

Chapter 181

Captivation Want Nothing But You Chapter 181 by Adolf Dunne

Ivan just stood there and watched Rachel's expression the whole time. "Miss Bennet, are you okay?" he asked uncertainly, when he saw that she was strangely calm and didn't reply him for a long time. "Ivan, could you please find a nice family that really loves cats and give it to them?" Rachel said after a moment's silence. "But Miss Bennet, don't you like this cat? If you don't like this one, you can tell me the type of cat you want. I can look for it and bring it to you."

"No, no, I like it very much." Rachel looked down at the cat in her arms. "Unfortunately, I can't keep it." She knew she couldn't even protect herself for as long as she was still in Sue Garden. She couldn't put its life at risk. Ivan tried dissuading her, but Rachel stood on her ground. Seeing that it was useless insisting, he sighed inwardly and said, "Okay, Miss Bennet. Don't worry. I will find a good family for it." Rachel gave him a grateful smile.

After a while, Rachel felt a little tired and said she wanted to rest. Ivan then left the ward with the cat. When the door closed behind Ivan, Rachel felt her phone vibrate beside the pillow. She looked at it and saw the screen light up slightly. Then, a message popped up from Quintin. "I know where Abby is. I've booked a flight for tonight. So by tomorrow morning, I will be in Apliaria." 1 In a prison The dim, narrow and empty corridor was so quiet that even the smallest movements could be heard loud and clear.

Chapter 182

Chapter 182 A Nightmare

The thin woman sitting on the bed was none other than Abby, who had gone missing for more than two months.

In the dim light, a glint of jealousy and contempt flashed in the other woman's eyes before she concealed her expression and blamed herself. "Abby, the chef has already left. How about I share my meal with you? I'm sorry for this. It's all my fault. I didn't expect you would miss it." "It's alright. I'm not hungry anyway," Abby said in a low voice as she shrugged her shoulders, looking down at the food scattered on the floor.

"But if the guards find out that I spilled your food and made you starve, they will surely punish me. You can eat mine. Go ahead. I know you haven't eaten much for several days." "It's okay. I'm not that hungry." Abby shook her head. "Sasha, just eat your food. Don't worry. I won't tell anyone." Sasha raised her head and grabbed Abby's hand tightly. "Are you sure you won't tell anyone? Promise me." When she held Abby's hand, Sasha's long nails accidentally scratched the back of her palm.

Slightly wincing in pain, Abby tried to pull away instinctively, but Sasha gripped her so tightly that she couldn't break free. "You have my word." "Very good! Thank you, Abby! You're such a kind girl." Sasha finally let go of Abby and caught a glimpse of the red mark on the back of the latter's hand. Quickly covering her small wound, Abby waved it off and said, "It's nothing. Go eat." Sasha promptly returned to her bed, fiddled with the scallion in her bowl, and asked, "Abby, the visiting day will be in two days.

Chapter 183

Captivation Want Nothing But You Chapter 183 by Adolf Dunne

Dawn slowly peeked through the windows. The cool morning breeze made the curtains dance. It caressed Rachel's hand that was outside the quilt. There was a sheen of sweat on her forehead as she was in the midst of a nightmare. Her soft pink lips moved, and she whispered, "Abby... Watch out! No..." Suddenly, someone knocked on the door. Rachel woke up with a start, and her eyes darted around. It took her a while to realize that it was just a nightmare.

"Miss Bennet, may I enter?" the person asked from the other side of the door. Rachel took a couple of deep breaths to calm herself and looked out the window. She looked at the sky and then at the time. It was only half-past six in the morning. 'Who can it be at this time?' "Yes, please come in," she said after a moment. Soon, the door was slowly pushed open, and Rachel turned to see a woman in a light pink nurse uniform.

A mask covered her face, and only her eyes were exposed. They looked like a man's eyes. Or maybe Rachel felt that way because she was too tall for a nurse. Rachel frowned because she felt that the nurse somehow seemed familiar. "Miss Bennet, after checking you last night, the doctor prescribed some medicine. He asked me to give it to you once you woke up." As soon as the nurse finished speaking, she inadvertently looked into Rachel's eyes.

Chapter 184

Chapter 184 The Patel Prison

“Well, what do you think? No one can tell that it’s me in this disguise, right?” Rachel looked Quintin up and down. She could only tell that it was him because Quintin had been working with her for years. Those who didn’t know him that well would fail to recognize Quintin in his disguise. “It is hard to tell it is you,” Rachel said as she tried to sound upbeat, especially in the face of difficulty. “Come on now. Laugh out loud.”

Quintin could sense the ridicule in Rachel’s tone. He cleared his throat, touched his nose, and complained, “Those guys are really petty. It’s been a long time since it happened. Yet, they still couldn’t move on from it. Every time I come back, they send someone to take me to the police station for questioning.” Rachel burst into laughter. Her eyes were laughing, too. Seeing Rachel’s reaction, Quintin let out a sigh of relief.

When he first saw Rachel, he couldn’t believe that the woman in front of him was actually Sheila. And to this day, he still couldn’t believe it! It was only when he heard her call out his name did he realize that the woman was Sheila, his boss. He also noticed then that she looked troubled and disturbed. It looked that something weighed heavily on her heart. He wanted to make her laugh. He wanted to see her smile. “Oh, I remember it.

Captivation Want Nothing But You

Chapter 185

There was a large piece of grassland behind the Patel Island. Following the prison guard, Abby and Sasha got out and were tasked to remove weeds using the tools they were given.

After they worked hard for a long time, it was almost noon. The sun shone brightly above the almost cloudless sky. As Abby threw the weeds into the basket, beads of sweat trickled down from her forehead. She tried to wipe them off as she looked up in the sky.

Then, she felt that her sight was a little blurry due to the extreme heat. She hadn't eaten much these days. Hence, she felt weak and tired after doing such tedious labor. At the same time, the prison guard instantly noticed the pale look on her face. He remembered that his superior specially told him before to take special attention of Abby. Therefore, when he saw her condition, he immediately gave her a bottle of water.

"If you can't stand the heat, drink some water first and take a break." The prison guard carefully observed her as he spoke. Abby was thin, short, and plain-looking. She didn't look like a big shot at all. However, his superior clearly reiterated that he should take good care of her. In fact, whenever she needed anything, he was to give it to her. While the prison guard was lost in his thoughts, Abby's words brought him back to his senses.

Not far away from them, Sasha stood up and decided to find a cool place to take a rest. After all, the heat was also killing her. That was when she caught a glimpse of the prison guard and Abby, who seemed to be talking and laughing. "You're welcome. You can continue working when you feel better. Don't worry.

Captivation Want Nothing But You

Chapter 186

There was a large piece of grassland behind the Patel Island. Following the prison guard, Abby and Sasha got out and were tasked to remove weeds using the tools they were given. After they worked hard for a long time, it was almost noon. The sun shone brightly above the almost cloudless sky. As Abby threw the weeds into the basket, beads of sweat trickled down from her forehead. She tried to wipe them off as she looked up in the sky.

Then, she felt that her sight was a little blurry due to the extreme heat. She hadn't eaten much these days. Hence, she felt weak and tired after doing such tedious labor. At the same time, the prison guard instantly noticed the pale look on her face. He remembered that his superior specially told him before to take special attention of Abby. Therefore, when he saw her condition, he immediately gave her a bottle of water.

"If you can't stand the heat, drink some water first and take a break." The prison guard carefully observed her as he spoke. Abby was thin, short, and plain-looking. She didn't look like a big shot at all. However, his superior clearly reiterated that he should take good care of her. In fact, whenever she needed anything, he was to give it to her. While the prison guard was lost in his thoughts, Abby's words brought him back to his senses.

Not far away from them, Sasha stood up and decided to find a cool place to take a rest. After all, the heat was also killing her. That was when she caught a glimpse of the prison guard and Abby, who seemed to be talking and laughing. "You're welcome. You can continue working when you feel better. Don't worry.

Chapter 187

Chapter 187 Go To Hell

'It hurts!' Abby curled up and slowly opened her eyes, only to be imprisoned in the dark. It was so pitch black that she couldn't see her own hand. The cold, fishy breeze swept from nowhere, caressing her skin like a sharp blade. "Ahem... Ahem..." Enduring the pain in her body, she extended her hand in the darkness, slowly sat up, and tried to shout in a loud voice, "Hello? Is there... Is anyone there?!" The room was filled with only echoes of her voice.

She wrapped her arms around her knees, trying to keep herself warm from the frigid wind. The gauze that had been wrapped around her arms had become a little damp and sticky. Her wounds started bleeding again. Her body ached from head to toe and she couldn't tell which was more painful. She was dizzy, but the memories slowly flashed through her mind before she fell unconscious. She had been in a coma twice.

The first time was when she had fallen down the hill. She and Sasha were chatting as they pulled out weeds on the hilltop. After realizing that she forgot to bring the bamboo basket, Abby stood up and turned to her companion. "Sasha, I'm going to fetch the bamboo basket downhill." "Okay." What she didn't know was that Sasha was standing right behind her, eyes filled with malicious intent. As soon as Abby turned around to leave, Sasha rushed and called her, "Abby." "Yes?"

Sasha followed behind her, her expression deadpan. It bothered Abby. "Do you know how much I envy you?" Sasha cocked her head. Surprised by her words, Abby turned to face her and asked in confusion, “Envy me? Why would you envy me?” Looking at her innocent and confused face, Sasha clenched her fists and forced a smile.

Chapter 188

Captivation Want Nothing But You Chapter 188 by Adolf Dunne

When Abby woke up, the white ceiling and the smell of antiseptics greeted her, letting her know that she was in the hospital.

No noise could be heard aside from the faint voice of someone outside the ward.

Abby felt like her head was splitting into two, and her mouth was dry and itchy. Just as she was about to get up to get some water, the door of her hospital room opened.

“Mr. Warren?” A hint of surprise flashed through her eyes when she saw Sherwood in a police uniform coming in.

“How long have you been awake? Are you hurt somewhere?”

“I just woke up...” Abby’s voice sounded weak. Looking at her pale face, Sherwood said, “Don’t force yourself to get up yet. I would like to ask you a few questions and you need to answer them truthfully. Are we clear?”

“Yes.”

“Do you still remember what happened before you fell?” Sherwood asked while looking at her seriously.

The question made Abby unconsciously clench the corner of the quilt covering her lower body.

What happened to her was very odd, so Sherwood must have doubts about her accident on the hillside. Although the area was littered with debris, it was not steep. The ground was also dry because it was a hot day. How could she slip and fall?

Besides, the wound on her forehead also

Chapter 189

Captivation Want Nothing But You Chapter 188 by Adolf Dunne

When Abby woke up, the white ceiling and the smell of antiseptics greeted her, letting her know that she was in the hospital.

No noise could be heard aside from the faint voice of someone outside the ward.

Abby felt like her head was splitting into two, and her mouth was dry and itchy. Just as she was about to get up to get some water, the door of her hospital room opened.

“Mr. Warren?” A hint of surprise flashed through her eyes when she saw Sherwood in a police uniform coming in.

“How long have you been awake? Are you hurt somewhere?”

“I just woke up...” Abby’s voice sounded weak. Looking at her pale face, Sherwood said, “Don’t force yourself to get up yet. I would like to ask you a few questions and you need to answer them truthfully. Are we clear?”

“Yes.”

“Do you still remember what happened before you fell?”
Sherwood asked while looking at her seriously.

The question made Abby unconsciously clench the corner of the quilt covering her lower body.

What happened to her was very odd, so Sherwood must have doubts about her accident on the hillside. Although the area was littered with debris, it was not steep. The ground was also dry because it was a hot day. How could she slip and fall?

Besides, the wound on her forehead also

Chapter 190

Captivation Want Nothing But You Chapter 190 by Adolf Dunne

Chapter 190 Die Together

“It’s all your fault!” Alice growled. Her eyes were red as she strangled Abby by the neck with one hand. “You all deserve to die!” Unable to resist, Abby kept trying to pull Alice’s hand away. Her face quickly turned red. She kept shaking her head at Alice, struggling to stay conscious. “Hmm... Hmm...” Abby was struggling to breathe, but it was very difficult with a hand on her neck.

“Do you want to beg me? Huh? Answer me! Do you want me to let you go?” Alice took a look at Abby with a wicked grin on her face. Her eyes were cold and cruel. “Well, that’s not going to happen!” Making her point clear, Alice tightened her grip on Abby’s neck. Abby’s groan of pain was almost guttural.

She found it more and more difficult to take in air. “But don’t worry, okay? You’ve still got some time. I just want to teach you a lesson first. Soon enough, that bitch called Rachel will come and keep you company. At that time, I’ll be happy to send both of you to hell together!” “Hmm!” The thought of Alice doing something to Rachel gave Abby renewed strength. She widened her eyes and struggled hard. She pulled down the rag in her mouth and bit hard on Alice’s hand.

“Ahhh!” Alice cried out in pain, but hurriedly brought down her voice before anyone could hear her.

Chapter 191

Captivation Want Nothing But You Chapter 190 by Adolf Dunne

Chapter 190 Die Together

“It’s all your fault!” Alice growled. Her eyes were red as she strangled Abby by the neck with one hand. “You all deserve to die!” Unable to resist, Abby kept trying to pull Alice’s hand away. Her face quickly turned red. She kept shaking her head at Alice, struggling to stay conscious. “Hmm... Hmm...” Abby was struggling to breathe, but it was very difficult with a hand on her neck.

“Do you want to beg me? Huh? Answer me! Do you want me to let you go?” Alice took a look at Abby with a wicked grin on her face. Her eyes were cold and cruel. “Well, that’s not going to happen!” Making her point clear, Alice tightened her grip on Abby’s neck. Abby’s groan of pain was almost guttural.

She found it more and more difficult to take in air. “But don’t worry, okay? You’ve still got some time. I just want to teach you a lesson first. Soon enough, that bitch called Rachel will come and keep you company. At that time, I'll be happy to send both of you to hell together!" "Hmm!" The thought of Alice doing something to Rachel gave Abby renewed strength. She widened her eyes and struggled hard. She pulled down the rag in her mouth and bit hard on Alice's hand.

"Ahhh!" Alice cried out in pain, but hurriedly brought down her voice before anyone could hear her.

Chapter 192

Chapter 191 I Miss You

Abby instinctively wanted to crawl in the opposite direction. Seeing Abby struggle on the floor, Alice's eyes filled with madness as she burst into laughter. Abby didn't dare to look back. She wanted to escape from this place. But no matter how hard she tried, she only moved a couple of inches. Alice stopped laughing and quickly walked towards Abby. There was a sound of bones breaking as Alice stepped hard on Abby's hand and crushed it.

Abby screamed in pain. There was a sense of satisfaction within Alice when she heard the scream. daily latest chapters only www.novelheart.com She sneered, "Crawl! Come on, keep crawling!" The blood drained from Abby's face. Beads of sweat dripped from her forehead. She wanted to pull back her hand, but Alice was still crushing it. Abby felt piercing pain when she tried to move her hand. "Do you know what you resemble right now?"

Alice seemed to be possessed as she continued to grind her heel into Abby's hand. "You're like a disgusting maggot! Do you think when Rachel sees you crawling like a filthy worm, she will come to save you? Come on, tell me! How about we make a bet?" "Bet? Bet on what?!" Abby was confused. Her eyes burned as sweat entered them. With difficulty, she raised her head, only to see Alice recording a video of her! Suddenly, something occurred to Abby.