The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3321

“Uhm...”

Brittany felt like she couldn't exactly explain this well to her husband since there had been so much that happened in the past few years, especially around her son. It would take years to finish explaining all this.

Hence, she just said, “We'll head out there first. You'll know when you see them.”

William frowned slightly, as he was quite happy with Dorothy being his daughter-in-law. Not only was she beautiful, she loved Alex with her whole heart. William even looked into their destinies and found out that their relationship was definitely fate. With Dorothy by his side, his son would be able to live a blessed life...

Hence, if Alex really did divorce Dorothy, William needed to scold him harshly for it.

In just a few moments, he exited the room, only to be shocked by what he saw next.

There were lots of beautiful young women who dressed rather nicely. All of them stood neatly in a row, with a cup each in their hands. Upon William's arrival, they spoke at the very same time. “Congratulations on your return, Father. Please have some tea!”

‘What?!’

William looked at each and every one of them, frozen in place. He panicked and turned to Brittany. “What's with this? Why are there so many girls? Just which one of them is our daughter-in-laws?”

Brittany gestured to the girls. “Uhm, actually... Everyone with a cup of tea is. Go on, drink up. Our daughter-in-laws are waiting.”

Dorothy, Beatrice, Daya, Esmeralda, Waltz, Maya, Dawn, Luna, Ynes, Phoebe, and Lena then all gathered here. There were eleven women in total, but that wasn't all. Some of them weren't here at the time, so they couldn't have a complete family reunion.

William was appalled, then yelled loudly. "Alex! Alex, get your *ss out here!"

Despite this, Alex didn't show up. Instead, it was Nolan who came by. "Why are you yelling like that? Drink your damn tea! If you end up scaring my lovely granddaughters-in-law, I won't forgive you that easily! Alex is discussing a great matter regarding the universe, so just stay here and take care of your grandchildren!"

"Dad?!"

"Have some tea, Father! We have to attend an important meeting later too, so our schedule is a little tight!" Dorothy said cheerily.

The Undead's invasion was very fast, so much so that they were several times faster than when they invaded during ancient times. They knew there must be a reason for this, so the leaders had to develop a detailed plan to enter the Undead Territory and look for the Pantheon Tomb.

Dorothy, Esmeralda, and the others were the main forces within the team, so they needed to attend the meeting.

They really didn't have much time here, and it was already quite difficult for them to make time to give William a warm welcome.

"Oh Dorothy, it's been so long..." Brittany took Dorothy's cup and fed William.

"If you'll excuse me, Father, I'll be off now!"

Whoosh!

After that, Dorothy just disappeared into thin air, followed by Esmeralda, Daya, then the others...

William felt his heart drop. 'I... I think I can see my daughters-in-law are no ordinary people!'

'Why do they seem even more powerful than I am? I'm no match for them at all.'

'What happened to this world? Could I still be in a coma?'

Despite having eleven cups of tea from his daughters-in-law, William was filled with only confusion. However, the tea didn't wash it down at all.

"Brittany, what happened here?"

"Why do I feel like the world changed within these few years that I was away?"

William then looked toward Brittany as if he were asking for help.

Brittany said, "There have been some major changes in the world. It's no longer what you're familiar with! Just meet up with your grandchildren for now. We'll talk about everything else later."

Alex and the others were discussing in another place.

"This is urgent. The Undead gets more powerful every day! I think we should head to the Undead Territory today." Agatha suggested resolutely.

Jade was attending the meeting as well.

She glanced at Alex, then spoke up. "I agree with that... According to the Divine Dreamcatcher, the Undead have been making some big moves lately. Not only are they invading large worlds left and right, they seem to be in a hurry. They're trying to take over the entire universe within the shortest time."

"If they were to successfully invade America, it would be too late for us to do anything."

Alex nodded. "Okay, I'll go make some preparations. My father is finally safe now..."

He was then finally able to leave to see his father.

At the time, William was holding Alex's eldest child, Angel Rockefeller, the little girl he had with Daya.

Since they hadn't seen each other before, the little one seemed rather upset despite getting a money envelope from her own grandfather. She even looked as if she would cry, pouting her tiny lips.

The other children seemed rather nervous as well, all hiding behind Beatrice and Lena. They didn't want to be held by William, as if that was the scariest thing they had to do.

Seeing her father coming from the other side, Angel looked like she had found her savior, calling out to him.

"Papa, hold me!"

After saying that, she actually started sobbing.

Alex immediately hopped over. However, before he could even reach her, the little girl struggled out of William's arms and jumped into Alex's, wrapping her arms around his neck.

She then whispered into her father's ear. "Papa, Spring, Summer, Autumn, and Winter said that Grandpa is a monster. I'm scared!"

When Angel leaped out of William's embrace, he was nearly kicked to the ground by her kick, leaving him in sheer disbelief. That was because he clearly felt divine power on the girl. It was very strong too. If any ordinary person were to be kicked like that, they would end up badly injured.

"Well..."

"That was terrifying. I was nearly kicked to death by my five-year-old granddaughter!"

Brittany smiled at the side. "It's certainly possible. Do you know who your eldest granddaughter is? She will definitely become very powerful in the future because she received a goddess legacy from her mother. She is destined to be the future Goddess of Nature. "

"Goddess of Nature?"

"Holy f*c..."

After a short pause, he asked, "Why do the little ones seem to fear me? They even said that I was a monster. Oh, and don't try to make it seem that I hallucinated it. I heard them loud and clear."

"That's because they've seen you when you still had the soul planting mark. You were pretty scary, honestly."

William covered his face with his hands. "Oh, now that's just sad."

Brittany replied. "It's okay. Just play with them a little more. They wouldn't boycott you once you've gotten familiar with each other. Little children tend to be quite forgetful, so they wouldn't hold onto that scary memory of you for long, right?"

After a while, Alex put Angel down and approached William. As the two reunited, they each felt a wave of emotions rise up in their hearts. In order to find his father, Alex had to follow his tracks, traveling through several places.

"You little brat!"

In the end, William was the first to punch Alex on the shoulder jokingly.

"Dad!" Alex said as his eyes started to redden after saying that for the first time in forever.

William hugged his son and laughed. "As expected from my son. People with actual abilities would never stay in the dark for long. They would burn bright like the stars in the sky. It's just that I never would've expected you to have grown this much."

"But... "

"You little punk, how did you end up with so many wives? Putting the others aside, how is Beatrice one of them? She's literally Dorothy's sister. Do you know how awkward it'll be when we meet up with your mother-in-law?"

Alex replied. "Dad, having more daughters-in-law would just make the Rockefeller family bigger. Besides, you're no better than me."

“Shut up. How am I the same as you?”

“Oh yeah? Then tell me about Susan Hunter, hmm?”

Upon hearing this, William was stunned, covering his son’s mouth in an instant. He then used telepathy to talk to this. “Lower your voice, you brat. I’d be doomed if your mother heard that!”

“So it was true?”

“Well, I didn’t really mean to. Since you know about Susan, you must know about that tomb underneath Michigan, right? Have you been down there?”

Alex nodded.

William continued. “I had to go through quite a lot of research to find a passageway situated in America! That place is very dangerous, so I found a group of people to help, and Susan was one of them.”

“I ended up getting poisoned there, and started hallucinating, so that’s why I did... Things with Susan while I was still out of it... Oh right, where is she now?”

Alex shook his head. “The ancient boundary has shattered, and America is at stake. Not just that, spiritual energy overflow happened a while ago as they had predicted. There’d been too many things that happened on Earth at the very same time. Many had left us or split ways.”

“I lost contact with a lot of people, and I didn’t keep in touch with Susan either.”

William asked, “What exactly happened in the past few years? Oh right, where is your grandfather? I mean the one in Rockefeller Group. Why... Are none of them here?”

Alex shook his head again. After that, he placed his index finger in between William’s brows, inserting every memory of the past incidents that William had missed during his coma straight into his consciousness. At that very moment, William felt as if his brain would explode. However, he was most appalled when he realized how the Rockefellers treated his son and wife after faked his death. They stole the company and its assets, and they even refused to pay for Brittany’s hospital bills.

'How... Inhumane are they?'

Before he left, he had actually made quite a few arrangements just in case. When Brittany became a vegetative patient from the accident, his main goal was to find a way to cure her... And to hide from some kind of force at the very same time.

Those people would only stop once he was dead, after all. Yet a serious issue arose after his plan, which was something he didn't really account for.

"It must've been so hard for you, my son."

Alex shook his head again. "I'm actually pretty fine. The one who suffered the most was Mom. She had to worry about me all the time."

In the end, he told his father. "Things have been pretty urgent lately, and I'd have to travel quite far from home. The situation over there doesn't seem optimistic, so I will bring along some gadgets to survive this at the very least. I'm leaving the house to you, Dad."

Just then, Maya rushed over and hurriedly said, "Holly's in danger. We have to get to War Mountain right

Alex raised an eyebrow. He definitely remembered Holly, especially since she was his godsister.

She nearly died when Sydney Yeager, the granddaughter of the Mountain Warrior elder, tried to force her spiritual root out of her body. They had to use the Natural Divine Fountain to preserve her spiritual meridians.

A while ago, Holly followed Dorothy and stayed with her eight disciples. He had also heard from Dorothy that Holly managed to grow a new spiritual root, which was even more potent than before. It was a deity-tier root. Such conditions were relatively rare, meaning that the attack she experienced was a blessing in disguise after all.

If Sydney hadn't dug her spiritual root out, she wouldn't have been able to grow out of this newer and stronger one. With the secondary root out of the way, the main spiritual root was able to maximize its true potential.

It was rumored that Holly's cultivation level had improved drastically since then. Moreover, it was as if her powers and strength shot up after receiving the spiritual energy during the overflow...

"When did she even get to War Mountain?" Alex asked.

Maya said, "Two days ago. She wanted to meet that Sydney girl herself, saying she wanted to thank her. With Holly's current cultivation level, there shouldn't be anyone there who could beat her at this point."

"But we just got the news that War Mountain is filled with demonic Chi as if a very powerful demonic being had been born."

"I'll go take a look." Alex didn't want to waste more time and instantly teleported away from Yukon.

In actuality, Yukon and War Mountain weren't far from each other. By using long-distance Instant Teleportation, he could reach the mountain within seconds. From a distance, he noticed the top of the mountain was surrounded by demonic Chi, which formed bloody clouds all over the sky within the area.

"What concentrated demonic Chi!" Alex jumped just from seeing this.

The War Mountain was no longer the War Mountain it used to be, and it seemed to have expanded by quite a bit too. During the overflow, this mountain was one of the dungeons that many cultivators tried to get their hands on, after all.

Yet now, the entire mountain ended up being engulfed by such strong demonic Chi. Shelly and Ancestor Bodhi, who were in his mind palace, could somewhat sense this too.

The two then rushed out right there and then.

"Damn, this demonic Chi actually feels sort of familiar!" Ancestor Bodhi spoke up.

Shelly nodded. "It is. Could this be... Primal demonic Chi?"

Ancestor Bodhi slapped his own thigh out of realization. “That’s right. It’s Primal demonic Chi. This belongs to the Primal Old Devil, though... He died during ancient times, so how could this be? Could some kind of dumb*ss have dug his ancestral grave?”

After mentioning ancestral graves, Alex was reminded of the Pantheon Tomb.

When he was still at the Pantheon Tomb, he was reminded of something, lifting his head abruptly. “Are you sure this is something that only the Primal Old Devil could possess? I remember seeing a gravestone with his title in the Pantheon Tomb, though.”

This time, both Shelly and Ancestral Bodhi were shocked.

“The Primal Old Devil is buried in the Pantheon Tomb?”

Ancestral Bodhi was slightly annoyed. “What in the world is that Pantheon Tomb anyway? I’ve never even heard of it my entire life!”

Shelly continued watching as the endless blood fog became thicker and thicker. She even noticed a shadow of a skull forming within the depths of the clouds.

“You’ll know when you see it.”

“I have a feeling that the Pantheon Tomb is hiding a big secret,” Shelly said as she sat down on Alex’s shoulder.

As a spirit, she had the ability to alter her size, so she was currently the size of a little fairy,

However, Ancestor Bodhi wasn’t able to achieve this. He still maintained the appearance of a young, fair child. Despite his little limbs, he could still run very quickly, especially with how energetic he seemed. On the other hand, Alex was still very much worried about Holly’s safety. Without any hesitation, he rushed up to the peak of War Mountain.

Unexpectedly, the gates to War Mountain were still guarded by some disciples at a time like this. Seeing Alex and the others trying to climb the mountain, they immediately went forth to block their way.

“The War Mountain is private property. No outsiders allowed!” The two disciples stood in the middle of the road.

Shelly took a glance at them and huffed coldly. “The Mountain Warriors used to be known as quite a famous clan. I didn’t expect all of them to have turned to the dark side. They don’t even seem human anymore.”

Alex was able to tell too. There was Shadow Blood around their foreheads. Moreover, the energy within the shadow was the same as the demonic Chi around the skies.

Ancestor Bodhi ran towards Alex with short legs. “There’s no doubt that it really is the Primal Old Devil! That’s weird. Did he not die? What’s inside the Pantheon Tomb then?”

The two Mountain Warrior disciples watched as the group continued their discussion as if no one was around. They even called the Primal Old Devil as just an ordinary title, despite it being the current God of Mountain Warriors.

“One would have to treat the Primal God with utmost respect here! You guys are doing this to fulfill a death wish, aren’t you?!”

“Kneel!”

“Pray sincerely to the peak of War Mountain, and refer to the Primal Old Devil as ‘Father’! Elsewise, you all are done for.”

‘Call him what now?’

Alex and the others froze.

Ancestor Bodhi cackled out loud. “You want me to call that old devil ‘Father’? Oh man, haha! That reminds me, that old devil really does like being a father. But it’s a shame, really. Once he sees me, he’d have to call me ‘Father’ instead.”

“How dare you!”

“Capture them!”

Just then, Shelly took matters into her own hands. Two metal chains shot out her body, impaling through the two disciples' foreheads. With this, she instantly killed both of them at the same time.

Those chains actually came from Persephone's Folly Bridge.

Shelly spoke up. "These people have all been tainted by Primal demonic Chi and have been marked by the Primal Old Devil! Apart from receiving his demonic energy, they had also become his tools. They could easily turn into his extra bodies at any point in time, and it would be impossible to save them now. So don't feel any mercy for them. Just kill them off right away!"

Alex nodded and quickly rushed towards the main area within War Mountain with Shelly and Ancestor Bodhi. They noticed many wind blades slashing through the air in just a few moments. It was extremely sharp and powerful, fighting against the endless Primal demonic Chi.

"It's Holly!"

Alex was very familiar with Holly's Chi, so he was able to identify that the blade aura came from her.

Shelly nodded as well. "That's the Sword of righteousness and uprightness of the Mountain Warriors clan. Your godsister really did end up getting her hands on the true sword art of the Mountain Warriors. She even has a deity-tier spiritual root. Without it, she wouldn't have ever been able to master this sword art."

Dashing over, Alex finally reached the search battlefield. He noticed that Holly, who he hadn't seen in years, fought with a woman of her age.

Holly seemed even prettier than before as well, with a determined look on her face. At the time, she had already won since the woman opposite her had one of her arms cut off and was bleeding profusely.

Holly looked at the woman coldly. "Sydney, so what if you took my spiritual roots? Things that aren't yours will never be yours, you know? But I really have to thank you for digging my secondary root out. Else I would never have known that I possess twin spiritual roots. And my other one is a deity-tier root."

Sydney's eyes looked as if they could kill. "Deity-tier? You actually have a deity-tier spiritual root... No wonder you were able to cut my arm off! Fine then, I'll be taking your deity-tier root too!"

After saying that, Sydney's amputated arm was instantly surrounded by concentrated demonic Chi and was somehow able to grow a new one right there and then. However, her new arm was entirely black, with red veins popping all over. It was simply a terrifying sight. Moreover, the skull shadow within the bloody clouds rushed into her body too.

"Look, there is the spirit of the Primal Old Devil that has entered the body of that female child," Ancestor Bodhi exclaimed as soon as he saw it. "In this sense, this female child is equal to borrowing the ability of the Primal Old Devil."

Alex couldn't take his gaze away from the battleground.

Sydney was in a peculiar state at the time. Her entire vibe had shifted dramatically. Her demonic aura was gigantic, and it was overpowering, resonating with the blood clouds above her head. Sydney seemed to have gotten energy assistance from the blood cloud over her head by doing so.

"Beware of her mental attack, Holly!"

Alex possessed divine eyes, and the Three Thousand Lotus was extremely sensitive to magical energy. In an instant, he realized that Sydney's most powerful asset at the moment was spiritual energy.

The combat power provided to Sydney in the blood cloud, that huge skeleton head shadow, is unquestionably related to spiritual energy.

Holly heard the sound and turned to face Alex. "Brother!" she exclaimed.

The two had not seen each other in a long time. Holly was overjoyed and flashed a stunning smile.

Sydney also attacked around this time. She uttered in a neutral tone, "You still have time to talk nonsense to others while fighting me? Do you think you're looking down on me? I can rob you of your spiritual root once, so naturally, I can rob you again, and I won't let you stand up again this time."

Buzz!

A spiritual force manifested in the form of a blood-red spiritual sword. It slashed down with ferocity towards Holly's head.

Alex had planned to strike.

Shelly, on the other hand, stopped him.

"Let's see first, look up there."

Alex froze and looked up at the blood cloud above his head, only to see a mysterious shadow strewn about inside the rich blood red. However, it was only a flash. It is impossible to see too clearly.

"What exactly is it?" Alex was taken aback.

"Is it like a hidden realm?" Shelly was unsure.

Meanwhile... The conflict between Holly and Sydney became direct. Holly's sword of righteousness and uprightness was equally impressive. The seven foot green blade in her hand was absolutely extraordinary on which a bright sword light erupted, a large swath of righteous and upright aura spurted out from the top of the sword, eventually forming some strange prison, blocking Sydney's blood-colored spiritual longsword.

Buzz!

The righteous and upright aura trapped Sydney's spiritual sword. It caused a massive tremor. A roaring sound was also heard.

"The righteous and upright aura, it's really something. This should be the opponent that the Primal Old Devil doesn't want to face the most," Ancestor Bodhi said.

"I seem to recall that in ancient times, the righteous and upright aura suppressed the Primal Old Devil, after which he went far away from the abyss and was forced to not even dare to return to his old home... Is this the arrangement of destiny?"

“Look up there,” Shelly said again at that moment.

In a cloud of blood. The image resurfaced.

Another skeleton descended from the sky.

At the same time, Alex, Shelly, and the others saw an even clearer image.

“It appears to be a tombstone!” Alex explained.

“No, it’s a tomb, not a tombstone. The tomb of the Primal Old Devil,” Shelly said.

Alex was taken aback, “The Tomb of the Gods?”

“I did see the shadow of a person, and if my eyes are not blurry, that person is most likely the Primal Old Devil,” said Bodhi Elder.

The battle on the field was once again fierce at this point. Sydney discarded her spirit sword in favor of the Demon God’s hand. After regrowing, the hand that Hooly had previously severed was very different from her original hand, so to speak, it was a devil claw, but the power of this devil claw was unexpected.

It was actually unaffected by swords and spears. It could go directly against Holly’s seven-foot green blade. For a brief moment, the sword of righteousness and uprightness was unable to cut through the devil’s claw.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3327

The appearance of Alex and others, on the other hand, had drawn the attention of the Mountain Warriors’ residents.

“Outsiders!”

“They are the traitors of Holly. Kill without mercy!”

Wasn’t that absurd?

Holly was clearly the orthodoxy of the Mountain Warriors, the daughter of Mountain Warriors' head, but was later framed by the elders' conspiracy to take the position of the sect's head, and the original head of the sect was nailed to the pillar of shame, with all kinds of nasty slander. Even the daughter of the sect's leader has turned traitor.

And at that time, a swarm of individuals came up to Alex and the others.

Buzz!

Shelly's physique grew ferociously larger. It grew to reach almost the same size as Alex. The ancient and mottled Persephone's Folly Bridge pierced the void with a wave of her hand.

Shelly's ghostly voice seemed to emerge from the vacuum.

"By the Forgotten River, by Persephone's Folly Bridge!"

"In life, there is no right or wrong, there is no merit or demerit in death!"

"All Mountain Warriors Sect disciples, you have been tainted by the primal old devil's roots. I have come today to transcend you and send you to the ultimate bliss in Western Paradise!"

Swish, swish, swish!

The Persephone's Folly Bridge emitted a slew of rusted iron strands. The speed was quite fast. It conveyed the highest law above each chain.

The bodies of Mountain Warriors Sect disciples were brought back onto the Persephone's Folly Bridge and tossed into the Forgotten River one by one. Those tossed in could be seen fighting, shouting, floating, and sinking in the Forgotten River. The Water of River Styx in the Forgotten River could not only cleanse sin and wickedness but also earthly memories and karma. Drifting on the Forgotten River, those individuals all headed in the same direction. Each person's body emitted black gas in the process, which was from the primal old devil's evil demonic energy...

Alex was not idle. He had a pattern to stick to.

Shelly's Persephone's Folly Bridge permitted individuals to enter reincarnation after washing clean, and he was also the one who could open the infernal hell.

He transformed into a wandering dragon, reflecting two dozen sub-bodies, and three thousand forbidden spells were executed one by one, drawing one Mountain Warriors disciple after another into it.

Oh, what happened when one arrived in the abyss?

Only the spirits were aware of this.

With Alex and Shelly's present battle power, they were more than capable of dealing with these Mount Warriors' residents, and in the end, even Mount Warriors' new leader, Sydney's grandfather, was murdered with them.

Mount Warriors was extinguished in a single incense-burning session. Without Mount Warriors, a group of disciples who had been defiled by the foundation, the blood clouds over Mount Warriors became considerably lighter and less forceful.

Alex assassinated Sydney's grandfather, which Sydney witnessed.

She yelled, her eyes full of rage as she glanced up at the sky.

"You compelled me to do it!"

"Since that's the case, let's all annihilate!"

"I'm going to end the world..."

"Primal Demonfather, I, Sydney, am willing to accept you as my own father, and I will give you everything I have, including my blood, flesh, and soul, to drive forever and ever; my only desire is that you obliterate this world!"

Ancestor Bodhi said, "She is sacrificing herself to the gods! No way, she has to be stopped!"

However, it was too late.

"As you wish..." said an elderly voice from above the blood cloud.

The blood clouds constantly rotated. The wind rose, and the clouds grew larger in the center of the blood cloud. The image became clearer and clearer.

Alex and the others could clearly see that it was the tomb of the Primal Old Devil, and Alex had been there before and was even more impressed, remembering that the location was the very Tomb of the Gods.

Suddenly, amid the blood cloud...

A massive palm reached out. A hand slowly retracted after capturing Sydney, who had sacrificed herself.

“Follow it!” exclaimed Shelly on the spot.

The blood cloud vortex that was whirling madly above was contracting. The primal old demon's hand grabbed Sydney and shrank back toward the vortex's center.

Alex simply did not have time to think carefully after hearing Shelly's shout and immediately followed her towards the vortex, while Ancestor Bodhi saw the right moment and threw himself into Alex's mind palace.

“Wait for me, search brother!”

Alex was rushing towards the sky when Holly noticed him. She, too, did not think much about it and stamped her feet as she rushed up.

“Beware of primal demonic qi in the blood cloud!” Shelly reminded them. Persephone's Folly Bridge followed her into the cave after crossing the sky.

Alex grabbed Holly. His body's holy energy filled the air. Countless Buddhist texts wrapped around his entire body and along with it wrapped Holly's entirely. The cave formed by the primal blood mist was like a shortcut specifically to the Tomb of the Gods, but the surrounding area was still covered in red clouds. When the body came into contact with the cloudy haze, it immediately made a corroded sound.

Alex felt the holy energy runes on his body's surface light up.

In the battle against the blood fog energy...

It was also fortunate that Shelly reminded him. If preparations weren't made, he would've been thrown headlong into the blood fog, with disastrous results.

Shelly, on the other hand, couldn't take it anymore. She jumped on the Persephone's Folly Bridge across the sky, wanting to use the Persephone's Folly Bridge to protect herself. When the Persephone's Folly Bridge arrived, it unexpectedly became dysfunctional, emitting a wail.

"It's not working!"

"Primal demonic chi is extremely powerful to the point of dregs, and it can't hold up without the protection of pure holy power."

"It's up to you, Alex."

Shelly hid the Persephone's Folly Bridge and burrowed her way into Alex's mind palace.

"Do you really want to be so pitiful?" Alex was speechless. It was her that yelled at him to rush in. Now that there was a problem, she immediately fled on her own.

Without loyalty, she would lose friends, right?

The key question now was, how would Alex handle this issue?

"I am a spiritual body, I cannot resist for a long time in this kind of demonic chi, but you can, your holy power and divine power, is the purest holy power, as long as the holy power in your body does not die, the primordial magic gas cannot help you," Shelly said in his mind.

Alex answered, "Is it possible to retreat? Going to the Tomb of the Gods is an appointment made together with others, Several powerful assistants are not present now. If I rush through now, I will most likely lose contact with the people at the base."

"You can't retreat now. Instead, you have to speed up. The primordial demonic qi will soon vanish, then this passage shortcut will be canceled, and before you can go through, you will vanish here with the passage, not knowing where to go," Shelly said.

Feeling depressed, Alex replied, "I knew you weren't very trustworthy."

However, now that the situation had deteriorated, it was impossible not to follow her instructions. He hurriedly used all of his strength and soared into the sky above.

“Hmph!”

One would be dreaming if one tried to pass through Alex’s dimensional path.

The figure on the other side of the whirlpool made that noise. Then, from the vortex hole, a blood-colored skeleton’s shadow fell.

Boom...

Alex was hit by the first skeleton.

The holy power rune on his body emitted a golden light. Then, there was a rumbling sound. The holy power rune was instantly consumed by half. The location where it broke open was exactly where Alex’s buttocks were. Blood-colored primordial demonic chi eroded in, and it was painful.

“Om mani padme hum, divine power, protect me!”

“How are you doing, Holly?”

Alex held Holly in his arms, her delicate and beautiful body clinging to him.

“Brother, I’m okay!” Holly exclaimed, feeling more secure than she had in the past.

Alex lowered his head. Holly’s Buddhist text armor had also vanished. The primal demonic Chi, on the other hand, seemed powerless to harm her.

The righteousness and uprightness on her body drove it away as soon as it got close. He was depleting.

“Holly, search brother needs you to save my life. Wrap me in your righteousness and uprightness.” Alex screamed as he felt like his ass was rotting away.

"It's up to you, Alex."

Shelly hid the Persephone's Folly Bridge and burrowed her way into Alex's mind palace.

"Do you really want to be so pitiful?" Alex was speechless. It was her that yelled at him to rush in. Now that there was a problem, she immediately fled on her own.

Without loyalty, she would lose friends, right?

The key question now was, how would Alex handle this issue?

"I am a spiritual body, I cannot resist for a long time in this kind of demonic chi, but you can, your holy power and divine power, is the purest holy power, as long as the holy power in your body does not die, the primordial magic gas cannot help you," Shelly said in his mind.

Alex answered, "Is it possible to retreat? Going to the Tomb of the Gods is an appointment made together with others, Several powerful assistants are not present now. If I rush through now, I will most likely lose contact with the people at the base."

"You can't retreat now. Instead, you have to speed up. The primordial demonic qi will soon vanish, then this passage shortcut will be canceled, and before you can go through, you will vanish here with the passage, not knowing where to go," Shelly said.

Feeling depressed, Alex replied, "I knew you weren't very trustworthy."

However, now that the situation had deteriorated, it was impossible not to follow her instructions. He hurriedly used all of his strength and soared into the sky above.

"Hmph!"

One would be dreaming if one tried to pass through Alex's dimensional path.

The figure on the other side of the whirlpool made that noise. Then, from the vortex hole, a blood-colored skeleton's shadow fell.

Boom...

Alex was hit by the first skeleton.

The holy power rune on his body emitted a golden light. Then, there was a rumbling sound. The holy power rune was instantly consumed by half. The location where it broke open was exactly where Alex's buttocks were. Blood-colored primordial demonic chi eroded in, and it was painful.

"Om mani padme hum, divine power, protect me!"

"How are you doing, Holly?"

Alex held Holly in his arms, her delicate and beautiful body clinging to him.

"Brother, I'm okay!" Holly exclaimed, feeling more secure than she had in the past.

Alex lowered his head. Holly's Buddhist text armor had also vanished. The primal demonic Chi, on the other hand, seemed powerless to harm her.

The righteousness and uprightness on her body drove it away as soon as it got close. He was depleting.

"Holly, search brother needs you to save my life. Wrap me in your righteousness and uprightness." Alex screamed as he felt like his ass was rotting away.

The Pinnacle of Life Chapter 3330

The woman's figure was small and blurry in the midst of the blood clouds. It was merely an ant compared to the primal old devil's massive hand.

Her fist, however, landed on the arm of the primal old devil. It immediately smashed the arm. It blew up into a cloud of blood mist.

The figure of the primal old devil thundering in the space above the blood cloud, and his crazy roar, with this sound, came from over there, all of which made Alex feel like his blood was churning and his body was uncomfortable.

Fortunately, the three thousand lotus flowers were extremely potent.

Between the swaying lotus flowers, a mysterious force replenished Alex's body. Strange meridians and pores all over the body are filled with this mysterious force to offset the roar's negative impact and stimulate the three thousand lotus flowers to open again. Even the lotus flowers that had previously opened again.

Alex was well aware that these represented the advancement of a certain forbidden spell.

Each forbidden spell's level could have up to nine layers.

Alex now had a few techniques that had crossed over to the second level, such as the Great Icebound Spell and the Great Flame Spell, but the majority of them were only on the first level, but now, not knowing if it was the absorption of the primal old devil's skeleton phantom that provided him with enormous energy. The three thousand lotus flowers seemed to be blooming like rain.

There were a lot of people who got to the second level. A slew of new forbidden spells was also made available.

Great Void Spell.

Great Folding Spell.

Great Dark Spell.

Great Cloud Spell... And so on!

There were even strange and bizarre names that came up.

Alex felt that they simply had no use, some forbidden spells, and usually could not even think about it, which was also very strange because engaging in ten forbidden spells was already a heaven-defying existence, and now he had three thousand forbidden spells, which wasn't necessary!

There were, however, many skeletal blood shadows in the blood cloud.

Alex's Great Swallowing Spell did not stop sucking all those blood-colored skeletons that rushed down into his body to become the nourishment for the three thousand lotuses, with the idea of not sucking up for nothing.

At this time.

"Come quickly!" said a voice from the other end of the blood cloud.

It's the woman's voice we're hearing. This was the voice...

He recognized it, it was the voice of the Mysterious Maiden of Nine Heavens, and it sounded exactly like her.

"Could the woman be the Mysterious Maiden of Nine Heavens?"

The primal old devil's blood cloud was swiftly dissipating, which signaled that this particular dimensional channel was closing and fading, as the blood cloud faded away, the surrounding area became a void.

It was pitch black... It was imperceptible...

Only the woman's eager voice could be heard screaming out to him, "Rush over immediately if you don't want to die."

Alex had a momentary passage thanks to her. He realized it was now an actual life-or-death situation, so he grabbed Holly, cast the Great Void Spell of the Three Thousand Forbidden Spells, and dashed towards the passage.

At that point...

Boo...

He seemed to be squeezing into some sort of frozen place. Surrounded by some form of rule energy restriction. His mobility was significantly reduced, if it had previously been 10,000 yards, it had now become a turtle speed of ten yards.

On the other end, a woman urged. "Get up!"

"This is a temporary channel that won't stay long. Once the passage collapses, you'll be locked in the falling vacuum bubble for the rest of your life. You won't be able to escape."

Behind him, the corridor was collapsing. It disintegrated into a smattering of stars or dust and vanished.

He saw a few skeleton blood shadows trapped in this collapsing energy. Unable to escape while encased in a bizarre bubble, they floated in space, unable to move a muscle.

"Ahh!"

“Great Void Spell!”
