

Bewedded Not Beloved Chapter 51 – 60

Chapter 51

“Impossible.” I can imagine how miserable I was when the Dongchuang incident happened. Jade Jinyuan was the youngest darling in the family. Of course, Mother Jade was reluctant to scold him. I was the only one who was unlucky. I must directly awaken his dreams. : “If you want to raise me to send you off, you can apply to your mother. It has nothing to do with me.”

“It’s definitely not possible to say it directly, you can only raise it secretly.” He still knows himself.

“I can’t raise it secretly, otherwise I will send you to raise it yourself, and it has nothing to do with me.” I picked up the dirty dog and stuffed it to him.

He hugged him tightly with a grieved expression: “But I don’t know how to take care of a puppy, Livia, can we take care of it together.”

“No, don’t be cute.” I turned and ignored him.

“Otherwise, when I start school next semester, I will take it to the United States, and I will never let others know during this time.”

Yes, I remember that Jade Jinyuan is still a student, and it is not summer vacation. Why doesn’t he go to school?

“Why don’t you go to school?”

“I’m sick and leave school.” He was wronged.

I suddenly felt softened: “What’s the problem? Don’t say it if it is inconvenient.”

“Heart disease.” He lowered his head, hair covering his beautiful eyes.

Seeing him like this, I can't get my heart out at all, and he is sparing no effort to persuade me: “Please, Livia, let's raise it together, okay? I promise no one will find it. One night. In your room, it was in my room one night, okay?”

In the face of such a handsome boy's plea, I couldn't refuse it. I could only vaguely: “Okay, if it causes trouble, I still have to send it away, and no one can find it.”

“I see.” He jumped up happily, and raised the puppy above his head: “Oh, Livia, let's go shopping for it, can you drive?”

“I will.”

“Then I will go to the room to get my wallet, and you will wait for me.”

Jade Jinyuan stuffed the dog in my arms and ran out of my room.

How dare I be persuaded by him, now I have to go out with him to buy things for the dog, I am really enough.

Jade Jinyuan carried a backpack, put the puppy in it, opened the zipper to prevent it from suffocating, and then we drove out.

There are everything in the supermarket, and one can buy it all.

Jade Jinyuan chose very carefully, walked in front of many kinds of shampoos, and kept asking me: “Livia, do you say we buy moisturizing type or sterilizing type?”

“Anything.”

“Why don’t we buy both and use them instead.”

“You figure it out.” I was absent-minded, Puppy always poked his head out of his bag to sell cute.

I found that Jade Jinyuan is really suitable to be its owner, because it is a bit silly.

In the end, we bought a lot, including dog food alone.

I was worried: “Where can I put so much mess?”

“Put it in my room.” He patted his chest: “I put it in the cabinet, they will not turn over my cabinet without cleaning.”

“Anyway, if the Dongchuang incident happens, you have to take it all down.”

“Ann, I won’t betray you.”

Back to Jade’s house with a bunch of dog supplies, we took him to the bath.

I thought it was gray, but after taking a bath, I found it was white. After drying it, it looked like a cotton candy, which was very cute.

I was reluctant to let go, Jade Jinyuan looked at me with a smile on his arms: “Are you girls all looking at their faces? Now that they look good, you like them?”

I ignored him, and he said: “Let’s give it a name!”

There must be a name. I thought about it: “Snowball?”

“This kind of name is too common, it’s better to be like this. Your name is Livia, and my name is Jade Jinyuan. It’s called Abyss. Wow, what a profound name.”

I couldn’t help but roll my eyes: “Whether it’s called Marshmallow or Snowball, you choose one.”

“Called the abyss.”

“abyss.”

Suddenly, the puppy in my arms gave a small cry, and Jade Jinyuan happily danced on his forehead with his eyebrows: “Look, it likes the name Abyss, so it’s called this.”

“It’s too awkward.”

“Well, let’s call it Marshmallow!” He knew the current affairs well and compromised on the edge of my explosion.

In this way, there is one more dog in my life, and Jade Jinyuan.

He was tired of being in my room all day, and he told me that the dog is usually with me. If Naven comes to my room, I will send it to him.

Jade Jinyuan seems to know that I and Naven sleep in separate rooms, and he doesn’t come to my room often.

But once the topic was changed, he stopped mentioning it and I didn’t say it.

Marshmallow is very edible, and its eating appearance can be described as ferocious.

Because it is too small, I used goat milk powder to soak milk cakes for it. Just soaked here, it takes about two minutes to finish eating. Then I kept licking the plate for fear that it was not full. One-third of a pack of milk cake has been eaten in a day, so I am afraid it will break.

In the evening, the chances of Naven coming back for dinner are generally very low. He did not come back for socializing tonight, so I am happy to relax.

After eating, I play cotton candy, the room is big, it can run like a girl.

But I didn't expect Naven to return in the middle of the night, and I heard the voice of him coming out of the car and talking to the domestic servant outside the window.

"The third master is back, I'll change the sheets for you right away."

Naven has a lot of problems. He also has a slight habit of cleanliness. The bed sheets will need to be replaced in a few days.

"I'll change it tomorrow. I live in Livia's room today."

"Oh oh oh, good."

I got up from the bed as a Ji Ling, what does he mean? Want to live in my room tonight?

What about marshmallows?

I looked down at the fragrant marshmallow sleeping beside me, and hurriedly picked it up and rushed out the door barefoot.

Jade Jinyuan lives on the same floor as me. I lined up his goalkeeper and stuffed him with marshmallows: “Naven is back.”

His sleepy eyes seemed to have not reacted yet, and I turned around and ran to my room.

It’s a risk. The first day of adopting marshmallows was so exciting. What can I do with my little heart in the future?

Naven’s brain is broken, why come to live in my room?

I was pressing on the door and panting. Suddenly, Naven pushed the door hard, and I staggered a few steps forward.

He was slightly drunk and looked at me with his eyebrows curled up: “Why are you here?”

“My own room, where is it not here?”

“Are you sleeping next to the door?”

It seems that he didn’t see me running back from the door of Jade Jinyuan’s room, fortunately fortunately.

“I’m sleepwalking.” I simply said, he obviously didn’t believe it.

But he didn’t feel entangled, so he undressed and threw away his coat at will: “Go to my room and get pajamas. I’ll take a shower first.”

Chapter 52

“Why?” I was a little confused.

“What and why? Why take pajamas?” He turned his head and looked at me impatiently.

People are really different. I didn't feel oppressed after spending a whole day with Jade Jinyuan, but Naven was only a few minutes in front of me, and I felt out of breath.

“No, I just don't understand why you want to sleep in my room?”

“Are we brothers and sisters?” He grinned evilly.

“Of course not.”

“You are my wife, why can't I come to sleep?” He walked into the bathroom and dropped a sentence: “I want that blue nightgown.”

Naven is really annoying Creatures, no matter how handsome they are, they are so hateful.

I scolded in my heart, but I still had to help him get his nightgown.

I knocked on the door: “I brought it, where is it?”

“Of course I put it inside, or I will come out naked?”

I had to push the door and go in, squinting the whole time without squinting.

I put all his pajamas on the shelf: “You can get it as soon as you reach out.” Because of the tragedy of being pulled into the shower by him, I ran away quickly.

He still opened the glass door, I almost screamed, but this time he didn't tugged at me: "Why does this shower gel smell so weird?"

When the door was opened, a really strong smell came out of it, and I looked back. After a glance, Naven was full of bubbles and looked funny.

"You use too much." I hurriedly turned my head again.

"It only used a little bit."

"What did you use, show me."

He held a bottle in his hand and stabbed me in the waist. I didn't look back and fumbled and took it. It was a dog's bath shampoo. No wonder I smelled so familiar with the smell, so I took a bath with cotton candy in the afternoon.

"Uh, it may be that the lady's shower gel is not suitable for you."

I wanted to hide the shampoo, but Naven immediately saw it through, and he snatched the shampoo.

As if to be seen through, I first slipped out of the bathroom to make excuses. After a while, Naven walked out of the bathroom. The bubbles on his body were washed away, and the whole person smelled like a dog.

I held back the urge to laugh and lowered my head, but my body was trembling because of the laughter.

He was holding the dog shampoo in his hand, and he almost stabbed the shampoo into my face with a blatant look: "What is this?"

"Bath shampoo." I answered honestly.

“Do you treat me as illiterate?”

“Canine shampoo.” I held back a smile.

“Why do you have dog shampoo in your bathroom?”

“Bought it wrong.” I looked up at his wet hair: “I didn’t expect you to come to my room to take a shower.”

“Bought wrong? Pet stuff They are all sold on a specific shelf, why would you buy the wrong one?”

“Anyway, I didn’t mean to fix you. Besides, dog shampoo can also be used. The cleaning effect is more significant, and you are fragrant now.”

He I was very annoyed. I felt like he was going to pour the entire bottle of shampoo on my head: “I am a dog.”

“That’s just your psychological effect. The shampoo is still very fragrant.”

“You help me wash it again.” He suddenly grabbed my wrist and dragged me into the bathroom.

I knew that I could not escape the clutches of the clutches, and I blamed Jade Jinyuan. He insisted on adopting cotton candy, so I had to help Naven take a bath the first day.

I closed my eyes and took a shower and poured it on him. He held my hand and said, “You water me like a banana tree?”

He has a lot of things. Dog shampoo people can’t use it. Won’t die.

“I’m sorry.” I have a good attitude.

I poured normal shower gel in my hand and wiped it on his body. When I felt his body was hot, I knew that the food was broken.

Suddenly I in him was very close, his voice hoarse but charming: "You seduce me? Touch me on my body?"

Who wants to touch him? It was he who insisted that I wipe the shower gel for him.

I raised my hands up high: "Then you wipe it yourself, I'll clean it for you."

He smiled at me strangely, and my hair was creepy.

Suddenly, he tugged on my pajamas: "Are you not uncomfortable wearing your clothes and sticking to your body?"

He cares about me?

"It's not uncomfortable."

"I look uncomfortable." He pulled down my pajamas hard, and I found that most of my clothes were torn by him now.

Encountering such a beast made me want to cry without tears.

So, no surprise I was given something by him tonight. I was surrounded by the smell of dog shampoo.

I find the smell of dog shampoo is very persistent, once it is used, it can't be washed away.

However, it can hide the fact that Marshmallow slept in my bed today.

When Naven pressed me on my bed, he suddenly buried his head and sniffed my sheets, and smelled suspiciously: “You also used this shampoo?”

“Ah.” I looked at him: “Yes. Ah.”

“Oh, it seems that you have a hobby in this area?”

“What hobby?”

“Use dog shampoo.” He bit his lip, and approached me and smelled it: “You don’t seem to have it on your body.”

“It’s because your body is too strong to smell. For example, people who drink alcohol can’t smell it. Drinking.”

He suddenly lowered his head and k*ssed my lips: “Neither are on your lips.”

“I didn’t drink it again.”

Suddenly , he was pressed down and wrapped around me like a huge octopus.

Naven’s ability in this area has always been superb, and he can always exhaust me.

I hope he will go out to smoke after the incident or return to his room after he finishes his work.

However, he kept his arms around me and smelled it on my head: “Why do you smell like a dog?”

“It’s the smell of shampoo.” I pushed him away.

“No, it’s the smell of a dog.” His nose is called a dog nose.

“You don’t like dogs?”

“I hate dogs the most.” He stared into my eyes: “I was bitten by a dog when I was a kid, so the creature I hate the most is a dog, and more.” He added overcastly. The last sentence: “You.”

I

became angry: “You hate me and still do this to me.” “You hate you to sleep with you.” His reason is really good, but it is unreasonable.

“Okay, you have gone to bed, can you go back to your own room?”

“I will sleep in your room tonight, and your days at our Jade’s house will be better.” He smiled sinisterly: “People around the world know about your life experience. Sister-in-law and Sister-in-law must be embarrassed by you. I’m helping you.”

Should I thank him?

I looked at him: “How do you know?”

He shrugged, “I know everyone in our family, and I know Jade Jinyuan.”

He suddenly mentioned Jade Jinyuan, and I was caught off guard.

“Huh?”

“Stay away from my brother.” The smile on his lips disappeared for a moment.

Although his smile was not very friendly just now, I would rather he have a smile than when he was expressionless.

Chapter 53

I'm sure Naven has eyeliner in Jade's house, otherwise why would he know what I do?

He even knew that Jade Jinyuan was in my room all day, so he came to warn me this evening.

He slept with me and told me with my body that I belong to him now.

From body to soul.

Naven is always able to crush my consciousness, spirit and sense of existence.

I can't look at each other for more than a minute and then we'll lose.

I lowered my head: "Jade Jinyuan came by himself."

"I'm very curious about what you guys can talk about all day long?"

"Nothing to talk about."

"Livia, I told you this today not because I care about you, but because I care if you are close to my brother, he is still a child, please stay away from him!"

I was very uncomfortable when I heard this, and I couldn't help refuting: "I am not a prodigal, I know he is your brother."

“You are not a freak, you always have your childhood sweetheart in your heart.” He raised his eyebrows.

Why did the topic turn to Simon?

In fact, Simon didn't call me today. Since we met again yesterday, he has not reacted at all.

I think it must have something to do with what Naven did yesterday.

I am very frustrated. The existence of Naven has given me countless frustrations.

I surrendered: “Naven, I promise that I won't go in the 20-meter radius of your brother in the future, okay?”

He sneered: “I hope you can do it.”

I lay down on the bed and just touched the pillow, but he pulled me over with my back waist.

I curled up like a shrimp, and he hugged me from behind.

In fact, this sleeping position can make me feel safe, but the person holding me is Naven.

This person should be my nightmare.

He took me for the first time, and now he has become the one who can ask for me anytime, anywhere. I can't refuse.

Naven slept with me all night, and woke up the next morning. I woke up and he hadn't left yet. He was standing next to my bed like a telephone pole.

“Tie.” He said concisely.

I got up from the bed and put on a chicken coop to help him tie his tie.

When I helped him tie his tie, Naven seemed to have been looking at me. His eyes were so hot that the top of my head was hot.

“Livia.”

“Huh?” I shook my hand and almost drew him: “What’s the matter, is it a wrong number?”

“Are you planning to do another DNA test for you and your father?”

He suddenly mentioned that I was a little surprised. Is he caring about me?

of course not.

I lowered my head and hummed, “This is not important.”

“It’s you who dare not face it? I’m afraid you are really not your father’s daughter and will be swept out by our Jade family?”

“You can rest now, I can.” I told the truth.

He suddenly squeezed my chin: “I can choke you to death now, you choose.”

“Murder is illegal.”

“Maybe, I am not breaking the law to kill.” He smiled triumphantly: “I can circumvent the law.”

“Okay.” When it comes to paternity testing, I feel a little wilted.

At this time, the phone I placed on the bedside table rang, and I looked down and glanced down at Simon.

I immediately wanted to pick it up, but Naven gave me a step ahead.

He connected and put it in his ear: "Lawyer Nate?"

He turned on the speakerphone, and Simon's slightly surprised voice came from the microphone: "Mr. Jade?"

"Yeah, very surprised? My wife and I just woke up early in the morning, what's the matter?"

Simon paused: "Where is Livia?"

"My wife, in the shower, oh, she called me, I have to send her clothes, and let her call you later."

He hung up the phone and threw it on the bed. This kind of pediatric behavior he did not get tired of.

"Why are you doing this? Do you know that this will make people think you are jealous."

"I explained the reason yesterday. If you have to think like this, I don't care."
He shrugged and adjusted his tie: "Livia, don't think that the more men around you, the more attractive you are. During the duration of my marriage, don't make trouble for yourself."

Is this Naven's advice or warning to me?

I watched Naven walk out of my room, and I was relieved.

From last night to now, my Xuan has been tense, for fear of being broken by myself.

I quickly called Simon back, but I didn't know how to explain that Naven would answer my call. Simon's voice still sounded very calm.

"Livia, my suggestion here is to do an appraisal. You can figure out your own life experience, and you will also know what direction you are going in the future, even if it has nothing to do with your lawsuit."

"Oh," I said, "I will think about it."

"Don't think about it, you will go to court next Monday, you have four days left."

"Simon Nate, I will think about it, and I will reply to you later."

"Don't give you an answer, think about it yourself." He seemed to be about to hang up, so I hurriedly called him.

"Just now, Naven was talking nonsense, just ignore him."

"I, I can't ignore him, Livia, maybe we haven't seen each other for too long, I think we are not as pure as before."

Yes, how pure, I am married to Naven, and I have slept with him many times.

How pure?

I was silent for a long time, but still hung up.

I found a small box in the drawer, which was filled with father's white hair.

I unplug my own one and compare it with Dad's.

I have been procrastinating, Lina urged me, Simon urged me, even Naven urged me.

They all know that I have only one way to deal with the problem, which is to shrink my head into the turtle shell like a tortoise.

It is a pity that I am not a tortoise, and my shell is not that strong.

I found a small plastic bag, put my hair and dad's hair in it, and walked out of the room holding the bag.

I met Jade Jinyuan in the corridor: "Livia, go to my room to see the cotton candy, he ate a lot in the morning and pulled a lot."

I stood far away from him: "I have something to go out, you take care of the marshmallow first."

I promised Naven to stay away from his brother in the future.

He looked at me as if I was a lewd slut*, and I would seduce as long as it was a man.

I can only say that he doesn't understand me too much.

I drove out of Jade's garden and called Lina on the way.

"I decided to do a DNA test, and now I am on my way to the testing center."

"You wait for me, Livia, my father knows the person in charge of the center, so I can speed up the time for you, and there will be results in two hours.

Is it so fast? I can't accept it soon.

“Oh.” I said: “Then I will wait for you at the testing center.”

Chapter 54

With the advancement of society and advanced technology, the waiting time will be shortened a lot.

For example, DNA testing used to take many days, but now it can be done in two hours.

I gave the hair samples of my father and myself to the doctor, and then Lina waited with me on the side.

She has been comforting me: “Whether it is or not, you have to figure it out yourself?”

“Naven said the same thing to you this morning.”

“Oh?” She turned to look at me: “You communicated early in the morning?”

Her focus on my sentence was off track.

“Well, we slept last night.” There was nothing wrong with Lina, so I just confessed.

She touched her chin and studied me: “No wonder I think your skin is so moisturized today.”

“fu*k off.” I was in a bad mood and looked forward with my chin in my hand.

“What’s going on with Naven now, why are you addicted to sleep?”

“When he gets angry, he sleeps with me.”

“Why is he angry?”

“Because he used dog shampoo yesterday?”

“Why does he use dog shampoo?”

“Because I raised a dog yesterday.”

“Huh?” Lina was very interested: “Really, how can you keep a dog?”

“Pick it up.”

“Didn’t you say that the Jade family does not allow pets?”

“Not all Jade Jinyuan.”

“Who is Jade Jinyuan?” She took my hand and stared at me: “How do I feel that you were suddenly thrown out of your life? I have never heard of this name.”

“It’s Naven’s younger brother, who has just returned from a foreign country.”

“Really, Naven also has a younger brother, but what does it have to do with his younger brother?”

“He kept pestering me to keep a dog, and then he left it, and Naven went to my bathroom to take a bath at night and used the wrong shampoo for the dog.”

“Why did Naven go to your bathroom to take a shower?” Lina could always grasp the core of my whole sentence.

I thought about it and told her: “I don’t know either.”

Lina bit his lower lip and thought for a long time: “Livia, as you and Naven develop, the relationship will become very strange. Have you thought about what you and Simon will do?”

“I.” I also bit my lip: “I don’t want to see him anymore, you can help me tell me something in the future.”

“why?”

“I am so unclear with Naven now, how can I meet Simon again?” I held my cheek in distress.

“You don’t like him?”

“of course not.”

Lina squatted in front of me and put her face on my knees: “If you like Simon very much, please divorce Naven!”

“Our contract is still half a year, and it will be half a year before we can get divorced. Now Naven will not let me go.”

“That,” Lina rolled his eyes: “I will help you watch Simon for the past six months, and promise not to let other girls approach him, okay?”

I didn’t answer her, I just sighed heavily.

Two hours passed faster than I thought. The doctor called my name at the door of the office: “Miss Livia, please come in.”

I was nervous for no apparent reason, and my calf was trembling.

Lina supported me: “I will accompany you in.”

I asked the doctor: "Can you?"

The doctor nodded: "If you don't mind."

Of course I don't mind, Lina and my life have long been mixed together, and they are inseparable.

She went in with me, and the doctor put the appraisal report on the table in front of me and pushed me: "The appraisal result is out, you can read it, Miss Livia."

I glanced at Lina and hesitated.

She took the lead in picking it up for me and said to me: "Or, let me help you see?"

"Yeah." I nodded: "You can read it for me and tell me the answer."

I just need to know if it is or not, it's that simple.

Lina opened the report, her eyeballs twirling in her eye sockets, quickly scanning line by line.

Finally she finished reading, holding the report and staring at me in a daze.

The look in her eyes disturbed me, and I swallowed, "How?"

"Actually, Livia, you have the answer in your heart, don't you?" Lina, who was rarely going straight, was also so roundabout. Looking at her like this, I have basically guessed the result.

"What is it? You can say it directly."

“The one you think in your heart is the result.”

“You tell me.” I couldn’t help but yell at her: “Don’t sell it.”

I know she is not selling off her, she just doesn’t know how to tell me.

Suddenly she opened her arms and hugged me: “Livia, you still have me, you still have Brother Boat...”

I understand, I know the result.

The report in Lina’s hand slipped from her hand and fell to the ground. It happened to be opened on the last page. My eyesight was very good. I could see the words in the last column clearly.

As mentioned above, Livia, the person sent for inspection, and Ron, the person sent for inspection, were 99.99% inconsistent with the conditions, and it was determined that it was not a biological father-daughter relationship.

Sure enough, I really am not Dad’s daughter.

Although I already had the answer in my heart, I still felt like someone had dropped a big ice cube in my chest, freezing me from the inside out.

My body was very stiff in Lina’s arms. She patted me hard and hugged me: “Livia, you believe that uncle must have known your life experience a long time ago, but he still loves you as always and leaves it to You have a lot of inheritance.”

I lifted my head from her arms and looked at her blankly: “Do you think Dad knew it from the beginning?”

“Sure.” Smith Xie scratched his scalp: “I remember hearing my mother and godmother talking together when I was a child, as if talking about the four words Dad Shengsheng, but your father was on the side, not like talking about him. “

“When did this happen?”

“It’s been many years ago, and now I think it’s suspicious.”

Lina and I looked at each other for a while, then jumped up at the same time: “My mother must know! Go home and find my mother!”

Lina pulled me and hurried out of his office before thanking the doctor.

My mother and Lina’s mother have a good relationship, so Smith’s mother must know.

Lina drove the car like the Rockets all the way: “My mother has a black belly, and she didn’t tell us the secrets she had suffered for so many years.”

When we arrived at Smith’s house, Smith’s mother was about to go out for tea with his wife. Lina opened her arms to stop her.

Ms. Smith was very happy to see me: “Livia is here, Mother Liu, go make some snacks that Miss Livia likes, Livia, sit down, I’ll go out for a cup of tea first.”

“Mom.” Lina winked and let Liu Ma go first, and then still stopped: “I have something to ask you, if you don’t explain it well, don’t go anywhere today.”

“This kid, what’s the matter?” Mother Joe frowned: “Go away, don’t delay me going out to show off my wealth, you see, your dad bought me a new watch, a global limited edition.” Mother Joe raised her eyebrows. Her arm showed us: “The back is all rubies.”

Chapter 55

“Mom, I ask you, have you known Livia’s life experience a long time ago?”

Mother Joe’s raised arms slowly lowered. From the look of her face, she seemed not surprised that we asked her this question.

She said slowly: “Livia went to do a paternity test?”

“Yeah.” I nodded.

“The results of it?”

“Mom, do you still need to ask? You already knew it.”

Mom Smith took my hand and looked at Lina again: “It depends on the situation, if I don’t tell you, you must not let me go out?”

“you guess.”

Mother Joe sighed and sat down on the sofa, patted the other side: “Sit down, debt collector!”

Lina sat down beside Mom Smith, picked up the tea on the coffee table and drank it.

Mother Smith has been watching me for a long time, her eyes are compassionate, and I subconsciously feel that she must tell some shocking stories.

She paused for a while before she spoke: “Yes, I know that Ron is far from Livia’s biological father. Ron Yuan is really a good person. He has always known it, but he always treats Livia as his biological daughter.”

I was holding the tea cup, my fingers trembling.

Mother Smith squeezed my hand hard: “Actually, I met Livia’s biological father.”

“Ah? What kind of?” Lina’s voice was so loud, I was shocked.

“Back view.” Mother Joe added.

“Just the back view?”

“Well, I went to Livia’s mother for tea that day. I just saw a man walking out of your house. He quickly got into the car parked at the door. I didn’t see his appearance. I only saw it once. . After I walked in, your mother kept crying, saying that he would take you away.”

I looked at Ms. Joe, stuck in my throat, unable to speak.

“At that time, you were still very young. She never concealed the fact that you were not Ron Yuan’s daughter. Later, Ron Yuan came out and negotiated with that man not to interfere with your mother and daughter’s lives. You have changed since that day. Became Ron Yuan’s daughter.”

I still hear: “Why am I not my father’s daughter? My mother is my father’s first love.”

“They separated for a period of time. In fact, your mother had a marriage, but it ended very quickly. Only after having you did she reunite with your father. I think because your mother got sick very early, she knew she couldn’t keep on Taking care of you, so Ronyuan said that she didn’t tell you your life experience, and your mother also acquiesced. Because in the future, if you are brought back to Ron’s house, if it has nothing to do with Ron, your stepmother will bully you even more.”

It turned out to be like this, not as complicated and bizarre as I thought.

I am the child of the marriage after my mother and father separated.

Without the bloody plot of my mom betraying my dad that I had imagined before, suddenly my heart felt a lot more comfortable.

Actually, I don't mind that I'm not a father's child, I don't mind that my mother bears him.

It turns out that not everyone's world is full of dog blood.

Mom Smith cried, ran out of most of the box of tissues, and spent all her crying makeup: "Your mother told me before leaving, don't tell you when it's a last resort, just let you live by Ronyuan's side. Go down, Ron Yuan will take good care of you, who knows he suffered such a disaster."

"Then, do you know who my father is?"

"Your mother has never mentioned it, and I don't ask. What's so good about the past. Your mother has never loved him. Your mother has always loved your father, and your father has always had you in her heart. mom."

I wiped my eyes and wiped Mother Joe's face with a paper towel: "Godmother, I made you cry too."

"Now, I try not to think about your mother. My heart hurts even when I think about it. Your mother and I are bloodless sisters."

"It's mainly that your current wives are all competing against each other. Is it interesting?" Lina wiped away tears.

Mother Smith glared at her and stood up from the sofa: "I'm going to put on some makeup and I'm going out, and I can eat it all. Livia, you have always been able to bear it, as long as you know that your father and your mother love you very much. That's it, as for whose child it is not that important."

I watched Mother Smith walking up the stairs, her back wet and cold sweat dripping all over.

"Livia." Lina patted me on the shoulder: "Are you okay!"

"It's okay, this result is the best I expected." I tried to smile with Lina: "Now that I know the truth, I am relaxed."

"I'll make a call to Brother Boat." Lina took the phone as he said, and I hurriedly held her hand.

"Why call him?"

"Tell him the result of the appraisal, and let him help us analyze whether the result has anything to do with the lawsuit."

"He said it didn't matter."

"That's also going to be called. He said that he must tell him if there is any result." Lina called, I went aside, I didn't want to listen.

I don't want to hear Simon's voice, I don't dare to listen.

A person who has been buried in my heart for so many years, I see him in the face I am now.

The little strawberry on the neck of Naven in the parking lot yesterday noon has not completely disappeared today. I was wearing a turtleneck, which was quite hot today, and covered it tightly.

And what Naven said to Simon in the morning, I only feel ashamed when I face Simon again.

I feel as if I have abandoned the persistence in my heart.

I was silly looking at the scenery of Lina's garden, and her phone call had already been made.

She ran over to me and said, "Brother Boat asked us to have lunch."

"I'm not going anymore, you can eat with him, you just need to show him my report."

"Are you sure you are not going?"

I shook my head: "You took me back to Jade's house without any trouble. My car is pulled in the appraisal center."

"Give me the car key, you drive my car back, and I will help you get it back."

Lina is really my right arm, what should I do without her?

I returned to Jade's house and just opened the door of my room. Jade Jinyuan didn't know where he came from and grabbed my wrist: "Livia, where did you go this morning?"

He dragged me to his room, and I forcefully broke away his hand: "Don't pull or pull."

He held marshmallows in his arms and hadn't seen him all morning. Why do I think it has gained weight again.

It's really cute, its eyes are like black beans.

I took it from Jade Jinyuan's arms, rubbed its little head, and hummed comfortably.

"Where did you go this morning?"

"none of your business."

"Why are you so indifferent to me?"

"Go ask your third brother. He thinks I am a scourge. Let me stay away from you." I stuffed the cotton candy into his arms: "I almost wore it yesterday. I suggest you send it away, otherwise I'll give it to a friend of mine who can keep pets."

I can give it to Lina, she is cold, and she will accept it all if I give Jade Jinyuan to her.

Chapter 56

He was holding marshmallows in his arms, and a young man holding a bunch of white hairs didn't seem to violate the peace.

He is really useless, anything is fine.

"Why, didn't you say yes yesterday? Let's raise it together."

"I changed my mind."

“How can you change your mind at any time, you girls are so true.” He stared at me with his mouth flat. “

“Then, you can raise it, it has nothing to do with me.”

I walked out of his room, but not very lucky, I met my sister-in-law.

The jewels she dressed up estimated whether she was going to go shopping or play mahjong, she stopped when she saw me.

“Livia.” She called me sharply.

I was in a bad mood today and nodded to her in a hurry.

“Livia,” she said louder when she saw me ignoring her, “How did you get out of the fourth child’s room?”

“Talk to him a little bit.”

“What do you have to chat with him?”

“Isn’t normal communication possible?” I was in a confused mood, so I spoke hard.

I had never spoken to my sister-in-law like this before, so she was very uncomfortable and looked at me with wide eyes: “Livia, your brain is broken, talk to me like this?”

“Sister-in-law, I’ll go back to the room first.”

“Hey, stop for me.” My sister-in-law took hold of my clothes corner: “As a sister-in-law, you run into your uncle’s room during the day. Are you shameless? Are you afraid that the third child will look down on your identity? Then you go to seduce the uncle?"

"Sister-in-law." I really don't want to fight with her here. I think she has some mental problems: "Why are you always targeting me?"

"Don't you think your identity is not worthy of being in our Jade family?"

I pulled her hand away and walked towards the door of my room, but my sister-in-law fell to the ground and wailed: "Livia, you push me, you push me!"

I really didn't expect my sister-in-law, a celebrity, how could I look at her like a shrew.

"Sister-in-law, I didn't touch you."

At this moment, Mother Jade went downstairs and passed by our floor, and saw my sister-in-law lying on the ground walking in surprise: "What's the matter with you?"

"Mom." Sister-in-law pulled the hem of Mama Jade's skirt: "Livia pushed me."

"What's the matter?" Mother Jade frowned and glanced at me: "Livia, you can explain."

"I was in the corridor just now, and my sister-in-law came over to pull me, and then she fell to the ground."

"Why don't you tell me where you came from? Mom, she came out of my uncle's room? When have you ever seen me enter the second uncle's room and the youngest's room?"

“Shut up!” Mother Jade whispered: “Is it good to hear, your shouting is full of people can hear! You stand up for me, it looks good to lie down here, you are an old man, why Where do you lie down like a shrew?”

“Livia pushed me down.” My sister-in-law mumbled and got up from the ground.

“Mom, she fell on her own, and I took them all.” Jade Jinyuan walked out of his room, holding the phone in his hand and handing it to Mama Jade: “It started with her trouble finding Livia.”

Mother Jade looked down and scolded her sister-in-law: “Xu Xinlan! Come to my room with me!”

“Mom, it’s an ironclad fact that Livia went to the fourth child’s room.”

“You have nothing to do when you are full all day, right?”

This farce ended in Mother Jade’s very upright Three Views.

I have to say that although Ms. Jade doesn’t like me very much and rarely talks to me, she is not partial to anything, so she can shock everyone in this family.

Except for Naven’s pervert.

I smoothed the corners of my clothes and prepared to go back to the room. Jade Jinyuan followed me with a smile: “Next time, don’t be afraid of my sister-in-law. Mom and I will help you out.”

“Just don’t cause me trouble.”

“How could I get into trouble?”

“If it weren’t for you to pull me to your room, there would be no such thing.”

“What age is this? Besides, Xu Xinlan will make it clear that you are wrong. No matter how perfect you are, she will find the difference.”

I didn’t comment, and quickly returned to my room and closed the door.

I need to be quiet, I am messy.

I put in a tank of bath water, very hot and hot water, and then soaked myself in it. I felt like a flame was boiling under the bathtub, and the whole person was almost cooked.

However, it is very comfortable, and all the unpleasantness permeates through the pores with sweat.

I was forced to accept many things today, the kind that I had to accept.

Although I was mentally prepared for a long time, I was still a bit lost.

I wish I was my father’s daughter so that my life would be simpler.

But I am not, and I don’t know who my father is.

I was falling asleep after soaking in the bathtub, in fact I was already asleep.

I dreamed that I went boating with my mom and dad. It was like a Venetian boat with pointed ends. My mom and I were sitting in the middle while my dad was rowing.

My mother is singing, she can sing very well, and the singing penetrates the silent lake.

I lay on my mother's lap and looked at the blue sky with great enjoyment. My life was so peaceful and far away.

Suddenly, our boat seemed to hit a rock, and the small boat could not carry so many of us.

I fell into the water and stretched out my hand to the surface weakly and fearfully.

I saw my parents' panicked faces across the clear water, they were calling my name desperately.

I panted, but drank a lot of water as soon as I breathed in.

The lake here is fragrant and smells of rose essential oil.

I drank the water in gulp and it was very uncomfortable. I felt that all the water had accumulated in my chest cavity. My chest cavity swelled into a big blister.

"Livia, Livia..."

Many people are calling my name, from far to near, from near to far.

Sometimes it's real, sometimes it's empty.

I was very heavy and sank to the bottom of the lake.

Suddenly at this moment, I was thinking, if I drowned, it would be a good thing to drown and never wake up again.

Someone was pressing my chest and I vomited out with one mouth.

The rose-scented water came out of my body, and I seemed to have become a bright and dripping rose.

Suddenly, I woke up.

I opened my eyes wide and looked at everyone who appeared in my sight.

There is the housekeeper of Jade's family, there is Xu's mother, and there is auntie Jiang who takes care of my life because she makes the best sauce.

There is a family doctor named Qu, the family doctor of the Jade family.

And Jade Jinyuan, his beautiful, childish but youthful face kept dangling in front of me.

Oh, so I'm still here.

"Livia, you are awake!"

"Grandma San, you were drowning just now, and most of the water has been drained from the lungs. To be on the safe side, you should go to the hospital for a check."

It turned out that I was not at the bottom of the lake, but at the bottom of the bathtub.

Chapter 57

I was not in the car, I was under the car.

Adu had already sang the essence a long time ago.

I thought I was so miserable and romantic lying at the bottom of the lake, it turned out that I just almost drowned in the bathtub.

“I’m fine.” My voice was hoarse, no wonder I felt the smell of rose oil in the lake just now. It turned out to be bath water.

The doctor said, “I’ll prescribe some medicine for you, and if you feel unwell, you will still have to go to the hospital.”

Then the doctor went out, leaving only Jade Jinyuan in the room.

I said to him: “You too, I will sleep alone for a while.”

“You almost drowned in your bathtub just now.”

I nodded: “Yeah.”

“If I hadn’t come to you, you would have died.”

“Yeah.” I suddenly opened my eyes and stared at him: “Did you find me?”

Then I was not seen by him?

Oh, my unbearable messy life.

“No.” He scratched his scalp: “I knocked on your bathroom door and didn’t respond, and heard the sound of water inside. I knew you were inside, so I asked Xu Ma and the others to come and get you out of it.”

I was relieved and said weakly, “Thank you, hero.”

“You almost died.” He repeated: “When they dragged you out, you didn’t react at all.”

“Hmm.” I was soft and weak.

He sat down in front of my bed: “Livia.” He stared into my eyes: “Are you deliberately trying to drown yourself?”

He meant that I wanted to commit suicide?

I have never had this idea.

I shook my head: “Don’t be smart, I never thought about it.”

“You have, how else would someone drown in a bath?”

I don’t want to argue with him, the whole person is too tired.

I closed my eyes and said to him: “Jade Jinyuan, go out, don’t always dangle in front of me.”

If Naven comes to ask for trouble again, I can’t stand it.

I fell asleep in a daze, wondering when Jade Jinyuan left or if he left.

However, someone pinched my shoulder in the dimness: “Livia, are you dead?”

Who cursed me to death so wickedly?

I opened one eye, like an owl.

It seemed that I was completely awake at the first glance.

Naven stood in front of my bed.

It seems that I really made the matter worse, and it was not time to get off work at night, so I was also alarmed Naven back.

He has a fierce expression and he wants to swallow me in one bite.

“Livia, what are you doing?”

“I didn’t do anything.”

“All the ambulances for bathing and washing are here?”

“Is the ambulance coming?” I fainted, how did I know.

I sighed, my head still dizzy: “I didn’t mean it.”

“I didn’t mean it. I took a shower and almost died at home?”

“If I want to die next time, I will definitely die outside.”

I was very sincere in answering his questions, but he seemed to be getting angry: “Did I let you die outside?”

Are you discussing where I die now?

I am tired, and getting tired.

I looked up at Naven like this. He was too tall, so I couldn’t see his face clearly.

His face seemed to be hidden in the clouds above, too far away from me.

I closed my eyes and ignored him for the first time: “So sleepy, I want to sleep.”

“Would you like to throw you into the bathtub so that you can’t wake up completely from sleep?”

Naven is really mean, I really don’t understand that I was about to die, he was so cruel to me.

I had to open my eyes again and look at him: “Brother, what do you want?”

He sat down in front of my bed, his eyes sharply like a bird with a long beak, he could peck open my chest with his long beak, and it made me riddled with holes.

“Livia, did you do DNA?”

Talking to him is very labor-saving, I don’t need to explain too clearly, he can guess it.

“Hmm.” I said.

“You are not your father’s daughter.”

He guessed all right, I turned over and didn’t want to answer.

He suddenly squeezed my wrist, and it hurt me to death.

“It hurts.” I shouted to him faintly: “I almost died, how will you be kind to me?”

“You still have a needle in your hand.”

Isn’t it? I turned my head to see, yes, I was getting a needle, no wonder the back of my hand hurt when I turned over.

I can only continue to lie down, dripping the water in the bottle into my veins, making me cold all over.

He didn't talk to me anymore, just saying to the people around him: "She needs to be watched for twenty-four hours. If she hurts herself again, she will tie her hands and feet."

He only hurts himself, and only when my brain is broken, I love myself very much.

I was just taking a shower, and then I fell asleep when I was too sleepy.

But I was too lazy to explain to him, I was not as vulnerable as he thought.

I fell asleep in a drowsy state, sleeping like a baby, I would wake up in a while and then fall asleep in a daze.

About midnight, I woke up again, this time not dozing off.

There is a faint light in my room, which can make me sleep peacefully.

There was also a dim light in the outer hall of my bedroom. I stood up with my elbow and took a look. I actually saw Naven sitting on the sofa in the outer hall with Erlang's legs tilted and a computer on his knees. Is looking at the computer seriously.

The bluish light from the computer was printed on his face, and there was a particularly peaceful feeling in this quiet night.

Why is Naven here?

Is he afraid of my suicide and guarding me here?

No, it's not like his personal design. He is sure that I will die in his house, but he should find someone to tie me up. It is definitely not so considerate to guard me.

I was so thirsty, I tried to get up to pour some water, and suddenly I looked up and Naven was already standing in front of me.

Will he teleport or something? It was clearly on the sofa just now.

"What are you doing?" His tone was still vicious.

"I want to drink some water." I said.

"Did you drink enough bath water in the afternoon?" His tone was full of ridicule. That's right, this is Naven.

"The bath water is a bit greasy, I want to drink something refreshing." I lifted the quilt hard, but he pushed me back to the bed with an elbow.

"Isn't it just drinking tap water? I'll get it for you."

Naven turned around and walked towards the outer hall, holding a glass of water in his hand and handing it to me ten seconds later.

If he wants to get tap water, he has to go to the bathroom or the small kitchen in my room. He just goes to the coffee table in the outer hall to pour water, not tap water.

I took it with confidence and drank it, and he stood in front of my bed after drinking.

I hesitated and handed him the cup: "Can you pour another cup for me? I will put it on the bedside table and drink it later."

“You are a whale, so you can drink water?” He said so, but took the glass.

Chapter 58

After I was full of water, I lost my sleep. Naven went back to the sofa and continued to look at his computer. I knew that he was in the office, he was very busy at work, and he was very hard-working. Everyone was afraid of him, including his eldest brother and second brother, who had to look at him.

I was able to see Naven from the angle I was lying on the bed, saying that the man at work is the most handsome. Anyway, Naven is handsome anytime.

I can't sleep anymore, I want to find someone to talk to, no matter who it is.

Now even if there is a ghost in front of me, I can talk.

“Naven.” I called his name.

He didn't even lift his head, and he didn't even glance at me.

“Naven.” I called him again: “Can I talk to you?”

“No.” He refused me concisely.

I know, whatever, since he is here, I just talk to myself, he doesn't listen.

“Naven, the fact that my stepmother took me to court and the fact that I am not my father's daughter must have caused a lot of trouble for your Jade family. Therefore, I think our contract can be ended early, anyway, half a year and late It's nothing for half a year.”

Naven finally had a reaction. He raised his head from his computer and looked at me: “You chose this time to divorce me. You don’t know that this will affect your lawsuit. How about your brain? Did you feed the dog? “

Naven is really cursing people, like a hot slap in the face, one slap can slap me indistinctly.

I heard that Naven held a shareholder meeting in the company, and he was able to cry a few dozen-year-old senior executives or shareholders. Those shareholders are all big men.

It is also common for his assistant secretary to be scolded and cry, except for Russel.

I know the relationship between Russel and him, so he can understand Russel’s extraordinarily kindness.

However, I am now invincible. Maybe I have lived in front of Cora and my stepmother since I was a child. They would stab me with cold words like a knife from time to time. I am used to it.

“It doesn’t matter. Actually, I don’t care if the lawsuit wins or not. I’m not my father’s daughter anymore. How can I divide his property.”

“Are you really indifferent or too hypocritical?” He looked at me distrustfully.

Whatever he thinks of me, I don’t care what image I am in his heart.

“Just treat me as hypocritical!”

Suddenly, Naven stood up and walked over to me. I subconsciously shrank into the bed, fearing that he would suddenly be devilish and drag me up from the bed and beat me up.

“Do you know how much 30% of Ron’s money is?” He stood in front of my bed with his hands in his pockets and asked me condescendingly.

I thought hard and told him: “A lot of money.”

The contemptuous smile on his lips overflowed: “In this way, I will help you win this lawsuit, and you will give me 15%.”

He is really a profitable businessman, or a big devil who cannibalize people without spitting out bones. Last time he threatened me by 10% because of Lina’s affairs, but now it has become 15%.

“That’s Mira Company. What does it have to do with you?”

“Cooperate with me, you still have 15% available, otherwise it will all fall into your stepmother’s hands, and they won’t thank you.” He bent down, supporting the wall behind me with both hands.

He really can conduct business negotiations anytime, anywhere.

“That’s what she deserves. She is my father’s wife. Cora and Mira are my father’s new-born daughters. Everyone is more convincing than me.”

He squinted his eyes, the orange lights gathered in his eyes, and he sneered: “Your hypocrisy really refreshed me.”

He said that I was hypocritical. Maybe in his world, there is no way to understand the interests in front of me. I would actually give in.

He doesn’t understand, and I don’t want him to understand.

“Naven, there are rumors in the Jade family now, I know my current identity is not worthy of your Jade family...”

“You haven’t matched it before.”

He succeeded in killing me in a word, and my chest seemed to be stuffed with cotton, and I couldn’t breathe.

I took a deep breath and nodded: “Then I don’t deserve it now, Naven, let’s get a divorce!”

He lowered his head and shook, I don’t know what he was thinking.

Suddenly, he squeezed my face with one hand, and my cheeks were sunken by him.

“I just said so many high-sounding, in fact you are for your childhood sweetheart, right?”

It hurts when he pinched my face. Seriously, I really didn’t expect Simon when I said these words. Although I am so embarrassed to see him in my marriage with Naven, I didn’t expect it just now. .

I struggled, but the more I struggled, the more painful I felt that my face would burst.

“The reason is that the one I just told you has nothing to do with Simon.”

“I don’t care whether I have anything to do with that lawyer. I remember Livia. In our marriage, I was the person who was going to get married at the beginning, and the person who was going to divorce in the future is also me. The dominant power is always in my hands, understand? “

He released his hand after speaking, my face was numb by him.

I rubbed my cheek, it must be flushed now.

Naven turned around and walked to the door of my room: "Now that I know how to negotiate a divorce with me, I shouldn't die."

"Naven, next time I die, I will die a little bit further. Would you consider my proposal just now?"

He slammed the door away, slamming the door with a loud noise in the middle of the night.

I lay on the bed bored and looked at the ceiling. The wall lamp on the wall has a shell. The light passes through the shell and casts a little halo on the ceiling. It looks a bit like a shell or an arch bridge, forming a more fantastic picture.

I looked at the patterns and fell asleep slowly.

When I woke up the next morning, it was Mama Jade who was sitting in front of my bed. I was shocked. She hurriedly wanted to sit up. She pressed my shoulder.

"Livia." She said mildly: "You lie down, with a hanging needle in your hand."

I played this bottle all night, and just changed a bottle of water after hanging up.

"Mom." I called out without confidence.

When it happened yesterday, Naven thought that I was staring at me suicidally most of the night, and Mother Jade and the others would definitely find me unlucky for things like this, and they didn't know what the anger was.

I hurriedly explained: "I caused everyone trouble yesterday, I didn't mean to..."

Mother Jade shook her head and patted my shoulder suddenly: "It's just an accident. No one wants it. I know you have been under a lot of pressure recently. A lot of things have happened recently. Your father passed away. Your stepmother took you to court. And that kind of rumors..."

"It's not a rumor." I plan to tell the truth: "It's true, my stepmother went to do the identification is true, because I did it too."

Chapter 59

Mother Jade lowered her eyes, and she helped me stroke the wrinkled pajamas. I couldn't see what was wrong with her.

"Some media are very cheap, talking about wild people of unknown origin." Mama Jade is really a real lady. She did not say the word behind, and her tone was slightly angry: "They were raised by their parents. If it's so ugly, it's too unprofessional."

I haven't read the news yet, and I don't know what it's written.

"Regarding the lawsuit, don't worry, Naven will help you. He has a very powerful team of lawyers."

"Dad's legal counsel recommended one to me." I said, "But, in fact, I don't care if the lawsuit is won or not."

No matter what Naven says I am hypocritical or not, I think so.

"Livia, don't think that it is the respect for your father that you give up. I will just ask you, did your father know you were not his daughter before?"

"My godmother said he knew, and always knew."

“That’s it. Now that he knows that he will give you most of the property, you have to fight for reasons to respect your father’s decision.” Mama Jade stood up from the chair and looked at me with gentle brows: ” Don’t worry, in this home, those chewing tongues are not worth it, but I can’t stop everyone’s mouths. Living alone in the world has to bear the pressure, it depends on whether you can survive it. “

Since I married into Jade’s family, today is the most time Mom Jade has said to me.

I don’t think it’s a big deal if she said something that’s not painful or itchy, but this kind of heart-warming remarks brought tears to my eyes.

I found that I was getting easier and easier to cry.

Lina came to see me. I was sitting on the bed eating abalone porridge. Xu Ma cooked it for me. It was very slippery and fresh.

Lina came to see me with a lot of snacks, and sat down by my bed. I was about to ask her if she could eat porridge, and asked Xu Ma to serve her a little, but suddenly she hit me hard. My tears burst out.

“What are you doing?” I rubbed the painful arm.

“Yesterday, I thought you were trying hard, asking if you want me to accompany you. You said that you don’t need it, but you turned your head around and just played this.”

“Which one to play?” I was a bit inexplicable, and I forgot to chew a large piece of abalone in my mouth.

“You are dying, how can you be worthy of your father, how can you be worthy of me, how can you be worthy of my mother?” She kept patting me, she was so big and expert, I was about to be photographed to death by her.

“What did I do?” I protected the abalone porridge in my hand while avoiding her attack.

“Is there anything in the world that can’t survive? Your mother almost fainted when she knew that you had committed suicide. She held me and cried for a long time.”

“I didn’t commit suicide, I really fell asleep in the bathtub.” I put the bowl on the table.

“You don’t lie.” She glared at me.

“Who told you?”

“Naven.”

“Naven?”

“Well, he called me and asked me to pay attention to your state when I was with you recently. He said that you have a tendency to commit suicide subconsciously.”

“Leave him...” I didn’t say the word fart, because Xu Ma walked into my room and brought tea to Lina with a tray in her hand.

“Don’t listen to him, how could I commit suicide.” He lowered his voice.

Xu Ma put the tray on the coffee table: “Miss Smith, almond cookies have just been baked in the kitchen. See if it suits your appetite.”

“Mother Xu, I will eat later, and I will solve this girl’s matter first.”

“You chat, you chat.” Xu Ma smiled and exited our room.

Lina's mouth was filled with almond cookies, staring at me from the corner of his eyes, looking serious from this angle.

"You really didn't commit suicide?"

"Really do not have."

"Then how can you drown yourself in the bath?"

"Isn't it dead? The bath water was too comfortable, so I fell asleep, and then slipped into the bathtub."

"Who found you?"

"Jade Jinyuan."

"Naven's younger brother?" Lina's eyes opened wider, "In other words, your fruit body is seen by your younger uncle? Oh, oh, irritating!"

"No, he came and knocked on the door without knocking, so he asked the servant to carry me out, not what you thought."

"When did you and Naven's brother get so close?"

"You have too many questions." My nose is full of the aroma of her almond cookies.

"Anyway, you didn't commit suicide?"

"really not."

“Perhaps.” Lina approached me: “You didn’t want to commit suicide, but you have suicidal thoughts in your subconscious. So when you fall asleep, your subconscious appears, occupying your brain, and decide kill you.”

“You are nervous, I watch too many horror movies.”

“Livia, I think you have a feeling of being utterly disgraced, but since you have been used to covering up since childhood, you hide this feeling very well, even you don’t know it.”

“When did you study psychology?” In my cognition of Lina, she is an athlete who can use force but never use her brain.

“Naven told me.”

“What’s the situation?” I couldn’t help narrowing my eyes: “How much did Naven say to you?”

“I also find it strange. He called me early in the morning and said this, but I think what he said makes sense!”

What does Naven mean to call Lina to analyze my mental condition?

I was upset and couldn’t breathe: “Joe, can you go back first, the air in my room becomes thinner when you are with me.”

“You have no conscience. My mother cried all morning and asked me to bring you soup. You still dislike me. In short, I tell you, I don’t care what your subconscious mind is. If you have this kind of snuggle, I will never forgive you.”

“No matter what kind of accident, I will be dead. I don’t know if you don’t forgive me.”

Lina stamped the thermos in front of me: “Drink!”

“What soup?”

She helped me twist the thermos barrel, and an indescribable smell came out of it.

“It looks like watercress and hyssop soup.”

Smith’s mother is beautiful and she is proficient in all kinds of piano, chess, calligraphy and painting, so her father Smith loved her to the death.

However, even the almighty beauty has shortcomings, and that is cooking.

I learned the cooking skills of Ms. Smith when I was a child. I cooked some porridge, and the taste is so irritating that I can still feel it now.

Watercress and Achyranthos Bone Soup was only what Joe’s mother thought of.

“Anything to say?”

“My mother said, these two names are better together.”

Okay, I watched Lina pour the soup of unknown color from it, and my stomach was upset.

“Can I not drink it?”

“Originally, you could not drink it, but you actually tried to commit suicide and want to leave me. You must drink it all.”

She poured a bowl and handed it to my mouth: “Drink!”

I didn't dare to inhale, and the smell went into my nose as soon as I inhaled.

"I want to go back in time now, and go back to when I was flooded yesterday, and just drown."

Chapter 60

Lina is still kind, she is fierce, she still didn't let me drink the soup, and she took it off after I had it. The stewed soup, I'll take it and pour it later."

"Not so good!"

"Then you drink it!"

"It's still down."

She gave me a blank look, poured the soup back, and decided to teach me a long way, seeing her appearance.

A bang bang bang came from downstairs outside the window. She pricked her ears and listened: "What's going on?"

"It should be Jade Jinyuan playing basketball."

"Playing basketball?" Lina immediately came to his mind, ran to the window and looked out, almost jumping out of the window excitedly: "Oh, basketball! That kid is Naven's brother, right? Basketball is fine. Livia, Livia is going to play basketball!"

"How do I fight like this, let me say I don't..." Before I finished, Lina ran out like a gust of wind: "I'm going to play with my brother!"

"Joey..."

She will show unparalleled enthusiasm when she sees basketball, but this is also good, at least she will not continue to nag me, my ears are much quieter.

Lina's voice soon came from outside: "We score more goals than anyone else. We gamble on ten ice cream, and whoever loses eats."

This is Lina's style. When he was in college, he used to be like this. Because the family is rich, people bet on a meal or an ice cream or a few bottles of soda. Those who lose ask the other person to eat.

But the wealthy Lina will pay for it himself and buy a lot for the other party to eat.

Once I had diarrhea from several basketball teams who often played basketball with her. For a while, no one played with her.

Mother Xu came up to collect the bowls and smiled and said to me: "Miss Smith is really lively. I only met the Fourth Young Master, and they started playing basketball."

"Yes." I said, "She is self-familiar."

"I'm well-acquainted, Miss Smith has a good personality, and the third grandmother, you are also young and beautiful. You must be as happy as Miss Smith."

I looked at Xu Ma in a little stunned. She thought she had said something wrong and hurriedly said: "I'm sorry, Grandma San, am I talking too much."

"No, no, Xu Ma, do I look very upset?"

"Well, you laugh a lot. You smile when you see it, and you smile when you see us, but I don't think your smile is sincere at all, it's not from your heart."

Even Xu Ma can see that my smile is not from the heart?

Am I really unhappy? I really don't even know myself.

No wonder Naven said I was hypocritical last night.

I reluctantly smiled with Xu Ma: "I think it's okay, I don't feel particularly upset."

"But, I just think you are unhappy."

This year, happiness is so difficult!

Maybe, my happiness was reduced by half after my mother passed away, and my happiness was reduced by half after Simon emigrated. Dad took me back to Ron's house. I was happy when he was at home, but most of the days when he was away.

Only when I see Lina, I will smile from the bottom of my heart.

Mother Xu was afraid that I would mind, and she kept apologizing: "I'm just talking casually, Grandma San, don't mind."

I shook my head: "Mum Xu, it's okay, you can tell me everything."

I'm very approachable, maybe too approachable, even Xu Ma would treat me politely at Jade's house.

After sitting on the bed for a long time, I ran to the terrace to watch Lina and Jade Jinyuan play basketball.

Jade Jinyuan usually plays basketball alone. It is rare to find a playmate today, and the two of them are very happy to play.

I held my cheeks on the edge of the railing and watched them play. I watched Lina play basketball for four years in college, but I still know a little bit about it. I only know that I have to put the basketball into the box to win. As for what three-pointers are. I can't figure out the four-pointer.

Jade Jinyuan saw me when he jumped up and talked to me loudly, "Livia, are you better?"

"Yeah." I said.

"Is yesterday's bath water good?"

"It's okay, I can lend you rose oil if you want to drink it."

He laughed, and then he was thrown into a goal by Joe.

He was stunned for a moment: "You are fooling, I was talking just now."

"Play basketball just play basketball, who will let you talk."

"That ball just didn't count."

"Why not count?"

"I'm talking."

"Who asked you to talk?"

The two quarreled. Lina played basketball well, but the quality of the ball was very poor. Usually, no basketball game can be completed in peace.

I sat on the deck chair on the terrace and listened to them quarreling. There was no sun today, but the sky was very clear. White clouds moved slowly in the blue sky, and from time to time there was a bird flying by.

The Jade's garden is beautiful, I don't have time to appreciate it slowly.

Lina and Jade Jinyuan played basketball until noon. I left her for lunch, but she refused: "I am going to my boyfriend today."

"Who is your boyfriend?"

"you forgot?"

I blinked, trying to remember.

"My boyfriend is an artist."

"Oh, I remember, that pastoral painter."

"Correct."

"It's been so many days, is he still your boyfriend?" During this period of time, a lot of things happened. I almost forgot about it. Generally speaking, the duration of Joe's boyfriend will not exceed 48 hours. .

"I haven't seen each other since last time, so I'm serious, do you want to come with me?"

"No." I am disappointed.

"You don't have to go. By the way, I forgot to tell you that Brother Ronjia has asked you to discuss the lawsuit at three points."

“Didn’t you ask you to help me?”

“I’m going to meet my boyfriend!” Lina picked up the thermos: “I told my mother that you had a drink.”

“Lina.” I dragged her: “You can find your boyfriend anytime, you can help me to see Simon.”

“Livia, what are you afraid of?” Lina frowned and looked at me: “What is there to be afraid of?”

“My identity is not convenient now...”

“What’s inconvenient, just talk about things normally, and didn’t let you cheat.” She said really badly.

She ran to the door and waved to me: “At three o’clock in the afternoon, Father Star of Yijiang Road, don’t forget!”

Lina opened the door and ran out. It seemed that she had collided with Ersao in the corridor. I heard Ersao’s sharp voice: “Oh, hey, who is this, a stupid big one, he is about to hit me. died.”

“Who are you, can you speak human words!”

“Someone came to my house...”

The two of them were about to quarrel. I hurried out to pull Lina away and apologize to the second wife: “I’m sorry, this is my friend, this is my second wife.”

“Oh.” Lina nodded, and looked up and down the second sister-in-law: “I have always wanted to know what a woman with a long tongue looks like, it turns out you are like this.”

“Okay, Lina, why are you doing it?” I pushed her downstairs, and the second sister-in-law’s face changed color, but she was not in love and turned back to her room.
