

Chapter 2423

The Hamiltons exchanged dismayed glances when they heard Harvey speak so seriously.

Zina was the first to sneer, disdainful. "Harvey, can you stop making up stories? Nothing happened to me in the past six months."

Harvey narrowed his eyes at Zina before smiling. "You're still studying, right, Ms. Hamilton? So you should be living in the dormitory, no?"

"Thus, don't have the yin in your body."

Zina sneered, apparently dissatisfied with Harvey's answer.

However, the faces of all the other members of the Hamiltons changed slightly after they pondered carefully over Harvey's words.

Jax was frowning. "Yes, I'll certainly lose money whenever I play cards these days.”

Tyrell coughed lightly, his face suddenly pale.

Several ladies from Hamilton Residence also exchanged wary looks, apparently aware that they were indeed more likely to get sick than before.

Although it was just a few minor illnesses that could be resolved by taking some medicine...

Thinking about Harvey's words, they couldn't help feeling a little spooked.

The Hamiltons rarely got sick, as they were always consuming valuable supplements all year round.

Fabian too pondered about it with thoughtful expression. After a while, he frowned and said, “Yes, I also felt that my health has deteriorated a little in the past six months. I even coughed out blood a few times. That's why there have been rumors saying that I could only live for three more months.”

Harvey smiled. “That’s right.”

But Scarlett retorted coldly, “Even if you’re right and there really is yin in their bodies, it doesn’t prove that there is yin in the Five Virtues Temple’s Feng Shui plate!”

“It also can’t prove that the Feng Shui plate will cause the Hamiltons’ death!”

Harvey sighed. “Ms. Leithold. I’ll be frank: if I really prove this, it would result in a huge tragedy. After all, lives are at stake!”

“There are only a few fragments left, but it’s true that the yin in your Feng Shui plate is still very strong.”

“Apart from Ms. Hamilton, any of the Hamiltons who hold this fragment for more than three seconds will pass out.”

“If the Feng Shui plate was still whole, any Hamilton who touched it for three seconds will immediately die.”

Harvey said grimly, looking solemn.

Scarlett spat, “Nonsense! What a joke!”

Zina curled her lips, scornful. “Harvey, it’s alright to use these words to deceive a three-year-old kid. But we’re the Hamiltons! You must be dreaming!”

Denver leapt out at this moment and echoed after Zina, “I don’t believe it. I want to see if I’ll pass out. Forget three seconds, I’ll hold it for three minutes!”

As he spoke, he approached Harvey to grab the fragments.

Harvey cast him an indifferent look, but still advised, “Third Young Master Hamilton, I think you'd better not."

"I've just broken your hand, so you're out of luck. You may not be able to last for even three seconds."

"Y-you!"

Denver almost exploded with anger. He pointed at Harvey with his plastered finger and barked, "York! If I didn't faint, I'll make you faint!"

Furious, he snatched the Feng Shui plate fragment from Harvey's hand.

Just as he touched it, he felt his body shake, and his hair stood on end.

But he was reluctant to admit it and sneered mockingly, "Did you see that?! Didn't you say that I couldn't hold on for a second? I..."

Before he could finish speaking, Denver's eyes rolled into its whites. He promptly fell to the ground, foaming at the mouth, convulsing...

Chapter 2424

After the chaos, Denver was carried by the Hamiltons' family doctor for emergency treatment.

Just like that, the atmosphere amid the crowd suddenly became very tense.

The Hamiltons broke into cold sweat as they stared at the fragments on the ground, scared witless.

"Do you believe me now?" Harvey smiled lightly.

Zina, however, refused to stand down. She put on a brave facade and screeched, "Harvey, Third Brother fainting might just be accidental. What happened to him didn't prove anything!"

"Do you still need proof?"

Harvey kept on smiling. He picked up one of the fragments and flicked it with his finger, causing it to land in the open courtyard.

The midday sun happened to shine on that fragment, bright golden rays falling on it.

Hiss! The next moment, an ugly cry broke out.

Strands of black yin rose in the sky like smoke, turning into what was akin to an extremely hideous grimace. Resentful screams rang out, and soon, the residual yin energy dissipated under the sun.

Crack!

The remaining fragments trembled, before turning into powder and vanished the moment the yin energy dissipated.

“This should be ample proof, right?” Harvey looked indifferent.

“That was just a fragment. If the Feng Shui plate was touched by any of the Hamiltons, it'd be a disaster.”

“Plus, the Feng Shui viewed using this Feng Shui plate contains yin. Even if you use Feng Shui to resolve the Hamiltons' current problems, it's just a temporary stopgap.”

“It's very likely the Hamiltons still wouldn't have any clue about this, even if they die of illness three or five years later.”

“I only hope that this is accidental, and not done deliberately by the Five Virtues Temple...”

Fabian suddenly narrowed his eyes at Harvey's words.

Scarlett's face instantly turned ugly.

“Father, why do you trust Harvey so much?”

Zina saw the expression on her father's face and nearly vomited blood from it.

“Can’t you see that he’s just spewing garbage? He’s just trying to drive a wedge between us and the Five Virtues Temple!”

Zina wanted to strangle Harvey to death more than anything.

She finally got to enter the Five Virtues Temple. If she was left out because of this, what would she do?!

Fabian took a deep look at Zina. He suddenly smiled before assuring her, “Don’t worry. I know what I’m doing.”

Bang!

A loud sound broke the air as Scarlett suddenly stood up, her face filled with icy determination. “It seems that my weight isn’t enough. As such, I couldn’t convince Sir Hamilton to trust me and be at ease.”

“To think Sir Hamilton is willing to believe the nonsense of a charlatan!”

“You doubt the sincerity of the Five Virtues Temple, to boot!”

“If that’s the case, I apologize for my intrusion. I’ll leave this instant!”

After her incensed declaration, Scarlett spun on her heels and stormed out of the hall.

When she passed by Harvey, the coldness in her glare was palpable.

“S-senior! Senior!”

Seeing that Scarlett was leaving, Zina hurriedly followed after her.

However, Fabian’s calm expression didn’t change even at Scarlett’s angry departure. He only asked the servant to serve a cup of coffee after she was gone.

Harvey took a sip of the coffee before turning to Fabian and saying, "Sir Hamilton, perhaps the Five Virtues Temple truly didn't have any bad intentions."

"Maybe they didn't know that there was something wrong with that Feng Shui plate."

"I'm sure they didn't mean any harm to the Hamiltons."

"Of course, the Five Virtues Temple having no bad intentions doesn't mean that Scarlett is the same..."

"Perhaps she has been used as a pawn by someone who wants you to die sooner?"

"For example, Vince York..."

Harvey looked indifferent as he said this, as though he was speaking of insignificant matters. However, Fabian's face turned grim upon his conjecture.

Chapter 2425

“You must be joking, Young Master York.”

Fabian forced himself to laugh, wanting to change the topic.

“But you’re right about one thing. It’s been quite difficult for our family in the past six months. Forget about my body’s condition, all of my unfilial sons provoked you one after another, and all were crushed by you.”

“Your amazing skills aside, this is also proof that our family’s luck isn’t as good as before.”

“Thus, I will choose to believe you, Young Master York.”

Fabian explained everything from a different point of view. Not only did it downplay the rift between Harvey and the Hamiltons, but it also showed his sincerity.

Harvey smiled and took another sip of the coffee. Then, he stood up and said, "If that's the case, let's take a look around now. Noon is an excellent time to read Feng Shui. We'll see whether my guess is correct?"

Fabian quickly agreed. "Sorry for troubling you, Young Master York. Do clear the place!"

While Harvey was about to read Feng Shui for the Hamiltons, Scarlett had entered a Toyota Alphard with a three-place license plate. She ignored Zina, who was following behind her, as if the latter was thin air.

Scarlett switched on the privacy glass and made a call only after the car left the Arcburn Villa District in Las Vegas.

"Hey, how's it going?"

A slightly modulated, gentle male voice spoke to her from the other side of the phone.

A trace of softness flashed through Scarlett's eyes when she heard this voice. The domineering look that she put up in front of Harvey was nowhere to be seen.

"Vince, something went wrong. That bastard Harvey appeared at a critical moment."

"He's quite good, too. Not only are his skills amazing, but he also has deep knowledge of Feng Shui and physiognomy."

"He actually saw through the Nine Yin plate!" Vince frowned. After a while, he simply replied, "Got it."

Scarlett went on, "What I worry most is that he can see through the setup we've arranged in the Hamiltons' residence. After he solves it, Fabian'

s life will be saved.”

“The Hamiltons’ younger generation are all on your side, but Fabian has always refused to express his support for you!”

“If he doesn’t support us, or delegate his power, or die, we won’t get any resources from Las Vegas’s Hamiltons!”

“Without their resources, the upper circle of Las Vegas will not stand by you.”

“Your ascension will be fraught with uncertainties.”

As Scarlett continued, her tone lowered into a regretful lament. “As much as I hate to say this, it isn’t easy to kill Harvey. And now, even Fabian won’t be so easy to kill.”

Vince remained indifferent. “Harvey’s still from the lineage of the Yorks of Hong Kong and Las Vegas, after all. My aunt taught me a lesson yesterday, advising me not to engage in internal fights within the clan for personal gains.”

“Let’s just stay away from him.”

“After all, his roots are in the great Country H. I’ll make a call in a few days. I believe he’ll go back soon.”

“As for the King of Gambling... Well, if I say that he can only live for three months, then he’ll live for only three months!”

“I’ve announced that to everyone, haven’t I? If he didn’t die even after three months, won’t I be disgraced?”

“Then, Vince, what’s your...?” Scarlett was solemn.

“Dying in an accident also counts,” Vince said casually. He swiftly changed the topic and murmured passionately, “Scarlett, I miss you.”

Scarlett's pretty face immediately flushed pink. She whispered tenderly, "Vince, I'm coming to you..."

Chapter 2426

While Scarlett was looking forward to meeting Vince, Fabian had already gone through the Hamilton Residence with Harvey for quite some time.

Harvey's expression grew a touch colder when they arrived at the Hamiltons' ancestral hall.

He made a gesture, motioning Fabian to let the others leave and only let a trustworthy person stay behind.

Fabian didn't know Harvey's intentions, but he did as told and instructed others to leave. He only lets the butler, Zummo, stay by his side.

Zummo was an old man aged more than sixty years old, but he was energetic and looked calm all the way through. It seemed he had once been to the battlefield in his youth.

“Young Master York. This is the Hamilton Residence’s butler, Zummo.”

“He grew up with me and went through many things with me. I trust him more than my sons.”

Fabian introduced Zummo to Harvey. His words were casual, but it was enough to prove Zummo’s high standing within the family.

“If you need to do something dangerous, then just tell him. He’s willing to die for me.”

Zummo remained coolly stoic as he gave Harvey a curt nod.

Although he didn’t speak, Harvey could understand that Zummo was a taciturn type. Thus, he wasn’t a man of many words.

If someone wanted to hurt Fabian, Zummo would probably be the first to rush forward and protect Fabian.

“Good. I told you to let a trustworthy person stay behind because I hope he can protect you.”

“The thing is, I might not be able to do so later on.”

Harvey motioned for Fabian and Zummo to stand at the central courtyard of the ancestral hall, where the sun could shine. “No matter what happens later, you mustn’t leave this area. You must stand in a place where the sun can shine.”

Harvey’s cautious expression made Fabian frown slightly. “Young Master York, what does this mean?”

“What are you going to do?”

“Could this have anything to do with what the Hamiltons are experiencing now?”

Harvey didn’t explain and flicked his finger instead. A stone flew out from his palm, instantly hitting on the plaques in the hall.

The neatly arranged plaques all fell to the ground.

At this, Fabian's face became grim and Zummo subconsciously stepped forward to stop Harvey.

Harvey was trampling on the Hamiltons' dignity by destroying the plaques of their ancestors, and in front of Fabian to boot!

But before Fabian could speak, the plaques that had already fallen suddenly jumped violently.

Several plaques flew out, heading towards Fabian and Zummo's direction.

Bang, bang, bang!

Harvey quickly smashed all of them, turning the flying plaques into powder before they could reach Fabian and Zummo.

Zummo's expression changed. He carried out several moves and hit the plaques as well, mimicking Harvey.

Suddenly, there was an eerie sound of a baby bawling its heart out. All the plaques that had just landed vibrated slightly before returning to their original places on the wall.

Had it not been for the reduced amount of plaques, everyone would've assumed what they had just seen as a mere trick of the light.

Just then, a faint yin energy burst forth from the front.

Harvey took a step forward and instantly let out the murderous aura he had honed on the battlefield for many years.

Ssst...

An unpleasant sound, like an ice cube coming in touch with smoldering hot iron, hissed in the air. The diffused yin dissipated at a speed visible to the naked eye.

The eerie baby's cry gradually disappeared, and soon, silence took over. Everything that had just happened seemed like an illusion.

“What is this...”

After all this was over, Fabian took in his surroundings with a stare of abject horror. The events that had unfold moments ago were beyond his understanding.
