The Lycan's Queen Book 1 – Chapter 37

Someone should have told me that my mouth would get me into trouble.

Oh wait, they did. I just never listened.

Adonis wasted no time in picking me up and throwing me on the bed. His eyes trained on me, daring me to move.

"You look so sexy, but this needs to come off. Take it off now or I'll tear it off myself." Adonis's gaze never left mine.

Hearing his serious tone of voice, I decided it was in my best interest to listen to him. (This novel will be daily updated at www.noveljar.com) Plus, I really did like this piece of lingerie.

I sat up and made my way off the bed, but Adonis growled.

"No, take it off lying down."

"What? No," I scoffed.

"You really want to test me now, little one? Don't forget, you still need to be punished for the other day as well as today." Adonis raised his eyebrows.

Fuck. I forgot about that.

His face showed no emotion, but that twinkle in his eyes gave it away. He wanted me to defy him.

Normally I would but I crawled back onto the bed and did some weird dance to get the lingerie off. I didn't want to give him the satisfaction of punishing me.

Not very sexy, but Adonis's gaze, plus him licking his lips made me think otherwise

I flung the piece of lingerie at Adonis and obviously he caught it effortlessly

"Why do you always have to tease me?" Adonis let out a tortured groan.

He dropped the lingerie and tore off his jeans and shirt. (This novel will be daily updated at www.noveljar.com) My eyes went straight to the growing bulge that was still covered.

Adonis crawled toward me, causing me to hold my breath.

“Why can’t you just let me fuck you like we both want? Let me plunge my cock into you over and over....”

He looked dangerous, those eyes and that smirk of his. I was definitely in trouble.

He grabbed my ankle and pulled me toward him, making me gasp.

“Where’s the fun in that?” I replied, my heart rate increasing dramatically.

“Hmm... true. Much more enjoyable to have you defy me. I can’t wait to dish out your punishment.” Adonis smirked.

“What punishment?” I asked.

I didn’t even realize when he took off the last piece of clothing until his member plunged into me.

“Oh shit,” I cried out.

Adonis was relentless; his thrusts were hard and fast. He held both my hands above my head so I couldn’t even run my hands through his hair like I wanted “Don’t you dare cum,” Adonis warned.

Before I could protest, he flipped me onto my stomach and pulled me up so I was on my hands and knees.

Again, his hard thrusts continued. (This novel will be daily updated at www.noveljar.com)The familiar pressure built up, causing me to clench my teeth and hold onto the bedsheets.

Adonis clearly knew I was close, so he slapped my ass before growling in my ear, “Don’t.”

This was absolute torture. Every time I was close, Adonis would slow down before speeding up.

An arm wrapped around my stomach, pulling me up to my knees. The new position caused me to groan. I felt him deeper than ever and this was not helping me.

“Oh God. Adonis.” The pressure built up again.

Adonis didn't answer, instead claiming my lips in a searing kiss that made me moan.

As my hips rocked into his thrusts, I found myself begging for the release I desperately craved.

"I'm so close," I told him.

Adonis groaned before he released me, and I fell back on my hands and knees.

"You feel so good baby," he moaned.

I knew he was close, so I replied, "Let go, Adonis."

That was all he needed as he found his release while yelling my name.

In my head, I thought my punishment wasn't being allowed that release I wanted. What I didn't expect was Adonis to pull out of me and flip me on my back

"Oh my God," I gasped as he didn't wait before the tip of his tongue flicked over my core.

My entire body shuddered as Adonis continued to lick my clit.

"Adonis... I can't, I can't." I couldn't hold back much longer.

His tongue stopped, and he lifted his head.

"I'm going to make you cum so many times that you remember who owns this body and this pussy."

My breath came out in pants as Adonis plunged his tongue in and out while I finally was able to tangle my hands in his hair.

It didn't take long for my orgasm to hit hard. (This novel will be daily updated at www.noveljar.com) I screamed his name over and over again as the most powerful orgasm I had died down.

I wasn't even able to catch my breath before two fingers penetrated my sensitive core.

"Fuck." I lifted my hips as the thrusts continued.

Adonis pushed my body down and attacked my core again and again. That tongue of his, along with his fingers, managed to get five orgasms out of me.

My body was tired, and I knew I'd feel this tomorrow.

"I can't take any more," I breathed out.

"I think you can handle one more." Adonis released his grip on my pussy.

His head lifted up, and he licked his lips.

He crawled toward me, and his hard member plunged into my sensitive folds.

"You're still so tight," Adonis groaned.

"Move, move," I managed to get out.

He didn't need any more encouragement.

Although his thrusts weren't as hard as before, it didn't take me long to scream his name, with him not far behind me.

His body fell to the side, and he pulled my sweaty and tired body close to him.

"That was something else." I was still trying to catch my breath.

"Your body is something I will never get tired of.(This novel will be daily updaed at www.noveljar.com)" Adonis kissed my sweaty forehead.

I snuggled into his warmth, my body needing the rest.

Our moment was ruined by us hearing Evan coming up the stairs. This time I refused to move.

"He can fuck off. I'm staying here with you. I do not care if I sound like a needy bitch," I told Adonis.

"I won't leave your side, don't worry, little one." Adonis chuckled, his chest vibrating

"Hey, Aarya, Niya got you..." Evan trailed off.

"Oh fuck no. I'm leaving it out here," Evan yelled.

I burst out laughing, hearing Evan.

"Why am I the one who always has to do this?" Evan's complaints faded away.

"I did say off-limits, but he wasn't here," Adonis said.

My eyes felt heavy as Adonis tucked a piece of hair behind my ears.

"Did I tire you out?" He sounded smug.

"Yes. I'm going to be so sore when I wake up," I complained.

"Are you really complaining?" he asked.

I shook my head. Those orgasms he gave me were unlike anything I had ever experienced. Of course I wasn't going to complain.

"Don't get too cocky." I yawned.

"Too late. I can't wait to tell the guys how many orgasms I gave you." Adonis smirked.

"As if you expect me to believe that. You're too possessive to do that," I scoffed

"Me, on the other hand. I'll be telling the girls how I felt so good." I smirked

"You're looking for another punishment." Adonis glared at me.

"Whatever." I yawned again and closed my eyes.

"No more talking now. Just hold me," I said.

"I'll hold you forever." Adonis's grip tightened as I lost my battle to sleep.

The Lycan's Queen Book 1 – Chapter 38

I was right, I was so sore when I woke up. Adonis held me close to him as he slept. My hand itched to touch his face, but he looked so peaceful sleeping

Adonis stirred and his hazel eyes connected with mine.

"I could feel your stare, little one." He yawned.

"Oops, my bad." I smiled sheepishly.

"Hmm...yes, it is your bad. I think you need to be punished." Adonis suddenly seemed more awake.

"Oh no. I am way too sore, I need a nice hot bath(This novel will be daily updaed at www.noveljar.com). You'll have to deal with that by yourself." I stood up and pointed to his growing budge.

I picked up Adonis's shirt and slipped it on as I made my way to the bathroom

"You love to torture me," Adonis groaned.

I smirked to myself before turning to face Adonis. "You wanna join me in the bath?"

Adonis sat up and nodded.

"Too bad, bath time is my time alone." I shrugged and shut the bathroom door.

Adonis growled. "I'll get you for that teasing."

I giggled as I filled up the bath with hot water and put in bath salts. I took off Adonis's shirt and let my sore muscles sink into the warmth of the bath.

I couldn't help the moan that left my lips as my sore muscles relaxed.

The door banged open and Adonis stormed in.

"What the fuck?" I gasped.

Adonis's hungry gaze traveled up and down my body, causing a familiar sensation to travel down my body.

Fuck, one look and he has me ready for him.

"I thought you were pleasuring yourself." Adonis finally tore his gaze from my body and looked me in the eye.

"So? I mean, I wasn't, but so what if I was?" I asked.

"Nothing, I wanted to see." Adonis smirked.

I rolled my eyes. "I know that look in your eyes. Leave me and my sore body alone."

"You're saying one thing, but your eyes are telling me something else. (This novel will be daily updated at www.noveljar.com) I bet me seeing you pleasure yourself is turning you on right now." Adonis's gaze was locked onto mine.

"Don't even think about it," I warned.

It took every ounce of my strength to turn him away, but my body was so sore, plus I wanted to enjoy my bath.

"Fine, I'll just join you in the bath." Adonis stepped into the water and sank into the bath before I could stop him.

He sank into the water behind me and pulled my body to him.

"Adonis," I warned.

"I won't initiate anything, little one, but if you start something, then I'll happily comply," he said with a teasing smile.

Before I could reply, his hands started massaging my shoulders, causing me to groan. Damn, that felt good.

I knew what he was trying to do. Work me up so much that I begged for him. My traitorous body was almost willing to give in, but I stopped myself.

As Adonis continued to massage my shoulders, my resolve weakened bit by bit until I couldn't handle it.

Totabbed his hand and brought it down to my core

"What do you want me to do, little one! Adonis whispered in my ear.

Vedl.

"You got me worked up," I moaned as Adonis's fingers teased my core.

"And?" he asked as his fingers teased my clit.

"Adonis, please," I begged, moving my core closer to his fingers.

"As my queen wishes." Adonis smirked.

I gasped as he plunged two fingers into my core and furiously pumped them in and out.

His other hand teased my nipples as I leaned against his chest, moaning.

"Fuck, fuck. I'm so close," I breathed out.

"Hmm... are you going to cum on my fingers?" Adonis asked, his thrusts getting faster.

"Oh shit. Yes," I yelled as I found my release.

My head fell back against Adonis's chest as I tried to catch my breath.

"Best bath ever." Adonis took his fingers out of my very core, which was now extremely sore.

"You did that on purpose," I accused him.

"Maybe, but you initiated it." He kissed my head.

Adonis helped me stand as he drained the water out of the bath and turned on the shower. (This novel will be daily updated at www.noveljar.com) This time he stayed true to his word, washing my hair and body. I couldn't deny it felt so good.

Of course I happily returned the favor, and once we were both showered, we decided to get out.

After getting dressed, we headed downstairs, hand in hand. My stomach was demanding food, so we made our way to the kitchen.

"Hey guys," Lexi said, sipping her tea.

"Mmm... coffee. My one true love." I took a big sip out of a fresh cup, while Adonis growled behind me.

Possessive lycan. I just rolled my eyes and continued to sip my coffee.

"Long night?" Lexi teased.

"You have no idea." I winked.

"No, no talk of what happens in the bedroom in the kitchen." Evan entered

"Drama queen," I muttered under my breath.

Soon everyone but Gabe joined us in the kitchen. We all chatted as we ate pancakes and laughed. Lexi didn't eat anything but sipped her tea, which was strange because she loved her coffee.

For the first time no one was stressed, and it felt amazing.

Gabe made his presence known with a solemn look on his face. Lexi stood up and nodded at Gabe.

"Hey guys, I hate to be the bearer of bad news." He sighed.

"So don't. Just don't say it," Evan said.

"I wish I didn't have to." Gabe shook his head.

The happy mood vanished, and Adonis stood up, a serious look on his face.

"What is it?" he asked.

All of a sudden Gabe smiled. "Lexi's pregnant!"

"What?" I exclaimed.

"Congrats, Brother." Adonis hugged Gabe.

"That's why you only had tea." It suddenly dawned on me.

Lexi laughed. "Yep, I've known for a few weeks, but with everything going on, it just didn't seem like a good time to tell everyone."

"So instead you make Gabe come in here and scare the shit out of us." Evan shook his head.

"I had no idea he was going to do that!" Lexi laughed.

"A baby! I can't wait!" I hugged Lexi.

"Babies just cry and poop everywhere." Evan rolled his eyes.

"Just like you then Evan," Damien joked.

"Poor Niya, if she ever wants kids, then she'll have you to deal with too." Adonis shook his head.

"Please, I'll just threaten him with no sex, and he'll change." Niya smirked.

Everyone burst out laughing, while Evan pouted.

"Why does everyone always gang up on me?"

"Because you have the best reactions." I laughed.

"Whatever. Moving on, do you guys want a girl or a boy?(This novel will be daily updaed at www.noveljar.com)" Evan asked Lexi and Gabe.

"I haven't thought about it." Lexi shrugged.

"Girl," Gabe said.

"You want a girl?" Lexi looked shocked.

"Yeah! Of course I do!" Gabe replied.

"I want a boy first," Evan said.

"I always wanted to have a boy first," Niya agreed.

"Be careful, you may end up with twins," Gabe warned.

"Oh, even better." Niya laughed, seeing Evan's face pale.

"What about you two?" Lexi asked me and Adonis.

"Oh, I haven't really thought..."

"Girl," Adonis butted in.

"I want all girls," he said.

"All girls?" I asked.

"Yes, all girls." He nodded.

"You'll have your hands full when they start dating." Evan laughed.

Adonis growled, "Don't."

"My bad." Evan put his hands up.

"Will you find out the gender?" I asked Lexi.

"Duh, of course! I am way too impatient to wait the full nine months," she replied.

"Next stage of your lives, parenthood," Niya said.

"Yep, I can't wait." Gabe smiled, pulling Lexi closer to him.

Adonis looked at me with a smile and said, "Me neither."

"You'll have to wait a long time. I'm not ready to be a mom right now." I laughed.

"I know, and that's fine. We have time, no rush," Adonis replied.

"So what happens now?" Evan asked.

"Now we enjoy ourselves with no worries. Oh, and continue our duties," Adonis answered.

Evan rolled his eyes. "Can't we just quit?"

"You can, but I never will. Now that I have my queen, I can deal with anything." Adonis smiled.

I wrapped my arms around Adonis's waist and snuggled into his chest.

"Now, our forever begins."
