

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 161- 170

Chapter 161

This discovery was almost instantaneous. Miriam affirmed his thoughts without hesitation. Perhaps he was used to his changes during this time, but he was a little strange to the taciturn appearance before.

She lowered her eyes and began to think in her mind when he started to change. It was fine when he got home, probably from the moment when he met her at the bedroom door, something was different. At that time... he seemed to have just Come out of her dad's room.

What did her dad tell him...?

Women are really sensitive creatures. Miriam felt deeply at this time. She really didn't want to think about it, but the more she refused, the more itchy her heart.

Gently pinching her fingers, she looked up at the window from time to time, but Yu Guang always glanced at him intentionally or unintentionally.

After the car turned to another road, the man finally broke the dead silence with a loud voice. There was nothing unusual in his calm and gentle voice, "When did you first see me?"

Miriam's body shook, but he did not expect that he was quiet for a long time, the first sentence he said turned out to be this, and he pulled so far.

She said nonchalantly, "It's been too long to remember."

“You have always liked me?”

This is the second sentence, which directly caused Miriam to make a big red face, and turned her head to stare at him strangely.

Although he knows that he is straightforward about feelings, he doesn't have to be so straightforward, right? If he hadn't been too serious, she would definitely scold him for being narcissistic.

But in a moment she seemed to understand something, blushing with a small face, and said annoyed: “You and my dad just talked about this in the room?”

Probably her father told him.

Her reaction caused Bryan to confirm what was in her heart. The corners of her lips curled up, and she seemed to be somewhat satisfied, and her tone was obviously lighter, “Otherwise, what do you think his old man can talk about when we see me? When we divorced, he just went to jail. , I didn't see you the last time, so naturally I have a lot to say.”

Miriam felt embarrassed, and had the heart to jump, and said coldly: “On the basis of my relationship with him, how reliable do you think his words are?”

Taking a deep breath, she gritted her teeth, “Even if... even if I liked you before, now I give up, otherwise why do you think I divorced you?”

Bryan's eyes became heavy for a moment, and he squeezed the steering wheel.

The whole space quieted down briefly again.

A sense of loss came to the bottom of his eyes, and Bryan's voice became a little low, “In those three years... you had a painful life?”

On the day of the wedding, he asked to sign a contract. She signed it without any hesitation. She hid all her thoughts in her heart for three years without showing anything. If it weren't for the disappointment, she probably wouldn't come up with the divorce agreement.

He deliberately ignored everything about her, for three years, no one would be able to persist.

Therefore, when he knew this, he was relieved that he had filed for a divorce against her, but the throbbing in his heart became more intense.

Miriam twitched the corners of her lips awkwardly, with a kind of undesirable coldness, "Forget it, no matter how much feelings, no chance to say it, what's the point?"

Bryan was quiet, did not speak any more, and did not excuse himself every word.

Miriam didn't say anything anymore. The two were like people in different dimensions, and they didn't even shift their eyes.

The KTV room downstairs of Yingxin Company.

Sophia opened the door, rushed in, saw the person clearly, and slapped the man's face without saying a word.

It's just that the hand didn't fall and was intercepted by the man halfway.

Sophia was angry and kicked again.

The man didn't dodge, he took a solid kick on his leg, with no expression on his face except cold, and at the same time he threw her hand away.

Sophia's face was blue and blood was surging, "Is this the good news you gave me?"

The man put his hands in his trouser pockets, his eyes spreading black, and he said indifferently: "Bryan came back suddenly last night. If something happened to her, the entire hotel last night would not want to escape the dry cleaning. I don't want to burden myself with your stupidity."

"What about he coming back? Even if he suspects that no one can find the evidence, but because you wasted an opportunity, do you think it is possible next time?" Sophia raised her voice angrily.

Last night, it was just a little bit worse. As long as you hand the person to Lao Han, that woman will definitely be ruined today, and there will be no place to stand up, and the child in her stomach... After drinking, what if Bryan is angry, With her father, he can't do anything to her.

But because of Mu Ming, all her pains were in vain, and the man was so shrewd that he would definitely discover something today.

Mu Ming sneered, looking at her like an idiot, "This is the first time I have seen you such a stupid woman. Now I really doubt my IQ. Why did I cooperate with you in the first place."

Chapter 162

"You!" Sophia was angry and slapped it again.

Mu Ming stopped easily, narrowed his cold eyes slightly, and his tone sank, "Miss Fu, are you still addicted to fighting? I don't care about women, so you can stop. Besides, you don't get nothing, Miriam Haven't you deleted the video that threatened you?"

Sophia shook off his imprisonment fiercely, her eyes burned with anger, and she sneered, "Who do you think you are? You played it once, and the second time? You are not afraid that I will shake your true face to Miriam, let You can never get close to her again?"

Mu Ming looked at her and twisted his eyebrows in disgust.

How did he cooperate with this stupid woman in the first place, apart from being coquettish and self-willed, he didn't have much brain.

"Do you think my purpose is her?" The arc pulled by his lips was cold and piercing, and the dim private room blurred all the expressions on his face, like mist and haze, depressing and pressing.

"But I know that your purpose is her. If you are still so stubborn, Miss Fu, I believe that your dad will not be able to save you when you look back."

When the words fell, the figure in the room opened the door and left.

Sophia's pretty face became extremely ugly, her five hanging fingers clenched tightly.

Just a woman, she doesn't believe that it can't be cured.

...

Mu Ming went to KTV, and he saw Miriam who got off the car with Bryan near Longteng Company from a distance. He calmed down, stared for a few seconds, and then turned away.

His purpose is indeed not in her, it was not before, and it is not anymore, but he still has to take away what he wants.

Miriam entered the company building and ran into Mu Ming. She was startled, “You don’t work on it, why are you here?”

“Buy some morning tea for my colleagues.” Mu Ming lifted the bag in his hand, then his face became serious, and he asked with concern: “Are you okay?”

Miriam’s expression changed and said solemnly, “Come with me.”

The lobby on the ground floor of the office building is the leisure area. Miriam casually found an empty seat to sit down, “Sit down, too.”

Mu Ming glanced at her, put the things on the table, sat down, and looked at her carefully, “Sister Miriam, are you okay? It’s not because I handed you to Manager Shao last night, you are here now Do you trouble me? Because at that time...”

“No!” Miriam interrupted him calmly. After hesitating for a few seconds, he asked, “I just want to ask you, do you know what happened to me last night?”

Mu Ming’s eyes rolled around, and he blinked innocently, “Isn’t it a fever?”

“Shit! Don’t pretend, I want to listen to the truth. The last thing I saw was you. You must know what happened.” Miriam stared at him closely.

Mu Ming was so frightened that his handsome face turned pale, and he hurriedly defended: “It has nothing to do with me. I followed you out last night. You fainted without saying a few words. It shocked me. Seeing your face and red ears and red hair on your body Hot, I thought you had a fever, so I sent you back to the room, just as Mr. Shao called, I gave you to him.”

After he finished speaking, he looked at her with inexplicable eyes.

Miriam tucked her eyebrows and turned her head to ask: “No? I told you on the front foot well, and then passed out on the back foot. It’s not so fast to get drunk. Is it possible to have a fever? You have no doubts. ?”

Mu Ming seemed to be even more puzzled. He put his hands around his chest and asked strangely, “What do you suspect? Isn’t this the first time for you? I still want to tell you today, or you can talk to Mr. Henry To be frank, it is not a solution for your body to get sick twice in three days. It is better to go home on vacation and have a baby.”

“...” Miriam choked, speechless for a moment.

Chapter 163

She couldn’t tell him directly that she was drugged. This kid had just entered the workplace and he certainly didn’t understand these dark workplace methods. After all, he hadn’t even talked about a relationship, and he didn’t understand what she told him.

Sighing, she whispered: “I can’t take a vacation now. If Henry always knows that I’m pregnant now, he will definitely not let me go on.”

After all, no boss wants to take this risk, so she must persist until the day she can’t hide it. Even if Henry always has a grudge when she arrives, she won’t say much because of her hard work for the company. , She can reinstate after the confinement.

“I understand.” Mu Ming nodded with concern.

It is generally not easy for women to work in the workplace, and it is even more difficult for women to be in her position. Besides, she is divorced and raising another child, she cannot afford it financially.

Miriam didn't care about this issue at this time. She was still wondering who gave her the medicine last night, that President Han? But he didn't have a chance. She drank a few glasses of white water in total, still in front of him, even if he looked back and thought that it was wrong to say that through drinking, she didn't drink.

“Sister Miriam?”

Mu Ming called her, and seeing that she didn't respond, he couldn't help but stretched out his hand to pat her forehead, and said loudly, “Sister Miriam!”

“Huh?” Miriam suddenly returned to her senses and looked at him, “What's the matter?”

“What are you thinking? You are so ecstatic? Is it possible that you are still thinking about Mr. Shao?” He laughed and winked ambiguously at her.

“Miss your sister!” Miriam rolled his eyes, got up and patted him on the shoulder, “Go, go back to the company.”

It seems that when I look back, I can only ask Bryan. She must find out who gave her the medicine. She dared to be so blatant. Does she seem to be so bullied?

On the opposite side of Longteng, Sophia, who had just returned, noticed a different atmosphere when she entered the company.

Although she is just a small executive now, most of the employees still remember her identity and she is still polite.

“What's wrong?” Her breath returned to normal, and she glanced lightly at the two girls at the front desk.

A girl looked around carefully and whispered to her: “Mr. Shao is here, her face is ugly. Now we are talking to Director Han in the office.”

Sophia was a little surprised, but her fair and beautiful face did not fluctuate much.

She did not expect him to come so early.

President’s Office.

Behind the desk, the man’s cold and tense handsome face faced the middle-aged bald man in front of him, his eyes covered with cold and yin.

“I didn’t even know that I found such a good director, such a big person can’t control my lower body, I let you stay in this branch to be responsible, so that you have a place to be presumptuous?”

Director Han lowered his head timidly, his old face was gray, and he explained tremblingly, “Shao, President Shao, I really don’t know you, you and Miss Lu are friends...”

Otherwise, give him ten courage, and he would not agree to Sophia’s woman.

He only thought that Miss Lu had offended Sophia and asked him to teach a lesson.

Bryan’s extremely calm face still couldn’t see any fluctuations, but his eyes became darker and his voice was extremely cold, “Fantasy woman, do you treat me as a nightclub?”

It happened that the door was knocked at this moment.

“roll!”

The man stared at Mr. Han's eyes without moving, and coldly bit out a word.

He didn't get angry, but anyone could feel that he was angry, even a bit more violent than usual.

Sophia, who knocked at the door, was so frightened that her heart trembled, but she was more jealous.

He is still for that woman.

Chapter 164

With a gloomy heart, she gritted her teeth and reached out and opened the door.

The atmosphere in the entire office is so cold that people can freeze to death.

Sophia swallowed silently, squeezed out a smile, and pretended to say without knowing: "Brother Chen, you are back."

The man's indifferent handsome face did not show any expression, only his thin lips moved, "Get out!"

Sophia looked embarrassed, but forced a smile, gently placed the water glass in front of him, and said gently: "Brother Chen, I have something to look for you."

With his head buried deep, President Han raised his head slightly and looked at her strangely.

Bryan's black eyes glanced at her faintly, "Which word of what I said you don't understand?"

“ ... ”

Sophia turned white, bit her lower lip lightly, and nodded in a grieved manner, “Oh, I’ll come back later.”

After speaking, she turned around, looked at each other with President Han, opened the door and left.

The door was closed, President Han wiped the cold sweat from his forehead, and said with a smile: “Mr. Shao...this incident is indeed my fault, but there are no serious consequences. You, you forgive me for this. Once, I won’t dare again next time...”

“Forgive?” The man squeezed his cuffs, leaned back slowly, and slowly said: “You can go and talk to the police, and see if they forgive you.”

After speaking, he picked up the file in front of him and threw it in front of him with a snap, “I won’t use it tomorrow.”

President Han was stunned for a moment, and suddenly raised his eyes in a panic: “Shao, President Shao, what policeman? You can’t do this? Even if I did it, I didn’t succeed. You can do anything you want me to do, please don’t Call the police.”

“Are you asking me to send someone to send you, or let them come and pick you up?” The man’s voice was very clean, like a deep autumn cold lake, cool and clear.

“No, no, Mr. Shao, I can go, but you can’t do this. If you let the media know, it will affect Miss Lu’s reputation for the company... Why bother?” Mr. Han looked excited and panicked. Sweating.

The dark eyes of the man turned a little bit of coldness, “It’s meaningless to threaten me. Before the media knows, think about your wife, children and daughter.”

President Han opened his mouth several times, and only decadence and despair remained on his wrinkled face.

“Let’s go, someone downstairs is waiting for you.”

Han Zong looked at the aggressive young man in front of him. He hadn’t been in Longteng for a day. He knew his temperament and dying struggle was impossible. He could only keep the last escape.

After thinking for a while, he picked up the file on the ground and left without saying a word.

In the corner of the elevator corridor, Mr. Han’s phone suddenly remembered.

He took out a look with a heavy expression, his expression relaxed, he immediately pressed to answer, walked to the corner, lowered his voice anxiously: “Miss Fu, Shao always wants to send me to the police station, you have to save me.”

A woman’s calm and low voice came from the phone, “What are you panicking? You confessed to be lenient, you have attempted to rape you, at most you will be detained for a few days. I will find someone to get you out, and the work will be arranged for you.

President Han was overjoyed, and finally heaved a sigh of relief and smiled, “Okay, I see, thank you.”

It seems that this woman has long known that this will be the result and has already figured out a countermeasure.

After hanging up the phone, he went downstairs with ease.

The person who had been waiting came forward and whispered: “Mr. Han, here.”

...

Upstairs, not long after Mr. Han left, Sophia estimated the time and went to the president’s office again.

“Brother Chen, are you finished?” The woman dressed up with a very well-behaved appearance, cautiously.

“I will be called like them in the company from now on.”

The man’s tone was very plain, but the more plain the more indifferent, “Is there something?”

The atmosphere froze.

Sophia stroked the hair around her ears and said softly: “My dad heard that you are back, and would like to invite you and aunt to gather at home tonight. Let me... tell you.”

Bryan carefully read the documents in his hand, lowered his head to sign, and said casually, “I have something tonight. If you want to invite my mother, you can tell her.”

“Chen... President Shao.” Sophia’s face was embarrassed, and she looked at him sadly, “What happened last time, were you still angry? My dad also wanted to take the opportunity to make compensation for you. If you don’t want to see me, night I don’t have to attend...but I hope you don’t refute his face, count me...please.”

“Things are over, no need to mention it.” The man’s attitude was neat, and he could barely see any extra emotions.”Mr. Fu doesn’t have to say anything to me. Okay, I have to be busy. No other things, you go out first. .”

Sophia was anxious, as if she couldn’t bear it anymore, she walked a few steps forward, and said dissatisfied: “Mr. Shao, since it was my fault, I didn’t think about escaping, but in the end I also took it. Dad is okay, you don’t have to rise to that level. He has already invited you down. What else are you doing?”

She didn’t understand. How could someone who was polite to everyone before now has to oppose the whole world for a woman? Is that woman so worthy of him?

The man was finally willing to move his gaze to her, his sword eyebrows twisted slightly, his eyes thin and cold, “You mean I have no right to refuse?”

“I...” Sophia choked, looked away awkwardly, and explained: “I, I didn’t mean that. You know my dad’s temper. I don’t want to make your relationship stiff because of my impulse.”

Bryan said indifferently: “In this case, please go back and tell Mr. Fu that I will make an appointment another day. I will come back in a hurry this time, and there are still things to do.

Sophia was unwilling, and blurted out: “Your business is to accompany Miriam. Auntie is not as important as her in your eyes?”

“This is my personal business.”

The woman bit her lip, her tone faintly complaining, “Didn’t I tell you a private matter? Every time you come back now, you go to that woman. You don’t go to see my aunt for as long as I go...”

“Sophia.” The man called out her name in a deep voice, and Qing Jun’s brows and eyes slowly covered with a layer of chill, “You have too much care, my mom doesn’t need you to feel distressed, and I don’t need you to care about my housework. With this time, worry about work more.”

Family affairs, the two words made Sophia extremely embarrassed for a moment. He regarded Miriam as a family member, but regarded her as an outsider.

“Get out.” The man didn’t want to say more.

Sophia squeezed her five fingers, staring at the man’s lowered head again, cold current rushed through her chest, and the ice was numb.

She would never let her so many years of hard work in vain and get nothing in the end.

Taking a deep breath, her tone returned to her usual tone, “Then you pay attention to rest, I will tell my dad when I turn around, and I will make an appointment again someday.”

Chapter 165

Run code

In Yingxin Technology, Miriam and Mu Ming returned to the department, and a group of people came from the side, probably just after a meeting, headed by Mr. Henry.

Miriam waved her hand to let Mu Ming go in first, and when everyone walked in front of her, she smiled and greeted Henry Zong, “Henry Zong.”

President Henry looked at her and smiled, “Are you getting better?”

“Thank you Henry always cared, much better.”

Zheng Yun, who followed with him, raised his thin and black eyebrows upwards, gave her a big smile and said, “Mr. Lu is not feeling well again? You look good, not like it. Looks uncomfortable.”

Miriam smiled slightly, “It’s just a fever. Once the fever subsides, it will be fine.”

Zheng Yun said lightly: “I remember you have been several times this month, Manager Lu, you should pay more attention to rest.”

As she said, she looked at Mr. Henry and smiled, “Mr. Henry, I suggest that our company organize another physical examination. Many colleagues work hard like that. It hurts the body. What if one day...should be unpleasant, if it is a sudden death. Now, who is the responsibility?”

The other people at the meeting also looked at each other. Although they didn’t speak, their eyes mostly agreed with Zheng Yun’s words. Even President Henry thought about it, and said to Miriam earnestly: “Xiao Lu, I remember you have invited many times recently. You’re on sick leave. You really need to take a break. If you’re too busy, give it to the people below.”

“It is estimated that Manager Lu will not be able to rest in a short time.” Zheng Yun smiled, in a chatty tone, “Longteng and Fengrui, the two big partners, are all being contacted by Manager Lu, which is also our company’s next year. The main source of profit, she is indispensable, she has no time to rest,”

President Henry frowned slightly.

Miriam’s mood sank slowly, glanced at Zheng Yun, smiled slowly, and said to Mr. Henry, “Don’t worry about Mr. Henry. I will arrange the rest time. In fact, I won’t have it even if I fall ill. What’s the impact? The children in my department are young and vigorous, and they work very hard. I can do their work well without them.”

She remembered what the department subordinates said to her that day. Zheng Yun targeted her because she had recently robbed too much of the performance belonging to her department, but now that the opportunity has fallen to her, she has to fight whether she can swallow it or not. One fight, and, as a boss, she must be worthy of the efforts of her department partners.

“Manager Lu can’t fall ill.” Zheng Yun immediately answered the conversation, his expression became serious, but his tone was still a bit of yin and yang, “Otherwise, Mr. Shao will probably be worried, and Mr. Henry will not be able to survive. Ah.”

Miriam’s face changed slightly, “What does Manager Zheng mean?”

The woman looked at her with delicate makeup. Hearing the words, she looked at her innocently and incomprehensibly, and turned her head to ask, “Aren’t Manager Lu and Mr. Shao good friends? I just saw Mr. Lu from Mr. Shao’s car upstairs. Go up and down, is it because I read it wrong?”

With a simple sentence, the atmosphere suddenly became a little subtle, and everyone looked at Miriam.

No one is stupid, anyone can hear the deep meaning of this.

President Henry didn’t answer immediately, but his expression was a little puzzled.

Miriam’s eyes sank, her thin back straight, her loose black suit set off her calmness and calmness. She looked at Zheng Yun without evasiveness, curled her lips and smiled, “Manager Zheng has really good eyesight. I can see it, yes, it’s me. I didn’t drive. I met Mr. Shao on the road. He gave me a ride. As for my friends, I really looked up to me. It’s just that I met Mr. Shao a few times with Henry. Relationship, naturally more polite than never before.”

This sentence I have never seen before, naturally deliberately poke Zheng Yun’s sore spot.

In the past, this kind of cooperation and negotiation matters have been referred to her marketing department. Ever since Zheng Yun was not there when he went to Longteng for the first time, Mr. Henry asked her to replace him. After that somehow, it naturally fell on her head, Zheng Yun. Naturally, she was angry. After all, such a big order would have covered her salary for several months.

Zheng Yun’s face quietly became cold, and he smiled faintly, “No wonder, at the Long Teng party yesterday, Director Han only invited Manager Lu’s department, which really made everyone envious, but later I heard that Henry Zong was not invited. , I don’t know if it’s true.”

She looked at President Henry and seemed to be asking.

This is obviously to blame Long Teng for only fancying one of her department managers, not even the boss, and accusing Miriam of flattering attitude and leading a bunch of people to flatter other companies.

Miriam was startled, looked at President Henry, and smiled, “This is a small party at the bottom level that Han President explained to me last night. President Han is afraid to neglect President Henry and intends to invite them to President Shao in the future, but , I forgot one thing. At that time, all the people in the Zheng management department should be allowed to go together. They booked half of the hotel, and only those of us were a bit wasteful.”

Zheng Yun’s expression finally changed, somewhat ugly.

Let their department pick up the leftovers, right? Does she really think she is fond of that thing? This woman who has never seen the world.

President Henry couldn't see anything unusual on his face, but he was a little surprised and said with emotion: "They are so polite. Big companies are like big companies. Then we can't be too stingy. We must invite them during the annual meeting."

Miriam smiled, "I can always consider this season."

President Henry nodded, "Then go ahead and take more rest."

"Um, good."

Watching the crowd leave, the smile on Miriam's face slowly dissipated, and she turned to look at the other woman who had stayed in place.

"Mr. Zheng has a bad career recently, bad love or bad health?"

Zheng Yun's cold expression didn't have any smile or politeness, and his voice was a bit bitter."What are you proud of? Without any market experience and personal connections, do you think these two big orders are so easy to swallow? You screwed it up. Think you can stay here?"

The empty hallway was clean and bright. Miriam slowly leaned against the wall with her arms around her chest, lazily curling up her red lips, her tone seemed to be a smile, "To be honest, it was indeed a challenge. I want to concentrate on doing my report, but President Henry's expectations, and the enthusiasm of the little friends in my department, leave me no choice. If you think about you and your department, I also want to think about them?"

In Yingxin Technology, Miriam and Mu Ming returned to the department, and a group of people came from the side, probably just after a meeting, headed by Mr. Henry.

"Um, good."

Watching the crowd leave, the smile on Miriam's face slowly dissipated, and she turned to look at the other woman who had stayed in place.

"Mr. Zheng has a bad career recently, bad love or bad health?"

Zheng Yun's cold expression didn't have any smile or politeness, and his voice was a bit bitter. "What are you proud of? Without any market experience and personal connections, do you think these two big orders are so easy to swallow? You screwed it up. Think you can stay here?"

The empty hallway was clean and bright. Miriam slowly leaned against the wall with her arms around her chest, lazily curling up her red lips, her tone seemed to be a smile, "To be honest, it was indeed a challenge. I want to concentrate on doing my report, but President Henry's expectations, and the enthusiasm of the little friends in my department, leave me no choice. If you think about you and your department, I also want to think about them?"

Zheng Yun coldly snorted, “You get a good deal, Miriam, I have really underestimated you in the past few years, but you are probably the only one who knows most about these things. , Otherwise it’s not easy to raise your head on the day of exposure.”

How did you get it?

There is obviously something in this statement.

Miriam happened to catch the disdain in her eyes, narrowed her beautiful eyes, her expression condensed a little, “I can’t see that Manager Zheng still maliciously speculates on other people’s villain intentions, don’t you just want to say that I betray my body and color Are you getting these? I’m younger and more beautiful than you, and I’m in a shorter time than you sitting in this position. I don’t have enough abilities, so I don’t have to doubt others?”

“you!”

Zheng Yun almost vomited blood and looked at her strangely, “I have never seen a cheeky woman like you. You and Mr. Shao get together. There are men picking up and dropping flowers from time to time outside, even Before, Mr. Shang from Fengrui Group also knew you...Even the blind can see the ambiguity in this, right? I now finally understand...Why are you divorced.”

Why hadn’t she noticed this woman so shameless before? Now even Henry always turned towards her intentionally or unintentionally.

Miriam’s eyes gradually turned cold, but her tone was still smiling, “Manager Zheng, please be careful when you speak, why I am divorced is my personal matter, and I don’t need to explain it to you. As for the relationship with customers, what should I see? People, let alone explain to you.”

Miriam smiled, turned and pushed open the glass door to enter the department to isolate her, only the fire-breathing eyes could be seen.

But when she turned around, her expression became ugly. Since Zheng Yun looked at it this way, it showed that the company was not the only one who said this behind her back. If it continues to pass, one day even Henry will look at it with strange eyes. she was.

“Sister Miriam.” Before she could think about it anymore, she was suddenly grabbed by a subordinate and asked excitedly: “Sister Miriam, I heard that you were sent by Mr. Shao in the morning? Really?”

Miriam’s mouth stiffened, and she smiled dryly, “Where did you hear about it.”

The girl was taken aback, blinked and smiled ambiguously, “Many people have seen it.”

Okay, a lot?

Miriam was slightly startled, and turned her head to look towards the window subconsciously. She seemed to react and slapped herself severely in her heart.

There are windows on all sides. She patronized her in the morning thinking about the medication last night, but she completely forgot to tell Bryan to park the car a little bit farther. These people didn’t see all of them when they lowered their heads.

Moreover, she didn’t care if she had forgotten, the man didn’t even notice.

No wonder Zheng Yun said that just now.

She squeezed out a concealed smile, and she pretended to be calm and said: “It was not he who sent me, but he also returned to the company. It happened to be on the way. I just took a ride with the cheeky.

“Take a ride? Hehe... Mr. Shao is really handsome and decent.” The little girl’s eyes gleaming with excitement completely showed that she didn’t believe her words, and it looked like we understand.

“Sister Miriam, President Shao is so handsome, you must cheer!” Someone even started to cheer her up.

Miriam’s mouth twitched fiercely. It seemed that she was over-worried. The more the spread, the happier the children in her department might be.

At the same time, she felt a little relieved. She rolled her eyelids, and then joked: “Can you be a meal if you are handsome? Only money can be a meal. You have to work hard. Don’t be so superficial. It’s better to rely on yourself.”

Chapter 167

The topic was brought over by her, everyone smiled and stopped talking, Miriam took the opportunity to answer the phone and returned to her office.

In a police station in City Two, Director Han entered the police station along with the driver sent by Bryan.

Although he was very reluctant in his heart, thinking of his wife, daughter, and Sophia’s words made him feel relieved for a while, and followed the police to confess his mistakes with a calm and calm appearance.

He talked about the whole process sincerely, and finally admitted his mistakes regretfully, but what he never forgot was to emphasize the attempted rape and just bought illegal drugs.

It's just that his bitter drama has just finished, and the police didn't say anything. The young driver who sent him over suddenly took out a thick stack of documents from his document bag and put them in front of the police.

"Hello, I am a legal officer of the Longteng Group. During the eight years of his tenure as the director of Longteng, Mr. Han was suspected of assaulting three women by the same method. Here are the confessions and evidence of all the parties. In addition, Han Mr. also used his position to leak company secrets. After close inspection, he has violated the criminal law..."

Hearing the clear and smooth words of the man in front of him, Mr. Han suddenly widened his eyes and was shocked to the extreme. The whole person seemed to be stunned, as if he hadn't expected such a surprise at all.

He is not a driver?

After a few seconds flashed in his mind, he suddenly realized that he had been tricked by Bryan.

Immediately standing up, he lost his mind and went up to grab materials, and shouted: "No, I didn't do it...you framed me, you framed me..."

The other police officers in the office quickly stepped forward to stop him.

The young lawyer smiled faintly and looked at him slowly and said: "Have Mr. Han done it? The police and the court will check it out. However, before the matter is cleared, Mr. Han will stay here temporarily. If you want to go back to life, there will be no delay, goodbye."

"No, no, don't you go!"

President Han's face turned pale, he roared in horror, and violently struggled to push the person away and was about to chase him, but he was soon suppressed.

After get off work in the evening, everyone in Miriam's company had left. She was alone in the office sorting out documents. Suddenly Bryan called in.

I didn't want to answer it, but remembering what she had asked him to check before, she just pressed the answer, "Hey."

"Where?" Miriam paused: "Well... still at the company, what do you want to say, just over the phone..."

"I will look for you."

Before she finished speaking, she was interrupted by the gentle voice of the man.

Miriam was taken aback for a moment, and then he realized that when he was about to say no, he hung up the phone.

Looking for her?

Is he coming to Yingxin or?

Fearing that the man would come upstairs to look for her, she panicked, hurriedly sorted out the information, locked the door, picked up the bag, and rushed out.

When I got off the elevator and walked out of the company, I was panting.

She took a deep breath and looked into the distance. Before she could find anyone, a man's voice suddenly came from behind her.

“Someone is chasing you behind? You are inconvenient now, can’t you slow down your walk?”

Miriam turned around and looked at the man with an unhappy expression.

“I...” She was suddenly annoyed, “It’s not because of you.”

Thinking of being downstairs in her own company, afraid of being seen again when she turned around, she grabbed his arm and walked away, “Hurry up, don’t be here.”

Seeing her vigilant look as a thief, Bryan was naturally able to guess what she was thinking. Her heart felt a little uncomfortable and she did not take the initiative. She let her drag herself away with great effort, her tone was cool, “Mr. Xiang took the child before Waiting for you downstairs, I never saw you like that.”

Miriam walked forward sullenly, not paying attention to him at all, and blurted out and replied: “My brother and I are clear and honest.”

The man raised his handsome eyebrows instantly, his lips twitched, “Are you admitting that you are not clear with me?”

Miriam shook her heart, suddenly stopped, and shook off his arm, blushing and cursing: “Who is confused with you? We are very clear. You don’t want to ruin my reputation. It’s not because of your morning. ...”

She said that the voice was suddenly silenced, her eyes staring sternly, “Did you intentionally park the car below this morning? It was because of you that caused us both to be seen by the whole company!”

Chapter 168

A smile appeared in Bryan's cold eyes, and the explanation was light and windy, "I asked you where you want to go several times in the morning, and you have been ignoring me, so I can only stop at the nearest location."

"I, I..." Miriam stammered, gritted her teeth angrily, "I was thinking about things, can't you speak loudly?"

Don't tell her that he didn't expect that the two buildings are made of glass. Is there anything below that can't be seen? He can notice this without thinking.

The man raised his hand and naturally lifted the hair on her face, and smiled low, but this smile inexplicably set out a bit of evil, "It's been a day, and you still continue to have trouble with yourself for it? Could it be that you Thinking of me all day today?"

Miriam's ears became hot and angry, "Who misses you, hurry up and tell me what you know, I have to go home."

Bryan's deep eyes looked at her gently, took her hand and walked forward, and said lightly and slowly: "No hurry, go to dinner first, and talk while eating."

"..."

Miriam's face changed slightly, struggling, angrily at each other, "When did I promise to have dinner with you?"

Bryan held her hand tightly, did not move at all, looked up around her face calmly, then curled her lips, "Then you want to talk to me here? Are you afraid of being seen?"

Miriam twitched her mouth, bit her lip, "Go."

Getting into the car reluctantly, Bryan seemed to be in a good mood. The curvature of his lips became deeper and he lowered his head and fastened his seat belt. He said, "We will continue to let Yan Ke take you to work tomorrow. Of course, if you want, take mine. A car will do."

She didn't drive to work recently, indicating that she still listened to what he said that day, and at the same time felt relieved a lot.

Miriam refused expressionlessly, simply, "No!"

She finally drove him away, so she stopped dragging her tail, it was no different from installing a tracker.

Bryan said helplessly and extremely patiently: "Miriam, I can't be by your side all the time, for you or for the children, will you listen to me first during this time?"

Miriam's eyes flashed slightly, and she turned her eyes to look at him extremely indifferently, with a smile but a smile, "It seems that I will not be in danger if you are by your side. I can live without you. Drive!"

After speaking, she turned away and looked forward.

Bryan took a deep look at her, her thin lips tightened, and stopped speaking, and started the car.

As it got dark, the two entered a restaurant.

"Hello, how many?" The waiter walked forward graciously.

"Two."

"Okay, please follow me."

Finding a private cubicle, Miriam took off her loose coat and sat down.

Bryan looked at her slightly bulging abdomen under her slender body. His eyes slowly became soft, and he helped her put the coat away. He walked to the side and took a pillow and placed it behind her, "This is more comfortable."

Miriam glanced at him, did not say anything or refuse.

The waiter brought the menu, she glanced at it, then passed it to him, and whispered: "I'll take this meal, you order."

After all, after helping her so many times, and seeing her in the hospital last night, she couldn't pretend to be so unkind, and cost him money for a meal.

Bryan looked down at the menu, then glanced at her again, without saying a word, opening the menu with an obedient appearance, and carefully selected.

Miriam put down the phone, and as soon as she raised her head, she bowed her head to the handsome man in Shangqing intently. His slender fingers were placed on the menu, forming a very eye-catching picture with the dark background behind him.

He really looks like a very quiet beautiful man.

Miriam curled her lips and forced herself to look away.

Chapter 169

After ordering, he returned the menu to the waiter. The man poured her a cup of hot water and asked casually, "I was on a business trip two days ago and booked a child autism expert friend. You can ask Mr. Xiang to take the child. Take a look."

Miriam was taken aback, surprised that he was paying attention to Tian Tian's affairs, "Thank you, I will tell my senior brother later."

The man looked down at the pattern on the dining table, his expression could not see any emotions, and he pursed his lips calmly, "I will send you the detailed information of my friend, otherwise, your brother would probably not believe it. After all, he also saw many experts this year, and now he is counting on you."

The man's speech rate is very slow, his voice is also very low, there is an illusion of gentleness.

Miriam was very grateful before, but the last sentence suddenly felt wrong.

It feels like he didn't help Tian Tian to find an expert, he seemed to care about Tian Tian following her.

She twisted her eyebrows and explained: "Let Tian Tian stay with me for a period of time. This is what I thought. Brother didn't agree to it. I insisted. If you can't live with a child, your heart can be small. A little bit?"

"In front of Mr. Xiang, how serious do you expect me to be?" The man did not deny at all, he was very calm and generous, and looked at her with burning eyes.

With a heartbeat, Miriam hurriedly avoided looking at each other, saying incoherently, "Brother is not as small as you."

"That's because he doesn't care about you so much, and because the child's tone is by your side wasting time, it is better to try a professional doctor."

Miriam blinked and stared at him for a while.

The brother didn't care about her, she didn't care, but what he said made sense. The method she thought before was actually just trying, and it would really delay her time. If there is a chance, of course she should ask a doctor for treatment.

“Go back and send me your friend’s contact information.”

Bryan raised a smile on his lips, “If Mr. Xiang has this intention, just ask him to contact me directly, maybe the chance of making an appointment will be better.”

Miriam, “...”

Smelly man, do you have to force them to accept his love?

If it doesn’t work, she must laugh at him well.

The food is ready. Miriam glanced down, prawns, scrambled eggs, rib soup...

Why do you look at all maternity meals?

She frowned and looked at him suspiciously, “I’m a treat, do you need you to save me money?”

Bryan twitched her thin lips, filled her with a bowl of soup, and said lightly: “Your mother said you have a bad appetite recently.”

Miriam watched his every move coldly, biting her lip and mocking, “My mother said? What are you doing with my mother? Bryan, you still have to keep an inch.”

The man chuckled, “How can I get an inch? It’s just that when I went to the house with you in the morning, I asked my aunt. She said that you are too busy and won’t come back at noon. There is no way to adjust your diet.”

Speaking of this, it probably hit Miriam something, causing her face to change slightly.

Bryan paused slightly, and looked at her with concerned eyes, "What's the matter?"

Miriam regained consciousness for a moment, and her thoughts became more serious. She lowered her head to eat, "It's okay."

After a long while, he asked: "Did you find out what happened last night?"

He took the vegetables to her without rushing, and the man stated without distraction: "Well, it's Han Yang. He didn't deny it at all. When I asked, he admitted directly."

Miriam's face changed as soon as she was in a daze, "Just admit it? He didn't argue it at all? It's obvious that you just suspected that there was no evidence at all. Why did he admit it so quickly? Half of his reputation was ruined. , And going to jail, isn't he afraid?"

The man separated the fishbone, lowered his head, and said nonchalantly: "Well, I am also puzzled, so let people continue to look into the strangeness inside."

"Then what do you do to him now?"

The murderer seemed to have no suspense, but it made Miriam feel suspicious.

"Sent to prison." The man uttered three words lightly.

Miriam's eyebrows trembled and stared at him, "You really sent him to prison? If the media becomes public, wouldn't Long Teng be affected?"

After all, she is the director of a large company, and it is nothing for her to be exposed as a victim, but the company is affected, which means a loss of money, and it will never be a small sum.

Chapter 170

Bryan raised his head and smiled, “Are you worried about me?”

Miriam was stunned by the man’s smile, and said coolly, “I myself have a bunch of messy people who are worried about you? I’m just doing nothing.”

The man pushed the peeled fish in front of her, and said without ups and downs: “I let the news be blocked, the media will not publicize it, and Han Yang will not get away so simply.”

Miriam’s eyes flashed extremely quickly, and she looked at him inquisitively, “What else did you do?”

The crime was attempted and there was no clear evidence. He was detained for a few days at most, and if he looked back for some relationship, he might be out in three days.

The man took care of her while eating by himself. He didn’t rush or slowed down, his voice was low and gentle, “He has embezzled a lot of company funds over the years, he has also used his power to take a lot of bribes, and he has also made a lot of money from buying and selling company intelligence. It was checked, so he was transferred from the headquarters. The evidence was still worse. He happened to hit the gunpoint this time. The combined punishment should be enough for a ten-year sentence.”

Miriam looked at him dumbfounded.

Bryan looked at her, feeling cute inexplicably, his eyes softened, “What’s the matter?”

She calmed down and laughed at herself, “I wanted to be grateful, but now it seems that I was used by you, except for a major problem.”

Bryan's handsome face slowly sank, and he looked at her seriously, "I never thought about using a woman, and I'm not grateful for what happened last night. If something happens to you, it won't be enough for him to die ten times."

"..."

Miriam's pretty face slowly froze.

He always speaks with a serious look, although he is used to it, the occasional confession inserted still makes her heart palpitating.

She was a little surprised.

But a few seconds of silence was suddenly interrupted by the sound of a mobile phone.

The man picked up the phone at hand, glanced at it, and pressed to answer, "Hey."

Not knowing what was said over there, Miriam clearly saw his face suddenly become gloomy.

"where?"

"..."

"Well, I'll go over immediately."

Miriam moved her eyelashes, lowered her eyes, and lowered her head to eat.

The man hung up the phone, frowned and looked at her, his voice still steady, “Sorry, my mother had asthma suddenly, I need to go over and see, you continue to eat, I will let Yan Ke come and take you back.”

Miriam looked up at him, and said quietly: “Don’t be so troublesome. I just need to take a taxi and go back by myself. Go ahead.”

Although his face did not change, she could feel that he was still anxious.

The man picked up his jacket and got up and walked over to her, leaned over her ears, and refused in a warm voice, “I will be worried, you will eat, he will come over in time.”

Miriam twisted her eyebrows dissatisfied, and turned her face to say something. As soon as she spoke a word, her mouth was blocked, “I...um.”

Just a soft kiss, the man’s lips left, rubbing her head like a pet, “I’m leaving.”

The whole process took a few seconds, before Miriam could see clearly, the man had already walked away with long legs, leaving her face burnt blankly there.

For a long while, looking at the table full of uneaten dishes and the empty seats opposite, the man’s breath seemed to have not disappeared, and Miriam’s mood was inexplicably empty.

Chopsticks picked up the fish in front of her and took a bite. She chewed absently. She looked around and felt a little bit of sorrow in her heart. For a moment, she picked up the phone and dialed Kristy’s phone.

...

Bryan, who drove the car quickly to the pointing place, didn’t even knock on the door, and pushed open the door with a sullen face.

A group of formal men and women in the hotel's private rooms.

"Achen, here you are."

The people in the room looked at him together, all showing joyful expressions.

Bryan's indifferent eyes swept around and landed on the middle-aged woman who was safe and sound in the center. There was no surprise on Jun's face.

In fact, he realized something on the way, but eventually he came.

The middle-aged lady who was talking was young and beautiful, and her skin looked better than that of Shao's mother. She didn't seem to notice the man's face, and smiled and approached him lovingly and pulled him into the house.

"Achen, Auntie hasn't seen you for a long time, I really miss you."

The man withdrew his arm calmly and smiled indifferently, "I thought anyone was going to the hospital."

Shao Mu's face suddenly sank, "Do you want me to go to the hospital?"

The lady was stunned, and she was embarrassed immediately, "Silly boy, it's not that you deliberately lie to you, it's not that your mother is afraid you won't come."

Then she gestured to the young girl on the side, "Xiaoxue, hurry up, hello to Brother Chen to sit down."

"Oh, oh oh." Sophia regained her sense of dazedness, hurriedly stepped forward and pulled the chair away, and shouted timidly, "Brother Chen."

Although she wanted him to come, but the attention just now was really not what she thought of. This kind of obvious trick, he didn't have to think about it before he knew it was fake, so she wouldn't be stupid and bumped into the muzzle, but She was afraid that he was instigated by her misunderstanding.

“Mr. Shao.”

“Manager Shao...”

Several cousins of the Fu family also greeted him diligently.

The Fu family was born in real estate, and it was Sophia's father who started from scratch. A wealthy family is not a big money, at best, it is a big money who got rich overnight. Several cousins are also dudes with round fat intestines, idle and idle, all these years. old.

The Fu family and the Shao family have known each other because of the dead Bryan's father, a friend of more than ten years, and the two families are still close, and Sophia's thoughts have long been secretive in the eyes of the two adults.

It's just that Mr. Shao took a fancy to Miriam first. The two got married. No matter how unwilling the Fu family is, they can only keep their minds down. But recently he got divorced, and this kind of eager thought will naturally be revealed again.

The Fu family was also afraid of missing out again, so they couldn't wait to set the Hongmen Banquet.

Bryan did not sit next to Sophia, but just pulled a chair beside Shao's mother and sat down casually. She didn't seem to have seen the two brothers' hospitality. He turned his eyes to look at Shao's mother, “Have you taken the medicine?”

Mother Shao's complexion was still not so good, and she said lightly: "What kind of medicine, have a hard time meeting with your uncle and aunt, I have to have a drink anytime soon."

Bryan, "..."

Sophia saw the man's face getting more gloomy, she smiled and walked to Shao's mother, softly coaxing, "Auntie, your health is not good, Chen brother also feels sorry for you, so stop drinking, just let them drink it."

Mother Shao curled her lips, Yin and Yang said weirdly: "He can feel sorry for me. He just wished that I would go to the hospital."

Sophia couldn't laugh or cry suddenly, stroking her back softly and comforting her, "Brother Chen is really worried about you, so he said that in anger. Don't blame him."
