

The Mans Decree Chapter 2505 -

Chapter 2505 Ten Thousand Heart Piercing Arrows

Seeing that, Kai forced out a few drops of blood essence, causing the blazing tattoo to burn a fiery red.

“Ah!”

Kai unleashed his entire energy and hammered the bell yet again.

Chime!

In the wake of the resounding chime, terrifying auras reverberated outward, rippling through the surroundings.

The earth quivered akin to the restless waves of the sea.

Rudy finally fell silent inside the Dragon Bell.

Kai heaved a sigh of relief. He was about to relax when the Dragon Bell flew into the air without warning.

Rudy emerged from the Dragon Bell, fixing his gaze on Kai, who was underneath him. “I said it, didn’t I? Dragon Bell is a great weapon, but it’s a pity you are not able to unleash its full potential.”

With that, he gave the Dragon Bell a punch.

The Dragon Bell flew toward Kai like a shooting star. Seeing that, Kai rolled away to avoid the attack.

The Dragon Bell crashed onto the ground, letting out bursts of sonic waves. Many people coughed out blood due to the impact and fell dead.

Kai was in a disheveled state. If he weren’t burning his blood essence, he wouldn’t even get the energy to stand up.

“Ah!”

Kai kept the Dragon Bell as the Divine Bow materialized in his hands.

Utilizing all his Ultimate Force, Kai pulled the bowstring with all his force.

Countless arrows appeared on the bow.

However, Rudy didn’t even bother looking at Kai as his attention was focused on the human face in the sky.

The human face was contorted and fading away, about to disappear any minute.

“Stop right now!” Rudy hollered as he charged toward Arthur.

If the human face were to disappear, his intricate plan that had been years in planning would fail, and he would also disappear along with this human face.

This was precisely why he couldn't allow Arthur to succeed in thwarting his plans.

"Ten thousand heart-piercing arrows!"

As Rudy made his way toward Arthur, Kai released the bowstring, allowing the arrows to fly toward Rudy.

Rudy remained unfazed, using his body to block the incoming arrows.

Despite failing to harm Rudy, the arrows still managed to slow him down.

After firing out the arrows, Kai fell to one knee, failing to stand upright anymore.

Rudy quickened his pace and made it through the deluge of arrows. He began to panic as the human face gradually faded away.

After making it past the arrows, Rudy was about to punch Arthur when a figure blocked his path.

Rudy was surprised to realize that Kai was still bold enough to stop him despite being injured.

"Young man, go to h*ll!"

He delivered a strong punch in Kai's direction.

Boom!

A horrifying aura enveloped Kai, causing him to fall to the ground swiftly.

Right when Rudy's punch was about to land on Kai, the Dragonslayer Sword unleashed a sword intent.

The pure sword intent did its magic to protect Kai's heart.

When Kai's body landed on the ground, everyone thought he was doomed.

After all, no one could survive a punch from Rudy.

Rudy himself believed that Kai's meridians had been completely shattered, leading to his demise.

"Kai!" Josephine and the rest blurted out.

Arthur lowered his gaze to cast Kai a look.

Just as everyone thought Kai was dead, he slowly climbed to his feet. His aura was extremely weak, but he was still alive!

The Mans Decree Chapter 2506 -

Chapter 2506 Arthur Is Gone

The pure sword intent was Sworder's gift that would protect Kai when his life was at risk.

If it weren't for the sword intent, Kai would've been reduced to a bloody pulp by now.

Rudy's eyes flickered with disbelief when he realized that Kai was still alive. However, he couldn't afford to dwell on it at that moment, as his priority was to swiftly put an end to Arthur's actions.

With determination, Rudy launched a slap toward Arthur, who simply responded with a slight smile.

Under everyone's gaze, the huge face faded and disappeared from sight. "No!" Rudy hollered with all his might, his eyes bulging out from their sockets. He staunchly refused to accept that his meticulously crafted plan, painstakingly developed over the course of years, had failed at the last possible moment.

"I'm going to kill you! I'll kill you!" he screamed angrily, wanting to end Arthur's life right there and then.

Just as he was about to make his move, Rudy's body began to tremble uncontrollably, engulfed by a flame.

The eight trigrams mark he had placed on the human face had triggered its devastating effect. With no way to escape, Rudy's body was swiftly consumed by the flames, leaving no trace behind, not even a single trace of ashes. It was as if he had vanished into thin air, never to be seen again.

As he vanished, a few reluctant roars resonated from the depths of Fire Incineration Sect.

With the disappearance of the human face, the radiant rays that enveloped the bronze coffin gradually waned, causing the coffin itself to fade from view. Simultaneously, Arthur's body began to gradually fade away.

"Mr. Sanders..."

Seeing that, Kai mustered the last shred of his energy to approach Arthur. He reached out frantically to grab Arthur but to no avail.

"No, I can't let you die. You can't die!"

Kai fixed his gaze on Arthur, who was steadily vanishing before his eyes. Driven to madness, he forcefully expelled his blood essence, igniting the surrounding area in a desperate attempt to prevent Arthur's disappearance. Regrettably, despite his fervent efforts, Arthur's form continued to fade away.

"No!" Kai hollered, tears spilling from his eyes.

Arthur had helped Kai a lot, so Kai had come to regard him as a close relative. Naturally, it was only natural for him to feel a deep sense of distress upon witnessing his cherished relative fading away right in front of his eyes.

“Kai, don’t be upset. We’ll meet again. Work hard and cultivate. I’ll be waiting for you,” Arthur told him with a smile.

It seemed that Arthur wasn’t afraid at all of dying.

Under Kai’s watchful gaze, Arthur vanished into thin air, and the sky became peaceful once again.

After Arthur’s figure disappeared, an identical middle-aged man materialized within a secluded study nestled deep within the mountains of the Ethereal Realm.

His complexion was pale, and a trickle of blood streamed from his lips. An elderly butler entered the study and was taken aback by Arthur’s pale appearance. He reported, “Mr. Sanders, I’ve summoned everyone back to the residence.”

“Advise them to refrain from wandering aimlessly for the time being. It appears that Ethereal Realm is currently undergoing a restructuring,” Arthur stated in a calm and composed manner.

“Got it.” The elderly butler gave a polite bow and left.

Arthur walked over to the window and pushed it open, gazing up at the sky. His voice carried a tinge of concern as he murmured, “Kai, can you continue to endure? As the truth draws nearer, the dangers will escalate. I pray that you can endure until the very end!”

In the mundane world, Kai reached his limits and collapsed onto the ground. Weakened by his frail physical state and overwhelmed by the emotional turmoil, Kai teetered on the verge of unconsciousness.

“Master...”

“Kai...”

Josephine, Feenix, and the rest quickly rushed toward him.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2507 -

Chapter 2507 Sucked Into A Black Hole

Before Josephine, Feenix, and the others had reached Kai, a black hole appeared in the sky. There was a strong suction force, and the man was sucked into it.

“Kai!”

Without an ounce of hesitation, Josephine rushed toward the black hole.

“Master!”

Likewise, Feenix did the same.

On the contrary, Ezra and the others from Divine Smithing Sect were over the moon as they gazed at the black hole that appeared without warning. "The portal has opened! Quick, let's go!"

Right after Ezra had said that, he took the lead and launched himself at the black hole.

The few other elders and prisoners from Ethereal Realm followed suit.

As everyone charged toward the black hole, no one that noticed a ball of light where Skylar died was also sucked in.

Meanwhile, Quindon and the others froze on the spot, gaping at the portal to Ethereal Realm.

Ethereal Realm was a place they yearned for, but when the portal was right before their eyes, they wavered. They did not know whether they could survive there with their capabilities.

Besides, considering the restoration of spiritual energy, cultivating in the mundane world might be a better choice.

While they were dithering, Aislin capitalized on Quindon's inattention to leap up and jump into the black hole.

"Lin!"

Seeing that, Quindon instinctively gave chase to grab his daughter.

Regretfully, no sooner had Aislin gone into the black hole than it disappeared in a flash. He failed to hold her back.

Utter worry swamped him as he stared at the spot where the black hole had vanished. Verily, he was concerned about her safety.

Nonetheless, it was of no use when the black hole had blinked out of existence.

Thus, Quindon and the others merely exchanged a glance with those from Evil Heart Sect before leaving.

Inwardly, Malphas was beyond apprehensive. With Kai's life hanging in the balance, the mark in his brain could not be removed. As such, he had no idea how much longer he had to live.

Shortly after, he also left with those from Evil Heart Sect.

"Quick, let's go home and tell Cecilia and the others about this, Renee!"

Leaving with Renee, Melanie rushed back to Deragon Sect in Jadeborough.

At Deragon Sect in Jadeborough, Melanie and Renee's return plunged the place into chaos.

When Cecilia and the others learned that Kai had been sucked into a black hole and Josephine had jumped into it to save the man, they were all gripped by anxiousness.

"What should we do, Cecilia? We've got to find a way to save Kai!"

All the girls had their eyes fixed on Cecilia.

When Kai was away, they all listened to Cecilia since the latter was once the leader of an organization and was more experienced in handling things.

“We can’t panic or fall apart now. Instead, we’ve got to remain calm. Don’t tell Mom about this to save her from worrying needlessly,” Cecilia swiftly instructed, her mind whirring at warp speed.

Ever since Kai bedded the girls, they had all started addressing Beatrice as “Mom.”

“The most important thing right now is to ascertain where exactly the black hole leads. Without a direction, we can’t even begin to search,” Evangeline interjected.

“I don’t know where it leads either. But then, I heard them mentioning something about Ethereal Realm. Unfortunately, I don’t know much about that.”

Melanie knew nothing about Ethereal Realm, for it was her first time hearing about that place.

A slight frown marred Cecilia’s countenance. “Ethereal Realm? I heard Mr. Sanders mentioning it once or twice when I was cultivating with him.”

“I know! This Ethereal Realm is a sacred place for spiritual energy cultivators. Rumor has it that all cultivators in the secret realms yearn to visit it, but I don’t know how to go there.”

Evangeline was part of the secret realms. Hence, she had some understanding of the Ethereal Realm.

“How are we going to save Kai if we don’t know how to go to the Ethereal Realm?” Lyanna fretted.

“Now that Mr. Sanders is no longer here, who should we ask?”

Cecilia wore a solemn expression on her face, at a loss. If Mr. Sanders were still here, we could have asked him for advice!

The Mans Decree Chapter 2508 -

Chapter 2508 Protection Mechanism

“Mr. Flaxseed should know about the Ethereal Realm. Shall we go and ask him how to enter the place?” Hailey, who had remained silent throughout it all, suggested.

“Yes! Let’s go and ask Mr. Flaxseed. I think he’s pretty knowledgeable,” Astrid seconded.

Since everyone shared the same sentiments, Cecilia led them to seek Flaxseed out.

When Flaxseed saw that Kai’s women had all come knocking on his door, guilt promptly flooded him. He thought that they had discovered that he had often eavesdropped on them.

“We’ve got something to ask you, Mr. Flaxseed...”

Cecilia proceeded to narrate the chain of events to the man.

The moment Flaxseed heard that Kai had not only been sucked away by a black hole and gone to Ethereal Realm but was also severely injured, panic showed on his face.

“I know a bit about Ethereal Realm, but one needs to attain a certain level of capabilities to enter the place, tearing open time and space to open a portal. Considering our current cultivation level, I’m afraid we can’t accomplish that.” Indeed, Flaxseed had been to Ethereal Realm with Kai just a while ago. Alas, he was incapable of opening a portal leading there.

The instant the few girls heard that powerful capabilities were required to tear open time and space, they all fell silent.

“I’ll go back and ask my father whether there’s anything he can do.”

Evangeline planned to go and ask Chester whether he could open a portal to Ethereal Realm.

After all, her father was the most powerful among them all. Be that as it may, she knew deep within that he undoubtedly could not accomplish that.

Otherwise, he would have long since gone to Ethereal Realm instead of pining over it every day.

However, there was nothing else they could do then, so it was better than doing nothing.

Just when she was about to go and seek her father out, Xavier walked in.

“Captain Jennings?”

The sight of Xavier there puzzled Cecilia and the others.

They often went to the Department of Justice to learn about cultivation from Arthur and were considered familiar with Xavier. However, Xavier rarely came to Deragon Sect, so they could not fathom the reason for his sudden visit.

“Ms. Cecilia, Mr. Sanders left me a letter to hand to you all before he left.”

Xavier hurried off after handing the letter to Cecilia.

Following that, they were all the more perplexed. They could not quite understand why Arthur, who was deceased, had prepared a letter for them in advance.

“Quick, open it for a look!” Flaxseed urged anxiously.

Cecilia hurriedly opened the letter, upon which everyone crowded over for a look.

When they had finished reading the latter, helplessness was etched across their features.

“Oh no, we’ve got no way of saving Kai now!”

“How could this be? Could it be that Mr. Sanders had predicted that Kai would be sucked into the Ethereal Realm ages ago?”

“Mr. Sanders is truly mysterious. It’s as though like he can foretell everything!”

All the girls exclaimed aloud, one after another.

Flaxseed, on the other hand, was embarrassed to join them earlier and did not see the contents of the letter. For that reason, he questioned frantically,

“What’s going on? What did Mr. Sanders say?”

“Mr. Sanders told us to focus on cultivating, for portals between Ethereal Realm and the mundane world can’t be opened within a year. With the restoration of spiritual energy, the laws of nature would disappear, and the protection mechanism of the mundane world would be automatically activated. That aside, he said he wasn’t sure what would become of the mundane world a year later. Thus, we must cultivate diligently so we can help Kai in the future. On top of that, he assured us that Kai would be safe and told us not to worry,” Cecilia briefly explained the contents of the letter.

Having listened to it all, Flaxseed plunged into silent contemplation. A moment later, he remarked, “Without the one-year protection period, it would really be difficult to tell what would become of the mundane world. It looks like we’ve truly got to put our backs into cultivating.”

In the following year, he indeed started cultivating madly, during which he refrained from indulging in carnal activities. Of course, that was what happened later.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2509 -

Chapter 2509 Rescued

In the mountains in Ethereal Realm, ancient trees towered into the sky amidst a dense forest.

Beneath a tall and thick tree, a figure lay motionless on the ground as though dead.

A wild wolf slowly approached. It trained its eyes on the figure before darting them around warily. After ascertaining that no one was lying in wait, it ambled over and sniffed lightly.

Then, it gently nudged the figure with a paw. Upon seeing that the man remained motionless, it finally let its guard down and opened its mouth to sink its teeth into the supple flesh.

Just when it did that, an arrow abruptly shot toward it.

Whoosh!

The arrow immediately pierced its body. Injured, the wolf let out a howl and spun around to flee, giving up the person before it. Unexpectedly, five or six people sprinted over from a near distance away. All of them held weapons and surrounded the wolf. As the wolf was injured, it was killed in no time.

It was only after they had it finished off that they strode over to the figure. When they laid eyes on the figure lying on the ground, a girl among them cried out, "Kai!"

She was none other than Emily, whom Kai rescued in Ethereal Realm not long ago.

That day, she went hunting with Ali and a few other young men from the village. Little did she expect that she would end up saving Kai. Right then, Kai was as pale as a sheet. His eyes were shut, and his aura was unprecedentedly weak. It was as though he would die anytime. Beside him lay the Divine Bow, which he had not had the time to put into his Storage Ring when he was sucked into the black hole. "How did he get so severely injured? His aura is exceedingly weak, and it's as though all his energy has been drained away." As Ali scrutinized Kai, his brows knitted together deeply.

After all, he had personally witnessed the latter's capabilities. Hmm, he's such a powerful person, yet he's severely injured. Could it be that there are other formidable fighters nearby?

At once, his guard went up. The residents of Rock Village there mainly hunted and gathered medicinal herbs for a living, never having met anyone particularly powerful. But considering the fact that even someone with Kai's capabilities had been injured grievously, the other party must be superior to the man.

Now that such a powerful person has suddenly appeared near the village, it's imperative for me to be vigilant. If that individual has his sights set on Rock Village, it'd be the end of us all!

"Quick, take the wolf's carcass! We're leaving right away!" he quickly ordered. In a trice, a few men lifted the wolf's carcass. Meanwhile, Emily turned to Ali and implored, "Ali, please save Kai. If it weren't for him back then, I would've been eaten by a demon beast!"

Her eyes shimmered with tears as she begged the man.

Although Kai saved Emily previously and did nothing to Rock Village, Ali had long since been wary of him.

To his dismay, they crossed paths again this time. He did not want to save Kai or bring trouble to Rock Village. If the latter's enemy were to learn that they rescued him, the entire village would be doomed.

“It’s not that I don’t want to save him, Emily. Judging from the beating he received, the other person definitely harbors a deep-seated grudge against him. If we were to save him and his enemy came knocking on our door, the entire Rock Village would be annihilated,” Ali explained.

Emily understood the man’s concern and the danger it would bring to Rock Village. Hence, she stated, “You all leave, Ali. I’ll stay and keep Kai company.” “This place is filled with demon beasts, Emily. You’d doubtlessly get eaten if you were to stay here. Moreover, he’s going to be dead soon. We can’t save him at all!” Ali coaxed.

“If Kai dies, I’ll die with him. This life of mine is from him, so I’ll return it to him since I can’t save him,” Emily asserted.

The Mans Decree Chapter 2510 -

Chapter 2510 Hide It

Ali regarded Emily with exasperation written all over his face. In the end, he could only sigh and relent. “Okay, I’ll carry him back to Rock Village, but I’m not sure whether I can save him.”

While saying that, he hoisted Kai onto his back. Emily wiped her tears. She cast a glance at Divine Bow before snagging it up.

She knew that it must be Kai’s weapon, so she took it with her. However, she had no idea that it was the renowned Divine Bow.

After Ali had carried Kai back to Rock Village, Emily had him place the latter in her house.

“Here are some medicinal herbs, Emily. Give them to him. It would depend on his luck whether he can pull through. Tell me if he dies so I can carry him out to be buried,” Ali uttered, giving Emily a bag of medicinal herbs.

“Thank you, Ali!” Emily gushed with great gratitude as she took the medicinal herbs from him.

When Ali had left, Ira, who was blind, trudged out from another room.

“Emily, I heard Ali’s voice. What was he saying just now? What was that about pulling through? Who’s injured?” Ira asked.

“It’s Kai, Grandma,” Emily answered.

“Kai?” Ira was stunned for a moment.

Emily proceeded to explain everything in detail to her. Only then did it dawn on Ira that it was the man who was there some time ago.

“Quick, bring me to him, Emily!”

She had Emily lead her into the room where Kai lay.

Stepping forward, Ira checked whether the man was still breathing and took his pulse before commenting, "He's downright lucky. Not only has he been drained to near depletion, but his blood essence is also close to exhaustion. Surprisingly, he's still alive."

"Then, can Kai still wake up, Grandma?" Emily hastily queried.

"That's hard to say. It depends on his luck. Don't use any medicine on him, for it won't do him any good. Just let him lay there and recuperate," Ira instructed. No sooner had she said that than she frowned and turned to the side, murmuring, "What's there, Emily? Why is it that I sense something amiss?" Sweeping her gaze over, Emily saw that the item placed there was Kai's bow. Thus, she replied, "Kai's weapon is there, Grandma. It's just a bow, and it looks pretty worn out."

As she spoke, she picked up the Divine Bow and handed it to the elderly woman.

But when Ira had taken Divine Bow and ran her hands over it, she abruptly trembled, causing Divine Bow to slip from her hold and fall to the ground.

"What's wrong, Grandma?" Emily questioned, swiftly stepping forward and supporting her upon noticing her apprehension.

"Oh, nothing. It's nothing." Ira shook her head before ordering, "Quick, wrap this bow with a scrap of cloth and hide it, Emily. Don't tell anyone about this matter. Do you understand?"

A puzzled expression on her face, Emily ventured, "Is there something different about this bow, Grandma? Ali and the others have already seen it."

"No, there isn't anything different. Just do as I said. Hurry up!" Ira hissed, her face stretching taut all of a sudden.

Seeing that, Emily had no choice but to obey. She wrapped Divine Bow with a scrap of cloth and hid it in an obscure place.

After she had left, Ira observed the weak aura from Kai and muttered, "Who exactly are you that you have the Divine Bow in your possession and are so severely injured? Hopefully, your arrival will not bring destruction to this small mountain village."

Having said that, she turned around and felt her way out of the room.

Time flew past. In the blink of an eye, it had been three days.

Throughout the past three days, Emily took meticulous care of Kai.

Regretfully, the man was still unconscious. His aura was as weak as ever, and he was in danger of dying anytime.