The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3391

Thus, he first thought of a way to hide Jade's body. He kept her inside Phoenix's magical treasure.

Only Alex, Phoenix, and the cat demon, Whitey, traveled together.

***

Half a month later, they passed through the passage and entered the Genbu Dungeon. In the Genbu Dungeon, there was a teleportation portal that led directly to War Mountain.

Seeing that they were about to return soon, Phoenix changed her mind. "Alex, I'm not going back to War Mountain."

Alex was startled. "Where are you going if you aren't going back to War Mountain?"

"War Mountain isn't my home. I was trapped in War Mountain for three millennia to find the real seed and resist the Undying Clan! As a result, all the seeds were eliminated. Anyway, a brat like you appeared out of nowhere and snatched away all the luck. Eventually, the Undying Clan and the Undead Queen died at your hands. And, my mission is complete."

Alex asked, "Where are you planning to go?"

Phoenix answered, "The sanctuary of the Phoenix clan, the Mountain of Immortality. My current body is like a blow-up doll, and it can't withstand my power."

Alex was puzzled and sweat profusely. "What have you done to this blow-up doll?"

"The most primitive pillar of the Legacy of the Phoenix clan exists on the Mountain of Immortality. Half of my bloodline belongs to the Phoenix clan. I want to go and try to be reborn into nirvana. If I manage to succeed, it will be a brand new me."

"What if you fail?"

Phoenix looked at him. "We will never meet again!"

Alex instantly froze. "I think it's quite good for you to become a blow-up doll. It feels no different from a real person. Look, it's also very elastic."

He stretched his finger and poked her.

Phoenix stared at him. "Do you dare to move your hand five centimeters downward?"

It was originally the shoulder position. If he moved five centimeters downward, the elasticity would be even better.

Alex said, "Actually, I have a better way... Even if you succeed in the rebirth, you will simply return to your original starting point. However, you will still be confined to the scope of the laws of the universe. So, why don't you take a bigger step?"

"What do you mean?"

"Pour the power of Witch Origin into your body and reshape the colossal cultivation." Alex explained, "I have endured the spirit of the witch origin of the nine Ancestor Witches, so I can sense the Witch laws! You will become more powerful after reshaping the Witch body and taking the Ancient Path!"

Phoenix's eyes gleamed. "How do I do that? Is the success rate high?"

Alex glanced at Whitey. "Whitey, do you want to go out first?"

Whitey purred, "Meow..?"

Alex said, "What comes next is inappropriate for kittens."

Whitey shook its head and objected. "I'm not a kitten. I'm a cat demon that has lived for a very long time."

However, its despicable master directly grabbed it and threw it out of the teleportation portal.

Phoenix blinked as she asked, "How do I do it?"

"It requires mouth-to-mouth infusion to pour the Witch Origin."

“Just say it directly if you want to take advantage of me as if I didn’t let you kiss me.” The woman rolled her eyes.

“Well... Actually... Kissing alone isn’t enough...”

“What?! I even have to sleep with you?! That’s not necessary! But, I want to sleep...”

There was no one around, and the green grass was lush. Phoenix jumped onto Alex and kissed him instantly. However, she was completely inexperienced and unfamiliar with it, such that she hurt Alex’s mouth. She only gradually got better after Alex taught her personally.

After that, spring bloomed and myriad things were full of vitality. Alex’s Witch Origin was poured into Phoenix little by little.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3392

The deep yet simple exchange between Alex and Phoenix lasted for half a month. From a distance, the two people were wrapped in a white mist. One was completely unable to see the scene inside. This white mist was not the real white mist.

It was the Witch law.

The surging white mist moved in and out of Phoenix’s body, changing her current body every moment. Everything changed, including her skin, bones, meridians, and blood.

At first, Alex guided her. Later, she took the initiative.

And next half a month later, everything quieted down. Phoenix discovered that she had not only achieved the transition from girl to woman, but most importantly, she had achieved the divine body of the Witch. Her perception of the Witch Origin skyrocketed. It was an existence incomparable to the ordinary heavenly law. She got to her feet and made a turn in place.

“How was it?”

“Splendid!”

“Uhm... I’m asking about this current body.”

Alex said, “Beautiful.”

Phoenix took out her clothes and wrapped herself firmly. “You have a lot of tricks. Now, even my divine body of Witch can’t withstand you. I really don’t know how your delicate wife survives at home. She must be miserable!”

Alex said, “That’s not the case. My body became particularly strong after I just obtained the Spirit of the Witch Origin... Well, your current divine body of Witch hasn’t been completely transformed. You need at least another three times to achieve completion.”

Phoenix nodded. Her body knew best.

As soon as her foot hit the ground, she formed a crater as enormous as a volcanic vent. Her body abruptly soared a kilometer like a meteor. A moment later, she fell like lightning and landed a punch on a mountain. The entire mountain turned into stone powder, flying all over the sky.

Phoenix’s face revealed ecstasy as she said to Alex, “I didn’t expect that I’d be able to exert 80% of my previous strength after changing less than a third of my physical body. I wonder how far I can go if I complete all of it. No wonder they said that the ancient warlock could tear a king of gods as easy as falling off a log.”

She looked excited. “Why don’t we sleep again for a while?”

Alex touched his waist and hurriedly shook his head. “Missy, you need moderation. Do you intend to kill the goose that lays the golden eggs?”

“What a useless guy!”

Alex was puzzled. Alex hurriedly proposed to go home. The Little Divine Phoenix was too powerful. It took half a month to feed her once. Even an iron man could not withstand it. However, Phoenix set a condition, they shall never mention the relationship between them sleeping together after returning to Yukon.

Alex did not say that he would disclose it, so he agreed readily.

***

Shortly afterward, they passed through the teleportation portal and returned to America. This place was Terra Mountain.

At the beginning, he deliberately opened a teleportation portal here in order to facilitate the cultivators who fought against the Undying Clan to enter the Undead Territory by themselves.

Whitey was waiting outside the teleportation portal.

As soon as it saw the two people coming out, at last, it sniffed with its nose and walked out with a look of disgust.

“It stinks!”

“Like a smelly fish!”

Its voice resounded in the two people’s minds. It was telepathy.

The cat could talk. It disliked the stench as soon as it opened its mouth.

Phoenix’s face was flushed. Speaking of which, they had no place and opportunity to take a bath ever since they entered the Undead Territory. After that, they soaked in the blood pool in Sinless City and worked out continuously for half a month. Her body received the scouring of the power of Witch Origin, releasing a lot of things. After all, she had not bathed for a month!

Phoenix instantly disappeared to find a place to take a bath. Alex did not care about it as he was used to the smell on his body.

He looked around. There was no one else other than Whitey. It was extremely deserted.

Alex asked, “Have you seen anyone since you came out?”

At first, he thought that after Whitey came out first, the others would discover it and might know that he, the Messiah who had saved the universe, had returned. He was even prepared to bottle up his emotions and have a great reunion with his family after the catastrophe. However, it was extremely deserted.

“No! There’s no one! Meow!” This time, Whitey spoke the human language. Its talking voice was of a dainty girl. “But I discovered that!”

It stretched out its paws and pointed toward the sky. Alex fixed his eyes on it... He rubbed his eyes and looked again...

“Holy crap!”

“What is that thing?”

An enormous steel city and a dense mass over a large area were seen floating in the sky. He could even see people and airships flying in and out. He could guarantee that it was absolutely non-existent a month or so ago.

“What is that?” Alex asked Whitey.

White shook its head. “I don’t know. It’s very powerful.”

“Haven’t you gone to take a look?”

Whitey raised its paw and licked it.

Alex clearly saw wounds and bloodstains on its paw. His pupils constricted.

Whitey was very strong, so it was difficult to get it injured.

“Did that thing injure you?”

It nodded.

Alex frowned. He then directly stepped on the ground and soared to the sky. He wanted to rush toward that large floating steel city and find out what was happening.

To his surprise, he felt the power of a force field in mid-air. An invisible force field in the sky sealed the world, preventing people from rushing up. Furthermore, dozens of flying machines immediately rushed out of that city and fired projectiles at Alex’s location.

Boom! Boom! Boom!

After a barrage of shots, Alex felt huge energy with scorching heat on his body. Even he, whose body had been strengthened to the point of resisting and tearing apart God-Kings, failed to withstand such scorching heat. It showed how high the temperature was.

Whoosh!

Phoenix rushed up.

Earlier, when bathing, she noticed the anomaly in the sky and saw Alex under attack. She immediately rushed over and helped him by summoning the Immortal-slaying Sword at once.

“Slash!”

The Immortal-slaying Sword carried a swath of phoenix flame. A lifelike phoenix was also formed behind it and ferociously slashed that force field.

Boom!

The entire force field trembled.

Runes all over the sky moved rhythmically. A hole with a length of several meters was formed on the honeycomb-like force field, but it was quickly closed. Tidal wave-like attacks poured down. More and more flying machines rushed out. They were densely packed like locusts.

“What are those things?” Phoenix asked.

“I’ve never seen them before. We’ve just annihilated the Undying Clan. How could these things appear? Where are the people? The city below is empty. Not even a single figure is seen. It’s too abnormal.”

“Could it be that they are all annihilated?”

At this thought, they were about to be mind-blown.

Alex said, “I’ll do it!”

He took out the Immortal Butcher. Its body expanded vigorously and instantly turned into a 100-meter tall giant spiritual god in the next second. It was the benefit of obtaining the abilities of the nine Ancestor Witches. He was releasing the ability of a spiritual body of an Ancestor Witch right now.

The Immortal Butcher also followed suit and grew bigger.

Boom!

A crack that was several hundred meters long was formed on the force field. However, it was then that countless black rays of light shot down. A feeling of extreme danger arose spontaneously.

“Go quickly!”

Phoenix shouted. She resisted the rays and covered themselves with the Immortal Butcher before they both returned to Terra Mountain.

At that moment, many people in various places in America witnessed that scene.

“Who was that?”

“He’s so powerful. It’s been a long time since anyone tried to impact that barrier. He actually managed to slash through it for a length of several hundred meters at once.”

Meanwhile, many people in Yukon also saw that... “It’s him! They are back!”

Swoosh!

The fiery shadow of a phoenix rushed out of Yukon. It was none other than Dorothy Assex, rushing to the horizon as she rode on a phoenix.

Immediately afterward, a green dragon’s shadow emerged from the sky. Experts rushed out of Mount Yukon one after another. All of them were quickly flying toward Alex and Phoenix in the sky. All the people who were peeping on the ground were dumbstruck.

It had been several years since they witnessed a scene full of experts like this.

“If we want to talk about the American experts right now, that group at Mount Yukon is the one left!”

“That’s right. Those from other forces either died or fled. The remaining ones have gone to become b*tches.”

“I wonder who that giant was just now. Could it be Alex Rockefeller? Look... He really looks a bit similar!”

“Stop joking. How many years has Alex Rockefeller died?... Twenty years, right? Back then, he annihilated the Undying Clan, led the Undead Queen to the Abyss, and encountered that mysterious storm. Do you think he still managed to survive twenty years under such circumstances?”

“Jeez! Does Heaven really want to end America? If Alex and the others hadn’t annihilated the Undying Clan back then, current England wouldn’t have existed. As a result, right after the League of Cultivators annihilated the Undying Clan, England brought in those Iron Demons...”

At that moment, Alex finally saw the people he had missed all day long. Dorothy, Daya, Waltz, Maya, Esmeralda, and so on.

When he took a close look, he was shocked. Everyone was in bad shape.

Dorothy was sitting on the fiery phoenix’s body. Still, the cultivation in her body was not apparent, as if she had no cultivation at all. The same went for the others. Instead, Waltz became the person with the highest cultivation level in the crowd.

“Dorothy, Daya, Sis Maya, and you, Esmeralda. What’s going on with you guys?”

“What happened to your cultivation?”

As soon as Alex finished speaking, Waltz jumped on him and bawled. “You’re a bad guy. Are you finally willing to come back? It’s been twenty years. Where have you been? We thought you’d never come back. Boo-hoo...”

The other women also shed tears sorrowfully.

“What?! Twenty... Twenty years?!” Alex was astonished. “It’s been a month or so at best since I left. How can it be twenty years?”

However, someone flew over at that moment. Five young men and women, who were on Imperial Sword Flight, hurriedly rushed up to him.

“Dad?!”

“Dad has really come back!”

“Dad, I knew you’d come back!”

A stunning beauty with a bodacious and tempting body, she wore a leather jacket and leather pants. She definitely had a 36D breast size as she displayed her slender and fair thighs. She directly jumped on Alex and wrapped around his slightly sore waist before kissing him hard on the face.

Alex was instantly dumbfounded.

Such a hot woman actually threw herself at him. More importantly, he did not know her at all...

‘No! No!’

“You are...”

“Dad! I’m Bubbles! I’m your daughter, Bubbles!”

“Dad, I miss you so much. I miss you so much...”

Hugging the woman, Alex was flabbergasted after looking around. He finally recognized her. It was really his eldest daughter, Angel, whereas the other four were the quadruplets, Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter.

“So, have I really disappeared for twenty years?” He and Phoenix looked at each other.

Phoenix put away the Immortal-slaying Sword Formation and glanced at the steel city in the sky. She then said, “In that case, the flow of time in Sinless City is likely different from the outside world. We stayed there for about twenty days if you do the math, but twenty years have passed outside.”

This was the only explanation now.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3398

“The Iron Demons... They came to Yukon?” Xerxes froze.

Compared to Alex, who came back a short while ago, Xerxes was way more familiar with the Iron Demons. Everyone who entered the Undead Territory had their cultivations sealed back then. Hence, the rest of America became the pioneers. Everyone in Flying Eagles Academy and those who learned the Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation turned into their finest warriors.

Iron Demons were hard to defeat, but they did, in fact, have a weakness. They were being controlled by someone much weaker. If they could get past the demons and kill the person controlling them, winning would become easier.

For twenty years, people in America have come up with several ways. Some students in Flying Eagles Academy were able to take some Iron Demons as their own too. With research on their body parts, they were able to gain some knowledge regarding the Iron Demons. Some even gained access to the Iron Demon’s controls, using them to fight back against England.

It was unfortunate that America could only find out bits and pieces of information. They couldn’t study the system, so they had no solid knowledge of these things.

Alex spoke up. “Principal Lawlor, we should talk about Jade later. I have to break the seals on everyone’s cultivation first.”

“Esmeralda, you first!”

Esmeralda’s cultivation had apparently been sealed off too.

Summoning the Phanes Ax out, Alex only needed thirty seconds to shatter the twenty year old seal on her.

“Ya...” Esmeralda’s aura instantly changed as soon as her cultivation was restored. Her raw energy was simply overflowing.

“This is great! Why would we be scared of Iron Demons now?! I’ll shred them to pieces!”

Xerxes said, “Don’t be rash. The Iron Demons can alter law power. They’re terrifying. Once you’re locked in, you’d be defeated even if you’re deity-tier.”

Alex didn’t want to waste any more time and left, using his divine consciousness to locate Dorothy and Daya right away. He rushed off to break their seals, only to notice thousands and thousands of Iron Demons floating above Yukon as if they were trying to build a wall.

His children seem to be getting ready to face their enemies head on, alongside a few other teens that he didn’t recognize.

Within Yukon, some troops stood out amongst the rest as they had tens of Iron Demons too. Upon a closer look, these Iron Demons were around five to six meters tall, and they looked similar to robots.

There was a girl standing next to a red Iron Demon at the time, wearing a full leather suit, which looked very nice with her long legs. She had her hair tied up into a ponytail as well. She seemed to be speaking to Angel at the time. “Angel, let’s have a competition later. Whoever kills the most Iron Demons wins!”

Angel was wearing a sexy pair of black leggings at the time, fully committed to the badass look. Hearing this, she chuckled coldly. “Save yourself! Using an Iron Demon to fight isn’t using your own powers. Once the demon breaks, you’d be absolutely crushed.”

“Hmph! It’s a different era now. Cultivation was so last decade. Even the deity-tiers could be defeated by those Iron Demons, am I wrong?”

Angel clicked her tongue and ignored the woman.

The leather suit girl then jumped up the Iron Demon right away, entering it through a window.

The Iron Demon’s horrifying energy was instantly released as the windows closed up. With the swing of a shiny sword, nature’s law power seemed to have started swirling around like a whirlpool.

“Interesting!”

Just then, a loud roar came from behind them, as a green flood dragon flew up in the air. It was Esmeralda who turned herself into a dragon to face the enemies. It's been twenty years since she's used her powers. After all, she needed a form of release.

Boom!

Heading forth, the dragon violently bumped into quite a few Iron Demons. Although the Iron Demons could alter law power, she could as well.

"Wow! How fierce! Where did that green dragon come from?" The woman in a leather suit gasped from shock, speaking through the Iron Demon.

"It's Aunt Esmeralda! Her cultivation is restored!"

"Yay!"

Roar!

Following that was the roar of a dragon. They noticed a large being flying up into the air. It was Neela this time. After that, the cat demon Whitey and a fire phoenix joined the battle as well.

Xerxes said, "Don't be rash. The Iron Demons can alter law power. They're terrifying. Once you're locked in, you'd be defeated even if you're deity-tier."

Alex didn't want to waste any more time and left, using his divine consciousness to locate Dorothy and Daya right away. He rushed off to break their seals, only to notice thousands and thousands of Iron Demons floating above Yukon as if they were trying to build a wall.

His children seem to be getting ready to face their enemies head on, alongside a few other teens that he didn't recognize.

Within Yukon, some troops stood out amongst the rest as they had tens of Iron Demons too. Upon a closer look, these Iron Demons were around five to six meters tall, and they looked similar to robots.

There was a girl standing next to a red Iron Demon at the time, wearing a full leather suit, which looked very nice with her long legs. She had her hair tied up into a ponytail as well. She seemed to be speaking to Angel at the time.

“Angel, let’s have a competition later. Whoever kills the most Iron Demons wins!”

Angel was wearing a sexy pair of black leggings at the time, fully committed to the badass look. Hearing this, she chuckled coldly. “Save yourself! Using an Iron Demon to fight isn’t using your own powers. Once the demon breaks, you’d be absolutely crushed.”

“Hmph! It’s a different era now. Cultivation was so last decade. Even the deity-tiers could be defeated by those Iron Demons, am I wrong?”

Angel clicked her tongue and ignored the woman.

The leather suit girl then jumped up the Iron Demon right away, entering it through a window.

The Iron Demon’s horrifying energy was instantly released as the windows closed up. With the swing of a shiny sword, nature’s law power seemed to have started swirling around like a whirlpool.

“Interesting!”

Just then, a loud roar came from behind them, as a green flood dragon flew up in the air. It was Esmeralda who turned herself into a dragon to face the enemies. It’s been twenty years since she’s used her powers. After all, she needed a form of release.

Boom!

Heading forth, the dragon violently bumped into quite a few Iron Demons. Although the Iron Demons could alter law power, she could as well.

“Wow! How fierce! Where did that green dragon come from?” The woman in a leather suit gasped from shock, speaking through the Iron Demon.

”It’s Aunt Esmeralda! Her cultivation is restored!”

“Yay!”

Roar!

Following that was the roar of a dragon. They noticed a large being flying up into the air. It was Neela this time. After that, the cat demon Whitey and a fire phoenix joined the battle as well.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3400

“The Iron Demons... They came to Yukon?” Xerxes froze.

Compared to Alex, who came back a short while ago, Xerxes was way more familiar with the Iron Demons. Everyone who entered the Undead Territory had their cultivations sealed back then. Hence, the rest of America became the pioneers. Everyone in Flying Eagles Academy and those who learned the Ksitigarbha’s Ten Wheels Earth Incantation turned into their finest warriors.

Iron Demons were hard to defeat, but they did, in fact, have a weakness. They were being controlled by someone much weaker. If they could get past the demons and kill the person controlling them, winning would become easier.

For twenty years, people in America have come up with several ways. Some students in Flying Eagles Academy were able to take some Iron Demons as their own too. With research on their body parts, they were able to gain some knowledge regarding the Iron Demons. Some even gained access to the Iron Demon’s controls, using them to fight back against England.

It was unfortunate that America could only find out bits and pieces of information. They couldn’t study the system, so they had no solid knowledge of these things.

Alex spoke up. “Principal Lawlor, we should talk about Jade later. I have to break the seals on everyone’s cultivation first.”

“Esmeralda, you first!”

Esmeralda’s cultivation had apparently been sealed off too.

Summoning the Phanes Ax out, Alex only needed thirty seconds to shatter the twenty year old seal on her.

“Ya...” Esmeralda’s aura instantly changed as soon as her cultivation was restored. Her raw energy was simply overflowing.

Xerxes said, “Don’t be rash. The Iron Demons can alter law power. They’re terrifying. Once you’re locked in, you’d be defeated even if you’re deity-tier.”
