

The Pinnacle of Life – Chapter 0391 - 0395

Since they were on the phone, Heath did not know what expression had suddenly formed on his father's face. However, after his father picked up the phone again, he had solemnly warned him that he should not act rashly or try to investigate Alex, let alone find someone to deal with him. They would talk about it after Frank returned.

It was then that he knew that this Alex whom Chloe called a spineless coward must have some strong backing to the point that even his father, a formidable person, had a hint of fear towards him.

“What on earth is going on here, Dad?” Heath was so surprised, but he still couldn't help asking.

“Don't ask too much. Just pretend that you never saw that person,” Frank said.

“Fine!”

After hanging up the call, Heath felt a chill on his back. He had initially planned to gather some masters from the Valtameri to bait Alex out and attack him as a group. He believed that they would be able to take down Alex this way.

Even if he could fight, could he fight against guns?

Fortunately, he hadn't acted on it yet.

Bang!

Heath walked back in and gave a hard kick to Chloe's stomach. "Motherf*cker, bastard, harbinger of misfortune."

Then, he turned to several of his subordinates and asked, "Who wants this woman?"

All of his subordinates shook their heads.

Even though she was an extremely beautiful girl, the bad luck that followed her made it so that they wouldn't want her even if Heath paid them.

"Do you want to..."

One of his other subordinates made a gesture at his neck, clicking his tongue.

When Chloe saw that, she exclaimed in shock and urinated in fear. She hurriedly laid herself at Heath Accardo's feet. "Young Master Accardo, please don't kill me. Please, don't kill me! I can do anything for you! Dorothy Assex! That's right, Alex's wife, Dorothy is a beauty. Her younger sister is also a beauty, she's the campus belle. I can help you get them. They're a hundred times more beautiful than me, and they're virgins..."

Bang

Heath kicked her in the chest "Who said that I'm going after Alex? Motherf*cker, it's all because of you."

After kicking her continuously over and over again, Chloe finally passed out.

"Find a place and toss her out!"

"You're not going to kill her?" asked one of his subordinates.

A glint flashed in Heath's eyes. "She can't die just yet."

Her position as Alex's ex-girlfriend had saved her life.

As for Alex, after he had dropped off Zendaya at a parking lot, he drove home.

When he had resonated with Zendaya's mental power, he had benefited a lot from it, and his mental powers had seen a relatively large increase.

That was strange.

Previously when he had listened to her singing in her concert, he never felt anything like this but when she had sung for him alone, it was obvious that her mental powers were like a gigantic magnetic field. Unfortunately, Zendaya probably wouldn't agree to a solo performance after that ambiguous hug.

His phone rang at this moment, it was a call from Dorothy.

She was having a little tantrum and said, "What have you been busy with these few days? You didn't even call me or come home to eat. Do you still even care for this wife of yours?"

Alex was taken aback for a moment, then silently calculated the timing of her period. It shouldn't have come yet!

"My wife, I'm busy making money. It's not easy work to make you the richest woman in California." Alex replied with a smile on his lips.

"Really? Having a date with a shameless female doctor would make me the richest woman in California?"

Dorothy coldly shot back, and Alex's car almost hit the railings.

"My wife, have you been listening to your sister's nonsense again? She doesn't have a good impression of us at all, and she just can't wait for you to divorce me and find a new husband for you."

"Did you meet her?"

"Well... I had some serious business."

"Come and pick me up tonight. I'll give you a chance to explain it in person. Also, buy a washboard on the way," Dorothy said coldly.

“What do you need a washboard for?” Alex asked, shocked. “Don’t we have a washing machine at home?”

“It’s for you to kneel on!” Dorothy scoffed.

Alex’s face froze for a moment, but then he suddenly recalled that there was actually something he needed to do tonight, and hurriedly said, “I can’t do tonight, I have an appointment.”

Chapter 0392

“With the female doctor?”

“Of course not. It’s with Jack Trent from Thousand Leaves Construction, the one who gave us the contract. I have to maintain a good relationship with him, right? I wonder who I’m doing all of these for, hmm?” he asked, hoping to be given credit for his work.

“Then... Once you’re done, bring a change of clothes.”

“What for?”

“What do you think? To sleepover.”

“I won’t sleep in the housekeeper’s room!”

“Do what you want!”

After hanging up, Alex’s car almost rammed into the car in front of him.

What was that supposed to mean?!

Did that mean they could sleep in the same bed?

F*ck, it’s not that easy to always see the light at the end of the tunnel!

As for the washboard, it was impossible for him to buy one in this day and age...

At 5 o'clock, Alex came to the commendation meeting specially organized by Leanne's company.

In order not to draw attention, he had come alone.

Leanne's company was called Alluring Paradise Clothing, involved in fashion design and trade. Leanne herself is an excellent fashion designer. After meeting Jack and receiving his investment, Alluring Paradise Clothing was established. They hadn't expected the business to continue growing bigger and bigger to the point where the business had branches abroad.

That's why the company had a lot of employees.

Leanne had booked a large buffet restaurant to hold the commendation meeting.

"Alex?"

Unexpectedly, he was called before he had even stepped into the entrance.

He turned and saw a beautiful woman wearing glasses and a white shirt, about 5.4 feet tall.

It was obvious that she was the one who called out to him, but there was a hint of coldness in her eyes.

She behaved as if you must obey her once she's called you.

Alex was stunned for a moment. Even after taking a good look at her, he couldn't recognize who she was. He also didn't like the look in her eyes.

So, he simply ignored her and continued walking towards the hall with his hands behind his back.

"Stop!" The woman yelled at him. "Where are you going? I know that you've gone from being at the top of the young and rich, to the bottom as a discarded and abandoned piece of trash who doesn't have any merit to meet people. And don't you know me?"

Alex was puzzled as he turned around and said, "Do you know me?"

The woman exploded. "F*ck, are you serious? I'm sure you remember Chloe, right? I'm Megan Tyrell."

Alex instantly remembered when he heard the name. "Ah, so it's you!"

It was the girl that had been Chloe's roommate.

But Alex and Chloe had only been together for a month before they decided that it wasn't working out and broke up. So it wasn't too much of a surprise that he didn't remember her roommate, Megan Tyrell.

Megan sighed, making no attempt to hide the contempt she felt. "All this while, you're actually working in Alluring Paradise? I've never seen you before. Which department are you in? Could it be that you've not heard of my name, I'm from the secretarial department. If you have any problems in the future, you can come to me! I'll help you solve it, since we've known each other before this. Even if you've dropped to the bottom now, you don't have to have such low self-esteem! How unsightly!"

She continued to blabber on endlessly.

This woman had a real temperament. Although her words weren't pleasant, the meaning behind them was sincere, she wanted to help him.

Alex didn't bother explaining, but only nodded his head. "Okay, I'll look for you if I need any help."

Megan nodded. "Go on in, and remember to come by table No. 3 to have a toast. Have some confidence, don't act like some good-for-nothing."

Alex was speechless.

Since when did he act like he was a good-for-nothing?

At this moment, another woman in an office outfit came by, pointing to Megan. “Meg, and whoever you are, come help me move some things.”

Megan’s demeanor immediately flipped 180 degrees. With a bright smile on her face, she said, “Of course, Sister Weber. I’m very strong after all.”

Alex’s eyes widened, and his laugh almost slipped out.

Megan glared at him. “What are you staring at? Let’s go, we need to move things.”

Alex scratched his nose, then turned to follow her.

Chapter 0393

Alex followed, but his eyes kept wandering to Sister Weber’s butt.

He had come to find the person who had placed the parasite on Leanne.

He didn't plan to spend much effort to do so, expecting the answer to just come to him. Sure enough, he found the person the moment he arrived.

When Sister Weber had approached them earlier, the parasitic worm that Alex had placed in a glass bottle in his pocket had reacted fiercely. It started jumping around inside the bottle, wanting to return its mother's embrace.

Fortunately, he had made the necessary preparations on the worm.

Even if it was anxious and made any fierce movements, wanting to return its mother, she would not feel it. Otherwise, Sister Weber, who had the mother parasite in her body, would have felt it earlier.

"These are the things. Move all the wine and drinks inside. Then, distribute five bottles of red wine and one box of drinks per table. Don't mess up. I will know because you're the only one I have asked to do this."

Sister Weber pointed at the pile of drinks at the entrance, instructing Megan bluntly.

Megan was shocked at the mountain of goods that needed to be moved. “This is a bit too much, Sister Weber. Let me call some male colleagues to help. It would be faster that way.”

Sister Weber glared at her. “Why would you need to look for others? It’s just some wine and drinks. Didn’t you say that you’re quite strong? If you can’t even do these little things well, how will you hope to play a bigger role in the secretarial department? Just the two of you is enough. Hurry up and get moving. If you don’t complete this task, the consequences won’t be pleasant.”

Having said that, she turned around, her hips swaying just as they did when she first walked in.

Megan was close to tears. “How can we move this many boxes by ourselves? And she didn’t even allow us to get more help. What did she mean by that?”

Alex looked at Sister Weber as she walked away with a frosty look.

He had previously suspected the person who planted the parasite on Leanne to be a man because it was the kind of spell usually done between lovers.

He didn’t expect the culprit to be a woman instead.

Was it possible that there was something between Sister Weber and Leanne?

The other possibility was that there was something between Sister Weber and Jack.

“Can’t you see it, Megan? You’re being targeted. Did you have some disagreement with her before? Who is she?” Alex asked calmly.

“Don’t you know who she is? Did you just join the company recently?” Megan said suspiciously. “She’s the first secretary of Alluring Paradise, and Miss Leane’s right hand. She’s practically Miss Leanne’s favourite, and is an amazing person... Alex, I’m sure you would have known this. Don’t offend her, otherwise, even I can’t save you.”

Alex was speechless. “You don’t seem able to protect yourself. If I remain next to you, I’m sure I’ll also be targeted by her. Seems like it’s better if I don’t go to your table to toast with you later.”

Megan shot him a cold look, but she had nothing better to say.

Instead, Alex started asking her about Sister Weber. Alex soon found out that Sister Weber’s name is Cindy Weber. Apart from being first secretary, she was also an executive director of the company, second only to the chairman. She was someone who did things swiftly and decisively. Many people in the company were afraid of her.

Then, she asked, "Why are you asking for such details? You can't possibly be interested in her?"

Alex scoffed lightly. "No way. Not in the slightest."

At this time, he saw Jack walking over. Not wanting to expose his identity in front of Megan, he quickly said, "Oh, I really need to pee. You start moving the things first, I have to go."

Having said that, he turned around and left.

He didn't want to expose his identity because he wanted to find out if Cindy was alone, or if she had accomplices.

Megan was anxious. "Hey, seriously? Moving all these by myself?"

Soon, Jack quietly followed him into the washroom.

“Mr. Alex!”

“Mr. Jack, just pretend you don’t know me for the time being, and treat me like an employee of your company. I’ll check once more. Rest assured, I already have a lead.”

When Jack heard this, he was overjoyed.

Alex entered the hall and walked around the place, appearing casual but silently alert.

Suddenly, a loud sound rang out and the crowd cried out in surprise.

Chapter 0394

Alex took a closer look and found that it was Megan. She had been carrying a box of red wine, but had accidentally tripped and fallen.

Coincidentally, after the wine bottles broke, some of the liquid splashed against Cindy’s white heels.

“I’m sorry, I’m so sorry, Sister Weber. I didn’t mean it. ” Megan apologized in a hurry.

Slap!

Cindy slapped Megan in the face.

“Are you kidding me? You can’t even handle a few bottles of wine? What use is there for the company to keep you? Or did you do it deliberately? Did you hold a grudge against me for making you move the beverages for you to pretend to slip? Did you want to crush me to death with it? Get out of my sight. You don’t have to come to work anymore tomorrow.” Cindy didn’t spare

Megan any mercy at all as she slapped her again.

Everyone present couldn’t bear to watch the scene unfold, but none of them dared to interfere either. Everyone knew Cindy’s temper. If you dared to interfere, she would also make you cry.

Just then, a hand shot out to grab Cindy’s wrist just as she raised her hand to deliver another slap.

Obviously, it was Alex.

“Who are you? How dare you touch me! Let go, or are you tired of working here already? You’re fired!” Cindy said furiously as she scolded Alex.

Megan pulled on Alex, telling him not to do anything rash.

However, Alex ignored all of it, looking at Cindy with a smile that didn’t reach his eyes. “There is someone who will be fired indeed, but that person isn’t me, it’s you!”

What?

Everyone present was stunned, and they looked at Alex as if he was a lunatic.

Some were even whispering to each other, “Who is this person? How can he be such an idiot that he even dares to mess with Secretary Weber?”

“Who knows?”

“Maybe he got too excited? Could he be Secretary Tyrell’s boyfriend? Is that why he stood up for her?”

Cindy was so angry, she laughed. “Fire me? What a joke. Are you out of your mind?”

As for Megan, she let out an anguished sigh in her heart. If he just let things be, she could probably still have a chance to keep her job. But after Alex stepped in and caused this ruckus, Cindy would definitely not let her off.

It was obvious that she would be fired.

Since it would have happened anyway, she pulled Alex away and faced Cindy. “This has nothing to do with him, Secretary Weber. If you have any grievances towards me, then come at me alone! If you want to fire me, then fine, I’ll acknowledge it! I don’t want to work here any longer with a person like you in the company anyway!”

“The reason I fell wasn’t because I was careless, but it was because I really can’t move the things anymore. You asked me, a woman, to move so many boxes of wine, and didn’t allow me to call for help at all. Did you have a hidden agenda? When have I offended you?”

Megan’s words made everyone focused on Cindy suddenly.

However, Cindy didn't feel any shame for being exposed at all. Instead, she said, "That's right, I was targeting you. I don't like the looks of you, so what about it? The secretarial department belongs to me, Cindy Weber. I'm warning you, stay away from Chairman Graves! Forget it, get out of my sight. You can head to the company to pack your things and hand in your resignation tomorrow. You don't need to attend the banquet tonight either. Get lost!"

"Fine, I'll leave, did you think I like it here?"

Megan was about to turn around, intending to leave with a huff.

However, Alex pulled her back. "The one who has to leave is her, not you."

Everyone sighed again. Was this person insane?

Who the heck was he?

Megan sighed, and said to Alex, "I know you're reluctant to leave this job. I'm sorry, you may also be fired by this stinking lady because of me! But it doesn't matter, I'll introduce you to a better one."

Cindy snorted coldly. “Megan Tyrell, you’re too naive. No other company will hire you in the future. I’ll make sure you won’t be able to live your life in California.”

All the employees watching were shocked, their eyes full of sympathy as they turned to look at Megan.

Just then, a voice came from the background.

“Oh, really? It seems that the person who won’t be able to continue living here should be you!”

“Cindy Weber, you’re fired!”

Jack and Leanne walked over together, looking at Cindy with cold eyes.

Chapter 0395

“What?”

“It’s Miss Leanne! What did she say just now?”

“The one who’s fired isn’t Megan, it’s... It’s Cindy!”

At that moment, everyone was stunned speechless.

No one could figure out what had happened. Cindy was Leanne’s favourite. They even heard that Cindy had saved Leanne’s life before, hence the rumors of Cindy owning half the shares of Alluring Paradise. Usually, the two got on well enough that they seemed to be of one mind.

For her to suddenly say that Cindy was fired was completely unbelievable.

“Miss Leanne, are you mistaken?” Cindy was also stunned. “How could the one who’s getting fired be me?”

Jack said coldly, “It is you, Cindy Weber. From now on, you’re fired.”

He repeated his earlier words.

Everyone finally heard it crystal clear that it was indeed Cindy that had been fired.

Megan was as shocked as everyone else. This scene was just too unexpected!

Cindy stared at Jack, then burst out laughing suddenly.

“Who do you think you are, Jack? What right do you have to fire me? You’re just Miss Leanne’s husband, one who can’t even make her pregnant, I might add. You’re not qualified to fire me!”

As soon as she said this, everyone was stunned. They looked at Jack with weird expressions on their faces.

No man could bear this kind of insult.

Jack’s face turned as black as the bottom of a pot in an instant.

Slap!

Leanne suddenly slapped Cindy, her eyes chillingly cold as she said, “Wouldn’t you know the reason I can’t get pregnant until now, Cindy? Whatever my husband said is also with my agreement. Let me repeat this, you are fired!”

“What?” Cindy’s face changed drastically, her head snapping to look at Leanne. In the next moment, she pursed her lips and softly whistled a sound.

Many people were confused. Was it possible that Cindy had lost her mind from the shock of getting fired? She was actually whistling at this time, how incredible.

Of course, this was no ordinary whistling. It was a special sound to control the worm.

With the existence of the parasite, not only could it prevent the woman from getting pregnant, but the one who held the mother parasite could use different sounds to drive the child parasite into movements. For example, biting.

The person with the parasite would start to feel unimaginable pain, to a point where they would have to obediently obey orders.

However... Nothing happened!

Leanne stood there quietly, her cold eyes looking at Cindy indifferently.

“How is that possible? How could this be?”

Cold sweat broke out on Cindy's forehead. She whistled harder once again.

Just then, Alex pulled out the bottle from his pocket. The worm inside was wriggling around frantically.

"Is this the thing you're trying to call out to?"

When Cindy caught sight of it, her mind buzzed and she looked like she was about to explode.

Everyone was horrified especially the women when they saw such a disgusting and terrifying worm. They quickly covered her mouths, exclaiming in surprise.

"This... What is that?!"

"It's so disgusting, I'm getting goosebumps!"

Cindy violently made a grab for the bottle.

Thud!

Alex drew back his hand instantly and directly landed a hit on Cindy's neck in the next second, knocking her out immediately.

Ignoring everyone's surprise, Alex picked Cindy up and walked out towards the entrance.
