

Chapter 1900

Ying Ming immediately asked, "Where do you get money at your young age?"

"Brother, my fingers are very long." Shen Xue said to Ying Ming without end.

Ying Ming looked at her sister's slender and beautiful fingers and felt heartache in her heart: "When my brother makes a lot of money, I will send you to learn the piano. Do you like that piano very much?"

He pointed to the piano not far away and asked Shen Xue.

Shen Xue nodded: "Yes."

She looked up at her brother: "Brother, I'm going to ask my father for money."

She originally wanted to say that if she had long fingers, she could go to her father to steal with her long fingers. Although Shen Xue didn't know why she could be a pickpocket and steal with her long fingers, she felt that the elegant piano player My uncle must be right, he is like a literate person. He said that her fingers were long and suitable for pickpockets, so she would be able to steal money.

She wanted to tell her brother that she was going to steal Dad's money with her long fingers.

However, she is afraid that her brother will beat her, because her brother is still very strict with her discipline, and her brother will definitely not allow her to steal, even if it is to steal her father's money.

When Shen Xue's words came to her lips, she changed her mouth to say that she was going to ask her father for money.

Hearing Shen Xue say this, Ying Ming immediately smiled bitterly.

He thought that his sister really had a good way.

He touched his sister's head: "Fool, your father only has the obligation to support you, not me and my mother. If you ask him for money again, he will still say that my mother and I pushed you to ask for it. He doesn't even give you 1,000 yuan a month, but what should you do? It's okay, don't ask your father for money."

Shen Xue nodded sensible: "I know brother."

Little Shen Xue watched her brother finish eating and left with the lunch box.

She walked all the way home.

She always thought about what her uncle who played the piano said to her, that her fingers are suitable for pickpockets.

Pickpockets are stealing.

Stealing is a hard word to hear, but when Shen Xue thought about her being with her father, her father didn't even dare to admit that she was his daughter. She wanted to watch her father's newly formed family of three happily get together, and take her away. When she was a beggar, Shen Xue felt that stealing this word was very comfortable.

At least you don't have to be discriminated against.

Anyway, it was Dad's money that was stolen, not anyone else's money.

When thinking like this, Shen Xue would think of her brother again.

When she was very young, only three or four years old, she saw a child on the road eating a lollipop. It cost fifty cents a lollipop, and her mother didn't have the money to buy it for her. Shen Xue watched the child eat it. , her anxious saliva wet the front placket.

Later, when my brother came back from school, seeing Shen Xue like this, he immediately scolded Shen Xue in anger.

But when Shen Xue saw her brother coming, she felt that she had a helper. She ignored her brother's scolding, but rushed forward and snatched the lollipop from the kid across from her, no matter whether it was someone else's mouth or not. After eating, Shen Xue shoved it into his mouth and ate it.

Very sweet to eat.

The child on the other side cried with a 'wow'.

At that time, Ying Ming was stunned: "Xuexue, you..."

The mother of the child opposite heard the cry and came to the child. Seeing that Shen Xuezhuan, his elder brother, snatched the lollipop from her child, the woman became angry and scolded Ying Ming and Shen Xue: "Uneducated child!"

"Mother gave birth, no father taught!"

"It's no wonder your mother is a lunatic, she deserves it!"

"It's ugly to eat!"

"Uneducated child!"

After a scolding, he led his own child to buy a new lollipop.

And Ying Ming was so angry that she took Shen Xue and went home. When she got home, her mother went to the stall and hadn't come back, so Ying Ming put her sister on her lap and beat her badly.

"Still grab it or not!"

Shen Xue burst into tears: "No more robbing, woo woo woo..."

"Shen Xue, listen to me! If I find you robbing others, or stealing other people's things, I will break your legs! Do you hear me!"

Shen Xue cried out of breath: "Listen...I heard it, brother, I heard...Xuexue will never eat other people's food in the future."

Ying Ming felt extremely distressed after hitting Shen Xue.

He hugged his sister: "In the future, my brother will make money and buy it for you to eat."

Chapter 1901

Shen Xue cried and nodded.

After that, when Shen Xue saw other people eating snacks, she just watched, but she drooled and never robbed anyone else.

Not to mention stealing.

Her brother won't let her steal.

If she steals, her brother will break her legs.

She thought about it all the way.

Thinking like this, I went home silently, and when I got home, I saw my mother huddled on the edge of the bed.

"Mom, what's wrong with you, mom?" Shen Xue rushed up and asked.

"Xuexue, mother can't make money anymore, our cabin is gone, mother can't buy you a down jacket anymore, you'll freeze." Mother nervously hugged Shen Xue and squeezed Shen Xue tightly.

Shen Xue was hurt by her mother.

But she didn't move, didn't resist, didn't run away.

She knew that her mother cared about her. Her mother, who was already well, fell ill again because the log house was demolished.

Moreover, the medicine at home is running out.

Shen Xue didn't want her mother to go to a mental hospital, so she not only lost her father, but also her mother.

She didn't know how long she was held by her mother, so she was held by her mother like this.

It was not until her mother was tired and fell asleep that Shen Xue broke free from her mother's arms.

Without saying a word, she quietly covered her mother with the quilt.

Then one person quietly went out.

She didn't hesitate, didn't look back, but got on a bus and went to her father's villa.

The villa where her father lives has been visited several times by her mother. She was brought here by her mother when she was a child. She always watched from a distance and told Shen Xue, "The woman who lives here is the vixen who hooked up my father."

Every time my mother cursed outside this villa for a long time.

Later, when Shen Xue missed her father, her brother brought her here. Basically, she quietly glanced at her father.

So, I came to my father's villa many times, but Shen Xue never went in.

She didn't know what the villa looked like.

She squatted in the small bush outside the villa like a little stray cat, huddled there and waited.

She is in no hurry to go home.

Because my brother had to go home at about ten o'clock in the evening, there were no customers in the restaurant.

So, at this point, no one is worried that she will not go home.

She just waited silently.

It was almost seven o'clock in the evening when a car finally pulled over slowly outside, and at the gate of the villa, the car stopped in a special broken parking space.

The door of the car opened, and the first person to come down was the little princess who was chattering extremely happily.

The little princess was wearing a bright red, which was very eye-catching.

"Dad, did my dance look good today?"

"It's very beautiful, our family Xixi is the most beautiful little princess." Shen Zishan praised.

"Then what reward does Dad give me today?" Shen Yuexi asked.

Shen Zishan: "Well... I'll give you a surprise when I get home."

"Good!"

The family of three was about to open the door when a mass of things suddenly appeared in front of them, frightened Shen Yuexi suddenly screamed: "Ah, what is this, it looks like a big mouse."

When she finished screaming, she saw that it was a girl who was a little bigger than her.

"Why is it you again?" Shen Yuexi asked very displeased.
