"After saying all these, you still can't let him go."

At night, Luna looked after Joshua. After changing his IV drip, Bonnie called. When Bonnie heard the excuse Luna gave for staying to take care of him, she could not help but sigh.

"Your excuses are invalid. Nellie's illness only needs to be carefully taken care of, she would get better sooner or later.

"Nigel's illness needs money. Joshua is unconscious. It's just nice that no one could hold me back. I would be able to afford ten million, let alone a million dollars. I don't believe that you have never thought of this.

"You only want these as an excuse for you to stay back in the hospital to take care of him."

Bonnie sighed.

"Forget about it. I have no right to lecture you. Back then, I had been always hesitating just for a scumbag like Jason. Although Joshua is terrible to you too, but compared to that scumbag, Jason, he is much better.

"But, even if you're staying there to take care of him, you have to be careful. Don't fall for him."

Then, Bonnie directly hung up.

On this side of the call, Luna held her phone and sighed heavily.

Bonnie was right. To say that it was for Nigel and Nellie...was all just an excuse.

However, she chose to stay there and take care of Joshua not completely because she could not let him go.

In the evening, Jude sent her more videos and recordings.

Besides the things he said the night before and the roses, Joshua actually did a lot of things for her.

When she was unconscious, not only did Joshua take the initiative to bring Nigel back from abroad, but he also used his money to pacify Theo's father.

If not, Theo's father, Nathan, would never have let go of the fact that Luna killed Theo, let alone persuade Celeste.

Also, Neil.

After Neil passed away, Joshua tried to search day and night for Neil's torn pieces of clothing amidst the crumbling ruins.

Furthermore, the donor for Nigel's bone marrow somewhat had to do with Joshua.

Joshua had secretly done all these things for her without telling her.

Luna sighed. She looked at the man with angular facial features in front of her.

She realized she was getting more confused with this man.

What is he like as a person? Was he aloof and heartless just like how he presented himself?

Perhaps he was like what Jude said, secretly doing a lot of things, then silently bearing through everything.

Luna could not think straight.

Thus, she wanted to take care of him and get him to wake up sooner. She wanted to ask him for an explanation right in front of his face. Why did he do so many things but never told her?

Why did he clearly care for his children so much, yet he was not willing to share their medical bills? Why did he have to put on a cold and heartless front?

Luna took care of Joshua in his ward for three days.

In those three days, besides work, she had been cooped up in the small ward.

Sometimes, during lunch, she would also come to check up on Joshua, to see if he has woken up or not.

By the evening of the third day, Luna looked at the time on her phone. She sighed heavily.

Nigel was about to undergo bone marrow transplant surgery the next day.

If Joshua still did not come around...

Perhaps, he might miss out on Nigel's most important day.

If something were to happen to Nigel during surgery, he would no longer have the chance to see Nigel anymore.

"Ms. Luna, don't worry, with such a wise and kind wife like you, Mr. Lynch would surely wake up."

The nurse gently comforted Luna while changing Joshua's IV drip bag.

"If he doesn't come around, how could he pay you back for all you have done for the past few days?"

Luna smiled at the nurse.

"We're divorced." They had been divorced for six years already.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 822

Joshua actually had a new lover.

However, his new lover, Fiona, has not been to the hospital to visit him. Not even once. She did not even come to work.

Perhaps she truly thought that he would not be able to wake up?

Lucas has mentioned Fiona when he came to visit Joshua occasionally. He said that she was sick. She was recuperating at home.

However, although the servants always see her looking sad, she still ate every meal and slept soundly.

When the nurse heard what Luna said, she was stunned. Then, she smiled helplessly.

"Ms. Luna, you sure know how to pull my leg. You two are so in love, how could you be divorced? The young couple in love next door are not as close as you and Mr. Lynch."

Then, the nurse packed up, turned, and left.

"Hold up."

Luna pursed her lips and called after the nurse. "My son has an important surgery tomorrow. I'll head upstairs to accompany him. I'll leave Joshua in your good hands tonight."

The nurse was stunned. She turned to look at Luna with a rather pitiful gaze.

"Don't worry. They will get better."

Luna nodded. She did hope that they would all get better.

When the nurse left, Luna closed the door and carefully gave Joshua a wipe down.

Finally, she buttoned up his clothes.

"Joshua, if you're still not going to come around, you're really going to miss out on Nigel's surgery. Although the doctors say that the transplant technique is safe and mature, there are still risks. If Nigel's body has a rejection to the transplant during the surgery, he might not be rescued."

Luna laughed bitterly.

"It's already at this stage, why are you not up yet? If Luna sniffled her nose.

"If Nigel dies on the operating table, I really do not know how to continue living. What would happen to Nellie?"

"Can you wake up and look after Nellie for me? Nellie likes you a lot. I know you like her a lot too. You will surely take good care of her..."

Just when Luna was going on about her kids while helping Joshua put on his clothes, someone knocked on the door of the ward.

The person that entered was no one other than Nigel's doctor, Rowena Shaw.

Seeing that it was Dr. Rowena, Luna immediately placed Joshua down, turned, and looked at her.

"Dr. Rowena, why are you here? I was just thinking of heading upstairs to look for you and discuss the surgery tomorrow after dealing with Joshua. Then, go and see Nigel..."

Luna only said two sentences when she felt that something was not right.

Rowena's expression was terrifyingly pale.

When Luna brought Nigel and Nellie to the hospital that afternoon, Rowena confidently claimed that the surgery would be a success.

However, at that moment, her expression... Luna was instantly alarmed.

She kept her smile, pursed her lips, and looked at Rowena seriously.

"Dr. Rowena, what is going on? I -Is...there is a problem in Nigel's surgery tomorrow?"

"Hmm."

Rowena closed her eyes and let out a long sigh.

She was in the industry for so many years, this is the first time she encountered such a situation.

"The donor...refuses to be admitted into the hospital to undergo surgery."

Clang!

Luna took a step backward. Her arm knocked over the cup of water on the table. The cup fell to the floor with a deafening sound.

However, Luna seemed to have not heard the sound. She raised her head and looked at Rowena, stunned. "H-How...did this happen?"

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 823

Luna bit her lips. She looked at Rowena in disbelief.

"I...know the donor. It's impossible for the donor to not agree to the surgery."

Christian even came over to visit Joshua that morning. He even chatted with Nigel for a very long time. He agreed to give Nigel the latest model of computer and keyboard after the surgery.

Only more than 10 hours have passed and he has reneged on his deal?

"You must be mistaken." Luna pursed her lips and looked at Rowena seriously.

"The donor, me, and the children's father are friends. How could this have happened..."

Rowena thought back about how Fiona was hysterically saying how Nigel's death had nothing to do with her. She could not help but sigh heavily.

"I know that the donor and you all are friends, but Ms. Luna, it's the truth, You have to face it. The fact is we have already signed an agreement with the donor twice. We even took video footage of how the donor is willing to donate the bone marrow.

"However, when our staff went to pick the donor up, the donor refused to cooperate. We have no choice either..."

Luna bit her lips.

"There must be a misunderstanding somewhere."

Perhaps the attitude of the hospital staff upset Christian, so he was not willing to donate his bone marrow?

At that thought, Luna took a deep breath. "I'll try to talk to the donor."

Rowena was silent for a while. She could only nod.

"Thank you for doing so. The donor needs to do a series of preparations before the surgery. If the donor can't be in the hospital by nine tonight, we might have to reschedule tomorrow's surgery."

Then, Rowena turned and left.

Seeing Rowena leaving, Luna sighed. She immediately picked her phone up and dialed Christian.

The call was soon picked up. Christian seemed to be in a bar. It was a noisy environment.

Christian asked in a pleasant tone, "Why are you calling me at this hour?"

Luna furrowed her brows. Hearing the noise on the other end of the call, her expressions darkened.

"Where are you?"

"I'm..."

Before Christian could finish his sentence, his phone was snatched away by a woman next to him.

She took the phone and arrogantly said to Luna, "Who the hell are you? Why are you calling Mr. Christian? Let me tell you, he is mine tonight! Don't try to fight me for him!"

The woman wanted to say something else, but Christian had already furrowed his brows and immediately pushed her to the side. He snatched the phone over.

"This is my friend! Stop fooling around!"

Then, he turned and headed out of the bar. He took a deep breath and continued his call with Luna.

"What's up?"

Luna remained in the same spot, gripping the phone tightly.

She never would have thought that Christian would be drinking at the bar at that hour and even planned to have s*x with another woman that night when the bone marrow surgery was the next day!

"Christian."

Luna suppressed the rage in her heart. "Do you know what day it is tomorrow?" Christian furrowed his brows.

"What day is it? It's..." He thought for a while before saying, "Oh, yes, it's Nigel's surgery tomorrow. You Before he could finish his sentence, Christian suddenly remembered.

He has never told Luna his true identity. Luna had always thought that he was the donor donating his bone marrow to Nigel.

That was why she called at that moment.

"Christian," Luna bit her lips and said, "Nigel's doctor came to look for me just now. She told me that the donor who agreed to donate the bone marrow to Nigel refused to be admitted into the hospital and refused to undergo surgery. I want to ask you why."

Luna took a deep breath.

"I know that donating the bone marrow to Nigel is for free. You won't get any benefits out of it. If you were to disagree from the start, I have nothing to say, but right now..."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 824

"My child and I have prepared everything. I have even managed to borrow a lump sum from my friend to pay your medical bills. Now that you're regretting it, what should we do?"

Previously, Luna did not expose the fact that Christian was the donor because she respected the fact that the donor was not willing to reveal their identity.

However, it was already a desperate situation at that moment! Luna could no longer care that much!

Christian, on the other end of the line, was silent upon Luna's words.

He pursed his lips. He suddenly did not know how to explain it to Luna. He did not know how to say that the donor was Fiona.

Previously, the deal Fiona made with Joshua was that if Joshua were to be together with her, she would donate her bone marrow to Nigel.

At that moment, it was almost surgery day, yet Joshua was still unconscious, unsure if he was dead or alive.

No one could do anything about Fiona running away. Unless Joshua were to wake up at that moment.

Christian closed his eyes and sighed.

It was at that stage already. He could no longer continue lying to Luna.

Christian said with a hoarse voice, "Luna, I'm going to tell you something, but please don't get too worked up over it."

Luna furrowed her brows and sneered.

"You not agreeing to the surgery is enough to get me worked up already. Is there anything else that would be worse than that?"

"Yes," Christian sighed and said, "actually..." His bright voice turned depressing. "Actually, I'm not Nigel's donor."

"What?" Luna was instantly stunned at Christian's words.

"If it's not you, then who is it?"

She clearly saw Christian coming out from the place where they signed the agreement with the doctors. He also said all those things to the doctors...

"That day, when you went there, the real donor had already left. I was like you, I went there to find out who Nigel's donor was. It was just by accident that you arrived too late, then you treated me as the donor."

Christian's voice was getting softer and lower.

"Actually, I always knew you mistook me for the donor, but I had my intentions. I wanted to get closer to Joshua through you, to get him to invest in my company. That's why I never explained it to you. I actually...have been lying to you."

Every word Christian said was like a heavy hammer, brutally smashing Luna's heart. She was hurt yet shocked. Her legs turned to jelly.

If Christian was not the donor, then who was the real donor?

Luna bit her lips. She was trembling furiously.

"If I went there too late and missed the donor, you must have surely seen who the donor was, right?"

Luna recalled what Christian said to the doctor. The doctor even said that they would contact Christian if there was anything.

That proved that...

Christian knew who the donor was. He was also quite close to the donor!

At that thought, it was as if Luna was at her wit's end. She held the phone tightly, her voice was trembling and croaky.

"Christian, tell me, who the donor is? I could go look for them! "

Things were already at that stage, she could not let Nigel down!

Even if she had to give up everything, she still had to find the donor and persuade the donor to help Nigel!

Christian was silent.

He knew that the truth would come out sooner or later.

After a while, Christian chuckled bitterly. "Actually, the person is..."

"Fiona..."

Before Christian could finish his sentence, Joshua's feeble voice came from behind Luna.

"Where is Fiona..."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 825

Luna instantly tensed up when she heard Joshua's voice.

She felt as if she was trapped in a sculpture. Even moving a part of her body was a luxury.

Christian, on the other end of the line, wanted to mention Fiona's name when he heard Joshua's feeble voice.

Fiona's name did not come out of Christian's mouth in the end.

He pursed his lips. An overwhelming feeling of elation washed over him!

Joshua was truly awake! It was neither too early nor too late! It was just in time!

Thus, Christian took a deep breath. "Luna, am I hearing my uncle's voice?"

Perhaps, Joshua was trying to respond to Christian's question. When Christian asked Luna the question, Joshua, on the bed, could not help but yell out once more, "Fiona..."

Christian was sure that Joshua had already come around!

He held his phone and could not hide the excitement in his eyes.

"My uncle is awake! Luna, go take care of him! We'll talk later!"

Then, Christian did not wait for Luna's reply. He immediately hung up.

Luna held onto the phone tightly. She was extremely disheartened hearing the disconnecting tone.

Not because of Christian, but also because of the man behind her.

"Fiona...water..."

Behind her, Joshua's low and hoarse voice gently rang out.

Luna felt the irony.

She took care of Joshua for the past three days because of what Jude said to her as well as the videos he showed her.

Even when Nigel was about to undergo surgery the next day, she was still taking care of Joshua!

What happened then?

Joshua came around. The first name he called was Fiona.

He kept calling Fiona.

Luna was standing right in front of him, yet it was like he could not see her at all. He kept yelling Fiona's voice.

Was Fiona so important to him? She was so important that Luna's hard work for the past three days, even going against her friend's advice to take care of him, was just a joke to him?

"Water..."

She turned around and looked at the miserably pale man on the bed. He has already opened his eyes.

The moment he saw her, there was not much shock in his eyes.

He continued saying in a hoarse voice, "Water...pass me water."

Luna furrowed her brows. She truly did not want to pass him water.

However, even though she thought that way, her body involuntarily walked over to the side of the table.

She let out a breath and poured him some water in annoyance. Then, she roughly passed him the cup.

“Drink up! ”

Some water splashed onto Joshua’s hospital gown. He slightly furrowed his brows and accepted the cup of water.

Once he drank the water, his dry throat was comfortable enough to speak properly.

Joshua furrowed his brows.

“Why are you here? Where is Fiona?”

Actually, when he was unconscious, he could vaguely hear Luna’s voice. Even when Luna was talking to the doctor and calling Christian.

However, it was like he was in a dream. He could not wake up.

In the end, just when Christian was about to mention Fiona’s name, Joshua struggled to wake up with difficulty.

He yelled Fiona’s name not because the first person he wanted to see when he woke up was Fiona. He was instinctively answering Christian’s question. He was also warning Christian to not say anything more.

Joshua was extremely clear about how Luna hated Fiona.

He was unsure what reaction Luna would have when she finds out that Fiona’s bone marrow was about to be transplanted to Nigel.

Joshua could not risk it. “What do you think?”

Luna coldly rolled her eyes at Joshua who was drinking water.

"You have been out cold for three days, your beloved Ms. Blake has also been sick for three days. She cooped up in her bedroom at Orchard Manor. She has not even been to work. You still could ask me why am I the one taking care of you here and not her?"

Joshua's grip on the cup tightened a little.

"She's sick?"

Luna closed her eyes. She smiled mockingly.

"Yes, she's sick. She's so sick she could not even take care of you! "

Joshua narrowed his eyes.

He could understand Luna's rage and resentment.

However...

Joshua placed the cup down. He immediately picked up his phone next to him on the table.

After being unconscious for so long , his body was still slowly recovering.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 826

Thus, his hands were trembling when he picked his phone up. His phone almost fell to the ground a few times.

However, Joshua did not mind it at all. He picked his phone up with difficulty and called Lucas.

"Lucas, I'm up. Come and pick me from the hospital immediately. I want to head to Orchard Manor and pick Fiona up to head to the hospital."

Lucas, on the other end of the call, was stunned for a while. Upon remembering that Nigel's surgery was the next day, he instantly understood what Joshua meant.

"Sure, I'll be there! "

Upon receiving Lucas' promise, Joshua let out a sigh of relief. He changed into a more comfortable position and placed his phone by the side.

Looking at him, Luna felt that she was pathetic and comical.

She had been working so hard taking care of him for the past three days yet this was what she got in return?

She initially wanted to tell Joshua about the fact that the donor pulled out last minute.

However, looking at how he was so concerned for Fiona the moment he woke up, Luna did not feel the need to tell him.

What use was there telling him about Nigel's matter?

He never had her nor her children in his eyes. He only had Fiona.

He knew that Nigel's surgery was the next day, yet he did not even mention Nigel. All he thought was Fiona.

He was busy picking Fiona up to head to the hospital. Where did he have the time to bother with Luna and her children?

Luna took a deep breath.

"Since you're already awake and planning to head back to Orchard Manor to pick Fiona up, then I'm sure you don't need me here anymore, Mr. Lynch. I still have an emergency to attend to. I'll make a move first.

"Hmm."

Looking at Luna leaving, Joshua smiled.

"Thank you for your care the past few days. I'll get the finance department to increase your pay."

Luna's hand which was on the doorknob paused fiercely.

After a moment, she laughed.

"Then, I thank you for your generosity, Mr. Lynch. I am indeed short on money."

Then, Luna did not stay there anymore. She strode away from the ward.

Joshua laid on the bed, looking at Luna leaving, and slightly narrowed his eyes.

He picked his phone up.

"Luna is about to reach your office. Calm her down. Tell her that the donor is willing to undergo the surgery."

Rowena, on the other end of the call, was stunned. "Mr. Lynch, you're awake! "

"Hmm, I 'm going to pick Fiona up right now. Hold the fort on Luna's side."

Coming out from the ward, Luna strode to the elevator.

On the way there, her footsteps quickened. There were no expressions on her face.

She was the only one in the elevator.

The moment the elevator doors closed, tears helplessly fell from Luna's eyes.

Her heart hurt so badly as if something was crushing it.

It hurt so much. Luna was in so much pain she leaned against the elevator wall and slid down to the ground.

In the end, she slumped to the ground and sobbed hard on the elevator floor.

Even if she thought her defense was impenetrable, she was still a thoughtful and meticulous woman. It would be impossible for her...

Once she closed her eyes, the scene where Joshua kept calling Fiona's name when he woke up appeared in her mind.

She suddenly realized that her care for him for the past few days was just a joke.

Time and time again. This was the second time.

Jude might be able to come up with many so -called reasons to prove that Joshua had her in his heart, to prove that Joshua actually cared for her.

However, when she truly faced Joshua, she realized that what Jude said was all a joke.

The first name Joshua yelled when he woke up was Fiona.

That proved that when he was unconscious, all he was thinking about was Fiona.

What other evidence did she need to prove that Joshua likes someone else?

Luna cried her eyes out in the elevator.

However, when the elevator doors opened, Luna's pretty face was only a little flushed. There was not a single drop of tears to be seen.

She has collected all her emotions.

When she exited from the elevator, she immediately noticed Nigel and Nellie standing opposite the elevator entrance.

The two of them were holding hands, quietly waiting for her while leaning against the wall.

Upon seeing her, Nellie let go of Nigel's hand. She ran over.

"Mommy. I'm so happy! Nigel's surgery is tomorrow. He will be as healthy as me in the future. He can healthily accompany me to find Neil! We could be properly together as a family!"

Luna looked at Nellie hugging her. She felt extremely heart wrenching.

Luna sniffled her nose. She bent down and hugged Nellie in her arms.

Endless despair slowly washed over her. "I'm...so useless."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 827

Nigel and Nellie were instantly stunned at Luna's words.

They looked at each other. They did not know why Luna suddenly said those words.

In the end, Nigel, who was the more mature one, furrowed his brows. He leaned his emaciated body against the wall.

"Mommy...did something happen with the bone marrow transplant?"

Nigel's question hit the nail on the head.

Luna closed her eyes and sighed heavily. She nodded.

She let go of Nellie and said seriously, "The donor pulled out last minute. They are not willing to undergo the surgery. I'm planning to look for a doctor right now. No matter what, I have to talk to the donor tonight."

Since the donor was willing to donate their bone marrow without any reward, that meant that they were willing to help Nigel.

The situation at that moment might be perhaps that they have encountered some problems in life.

Actually, while Luna was crying in the elevator, she had also made up her mind.

It was almost seven in the evening at that moment. The doctor said that if the donor did not arrive at the hospital by nine, the surgery the next day would be called off.

Luna did not have the confidence that she would be able to get the donor's details within the next two hours and convince them to come to the hospital.

However, thankfully, Nigel's condition at that moment was not too serious.

As long as she knew who the donor was, she could properly talk to them. No matter what problem they have encountered, Luna would help them as best as she could, so that the donor would be able to donate the bone marrow without any burdens.

She was even willing to exchange everything she had. As long as she could save Nigel's life.

The surgery could be pushed back, but the donor was one in a million and Nigel's only hope of survival. Luna could not give up.

When Nigel heard Luna's plans, he was silent for a while.

In the end, Nigel, who had a pale face, forced a smile. "Thank you, Mommy."

He walked over to Luna and hugged her gently.

"No matter how it ends, I 'm grateful to have been your son in this life."

Luna's eyes started to turn sore at Nigel's words.

She did not dare to continue spending more time with Nigel and Nellie. She got the nurse beside her to send them back to their ward, then she went to Dr. Rowena's office alone.

When Luna pushed the door open. Rowena just placed her phone down.

Seeing Luna entering, Rowena immediately stood up, "Nigel's mother, I was just about to look for you.

About Nigel's surgery tomorrow..."

Luna has already completely accepted the fact that the donor pulled out.

She took a deep breath and said, "Let's push back tomorrow's surgery since the donor is unwilling to Rowena paused for a while before smiling and interrupting Luna.

"I was just about to talk to you about this. I just received the news that the donor is willing to continue with the surgery. We have sent our people to pick the donor up. The donor would be here in the hospital by nine. Don't worry."

Luna was stunned.

She was overwhelmed by the series of bad news that day.

When she finally received a piece of good news, Luna suddenly felt as if it was unreal.

Luna bit her lips and looked at Rowena seriously. "You're not joking with me, right?"

Rowena looked at Luna.

"Which doctor would joke about such a thing with the patient's family? The donor did indeed promise seriously to come over, but they have a request they hope you would cooperate with."

Luna paused for a while and immediately asked, "What request? Will I be able to do it? W- What do you need me to do?"

Looking at how nervous Luna was, Rowena shook her head.

"It's simple."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 828

"The donor hopes that you and your relatives would stop finding out their identity. Whether it be now or after the bone marrow transplant."

Then, Rowena patted Luna on the shoulders. "Can you do that?"

Luna furrowed her brows. "That simple?"

She thought that the donor would pull out suddenly because they have encountered an unsolvable problem.

Luna speculated that it was most probably financial problems. She was even ready to borrow another lump sum from Bonnie.

However, Luna did not expect that the request that the donor came up with was just to forbid her to look for the donor?

"Yes."

Perhaps, Rowena has long guessed that Luna would react this way. Rowena nodded.

"The donor already knows that you previously tried to investigate them, so this is a warning."

Luna paused for a while. “Okay, I understand.”

Luna only wanted to find the donor so she could do something to express her appreciation.

Turns out, not only did she find the wrong person, she nearly made a gross mistake.

Since the donor has already requested that, Luna would no longer continue looking for the donor.

Seeing Luna agreeing to the request, Rowena let out a sigh of relief.

“That’s great. Go back home. Nigel’s surgery is tomorrow. All you need to do as his mother is to properly keep him accompanied.”

Luna nodded before turning around and leaving.

When she returned to the ward, her two children were still planning the next day in disappointment.

Luna excitedly rushed over to hug them. “Problem solved. The surgery will go on as usual tomorrow! “

Nigel and Nellie looked at each other in surprise. They were so excited that they were rendered speechless.

In the end, Nellie suggested for Luna to buy ice cream to celebrate.

Of course, it was only ice cream for Luna and her. Nigel had to prepare for the surgery the next day, he could not simply eat any type of food.

Luna agreed and went to the supermarket downstairs in a good mood.

Not only did she buy Nellie ice cream, she even got Bonnie to help search for the best computer and keyboard in Banyan City. She planned to give Nigel a surprise after the surgery the next day.

Just when Luna was going back to the hospital entrance from the supermarket with ice cream in her hand, a black Maseratee flew past her.

Finally, the car stopped by the entrance of the hospital.

The car door opened and Joshua came down from the car. He went around the car and carried Fiona, who was in a white dress, up.

He was still wearing the hospital gown that Luna put on him when taking care of him for the past few days.

Also, when Joshua was carrying Fiona, she could clearly see the sweat on Joshua's forehead.

Luna narrowed her eyes and sneered. Joshua would really do anything for Fiona.

He had been unconscious for the past three days. He was still a patient, yet he still pretended as if nothing had happened and carried Fiona down the car.

Luna did not believe that Fiona's sickness would be more serious than Joshua, who had passed out for three days.

Just when Luna was standing in the distance looking at them with the ice cream in her hands, Fiona turned her head around.

Their eyes met.

Fiona smiled at Luna provocatively. Then, she obediently and gently looked at Joshua who was carrying her.

"Joshua, why don't you let me down. I can walk on my own. You just got better, don't tire yourself out."

Joshua replied in a low and calm voice, "I'm fine. Your body is the most important thing."

Then, Joshua strode into the hospital with Fiona in his arms.

"Why did you stay at home if you're sick instead of coming to the hospital? You make me worried for you" Luna stood in the same spot and looked at Joshua and Fiona leaving. She sneered.

Joshua truly brought it upon himself.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 829

When Luna brought the ice cream back to the ward, Nigel was already asleep.

Nigel was very understanding. To not let others worry for him, he has long tucked himself in bed and fell asleep.

Luna placed the ice cream in front of Nellie. She opened one and passed it to Nellie.

"Mommy, Dr. Rowena said that she was looking for you just now."

Nellie obediently accepted the ice cream from Luna. She ate and said, "She asked you to look for her once you return. I think it has something to do with Nigel's surgery tomorrow."

Once Luna heard it had something to do with Nigel, she did not dare waste another second. She got up and headed out to Rowena's office.

Turns out, Rowena was not at her office. The intern doctor got Luna to sit down.

"A patient just arrived just now. Dr. Rowena went to attend to them. Please wait for a while."

Luna nodded. She sat on the chair waiting while sending messages to Bonnie and Anne.

She thought that Rowena would return soon, but she waited for half an hour.

In the end, Luna gave up waiting. Once she inquired which room Rowena was in, Luna took her phone and went to look for her.

However, Luna did not expect that Rowena would be in Fiona's ward.

When Luna knocked on the door and entered, Rowena was checking up on Fiona in the bed.

Fiona was like an empress in a period drama, lazily lying on the bed. One hand was being checked upon by the doctor while holding Joshua's hand with the other hand.

"Dr. Rowena..."

Luna knocked on the door. She wanted to say something when she saw the scene before her.

Luna was first shocked, then she came to a realization and smiled mockingly.

She almost forgot.

Joshua had once sent Rowena to Orchard Manor to become Fiona's personal doctor.

At that moment, Fiona was sick, the doctor that was checking up on her should be Dr. Rowena too.

However...

Luna looked at Fiona's actions at that moment as well as Joshua next to her. She could not help but laugh mockingly.

The three of them in the ward looked up when they heard Luna's voice.

Dr. Rowena paused for a while before turning around to look at Luna. She smiled rather embarrassingly.

"I 'm sorry, Nigel's mother. I thought I would finish things up here quickly. I made you wait and even come to look for me. Actually, it's nothing much. It's just that..."

Rowena turned to look at Joshua before turning back to smile at Luna.

"It's about the medical bills. Mr. Lynch actually paid for Nigel's surgery beforehand, but because he was unconscious, the staff on shift that day made a mistake, that was why it was not registered in the account. I looked for you because I wanted to return the medical bills that you paid today back to you."

Luna furrowed her brows.

She knew that Rowena was not telling the truth.

First, it was such a huge hospital, the staff would not have made such a low-level mistake.

Second, even if the staff were careless, when they saw that the person that was paying was Joshua, they would not have forgotten to register.

The only reason why Rowena said all those was because Joshua was the one that arranged it.

He wanted Luna to return the money back to Bonnie so that his son's surgery would be using all of his money.

After all, the agreement that they signed clearly stated that when Joshua paid Nigel's surgery in full only then will the agreement be in effect.

Joshua just came around, yet he already wanted Luna to return the money to Bonnie. His intentions were obvious.

He still did not want to let Luna go. He did not want Luna to leave Banyan City that easily.

However, why did Joshua not want Luna to leave that easily?

Luna was clear that it was not because of what Jude said, that Joshua cared for her a lot. The real reason...

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 830

Luna narrowed her eyes and looked at Joshua, who was leaning by the bed. Her eyes were filled with mockery.

The real reason was that he hoped that she continued staying in the Lynch Group so she could be bullied by his beloved Ms. Blake, right?

Joshua was still the same as before. Cold and heartless.

To make his lover happy, he was willing to spend a huge amount of money to continue torturing his ex- wife.

The ex-wife that took care of him for three days and three nights when he was unconscious.

“Okay, I understand.“

Luna took a deep breath. She swept Joshua a cold glance and smiled at Rowena.

“It's late. I should head back and rest. I 'll come to find you tomorrow to deal with the refund.“

Then, Luna turned around and was about to leave.

“Hold up.“

Luna only turned and took two steps when Fiona's sweet and gentle voice rang.

Fiona pursed her lips and said in a very light and gentle tone, “Ms. Luna, I have something to say to you.”

Luna furrowed her brows. She did not want to deal with Fiona, but she was apprehensive of Joshua who was next to her.

Joshua would do anything to make Fiona happy.

Nigel was about to have his surgery the next day. Luna did not want to create extra problems.

At that thought, Luna turned around and smiled at Fiona.

“Is there anything I can help you with, Ms. Blake?” “I just want to thank you.”

Although Fiona sounded polite, her posture was lazy yet high and mighty, leaning by the head of the bed.

Fiona looked at Luna as if she was the empress looking at her subjects.

“My health has not been great for the past few days. I don’t even have the strength to get out of bed, so I couldn’t come to the hospital to take care of Joshua. I heard that you have stayed by Joshua’s side for the past three days...”

Fiona lowered her head. She said with teary eyes, “ I’m truly grateful for all that you do for me and Joshua...”

Then, Fiona raised her head and sniffled her nose. She looked at Luna seriously.

“However, Ms. Luna, you’re Joshua’s ex-wife, after all. Although I know that you long had no feelings for Joshua and that you don’t like him that much anymore, I...still feel uncomfortable when I see the both of you together. So...”

Fiona took a piece of tissue and gently wiped away her tears. Her eyes were reddened.

“I beg of you, can you keep a distance from Joshua in the future? It would be better for the three of us.”

Then, Fiona bit her lips and looked at Joshua innocently with her huge eyes.

“Joshua, is my request too much to ask for?”

Joshua narrowed his eyes. He calmly held her hand. “

No.”

Looking at the lovers in front of her, Luna laughed. Her smiles were filled with mockery.

“I should thank Dr. Rowena, because of her mistake, I could witness this couple in love.”

Fiona’s face turned a little pale upon Luna’s words.

She bit her lips and looked at Luna. She was feeling aggrieved.

“I’m only speaking my mind. I did not mean to show off in front of you, Ms. Luna...”

“I know.”

Luna turned to look at Fiona. Her eyes were cold.

“But, Ms. Blake, you want me to keep a distance from Joshua. This request is too challenging for me.”

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn’t Easy chapter 831

Luna’s single sentence made the entire room fall silent.

Joshua looked at her with narrowed eyes but said nothing.

Fiona bit her lip, she wanted to say something but restrained herself.

Rowena looked as if she had been struck by lightning, even stopping her actions.

After a few seconds of silence in the ward, Rowena sucked in a deep breath and stood up. She knew the relationship between the three people in front of her was very complicated. But she never expected it to be this complicated... So, she hurriedly packed up her stuff and quickly finished up her work.

“I’ve already examined Ms. Blake’s condition three times, there’s absolutely nothing wrong. Tomorrow The moment the words left her mouth, Joshua hinted at her with his eyes and she immediately corrected herself.

"Ms. Blake will recover by tomorrow." With that, she took her medical report and stood up. "Then I'll get out of your way, goodbye." All three of them were tough characters to deal with, she did not want to be privy to too many of their secrets. When she left, she kindly closed the door behind her.

The three of them were the only ones left in the enclosed space.

Fiona bit her lip, glanced at Luna, then switched her eyes to Joshua again, finally letting them rest on Luna, grievance filling her eyes. "Ms. Luna, why? I begged you to keep your distance from Joshua, why did you say you can't do it? It is because you..."

"You misunderstood." Luna cut her off in an indifferent tone. "You heard it too, Ms. Blake, Mr. Lynch paid for my son's medical bill. He asked my friend to take away the money my friend lent me and paid the bill because he wants me to stay on at the Lynch Group and work for him, make money for him. Also, with an ex-wife like me beside him, you'll get jealous and it'll help spice up your love life."

Joshua's eyes narrowed at her words. He side-eyed her coldly but did not speak. So this was how she saw him.

"So, it is impossible for me to keep my distance from Mr. Lynch. There's no president of a company who can completely ignore his designer."

With that, she glanced at Fiona coldly. "If you have the time to make personal requests of me and make things difficult for me, maybe you should probably talk to Mr. Lynch more, ask him to give up on me soon and kick me out of Lynch Group."

Fiona turned pale as a ghost.

Looking at Fiona's speechless expression, a rush of satisfaction welled up in her chest. She smiled at the two people in front of her and said, "It's late now, I won't get in the way of you resting, goodnight."

With that, she left without bothering to look at their reactions. After taking a few steps, she retraced her steps, as if she was suddenly reminded of something, then looked at Joshua faintly and said, "Right, Mr. Lynch, tomorrow your son, Nigel and I are going to undergo the operation for the bone marrow transplant. Other children will usually have their parents beside them, so I boldly extend you an invitation. If you have the time tomorrow, please visit him at the surgical theatre. He might be happier if you're there." With that, she left once more.

Joshua stood in his spot; his eyes narrowed slightly. After Luna's back completely disappeared at the end of the hallway, Fiona bit her lip, raised her head, and looked at Joshua pitifully. "Joshua, look at her! All I did was make a request, I wouldn't do anything to her if she refused."

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 832

"Why did she talk to me like that..." With that, she bit her lip and wordlessly held Joshua's big, dry hand. "Joshua, you really...really can't make her leave the Lynch Group?"

Actually, Fiona understood what Luna said just now. But she needed an opportunity to make this request from Joshua. Luna was too important to him. She did not want Luna to continue staying beside him.

Sooner or later, something would happen.

Joshua narrowed his eyes and faintly pulled his hand out of Fiona's grasp. "Is it Luna you don't trust, or me?"

His low, cold voice made Fiona bite her lip. "That's not what I meant, I..."

"Since I agreed to your request and chose to be with you, I won't abandon you so easily. I made you a promise. Luna is just my ex-wife, besides, you saw us with your own two eyes, we're like fire and ice, why are you still worried?"

"But Joshua..." Fiona lowered her head and whined pitifully, "Maybe this is my first time being in a relationship, so I feel very insecure... It's my fault, my mindset is wrong, I'll try to change my mindset..." Her lower lip turned pale from how hard she was biting on it. "I just don't understand, there are so many talented jewelry designers in the world, why do you insist on hiring Luna..."

"Because she is the mother of my children." Joshua frowned slightly, then turned and stood at the side of the bed, looking at the night view outside the window, a whirlpool of emotion in his eyes.

"Don't worry, sooner or later, she'll leave with the children. I just want to use work as an excuse to keep her in the city a little while longer. After all, once she's gone, I might never see the children ever again."

Fiona was startled by his words. She narrowed her eyes and studied him from the back. He had poured in so much time and effort just to see Luna a few more times. And he claimed it was all for the children? He knew well enough what was the true reason!

However, even though those were her thoughts, the expression on her face was still soft and gentle. "I understand. Joshua, I'm sorry...I misunderstood you." She sighed, her eyes bright with tears, "Will you forgive me, please? I only considered how uncomfortable I felt seeing you and Luna together, I forgot about the fact that you're a father..."

Her weak tone made Joshua feel slightly irritated, though he was not entirely sure of the reason himself.

In the beginning when he first met her, his heart ached upon hearing the critically ill woman's weak voice, pitied her for being wrecked with diseases since she was a child. But after spending more time together...

Every time he heard her talking in this tone, he would feel uncomfortable. Maybe it was because he found out she was not as naive as she seemed, so his attitude toward her changed?

At this thought, he sighed, then turned and approached her, laying her down on the bed and tucked her in gently. "You should sleep, you need to undergo an operation tomorrow."

"Joshua." When he retracted his hands and got ready to leave, Fiona bit her lip, reached out, and held his wrist. "Can I...make a request? After my body recovers from the surgery... Can I do what Luna did, and have your baby?"

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 833

Joshua's hands that were tucking the bedcovers around her paused mid-air. He frowned, gently reaching out a hand and patted her head. "That's silly. Your health is in such a poor condition now, becoming pregnant now? Are you trying to worsen your condition?"

Fiona lowered her head, a flash of urgency passing through her eyes. She almost forgot, in Joshua's eyes, she was a critically ill woman.

She bit her lip, her head lowered, her voice faint as she said, "But Joshua, I really want to give you a child. A child of our own. This way, someone will remember me after I die and pray for me on my death anniversary."

Joshua narrowed his eyes, smiling as he said flatly, "I 'll remember you and pray for you even without a child." With that, he stood up. "It's late, you should get some sleep."

Fiona watched as he stood up and pursed her lips tightly together. "Joshua, do you...think I'm not good enough for you?"

She bit her lip, tears streaming down her cheeks quietly. "You said you would accompany me through my last days, you agreed to be with me. But in fact... like everyone else, you hate me and look down on me, don't you?"

Joshua narrowed his eyes, then turned and looked at her indifferently. "Why do you say that?"

"Because..." Fiona sniffed, a hint of a sob in her voice. "We've been together for so long, but you... never slept with me. You even rejected me when I suggested giving you a child. But you used to say you didn't have feelings for Ms. Luna, that you weren't very close to her when the two of you got married. But Ms. Luna gave you three children, and one that was miscarried... You didn't reject her, but you rejected me so swiftly..."

Joshua closed his eyes and snorted, "Fiona, I promised to treat you well and I intend to keep it. By right, I'm now your boyfriend, I can do such things with you. But you know your own condition. You were so agitated when Shannon McCartney accused you of drugging Luna that you fell sick. When you saw Luna being beaten at the seafood market, you were so agitated your breathing quickened and you kept coughing. Sleeping with you would be much more strenuous. I didn't engage in those activities with you for your own good."

With that, he headed out without a single look backward. "I'm not a good father. I indirectly caused the deaths of two out of my four children. That's why I don't plan on asking any other woman to bear my child for the rest of my life. I'm sorry." He closed the door to the ward behind him.

Fiona lay on the bed, biting her lip as she listened to the sound of his footsteps drifting away into the distance. She should not have listened to that woman's advice and put on an act as a critically ill patient. Even if she did act as a critically ill patient, she should not have chosen a weird disease that would be triggered whenever she grew emotional!

Now that she had brought herself into this mess, he rejected her request to sleep with him easily with just a few simple sentences.

Fiona gritted her teeth in anger.

No!

Even if she had to make him drunk, she would do it. She was determined to have his child! Otherwise, what if one day her feigned illness was exposed, she would lose all hold on him.

Leaving Fiona's ward, Joshua strode into the elevator. The moment the elevator doors closed, he shut his eyes and took out his phone, his face pale as a ghost. "Lucas."

On the other end of the phone, Lucas heard the other man's hoarse voice and sighed involuntarily. "Sir, I'm already waiting for you at the entrance to the elevator upstairs. Don't worry."

Only then did Joshua heave out a sigh of relief and ended the call. He leaned on the walls of the elevator helplessly, his eyelids fluttering shut.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 834

After being in a coma for three whole days, after he awoke and even before the doctors had time to check his current condition, he immediately rushed to Orchard Manor to seek out Fiona.

He knew very well that Fiona had been locking herself in her bedroom at Orchard Manor for the past few days not because her condition had worsened, but because she did not want to donate her bone marrow to Nigel.

At the end of the day, Fiona donating her bone marrow to Nigel was a business deal between Fiona and himself. On the surface, Fiona looked soft and gentle, relying on him for everything, but in actuality, she remembered everything clearly.

He was only in a coma for a few days and already she wanted to destroy their agreement and refuse to donate her bone marrow to Nigel.

Joshua knew everything, but for Nigel's sake, he had no choice but to submit to humiliation and do everything that Fiona wanted him to do. Of course, that did not include giving him a child that she mentioned just now.

With a ding, the elevator doors opened.

"Mr. Lynch..."

Lucas stood outside the elevator waiting for him. By the time the two words left his mouth, he saw Joshua leaning against the elevator walls, his complexion was pale as a ghost, as if he had already fainted.

Lucas widened his eyes in shock.

It cannot be!

Joshua had been in a coma for three days and the moment he woke up...he fainted again?

Lucas did not dare dawdle, he yelled for an assistant to wheel a bed over and called the doctor at the same time.

Luckily, Joshua was just physically exhausted, it was nothing serious. He just needs a good night's sleep and he will be fine.

After running a round of tests, the doctor's diagnosis was dire. "You were in a coma for three days, your body is so weak, but the moment you wake up you run out and even carry someone..."

You're rushing to your death."

With that, the doctor sighed and gave him some reminders then turned and left.

After the doctor left, Lucas glanced at Joshua and could not help himself from saying, "Sir, get some rest. Tomorrow..."

He raised his head. "Tomorrow both Young Master Nigel and Ms. Blake are undergoing operations, who will you be accompanying?"

Joshua closed his eyes, his low voice calm and indifferent as he said, "Fiona."

Nigel had Luna and Nellie to accompany him. While for Fiona, he was the only one she had in Banyan City.

Lucas opened his mouth to say something then paused. This happened several times before he finally sighed and said, "Then what about Young Master Nigel? It's a major operation, aren't you going to visit him?"

"No." Joshua's voice was ice-cold, without a hint of warmth. "I can't leave Fiona."

Lucas sighed, "I'm afraid both Young Master Nigel and Luna will misunderstand."

Joshua raised his lips in a smile. "Let them."

Outside the door, Luna eavesdropped on the conversation between the two men, then quietly lowered her hand that was about to knock on the door.

For the past few days, she had been taking care of Joshua in this hospital ward and had accidentally left behind a few of the items needed for Nigel's operation tomorrow. She thought Joshua would spend the night with Fiona, that was why she took the elevator to this floor, intending to take the items and leave without alerting Joshua.

But she never expected to hear his cruel and heartless words.

So it turned out Fiona was undergoing an operation tomorrow too. She did not know what operation the other woman had to undergo, but she knew...

Joshua directly rejected Lucas's suggestion to visit Nigel. He did not even want to spare his own son a single minute.

To him...Fiona was more important than Nigel.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 835

In the end, Luna did not enter the ward to take the items. She turned and headed downstairs. After dawdling around the window for a long while, she asked the nurse on duty to make an exception and reissue a certificate for the procedure for Nigel's operation tomorrow.

Joshua's heartlessness...meant she would rather be thick-skinned and admit to the nurse on duty that she lost the documents, rather than go to Joshua and humiliate herself.

After the nurse on duty finished her work for the day, she finally prepared another copy of the documents that Luna needed.

To convey her gratitude, Luna purposely rode a taxi to the city center and bought some of the most delicious food for the nurse and her colleagues as supper.

By the time Luna finished doing all these, it was already past 11 p.m. at night. After stepping out of the elevator, she yawned as she lifted her legs and headed for Nigel's ward. Within moments, she saw a tall and lean man standing at the door to Nigel's hospital ward.

At that moment, he was standing outside the room, looking in through the glass panel on the door.

It was Joshua.

Luna frowned. Why would he come here so late at night? Was it because he could not accompany Nigel during his operation tomorrow, that's why he came here ahead of time to visit him? What a great and loving father.

At this thought, she snorted and strode forward, saying in a low voice, "Mr. Lynch, what are you doing here so late at night instead of resting in your own room?"

Hearing the woman's cold voice drifting over from behind him, he frowned slightly and dragged his eyes away from Nigel and Nellie who were in the ward.

He turned and glanced at Luna indifferently, handing her the documents in his hands. "Don't you need this for Nigel's operation tomorrow? You left them in my room, you haven't been back for them yet?"

She narrowed her eyes and glanced coldly at the folder in his hands.

"Sorry." She held up the folder in her hands and showed it to him. "I thought I lost them, so I asked the nurse to prepare another copy."

She raised her lips in a sneer and side-eyed him. "Since you're just here to send me the documents, you should just ask Lucas to do it, why would you come all the way here yourself?"

With that, she tugged the folder out of his hands, keeping it together with her own folder. "By right I should throw this old one away since I already have a new copy. But I'm a sentimental person, unlike you, I won't completely ignore the old one after I get the new one."

Joshua's eyes turned ice-cold at her words. She was obviously using the new and old documents as an analogy to refer to Fiona and herself.

He narrowed his eyes. "Useless things should be thrown away."

Luna laughed, "You're right, useless things should indeed be thrown away. If you were me, the old documents would be lying in the bin now. But..."

She narrowed her eyes. "Have you considered the fact that the old documents might contain Nigel's personal information? No, you wouldn't. To you, after you obtain something new, even if the old one is still useful to you, you'll still throw it away without fail."

With that, she sucked in a deep breath and raised her legs to enter the door. After taking two steps, she suddenly turned back, as if she remembered something and looked at him with a pair of ice-cold eyes. "Right, you might not have heard me clearly the last time, allow me to repeat myself. Before and after an operation, other children will usually have their parents beside them. I hope Nigel can have everything that other children have."

She lifted her cold, clear eyes and looked at Joshua. "Do you hear me?"

He narrowed his eyes. "I'll try my best."

Luna narrowed her eyes too and laughed, "Alright, I'll be waiting for you to try your best." With that, she turned and entered the ward without even bidding him goodbye.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 836

After closing the door, she closed her eyes and leaned against it. The sound of his retreating footsteps drifted in through the wood.

As she expected. He came to return the documents. After giving her the documents, he did not even bother taking an extra look at the children and turned and left.

Luna leaned against the door, a layer of ice enveloping her heart. Previously in his room downstairs, she clearly heard him say that he would not be visiting Nigel tomorrow. But to her, he said he would try his best. She knew that 'trying his best' meant that he would not appear.

Liar.

The next day, Nigel's operation went ahead as scheduled.

Early in the morning, Anne and Bonnie both stood waiting in the hospital with a big bouquet of flowers in their arms. Zayne, Shannon and the rest were also there. Samson helped Arianna as she wobbled to the hospital. Even Gwen, who was far away in Sea City, had purposely recorded a video together with Luke to wish Nigel good luck for his operation.

It went without saying that Malcolm would have already sent both his well-wishes and a gift card to them the day before.

All of Luna's friends had expressed their concern for Nigel and his operation, sending him their well-wishes.

All except that man. He did not appear.

As Nigel's birth father, he did not even send a message to Luna. Before Nigel entered the surgical theatre, he was talking to Luna as he looked casually in the direction of the elevators.

Luna knew who he was expecting. She held his hand and said, "He's quite busy, don't worry, just concentrate on your operation."

Nigel retracted his gaze and smiled wordlessly. "Joshua...really isn't coming?"

Luna closed her eyes, nodding with a bitter smile.

"He's too much!" Anne said, her voice low but furious. "No matter what, Nigel is his son, this is such a major operation and he really isn't coming to see him? Not at all!"

Beside them, Shannon frowned. She sounded unconvinced as she said, "Maybe Mr. Lynch is preoccupied and will come later? When I arrived at the office this morning, his secretary said President Lynch left after giving some simple orders. He even took two days' leave, I'm sure he'll be here soon!"

Anne pursed her lips and finally relaxed, heaving out a sigh of relief. "That's more like it. How can a father not be here when his son is undergoing an operation? I saw Nigel's eyes drifting to the elevators, he must be waiting for him. What is he thinking, how can he be late for something as major as an operation?"

Luna leaned on the bench, her eyes staring fixedly at the three bright red words that read 'Operation in Progress'.

The doctor said Nigel's operation would take around five or six hours. She did not know how long Fiona's operation would take.

It should end before Nigel's, right?

Once Fiona's operation was concluded, would he take the time to visit Nigel? Or would he take the opportunity while Fiona was in the operating theatre to come and visit his son who was critically ill and was about to be reborn?

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 837

Nigel's operation went on from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the evening.

Joshua never appeared.

Shannon, Bonnie, and the rest had already left, Anne was the only one left, accompanying Luna all the way through.

"It's already so late, Joshua really isn't coming?" Anne took a glimpse of the time, and could not help but start cursing him again. "Where is his conscience?"

Luna curled her lips in a wry smile. "Today... Ms. Blake has an operation too."

Maybe he was too busy and could not take the time to visit. She could only comfort herself like this.

Anne widened her eyes furiously. "I'll go take a look! "

With that, she ignored Luna's protests, raised her legs, and headed to Fiona's hospital ward.

Luna was both worried about Anne causing trouble and curious about Fiona's situation. She sighed and sat on the bench. Every minute and every second that passed felt like torture. She even insecurely wondered whether Anne's visit finally reminded Joshua that his son was undergoing an operation. Maybe then, his conscience would stir to live and he would come and visit Nigel. This way, he might be able to make it in time for when Nigel came out of the operating theatre. Then, she could comfort the little guy and tell him that his father had been waiting for him all along. She did not want her son to be too sad.

But still, Joshua never appeared.

After around 20 minutes, Anne returned in fury. "I went to Fiona's ward, the two of them were hugging each other sweetly! Do you know what they were doing in each other's arms?"

Joshua was coaxing her to go to sleep! I even heard Fiona say that she wanted to give him a child, and he was worried about her health! "

The more she spoke, the angrier she got. "And over here Nigel is still in the operating theatre! Isn't he worried at all?!"

Luna laughed bitterly.

She had been expecting too much of him. That man was not worth an ounce of her expectations.

She curled her lips and was about to say something when the doors to the operating theatre were opened.

Luna and Anne immediately rushed over. "Doctor,

how was it?"

The doctor smiled and repeated the words he said to Joshua's CCTV camera half an hour ago. "The surgery was a great success! At the moment, there are no signs that his body is rejecting the new bone marrow, all his organs are running smoothly! To be completely sure, we even observed him for 30 minutes inside before coming out! "

Anne let out a little shriek at the doctor's words. She pulled Nellie into her arms in excitement. "Did you hear that! Your brother is fine now! He's finally recovered! "

Luna was extremely excited too, she held the doctor's hand and said, "Thank you so much! "

The doctor smiled and patted the back of her hand. " The person you thank isn't me, but the one who has been working hard behind the scenes for Nigel..."

He was about to mention Joshua, but suddenly remembered Joshua's request, so he hurriedly changed the subject. "The one you should thank is yourself, you have been working hard for Nigel all this time. In the next few days, please take good care of Nigel."

With that, the doctor left in a hurry, afraid that any secrets would slip out of his lips if he stayed any longer.

Later, the assistant surgeon pushed Nigel out of the operating theatre.

The little guy lay on the hospital bed, even though his complexion remained pale, but there was a hint of color to his cheeks.

Luna and Anne pushed Nigel back to his room excitedly.

Soon, the effect of the anesthesia wore off and the little guy's eyelids fluttered open.

"Water..."

Luna hurriedly passed him the cup of water that she prepared beforehand. Unexpectedly, the little guy downed the water in one gulp.

"More."

"Mommy will get you some." With that, Luna took the glass and left.

By the time she returned, she finally saw the man whom she had been waiting for the who le day. He stood in front of Nigel's ward, his presence long overdue.

Pursuing My Ex-Wife Isn't Easy chapter 838

The sounds of Nigel, Nellie, and Anne's laughter drifted out from within the room. He stood at the entrance, at an angle where they could not see him, and watched them quietly.

If this scene happened before Nigel's surgery, Luna would be moved, she would think that there was still a place for Nigel in this man's heart.

But it was already nighttime. Nigel's surgery had been completed successfully. Just now when Anne saw him, he was still coaxing Fiona to sleep. Coming here now... He must have successfully coaxed her to sleep, and only came after.

Luna found it ironic. Why was she so blindly in love with him back then?

At that moment, he turned and saw Luna who stood in her spot, holding a full glass of water.

Their eyes met, there was a hint of panic in his eyes.

"Mr. Lynch, you're leaving so soon? You just saw them for a short while?" Luna looked at him, her smile bright and gentle. "Why don't you stay? Nigel has been waiting for you for a long time."

He narrowed his eyes slightly. "I'm busy today."

He had been busy with Fiona's operation since early in the morning. Even though Fiona's operation did not take as long as Nigel's, it was equally risky. She did not have any other relatives, so he could only listen to the doctors' conversation through the CCTV camera to observe Nigel's operation, and take care of Fiona at the same time.

After the operation, Fiona forbade him from taking a single step away from her, complaining of pain and aches all over her body.

Joshua knew that her pain was feigned, she just did not want him to leave and come here to visit Nigel. He swallowed it all down and did as she asked.

After all, this woman donated her bone marrow to Nigel. He owed him a favor, one that was tied to his son's life. That's why no matter what Fiona did, he would not complain at all.

But even so, throughout the day, not for a single moment did he forget about Nigel's operation. Only when Nigel's operation had ended successfully did he lay down his worries, and coaxed Fiona to sleep. Only then did he finally have the time to come and visit Nigel.

Luna obviously did not know what he had been up to the whole day. She only knew that even though Fiona had undergone an operation too, it was not a life-threatening one like Nigel's. But still, he stayed by her side the whole day.

She raised her lips in a sneer. "You've had a busy day indeed. Your hands were so full with Ms. Blake's operation that you did not even have time for us.

Since you're so busy, maybe you shouldn't come in the future."

As she spoke, she lifted her eyebrows in a challenge. "Yesterday you even told me that useless old documents should be thrown away, have you forgotten what you said yourself? Since you decided to throw them away, please don't put up a front anymore."

Joshua's eyes narrowed slightly at her words. He looked at her and was just about to say something when the door to the ward opened from the inside.

It was Nellie who opened the door. She looked at her parents standing outside with wide eyes. "Mommy, Daddy?"

A hint of excitement and happiness appeared in the little girl's eyes.

"Daddy, are you here to visit Nigel?" The little girl turned and shouted into the room, "Nigel, Daddy is here to visit you! "

With that, she reached out and grabbed Joshua's sleeve. "Daddy, come in! "

Joshua frowned and glanced at Luna, then allowed himself to be dragged into the room by Nellie.

Luna stood in her spot, noticed the light that appeared in her children's eyes as they looked at their father, and her heart twisted in pain.

The children were smart and sensible, always telling her that they did not care. But their eyes were honest. Which child would not want his Daddy and Mommy to stay by his side and love him?

But her children's father...

She sniffed, held her tears in her eyes, and headed into the ward.

"Nigel, I told you! I told you Daddy will definitely come to visit you! " Nellie yelled excitedly as she pulled Joshua into the room.

At the side of the room, Anne looked at Nellie and widened her eyes in shock. Since Nellie was diagnosed with autism, she rarely spoke unprompted. Sometimes, when others talked to her, she would even keep quiet and refuse to answer.

Anne had been accompanying Luna and Nellie throughout the whole day as they waited for Nigel and this was the first time Nellie took the initiative to speak.

Luna looked at Anne's shocked expression and could not help but sigh. She remembered the last time Nellie took the initiative to speak was when Nellie asked her to stay beside Joshua, to take care of him when he was in a coma.

Now, she spoke on her own initiative again, and again, it was for Joshua. Nellie's love for her father was obvious. Luna was not angry that Nellie liked Joshua, she was just sad. For him, Nellie could even overcome her autism, and take the initiative to speak. But in Joshua's eyes, Nellie was nothing. To him, Nellie, Nigel, and even Neil who had passed away and the other child...they were all useless, old documents. He could throw them away at a moment's notice, without an ounce of hesitation.

"Mr. Lynch."

Nigel took the glass of water Luna handed to him and raised his eyes and looked at his mother. His eyes were dark as he asked, "Did you visit me outside when I was in the operating theatre?"

"Where would he find the time?" Anne snorted and was about to say something but she was interrupted by a look from Luna.

No matter what, Nigel had just finished his operation, she did not want him to be too depressed. It would be better if she told him the truth after his body recovered completely.

"But I heard Mr. Lynch's voice." Nigel looked at Joshua, both his tone and expression remained calm. "During the operation even though I was unconscious, but faintly, I'm sure I heard your voice. I'm sure I did."

Joshua narrowed his eyes slightly. During Nigel's operation, he did indeed ask the doctor about Nigel's condition several times through the CCTV camera. He never thought that the boy who was unconscious from the effects of the anesthesia would hear him and even remember him.

"Maybe it was an illusion." He smiled as he looked at his son and laughed, "I was never here."

Nigel looked at his father's cold, hard, face and tried desperately to detect a hint of his emotions. But he hid them too well. Nigel failed to read anything from his father's expressionless face.

The little guy set down the glass, then sighed, his eyes lowered. Since Joshua did not want to admit it, fine.

Nigel was a hacker, a computer expert, how could he have made up Joshua's voice that was sent over the internet and played from the CCTV camera? He did not know why Joshua pretended not to care about him in front of Mommy, when he obviously did, even going so far as to asking the doctor several times about his condition during his operation. But he knew the man was not as awful as he imagined.

During Nigel's sentiments, Joshua's phone rang. He lowered his eyes and looked at the incoming number, then hurriedly bid goodbye to Nigel and turned and left.

The moment he turned away, Luna saw the name of the incoming caller, Fiona Blake. She watched his retreating back, a thick layer of frost covering the bottom of her heart.

As it turned out, even when he was visiting Nigel, a call from Fiona was all it took for him to leave without a single look back.

"Daddy must be busy with work." Nellie was worried Nigel would be hurt, so she hurriedly comforted him. "Maybe it's serious..." The little girl held her brother's hand. "Don't worry, Nigel, Daddy cares about you. He loves you a lot."

Nigel smiled. "I know."

Looking at the two children pretending to be tough, not just Luna, but even Anne felt furious. She bit her lip and cursed Joshua out to herself, then patted Luna's shoulder lightly and tried to comfort her softly.

Luna did not actually need comforting. She saw him for the man he was a long time ago. But...

She looked at the two cute children in front of her and could not help the bout of despair that welled up in her chest. They were just like her in the past, as long as he was slightly nicer to them, they felt as if the entire world was theirs. She was worried the children would not be able to accept it and would be sad and depressed.

Throughout the next week, Luna stayed in the hospital to take care of Nigel. His body did not reject the transplanted bone marrow and was improving day by day.

A week later, he was discharged from the hospital, and the child in him floated to the surface, holding Nellie's hand as they jumped and hopped into Christian's car.

Seeing the little guy's lively movements, Luna could not help but sigh. He was a child after all. No matter how mature he usually acted, when it was time to be childish, he was as childish as any other child his age.

"You can't expect a six-year-old to act more mature than me every day?"

Maybe he had read Luna's mind, Christian leaned on the car door and smiled as he looked at her. "Children should be children."

Luna side-eyed him. "You're a child too."

Christian patted his nose and said cheekily, "I'm just younger than you, I'm a full-grown adult everywhere else."

Only after he said that did he realize that Luna was Joshua's woman. So he smiled in embarrassment and hurriedly shut his mouth to end this topic of conversation.

He could hardly be blamed. Even though she was already the mother of a six-year-old child, she was beautiful, and with glowing skin to match. Even if she said she was 19, the same age as him, people would believe her.

Luna pretended not to understand his dirty innuendo and loaded Nigel's suitcase into the booth as she calmly switched the topic of conversation.

"How's your friend?"

Christian remained quiet for a while, then finally understood. The 'friend' Luna was referring to was Fiona, the donor who donated Nigel's bone marrow to him. At the thought of Fiona, he could not help but snort.

"Ha, she's doing well. A few days ago, she was considering having a child."

Somehow, when she heard Christian mention words relating to wanting a child, her mind would drift to Fiona.

That day Anne said...Fiona wanted to give Joshua a child. Back then, she did not pay much attention to these words, but now when Christian mentioned his friend wanting a friend too, she was reminded of Fiona for no reason. They were both Christian's friends, and both of them wanted a child...

A silly thought popped into her mind.

'Could it be, the person who donated the bone marrow to Nigel...was Fiona?'
