

Chapter 331

People of North Sky Association widened their eyes in shock!

They had been Peter's men for many years, so they knew Peter the best, better than Wade. They knew very well how powerful Peter was. He was one of the best among masters of the Innate Realm. Many people would tremble when they heard the name Peter.

But in the end, such a powerful expert of the Innate Realm was defeated by this woman with one slap. The key was he was fighting against her with his slap, not being slapped. How powerful was this woman?

At this moment, they even suspected that the woman was not a person, but a ghost.

Everyone knew in the field of martial arts, women have a natural disadvantage compared to men. It was even more difficult for women to reach the Innate Realm!

Now, she not only reached the Innate Realm but also surpassed Peter in strength? The key thing was that she looked only in her twenties. Even if she had been practicing since she was born, she couldn't do that, could she?

"You, you, you..." Peter was no longer as arrogant and confident as before, and there was only horror and fear in his eyes. "Are you really a human or a ghost?!"

Sunny's slap really broke all his confidence and pride. He even felt that the woman only used half of her strength!

How terrifying that was!

But she looked very young, which completely blew his mind. He knew that there were many masters in this world, and there were people stronger than him, but he had never seen or even heard of such a young woman with such terrifying strength!

Originally, he thought that Tom was the only one that was so young but so strong, but now it seemed that the woman in red in front of him was a hundred times scarier than Tom!

He couldn't figure out why there were such men and women like them.

Of course, Sunny would not answer his question, but said with a calm expression, "Remember what I said. You can't trouble Tom's friends and relatives. Otherwise, the next time I come, it won't be as simple as hurting you."

After saying this, she turned around and left, strutting out of the North Sky Association. No one dared to stop her.

Peter took a deep breath, and the disordered breath in his body was suppressed. Sunny's slap did not hurt his muscles and bones, and he would soon recover.

But he knew that with her strength, if she really wanted to hurt him, it would be very easy, and that she could even kill him within minutes!

The men behind him saw his cold face and silence and did not dare to make a sound for fear of angering Peter.

Peter's brain was spinning fast. He was trying to recall who this woman really was. She had such strong martial arts, was so young, and had something to do with Tom.

He thought for a long time but failed. He had never met or heard of such a person. That meant that her background must be very powerful and that he could not afford to offend her.

Poor people went for education while rich people practiced martial arts. No expert could be poor. They were built with countless money. The woman in red was so strong just now, which only showed that she was from a very rich family or association, richer and more powerful than the North Sky Association!

The world was not that simple. There were many hidden talents and masters.

What he didn't understand the most was the relationship between this woman and Tom.

Were they friends or family?

After thinking about it carefully, he still felt they were most likely to be friends, and that they were not very familiar. Perhaps by chance, this woman owed Tom a favor, so that she had to protect Tom's friends and relatives?

Or was Tom from the same organization as this woman?

It was the least possible of that. If they really came from the same organization, then Tom should have already gone beyond the Innate Realm, and it was impossible for him to have been a son-in-law in the Scotts for so long.

But he would avenge himself no matter what!

Since the woman in red warned him like this, it meant that she should be by Tom's wife's side during this period of time, and he could not succeed now.

The best way was to take revenge on Tom directly. After he got rid of Tom, he could get rid of the people around him!

"Master Sunny, you are getting stronger and stronger. Even Peter can't stand a punch from you." Master Chou said in awe and admiration.

When he first met Sunny, Sunny was still a little girl. Now that many years had passed, Sunny had grown into a beautiful woman, and her strength was even more unfathomable.

Sunny said calmly, "Peter is a good opponent. Tom should be able to get good training in the fight with him."

Master Chou said worriedly, "After all, Peter is an experienced master of the Innate Realm. I heard that he is already at the medium-level of the Innate Realm, but the young master has just reached the Innate Realm. Can he defeat Peter?"

"There's no need to worry about that. Brother Tom needs this kind of pressure to better stimulate his potential." Sunny said.

A few more days passed in a flash. During this time, Tom had been with Phoebe, just in case Peter would do trouble her. If Peter did it himself, the bodyguards would not be able to stop him, not even have the chance to call him.

Fortunately, during this period, Peter never showed up. Tom relaxed a lot and thought Peter wouldn't do anything.

In fact, he had also thought about whether that Master Sunny had found trouble with Peter and warned him, so Wade feared and didn't do anything.

On his second thought, he felt it was possible.

At the same time, during this period of time, the Paynes continued to invite him to have a meal. Tom refused. Now that he knew what the Paynes was up to, how dare he go there?

But sometimes things happened so coincidentally. The less you wanted to see someone, the easier it was to see them.

That day, after Tom sent Phoebe to work, he met Isabella on the way back.

When Isabella saw him, she was also obviously stunned. Then her face immediately darkened. She looked particularly disgusted and turned around to leave.

Tom shrugged. He didn't like Isabella at all. To put it bluntly, there were enough women liking him. Isabella was trouble to him. He really couldn't bear it.

So he left directly.

However, before he could take two steps, he suddenly heard a few barks, Isabella's panicked voice, and a scream.

Tom immediately turned around and saw a few homeless dogs suddenly rushing out of the alley and barking at Isabella. Isabella seemed to be afraid of dogs, so she was scared and retreated. In a panic, she accidentally sprained her foot and fell to the ground.

The dogs' eyes were bloodshot, and their saliva kept flowing out of the corners of their mouths. They looked especially terrifying and were about to pounce on Isabella.

When Tom saw this, he frowned. If anything happened to Isabella in front of him, even if it had nothing to do with him, it would not be easy to explain to the Paynes.

Besides, Isabella was so beautiful that it would be a pity if she left a few scars on her body.

He rushed up and kicked the dogs away.

"Are you okay?" Tom turned around and said to Isabella.

Coincidentally, Isabella was wearing a dress today, and now she was sitting on the ground. From Tom's angle, he saw something he shouldn't have seen...

In an instant, Tom felt he would have a nosebleed.

Chapter 332

Tom was stunned. What a coincidence!

And he would never have thought that Isabella, a cold woman, would wear underwear with cartoon characters on it?

This was against Isabella's image!

Isabella saw Tom's eyes, and she immediately blushed. She was angry. She quickly put her legs together, picked up a stone on the ground and threw it at Tom's face. She scolded, "Rascal! Close your eyes!"

In a daze, Tom, a master of the Innate Realm, failed to dodge this stone. With a thud, he was hit on the forehead.

He finally came to his senses. He quickly closed his eyes, and then turned around, not to look at her.

But he could not get the picture out of his head. It was indeed so shocking. He didn't expect someone like Isabella to wear such cute underwear.

"Eh-hem!" He quickly coughed and said seriously, "Don't worry, I didn't see anything."

When Isabella heard his words, her face turned even redder. She wished she could kill Tom immediately!

Now there was a lump in her throat. She felt especially aggrieved and ashamed. She had never been taken advantage of like this before. Even her boyfriend, who had been with her for more than three years, could only hold her hands. Other than that, there was no more intimate behavior between them, let alone seeing her underwear.

But now, Tom saw her underwear. She felt so ashamed that she didn't know where to put herself.

Now she tried to stand up, but it was too painful. She sprained her ankle badly in the panic just now. After a while, her foot was already swollen, and it hurt her to move.

Now she tried hard to stand up. No sooner had her injured right foot exerted force than a sharp pain came over her, and with an ouch, she fell again. Her butt had been badly hurt just now, but now that she had fallen again, it was so painful that tears were about to flow out.

She had always been a very strong woman, with a particularly cold and arrogant personality. She was indifferent to everyone and sensitive about her reputation. She had never been embarrassed like today. She could imagine how embarrassed she was now.

When Tom heard that she had fallen again, he couldn't help but say, "Hey, are you okay? Do you want me to help you up?"

When Isabella heard his voice, she was very annoyed and unhappy. She scolded, "No! Get out of here!"

She mistook a good man for a bad one.

Anyway, Tom had already done his duty. Now that Isabella chased him away, there was no need for him to stay.

Seeing that he was really about to leave, Isabella was so angry that she gritted her teeth. She cursed Tom countless times in her heart. He was so rude and had no manners!

Her boyfriend was the best, who was super gentle to her!

After Tom left, the stray dogs who had been driven into the alley came out again. They stared at her with a fierce light in their eyes, which was very frightening.

Isabella's face turned pale again. She had been afraid of dogs since she was a child, and now she was trembling with fear.

She quickly picked up some stones on the ground and threw them at the stray dogs, shouting, "Get lost!"

However, her behavior made these stray dogs even angrier and they began to pounce on her.

Now Isabella was even more panic and her body trembled violently.

Tom, who was not far away, shook his head helplessly when he saw this scene. He sighed. He was so unlucky today that he would encounter such a thing. If he'd known, he wouldn't have taken this route, and there wouldn't have been such bad things.

Now that Isabella was in trouble, he couldn't stand by and do nothing. He had to go back to save this girl.

His figure flashed and disappeared from where he was. The next moment, he appeared in front of Isabella again. He snorted coldly and exuded an air of authority. The stray dogs were immediately frightened and screamed and ran away.

He was so powerful that even tigers and lions would retreat when they saw him, not to mention a few stray dogs. Otherwise, they would die.

Isabella was obviously stunned to see the stray dogs running away. After a while, she relaxed and gasped for air! She was really scared to death just now. She felt as if she had almost died, and now she regained her senses again.

Tom was really speechless when he saw her pale face. Only a few stray dogs could scare her like that.

He said angrily, "I think you should call your family and ask them to send bodyguards to pick you up."

Isabella came back to her senses. There was a complicated look in her eyes when she looked at Tom. She was very grateful. No matter how stropic she was, she knew that Tom had saved her twice.

"Can you help me up first?" Isabella braced herself and said awkwardly.

She lowered her head, not daring to look Tom in the eye.

It was not that she had a crush on Tom, but that she couldn't get up on her own and could only rely on Tom's strength. As for calling the bodyguard, it was too late. Besides, she was sitting on the road, and it would be even more humiliating for her to be seen by passers-by. Thus, she had to ask Tom to help her up.

Seeing her like this, Tom smiled and teased her, "Didn't you just ask me to get out of here? Why do you want me to help you up now?"

"You!!" Isabella was especially angry when she heard this. She had always been a goddess, and all the men around her tried to curry favor with her, afraid to make her angry. How could Tom, who was not handsome at all, dare to tease her!

"Then get out of here!" Isabella scolded angrily.

"Okay, then I'll go. You can wait here. Just to remind you, there are a lot of ants and centipedes here. They will climb on you later." Tom intended to scare her. An unruly princess like her should be taught a lesson.

Sure enough, when Isabella heard this, her face immediately turned pale with fear. She trembled and quickly shouted, "Wait, don't go!"

Tom deliberately didn't respond and waited for her to turn around.

Sure enough, she turned around, "Don't go... Ugh..."

When she turned around, she saw Tom bending down and looking at her with a faint smile. She was so angry that she gritted her teeth. How could she not know that Tom was teasing her?

He went too far. Ever since she was a child, every man around her tried to coax her. No one dared to tease her!

This damn Tom!

He was so rude!

Chapter 333

Tom was a smart person. When he saw Isabella's expression, he knew what she was thinking. He smiled and said, "What's wrong now? Miss Payne?"

Isabella felt very aggrieved and she sniffed. She had such a nasty fall, and Tom was actually laughing at her! She really didn't know why grandpa and dad thought of letting her marry such a man!

"You!!" Isabella lost it and cried out with eyes reddened.

Tom was stunned. He was just joking with Isabella. But he meant no harm to her, and Isabella was crying? She was being such a baby.

However, he was also a man who couldn't stand women crying. He said quickly, "Okay, okay, let me help you up. What are you crying about anyway? I was just joking with you. Don't you feel it?"

When Isabella heard Tom say this, she was even more aggrieved and angry. When had she ever been wronged like this? She slapped Tom's hand away and scolded angrily, "Leave me alone. I don't need your help. You annoying fellow, ugly pig!"

Tom was speechless. Now, a few passers-by walked by and looked over when they heard the noise. They pointed at him and thought that he had bullied Isabella. He scratched his head and said, "I was just joking with you. Well, the ground is dirty. There are really ants crawling over. It will not be good if they climb up on you then."

"You rascal!" Isabella scolded.

Tom was even more confused. What had he done to be called a rascal? Wasn't he being kind and helping her now? Soon, he realized what Isabella meant. She misunderstood that he said ants would climb up her butt. This was a great injustice. He didn't mean to flirt with Isabella at all.

But when he thought about it, he believed that she had the right to think that way. Now that Isabella was wearing a skirt and sitting on the ground, there were really ants coming over. And he was actually being a rascal by saying that to Isabella.

"Cough!" Tom quickly cleared his throat and said, "You misunderstood what I meant. I didn't mean that. Well, get up quickly. Someone is watching this way. Later, they would all think I'm bullying you."

Isabella now seemed not to care about anything, glared at Tom and scolded, "What had I misunderstood? You had indeed bullied me! When I go back, I must tell grandpa that you bullied me and took liberties with me!"

Tom was stunned on the spot. What was going on? When did he do that?

"Hey, can you be reasonable? Since when have I took liberties with you? I haven't touched you from the beginning to the end." Tom said angrily.

"I don't care. You just did!"

Tom was also getting worked up. This Isabella was too unruly and unreasonable. Obviously, he saved her, but he was accused with something he hadn't done. "Okay, okay, then sit tight. I won't try to help you anymore."

Isabella was a little scared when she saw that Tom was really leaving, but she was also very stubborn. She gritted her teeth and no longer wanted to beg Tom.

But at this moment, she suddenly felt a few ants crawling over. They made her itchy. She was so scared that she screamed. She grabbed Tom's clothes and threw herself at Tom. "Ah! Ants!"

Tom was just about to leave when he was accidentally grabbed by Isabella and almost lost his balance. Fortunately, he reacted so fast that he steadied himself in an instant and did not pounce on Isabella. Otherwise, he would not be able to explain himself even if he got ten mouths on him!

Isabella grabbed Tom and tried to stand up, but she sprained her ankle so badly that it hurt so much as soon as she tried. Seeing that she was about to fall down again, Tom quickly put his arms around her waist in time and picked her up.

In an instant, the beauty entered his arms. Tom smelled the fragrance emanating from Isabella. Especially since they all wore thin clothes, he could literally feel Isabella's warm body pressed hard against him. Tom's heart skipped a beat.

Isabella was very scared. She had been clean since she was a child, so she was very afraid of animals like snakes, insects, rats, and ants. Now her right foot was injured, so she hugged Tom tightly and there was nothing except the clothes between them.

She quickly patted her buttocks and shook the ants away. It was really disgusting.

However, when her body moved like this, it was hard for Tom.

"Hey, can you stop hugging me so tightly? You're going to break my neck." Tom said angrily. Now he was also overwhelmed. Isabella hugged him so intimately that if anyone saw him, he would not be able to explain it no matter how hard he tried.

When Isabella heard Tom's words, she finally came to her senses. She screamed out in a daze and was about to push Tom away again.

However, she forgot that she was injured. With this push, she pushed herself away, twisted her ankle again, and was about to start falling again.

Tom was really pissed and overwhelmed by her clumsiness. Isabella was really stubborn. Helplessly, Tom had to put his arms around her waist again, stopping her from falling.

"I mean, can you just cut it out?" Tom said with a dark face. He was really rendered speechless by Isabella.

Isabella also knew that it was her problem just now. She was now hugged by Tom and they were very close. She could clearly feel the breath coming from Tom, which made her blush and panic. She had been in love with her boyfriend for a few years but she had never been intimate with him like this. Besides, Tom had a good figure and strong arms.

She looked a little embarrassed and said, "Why are you so mean to me? I didn't mean it."

It had to be said that Isabella was quite beautiful. She had already grown up in her twenties. If she worked more on her character, she would be more attractive.

Tom rolled his eyes and was about to speak when a loud shout came from not far away, "Hey! What are you doing! How dare you put your dirty hands on my girlfriend? I'll kill you!"

There was a handsome young man dressed in fashionable clothes with thick bangs. He was holding a bouquet of flowers in his hand. He happened to see Tom hugging Isabella. His eyes were red and full of anger. He threw the flowers fiercely away and rushed over.

He came aggressively. From his running posture, it could be seen that he had practiced martial arts. When he suddenly punched, it was very fast and strong, and he actually had the strength of Master Realm. He was definitely not to be trifled with.

If he was an ordinary person, he would never be able to dodge this punch, and getting hurt was inevitable.

But to Tom, it was nothing. Tom easily dodged it.

But the other party would not give up, he aimed at Tom's head with a heavy kick, which was especially vicious. He was trying to kill him.

Tom's eyes instantly turned cold.

At this moment, Isabella came to her senses and shouted, "Heath! Stop it!"

Heath was furious and didn't stop. He still kicked out. How could Tom let him kick him? Tom kicked at will and then hit Heath's left leg. Heath lost his balance and fell heavily to the ground with a cry.

After all, Tom was a big shot. It would ruin his reputation if he fought a nobody.

Isabella said quickly, "Heath, what are you talking about? Stop it! He's my friend. If it weren't for him, I would have been bitten by a group of strays!"

After Heath heard Isabella's words, he had to stop and say with concern, "What? Strays? Are you hurt?"

Heath was about to help Isabella over, but at this moment, Isabella made a move that surprised both Heath and Tom. Isabella withdrew her hand and did not accept Tom's help. She shook her head and said, "I'm fine. Those stray dogs have been chased away."

Chapter 334

Heath fell hard and his butt was hurt so much that he grimaced.

So he hated Tom even more. He struggled to get up and said coldly, "So you know some martial arts. How dare you touch my woman? I think you are looking for your death!"

He stretched and his joints made a cracking sound. Coupled with the cold and angry expression on his face, he looked quite scary.

Tom frowned slightly. He was a little unhappy. Just now, for Isabella's sake, he didn't hit this guy hard. But how dared he to continue to trouble him?

Heath's face darkened and the corner of his mouth twitched violently. Isabella's action embarrassed him! He was Isabella's boyfriend but he was refused. Back then, he had spent a lot of effort and money to catch Isabella. But Isabella only allowed him to hold her hands during the past few years. Other than that, they had no other intimate movements. He had not even kissed her!

But now, the aloof and pure Isabella was so close to another man and she was almost clinging to him! He wanted to help Isabella over and was rejected! How humiliated he was!

Isabella also realized that her action just now hurt Heath's feeling, but she did not understand why she would do such a subconscious action just now.

In fact, Tom's temperament had an invisible attraction to women, which made Isabella unconsciously lowered her guard against him, and she even felt a sense of security.

"Heath, don't misunderstand me. He and I are not the kind of relationship you think we are. I sprained my ankle just now, so he came to help me." Isabella explained, but she was aloof, and her explanation did not seem very sincere.

And after she had explained, she was still clinging to Tom. How could Heath believe what she said and not be angry?

But he just bit his teeth and didn't explode. He nodded and said with a fake smile, "Really? You don't have to explain so much. How can I not believe you?"

Isabella frowned slightly. Heath's performance made her very dissatisfied. He obviously did not trust her!

Tom was very busy. He didn't want to be in the middle of them. He held Isabella to stand steady and let her go, and said, "Isabella, since your boyfriend has come, then I shouldn't disturb you. I'll go first."

Isabella nodded and wanted to say thank you to Tom, but Tom didn't give her the chance. He turned around and left, which made her angry.

"Who's that man? Why haven't I seen him before?" Heath went to hold Isabella and said with obvious dissatisfaction and jealousy.

"His name is Tom. He's a friend of my grandfather's." Isabella explained faintly. She frowned slightly and was not satisfied with Heath's attitude. It was obvious that he did not trust her.

Heath immediately asked, "Your grandfather's friend? That's impossible. I don't think this man is thirty years old, is he?"

Isabella frowned even more and said unhappily, "Heath, what are you trying to say? Do you believe me? I've explained to you that there's nothing between him and me!"

Because of Isabella's attitude, Heath was angrier. He snorted heavily and said, "Hehe, there's nothing between him and you? Then tell me, what are you doing? Isabella, we've been together for three years. You just allowed me to hold your hands! But you were hugging him just now, and your chest was pressed against him..."

Bang!

Isabella slapped Heath in the face. "Heath, you disappoint me so much! I've been with you for three years. Don't you know what kind of person I am? Now you suspect me because of what happened just now?"

Heath's face darkened even more after he was slapped, and the corners of his mouth were twitching.

For so many years, Isabella had never let him touch her. He had long been resentful of Isabella. Now it was clearly Isabella who acted intimately with another man and betrayed him. But instead, she even made a false accusation and slapped him in the face!

After all, he was the school hunk at the college. There were no less than a few hundred women pursuing him. As long as he casually hooked his fingers, many women would lie down and beg him to sleep with them!

Isabella was frightened when she saw Heath's expression. She quickly distanced herself from Heath and said warily, "Heath, what do you want to do? I warn you, don't touch me."

Heath was very angry. If it was another woman, he would have slapped her in the face and broken up with her. But Isabella was the daughter of the Paynes, who was rich and powerful and very beautiful. He really didn't want to break up with her. Though he was very angry now, he had to swallow his anger. He planned in his heart that when he got Isabella in the future, he would torture her in bed!

So he took a deep breath, smiled apologetically, slapped himself and apologized sincerely, "Isabella, I'm sorry. It's my fault. I love you too much.

When I see you with that man, my heart ached so much. I misunderstood you. Please forgive me, okay?"

Isabella's heart immediately softened. She had been in love with Heath for so long, and she still had feelings for Heath. Her tone softened a lot and she said, "Well, I was impulsive just now. I'm sorry that I slapped you. But Tom and I are just friends. You can rest assured of that."

Heath smiled and nodded, "Yes, I believe you. Let's not fight anymore, okay?"

"Okay."

Heath said gently, "Your foot is injured. I'll take you to the hospital."

Isabella nodded and agreed. Her heart warmed up a lot. Heath still believed her, which meant that their love was strong and could stand the test.

However, she did not notice that when Heath lowered his head, his eyes flashed with intense malice and anger...

Chapter 335

For the next few days, Peter didn't bother Tom. The whole North Sky Association didn't do anything, as if Peter had forgotten Tom.

This made Tom more famous. Many people focused on Tom, looking forward to seeing how Peter would find trouble with Tom. But after more than a week, Peter still didn't do anything. This was completely different from Peter's usual overbearing style. Did it mean that Peter was already afraid and didn't dare to trouble Tom?

So in the circle, many people have been talking about this.

Tom did not let his guard down, because he knew that Peter would never let him go. Now that he had not done anything for so long, there was only one reason, which was Peter was recuperating and building up energy, so as to give him a fatal blow.

He had always been on guard, and at the same time, he had told his subordinates to be more conservative in business and not give Peter any chance.

On the other hand, he didn't know what to do with the Paynes. Myles had invited him to dinner once. He had said it was for business, but Tom knew it was mainly to set him up with Isabella. How dare he go there? Especially after what happened that day, he was even more embarrassed.

e was almost thirty years old, and Isabella was only twenty years old and was still a college student. He was old enough to be Isabella's uncle. Besides, he had been married, but he had seen Isabella in her underwear and done something intimate that day.

But there were some people he couldn't avoid. After he rejected Myles a few times, Myles came straight to him.

When he came out of ZQ Plaza that day, Myles stopped him and pretended to be unhappy, saying, "Tom, it is really difficult to find you. Now I finally caught you. Have a meal with me, OK?"

Tom was very embarrassed at the moment. Since Myles had already found him here, if he still refused, it would be too embarrassing for Myles, so he had to nod and agree.

This time, they still ate in the Paynes's manor. Isabella also came back from school. When she saw him, she was stunned for a moment. Her face became even colder. She thought that Tom was still trying to convince her family to marry her to him!

Over the past few days, her relationship with Heath had been heating up and becoming better. Heath was more gentle and considerate to her. It was impossible for her to leave Heath and marry Tom, an older man!

So when she was eating, her face was cold all the time. Even if Myles and Caroline kept winking at her, she pretended not to see it. She wanted Tom to back out.

Myles couldn't stand it and said, "Isabella, is the meal so good? Go and fetch a bowl of rice for Brother Tom."

Isabella pretended not to hear it and ignored it. It was not until Myles repeated angrily that she said impatiently, "He's such a big man. Can't he serve his own food?"

"Hey, girl, mind your manners?" Myles was so angry that his face turned livid.

When Tom saw this, he said, "It's okay. Isabella is right. I can do it myself."

Besides, I'm full. Uncle and Aunt, if there's nothing else, I want to leave now."

Myles immediately put down his chopsticks and asked Tom to stay. He scolded Isabella angrily, "Isabella, look at you. You're being so rude. You've angered Brother Tom! You've forgotten all about how I taught you, haven't you?"

Isabella was also annoyed. She knew her own mind. "Dad, are you done? I've told you many times that I already have a boyfriend and I'm not interested in this old man. Why must you force me to do something I don't want to do? In your eyes, I am a tool, right? Have you really cared about my feelings and my happiness?"

Isabella was also extremely aggrieved, and her eyes turned red when she said that. She was very angry and glared at Myles.

This made Myles very embarrassed. He slapped his chopsticks hard and scolded angrily, "How dare you to talk back to me?"

When Tom saw this, he felt extremely upset. He should have rejected Myles and not come to here for dinner.

Now Isabella looked at him with hatred and disgust, thinking that he was a hypocrite, an ugly person, that was destroying her relationship with Heath.

At this time, he had to stand up and say,

"Uncle, don't scold Isabella anymore. She's right. You should really care about her feelings and her happiness. I'm married and almost ten years older than her. We won't be happy if we are forced together."

"This..." Myles's mouth moved, but he didn't know what to say.

Now he felt very tired. His father, Hawthorne, wanted to get Tom on their side by marrying Isabella to him, but both Tom and Isabella strongly opposed it. It was really difficult to rely on him to force the match.

Now he looked at his daughter's stubborn and disappointed look, and his heart softened. He waved his hand helplessly and said, "Okay, okay. Since you all said that, I won't force you anymore."

Isabella's angry face relaxed and she was especially happy. She didn't expect Tom to speak for her. It seemed that this man was not too bad.

Then Myles apologized to Tom. "Tom, I'm so sorry. She is being rude. Don't take it to your heart."

Tom waved his hand and said, "It's okay. Actually, I admire her fearless pursuit of true love."

Isabella rolled her eyes in disdain, thinking his appreciation meant nothing to her.

Now she just wanted to see Heath soon. If the time was right, she could consider giving herself to Heath!

She had made this decision after careful deliberation. After all, she had been in love with Heath for three years. Other couples had already done it many times, and she and Heath were just holding hands, which was unfair to Heath.

Besides, it was only after this that her parents would approve of her relationship with Heath more!

Thinking of this, she smiled happily.

Next, Tom stayed at the Paynes for tea and chatted with Myles for a while. When it was almost time, he came back.

"Isabella, go and see your Brother Tom off."

Myles ordered.

Isabella was immediately unhappy.
"Why should I send him off? Doesn't he know the way?"

Tom also said, "No need, uncle. I can go by myself."

Myles said, "No, you are a guest. That's what we should do."

Finally, under Myles's order, no matter how unhappy Isabella was, she had to send Tom out. Anyway, she had planned to come back as soon as Tom was out of the door and let Tom walk back by alone.

"Hey, uncle, let me tell you something.

Don't think about being my boyfriend. It's impossible for you and me to be together. Now my boyfriend and I are in love. After we graduate, we will get married." Isabella said seriously.

Tom nodded and said, "Don't worry. I won't. However, don't trust your boyfriend too much. I don't think he looks like a good person. You'd better not give yourself to him so soon."

Isabella rolled her eyes and thought that Tom was just maliciously slandering Heath. After all these years of relationship with Heath, did she not know who Heath was? He would never wrong her!

"Hehe, thank you for reminding me, but Heath is a gentleman. He would never do anything wrong to me!"

Isabella said firmly.

Seeing that, Tom didn't bother to say anything more.

However, at this moment, he suddenly heard a voice coming from the next door. He looked over and saw a white Mercedes-Benz, which was shaking constantly. It seemed some people were doing it in the car!

And when he saw one of the people in the car, he was stunned. He couldn't believe that there was such a coincidence.

Chapter 336

That was right. In Tom's line of sight, he saw the figure in the car. It was Heath, Isabella's boyfriend, whom he met a few days ago!

Now Heath was in the car, riding on a woman, making all kinds of intimacy.

"Damn it. It's too coincidental. It's too exciting!

Do young people nowadays know how to play so well?" Tom thought.

Tom was shocked. He had lived for 28 years and had never experienced such a thing.

And they even hadn't closed the window of the Mercedes yet. Tom had good hearing and could hear their conversation dozens of meters away.

Tom took his eyes back and looked at Isabella, who was inexplicably confident in front of him. For a moment, he didn't know what to say. How sad would Isabella be if she saw this? Maybe she would have doubts about love.

Isabella didn't know it yet. She snorted and said unhappily, "What's your expression? Don't you believe me? I've been with Heath for more than three years. He's never taken advantage of me. He's always given priority to my opinions and respected my ideas. Do you think a gentleman like him would do something wrong to me? Besides, I'm confident in my appearance. Heath definitely won't like other women."

"That's not necessarily true, is it?" Tom could not help but say when he saw that she was so confident.

If he hadn't seen that Heath was having sex with another woman in the car, he really didn't dare to say that.

However, this guy named Heath was such a bastard. He actually did this near Isabella's house. Was he really not afraid of being discovered by Isabella?

Isabella still didn't realize this. She snorted heavily and said with disdain and confidence, "Why not? Do you think all the men in the world are like you? You are already married, but you still want to marry another one? I really don't understand how grandpa and dad got drugged by you and insisted on me marrying you."

Tom looked at the white Mercedes that was swaying in the distance again and said, "Isabella, I think there are some things you'd better not say so absolutely. That little boyfriend of yours is really not a devoted person. He won't stay with you for the rest of his life. Maybe he is doing some romantic things with another woman we don't know. So, I advise you to break up with him."

However, when Isabella heard his words, she sneered directly and said, "Measure the stature of great men by the yardstick of small men! Your words made my impression of you become extremely bad. You are at least the Chairman of a public company. You are so petty and you even say such disgusting things to slander my boyfriend. Do you think I am so stupid to believe your words?"

Tom was speechless. He had seen stupid women before, but he had never seen such a stupid, determined woman who did not listen to others' suggestions at all.

Well, it was none of his business anyway. He was too lazy to talk about it anymore. He shrugged and said, "Okay, just like him yourself."

Tom finally couldn't help but look at the white Mercedes and sigh, "Young people nowadays really know how to play."

Isabella followed his gaze and looked in the direction of the white Mercedes. Immediately, she saw the car swaying up and down again, and her face immediately turned red.

Although she was still a virgin, she was not a little girl who didn't know anything. In this case, she naturally understood what was going on inside. In fact, many of her classmates also liked to do this kind of thing.

She still felt that she couldn't accept it. It was shameless. Originally, this kind of thing between couples was very private, but when they ran to the road to do that, they would be seen by passers-by. How shameless!

"Shut up!" Isabella cursed fiercely,
"Don't you say that about my boyfriend!"

Tom smiled, pointed at the swaying Mercedes in front of them, and said, "I say, what happened to him? If he dares to do such a thing, I can say it."

Isabella frowned. "What nonsense are you talking about? When did my boyfriend do this!? You'd better explain it to me, or I can sue you for slander in minutes!"

Tom said with a strange expression,
"Do you have myopia? Can't you see who's in the car?"

It was only a few meters away. So it was reasonable that she could see it

And this guy, Tom, was actually fascinated by it. He was a pervert!

When she thought of how Tom had taken advantage of her a few days ago, she felt especially disgusted and scolded, "Pervert. Shameless!"

Tom was stunned and said, "Why am I shameless?"

Isabella took a few steps back, distanced herself from him, and said with disdain on her face, "You're still trying to argue. You were so fascinated just now. You stinking hooligan. You're disgusting!"

Tom was speechless for a moment and said, "It's not my turn to be shameless. It's your boyfriend, Heath."

clearly... Suddenly, Tom thought of something. He knocked his head and realized something. He forgot about it.

He was a master of Innate Realm with a vision comparable to an eagle, so he could see Heath's face clearly in through the dim lights at the darkness of the night.

Isabella was different. She was still an ordinary person, so she couldn't see it clearly.

"Psycho, I don't even know what you're talking about. Disgusting man! I'm going back. You can go back on your own!" Isabella said and turned to leave.

At this point, Tom could no longer sit back and ignore what happened. In any case, Myles was good to him. If he hadn't seen it, it would have been fine. Now that he had seen it, he couldn't sit back and ignore it.

So he went straight up, held Isabella's hand, and walked towards the white Mercedes.

Isabella's reaction was so great. She was startled. "Hey! What are you doing? Let go of me, or I'll kick you!"

"Shut up!!" Tom was a little annoyed. He shouted at her and used some momentum. Isabella could only feel her eyes darken and did not dare to scream anymore.

However, she was also very angry, thinking that when she returned home later, she must complain to her family members! She would let both her parents and grandpa see what Tom really was clearly!

"Hey, Tom, you'd better let go of me, or I'll really scream!" Isabella scolded shyly. She was getting closer and closer to the white Mercedes, and she was beginning to hear something in the car, which made her especially shy and shame.

Tom let go of her and pointed at the white Mercedes, "Aren't you sure that your boyfriend won't do anything wrong to you? Now go and see who the man in the car is!"

Isabella was stunned for a moment when she heard this. Then, her face turned much paler and she shook her head hard, "That's impossible!!"

"Impossible? Just go and see for yourself."

Just then, the window of the white Mercedes was opened even more, and the sound inside was even more clear. The woman inside said, "Hey, Heath, aren't you afraid that your girlfriend will know what you're doing?"

"Gee, how could she know! This idiot is so devoted to me now. Stop talking about her. Hurry up..."

When Isabella heard these words, her eyes turned red!

Chapter 337

She finally found the truth even though she was blind in love. Tom didn't lie to her. Heath really cheated on her!

All of a sudden, she was extremely aggrieved and painful with teary eyes.

She had never thought that Heath would do such a thing!

The vows of the past were all lies. She had just refuted Tom so firmly and had faith in Heath. Now all this seemed like a joke.

The unbearable voices of Heath and that woman kept coming from the car, which was cruel and merciless to Isabella. In the end, Isabella couldn't bear it anymore, and tears streamed down her face.

Tom was sympathetic to her. Heath was really not a man. He was just a scumbag.

Just then, Heath turned around and saw Tom and Isabella outside the car. At that moment, his expression was extremely weird. In an instant, his whole body trembled and he became impotent!

The woman said unhappily, "Hey, Heath, what are you doing? Why do you stop? I'm not satisfied yet."

Isabella stared at him and cursed him, her teeth gritted tightly, "Heath, you scumbag!"

Heath regained his senses. He panicked immediately, and pleaded, "Isabella, listen to me. It's not what you think it is! Isabella, believe me!"

But how could Isabella listen to his explanation? She picked up a stone on the ground and threw it on his head. With a thud, he screamed in pain. He quickly opened the door and wanted to catch up with Isabella to explain.

He was so flustered that he missed his footing and fell over, which made Tom laugh.

"Damn it, it's you again! You're the one who played tricks behind my back and ruined my relationship with Isabella. I must kill you!" Heath yelled, then he jumped up from the ground, rushed at Tom angrily, and decided to punch Tom hard in the face.

It had to be said that Heath was quite capable. The punch was so powerful that ordinary people would be hurt seriously. Unfortunately, the person he was facing was Tom. From Tom's point of view, this punch was nothing.

Tom kicked him out effortlessly. With a bang, Heath was kicked heavily into the Mercedes and dented the Mercedes. It was obvious that Tom's kick was so heavy.

Tom didn't bother to be gentle to such trash.

Heath spat out a mouthful of blood. Now that his whole body was about to fall apart and he couldn't get up, his eyes were filled with shock and fear as he looked at Tom. It was only then that he realized who he had offended and how terrifying Tom was.

The woman screamed in fear and ran away without putting on her clothes.

After this kick, Tom chased after Isabella. After a while, he saw Isabella standing by the bridge, ready to throw herself into the river. Tom was shocked and rushed over. He hugged Isabella from behind and shouted, "Hey, what are you doing? Are you going to kill yourself just because of a scumbag?! Have you ever thought about how sad your family would be when they found out? Isabella, you're too fragile and selfish!"

Tom was really angry. Isabella was insane. She was so fragile and even want to die just because a scumbag cheated on her. If Isabella had experienced the suffering he had suffered, wouldn't she have died a hundred times?

Isabella struggled violently and said in panic and anger, "Hey! What are you doing? Let go of me!"

Tom pulled her back from the bridge and then loosened his arms. He said with a cold face, "Isabella, you're insane. How can you just kill yourself because of that? Have you ever thought about your family?"

Isabella said, "Stupid! Who said I was going to die? I just stood there to take a look at the scenery and calm myself down. Is that anything wrong?"

"Ah?" Tom was stunned. "Well, but you can't stand there. What if you accidentally fall down?"

Isabella said, "Why would I fall?"

Well...

Once again, his good intentions were thwarted.

Tom said, "It's getting late. You should go home so that your family won't worry about you."

Seeing that Tom was leaving, Isabella felt very disappointed and suddenly she had an inexplicable feeling in her heart. She hoped that Tom could stay with her.

"Hey, wait a minute!" Isabella quickly stopped him.

Tom turned around, frowned, and said impatiently, "What's wrong again?"

When Isabella saw his impatient expression, she was very angry. How could Tom still be so impatient with her? Why couldn't he take the initiative to stay with her? He was not sympathetic at all!

"I'm out of love. As a man, won't you stay with me?!" Isabella said unhappily.

Tom looked at Isabella strangely and said, "Don't you hate me very much? Why do you want me to stay with you?"

Isabella was speechless. Yes, she should have hated Tom very much. Why did she want Tom to accompany her?

She wanted to ask Tom to leave, but she could not say anything. Now she was really disappointed, very empty, and needed someone to accompany her. Tom was the only one who knew all the matter, so they kind of had something in common.

She took it for granted and said, "If you hadn't come to my house for dinner tonight, my father wouldn't have asked me to give you a ride, and I wouldn't have seen that scene, so shouldn't you be responsible for that?"

Hearing this strange logic, Tom was dumbfounded. He had met women who were so unruly. But it was the first time he had met a woman who was so unruly. He didn't bother to waste time with Isabella. He gave Isabella a thumbs-up and praised her, "You're amazing. You even blame me for this."

After that, he turned around and left.

Seeing that he was really angry and was about to leave, Isabella panicked even more and said quickly, "Hey! Wait, don't go!"

Tom still didn't stop. She said in a choked voice, "Don't go. I'm really sad now. I need someone to accompany me. Please..."

Tom stopped. He turned around and saw Isabella crying. His heart softened. He sighed helplessly and said, "What the bad luck for me to meet you!"

Chapter 338

Isabella was pissed off when she heard his words. At least she was from the Paynes, the campus belle pursued by many guys and they couldn't wait to get along with her alone. Tom, however, not only was he unwilling, but he even said that it was bad luck to know her. Was she that bad?

It must not be that she was not attractive enough, but that Tom's sexual orientation was different!

It was a little late now, and the temperature gradually dropped. Isabella only wore a thin dress. She had just cried, and now the night wind was blowing, making her shiver in cold.

Seeing this, Tom took off his coat, put it on her, and said, "Don't think too much. There are still many good men in the world. There's no need to put all your eggs in one basket. Well, it's getting late. You should go back as soon as possible. Have a good sleep and you'll be much better when you wake up the next day."

Isabella was cold at first. Feeling the warmth of Tom's clothes, she was stunned for a moment, then a wave of happiness flooded her. Looking at Tom, she felt much better.

"Thank you," Isabella said softly.

Tom waved his hand and said, "No need. Have your eyes open and make sure you won't be fooled by scumbag anymore."

Isabella nodded and said, "Got it."

After talking to Tom, she was in a much better mood than before. Fortunately, she did not lose her virginity to Heath, or else she would have suffered a great loss.

Instead, now that she was looking at Tom, she couldn't help but feel that Tom was pretty good man. If...

Immediately, she shook her head hard to get rid of this terrible idea. He was a married man, and he was so much older than her.

Tom's phone rang at this time. He took it out and found that it was Phoebe. He walked aside to answer the phone.

Over the phone, Phoebe asked him where he had gone and wanted to ask him to go to the movies with her.

Tom agreed, briefly said a few words, and hung up the phone.

"I've just got a few things to do first. I have to go. You should go back and rest early. Don't think too much about what happened just now," Tom said.

Isabella stood up and said, "Ah? Do you have to leave so soon? It's not even nine o'clock yet."

Tom didn't hide it from her and said, "My wife asked me to go to the movies, so I'll leave you alone."

"Oh..." After hearing this, Isabella felt inexplicably disappointed. Now that she was not in a relationship and she had a nice talk with Tom for so long, she had a better impression of Tom, and unconsciously, she became dependent on him.

After walking for more than ten meters, Tom was still worried. He came back and said to her, "Forget it. I'd better send you back first, lest something happens to you later. I don't know how to explain it to your family."

If it had been before, Isabella would have ignored the previous words of him and only heard the latter. But now it happened to be the other way around. She only kept his previous words in mind. Her heart was moved again.

"Well, thank you," Isabella said softly.

Tom nodded secretly, feeling that Isabella was not so obstinate.

When Isabella was sent to the door of the manor, Tom stopped and left after saying goodbye to her. Isabella was a little stunned, staring at his back. When Tom was out of her sight, she looked away as she realized that the coat had not been returned to Tom.

Subconsciously, she wanted to catch up and return the coat to Tom, but after a few steps, she stopped and a thought-provoking smile appeared on her face. She was supposed to be in a depressed and painful mood, but now she felt much better.

Tom soon met Phoebe and went to see a recently released movie together. Then they went home after a midnight snack.

Now that they were a normal couple, their sexual appetite was easy to be kindled, given that they were both at an energetic age.

However, it was often Tom who ended up suffering. With Tom's current physique, Phoebe could not satisfy him at all.

Seeing this, Phoebe beat herself up over this. She hugged Tom and said, "Tom, why don't you find another woman?"

"What?" Tom was shocked by Phoebe's words. "What are you talking about?"

Phoebe shook her head and said, "I'm serious. I can't satisfy you alone. Your physique is far superior to ordinary men. It's not good to suppress yourself like this all the time."

Tom was stunned and shocked by Phoebe's words. After a while, he said, "Silly girl, what are you thinking about? Do you think I'm the kind of man who thinks nothing but sex? Okay, stop overthinking and go to bed."

Phoebe wanted to say something else, but Tom had already fallen asleep and stopped talking to her, so she had to give up.

Tom didn't fall asleep immediately.

What Phoebe said just now was quite shocking to him. He never expected that Phoebe would allow him to find another woman with such a ridiculous reason.

But Phoebe was also right. With his current physique, he was much more energetic than an ordinary man. Phoebe could not possibly satisfy him. But what could he do? Could he really find another one?

So what was the difference between him and a stallion?

So he quickly threw the idea away.

"Dad, it's been so many days. Why don't you kill Tom? Don't you really want to avenge me?"

In a the Halls's villa, Wade pleaded with tears, kneeling in front of Peter.

During this period of time, he had suffered a lot. That day, after Tom broke his' foundation', his strength was on the decline, and he had already fallen to the Extrinsic Peak. In addition, he had been overeating during this period of time and had never practiced. He was about to fall into Master Realm, which was something he couldn't accept in any case!

He couldn't figure out why Peter didn't make a move and seek revenge on Tom after so many days. This was not Peter's character at all.

Now that he saw Tom was out on a spree every day, he felt extremely uncomfortable.

Peter sighed heavily. Not that he didn't want to seek revenge on Tom, Sunny's slap that day had brought him too much psychological shadow, and he did not dare to act rashly now.

This was a torture to him!

Now everyone outside was saying that he was a coward who dared not to revenge after his son had been taught a lesson. This was an unprecedented humiliation for a proud person like him.

"Get up. It's time. I'll go and get revenge on Tom," Peter said.

Wade cried and said, "Dad, you've said this many times, but you haven't done that yet! Dad, are you afraid of Tom already, so you don't dare to avenge him? Now Tom not only destroyed my foundation but also rides roughshod over you. Aren't you going to kill him?"

"Bullshit!" Peter flew into a rage and scolded angrily, "How could I be afraid of him! I'm just waiting for another chance!"

"What chance?" Wade asked quickly.

"A once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, of course." Peter became confident as he thought of something, and suddenly there was an intriguing smile on his lips.

A glimmer of hope was raised in Wade's heart, and he hurriedly asked, "Dad, what chance is it? Oh, tell me, It's killing me!"

Peter said, "Do you remember the annual hunting competition? It's going to be held soon. When that time comes, I will find a way to get Tom to participate, and then at the hunting competition, I will..."

Speaking of this, Peter made the move of cutting the neck.

Wade was overjoyed. "Right, right! How could I forget about the hunting competition? As long as Tom participates, you can kill him as prey. Hahaha..."

Peter also began to laugh happily.

Chapter 339

The Hunting Competition was indeed about to begin.

Amelia sent another invitation to Tom, asking him to participate. At that time, he would meet many powerful people and could expand his connections so he could have a brighter future.

Tom didn't really want to participate in it at first. He wasn't very interested in hunting. He would rather stay with Phoebe.

But then Master Chou's words changed his mind.

"Young master, I think you should take part in this Hunting Competition."

Tom asked, "Why?"

Master Chou said, "Because there will be many experts from all over the country to participate in it. The champion will get a rich reward. Most importantly, killing people in the Hunting Competition is allowed!"

Tom became interested. "Really? Participants can kill others? Is the Cloud&Sky Pavilion so mighty and lawless?"

Master Chou shook his head and said, "The Cloud&Sky Pavilion is not the organizer of this Hunting Competition. The real organizer is another force."

"Who?" Tom asked.

Master Chou did not answer directly.

Tom was not stupid. He immediately understood who the organizer was. Tom smiled and said, "In that case, I really want to participate. I believe Peter will not miss this opportunity, right?"

"I think so, young master, you should be careful." Master Chou said seriously.

Amelia had invited him to participate in this so-called hunting competition during the opening ceremony of Shield Security Company, but he didn't take it seriously at that time.

Now, it seemed that he really had to go and meet all the experts.

Time flew. A week later, the Hunting Competition finally began.

During the last week's time, Tom mainly focused on the newly established Shield Security Company. As for the ZQ Media and TY Advertising, he left them to Elliot.

After so long of his special training, Simon and the others' strength had improved a lot, and they were more and more in awe and admiration of him. It was no exaggeration to say that they would do whatever Tom ordered. Even if Tom asked them to eat shit, they would eat it without hesitation.

Now Tom arranged for five bodyguards to protect Phoebe, two female bodyguards closely following her, and three male bodyguards protecting her from afar. If there were any special circumstances, they would Tom immediately.

Only when Phoebe was under such security would Tom be relatively relieved.

A week later, Amelia called Tom, "Hey, Mr. Howard, tomorrow is the day of the Hunting Competition. Aren't you coming?"

Tom said, "Since it doesn't start until tomorrow, what should I go there now?"

Amelia pretended to be resentful and said, "Come and stay with me. I miss you so much. You are too cruel. You don't even call me. I'm so sad."

And she pretended to cry, which made Tom have goosebumps all over his body.

Tom couldn't stand Amelia the most among all the women. She was a siren. Her single word could arouse the lust of a man. Tom suspected that she was a reincarnation of a fox!

"Then you can continue to be sad. I'll hang up." Tom said coldly.

"Hey, hey, hey! Wait a minute..."

Tom hung up the phone before she could finish. Immediately, Amelia called back. Tom didn't answer. And she called back again immediately, and texted him, "Serious."

Then Tom answered the phone and said, "Tell me."

Amelia was so angry that she gritted her teeth and snorted. There was a hint of resentment and shame in her tone. She said, "Am I really a nobody to you?"

"Amelia, I beg you not to tease me. If you have something important to say, just tell me. I don't want to be misunderstood by my wife." Tom said angrily.

Amelia couldn't figure out why Tom was so difficult to deal with and not attracted to her charm at all. Was she not flirtatious enough or was Tom gay?

But now she didn't dare to tease him. She began to say, "The Hunting Competition starts tomorrow and you should be here this afternoon. The real venue is not in H City, but in the deep forest on the northern border, so you should come here today."

Tom learned from Master Chou that this was true. He said angrily, "Why don't you just tell me that? You keep talking nonsense."

Click, click. Through the phone, Tom heard Amelia grinding her teeth.

Amelia cursed him in her heart and then told Tom the address honestly.

The Cloud&Sky Pavilion was not the real force behind this Hunting Competition. It was just the agent in H City and Phoenix . It charged a lot of admission fees and then brought people to the location of the Hunting Competition.

In fact, every year's Hunting Competition was held in a different place. This year, it was held in the border forest north of H Country. Last year, it was held abroad.

It was the first time Tom had participated in such a Hunting Competition, and he felt it quite interesting.

Master Chou didn't go with him this time. He went there on his own.

First, there was no need for Master Chou to accompany him. Second, after he left, Master Chou should take charge of H City.

After hanging up the phone, Tom went there straight over.

When he arrived at her destination, he soon saw Amelia standing there surrounded by several men, her face showing impatience.

Seeing Tom appear, a surprised smile immediately appeared on her face. But she suppressed her smile and came up to Tom.

The men around her frowned when they saw how enthusiastic she was to an ordinary man.

There was also some hostility and unhappiness in their eyes when they looked at Tom.

"Oh, Tom, you're finally here. I've been waiting for you for a long time." Amelia walked over with graceful steps. Today, she was wearing a modern cheongsam, which outlined her graceful figure vividly.

All the men who saw her were attracted to her.

Even Tom was dizzy at the first glance at her, and his heart beat faster. Fortunately, he still kept calm and immediately regain his senses.

Tom came here without any luggage.

Instead, Amelia brought huge luggage.

"Are you going on vacation?" Tom looked at her big luggage and asked curiously.

"It's not only my things, but also your things."

"Why did you bring my things?" Tom asked, feeling strange.

Amelia said in surprise, "Don't you know? After we go to the northern border, we will share a room."

Chapter 340

Tom was shocked to know he would share a room with Amelia. How could this work?

"Are you kidding me? When did I say I was going to live in the same room with you?" Tom widened his eyes and quickly distanced himself from Amelia, but his heart beat faster.

She must be joking! If he lived in the same room with such a beauty as Amelia, people would mistake him if they knew this. He was a married man. How could he do such a thing?

Besides, Amelia would do something inappropriate.

Amelia widened her eyes and said in surprise, "Don't you know that there are a lot of people participating in the Hunting Competition this time. There are not enough rooms on the northern border, so two people need to share a room?"

"Then it's impossible for me to share a room with you. It is inappropriate." Tom frowned and said, "Don't lie to me anymore. Hotels are everywhere. And this time, people who go there are rich. How can they not find a hotel?"

Tom quickly realized there shouldn't be a lack of rooms. The organizers couldn't be so incapable that they even failed at this.

However, Amelia looked at him like she was looking at a fool and said, "Tom, do you really not understand or pretend not to understand? The Hunting Competition is held in the remote mountains and forests on the northern border. It is deserted. The organizer built a simple hotel there three months ago and that is the only place to stay. There were not many rooms, and some of them who are of lower levels have to share a room with three people. It is preferential treatment for us to stay in a room!"

Tom's brows furrowed more tightly. Was this true? He knew it was possible, but intuitively, he felt that Amelia had deliberately tricked him.

Just as he was about to speak, those men came over. When they heard Amelia's words, they all became angry and jealous. They looked at Tom with more hostility in their eyes.

"Amelia, who is he?" A man with a round face asked, looking at Tom with an unfriendly look.

He was not particularly tall, about 1.75 meters tall, but his arms were very long, almost 1.9 meters. For a man of his height, it was an advantage. His arms were as long as Tom. It could be said that anyone with that figure was born to be a fighter in modern integrated combat.

In other words, people like him would have a natural advantage in a combat competition at his level.

Of course, it was impossible for him to participate in a combat competition, because he, as the boss of a company and being at Extrinsic Peak, would not lower himself to do that.

Even the blind man could tell that he liked Amelia, and thought of Tom as his rival since he and Amelia seemed to be so close!

Amelia smiled and said, "He is my boyfriend. When we get to the hotel, I will stay in the same room as my boyfriend."

As she spoke, she grabbed Tom's arm and rested her head on Tom's shoulder.

When the man with a round face saw this, his face immediately darkened and the corners of his mouth twitched violently!

He had been courting Amelia for a while, but Amelia had always been indifferent to him. He had planned to take advantage of this Hunting Competition to display his masculinity and charm and win Amelia's heart.

This competition was held in the deep forests. Hundreds of people had participated, but there was only one hotel, so the rooms were not enough. He used his connections, trying to live in the same room with her and thinking he would definitely conquer Amelia. But now suddenly this man snatched his room. How could he agree!

"Boyfriend? Amelia, why haven't you told me before?" The man said in an unfriendly tone.

Amelia smiled, but her eyes were cold. "Killian, I don't think I need to report to you."

Killian's face darkened even more. Amelia didn't give him any face at all. But the person he was really angry with wasn't Amelia, but Tom.

"Well, how dare you steal the woman I like? Tell me who you are." Killian stared at Tom coldly, his eyes full of threat and hostility.

Tom was annoyed by this. He had been misunderstood more than once. If they were in H City, he would be more polite. But now he was going to the Hunting Competition, where killing people was acquiescence, and because his patience plummeted, he didn't want to talk to this man, but scolded directly, "It's none of your business. Get lost."

Amelia's eyes widened when she heard this. She looked at Tom in astonishment, as if she had met Tom for the first time. She said to herself that he was too handsome.

Killian was even angrier. His anger rushed to his chest and he was about to explode!

The rest of the men who were with him all shouted, surrounded Tom and Amelia, and scolded, "Damn it, where did the brat come from? How dare he yell at Brother Xinli? You want to die, don't you?"

"Don't talk to him. Go beat him to the ground!"

"I can beat a pretty boy with one punch and make them cry!"

As they spoke, they all tried to attack Tom.

Tom's expression was cold and he didn't move at all. He wanted to see who dared to touch him first. He didn't mind crushing his bone.

Amelia stood up and shouted, "Hey! What are you doing? You dare to hit him in front of me. Are you going against Cloud&Sky Pavilion?"

They were still quite afraid of Amelia. Hearing this, they immediately did not dare to act rashly.

Killian stared at Amelia fixedly and said angrily, "Amelia, I've been loving you for so many years, but you didn't like me. Now you're in the arms of another man. How can you do this to me?!"

Amelia frowned and said, "Killian, I've told you many times. I don't and won't like you. You insist on not letting me off. Now you want to hit my boyfriend. Have you ever respected me?"

The corner of Killian's mouth twitched again. He was an extremely male chauvinist. In his opinion, the woman he liked should obey him. Except for Amelia, he had gotten all those women he liked.

He could tolerate what Amelia was doing.

"Okay! Then wait and see!" Killian's expression was grim, and he stared at Tom with menace and murderous intent. He said, "Boy, no one has ever dared to steal my woman. You're the first! I advise you to withdraw from the competition now, or I won't let you off easily at the competition tomorrow!"

Now Killian was emitting a great pressure of threat. If ordinary people were around, they would be scared to death, but it didn't intimidate Tom. He thought Killian was a clown and scolded directly, "You idiot."

"You!!!" Killian was even angrier. He clenched his fists, and the veins on his face bulged one by one as if an earthworm was crawling, which was especially frightening.

"Okay! You got some nerves. This isn't over!"

After that, Killian stormed off in anger.

Chapter 341

"Hey, now that he's gone, you can let go of me." Tom gave Amelia stinky-eye.

Amelia widened her eyes and looked at him in disbelief, as if she didn't know this man before.

Tom touched his face and said curiously, "What's wrong? Is there anything on my face?"

Amelia's eyes lit up. Instead of letting go of Tom, she hugged him even tighter. She didn't care about if Tom felt her up or not. Her expression was exaggerated and she said in admiration, "Wow! You were too domineering just now. Is this the Tom I know? You're so awesome. I love you."

Tom rolled his eyes. Amelia's flamboyant acting made him speechless. She was old but still pretended to be young. "Hey, old woman, don't you feel embarrassed to pretend to be a young girl at your age?"

Suddenly, when Amelia heard this, her expression stiffened and she could no longer maintain the exaggerated admiration on her face. Her pretty face turned upset and she pinched Tom's arm hard. She said angrily, "Damn Tom, how dare you to call me old woman. I'm only 26 years old now, okay?"

As she spoke, she deliberately raised her chest, as if her big breast was about to break out of her clothes, which created a great visual impact.

Tom had sexual life already. His resistance to this charming woman was very weak. Just one look and his desire popped up. He pretended to cough, moved his eyes away immediately, and took his hand out of Amelia's arms, saying, "Well, I won't joke with you anymore. Now that Killian is gone, I've finished my mission. Stop latching on to me."

"Latch on to you?" The corner of Amelia's eyes twitched. Tom actually said that. So many people wanted to get close to her and they did not have this chance! Tom really provoked her.

"I'm going to pester you. What can you do to me?"

As soon as she finished speaking, Tom quickly reached out to strike her acupuncture points. She remained motionless right away.

Tom smiled and walked away from her with his schoolbag on back.

Amelia was a little flustered. She felt as if her body had been imprisoned and could not move at all! Tom stroke her acupoints. This damn nerd!

"Tom, you can't go. Help me." Amelia shouted, but no matter how hard she tried, her volume was too slow that she felt her throat being choked.

Seeing Tom walking further and further away, she was really a little flustered.

Now that there were more and more people present, many men were looking at her with lust. There were still a few people who wanted to come over to feel her up. Now she was really panicked.

Tom stopped as Amelia got punished. He walked over and helped her. He said, "You should be a good girl now."

Amelia felt that she was finally able to move and breathed a sigh of relief. It was awful that she couldn't move just now.

"You actually know how to strike acupoints?" Amelia stretched and looked at Tom in surprise.

Tom said, "Is it strange?"

Amelia thought about it carefully. In fact, it was not strange. With Tom's ability, it was just a piece of cake.

"Your skills are too scary. I can't move with just one slight strike. How many women have to be taken advantage of by you?" Amelia held her chin and said.

Tom almost choked and said, "I'm not as nasty as you think."

Amelia said in a low voice, "I do want you to be a little nasty..."

Tom pretended not to hear her and continued walking. They were going to take a plane to a city on the northern border, and then got to their destination by car.

As for Killian, he and his men watched

Tom and Amelia walking together, chatting affectionately. He had been gnashing his teeth, and the jealousy and anger in his eyes had not dissipated!

"Brother Xinli, why did you stop us just now? This pretty boy looks so weak. Let us beat him hard to vent your anger!"

"He's right. That brat was too arrogant just now. Damn it, he dared to be arrogant at you and called you idiot. I was so angry! We must torture him to death."

"Such a weak man, we will beat him to the ground in a moment and let him beg for mercy!"

"I'm really unhappy that we didn't vent our anger."

"That's right. Even if we hit him, the Cloud&Sky Pavilion won't really blame us."

The men with Killian were expressing their dissatisfaction and didn't understand why Killian stopped them just now.

Killian narrowed his eyes. Endless coldness and murderous intent flashed through his eyes, and he said in a cruel tone, "You idiot. If we beat him just now, he would only suffer some physical injuries. That's a blessing for him. Tomorrow is the Hunting Competition. As long as he dares to participate, I will hunt this pig in the Hunting Competition. I will let him see his blood run out and die in despair."

Those who were still indignant were stunned and felt a little numb when they heard Killian's words.

They just wanted to teach Tom a lesson, breaking his hands and feet at most, and Killian wanted Tom to die!

The craziness made them feel scared.

Now he was extremely angry and jealous at the thought of Amelia acting coquettishly in Tom's arms. Especially after they arrived the northern border tonight, Amelia had to sleep on the same bed with Tom, which made him furious. He felt like he was being cuckolded.

So Tom must die.

However, he did not expect that Amelia had stepped forward to stop him, not to protect Tom, but to protect him.

In terms of Tom's martial arts, he could torture them to death.

This trip was in a rush. Not long after Tom arrived the airport, the plane began to take off. It was so far, so he decided to take a flight over. Otherwise, it would be so slow to take a helicopter.

Amelia had been with Tom all along, which surprised Tom, "Did the Cloud&Sky Pavilion only send you to this Hunting Competition?"

"No, the Cloud&Sky Pavilion's unit had been arrived there yesterday. I was here for you." Amelia blinked and said, "Do you feel touched and want to be with me?"

Tom ignored her directly.

After a pause, Amelia added, "Tom, can I ask you something?"

"You want me not to kill Killian tomorrow." Tom said with a smile.

Amelia was stunned for a moment, and a slight surprise flashed in her eyes. She immediately returned to normal, nodded and said, "Killian is bad-temper, but he is not as bad as all that. He has done a lot of charity. He doesn't deserve to die."

Tom said, "If that's the case, why do you reject him so many times? Killian is a handsome man. He should be a good match."

Amelia rolled her eyes and said, "What's the use of being handsome? I don't have a crush on him. I can't live my life with a man I don't like."

"Then what kind of man do you like?"
After asking this question, Tom began to regret it.

Amelia's eyes immediately lit up and she deliberately said shyly, "Someone like you. Why don't you divorce your wife and marry me? My sexual skills are very good. I promise to make you happy to the extreme."

He couldn't bear to chat with her anymore.

Tom then closed his eyes and ignored her.

After flying for three hours, the plane finally began to land. Tom took a nap and was extremely energetic.

Just as he was about to stretch, he found Amelia sleeping on his shoulder. Saliva flowed from the corner of her mouth, wetting his clothes, making him speechless.

Killian, who was sitting in front of him, turned around and saw that they were so close. His eyes were filled with jealousy. He made a killing gesture to Tom, which was very threatening.

Chapter 342

How could Tom be threatened by him?
He sneered and gently woke Amelia up, "Wake up, we're almost there."

Amelia opened her eyes. When she saw herself leaning against Tom's shoulder and her saliva wetted Tom's clothes, no matter how thick-skinned she was, she couldn't help but blush. She said, "I'm sorry I got your clothes wet."

Then she took out a tissue to help him clean his clothes.

Tom was speechless and said, "No need. The wind will dry it up."

After a while, the plane successfully landed. When they got off the plane, they immediately felt a cold wind blowing, making them shiver. The temperature here was much lower than in H City.

Tom was strong and in good health, so he was okay. Amelia was not as strong as he was, so she couldn't bear it. She sneezed, quickly hugged Tom, and said with trembling, "It's so cold."

"Hey, why are you hugging me? Get dressed if you're cold." Tom said quickly. He was held by Amelia and felt helpless.

Amelia was quite famous. Her love for Tom made him an eyesore to many men, especially Killian, who hated Tom's guts and wanted to immediately crush him to ashes.

Amelia hugged Tom and suddenly felt much warmer. Tom's body was as warm as a stove, making her very warm.

So she said confidently, "You're so warm. I'm not cold when I hug you."

Tom was speechless. This woman was insatiably greedy. She knew he had a wife, but she still seduced him like this. She was so unscrupulous. She really thought he didn't dare to do anything to her!

So Tom simply put his arm around Amelia and put his hand on Amelia's butt, "Really? Then you can continue to hug me."

Sure enough, Amelia became nervous in an instant!

There was a surprised and flustered expression on her face. She did not expect Tom to be so unscrupulous. He not only put his arms around her, but put his hand on her hip. Feeling the heat of Tom's big hand, Amelia immediately pushed Tom away and blushed.

"Don't you say you want to hug me? Have you changed your mind?" Tom said with a faint smile.

He finally understood that Amelia only dared to talk, but would be frightened if he really did anything to her.

Amelia did not expect Tom to suddenly be so unscrupulous, so she was frightened. Now that she saw the disdainful expression on Tom's face, she understood that Tom was laughing at her.

Other men were all jealous when they saw this, especially Killian. He was so angry that his eyes were blazing and he gnashed his teeth. He almost rushed over to fight with Tom.

In the end, he didn't do it as he thought that he was already at the northern border and the Hunting Competition would start tomorrow. He could kill Tom fair and square then and he had to endure it now!

Amelia glared at Tom, opened the suitcase, took a down jacket and put it on.

As for Tom, he didn't feel cold at all. Thus, he didn't need to wear thicker clothes.

When they came out of the airport, there was a special bus to pick them up. Everything seemed so low-key and simple.

This kind of experience was quite interesting. Almost all the people who came to the Hunting Competition were rich. They always had special cars and special planes to pick them up. They hadn't taken a bus for a long time.

After leaving the airport, it took them more than two hours to reach the destination, where the Hunting

Competition would be held.

At first glance, it was a dense forest surrounded by trees with luxuriant foliage. Occasionally, animals could be seen running past. This was the complete nature.

Tom had been in the city for a long time. He felt new and comfortable in his sudden contact with nature.

His senses were so sharp now that he could feel that within a few kilometers, there were many birds and beasts. Three hundred meters to his left, there was a big tiger staring at them fiercely.

In addition, there were many monkeys jumping on the tall trees.

If ordinary people came into this forest, it would be difficult for them to get out alive.

Many people showed excited expressions and leaned out of the window to watch.

"This is a nice spot for the Hunting Competition. There must be a lot of wild animals to hunt in the big forest!" Someone said excitedly.

"Yes, I heard there are many tigers and bears. It must be interesting to hunt!"

"In any case, it must be more interesting than last year!"

"I wonder who will be the champion. I heard that there is a big prize for the champion this year!"

"Whoever the champion is, it can't be you."

"Gee, it's hard to say. I come prepared this time. I may be the champion at last."

Their discussions were heated. It was obvious that it was not the first time they had participated in the Hunting Competition, and they were very excited about it.

It was understandable. Most of them lived in the city and lived a civilized and law-abiding life, and they could no longer be satisfied by mere material things. Thus, they came here as the hunting could bring out the enthusiasm and the madness in them.

That was why sanda and boxing had always been popular.

In fact, Tom was also a little excited. He was excited not because he could hunt animals, which was too low, but because he could know more good people here.

In fact, neither a big tiger nor a blind bear posed any threat to him. He could kill them easily.

What he really liked was the rules here, that was, killing was acquiesced. Moreover, he could get in touch with more powerful people.

Now he could feel the aura of a few strong men.

Killian sat in front of him. He turned around and looked at Tom with a cold and cruel smile. In his eyes, Tom was already a dead man.

He said disdainfully, "Gee, what's so exciting about hunting animals? Animals have neither weapons nor cultivation. They're just animals without intelligence. The real attraction of the Hunting Competition is its rules! Here, killing is acquiesced. When you see someone whom you don't like, just put a knife on his neck and kill him. When he bleeds like a pig, kneels in front of you begging for mercy and dies in despair, you will feel greatly satisfied!"

After saying this, he deliberately glanced at Tom.

Amelia also saw it, and she cursed in a low voice, "This stupid jerk!"

Tom thought for a moment and said, "Since everyone knows that killing people in the Hunting Competition is acquiesced, why are so many people still here to participate? Aren't they afraid?"

"They're afraid, but they have to come. Otherwise, there will be no such a chance in a civilized society." Amelia said, "In fact, every year's Hunting Competition is also, in a sense, an event between enemies. Almost every year, people die in the Hunting Competition."

Tom nodded and said, "That's interesting."

Amelia wanted to say something more,
but she didn't say it in the end.

After a while, the bus stopped and they reached the destination.

Chapter 343

At first glance, she saw a hotel that was not luxurious and upscale floors standing in the deep mountains and forests. It had ten stories high, and it gave people a sense of conflict.

"Here we are. Let's get out of the car." Amelia said with a little excitement.

Tom nodded. He followed her out of the car.

After coming down, Tom saw some acquaintances, some of whom were bosses in the business circle of H City. They were all ordinary people, but they dared to participate in such a Hunting Competition. Tom actually admired them.

In addition, there were more customers at the Cloud&Sky Pavilion auction last time, but when they saw Tom, they did not come up to greet Tom. Instead, they looked at Tom with pity, sympathy, schadenfreude, and many people discussed in a low voice.

"Am I right? Isn't the man standing with Amelia the Chairman of the ZQ Media, Tom? How does he dare to come to the Hunting Competition at this moment? Is he crazy?"

"It's really him! This guy is too bold. Didn't he know that Peter signed up this year? The place of this year's competition is somewhere domestic. It is highly possible that Peter will come over! Tom, on the other hand, taught Wade another lesson last time. I heard that he had broken Wade's 'foundation' and that Wade would never break through the Innate Realm. Their relationship is absolutely irreconcilable. With Peter's character, it is absolutely impossible for him not to take revenge."

"What? Peter is going to participate in this year's Hunting Competition too? Damn it, then the Tom is going to die this time. I guess the reason why Peter didn't seek revenge on Tom during this period of time should be that he has been waiting for this opportunity! After all, killing people in the Hunting Competition is allowed. The competition can be said to be a legal vacuum."

"And this Tom even came here alone? I really don't know if it's better to say he's arrogant or too confident."

"I think he's just looking for his own death! Who is Peter? The Vice President of the North Sky Association. He has unfathomable cultivation. The champion of last year was taken away by Peter. I still remembered that at the Hunting Competition last year, Peter killed a brown bear that weighed a few hundred kilograms to death with one slap. His power was really shocking, like a ghost! This time, Tom is bode ill rather than well..."

"Bode ill rather than well? It's a dead-end of his life, okay?"

"It's a pity since Tom is so young and capable. Why is he so stubborn why he offended Peter?"

They were all discussing it, and their voices were not loud, but Tom heard them all.

Peter was indeed here, which did not disappoint him.

Many people know that Peter was here to avenge him but they didn't know that he also wouldn't let Peter go again.

When Amelia heard that Peter was there too, her face flushed with worry. She bit her lips and said, "Damn. Peter is going to participate in this year's hunting competition too? Then he will definitely use this opportunity to kill you!"

Tom looked at Amelia meaningfully and said, "Didn't you ask me to come here to participate in the hunting competition just for a fight between Peter and me?"

"Bullshit! Is me that bad? If I knew that Peter would come, why would I invite you over? Am I so boring and do I look for trouble myself?" Amelia was very angry and dissatisfied for Tom didn't believe her. She immediately grabbed Tom's hand and said worriedly, "If it's just Killian, it's not a threat to you, but Peter is a big threat! No, I think you'd better not participate in the hunting competition tomorrow. You can lie down in the hotel and say that you're sick and it's not convenient to participate. As long as you don't participate, Peter can't do anything to you."

Tom looked at Amelia closely, trying to tell whether Amelia was serious.

He looked at her for a long time, but he didn't see that Amelia was performing. In the end, he chose to trust Amelia. After all, she had no motive to harm him.

"It's good that Peter is here. I also want to find him to solve the problem." Tom said faintly.

Amelia's eyes immediately widened. "You're crazy! Do you know who Peter is? He's the Vice President of the North Sky Association! His cultivation is unfathomable and shocking. I don't know how many masters died in his hands. And he's already at the medium-level of the Innate Realm. Even if you're in the Innate Realm, you are just a beginner. How can you be Peter's match?"

Tom did not speak and maintained a faint smile. Suddenly, he felt something and turned to look in one direction.

A middle-aged man in a gray suit showed up in his sight. This man was tall and straight, with a dignified face. His eyes were even more bright, deep and terrifying. It was frightening to look at him. One shall know that he was an extraordinary person at first glance.

This person was Peter.

His appearance calmed the crowd down, and everyone held their breath. Frightened by Peter's aura and momentum, they did not dare to make a sound for fear of offending Peter.

When Tom looked at him, Peter was also looking at Tom.

Tom felt his eyes became burning hot when he was being stared at by Peter like this. It was as if Tom's eyes had been burned.

It was not that he was really burned, but that the pressure Peter gave him was too great, and Peter's eyes seemed to be on fire.

Even Tom felt like this, so there was no need to mention anyone else. Now they clearly felt that the temperature around them had risen a lot. It was originally very cold here, and it was almost zero degrees celsius. But because of Peter's appearance, the temperature around them had actually increased by many degrees. How powerful was Peter?

Of course, this was impossible. It was just because Peter's aura and momentum were too great and he brought a huge impact to their mental world. Under the effect of their emotions, they felt that the temperature around them had risen. This was only because they were frightened by Peter, and their bodies secreted a lot of hormones, thereby increasing their body temperature.

Even so, it was amazing. Peter's cultivation was terrifying.

Indeed, ever since Sunny hit him that day, Peter gained a lot from Sunny's hit. From her hit, he realized more things and his cultivation had increased slightly.

Now that he saw Tom appear, his anger rose, he wanted to rush up and kill Tom immediately.

Tom's expression also became solemn. It was obvious that Peter had given him a lot of pressure.

He had investigated Peter in advance and knew that Peter was an expert of the Innate Realm. Tom was already mentally prepared. But now that he saw Peter, he realized that he still underestimated Peter.

However, this was even better. The stronger Peter was, the more he could unleash his potential!

At this moment, Peter showed a half-smile. Ignoring the greetings from people around him, he walked towards Tom straightly.
