

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 11- 20

Chapter 11

“Miriam, you can’t borrow it!” Sophia was very determined, “The bank won’t lend you money, and you don’t have a house to sell, and the friends around you are even poorer, with a huge sum of two million. Where do you get from? do?”

“Do you think he cares about your relationship with Bryan? Oh, I’m afraid you have noticed it yourself. If he cares about you, he won’t be married for so many years, and he won’t take you to the company to meet colleagues.”

Sophia smiled, and continued: “It’s ridiculous to say that I have been in the company for more than a year, but everyone doesn’t know that Bryan is married. Are you ridiculous?”

It was this simple sentence that crushed the fortress in Miriam’s heart.

Funny, why not?

It was a joke since she married Bryan. There was no wedding, only a marriage certificate and the contract he made, and she was married like that.

“Miriam, stop deceiving yourself.” Sophia took two steps forward, looking down, with an arrogant attitude: “Bryan doesn’t love you, and the gap between you and him is more than a little bit.”

Miriam raised her head to look at Sophia: “When did you stay together and live together?”

Sophia didn't expect Miriam to ask this, but she was stunned, but she didn't say anything, as if pushing everything to Miriam, it just depends on what Miriam thinks.

Miriam smiled, probably all understood, and took out the banknote that Sophia was holding, folded it up and tore it hard.

Fold it three times and tore the banknote to pieces. Raising her hand and throwing it on Sophia's body, her voice was soft: "Marriage, I will leave Bryan, but you can keep this banknote for yourself."

Miriam slammed her shoulder away, and strode away.

No matter how well-bred, Sophia's face was embarrassed, and she shouted at Miriam: "You really don't know what's good or bad!"

Miriam ignored it.

After sending Mother Lu back to his residence, the lawyer called and asked Miriam if he had raised the money. The trial will start in a few days. Miriam said that he must hung up as soon as possible and sighed.

She really regretted that she had known that she would not tear the check so arrogantly. Anyway, she and Bryan are going to divorce. What's wrong with taking Sophia two million for nothing?

Mother Lu asked carefully: "Miriam, is the lawyer urging you?"

"It's okay, I can solve it." Miriam smiled, letting Mother Lu relax, "You help me pack my clothes, I'll go out shopping, and come back to make dinner for you, okay?"

“Miriam, don’t be too embarrassed. There is no other way. Your dad will go to jail for a few years at most, but your mom is just a daughter and you don’t want you to have a bad life.”

“Mom, don’t worry, I have a sense of measure.”

Miriam repeatedly promised that she would not do anything stupid, and this comforted Mother Lu.

After leaving the house, he took out a business card from his pocket and dialed it with his mobile phone: “Brother, do you have time?”

Less than ten minutes after Miriam arrived at the agreed coffee shop, she also came southeast.

He was holding a pink and tender little loli in his arms, about four or five years old, soft and very cute.

After sitting down to the southeast, he smiled helplessly: “Sorry, Tian Tian was a little upset in the afternoon. I went to the kindergarten to pick it up. There was a traffic jam on the road.”

Tian Tian seemed to be a little afraid of life. She kept hiding in Xiang Dongnan’s arms, and when she asked her to shout to the Southeast, she was also unwilling, but occasionally looked at Miriam with those round eyes.

Miriam looked at it with some envy.

She had just married Bryan at that meeting. Every time she saw someone holding a child in her hands, she was very envious, and she racked her brains to figure out ways, such as poke holes in the sleeve, or Shen Bryan drank alcohol to seduce him in an attempt to get him by accident. child.

Bryan was more shrewd than she thought. He would reveal as many things as she did, so that she wouldn't be fooling around. He said that if she doesn't have a child within four years, he won't want it.

Isn't it? Don't do it within four years, they will divorce after four years.

Chapter 12

Miriam thinks she is quite stupid when she thinks about it. How could a man who doesn't love herself have a child? She has lost her plan and failed, otherwise she will have a child and will not have a complete family.

"I'm afraid you won't be enough, so I wrote 2.5 million." To the southeast, he took out a check to Miriam.

Miriam didn't pretend, and took it directly. After confirming, he took out a pen and paper from his bag and wrote an IOU to Xiang Dongnan: "Brother, I will try my best to return it to you within a year."

"This is nothing more than a small amount of money to me." Xiang Dongnan pushed the IOU back and smiled: "Besides, that's also my teacher. You can pay back the money you borrowed, don't worry."

"No, if you don't accept the IOU, I won't borrow the money." Seeing Xiang Nan's behavior, Miriam simply pushed the check back and stood firm.

Xiang Southeast had to fold the IOU and put it in his pocket: "Then I will accept it, but the interest will be ignored."

Miriam wanted to say something, rushing to the southeast to speak in front of her, half-jokingly said: "You have to really feel sorry, otherwise you have time to teach Tian Tian to read words, you should offset the interest, she is a little disgusted to go to kindergarten."

Miriam thought for a while and agreed, “Okay, anyway, I used to study very well.”

“That is, I got to Beijing University for the first time in the province!” Xiang Dongnan also followed with a smile.

Miriam was grateful for borrowing money from Dongqian. Originally, she wanted to invite him to have a good meal. When she left, Xiangdong received a call from the company and asked him to go back and have a look, “I’ll have dinner next time, maybe this time there’s no way.”

“It’s okay, brother, do you go ahead.” Miriam said he could understand.

After watching Xiang Dongnan hugging Tian Tian and leaving, Miriam also left and went to the supermarket to buy vegetables. When she returned to the community, she unexpectedly saw Bryan’s car. He himself was leaning against the car and his face was slightly dark.

“Why did you come here?” Miriam stood still one meter away, and at the same time of questioning, she regretted in her heart. She had long known that she had rented a house to Mother Lu, so she would not tell Bryan her mother’s address.

When Bryan turned his head to see Miriam, his face darkened again, and he strode forward, almost questioning in his tone: “Why are you packing up your clothes and not living there?”

“That’s your house, and I don’t need to live anymore.” Miriam said, avoiding the importance as much as possible: “And my mother often suffers from insomnia. I came over to take better care of her.”

“What about this, what’s the matter?” Bryan held the document in front of Miriam’s eyes. The cover was dazzling with the words ‘Divorce Letter’, and he was not too upset.

There are so many things in the company that he realized that it was already afternoon when he was finished.

He felt that Miriam should have been discharged from the hospital on his own, bought some vegetables and went back, but the house was extremely quiet and there was no sound at all.

It wasn't until he entered the bedroom and saw an empty table that he found that Miriam had packed everything that belonged to her. There were only two coats left in the closet, and there was a divorce letter signed by Miriam on the bedside table.

Inexplicably, he was a little flustered, and he didn't even know why Miriam did this.

Haven't you been fine after three years of marriage?

He dialed the phone very quickly, and he didn't know if Miriam had blacked him out, and no one answered after making a few calls. He kicked the closet with great anger, and his irritability grew.

Later, after calming down, Bryan thought that Miriam had said to rent a house for Lu Mu before, and gave him the address. He immediately went to the drawer and searched for the small note. After finding the small note, he drove straight to the community where Lu Mu lived. I don't know exactly which floor Lu Mu lives on, so she has been waiting downstairs.

"That's what you see." Miriam glanced at the divorce letter, and said calmly: "I want to divorce you."

"Miriam, you!" Bryan's calm expression made Bryan very irritable. She stretched out her hand and grabbed her wrist hard. The bag in Miriam's hand fell and the vegetables spilled all over the floor."It hasn't been four years, why are you? divorce?"

“I’m tired, I don’t want to live it!” After a day of depression, Miriam also broke out and stared at him: “What if we don’t love each other again, and the divorce is wrong?”

Before Bryan said anything, Miriam went on to ask, “Bryan, have you ever loved me?”

Chapter 13

Miriam didn’t have to wait for an answer. She understood everything just by seeing Bryan curling her eyebrows, and then she smiled: “You don’t have to brew and say anything. I know the answer. So, can we let each other go?”

Miriam broke free of his hand and squatted down to see something, but her eyes were a little red.

She was still looking forward to it. As long as she could see a little panic or nostalgia for herself in Bryan’s eyes, she thought she might be soft-hearted, and he would not divorce if he said a few words.

However, this man was too calm, she couldn’t see anything in his eyes, what else could she wish for?

She didn’t even have the courage to question his relationship with Sophia.

Miriam was very calm, carrying things into the building, but Bryan was a little flustered, his body turned faster than his mind, and he went up quickly, blocking her way.

In the three years of marriage, Miriam occasionally played a temperament, and he could endure trouble with him, but when she heard that she was divorced, she felt uncomfortable and subconsciously did not want to believe it.

“Is it because of your father?” Bryan asked, “I’m already looking for someone to help.”

“No, I will solve it myself!” Miriam interrupted him, “It’s not about our divorce.”

“How do you solve it? Two million is not a small amount.” Bryan keenly felt that something was wrong.

Miriam pressed her lips tightly, not wanting to answer any more.

Bryan approached her and said indifferently: “Miriam, the marriage is what you want, and it is as you wish. But, do you divorce when you say divorce? What do you think of me, do you use an old luxury?”

“I didn’t mean that” Miriam wanted to explain, but Bryan directly held her face and k!ssed her.

This k!ss was more fierce than when the two had made each other before, and seemed to be punishing her intentionally.

Miriam felt her whole body heat up, and her mind was a little confused.

This seems to be the second time Bryan k!ssed her apart from their bedtime.

Bryan k!ssed deeply, until the cell phone in his pocket rang and the noisy continued, he ended. He answered the phone with a calm face and impatiently, but he held Miriam tightly with his hands, fearing that she would go upstairs.

“What’s the problem?”

“Singapore? I see. Book a flight for me. I’ll go tomorrow morning.”

Bryan was always clear and neat, and ended the call in three minutes.

When facing Miriam, Bryan felt helpless: "I have something to go to Singapore for a week. I will talk about the divorce when I come back."

Miriam said mercilessly, "It's just a divorce. I have already signed it. You can sign another one."

Bryan tore up the divorce letter in front of her. It is rare that Bryan's tone softened: "Marriage does not end as you say it ends. I also need to consider this matter. Miriam, don't play childish temper."

Miriam laughed angrily.

He still consider?

It's amazing, she was the one who married him, and she was wasting her youth for the past three years, right?

Miriam wanted to hold on to her position, but Bryan raised her hand to touch her head, and naturally took a few shopping bags in her hand, "It's been a long time since I saw my mom, I'll go see her with you."

With a word or two, Miriam softened his heart, and silently led people upstairs.

Mother Lu was a little surprised when she saw Bryan, but when she said hello to Bryan, she nodded and continued to watch the TV series.

Bryan accompanies Miriam to the kitchen to process the ingredients. Miriam cooks, but he slaps her hands. The two don't talk much, as if they were living in their own place. From beginning to end, no one mentioned the divorce.

The apartment Miriam rented to her mother was a one-bedroom apartment. She seemed a bit crowded when she moved over. Of course, it was impossible for Bryan to rest here. Besides, she did not intend to keep him.

After dinner, Bryan watched TV with Miriam for a while, and when it was not early, he got up and left.

“Miriam, give it to me.”

“Don’t you have no legs and can’t leave?” Miriam was unwilling to get up from the sofa. As a result, she couldn’t afford it. Bryan also stood there and didn’t leave until Lu Mu coughed. .

Bryan was worried, and repeated when he went downstairs: “I will talk about the divorce when I come back from a business trip.”

Chapter 14

Miriam didn’t know whether to cry or laugh.

When she got married, Bryan was unwilling, adding conditions and pushing. When she wanted to divorce, he was unwilling again, which really made her unpredictable.

Early the next morning, Miriam went to the bank to withdraw the money.

Two bags full of 2.5 million in cash were a little heavy, so she took it directly to the lawyer’s office: “Lawyer Song, 2.5 million here, should be enough. My father will trouble you.”

Attorney Song checked it out, and he was obviously relieved: “Enough, as long as you make up the stolen money, I will try my best to defend your father.”

“Thank you.” Miriam didn’t know what to say, but thanked again and again.

She should really thank her father for knowing such a good lawyer, and willing to accept such a case, otherwise she would have to worry about finding a lawyer.

“Manager Lu, President Henry wants you to go to his office.”

When Miriam came back from the law firm, the President’s Office called. She had to put down her things and hurriedly arrived at the General Henry’s office before she knew it was a cooperation case.

Their company had a cooperation with the industry’s investment giant Longteng, and they agreed to negotiate next Wednesday, but as the representative attending the negotiation, the director of ectopic pregnancy was lying in the hospital, so they wanted to send Miriam.

“I’m going? Mr. Henry, stop joking!” Miriam couldn’t laugh or cry. “I’m just a statistician. You let me talk about things. Didn’t this push me to the fire pit? I have never touched this.”

“It’s okay, I will send someone to accompany you. You can just follow the contract.” Mr. Henry smiled and said: “I can’t help it. If the company is more eloquent than you, I would be so embarrassed.”

Before Miriam had time to speak, President Henry directly threw down the temptation, “If you go, I will let Finance give you an extra 20,000 for your hard work, and all the inbound expenses will be reimbursed.”

It’s ruthless to take the money directly.

But she is short of money!

“Mr. Henry remembers to let me book the air ticket.” Miriam accepted the contract from Mr. Henry. Isn't it just a negotiation? Anyway, she had listened to some people as an interpreter before, and she understood some business words.

Twenty thousand is enough for her and Mother Lu for three months.

After returning to her office, Miriam briefly looked at the cooperation case, and out of professional habits, she searched Longteng Investment Company on google.

An investment company developed in Jincheng four years ago went public overseas in less than two years. Now it has bought Hetai Building with a market value of tens of billions.

Miriam couldn't help but slap her tongue.

It took four years to develop, either a big boss or a wealthy second-generation rich!

Miriam pulled down the mouse to see what level of this boss is. The phone on the table rang, and she touched it to answer.

“Brother, I happen to be looking for you too. I will invite you and Tian Tian to dinner tonight.”

Xiang Dongnan at the other end laughed: “It seems that I made this call by chance, all right, you order to get off work, I will pick you up?”

“Five thirty.”

After sending the message, looking at the empty computer interface, Miriam couldn't turn his mind at once, muttering: “What am I going to do just now? I'm old, memory is degraded!”

Unable to remember, Miriam simply didn't think about it, and set about to do other things.

After get off work, I came to the southeast to pick up Miriam and went to the Red House for dinner together. During this time, seeing Tian Tian playing with her mobile phone, she didn't seem to talk to Xiang Southeast very much, Miriam was a little curious.

“Brother, why doesn't Tian Tian speak?”

To the southeast, he touched Tiantian's head, and the smile on the corners of her mouth was a bit bitter: “Tian Tian has autism”

Chapter 15

Miriam was stunned.

From Xiang Dongnan's words, Miriam knew that when traveling to the Southeast before, Tian Tian witnessed her mother bringing other men to the house. She was irritated and was reluctant to speak. This is why Xiangdongdong insisted on the custody of her children.

After knowing the cause and effect, Miriam felt more distressed for Tian Tian.

At this time, she was not busy. After talking to Xiang Southeast, she directly took Tian Tian to her company, took the time to teach her literacy, and asked Xiang Southeast to take it back at night.

Tian Tian was a little timid at first, but after being exaggerated by Miriam, she became bold and smiled at other people. His writing was also very beautiful. He also wrote the word Daddy, and got the piece of paper to the southeast. They were so touched that they couldn't speak.

After Miriam took Tian Tian to the company, she was reminded by her colleagues that she was going to Jincheng to discuss the contract today.

However, Xiang Dongnan went to the airport half an hour ago and was flying abroad for a business trip. Miriam didn't know when he would be back. She was embarrassed to leave Tian Tian under the care of a colleague, so she took her on a business trip.

City Two arrives at Jincheng very quickly, one and a half hours by plane.

Long Teng sent someone to pick up Miriam and drove her directly to Long Teng Company.

"Ms. Lu, Mr. Shao's flight is delayed and we are not sure when we will arrive. If we can't come back this afternoon, we can only trouble you to stay in the hotel for one night."

"It's okay." Miriam smiled.

As a giant in the investment industry, the office building is of course in the golden city center of Jincheng. The surrounding buildings seem to be living in the shadow of Hetai Building, dingy and without any color.

The person who brought Miriam picked up the phone midway, and seemed to be in a hurry, entrusted her to the front desk, and then left in a hurry.

Miriam led Tian Tian into the elevator.

There were a lot of people in the lobby, coming and going, she seemed to see Bryan, wearing a black suit, always giving a very harsh feeling, but her eyebrows were gentle.

He seemed to be wearing a platinum ring on his ring finger, and the light outside the window accidentally hit it, and the reflection was a little dazzling.

As the elevator door closed, Miriam was still stunned, as if the blood all over his body was frozen.

When she got married, she picked a ring, but Bryan didn't want to ask for it, saying that he didn't like these things. In the end, Miriam had no choice but to let him buy a diamond ring for himself alone, and still wear it baby.

At this moment, Miriam felt that the diamond ring on her ring finger was very hot, almost scalding her skin.

Miriam spoke with a soft voice: "Excuse me, is your president named Bryan?"

"Don't you know?" The front desk was a little surprised, "I thought you checked our company's information when you came."

Miriam looked at herself through the elevator, without speaking.

Her husband, Bryan, runs an investment company and is still a giant in the investment industry. It is not an exaggeration to say that a billionaire is a billionaire, but she never knows, only his name and where he lives.

The front desk led Miriam to the president's office, still saying, "Mr. Shao has not returned, but Fu Tezhu is here. You can talk to us Fu Tezhu."

After arriving at the president's office, the front desk opened the door.

Miriam stepped in with high heels and saw a beautiful figure leaning against the desk, putting a diamond ring on her finger, with a bright smile on her face.

The ring seems to be the same style as the one worn by Bryan.

The front desk did not expect that Sophia had already arrived at the president, and she hurriedly bowed: “Fu Tezhu, I didn’t expect you to be there. This is Miss Lu from Yingxin Company.”

“I’ve seen it.” Sophia was not surprised to see Miriam, got up and walked over: “Miss Lu, long time no see.”

Miriam was very calm, stretched out her hand and shook her, with a faint smile on her face: “Did it from Bryan? It’s pretty, it matches Miss Fu’s hand.”

Chapter 16

Sophia glanced at the diamond ring in her hand and flashed a smug smile on her face, just saying, “Brother Chen hasn’t returned yet, I’ll take you out for a tour.”

“I saw him come back when I just came up, but I don’t think I need to see him.”

After seeing through everything, Miriam didn’t feel so uncomfortable. She took off the hot ring from her finger and placed it in Sophia’s palm: “He bought it. I don’t need to keep it. Remember to give it to him for me.”

Watching Miriam leave, Sophia’s face sank a little.

In the end, she took off the ring from her finger and put it in the cashmere box, with Miriam’s one next to it.

When the courier arrived, she went to pick it up and saw that there was a ring in the cashmere box, which was still Tiffany’s. She took it out and put it on her hand. She didn’t expect to put it on, and Miriam came in.

She didn’t say that Bryan gave her this, but she chose not to say anything. It was Miriam who misunderstood.

No wonder her.

Miriam led Tian Tian to leave the Hetai Building, and when he went out, he called Mr. Henry: “Mr. Henry, send someone else, I’m not suitable for negotiating this job, and I don’t want the money.”

Before Mr. Henry could speak, she hung up the phone.

From entering the Hetai Building to exiting in just ten minutes, Miriam seemed to have experienced a century.

Tian Tian saw that Miriam’s expression was sad, came over to hug her, and touched the corner of her eye with her soft hand.

“Auntie is fine.” Miriam laughed, but her voice was a little choked: “I’m very hungry, shall we go to lunch?”

Tian Tian nodded.

Miriam took Tian Tian to Pizza Hut, Tian Tian was picky, but she didn’t seem to dislike this kind of restaurant and could accept pizza and pasta.

There are many people in the restaurant at noon, and many people are still waiting in the rest area, which is a bit noisy.

After the meal came, Miriam had no appetite, and Tian Tian handed her a piece of pizza.

Miriam smiled reluctantly, but she couldn’t bite anymore when the pizza reached her mouth. Even the faint seafood smell made her nauseous. She covered her mouth and ran to the bathroom.

I didn’t eat anything in the morning, so all I vomited was water.

Miriam understood her body, she vaguely guessed what this unusual nausea was, and her face turned pale.

After Tian Tian finished eating, Miriam took her to the hospital, registered and held her urine.

The two bars on the early pregnancy paper hurt her eyes, and her whole body was crumbling and almost fell.

The nurse glanced at Tian Tian next to her and said with a smile: "Daughter is such a big age. It's good to have a second child at this time. Remember to pay attention in the future and try not to wear high heels for your baby."

"Thank you."

Miriam sat paralyzed on the bench and froze for a long time.

Bryan didn't want children so much, and he was cautious about bed matters. How could he have it? This is ridiculous.

She wants children, but now she is divorcing Bryan. It is impossible for her to be born without fatherly love.

Bryan called.

"Where are you, I'm going to look for you."

After Miriam heard his voice, tears fell down, and she said fiercely: "Bryan, I want a divorce! I don't want anything. As long as the divorce, if you disagree, we will see the court."

After hanging up, Miriam directly blocked his mobile number and WeChat contact.

Bryan will love him by himself !

After crying, Miriam got better, wiped away her tears, and took Tian Tian to the airport.

I bought the tickets and returned to City Two at 7:30 that night.

Xiang Dongnan hadn't returned yet, so Miriam took Tian Tian back to the place where Lu's mother lived and told her mother that Tian Tian was Xiang Dongnan's daughter, and the 2.5 million was also borrowed from Xiang Dongnan.

After learning about Tian Tian's life from Miriam, Mother Lu sighed, "Hey, your brother has been very unhappy. If he is busy, Mom can help him with the children. After all, we borrowed so much money."

"It's okay, I also occasionally teach Tian Tian to write." After chatting with Mother Lu, Miriam cut to the point, "Mom, I'm going to divorce Bryan. It's shameful to let you see my bad life."

She concealed the pregnancy, and she didn't plan to ask for the child anyway.

Chapter 17

Mother Lu didn't ask anything, just said: "There are so many people in the world, there are always people you like and like you. Sadness is temporary, and happiness is the most important thing."

Miriam sniffed and gave a hmm.

"Bryan will definitely come here, but I don't want to see him. You will give him the divorce letter and ask him to sign it."

“Mom knows.”

Miriam called and asked Xiang Dongdong to say if he could live with him. Xiang Dongdong asked her the password for the door, and Miriam took Tian Tian away from Mother Lu.

The next afternoon, Bryan hurried back from Jincheng in a hurry and drove directly to Lu Mu.

Mother Lu opened the door and saw his face lightly: “Is there something wrong?”

“Mom, is Miriam here?” Bryan asked with a good temper, but he was very upset in his heart.

After he returned to the company yesterday, he learned that Yingxin’s representative was Miriam, and left after leaving the ring in his office. He called her but cried and said that she wanted to divorce, with a firm attitude.

He was stopped by several meetings and did not return by plane until this afternoon.

Mother Lu turned back to the house, and Bryan took the opportunity to inspect the house and found that when Miriam was not there, his heart was even more frustrated.

Mother Lu took out a document and handed it to Bryan.

When Bryan saw the words above, his face became more ugly: “Mom, I didn’t want to divorce Miriam.”

“But she wants to divorce you.” Mother Lu said, “Bryan, my family has never treated you badly. Miriam treats you wholeheartedly, but there is nothing you can do if you can’t go on.”

“I know I am busy at work, I told her”

“Are you busy with work?” Mother Lu interrupted him, “Bryan, have you ever loved my daughter?”

Bryan stayed there without speaking.

Upon seeing this, Lu’s mother’s tone became harder and harder: “Bryan, my daughter is a woman after all. She will get old if she wants to have a baby. She doesn’t have any youth energy costs. If you have a little conscience, let her go.”

Mother Lu stuffed Bryan the divorce letter, and directly blasted the person out.

Bryan stood outside the door holding the divorce paper, stunned.

Didn’t he talk to Miriam, wait until he comes back from a business trip to discuss the divorce?

How could Miriam’s attitude be so decisive in a blink of an eye?

Bryan didn’t know what happened, and her heart became more and more irritable. She thought of Miriam’s company and drove there. Only when she went there, she found that Miriam had asked for leave a long time ago. She didn’t say how long. It seems that he did not sign the divorce letter. Will not appear.

After eating the closed-door bag in both places, Bryan became completely angry and tore the divorce letter severely.

Why does Miriam say that he will marry when he gets married? Now that he says divorce, he has to sign the divorce letter and ask him for his opinion?

He must find out Miriam and ask clearly!

Miriam had been staying at Xiang Dongnan's home for the past few days, so she stayed with Tian Tian and didn't go anywhere.

Mother Lu called and said that Bryan had returned from Jincheng the day after she left, looked for her everywhere, and even ran to her company. Miriam only found it ridiculous when she listened.

Before getting married, she and Bryan were like people from two worlds. Their life trajectories were parallel. They only met once a week. Now they are getting divorced, it is ironic that he is looking for her everywhere.

"Mom, you don't want to open the door if he goes there again." Miriam said, calmly going to the hospital for an abortion operation.

She would rather not give her children a complete home.

Miriam contacted a lawyer for help and drove to visit the prison.

After waiting for a long time, Miriam saw his father being taken into the communication room by two policemen.

Father Lu seemed to be having a bad time these months, his hair was half white, his back was a little rickety, and even when he saw Miriam, endless guilt appeared on his face.

Miriam's eyes were a little sore. She pointed to the phone and waited for Lu's father to pick up the phone before saying, "I've brought something, and I'll be sent in by someone. The verdict is over."

Father Lu grabbed the phone and didn't know what to say, "Miriam, I'm sorry, Dad."

Chapter 18

"You're not sorry for me, you're sorry for mother." Miriam said, "She was so upset about you, she suffered from insomnia, and now she has to wait for you."

"I'm sorry, it's because my father is not good," Lu's father said blankly.

"The lawyer said, if the attitude is good, the sentence will be reduced."

Father Lu nodded tearfully.

After a few conversations, Father Lu asked: "How are you and Bryan?"

"Not so good, we are going to get a divorce." Miriam did not hide it either.

Father Lu was stunned, and said guiltily: "It's my father that is not good. If my father didn't force Bryan to marry you, you wouldn't be unhappy now."

Miriam shook her head.

On the contrary, she knew that her father loved herself.

At the beginning, she only said she liked Bryan, but Lu's father went straight to the Shao's house. It happened that the Shao's family had something to ask Lu's father to help. The marriage was settled. Her father loved her, so he gave her whatever she wanted. .

She wanted to thank her father, because after marrying Bryan and knowing that he didn't love herself, she completely broke off the thoughts in her heart, and the divorce did not break her heart.

As soon as the visiting time came, the prison guards began to urge others, and Miriam reluctantly said goodbye to his father.

After leaving the prison, take a taxi back to the city.

I don't know if she hasn't rested well. Miriam's chest is distressed, and even her lower abdomen is painful. She gradually loses consciousness in the pain. When she wakes up, she is already in the hospital.

"Miss, take a good rest when you are pregnant." Seeing that Miriam was awake, the nurse couldn't help but say a few words, "You are pregnant and the baby is not stable. If you don't take a good rest, you will easily miscarry."

From the nurse's mouth, Miriam knew that she passed out in a taxi and was brought to the hospital by the driver.

Miriam didn't speak, and obediently asked the nurse to check up. After the nurse said that he could leave, she put on her shoes and slowly left the ward.

People come and go in the long corridor, and everyone has a different expression, ranging from joy to sadness.

She saw a couple passing by with their baby in her arms. The infant child was pink and lovely. The husband was teasing with his fingers, his face was filled with a happy smile, "Wife, you see how much his mouth looks like you."

The wife slapped him and was unhappy, "Are you saying that I have a big mouth?"

"Why, wife, you are the most beautiful woman in the world!"

Miriam watched the couple leave and felt sore. She didn't feel touching her lower abdomen with her hands. There was a small life growing up here. Maybe she would look at her with dark eyes in the future.

Slowly, Miriam supported the wall and squatted on the ground, unable to help crying, "Is that right, I'm sorry."

Miriam went back to Xiang Dongnan's home and found that he had returned and was playing with Tian Tian.

"Sorry, it took two days to talk about cooperation." Xiang Dongnan was very embarrassed to let Miriam take care of Tian Tian for so long. Seeing that Miriam's face was not good, he couldn't help asking, "What's the matter, his face is so pale?"

Miriam shook her head and smiled reluctantly, "Brother, can you do me a favor?"

Bryan was still busy looking for Miriam.

He didn't realize that he knew very little about Miriam until he was looking for someone. Without knowing her friends, Lu's mother's home and company have never been able to wait for anyone. He can only drive aimlessly to find someone.

He didn't know why he was so upset in his heart, but he just felt that it was for him to get a divorce, and Miriam shouldn't take the initiative, making him look like a bearer and bullying her.

Bryan was wondering whether to find a hacker for help and plant a location for Miriam's mobile phone. The mobile phone called, it was a strange number.

He vaguely felt that Miriam was calling, and hurriedly connected: "Miriam?"

“It’s me.” Miriam said quietly, “Bryan, come to my mother for dinner tonight.”

“Okay, I’ll go.”

Bryan finally breathed a sigh of relief.

Miriam called, explaining that there is still room for maneuver.

But what happened to Bryan was that when Mother Lu lived, it was not Mother Lu or Miriam who opened the door for him. It was a tall man.

Chapter 19

Had it not been seen that the shoes at the hallway were often worn by Miriam, Bryan would have thought he had pressed the wrong doorbell.

“Mr. Shao.” Reached out his hand to the southeast, smiled friendly at Bryan, “I have seen it before at the Heyue Hotel, and Xiang Dongnan is also Miriam’s senior.”

As soon as he said, Bryan remembered what happened before. He took the client to Heyue for dinner, but ran into Xiang Dongnan and Miriam. They talked and laughed and looked close, saying that the elder brothers and sisters were a bit worse.

Bryan felt uncomfortable, but out of politeness, he shook hands with Xiang Southeast, “Bryan.”

When he saw the little girl lying on the sofa playing with the tablet, Bryan subconsciously glanced to the southeast, and felt that it should be his daughter. Inexplicably, he felt a little grateful.

Lu Mu and Miriam were busy in the kitchen. Bryan walked over and asked Miriam, "Do you need help?"

"No, you are a guest. Sit in the living room."

Seeing that Miriam didn't even look back at herself, Bryan frowned.

He always felt that this meal was not that simple.

Soon, a table of hearty dishes was ready, and everyone sat at the table to eat.

Mother Lu pulled to speak to Southeast, Bryan learned that Xiang Dongnan was a former student of Lu's father and was divorced.

For Xiang Southeast, Mother Lu seemed to like it very much, and from time to time she put vegetables in his bowl without even looking at Bryan. The atmosphere on the table was not good, but it was not so silent.

Miriam didn't move until after eating.

Miriam put the divorce paper in front of Bryan, her face calm: "Bryan, I hope you can sign it."

"Didn't you think about divorce after talking about it?" Bryan knew that eating was not easy, but he didn't expect it to be like this. "You tell me first, why did you go to my office and leave with your ring?"

When he rushed to the office, Miriam had been away for a long time. Sophia pointed to the ring on the table and said embarrassedly: "Brother Bryan, I said I want to take Miss Lu around. When you come back, Miss Lu looks like a face. It's not so good. I took off the ring and left. Let me talk to you."

He was only on a business trip for a week and didn't do anything. Why did she take off the ring so decisively?

What's wrong?

"The ring you bought, we are divorced, and it's useless for me to hold it." Miriam didn't want to expose those lies, it would only make everyone more embarrassed, "I hope you take it for the sake of our three years of marriage. Sign the divorce letter."

Bryan's throat was hot and he didn't give up: "Why, you said that you have been married for three years."

He thought that after four years, the two parties would divorce peacefully, but Miriam's move caught him off guard, and he felt very unwilling.

Why are you not reconciled and can't say one reason?

"Because I like other people." Miriam glanced towards Southeast, with tender eyes: "This person I like is willing to pay for me and sincerely wants to marry me, and there is no pre-marital contract."

When Bryan saw her small movements, she understood everything. He thought of the matter of entrusting someone to help Father Lu, but the result was that all the stolen money was paid back. Father Lu was sentenced and his face sank a little.

"So, you also asked him to borrow two million?"

Seeing Miriam not talking, Bryan turned angrily back and smiled: "Miriam, if I don't say many things, it doesn't mean that I didn't do it. I just want you to speak to me. It's better for you to borrow money from an outsider. awesome!"

Xiang Dongnan blocked in front of Miriam in time, fearing that Bryan would be angry and act aggressively.

“Mr. Shao, Miriam’s words are up to this point. I hope you can respect her and get together and relax.

Bryan’s dark eyes stared at Miriam behind him.

The divorce book was crumpled into a ball in his hands, and finally unwound unwillingly, and spread it flat on the coffee table.

Chapter 20

Bryan took a pen and signed the name under the crumpled document. After putting the pen aside, he calmly left with his coat.

There is no word from beginning to end.

Miriam couldn’t help it anymore, buried in her mother’s arms and wept bitterly.

The child must be divorced if it is to be kept. If it is in marriage, the child will be gone with only one word from Bryan. That’s why she found Xiang Dongnan and Lu mother to plan a scene with the purpose of forcing Bryan to divorce.

It’s just that when he really signed the divorce letter, Miriam felt that the internal organs were all stirred together, and it was very uncomfortable.

Bryan didn’t know how to get downstairs. When someone smoked a cigarette on the road, he walked over and paid them: “Sell me cigarettes and lighters.”

Seeing that it was one hundred, the other party hurriedly took out a cigarette case and a lighter and gave it to Bryan.

Bryan lit one.

He didn't like the smell of cigarettes. He would only smoke one when he had to talk about business, but now he was left empty in his heart. He wanted to find something to fill up, and cigarettes could satisfy him.

When he raised his hand, Bryan found the platinum ring on his finger and took out a cashmere box from his pocket.

When he went to Singapore on a business trip, he passed by the jewelry store and saw those rings. When he thought of getting married, he seemed to have bought a 30,000 diamond ring for Miriam. She kept wearing it, but it seemed that she had never taken it off.

Perhaps to make up for something, Bryan came into the store and contacted the manager to customize a pair of rings. They got them the next day. They were all platinum models. After he got them, he put them on ahead of time. He was afraid of losing them on a business trip. Packaged and sent back to China.

Originally wanted to give Miriam a surprise after going back from a business trip, but he didn't expect that the ring hadn't been sent out yet. Miriam returned the previous one, and even gave him such a big surprise!

In the past few years, he has been busy with his career. Although he and Miriam were forced to marry, he thought he had never treated her wrongly.

Thinking of what Miriam said calmly at Mother Lu's house just now, I don't know how, the more Bryan looked at the ring, his heart became more angry, and finally he took off the platinum ring from his finger and threw it into the manpower along with the cashmere box. lake.

Divorce won't change anything, he is still Bryan!

For the baby in his stomach, Miriam, who has always eaten irregularly, began to pay attention to his diet. Folic acid is a must, no tobacco or alcohol, even high heels are replaced with flat shoes, and occasionally work overtime, but it is not too late.

As time went off a little bit later, she gradually began to show her belly. She could not wear the tight-fitting small suits before, and could only wear loose clothes every day.

Miriam touched her round belly through her clothes, very sad.

If it's been more than three months, loose clothes will definitely not be able to cover. Everyone in the company will know that the boss will definitely not let her continue this kind of high-intensity work, but she is afraid that she will return after giving birth and her job will be replaced by others.

Her job is tens of thousands a month. She can afford to rent a car loan. It's really gone, and the pressure must be very high.

“Manager Lu.”

Seeing a colleague hurried over, Miriam hurriedly put down her hand and smiled faintly: “What’s the matter?”

“Mr. Henry asked you to go to the conference room for a meeting at ten o'clock.” The colleague put the document on Miriam’s desk and approached her quietly: “It is said that it was a visit from Long Teng. Mr. Henry has packed the restaurant downstairs for reception! “

Dragon

Miriam pursed her lower lip, as if it had been more than a month since she divorced Bryan?
