The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3341

Even if they had been having an “intense workout” in the room where the flow of time was rapid, the time outside also flowed in real-time. Soon, the three hours were up.

Agatha found thirty experts heading to the Undead Territory together. There were quite a number of people on Alex’s side. However, femininity severely outmatched masculinity at a glance.

He was the only man, whereas there were a lot of women.

After that, they departed.

In Yukon Dungeon, Alex directly opened up the teleportation portal that led to Genbu Dungeon. They had to travel the long way ahead.

“Make sure you come back safely!”

“Dad, Mom, we will be waiting for you at home.”

“Dad, can you take me with you? I’m very powerful too. Sis can no longer defeat me.”

“Liar! You were crying when I defeated you yesterday! Dad, you should take me with you.”

The few children lined up and chattered, diluting Alex’s emotion during the parting.

Esmeralda had been holding the Divine Dreamcatcher in her hand and checking the news released on it. The information had been updated urgently and rapidly three hours ago. The great world of America fell into the enemy’s hands faster than they thought. They were basically wiped out right now.

The Undying Clan were creating blood pools on a large scale, turning all the spiritual zones in the great world of America into a deadly Chi that they could use. Not only that, but a more shocking piece of news showed up recently.

The Undying Clan forcibly pushed a planet that was not much smaller than Earth, slowly advancing toward a certain position in the sky on Earth. Like locusts all over the sky, the Undying Clan filled the entire space, blotted out the sky, and even blocked the sun. Shortly afterward, the situation affected Mount Yukon. It was clearly daytime, but the sunlight was decreasing rapidly.

The surroundings became pitch-black and forcibly entered night mode.

“What’s going on?”

The crowd was abruptly startled.

Esmeralda handed the Divine Dreamcatcher in her hand over to Agatha. “Master, it says that the Undying Clan has a new movement. Instead of attacking the Wasteland, they move a planet to somewhere unknown.”

Agatha rushed into the sky with a swish. She quickly came back with a gloomy expression.

“Master...”

“Something terrible has happened. The Undying Clan may have discovered the specific location of the cosmic monument in the universe. They are trying to snatch the cosmic monument. Once that ancient monument falls into the hands of the Undying Clan, the consequences will be unimaginable.”

Someone asked, “What will happen?”

Agatha said, “We will be at their mercy.”

Alex immediately said, “We can’t delay any longer. We have to head to the Undead Territory immediately and hope that everything will be mended in time.”

“Hey, brat. You guys are going to the Undead Territory. Are we going to be idlers here?”

A group of people came up from the foot of the mountain. The person who spoke was none other than Alex’s future father-in-law, Gilbert Henderson.

Behind him was a large number of people. Jade Benmore was among them.

Jade rushed over and gave Alex a big hug. “As I said, I will back you up in the future.”

Many people among the group behind her were experts from the former Flying Eagles Academy. There were also many unfamiliar faces.

Gilbert explained, “These few people are seniors from the great world of America who came over to lend a hand. In the ancient era, their ancestors were inhabitants of America. The life-and-death moment has arrived in the decisive battle with the Undying Clan, so how can they stand still and do nothing?”

Jade said, “Alex, I have an idea. Now is not the time for you guys to fight alone, but it’s the time for the entire universe to unite and fight together. This teleportation portal of yours shouldn’t be opened in Yukon, but it should be opened in Terra Mountain so that all the aspiring people and volunteers can come and rendezvous with us and kill all the Undying Clan.”

She was also involved in the event three hours before. The two were considered to have had a breakthrough in their relationship and engaged in the intimate deed. Esmeralda currently could still feel a hint of pain. In fact, with her cultivation, as long as she used divine power and swept such a small open wound, she would remove the pain instantly. However, she preferred not to do that. She said that she felt her life was complete after experiencing such pain. Otherwise, she would feel empty without a goal and support.

Currently, she was well aware that her special feelings for Alex previously were completely due to the fact she acquired Xienna’s hair stick accidentally during the reincarnation. Meanwhile, she, as the reincarnation of the hair stick...

Forget it. Her cultivation was considered fruitful.

“The Undying Clan is probably using all the military strength to excavate the cosmic monument.” Phoenix said, “Hence, the military strength here is empty, but it will be a different story when we reach the real Undead Territory.”

Agatha reminded everyone that the environment in the Undead Territory was special. All the spiritual energy inside had long been turned into the deadly Chi, and many people may not be able to withstand the environment inside. They had to come back immediately if they really could not withstand it.

The large group of people flew toward the end of the Dead Zone. It did not take long before they saw the passage connecting the two realms.

“Huh? Guys, look. There are corpses here.”

“They are corpses of the Undying Clan!”

After taking a look, Alex said, “Don’t be surprised. We once fought here and killed a group of Undying Clan members, but then the powerhouses from the universe were controlled, and the spell formation was breached. So, we had no choice but to abandon it.”

Saria knew the situation here. She was one of the participants, but she suddenly discovered that the corpses were a little too fresh. “Look. The corpses of the Undying Clan are very old, but these few are different.”

Jade squatted down and turned over the corpses. “They died not long ago. They were killed!”

Deep claw marks were present on the corpses’ bodies. It was a claw that inflicted three lines of bloody wounds. They were all over the bodies.

“Did they kill each other?”

“There are too many races among the Undying Clan. It’s not uncommon for them to kill each other.”

“Alright! Stop wasting time! Hurry up and go in!”

Agatha took the lead and rushed to the forefront. However, she quickly felt something was strange. There were more corpses in the passage.

The Undying Clan members that Alex and the others killed last time were located at the entrance hole of the passage. They had not killed them in the passage, but now, the corpses in the passage were piled up, and each of them was filled with countless claw marks.

It did not look like a human did that. It looked like a beast did that. The claw marks varied in size, indicating that they were not made by the same person.

“This doesn’t look like a simple fratricide.”

“Could it be that someone else has come to this place?”

Jade, dressed in a military uniform, looked valiant. “No matter what on earth is going on, the most important thing is to find the White Bone Scepter first! I will blaze the trail!”

Jade was a member of the divine Titan Tribe.

During the recent period, she had absorbed many resurrected spiritual energy of heaven and earth. One could no longer tell what her current cultivation level was. Just like Alex, she took an unusual path, which was completely different from the normal cultivation path.

Boom!

The Martello Celia struck down, creating a gale in the entire passage. All the corpses of the Undying Clan were swept up and tumbled, clearing out a long passage.

The hammer struck down thrice consecutively. The entrance of the passage was cleared out.

Agatha looked at Jade. “What a powerful physical strength! You... Aren’t a human, are you?”

Jade put the Martello Celia away. “You can treat me as a human.”

After walking out of the entrance of the passage, they still saw a large area of corpses of blood... It was an absolute bloodbath. At the same time, the view looked different from the one that Alex saw last time. Although this place was also filled with gloomy deadly Chi, it also contained a trace of spiritual energy.

It was a kind of natural spiritual energy. Most shockingly, a forest grew in front of the entrance hole.

It was right in the middle of the blood pool.

“Trees are actually growing out of the blood pool?”

Even the beautiful bigwig, Agatha, was flabbergasted. The battle between her and the Undying Clan had lasted nearly ten thousand years. She was very familiar with many things regarding the Undying Clan. The blood pool was the motherland of deadly Chi, filled with the will of death. Any plant that touched the blood pool was bound to be dead. However, those trees were alive.

“Wait. What’s on those trees?”

Those trees looked a little strange. They were not green but dark red. The crest-like tree leaves were lush. Each leaf seemed to be breathing rhythmically. There were some traces of life activities in the middle of the tree leaves.

Whoosh!

Just as Alex was trying to approach the tree, it suddenly shot out a ray of red light at lightning speed.

“Be careful!”

Jade shouted, and the Martello Celia in her hand directly flew out.

It blocked the red light. After circling around once, it returned to her hand.

At that moment, she discovered the Martello Celia was stained with some mucus-like thing. The next second, several translucent shadows soared from the trees in the blood pool and instantly vanished in the gray sky.

“What are those things?”

Many people's minds were filled with doubts as they looked in the direction of the sky. Everyone felt uncomfortable since they entered the Undead Territory. It was a normal reaction. When they arrived, the air wasn't breathable. Those who came in with Gilbert had even put on gas masks.

Someone asked, "Are these things useful?"

"These are gas masks with a fresh air system from the latest research. Spiritual stones are even placed inside, which can maximize the maintenance of the air environment conducive to human survival," said Martiny, who was standing next to Gilbert.

That was right. Martiny also came along with Alex's mother-in-law, Metzli.

"Are there more?"

"There are a lot of them!"

She turned over the storage ring, pouring out hundreds of thousands of gas masks.

Dorothy took one and gave it to Alex.

Alex shook his head and said, "I don't need it."

Alex had the Chaos Tree in his body, which could release Chaos Chi energy and provide a constant energy source. Hence, he did not need something like this at all. Daya also did not need it. She had a natural attribute with a particularly special body.

In addition, Agatha, Saria, Jade, and the others naturally did not wear it either. This kind of thing was simply useless to experts like them.

Daya walked up to Alex and whispered, "Those things that flew away just now reminded me of a species."

"What species?"

"The Spectral Birds from the Dark Pixie!"

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3344

“Dark Pixie? What the heck is that?” Alex had never heard of such a race, so he looked baffled.

Daya said, “Such a pixie race exists in the universe. When you entered the Undead Territory for the first time, you went in through the pixie race’s Moon Well. However, other than this pixie race, there is also another race called the Dark Pixie. They live in the dark underground and revere the dark side.”

Alex looked at the forest in the blood pool. He somehow felt this thing was quite ominous.

“Is the Dark Pixie good or bad?”

“The Dark Pixie is the archenemy of the Natural Pixie. Because of their reverence for power and exposure to forbidden power, they have been walking a path of no return since then... They are evil pixies and even harbor a great hatred for humans because humans sided with the natural pixies a long time ago and helped to drive the Dark Pixies away.”

The people around Daya also heard her words. Their expression began to look unwell. There would be many more variables if the Dark Pixie were to join hands with the Undying Clan.

Dorothy said, “It is clear after looking at so many corpses of Undying Clan members on the ground. If the Dark Pixies are really here, they will be enemies of the Undying Clan rather than allies. It may not be a bad thing for us to take advantage of that fact.”

Consequently, right after she finished her speech, someone ahead from the League of Cultivators suddenly screamed and fell to the ground.

His neck had been slit and was full of blood. Horrified, he clutched the wound on his neck and shouted, “An enemy! There is an enemy...”

Three deep claw marks that exposed his bones appeared on his face halfway through his speech.

“Argh!” that man screamed.

However, his neck was severed completely after that. He died on the spot. Surprisingly, such an expert died in such an aggrieved manner. He did not even see where the enemy was. The incident happened so fast that the man was already dead by the time everyone came to their senses.

What human beings feared the most? It was the unknown danger.

“Watch out! Watch out!”

“It’s an enemy attack!”

“Protect your bodies with divine power!”

In the face of such a situation, everyone got worked up. Agatha snorted coldly. “How deceitful! Come out!”

As soon as she displayed her red fan, dazzling red light spread out and covered the entire space. The red light instantly illuminated the gaps, as if it had spirituality.

“What is that thing?”

Everyone in the crowd discovered a gap that the red light could not penetrate, but it looked like there was nothing at a glance.

“Whatever it is, just kill it!”

The red light condensed and formed a Sword Intent. Ten thousand swords stabbed and killed it.

Poof!

“Argh!”

A sharp scream was heard in the gap. A panther-like monster gradually appeared out of the area where there was nothing just now. More importantly, this thing was entirely black without any pattern. One simply could not see it at night.

“Shadow Panther!”

Now, they could basically confirm that it was really the Dark Pixie.

This race had long disappeared for many years till there was no record of them in the world. Daya was the Goddess of Nature in her previous life, had inextricable ties with the Natural Pixies and even commanded the Pixies for a period of time, so she knew more about the matters of the Dark Pixies.

At that moment, voices surged in the crowd...

“And here..!”

“Ah! What is in the ground? D*mn! My feet have been tangled! Argh! Save me! Save me..!”

An expert from the Flying Eagles screamed.

The entire group continued rushing forward in the direction Alex pointed at. Since they are all deity-tier cultivators, they were able to travel at a breakneck pace. With such speed, they would've been able to travel around the Earth within an hour... Moreover, this was calculated according to the new Earth, merged with the great world. This showed just how quick they were at this point.

Along their way there, the group noticed pools of blood. It was like seeing paddy fields while looking out of a train window. Every once in a while, another pool would appear before their eyes, seemingly endless. A few fleshy trees were even planted within some of those blood pools. Yet this time, no Dark Pixies came after or attacked them the whole while.

Suddenly, they noticed that a large, black-colored crowd appeared in front of them.

“Stop!”

All the Holy Rabbits standing at the very front immediately halted after receiving orders from Agatha. The people behind them stopped as well.

“There’s so many of them!”

Both teams stopped in their tracks when they were still ten thousand meters apart.

The endless sea of Undead seemed to be gathered here for some kind of particular reason. When they noticed that Alex and the others had arrived, the entire group immediately started moving toward them.

Two minutes later, an earth-shattering roar echoed through the air.

Alex, Agatha, Saria, and the others stood at the front most line, taking a deep breath.

“What a long trip, but we finally found Undead that is still alive!”

“This is great. My comrades, it is time for bloodshed!” Gilbert shouted loudly.

Jade gave out orders as well. “All heavy weapon users, get in position!”

Boom, boom!

Just as everyone was appalled by the noise, a few large vehicles appeared before them.

Alex gasped. “This is just what we need.”

Jade replied. “We’re not on Earth anyway, so it doesn’t matter if we bring the Undead Territory down to ruins.”

There were tens of these big battle tanks prepared by the higher-ups. They were tactical nuclear weapons within their country, while some were the newest inventions that had never been shown to the public, including nanotechnology.

“Attack!” The Undead blew on their battle horns as they proceeded to lunge in large groups.

At their frontlines were Undead bone dragons, howling towards the skies, with a wave of skeleton troops right behind them.

“Fire!”

Boom, boom, boom!

Jade then gave out more orders, sending out ten nano nuclear bombs towards them. With the short distance, they had to travel, they didn’t even have to shoot it up into the air, aiming straight for the Undead troops instead.

Whoosh!

As all ten of them exploded simultaneously, a horrific scene played out before their eyes. It quite literally looked like living hell.

Not even the Undead could survive such high temperatures. Hence, increasing amounts of their troops instantly vaporized from the heat, leaving nothing behind.

At the same time, Agatha summoned a gigantic carrot, which had some type of energy surrounding the top. The energy formed a transparent protection boundary, taking on the shockwaves from the nuclear explosions. However, they noticed that many Undead were rushing over after the explosions had died down. It was as if they weren’t affected in the slightest...

Agatha spoke up. “It’s useless. The Undead are, in fact, ‘undead’, so nuclear weapons won’t do much to them. We had nuclear weapons during ancient times too. Even with modern technology, we can't actually injure the Undead with these..."

"The Undead developed from law power, so we must use law power if we want to kill them off. By destroying their harmony, we'll be able to stop them from reviving."

"It's the Dark Pixie tribe!"

"Be careful of them! "

Daya shouted to everyone when she had a good look at who the culprit was.

Many rushed to Jade's rescue, as she was the Flying Eagles' emotional anchor. Yet now, this very emotional anchor had fallen. At the same time, Dorothy and Esmeralda were helping Alex up.

"Babe, babe! Are you okay?"

"My love, please don't die!"

The two continued to fight the Undead troops while protecting their lover. All of this happened too quickly, the pain-unbearable for these women.

“Jade... Master...”

Alex and Jade’s relationship had far exceeded ordinary masters and disciples, after all. Alex could feel his life force draining away quickly, turning into rays of white light into Jade’s body. Since their lives were bound together, Alex’s life force was used to continue Jade’s life.

“Jade, she has a life-sharing contract with Alex.”

“Jade isn’t dead yet. Save her!”

Suddenly, the Dark Pixie who stabbed Jade used invisibility again, disappearing from everyone’s view.

Pfft!

Just then, another person was sliced by the neck, despite being fine just a few seconds ago. Blood spilled out like geysers from the wound.

That person wasn’t just anyone. It was... Daya!

“Ah!”

“Daya, Daya...”

Dorothy and Esmeralda screamed in disbelief. This was just too horrible to witness.

Alex turned around and saw what had happened too. His entire body trembled, and his heart sank to the bottom of the sea.

Yet, a figure of a Dark Pixie who was standing in front of Daya showed itself for some reason. It was another female Dark Pixie.

At that moment, the pixie’s heart was penetrated by Daya’s hand, which turned into a tree branch. There seemed to be some kind of energy flowing out of the pixie’s body into Daya.

“You... You’re part of the Natural Pixie tribe?”

“You... Have Nature’s Divine Heart?”

The female Dark Pixie seemed in pain and shock as she stared at Daya. She simply couldn't believe this. "Hadn't the Natural Pixie tribe died out long ago?"

Using the pixie's energy, Daya used the power to heal the wound on her neck rapidly. It was as if her neck had turned into a tree. When the bleeding stopped, the wound closed itself up, and her skin went back to normal. On the contrary, that Dark Pixie turned into a gust of green smoke.

Seeing Daya safe, Alex let out a deep sigh of relief. Daya then rushed over and picked Jade up from the ground, rushing back to them.

"Her heart is injured!"

"What do we do now?"

She immediately inserted Nature's power into Jade's body with full force.

"I can help her restore her heart, but her life force is draining too fast. I'm worried that I might not be able to restore it in time!"

"My love, how are you holding up?"

Alex's three thousand lotus flowers were shaking vigorously.

They seemed to be continuously absorbing his energy. Even though he kept consuming Chaos energy from the Chaos tree, it was still very taxing on his body. Moreover, Jade was still taking his life force, too, as if she were a black hole.

'F*ck, do they think I'm on the verge of death? Is that why they're taking all my energy while I'm still weak so they can kill me?'

Alex proceeded to consume several pills, but it still wasn't enough.

Everyone watched as Alex's life force decreased at a rapid pace, aging up in the process too. His face was now filled with wrinkles, and his hair turned grey as if he was another ten years older than before. This made all the women panic.

"What are we going to do now?"

Alex himself was panicking too. 'We haven't even found the White Bone Scepter, so how could I possibly die here?'

They noticed that more Undead troops were running over to them. At the same time, Neela yelled out to the people, notifying them that Dark Pixie troops were also heading their way.

Their target was Daya. Now that her identity was revealed, the Dark Pixies couldn't care less and tried to capture her, especially since Nature's divine heart was considered the most precious thing within the Pixie tribes. The Dark Pixies needed to get their hands on it.

The Alliance army immediately came forth to stop them, but it was simply impossible to fight these Dark Pixies, especially since they could turn invisible.

These top-tier assassins slaughtered many within the Alliance army, as the others could only watch them get closer and closer to Daya. Yet the woman was still healing Jade as of now.

"What if... I try this out!" Alex walked out of Dorothy and Esmeralda's arms and stood before the Dark Pixies.

After that, he activated one of the three thousand Forbidden spells he had learned, the Great Swallow Spell.

Swoosh!

Suddenly, a large law power whirlpool appeared in front of him. Since he was being drained out, Alex was fearless. He wanted to swallow every single thing that he could. Thinking back, he had also swallowed a lot of Lunar Chi outside of the Pantheon Tomb. His whirlpool became an endless pit as if it were a gigantic capstan.

At first, he managed to absorb the surrounding Undead nearby. It wasn't quick, but it only took a few minutes for the whirlpool to become larger, consuming more Undead troops in its way. It was even able to suck in Dark Pixies that dashed over to them.

This was a terrifying scene to watch. It was no longer a battle and had instead turned into a feast.

Alex was surprised to find out he had made the right move too. As he continued consuming Undead and Dark Pixies, these 'consumables' turned into large amounts of energy.

A while ago, the lotus flowers had viewed him as a dying entity, absorbing all his essence with all their might. Hence, all of them were sent towards the lotus flower pool with this newly swallowed energy.

The energy was just too great. The lotus flowers had to absorb it even if they didn't want to.

Like they were being forced, they could only help Alex transfer this energy into nutrition and send it back into his body...

"Whew!" Alex was finally relieved that his life force was no longer draining. Instead, this gave him some nourishments too.

The Great Swallow Spell continued sucking in more entities while the whirlpool expanded again.

Everyone at the scene dropped everything they were doing, gathering behind Alex. That was currently the safest area, after all.

"Holy sh*t!"

"What kind of skill is this?"

"Is he really eating the Undead now?!"

"He ate the Dark Pixies too! He actually swallowed everything, even their bones!"

Alex was the only one who knew how torturing this was for his flowers. These Undeads and Dark Pixies possess negative energy, but he consumed all of it anyway, so the lotus flowers were equivalent to a trash can at this point.

Slowly, he noticed that the colors of the flowers were starting to change. The stem of the flowers was slowly turning into a dark red color. At the same time, the crowd noticed a faint lotus phantom appearing behind Alex, and it was painted in dark red.

'What is this?'

‘It doesn’t even look remotely similar to the three thousand lotus flowers. This is the three thousand first lotus flower.’

Alex himself was utterly stunned. More importantly, he realized that he couldn’t stop the Great Swallow Spell anymore.

That lotus took over the spell, leading it to possess greater gravitational energy and make the whirlpool even bigger. It wasn’t just a few Undeads being consumed now. It was large groups of them being dragged into the whirlpool at this point.

Agatha and the others felt their blood run cold as well.

“Something is wrong with this lotus flower!”

Shelly rushed out of Alex’s mind palace voluntarily this time.

The skies seemed oddly bright at that moment. Compared to the gray clouds before, it was the first time in years that the sky above them looked clear. Not even a single cloud was in sight.

That was because Alex’s Great Swallow Spell ended up swallowing the deadly gray Chi in the air, too, apart from the limitless numbers of Undead troops.

At a far distance were a few Dark Pixies who struggled to make a close escape, petrified. They stared at Alex as if they were looking at a monster, then turned to his extremely gigantic swallowing whirlpool.

“My queen, what is that thing?”

“Thousands of our people had been absorbed. Not even the Dark Tree could escape his swallowing.”

One of the female Dark Pixies, who had pointy ears, was visibly resentful. She was the one who showed up at the gates a while ago. She initially thought they'd be able to reap some benefits out of this, wanting to do so by leading the Undead over here, hence giving the humans a great 'gift.'

It started out pretty smooth since they had watched many humans self-destruct during the war.

The Dark Pixie Queen then flashed back to a long time ago, when humans murdered several Dark Pixies. She was also trying to take revenge for her ancestors. However, she wasn't able to predict the ending at all.

'What kind of monster is that young man?'

This time, all the Dark Pixies who were consumed were very powerful assassins, as they were experts in invisibility. They were the strongest amongst their tribe. Yet now, two-thirds had died, which pained the queen very much.

"Retreat!"

She knew that they couldn't stay here any longer. The future was simply unpredictable.

"Phew..."

Daya was finally able to let go of Jade's chest. With Alex's large amounts of energy supporting them, his life force kept increasing while his hair turned back to black. Jade's life force was no longer draining too, instead, receiving strong recoupments. In such situations, Jade's injured heart healed quickly with the help of Daya's divine energy.

As a part of the Titan tribe, her recovery powers were very strong too.

After this victory against death, there seemed to be some kind of inexplicable change within her body. Her skin used to be fair and smooth, just like snow. Yet now, it looked somewhat yellow and continued to turn gold in color.

"Ah..."

"What happened to Commander Benmore?"

"Why does she look like that all of a sudden?"

The Flying Eagles were still the most concerned about Jade. Witnessing her change, they gasped in shock, as they had never seen anyone's skin change colors like that.

Everyone then turned to Daya. She was the one who healed her, after all, so they figured she would know what exactly happened. However, Daya shook her head. "I'm not sure either. But I clearly felt her fast blood flow just now. There's some sort of weird energy inside."

Saria said, "Let me take a look. I know a bit of medical skills."

Just then, the Martello Celia, which Jade had been holding onto all this while, started floating by itself. It proceeded to swing in front of Jade as if it were on high alert.

An old man's voice chimed in. "Nobody touch her! Don't disturb her. This is the symptom of a full awakening in her Titan blood! I didn't expect her to be able to awaken the Golden Titan Blood. This is so surprising!"
