very satisfied with the energy be consumed. Just then, the semi-transparent flower started shivering vigorously again. There was more pollen falling from its petals. Without needing Alex's consciousness to check on it, the pollen went straight to Alex's mind so that he could absorb it.

On the other hand, another flower bloomed on the same stem.

'A twin lotus?' Alex froze.

At the same time, a message appeared before his eyes...

The Great Swallow Spell had been upgraded to level two.

'This..? These Forbidden Spells... Are they going to grow a twin lotus out whenever they upgrade to the second level?'

"What about the third and fourth, then?"

He was starting to get more excited about this.

When the spell upgraded to the second level, he could clearly feel his swallowing powers growing stronger and faster. After consuming the dragon, he didn't stop in the slightest and started forcibly taking in the flames of the peacock as well.

Roar!

It slowly regained its original colors by consuming the black demonic Chi around the peacock. This only made the guy inside even more frustrated. He couldn't sit back and watch any longer...

That was because Alex was starting to swallow his soul after absorbing all the black demonic Chi on the peacock's surface.

"Just die!" It yelled, attacking Alex once again.

However, Agatha and the others kept attacking. Using the carrot formation, they were able to keep the peacock still.

After that, she urgently called for Dorothy and Esmeralda, sending out a mental lock into the peacock together in hopes of trying to get the demonic god out.

"Argh..!"

“You bunch of weaklings, you have no idea who you’re dealing with. How dare you try to take my soul? You’re pushing your luck.”

“Looks like I’ll just have to take all your souls to myself!”

The demonic god attacked, using the Peacock Heavenly King’s energy to grab Agatha and the others’ souls.

Esmeralda was the first to give up, as she couldn’t take it any longer, screaming while hiding her head under both arms. Soon after, Dorothy and Agatha felt like something wasn’t right too.

Suddenly, Shelly and Ancestor Bodhi came out of Alex’s mind palace. Sending the Ancestral Bodhi Tree, Ancestor Bodhi was able to tie the Peacock Heavenly King. The roots seeped into its body, limiting the demonic god’s power so that he couldn’t harm Yuno’ soul anymore.

“Come out now!”

The demonic god was finally ripped out of the peacock with everyone working together. It was the spirit of an old man. His face was twisted while he screamed and cussed at them.

Agatha ordered. “Don’t hold back when it comes to scum like this. Let’s clear out the trash now! Everyone, attack!”

This battle lasted for a whole ten minutes.

In such situations, they were graced with great advantage. Even then, it still took so long to kill off this demonic god. It wasn’t easy for them at all.

Despite this, they still managed to save Yuno’ spirit.

“Senior! Yuno! Are you there?” Alex asked the Peacock Heavenly King with telepathy.

Unexpectedly, he heard an unfamiliar voice. “I’m not Yuno!”

“Wait, what?”

“You’re not Yuno? Then who are you?”

Alex wasn’t the only one confused. Agatha and the others felt like they were going to faint, as it took them a lot to be able to kill off that demonic god and save Yuno at the same time.

“And now you’re telling us you’re not Yuno?”

“I am the Peacock Heavenly King!” The unfamiliar voice then emphasized, “The true Peacock Heavenly King!”

After a short pause, she continued. “Thank you for all your help, else I would’ve actually become someone else.”

Alex immediately questioned. “Then what about Yuno? Is Yuno not the Peacock Heavenly King?”

The voice replied. “Yuno... She is probably one of my divided souls. She was able to escape this place, but she came back horribly injured. I didn’t have a choice but to dissipate her so that she could merge back into my soul again.”

It turned out she really didn’t have any other way to deal with that. She was indeed part of her soul, after all.

‘But wouldn’t dissipating her mean that none of her memories will remain?’

Yuno hadn’t been with Alex for long. It had only been at most two years since he started dating Phoebe. He remembered that Yuno told him to train Phoebe up to the Spirit Severing stage within three years and to follow her to someplace.

It would seem that she was talking about this underwater city. However, Alex suddenly went to the Undead Territory after the accident at the Flying Eagles Academy. He completely disappeared from this face of the Earth.

It was likely that Yuno had lost hope in Alex since then. Yet now, Alex knew that he would be left with regret if he were to allow Yuno to dissipate just like that. He spoke up. “Miss Peacock, I know a thing or two about healing souls. Can you release your divided soul, Yuno, so that I can have a look at her?”

“Maybe I might be able to heal her, then you won’t have to completely dissipate her.”

The peacock asked, “And what’s the point of that? She is just a divided soul.”

Alex responded. “Do you not want to keep her memories? At least you’ll know what was going on when she was away.”

The peacock didn’t really care much but decided to agree, seeing how persistent Alex was about this matter.

Her forehead burst with light as a ball of green light floated out from between her brows. There seemed to be a faint phantom of a peacock within that green light. It was small and spiritual, and it had its eyes closed. However, the phantom didn’t seem to be stable at all. It would become blurry once in a while, which was a symptom of an unstable, divided soul.

Alex then called the ball of green light over with his finger, placing it in the middle of his palm. “Yuno, Yuno..?”

“Alex, I didn’t expect you... To have gotten this far...” Yuno’ divine consciousness entered Alex’s mind yet still sounded quite faint.

“I knew you wouldn’t die so easily. Phoebe insisted on believing that too. I’m delighted that you could come back safely and save my original body.”

“I’m here to save you too. You don’t have to say anything.” Alex said.

“There’s no use. I am just a divided soul. I’m already incomplete, and after injuring my core, I couldn’t possibly restore how I initially was.” Yuno’ divine consciousness was weak and distant.

Hence Alex was the only one who could hear her voice.

“As a divided soul, I’d have to return at some point. The ending is all the same.”

“But you will forget about everything.”

“It’s okay, I’ve been here before, and I’ve lived independently before. I even got to know you and Phoebe. That’s more than enough for me.”

Alex shook his head. He would feel terrible if Yuno were to be dissipated, as it would feel like she died right in front of him, no less. Reaching his hands out, he activated his Chi, the Ultimate Book of Medicine, and several Zharvakko talismans. He then inserted all of this into Yuno's dissipating soul, using it on her. He even grabbed a handful of pills and extracted its medicinal powers, sending it straight into her soul.

Five minutes later...

Ten minutes later...

Half an hour later...

Yuno's soul still couldn't seem to stabilize. Yet the ball of green light became brighter and brighter.

Yuno smiled softly. "Stop wasting your energy. Once I return to my original body, I am still part of the Peacock Heavenly King."

Alex stopped and let out a deep sigh.

Just then, the peacock gestured towards the light, returning it back into herself. She was stunned for a brief while. "The soul is still somewhat unstable, but you managed to retain her memories. You did very well already."

As she merged Yuno into her soul, she went through her memories.

"Hmm?"

Suddenly, the peacock frowned as she found out that there were scenes of sleeping with Alex within Yuno's memories... She obviously didn't sleep with him as herself, but she was in Phoebe's body instead. However, the memories were simply unacceptable when Yuno had taken over Phoebe's body.

As an ancient god, the Peacock Heavenly King couldn't possibly leave such dirty memories in her body, as she would be only tainting herself.

Whoosh!

The peacock stopped the merging and used her pure divine power to cut off Yuno' divided soul, even going as far as slicing through the part where it was connected to her actual soul.

She huffed. "I don't want this divided soul anymore."

"Huh..?" Alex froze.

'How could she just say she doesn't want it?'

"I've already cut off the mark of the Peacock Heavenly King within the divided soul. Her memories are not mine. You can just let her go back to that Phoebe human. Just take it as a thank from me!"

Alex was dumbfounded and immediately caught Yuno's soul with his hands.

Just then, Agatha spoke up. "Senior, the Diffracted universe is currently being invaded by the Undead. Some of our human Supremes had also fallen into the Ancient Path. Could you perhaps lead us there so that we can save them?"

"The Ancient Path?" The peacock fell silent for ten seconds.

"That place had experienced several mutations and damages. No one knows where the actual entrance is because it had been broken off from the Divine Starnest, wandering about on its own. That's why its location is unknown as if it were an illusion. Unless..."

Agatha asked hurriedly, "Unless what?"

The peacock said, "Unless you can find the Dairaionji Temple and have them recognize you as a worthy ally, receiving the greatest permission within. Then you'd be able to use its Full Realm Power to move the Ancient Path to its original placement."

"It is unfortunate that you need the power of Buddha to be recognized by them. To my knowledge, all the Buddhist clans within this universe had already fallen."

'This was quite a hard task.' Agatha thought as she put up a frown. 'I don't even know where the Dairaionji Temple is, let alone the power of Buddha.'

Just then, Alex spoke up. "I might be of help."

Agatha asked, "How are you going to help? The entire Siddhartha realm was destroyed. Even all the Buddhas had fallen."

Dorothy pointed toward her man. "He is the future Buddha."

Agatha was so shocked that she nearly bit her tongue. "He's going to be Buddha? He had so many women! The holy realm would become a whole brothel."

Alex spoke up again. "Sister Agatha, now that's where you're wrong. The holy realm isn't only for virgins. It's a religion, a type of faith, and a type of law. One of the laws within the colossal cultivation of heaven and earth actually."

"It has nothing to do with sex. Both men and women can join Buddhism, even couples. There is a 'no marriage' rule for Buddhists in the mortal realm, only because they are worried, we don't have enough energy and willpower. Hence their journey in Buddhism would end up getting disrupted by trivial things."

"However, if one were to be intelligent and determined enough, one would still be able to complete their journey regardless."

After a short pause, he continued. "More importantly, I've been to the Dairaijonji Temple!"

The Peacock Heavenly King gasped. "You've been there before? You're not joking, right? Don't trick other people, or you'd be seen as a clown!"

Alex muttered to himself. "But you're not exactly human, are you?"

Dorothy and Esmeralda worried for Alex.

This was a super god who traveled the ancient path. Even if she was now suffering from a deadly calamity, her cultivation mainly was gone, but her heritage still existed. Alex was actually so bold to say that she was not a person. Wasn't he afraid that she would explode on the spot and beat him to not being in human form?

On the other hand, the Peacock Heavenly King clearly did not anticipate this. Instead, he was very interested in Alex's visit to the Dairaionji Temple.

"From where did you enter the Dairaionji Temple?" she inquired.

"In the past, as long as one gathered all the Buddha relics, one could be anywhere and open the secret realm gate of the Dairaionji Temple suppression, we were passing through the underworld and thus reaching the Dairaionji Temple," Alex explained. "By the way, the old Ancestor Bodhi must know where the Dairaionji Temple is."

The Peacock Heavenly King was still unaware that the Ancestor Bodhi had appeared.

She was taken aback when he heard this and asked, "Is it the tree spirit of the Ancestor Bodhi Tree? According to legend, the Ancestor Bodhi Tree is a heaven and earth wonder growing in the Dairaionji Temple. Under the Ancestor Bodhi Tree, one can clearly see one's past and future, aiding in cultivation, condensing one's mind and spirit, to perceive the Dao... Have you seen the Ancestor Bodhi?"

"I've seen it," Alex answered.

Alex did not say that the Ancestor Bodhi was now in his mind palace because he was still wary of the current Peacock Heavenly King, otherwise, who knew if this guy would suddenly kidnap the Ancestor Bodhi?

"Where has he gone?"

"He was now in a difficult position to protect himself, the Dairaionji Temple was in a bad state right now, having been occupied by a group of evil Buddhas and still absorbing the energy of the Ancestor Bodhi Tree, the Ancestor Bodhi told me that his days are numbered."

The Ancestor Bodhi in the mind palace was furious when he heard what Alex said.

“Alex, you’re cursing me, aren’t you?” he yelled. I eat well, sleep well, and seem to have an infinite lifespan, when were my days numbered? I’ll be able to live for another 700 to 800 eras after you die of old age!”

For a brief moment, the Peacock Heavenly King was stunned. She had no idea the Dairaionji Temple was occupied by a gang of evil Buddhas.

However, she soon burst out laughing and exclaimed, “That’s truly heaven’s help. It would be more difficult than climbing to heaven to get the Dairaionji Temple to affirm you and give you the highest authority if the Dairaionji Temple hadn’t suffered such a calamity, but I’m sure it’s much easier now.”

“Senior, what are your plans?” Agatha inquired.

“The most important thing is to find the entrance to the Dairaionji Temple, the secret realm suppressed by the Dairaionji Temple. I do know a few, but I do not know how to get in,” the Peacock Heavenly King frowned.

At this moment, Alex secretly asked Ancestor Bodhi, “Can we go back into the Dairaionji Temple?”

“The last time I escaped a thousand hardships, the Ancestral Bodhi Tree was moved to the mind palace by you. What is left over there are some residual roots. It is useless. We can’t go back,” said Ancestor Bodhi.

However, at that moment... Alex had a person in mind.

Maha, the monk, transitioned from suffering to liberation. The monk was dispatched to the underworld as an official by Buddha, who was now impersonating the Dairaionji Temple. He didn’t know what was going on inside the Dairaionji Temple yet, so the evil Buddha wouldn’t suspect him, and as long as he was found, there should be a way to get into the Dairaionji Temple. Alex disseminated this information.

“Then what are we waiting for? Hurry up and go to the underworld,” Agatha said.

“Wait, I can’t leave now,” the Peacock Heavenly King said.

“Huh..?” said the crowd.

“I have been occupied by that demon and eroded by the magical law. This guy is vicious and will do anything to achieve his goal. He has detained the souls of millions of living beings and used them to erase my mark. Although I have regained my freedom now, it will take about a month to fully control my body. You guys have to wait for me for a month,” the Peacock Heavenly King said.

“We’ll go to the underworld first to find someone. It’s the same,” Agatha said.

“Once this matter begins, it is coherent. If I don’t go to the Underworld, I may not be able to go to the Dairaionji Temple by then, and without my guidance, you guys won’t be able to find the Divine Starnest along the Ancient Path at all,” the Peacock Heavenly King shook his head.

One month wasn’t a long time.

“Okay, just wait for you for a month,” Alex said. “It just so happens that I also have to deal with a little bit of business during this month.”

His father, who was still subjected to the soul planting’s torment. It would appear that the Rockefeller family’s blood feud had not yet been resolved.

At this moment, Alex secretly asked Ancestor Bodhi, “Can we go back into the Dairaionji Temple?”

“The last time I escaped a thousand hardships, the Ancestral Bodhi Tree was moved to the mind palace by you. What is left over there are some residual roots. It is useless. We can’t go back,” said Ancestor Bodhi.

However, at that moment... Alex had a person in mind.

Maha, the monk, transitioned from suffering to liberation. The monk was dispatched to the underworld as an official by Buddha, who was now impersonating the Dairaionji Temple. He didn't know what was going on inside the Dairaionji Temple yet, so the evil Buddha wouldn't suspect him, and as long as he was found, there should be a way to get into the Dairaionji Temple. Alex disseminated this information.

"Then what are we waiting for? Hurry up and go to the underworld," Agatha said.

"Wait, I can't leave now," the Peacock Heavenly King said.

"Huh..?" said the crowd.

"I have been occupied by that demon and eroded by the magical law. This guy is vicious and will do anything to achieve his goal. He has detained the souls of millions of living beings and used them to erase my mark. Although I have regained my freedom now, it will take about a month to fully search control my body. You guys have to wait for me for a month," the Peacock Heavenly King said.

"We'll go to the underworld first to find someone. It's the same," Agatha said.

"Once this matter begins, it is coherent. If I don't go to the Underworld, I may not be able to go to the Dairaionji Temple by then, and without my guidance, you guys won't be able to find the Divine Starnest along the Ancient Path at all," the Peacock Heavenly King shook his head.

One month wasn't a long time.

"Okay, just wait for you for a month," Alex said. "It just so happens that I also have to deal with a little bit of business during this month."

His father, who was still subjected to the soul planting's torment. It would appear that the Rockefeller family's blood feud had not yet been resolved.

Someone even set up a betting board to see who would emerge as the ultimate victor between Alex and the ancestor of the Fourcade family.

The shadows of people swayed. A crowd of people gathered here.

Alex was the leader, and he was accompanied by a large group of people, including Esmeralda, Dorothy, and Saria, all of whom came, and only a big shot like Agatha was not interested in such a duel.

She had previously looked at Alex for a few seconds before saying, "With your current strength, going to the duel is really no suspense."

Alex's strength was nothing new to her. There was assurance.

Alex had purposefully brought his grandfather, Nolan, this time.

One hundred and thirty-four people in the Rockefeller family were exterminated in front of him. He had such deep hatred and dreamed of vengeance. If he could not see the Fourcade family's destruction with his own eyes, he would not rest in peace!

The Mount Olympus of today was not the same as the Mount Olympus of the past.

This first stop of Mount Olympus had lost its proper function with the arrival of the stronger ones in the universe, and its formation had also failed.

Alex walked down the golden lane, feeling nothing at all.

"I still remember Sion, who carried herself out of Mount Oro, and at the time, she also killed the Olympian Divine Heir, causing the Divine Mountain to shake."

"And I'm curious if the Olympus Tribe later got into trouble with the Peacock clan?"

Alex reflected on the events of the past as the group ascended. They saw quite a few familiar faces halfway up.

The Flying Eagles were also present. He also saw Xerxes and Mandy and several warblers who interacted with him, including Eleanor, Bunty, Butcher, and Nora.

He hadn't seen Nora, a woman, in a long time, and this time when he met her, she had all achieved Golden Immortality.

As she took a step across, the magnificence of her chest nearly popped Alex, "Where did you hide, my sister, by the way? Why haven't I seen her come over?"

She was talking about Jade.

Xerxes also looked to the left and right as if looking for her.

"She did not come. She is isolated!" said Alex.

"You won't eat my sister and hide her, right?" Nora asked quietly.

"I have eaten you as well..."

"Dream on!" Nora came to know herself, hooked Alex in front of Saria, Esmeralda, and others, and said, "I am his sister. My name is Nora. You can just call me Sister Nora."

The corner of Alex's mouth twitched.

"Nora, you were a young child in the eyes of others. How could you be an older sister? You must be dreaming! To introduce you, this senior Saria was the island master of Pompeii Fairyland ten thousand years ago!"

"D*mn, ten thousand..!"

"This Esmeralda, League of Cultivators' leader... Well, it's the same League of Cultivators that attacked the Undying Clan and exterminated the Undead Queen's sister before."

"Huh..?" Nora's body tensed up.

Wasn't this just horrifying?

"Hehe, hello guys, I was just joking. You guys call me... Sister Nora is fine," she said.

At this point, a voice from the sky said, "Nolan, I didn't expect you to survive until now, now that you're here, why are you wasting your time? Why haven't the Rockefeller family relics shown up yet?"

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3300

“This is Maguire!”

“I will never forget the voice of this hypocritical and corrupt person until the day I die!” Nolan was filled with rage.

The scene of the Rockefeller family’s annihilation seemed to him to have happened yesterday, as though he had heard the anguished screams of his clan members and seen the image of his young grandson being slapped into mush once more.

This old man’s mind was constantly marred with hatred. He, on the other hand, has not been blinded by hatred. Revenge was important, but so was his son’s safety. However, his grandson’s life was also crucial.

He took Alex’s hand and said, “Good grandson, this b*stard, Maguire, has received the inheritance left behind by the ancient great God. He has been nostalgic about our Rockefeller family’s Holy Book because he has also learned a bit of the Ten-Point Forbidden Spell. However, it is clearly not as complete as the contents inside our Rockefeller family’s Holy Book, which is why he has tried every possible way to obtain it.”

“Good grandson, I know you’re filial, but in life and death situations, we can’t be rash, if we’re not sure, we can wait a little longer.”

“Even if he isn’t the king of Gods, he has the fighting power of half the king of Gods!”

“Grandpa, America is my homeland, I will not let him destroy it, don’ t worry, I will not lose,” Alex said.

They climbed Mount Olympus all the way to the top.

It was a massive platform. The upper half was cut off by a sword like a massive mountain range, leaving this platform with a diameter of over ten thousand meters.

Presently...

Above the platform stood a middle-aged man with a black beard and black hair. There was already a sea of people below.

Clan powerhouses from all over the universe and young gods and goddesses surrounded and formed a large number of people. Alex was a celebrity in America, and he was now a big star in the universe. Word had spread worldwide that he had once extorted thousands of divine sons and daughters from the underworld.

The person in charge of the Yukon Secret Realm was a gimmick as well.

“Is he Alex?”

“The universe’s seed?”

“Not bad looking, clean and dry, he’s like my little puppy. Can I bail him out if I step in?”

When Alex and the others approached, the crowd pointed their fingers judgmentally. The voices were quite audible. There was no concern about being heard.

The betting board for the battle between Alex and Maguire has long been open. Almost no one bet on Alex to win because Alex’s true strength was unknown. While Maguire’s origin was revealed by people with evil intentions.

Maguire was descended from the ancient gods’ family. His father, who was a God-King in ancient times, was later killed in the war with the undying clan, but rumor had it that Maguire received his father’s God-King divinity and naturally inherited his father’s huge legacy. It was clear who would win and who would lose in the duel with Alex, a new generation young man.

”Maguire, you old man! You have lived a low life for such a long time. Now, you have the face to challenge my grandson. You have disgraced your father! Once he’s buried, the coffin won’t hold your father’s body in place!” Nolan hissed as he looked at Maguire.

Maguire didn’t blink

“Nolan, by tracing your origin, your Rockefeller family’s origin is also extraordinary. It is even more glorious than my Fourcade family. Unfortunately, till today, your Rockefeller family is left with a few weaklings. Your Rockefeller family’s ancestor ran to the abyss to seek death. Today, it is destined for the Rockefeller family’s destruction, but first, you must return the Holy Book to me.”

“Shameless b*stard, you exterminated my Rockefeller family’s 134 members. A three year old child died tragically under you, and now you are even attempting to reverse the truth, saying that my Rockefeller family’s ancestral treasures are yours. How can you be so thick-skinned?” Nolan said these as he was furious.

When Nolan said these, the crowd wore varied expressions. However, no one stood out to accuse Maguire in the end.

“Grandpa, now that things have come to this, there is no point in scolding him, only by killing this bureaucrat by hand can the dead souls of my Rockefeller family be comforted, and my father is awakened,” Alex said.

He finished and walked forward on his own. It was quite windy, and Alex felt cold.

“Have you studied the Holy Book?” Maguire inquired bluntly.

“You will know once you try it?” Alex said with a laugh.

Many people were perplexed by this.

Why was he beaming?

Was it a king’s mentality, or was he frightened about dueling with an expert countless times stronger than himself?

And he still laughed so easily?
