

Chapter 1324

On the other end, Sean was shocked when he heard Jennie crying.

At that moment, Rose was not with him, so Sean softly consoled her, "Jen, don't cry. What happened? Tell me slowly, and don't cry. Whatever happened, I will help you out."

Jennie cried even more intensely. "Seany, tell me... When have I ever suffered such a large humiliation? Your daughter-in-law, how could she and her mother be so fierce and ferocious? I just went to teach dancing lessons. I'm a dancing instructor that went overseas, and I was actually beaten up by her."

"What?"

Sean was shocked. "My daughter-in-law, Sabrina, she... She beat you up again?"

"She worked with her mother to beat me today." Jennie sobbed.

"She's too much!"

Sean slammed the table angrily.

"Jen, don't cry. Were you beaten up badly? Go get yourself checked up. I will deal with this matter. I will definitely seek justice for this matter. I will definitely seek justice for you! I want to see what kind of excuse Sabrina is going to make up!"

"Okay, thank you, Seany. I'll hang up for now. I won't go back to the Shaw family for now. I'm worried that my uncle will feel bad if he sees me. Also, if my uncle knows I've been beaten up like that, he might get incredibly angry. After all, he's always hated the two of them."

"You're right, Jen, you should find a hotel to stay in for now. I'll definitely seek justice for you, don't worry."

"Yes, thank you, Seany. I'm hanging up now."

After hanging up, Sean paced around the room he was in with anger.

After half an hour, Rose returned from the garden after watering the flowers.

"What is it?" Rose asked.

Sean asked Rose angrily, "Do you want to get rid of Sabrina?!"

Rose was speechless.

After a brief pause, she asked, "No matter what, Sabrina is still your daughter-in-law. Why do you seem to hate her more than I

Why do you seem to hate her more than I do?"

"You old lady!" Sean angrily rolled his eyes at Rose.

"If it wasn't for you, why would I refuse to let her off?! Rose, you're old, and I'm old as well. I can tell that, with Sabrina's wild demeanor, and the man she has outside, I doubt she would let you off. Have you noticed, that man always seems to be trying to kill you!"

Rose suddenly sobbed.

She sobbed for a while before saying, "Sean ... I never thought that you cared about me so much. I... I've already seen that Sabrina won't rest until she kills me off. That man is always trying to kill me. Boohoo..."

"I have no one else to rely on, all my children are dead, I... Boohoo." Rose sobbed incredibly miserably.

Sean held Rose tightly. "Old woman, don't cry! You have the chance for your revenge now."

Rose looked up at Sean. "What chance?"

"The Shaw family!" Sean said.

Rose immediately said, "Old Master Shaw

"The Shaw family!" Sean said.

Rose immediately said, "Old Master Shaw is Sabrina's grandfather now. If not for that reason, why do you think Sabrina has been able to act so wildly lately?"

Sean coldly laughed. "He definitely is Sabrina's grandfather, but that depends on whether or not Old Master Shaw likes that granddaughter! Old Master Shaw even hates his own daughter, so how could he like his granddaughter? Old Master Shaw actually has a niece that he treats like his own daughter, and that child has always been by his side. The old man really loves her."

Rose said, "Oh? Who is that?"

"She's called Jennie, and she just returned from overseas to take care of the old man, and what do you think happened?" Sean deliberately guided Rose toward Jennie.

Rose immediately asked, "What?"

"Jennie was beaten up by Sabrina and her mother."
