

Chapter 461

After Tom finished talking, the whole room suddenly fell silent, and everyone looked at Tom.

Thorn was also shocked by Tom. He knew that Tom was a top expert in the Innate Realm. However, in this coterie, it was impossible to fight more than a hundred people alone, not to mention they were professionally trained soldiers.

More than a hundred people at the scene also opened their eyes wide, thinking that Tom was too arrogant! It could be said that Tom despised them to the extreme.

Even their last instructor, a well-known master of the Innate Realm, did not dare to say such big words. There were so many people on their side while he dared to confined himself in a limited space!

Tanya's eyes lit up. She looked at Tom closely and had an intuition that Tom could make it...

Nikolai, who was in the building not far away, was stunned for a moment. He then smiled, thinking that Tom was looking for death. He didn't expect that Tom started to be complacent with his garden-variety skill.

He didn't think Tom really could succeed.

At this moment, Tom added, "By the way, you can use all the cold weapons you have besides guns. As long as you can force me out of this circle, you will win."

Tom was so hubristic!

However, he didn't mean to be arrogant at all. He was just telling the truth.

The scene exploded immediately, and the hundred or so trumpeters began to voice their opinions angrily.

"Damn it!! He's so rampant. I can't tolerate that!"

"I've seen arrogant people before. It's the first time I've seen such a rampant person like him! If I don't teach him a lesson, our reputation will be ruined!"

"That's too much. This is a blatant humiliation. I want to see if he is capable enough to take down more than 100 of us!"

"Why are we talking so much with him? Let's go together and let this guy feel our anger!"

"Show him our strength!!"

They surrounded Tom immediately and began to glare at Tom angrily. One by one, their expressions were more ferocious than the other. They were full of anger and murderous intent towards Tom. It had to be said that the momentum they showed was quite strong. For an ordinary expert of Innate Realm, he would really be afraid and restrained himself. However, Tom was a too towering figure to be scared of.

The atmosphere suddenly became tense. More than a hundred soldiers surrounded Tom from inside to outside. This scene looked extremely shocking. Each person could drown Tom with one spit.

Thorn's face suddenly darkened. He stood up and scolded, "Hey! What are you guys doing? Are you going to rebel!"

"Director Sunn! It's not that we're going to rebel, but this new instructor is going too far."

"That's right, Director Sunn. You heard what this guy said just now. He was the one who said something crazy to provoke us. We are at least the elites of the Military Intelligence 3. If we were ridiculed like this by a businessman, then we are not qualified to be the member of this division?!"

"Director Sunn, we can't stand being humiliated."

"We admit that this new instructor is somehow extraordinary. We are not his opponent if single, but he said that we can't force him out of the circle even if we go together. This is clearly insulting us!!"

The soldiers were getting more and more agitated. Thorn had a headache after seeing this. He expected that Tom would be made difficult by these soldiers since he was new here. He also believed that with Tom's strength, he could easily deal with them. However, what he did not expect was that Tom was so arrogant that he wanted to fight more than a hundred soldiers on his own.

This was too arrogant. Even if Tom was a master of the Innate Realm, he couldn't do it. From the bottom of his heart, Thorn did not believe that Tom could defeat more than a hundred soldiers.

According to what Tom said just now, if he failed and kowtowed to apologize, he would no longer be instructor anymore... At the thought of this, Thorn couldn't help but have a headache.

He humbly invited Tom over. He did not expect such a thing to happen, and in the end, he was rather distressed if it would be a failure.

Even then, he complained about Tom. He thought that Tom looked calm and introverted, but he didn't expect he was so arrogant. Now he had to solve it on his own.

Thorn said in a deep voice, "Nonsense! Tom is joking. All right, this is the end of the joke. You return to the team. From now on, you have to obey Tom's orders."

These more than a hundred soldiers did not give up sincerely, but for them, it was their duty to obey orders. Even if they were unhappy, there was no way.

At this moment, Tom said with a smile, "Director Sunn, I'm not joking."

Thorn's expression froze. "Tom, you... The hundred soldiers are powerful. They have their own special strategies to deal with enemies. They are not that easy to deal with."

Thorn thought that he gave Tom enough face, and he tried to find Tom a step down. If Tom did not appreciate this, which would disappoint him.

Well, Tom shook his head with a smile and said, "It's okay. I can handle them. Besides, if I don't subdue them, I believe they won't be willing to listen to my orders."

Thorn sighed and was disappointed in Tom again. He looked at Tom meaningfully and did not speak again. He stepped aside. Everyone could tell that Thorn was a little angry. Tom was really too bad at getting along with people.

Nikolai, who was in the building not far away, almost laughed. He shook his head and hugged his chest, waiting to see Tom embarrassed.

In fact, Tom saw everyone's reaction. He knew it very well, but he still did it. First, he had absolute confidence in himself. Second, it was a good chance to show his strength. Especially in the Military Intelligence 3, many people questioned his ability. He might as well take advantage of this opportunity to show them how capable he was!

In this way, his position in the Military Intelligence 3 would also promote abruptly. Anyway, he had already joined the Military Intelligence 3. Naturally, he would stand out.

At Tom's level, he had his own considerations about everything he did. He had his intention in every word and every decision.

"What I said just now still works. You can go together and use all your strength." Tom said faintly.

One of the soldiers who was at the Extrinsic Peak came out, narrowed his eyes, looked at Tom with a half-smile and said, "Tom, my fists and feet do not care if you are our instructor or not. If anything happens..."

Without waiting for him to continue, Tom said directly, "You don't have to worry about my safety as long as you are capable of killing me."

With Tom's words, they were relieved. They looked back at Thorn and found that Thorn had no objections, so they were more relieved. They then clenched their fists, ready to fight.

It had to be said that Tom still felt a little bit pressure when stood among them, sensing the fighting spirit and anger from them, but it was quickly erased by him.

"Tom, please!"

As soon as he finished speaking, three people immediately went up together and rushed towards Tom from three directions at the same time. They were very fast and they cooperated very well.

They were absolutely confident that they could defeat Tom.

However, what happened next shocked all of them.

Tom played it lightly. He kicked three feet separately, not particularly fast, and people around could still catch his move, but the angles were very tricky. Almost at the same time, he kicked these three people away.

And when they fell to the ground, they screamed and couldn't stand up anymore.

"Don't waste your time. You guys can go together." Tom said calmly.

"You arrogant bithch!!"

Immediately, five more people went up together. Two of them were masters at the Extrinsic Peak, and their strategy was even more exquisite.

However, they also did not have that chance to hurt Tom, and was hit out by Tom. They fell to the ground and could not get up.

Now, the rest of them did not look down on Tom anymore, and their expressions began to become serious. Then, ten of them went to fight together, three of them with batons in their hands.

Facing their attack, Tom looked still very relaxed this time. It only took him a little more than two or three seconds. Bang, a few critical strikes, and these ten people were knocked down, but Tom was still safe and sound.

"If you don't go together, there won't be one more chances." Tom pointed at them with a bright smile on his face and looked very friendly.

There were still about a hundred people left. They looked at each other, gritted their teeth, and decided to fight together. They believed, with so many people, they could force Tom out of a this small circle whose radius was less than a meter!!!

Chapter 462

"Let's fight together! I'm sure that we can defeat him with so many people."

"Since he said so, why don't we go together? We each can drown him with one mouthful of saliva as we're outnumbered!"

"I know that this guy is not bad. Let's pee to drown ourselves if we can't beat him with so many people!"

"Let's go..."

The remaining 100 people looked at each other and their eyes turned red. They now regarded Tom as their opponent! Every one of them was brave and bellicose. Now that they were forced to do so by a young man, they were furious.

They no longer hesitated. Their breathing was rapid, and they were ready to fight. With an earth-shaking roar, they showed their strength. It seemed that even a mountain would be removed by them.

The situation was too scary. In an instant, Tom felt stressed. However, it was far from the pressure he had faced on the cliff for a few days. Therefore, he didn't have to take what was happening seriously.

Instead, the corners of his mouth rose and a satisfied smile appeared.

Finally, they got together. That was what he wanted.

Now he steadily reached the third stage of the Innate Realm, and he was only half a step away from entering the fourth stage. By then, he would be at the same level as Sean and Sunny.

"Good!"

In an instant, his eyes suddenly widened, and his originally calm momentum instantly rose, which was like a skyscraper, rising out of thin air.

Almost in the blink of an eye, a dozen or so people rushed to him and appeared in all directions. Their fists and feet targeted his whole body. There was no way he could dodge.

From an ordinary person's point of view, Tom was definitely going to get hurt because all directions were blocked.

However, Tom did something that ordinary people could not understand. He cleverly chose a perfect position to avoid the attacks of more than a dozen people, whose fists and feet did not even touch Tom's clothes. The next moment, he began to fight back.

The fists were like a shell, shooting quickly with bangs. With each punch, one person would fly out. The punches were strong, knocking down all the people behind.

At the same time, there were seven or eight people who were also kicked out by him. From Thorn's angle, Tom was the center of gravity, like a repulsive magnet, bouncing the dozen people away.

Nikolai, who was standing upstairs, saw it more clearly and his eyes widened.

Even his breathing stopped, and he didn't even see how Tom did it. In the blink of an eye, Tom broke through the dilemma.

However, Tom only pushed back the dozen or so people who were the first to attack. More than 80 people were rushing in to launch a fierce attack on Tom.

Although the soldiers of the Military Intelligence 3 were not at a high level, their fighting ability was still not bad. They were more capable of fighting than experts of the same level. Moreover, they were very courageous and did not show fear. Now that they saw Tom being so fierce, they were only shocked rather than frightened. In fact, they appeared more fierce. The war was getting more intense.

Tom stood in this circle and never took a step out. Facing the remaining crowd, he made a series of moves, which were not fast but exquisite. Like a prophet, he always knew his opponent's movements in advance and broke them.

Thus, in the eyes of outsiders, they saw a shocking scene. Tom stood in the circle and never came out, and he kept smiling all the time, looking so relaxed and calm. Without initiating a second move, the people who attacked him were hit by him like basketballs, which were bounced back after hitting the wall.

In less than two minutes, there was no one standing except Tom.

The more than a hundred aggressive soldiers all lay down.

No, there was the last one. It was Buffalo, who was the first to challenge Tom. He rushed to three meters in front of Tom and stopped. Looking at his colleagues lying on the ground, his face suddenly turned pale!

Tom smiled and said to him, "You're the

Grunt!!

Buffalo swallowed his saliva heavily and his head was numb, especially when Tom looked at him like this. He was really scared and his feet were shaking.

It wasn't that he wasn't brave enough to fear death, but that Tom had shocked him so much! He would never have thought that Tom could easily defeat so many people without any injuries on his body.

Was this really human?

He must be a monster!

Buffalo's face was filled with fear and he couldn't help but ask Tom, "Are you a human or a ghost?"

Tom was amused. He deliberately made a threatening gesture to Buffalo. "What do you think?"

Suddenly, Buffalo became even more frightened.

Now he quickly stepped back, tripped a pair of feet behind him, and fell to the ground. His fighting spirit faded at this moment. Even when he was on a dangerous mission, he had never lost his composure like this.

Indeed, Tom's strength was far beyond his imagination.

In fact, not only him but everyone present was frightened by Tom. The look in his eyes at Tom was full of shock, disbelief.

Thorn was stunned and stared at Tom without moving his eyes. He couldn't come to his senses for a long time. He knew that Tom was powerful, but he didn't expect Tom to be so powerful!

There didn't seem to be such a superman in the Military Intelligence 3.

As for Nikolai, who was upstairs, his scalp was numb now. He stared at the square in disbelief. Looking at Tom, who was not handsome, he was completely dumbfounded.

He had lived for so long and had never encountered such an occurrence. As a sophisticated man, he was still shocked at this moment.

At this moment, Tom suddenly turned around and looked up at him with an intriguing smile, indicating "Are you satisfied with my performance?" Nikolai's scalp was even more numb. Obviously, from the beginning, Tom knew that he was peeping here.

At this moment, he did not despise and question Tom at all. Instead, he was in awe.

Tom stopped. He stood with his hands behind his back and said with a smile, "Well, anyone else? I can wait."

No one spoke. They were all impressed by Tom.

Finally, people stood up one after another and walked up to Tom. They bowed deeply and said respectfully, "Tom, I am convinced. From now on, you are my instructor. We'll always follow your order!"

With the first speaker, there was soon the second and third, until everyone bowed deeply to Tom to show their respect and obedience.

Chapter 463

When Tom saw this, he couldn't help but smile. His goal was achieved.

He knew very well that it was not an easy job to be an instructor in the Military Intelligence 3. The best way was to defeat them, and now he had done it.

Thing would be much easier then. Tom successfully became the new combat instructor of the Military Intelligence 3.

Moreover, the attitude of these soldiers towards him had changed completely. No one dared to despise him anymore. They were all in awe of Tom, and their eyes were full of admiration for Tom.

This time, Tom really won them over completely. In the Military Intelligence 3, what people valued above all else was strength. He who was competent would be respected.

After Thorn came back to his senses, he was extremely excited. Tom really gave him a big surprise this time!

Originally, he thought that Tom was just a powerful master of the Innate Realm, but he did not expect Tom's strength to be so strong. Tom was fully capable of being a combat instructor!

Then, Thorn recognized Tom's perfect teaching ability. Tom was not only strong himself, but also able to teach others. Many people were powerful, but they didn't know how to teach. Take a scientist for example. He might be rich in knowledge, but he might not be good at teaching others.

Tom was strong himself and capable of teaching people. It was perfect.

As for Nikolai, he soon came over to apologize to Tom with a sincere attitude, which made Tom's impression of him much better and he had no hostility towards him anymore.

For the next three days, Tom stayed at the Military Intelligence 3 to train the hundred or so soldiers.

The next day, he realized that the hundred or so soldiers he was teaching were not the whole force of the Military Intelligence 3, but only two teams of them, which were team three and team four.

In addition to these two teams, there were four other teams.

They were team one, team two, Scout Team and Dragon Blood Team.

These four teams were much stronger than team three and team four, especially Scout Team and Dragon Blood Team, which were much stronger.

The difference among them was like the difference among the ordinary class, the honors class and the advanced placement class in the same grade.

Tom was the head teacher of the ordinary class.

Over the past three days, he had a deeper understanding of the Military Intelligence 3. He knew that the Military Intelligence 3 mainly dealt with foreign forces. If foreign forces did something bad in H Country, and ordinary police officers couldn't solve it, they would fix it.

Over the years, as H Country's international status had been rising and its comprehensive national strength had been strengthened, it had attracted many foreign enterprises to invest. This was something positive and good. At the same time, however, many evil foreign forces began to infiltrate the country.

Connor, who Tom had met before, and Connor's boss, that Ultra-capable Man, were this kind of people.

This kind of people were low-profile and less harmful, and there were more sinister people who were more difficult to deal with.

The relationship was even more complicated.

Tom also learned that the Military Intelligence 3 used to be very powerful with seven or eight masters of the Innate Realm.

However, five years ago, there was a rather serious and evil incident. The Military Intelligence 3 experienced a fierce battle that lasted for eight months. Finally, the Military Intelligence 3 won the battle and wiped out that evil foreign force. But at the same time, the Military Intelligence 3 paid a terrible price. Out of the eight masters of the Innate Realm, five died, and only three survived!

Two of the three men were also seriously injured.

Fortunately, after five years of recuperation, the Military Intelligence 3 slowly recovered. In both Scout Team and Dragon Blood Team, there were masters of the Innate Realm who could take full responsibility.

After hearing this, Tom was very interested in Scout Team and Dragon Blood Team. He was particularly interested in their instructors, who must be top masters.

On the fourth day, Tom left the Military Intelligence 3. This was an agreement between him and Thorn. He was not a regular employee of the Military Intelligence 3, but only a temporary worker, so he didn't have to work full hours.

When he was back in H City, he felt completely different. It felt like his home.

Especially when he was with Phoebe, he felt more at ease.

Amelia returned from the W City and Tom went to pick her up. As soon as they met, Amelia threw herself at Tom when he was greeting her.

"Don't you want more..."

"Tom, I miss you so much!"

Amelia's arms were like vines around Tom's neck. She stood on tiptoe to look at him. Her eyes were like silk thread.

He didn't know if it was his illusion or not. He found that after not seeing her for a while, Amelia seemed to have become more attractive. There was a charming smell emanating from all over her, which made one salivate! Tom felt a surge of love and desire for her.

That was right. Tom was not the only one who was seduced. The men around them all stopped moving and looked straight at Amelia. Many of them even showed their infatuation for Amelia and envy of Tom.

If eyes could kill, then Tom had been killed ten thousand times.

Even he was already a master of the Innate Realm, Tom was still very shy. When he was hugged intimately like this by Amelia in public, Tom still felt embarrassed and he blushed.

He coughed and pushed Amelia away. He said, "What are you doing? Aren't you shy to cuddle in public?"

Amelia's face was filled with a happy smile. She looked up and said, "Why should I be shy? You're my man. What's wrong with me hugging you? Listen, you ran away from me in W City last time. Now that I'm back in H City, you're not allowed to run away again!"

Tom's body stiffened in an instant. He was not stupid. Of course he knew what Amelia meant.

"Eh-hem!" Tom quickly coughed and blushed. Amelia dared to say anything.

But why did he like it a little?

"What? I don't understand. Okay, let's cut the crap. It's going to rain soon. We'd better get in the car, or we'll be drenched." Tom quickly changed the subject.

Amelia knew that Tom was shy. Her smile grew more sly. She liked to see Tom being shy. He was so cute. He was already a big shot, but he blushed so easily. Men like this were very rare.

However, she was also very considerate. Knowing that Tom was thin-skinned, she did not "embarrass" Tom anymore. Instead, she whispered in his ear "coward". Then she hugged Tom's arm intimately and gave her suitcase to Tom. Her face was filled with sweetness.

She was an exceedingly beautiful woman. Coupled with her top-level seducing ability, she was so attractive to ordinary people that many of them fixed their eyes on her.

They were extremely envious of Tom.

However, at this moment, a gaze came from the crowd. The person gnashed her teeth and felt dejected.

"Hey, Isabella, why are your eyes red? Did someone bully you?"

"No..."

"You're about to cry!" When the girl followed Isabella's gaze, she saw Tom and Amelia. She was furious, "Damn, is this the scumbag who bullied you? I'll teach him a lesson!"

Chapter 464

"Well, don't go..."

The woman named Isabella quickly stood up and tried to stop her bestie, but she was a step slower. Her bestie strode towards Tom and Amelia.

She was no one but Myles's daughter, Isabella.

During this period of time, she was in a bad mood. She traveled with her bestie, had fun in a few places, and ate a lot of local food. Only then did she feel better. But as soon as she flew back to H City, she saw this scene at the airport. Tom and another woman were intimate and they were obviously sweethearts.

For some reason, when she saw this scene, she felt especially uncomfortable and even aggrieved. Her nose was sore. Her eyes were red, and she even had the urge to cry!

She did not understand why she had such a reaction. She and Tom were not even friends. They only met a few times, but she could not forget Tom. Especially when she saw Tom being intimate with another woman, she felt extremely uncomfortable.

What was worse was that her bestie actually found her abnormality and wanted to cause trouble to Tom, which scared her a lot!

She knew her bestie's character very well. Her bestie was unruly and hot-tempered. She would definitely be rude to Tom. The point was that she and Tom had nothing to do with each other. In this way, her bestie was not helping her.

"Diana, come back quickly. It's not what you think!" Isabella hurriedly chased after her bestie and tried to stop her bestie, Diana. But Diana walked so fast that she was already in front of Tom.

And she shouted loudly, "Hey, scumbag. Stop!"

She shouted so loudly and angrily that everyone around her was shocked and looked over.

Tom had long noticed her anger towards him and he felt inexplicable. However, he did not turn around. He pretended that he didn't hear and continued walking forward.

Instead, Amelia turned around and looked at Diana strangely. She frowned and was quite angry. But Tom didn't say anything and continued to walk forward. Then she couldn't say anything. After all, a virtuous woman outside was supposed to save face for her man. Amelia was a wise woman.

Diana was even angrier. She quickened her pace and grabbed Tom's shoulder. "Hey! I'm talking to you. Are you deaf?"

Her speed was quite fast. After all, she was at Master Realm.

If an ordinary person were to be captured by her, he or she would fall to the ground. Her eyes flashed with some ferocity, intending to teach the scumbag a lesson.

However, her crappy skills meant nothing to Tom. Tom just dodged casually and he avoided her.

Amelia was immediately angry. She slapped Diana and scolded, "Where did this crazy woman come from? You are sick!"

Amelia was also a woman at Master Realm. She rarely showed her skills. But that did not mean that she was weak.

Diana was not on guard against Amelia. She was slapped by Amelia as she was not wary of Amelia. Her expression changed and she took several steps back. She became even angrier and shouted that Amelia was looking for death. Then she became anxious and began to attack Amelia.

Fortunately, Isabella had already run over and she quickly stopped Diana. "Diana, stop!"

Diana was grabbed by Isabella. She was very angry and said, "Isabella, don't stop me. Let me go. Let me teach them a lesson!"

As she spoke, she was about to push Isabella away.

Amelia was also really angry now. She was in a good mood when she came back this time, but her mood was ruined by the crazy woman Diana.

So she was going to teach Diana a good lesson.

At this moment, Tom spoke and said in a deep voice, "Enough!"

He frowned and stared at Isabella, "Isabella, what are you doing?"

Isabella was reprimanded by Tom. And Tom's impatience, in particular, made her feel more aggrieved than ever. She opened her mouth and wanted to speak, but she found that she could not say anything. Her nose instantly turned sour, and tears flowed out of her eyes!

Even if she had witnessed Heath's infidelity with her own eyes back then, she didn't feel so upset as she felt now.

Tom never took her seriously. Even Tom's eyes, she was just an unruly woman.

She did not know why she was like this. She was born with a noble background and had thousands of pursuers among which were many outstanding people. However, she had feelings for Tom, which was weird!

But the truth was that she couldn't change it. Tom was indeed the most charming and powerful man she had ever met.

She felt that her feelings to Tom could not be controlled by her.

Tom was stunned to see Isabella crying.

What the hell was this? He didn't curse, did he? Besides, he was the victim.

As a woman, Amelia's observation was outstanding. She could tell at a glance that things between Isabella and Tom were not simple. She showed a meaningful expression.

As for Diana, she was even angrier. She thought that Tom was the scumbag who did something which hurt Isabella!

She yelled, "scumbag." Then, she started attacking Tom again.

Amelia naturally wouldn't let Tom fight back. She stood in front of Tom and fought with Diana.

For a moment, it was hard to tell who would win.

Tom immediately had a headache. What was this? It was an undeserved catastrophe.

Many people at the airport stopped and began to watch this hard-to-see show.

Many people even took out their phones to take pictures. After all, this kind of situation was rare to be seen.

Diana couldn't take Amelia down for a while. She became even more anxious and scolded Tom, "Scumbag! You hide behind a woman. What kind of man are you? If you have the guts, don't be a coward and fight with me!"

Amelia also scolded, "Crazy woman, keep your mouth clean. My man is not a scumbag!"

Diana scolded Amelia too, "You're the crazy woman. You've been deceived by this despicable man. He's a scumbag. He lied to my bestie. Now he's cheating on you again. You are still protecting him. You're out of your mind!"

Despicable man?

When Tom heard this, he was even more confused. When did he become a despicable man? It was a great injustice.

Tom really found this both funny and annoying.

Isabella wiped her tears. When she saw this, she panicked even more and rushed over to hold Diana. "Diana, stop fighting. It's not what you think. He... Ah..."

Diana was so angry that she couldn't care about Isabella. She pushed Isabella out. She exerted some strength. Isabella was out of balance and was about to fall. Besides, there was a half-meter high staircase behind her. If she fell, she would be seriously hurt.

In a hurry, Tom had to make a move. He was very fast. In the blink of an eye, he came to Isabella and stopped her from falling by holding her waist. Isabella was in panic. She was completely in a conditioned reflex and tightly grabbed Tom's neck. Their postures were quite intimate...

Chapter 465

The atmosphere turned a little awkward.

Tom put his arms around Isabella's waist, and Isabella wrapped his neck. Such gestures only existed between lovers. Moreover, Isabella's chest was still pressed against Tom's chest.

Isabella could not help but breathe faster as she sensed the male hormones from Tom, and her pretty face turned red. She was even a little reluctant to leave Tom's arms.

"Ahem, are you okay?" Tom coughed twice. He quickly straightened Isabella up and let her go.

Diana and Amelia, who had been fighting at the side, stopped at the same time. Diana acted as if she had expected what would happen, while Amelia narrowed her eyes with a jealous smile.

Tom was upset. This time he was unable to prove himself innocent anymore.

Isabella left Tom's arms with reluctantly. She shook her head and said, "Thank you, or I would have fallen just now."

"Okay." Tom nodded and said, "Since you're fine, explain it to your friend to avoid us being misunderstood."

"Oh..." Isabella responded disappointedly, then explained a few words to Diana. However, it was obvious that she didn't sound convincing. Instead, her explanation gave people the impression that she had an affair with Tom, but now Tom abandoned her.

Diana knew Isabella's character, and she was even more uncomfortable with Tom.

Tom didn't care about this unimportant stuff and said, "Since there's nothing else, I'll go first."

"Wait a minute." Seeing that he was leaving, Isabella was somewhat disappointed. She couldn't help but stopped Tom. Tom turned around. "What's wrong?"

"No, it's okay." Isabella wanted to say something, but she couldn't. She suddenly hated herself. Why did she suddenly become stupid? She didn't even know to speak!

Tom did not know what she was thinking. He looked at her in a weird way, then walked to Amelia, took Amelia's hand, and left the airport.

"Hey, this scumbag. How dare he leave?" Diana wanted to catch him up again. Isabella quickly grabbed her and said, "Diana! Stop it. He's not my boyfriend. He and I... Are not even friends."

Isabella was quite sad to say this. Once, she had a chance to get close to Tom.

However, back then, she looked down on Tom and missed this precious opportunity. Now Tom had become an unattainable existence for their entire family.

Diana widened her eyes and said angrily, "What? Then he played with your feelings and didn't even give you an identity? No, as your best friend, I have to teach him a lesson! This scumbag's too hateful!"

"Enough." Isabella said angrily, "He's not a scumbag. Nothing happened between us before. From the beginning to the end, it was just my sentimental unrequited love."

However, when Diana heard this, she was surprised. She reached out her hand and touched Isabella's forehead.

"I didn't hear wrong, did I? I can't believe that you'll have an unrequited love for someone. Besides, that guy's nothing special! He doesn't deserve you."

Isabella rolled her eyes. The first time she saw Tom, she felt the same. She didn't take Tom seriously. However, she gradually felt Tom's charm...

She sighed and said, "You haven't had any contact with him, so you don't understand."

Diana said disdainfully, "I think you're possessed. That guy was not handsome at all, and he looked weak. He just stood behind women like a coward!"

Isabella immediately said, "You are wrong. His martial arts are excellent. You can never out-compete him. He didn't show his real strength because you're not of the same level as him."

When Diana heard this, she said disapprovingly, believing that beauty was in the eyes of the beholder. "Gee, I'm not a fool. That scumbag's so weak, how is it possible that he was a martial arts master. I can beat him with only one hand! You know what kind of realm I am — Master Realm! Even many professional boxers are not my opponents."

Isabella said, "I didn't lie to you. He's really good at fighting. A while ago, he killed a master of the Innate Realm!"

"Hahaha, Isabella, when have you become so innocent? This is not you. Do you know the level of Innate Realm? That guy is an idiot, not a superhero like my idol!" Diana said disdainfully.

Isabella became interested and asked, "You have an idol? Who is him?"

Diana immediately straightened her back and said with admiration and passion, "Of course, my idol is the strongest person in G State. He is truly a peerless person. Even when my master mentioned idol, he was full of admiration. He thought that my idol was capable of reaching the Immortal Realm and turn into a land immortal!"

When speaking of her idol, her eyes shined with light. She clenched her fists, as if she were talking about a god.

Isabella was shocked. She had known Diana since she was a child and they were besties. She had never seen Diana worship someone so much. For a moment, she was also curious and asked, "What's his name? Man and woman?"

"Listen up!" Diana said proudly, "My idol is called Tom. He's only 28 years old this year and he's already the best in G State! My goal now is to meet my idol and ask him for an autograph! If I had the luck to become his disciple, my life would be meaningful!"

After hearing this, Isabella was instantly dumbfounded. She stared at Diana in a daze. She did not expect that Tom was her best friend's idol. So ridiculous!

Diana didn't know that she had offended her idol just now. She said proudly, "How is it? Are you shocked by what I said too? Haha! I understand that my idol is from H City. Actually, I came here for my idol. When that time comes, I'll befriend my idol. I'll introduce you to him so that you can see the aura of the strongest man in G State and forget that pretty boy!"

After saying that, Diana still looked proud. She thought she was right and could definitely get Isabella out of her misery.

However, Isabella's expression became even weirder. She stared at Diana and said, "Diana, haven't you seen a picture of your idol?"

Diana showed a guilty look, but she still nodded hard and said, "Nonsense. Of course, I have seen his pictures before. Otherwise, how would I find him?"

As a good old friend of her, how could Isabella not see that Diana was pretending? She said in a strange tone, "Then do you know who the person who was scolded by you just now was?"

Before Diana could react, she blurted out, "I know. A scumbag..."

Suddenly, she realized something was wrong. When she saw Isabella's strange expression, her heart suddenly skipped a beat. After thinking of a possibility, she quickly shook her head and said, "Impossible..."

Isabella couldn't help but say, "Congratulations. You met your idol just now and he was almost hit by you."

Diana froze and forced a smile, "That's impossible. Isabella, you must be joking with me."

Isabella shook her head and looked at her sympathetically, "It's really him. Otherwise, do you think I have such a bad eye for an ordinary man?"

In an instant, Diana's expression changed. Then, she let out a cry, "No!"

Chapter 466

Diana was shocked. She had never thought that such a thing would happen.

She was a passionate martial arts enthusiast. After hearing about Tom's story, she began to fall madly in love with Tom and regarded him as her idol. She was even more obsessed with him than with a star. She dreamed of meeting Tom, and her ultimate goal was to be a student of Tom. This time, she came to H City mainly for Tom. But she never thought that things would happen in this way when she really saw Tom.

When she realized that Isabella was not joking but telling the truth, she hurriedly chased after Tom...

However, it was too late as Tom had left the airport with Amelia and drove back.

Diana really wanted to cry but had no tears. For a moment, she was disappointed and felt that her life had turned gray.

She called her idol a scumbag, a gigolo, wanting to teach her idol a lesson just now. Therefore, her idol must be extremely disgusted with her.

"I feel so sad..." Diana sat by the flower pool, appearing depressed.

Isabella wanted to laugh when she saw her like this. She didn't expect that Diana, who was so unruly and hot-tempered, would be so sad.

"Are you okay?" Isabella patted her on the shoulder and asked with concern.

Diana immediately grabbed Isabella's hand and said excitedly, "Isabella, you should be my idol's girlfriend! When you are with my idol, you can persuade him to take me as his disciple!"

She stared at Isabella with anticipation.

The more she thought about it, the more she felt that this method would work. Then she said, "Isabella, you are so beautiful and have such a good figure. He will definitely like you! When you are with my idol, he will not hate me. With my martial arts talent, my idol will definitely be willing to accept me as a disciple... Oh no. Then, you will become my teacher's wife?"

Isabella saw that the more she talked, the more ridiculous she became. She couldn't listen any longer and said quickly, "Hey, what nonsense are you talking about? It's a mess! Didn't you see just now that Tom already has a confidant? Besides, he's married. How can I have a chance..."

Speaking of this, Isabella was quite uncomfortable. She, Isabella, was such a goddess. She had always been the only one who was pursued by others. Now, it was her turn to secretly love someone else.

Diana recalled the scene just now. It seemed that her idol was really not interested in Isabella, so she was extremely disappointed and could not help but sigh. For a moment, the two beautiful women sat beside the flower pool, lost in spirit, which made an eye-delighting view in the airport.

Speaking of Tom, when he and Amelia came out, they found that Amelia had been looking at him with a straight face, which made him feel guilty.

He was embarrassed and asked, "What's wrong? You keep looking at me like this."

Amelia did not say anything but looked at him with a fake smile. He couldn't stand it and continued to explain, "She was Isabella, Hawthorne's daughter. You saw her at Wade's birthday party before. Our relationship is not like what you expected."

Amelia said, "Hmm? What kind of relationship do I expect?"

"Uh..." Tom immediately became speechless and anxious, "I didn't lie to you. She and I..."

Amelia did not let Tom continue. She interrupted Tom and said with a smile, "Silly, I was just teasing you. It's not the first day I met you. I know what kind of person you are."

Tom asked doubtfully, "Do you really believe me?"

Instead, he was a little unsure.

Amelia held his hand and said gently, "Of course I believe you. If you were really a playboy, you wouldn't have rejected me many times back then. If I hadn't chosen to stand on your side despite others' objections, you wouldn't accept me now. So, would a 'timid' man like you be fooling around outside?"

Tom breathed a sigh of relief when he heard this. But when he heard this from Amelia, he felt something wrong.

Amelia soon realized this and blushed, "Actually, you don't have to worry about me being jealous. I'm a mistress. I'm very satisfied to be by your side. What right do I have to ask you to be loyal?"

Tom opened his mouth and wanted to say something. Amelia stopped him again and said, "You don't have to say it. I know everything. You are a good man, and you are also an absolutely outstanding man. A man like you is destined to be extraordinary and adored by many women. I am prepared for that. I believe that your wife has told you something similar."

Tom was silent.

It was true that Phoebe had said something similar to him more than once. But he felt ashamed to hear it. Was a man like him really qualified to have many women?

Amelia didn't say anything more about it. She held Tom's arm the whole time and cuddled him all the time. They were very sweet.

She knew her position and never wanted to have Tom all to herself. That was her idea and also a fact.

For her, as long as she could occasionally date Tom and have a place in his heart, that would be enough.

Today, when Amelia came back, Tom stayed with her for a day. But he didn't stay overnight. After dinner with Amelia, he left.

Amelia was a little disappointed. She did not force Tom to stay. She knew the border. The more she wanted, the less she would get. On the contrary, if a woman knew how to be considerate and think from a man's point of view, she would usually win their affections.

This was know-how that Amelia had long been familiar with.

After Tom returned to Dragon Bay, Phoebe and the two old people had already fallen asleep. He went back lightly, took a bath, changed a new set of clothes, and then returned to his room.

He saw Phoebe lying on the bed, breathing evenly. She seemed to have fallen asleep.

He felt a little guilty. In his mind, he always felt that this was an immoral thing, even if he had received Phoebe's acquiescence.

Alas, with a sigh, he stopped thinking and chose not to go to bed. Instead, he simply meditated on the ground to avoid waking Phoebe up.

But as soon as he sat down, Phoebe said, "Why don't you sleep on the bed?"

Tom was shocked and said, "Did I wake you up?"

"No." Phoebe shook her head. She turned on the bedside lamp, sat up from the bed, and said with a smile, "I'm not asleep."

Tom was even more embarrassed. He walked over, took Phoebe's hand, and said softly, "Is it because you are waiting for me?"

Phoebe shook her head with a smile and said, "Stop stinking. I didn't wait for you. I just couldn't sleep because I had coffee today."

Tom also smiled. He had found the answer from Phoebe's eyes.

Suddenly, he had the urge to confess. "Phoebe, actually I..."

However, he found that he could not continue.

However, Phoebe became very smart at this moment. Her eyes were full of wisdom as if she had seen him through. She smiled and said, "You don't have to bear the psychological burden. When you think the time is right, just bring me to meet her."

"Ah?" Tom's heart beat faster.

Phoebe had already turned off the lights and lay down. She grabbed her hand and asked him to lie down, saying, "Stop talking. I'm sleepy. Hug me..."

Chapter 467

They didn't speak all night.

In the morning, Tom woke up feeling refreshed.

Now his cultivation level has reached the peak of the middle third stage of the Innate Realm. He was just in want of an opportunity to break through to the fourth stage. And once he reached the fourth stage, he could fight with Sean, and it was even possible for him to suppress Sean.

In fact, Tom had a strong premonition that once he broke through to the fourth stage, Sean would be no match for him!

Absolutely, this opportunity was not so easy to find. If Tom had never found this opportunity, it would be possible that he would not be able to break through the fourth stage in the coming ten years.

After all, it was too difficult to reach the Innate Realm. And when he reached Innate Realm, it was much harder for him to take a step forward.

Tom had a lot of luck in getting to the third stage of Innate Realm within such a short time.

In the beginning, he had broken through to the Innate Realm by taking a Purification Pill. The Best Purification Pill was much more precious than the First Grade Purification Pill, and its medicinal effects were also much stronger, causing Tom to break through to the Innate Realm, directly at the peak of the first stage. After he had defeated Peter, he gained enlightenment through the battle. Then through a period of meditation, tonic intake, and consolidation, he successfully stepped into the second stage and slowly reached the top realm in the second stage.

Moreover, his battle with May was a challenge of overstepping the level. As an absolute superior in the Innate Realm, May was too powerful back then!

That time, Tom was already prepared to be thrashed. He didn't expect that he had defeated May, and the consequent benefits were immense.

He directly broke through from the second stage to the third stage.

Now, Sean's appearance once again brought him both pressure and motivation. Through the training on the cliff last time, he consolidated the third stage.

Tom got up at 5: 30 in the morning. With his current physique, he only needed to sleep two hours a day to regain his full energy.

Phoebe was still sleeping soundly. Tom got up lightly and made breakfast for the family. Then he went out for morning exercise.

The air in the morning was especially clean. Tom took a deep breath, refreshed, and then exhaled a long, foul breath, letting out all the filth from last night. He felt more relaxed and comfortable.

At his level, the structure of the body was already different from ordinary people.

A while ago, he actually started a second development. Most obviously, some organs of his body had developed, and he became healthier.

He also had a few extra teeth.

Normal people had 32 teeth, four of which were wisdom teeth, which not everyone could have. Tom had 32 teeth, which were considered healthy.

After he entered the Innate Realm, his gums began to change in some ways and he grew four more teeth.

In the past, his teeth were untidy, and he even had two decayed teeth. But now, his teeth became neat and white, and even the two decayed teeth began to fall off automatically, and then grew new teeth.

His change was even more obvious than a dental surgery!

It was very abnormal. If the dentist knew about it, he would definitely exclaim. After all, it was impossible for a normal adult to have such a thing!

In fact, the situation can be common. The most incredible thing was that his brain was able to secrete hormones on its own to constantly strengthen his physique. Therefore, he was full of vitality every day.

To some extent, this was considered genetic modification.

"Rumor has it that the Buddha had 40 teeth, and his cultivation reached an unfathomable level. After crossing the river with a reed, he died and his body could be preserved at normal temperature without rotting for a hundred years. This should be the legendary Immortal Realm. Now that I have 36 teeth, I should be able to grow 40 teeth by the time I reach the Immortal Realm, right? Most importantly, by then, I should be able to develop 50% of the brain's capacity!"

Tom ran his tongue over his teeth, which happened to be 36 teeth. He felt that he was now so powerful that if he were a criminal, he could wreak havoc on society!

Even if an army was deployed, it would be difficult to capture him for a while without a master of the Innate Realm.

Of course, he wouldn't do that. Doing so was like looking for death.

A light flashed in his eyes. "If I can really develop 50% of the brain's capacity, how powerful is that? I guess a single glance can scare an ordinary person to death!"

Thinking of that scene, Tom yearned for it.

At six o'clock in the morning, Tom went to a big park in Dragon Bay to prepare for his morning exercise.

At this point, there was no one in the park. There were only some old people, who were slowly practicing Tai Chi.

They all did a decent job of Tai Ji, but that was all. It was no longer a martial art at all, but a form of gymnastics, the only effect being to strengthen the body.

Tom also knew Tai Ji, but the Tai Ji he played was not like this. He could use Tai Ji to the extreme, and even a grandmaster of Bajiquan would feel inferior to him.

Tom was wearing loose sportswear today and his skin was fair, the whole person looked like an ordinary white-collar worker, nothing eye-catching.

And the way he exercised was very strange. He didn't do Tai Ji, push-ups, or running. He just stood there, bent his legs, and then opened his hands to make a hug. It was as if he really hugged a huge iron ball and was swayed around by it. The scene was quite strange.

However, there were too few people in the park now, and only a dozen old people were doing Tai Ji there.

Tom was standing in a special way. His movements were very slow, but the amount of physical strength he expended was huge. After a while, sweat broke out on his forehead, and there was a little heat coming out of his head, and his face turned red.

As time passed, there were more and more people in the park. Gradually, more and more young people came over.

Seven or eight of them walked over. When they passed Tom, a middle-aged man in the lead looked at Tom in surprise and said, "Hunyuan Pole?"

After saying this, he shook his head and denied it himself. He also showed a little disdain and said to the young people beside him. "Look carefully.

Standing is a very serious matter. You can't just stand on the wrong position. This is very harmful to your body. Don't say that you have practiced your Kung Fu thoroughly. You will cripple your body in minutes, get it?"

"I get it."

"I see, master..."

The middle-aged man nodded, walked to the side, pointed at Tom, and said to the group of young people, "Look, that guy is a fool. He stood on the wrong side of the Hunyuan Pole. He can't practice for ten years like this! And he will also train his body to collapse. You can't stand like this, get it?"

They had walked to a distance of more than twenty metres, and ordinary people could definitely not hear them. But how could they hide the content of their conversation from Tom? Their conversation was overheard by Tom.

Tom shook his head slightly and smiled helplessly. He didn't care.

What he was standing here was not Hunyuan Pole, but a new method invented by him, and it was only suitable for him to practice. If others practiced, it was indeed a problem.

Tom continued to stand, and the middle-aged man ignored him. Instead, he began to teach the young men martial arts. It turned out that he was a Boxing Master.

Tom found it interesting. It was the first time he met a Boxing Master. Just as he was almost done practicing, he simply stood there and watched.

But when he watched it, something happened immediately.

Not long after, he was discovered by the middle-aged man. He immediately looked over and pointed at Tom, "Hey, come here."

Chapter 468

Tom was stunned. He looked around and found there were no other people. Then he pointed to his nose and asked, "You are talking to me?"

The middle-aged man said impatiently, "Nonsense, is there anyone else besides you? Come here."

His tone was not friendly, and he was obviously arrogant, as if he had already regarded Tom as an ordinary person.

Tom thought for a while and decided to go over. It wasn't because that he was scared, but because he wanted to know what the man wanted him to do.

"What's the matter?" Tom said with a smile. As his cultivation improved, he became gentler and gentler, and he was friendly to others.

Those who did not reach the third stage of the Innate Realm could find that he was a supreme and powerful master.

This middle-aged boxer was only at Master Realm. He was at the same level as Diana he met yesterday. So he couldn't tell whether Tom was powerful or not. If he how powerful Tom was, he would be trembling with fear and kneel down to him. How dare he talk to Tom so arrogantly?

The middle-aged man looked up and down at Tom and found that Tom was in good spirits and had an extraordinary demeanor. He could tell at a glance that he was well-fed rich who enjoyed a good life.

"You peeked at me for a long time. Do you want to practice martial arts?" The middle-aged man stared at Tom and said. He straightened up with his hands behind his back. The breeze lifted his clothes, which made him like a great master.

He was 1.8meters tall and muscular. An ordinary person would really be intimidated and awed.

But Tom just thought he was funny.

Tom held back his laughter and shook his head, "You misunderstood. I don't want to practice martial arts."

"Hmm?!"

The middle-aged man immediately glared at Tom with a fierce expression. He took a step forward and stared straight at him with big and scary eyes.

"I think you were standing Huanyuan Pole. That is to say, you know something about martial arts. You've been learning my skills secretly. According to the rules of martial arts, you worship me as your master, or I won't spare you!"

The middle-aged man spoke louder and fiercer. His expression and loud voice attracted the attention of some elders who were practicing Tai Chi nearby.

Tom frowned slightly. Strictly speaking, he didn't need to obey the rules of martial arts, because he had never worshiped anyone as his master, so he did not know these so-called martial arts rules.

Besides, he just looked at him for a while, and he didn't really teach them any real skills. He was just teaching some very basic knowledge, which was not secret at all and even could be found on the internet.

"I'm not a martial artist. I don't know these rules." Tom said faintly, "Besides, how can you teach secret skills to your disciples in a park?"

Indeed, if the middle-aged man was teaching his disciples in a private place, and Tom peeked at him, it was indeed Tom's fault.

The point was that they were both in the park. It was a public place. There were people everywhere. Everyone would take a look when they passed by.

the middle-aged man knew this too, but he just wanted Tom to worship him. He said in a deep voice, "I don't care! You peeked at me for more than ten minutes, and you were secretly learning my skills."

Tom frowned even tighter. He was a great master at the third stage of the Innate Realm, but an ordinary martial artist at Master Realm scolded him of secretly learning his skills? It made him uncomfortable.

"Then what do you want?" Tom's tone was much colder.

But the middle-aged man thought that Tom was timid and afraid. He was overjoyed and couldn't help but smile. He said, "What do I want? It's very simple. Everything will be according to martial arts' rules! You can either worship me as your master by bowing to me three times and kowtowing to me nine times. Or you can defeat me and convince me through your strength. But from now on, you will be my mortal enemy!"

After Tom heard this, a strange expression appeared on his face. He really didn't expect that he would get into such trouble just because he had looked at him for a while.

In fact, it was not a big deal for him. But he felt embarrassed to be challenged by the man at Master Realm.

The man was so weak that Tom did not even have the desire to fight.

The middle-aged man was very conceited that Tom said nothing more. He thought that Tom had been frightened, and his smile grew bigger.

He was indeed a Boxing Master, and two of his disciples were forced to worship him as their masters in the same way.

Of course, these two young men were unwilling to worship him at first and chose to fight with him. And of course he won. How could ordinary people be his match? In this way, the defeated young men were willing to worship him as their master.

And they had to pay tuition fees. He charged at least 100,000 dollars a year, not to mention other expenses.

That was how he made money.

Unfortunately, he met Tom, someone he absolutely couldn't afford to provoke.

"What's your decision? I'm telling you, secretly learning other's skills is a very serious action, and if we were in ancient times, it was like you had killed my father. You would have been killed!" The middle-aged man said fiercely.

Tom said, "Master, let me tell you this. It's impossible for me to worship you as my master. I'm not interested in your martial arts at all."

The middle-aged man's face immediately darkened, and he said Tom with scary eyes and said, "So you're going to fight me? Okay! Come on! But I tell you beforehand, I won't be polite to you. Don't be regretful after I cripple you!"

After saying that, he walked over and picked up a brick on the ground. Then, he broke the brick directly. The remaining half was also broken in two by him.

Ordinary people were frightened when they saw this.

Over the years, the middle-aged man had conquered many ordinary people and made them worship him with this performance.

And he was confident that Tom would definitely be frightened by him.

However, when he looked up, he found that Tom was completely indifferent. He became ashamed and angry, thinking that Tom was too ignorant and arrogant!

Tom said, "Since that's the case, you start first."

Tom made a quick decision. He wanted to finish this before the park became busy.

Chapter 469

Tom just stood there lazily without warming himself up. It seemed that he was extremely contemptuous of the middle-aged man.

The middle-aged man sneered when he heard that Tom was bold enough to fight him after seeing him break the brisk.

He had seen a lot of people like Tom, who had blind confidence in himself but were severely humiliated by him. Just like his other disciples, Tom would worship him and obediently paid the tuition fees, and Tom had to bow and kowtow to him.

"Okay! You're bold." The middle-aged man sneered and then rolled up his sleeves. He looked like a great master. He thought he was a hero in the martial arts movies and was about to teach the villains a lesson. "In that case, I'll teach you a lesson!"

Tom just thought he was funny. How dramatic he was! He even pretended to be a great master.

His other disciples were all excited to see this. They looked at Tom as if he was a clown who was about to be beaten up by his master. They had experienced that and had seen such a scene many times.

Tom shook his head and smiled bitterly. He thought he would be laughed at if others heard that he had fought a man only at Master Realm.

Tom wondered if he should just run away. Anyway, the middle-aged man didn't know who he was.

But he gave up on this idea. After all, he would continue his morning exercise in the park. When he met this guy again, he would still be in trouble. Moreover, if others heard that, his reputation would be ruined.

So he thought about it carefully and decided to teach the man a lesson, and the man would retreat.

While he was thinking, the man had already started to attack him. With a loud roar, he made a gesture of Mantis Fist, then glided towards Tom.

Tom thought that his gesture was quite good. It seemed that he had learned something.

But his level was too low. In Tom's opinion, his movements were flawed, and he was as slow as a turtle.

Tom just dodged leisurely, and tripped the man with a move of his foot. The middle-aged man fell to the ground with a plop.

"Sorry, I win." Tom held his fist in another hand and turned to leave.

The middle-aged man was startled, and so were his disciples. They did not expect that Tom could dodge so easily.

And he even tripped over their master. How could their invincible master be defeated?

The middle-aged man was furious. He suddenly fell down and broke his nose and bled out. It didn't hurt, but it was too embarrassing! He felt humiliated in front of his disciples. If he just let Tom go, how could he maintain his high prestige?

His reaction was very fast. He bounced up and shouted at Tom, "Boy, how dare you ambush me? Stop!!"

Then he chased after Tom!

This time, he exerted all his might. His speed was faster than before, and he used more strength. He punched Tom in the back, which was very vicious. If an ordinary person was punched by him, the guy would be crippled or even killed!

Tom frowned again. Of course, he couldn't be hit. Even if he did, he wouldn't be hurt at all.

The point was that man was ruthless. If he was an ordinary person rather than a master at Innate Realm, he would be killed.

"Friend, are you too ruthless?" Tom turned around and easily dodged the punch. He glared at the middle-aged man and said angrily.

When the man saw that Tom could hide his punch easily, he immediately realized that Tom was a great master. He became even angrier. "You do know something about martial arts! How dare you say you were not secretly learning from me?"

"I didn't say that. You're self-righteous." Tom said faintly. He became impatient. "And, you should stop. You are no match for me. If you think had learned from you secretly, then I apologize to you. I'm leaving now. That's all."

After hearing Tom's words, the middle-aged man became even angrier. "Bullshit! I'm Trenton, the ninth generation successor of the Mantis Fist. How can I not be your match? You stole my skills and didn't worship me. You can leave!"

After saying that, Trenton jumped on him again. As he approached, he made a mantis cry. It was as if he was really a huge mantis, seeming quite powerful.

Tom became even more impatient. He scolded him, "shameless", and he didn't show any mercy any longer. He went straight ahead and started to counterattack.

Tom was faster than Trenton. He kept punching and kicking Trenton. Of course, Tom didn't use all his strength. He didn't want to hurt Trenton, but just wanted Trenton to know the gap between them so that he would give up.

Trenton was very angry. He kept trying to fight back. Unfortunately, his strength was really far from Tom's. He was not able to fight back Tom at all.

And his face was slapped twice. Although he was not very painful, he felt humiliated.

In the end, Tom took Trenton down and pressed him to the ground. He put his left fist on Trenton's face and said faintly, "Are you defeated?"

Trenton was gnashing his teeth. He knew clearly that he was no match for Tom at all!

Now his face was burning with pain. His disciples, who had worshiped him, were looked at him with doubt and ridicule, which made him even more uncomfortable.

He was very regretful. If he had known that Tom was really a great master, he wouldn't have provoked him.

Seeing that he still refused to admit defeat, Tom added a little more strength to pressed Trenton harder. Suddenly, Trenton felt pain and cried out immediately, "I lose...I lose..."

"Really?"

"Really! please let me go."

"Okay."

Only then did Tom let Trenton go.

Trenton's face was now bruised. He was completely humiliated by Tom.

He quickly glanced at his disciples, and their eyes hurt his, and he became more regretful.

"Well, senior, how should I call you? Judging by your strength, you have reached Extrinsic Peak, right?" Trenton rubbed his hands and asked in awe.

Tom nodded. Seeing the man like this, he felt a little funny and said, "Why, you don't want me to kowtow to you now?"

Trenton was startled and smiled awkwardly. He said quickly, "I dare not! Senior, I was just joking with you!"

Tom looked at him and said meaningfully, "Your Mantis Fist is not bad. In the future, be a good teacher. Don't play tricks again. There are many masters hiding in the country. If you meet a master at Innate Realm, you can't afford the consequences."

When Trenton heard this, his heart skipped a beat. So he had to smile obediently.

Tom wanted to say something else, but suddenly, he felt something and suddenly looked across the lake. The next moment, his eyes were burning and he rushed towards the lake.

He stepped on the water with her toes. After a while, he disappeared from their sight.

When Trenton saw this, he was so scared that his scalp tingled. He said with a trembling voice, "How could that be possible..."

Chapter 470

Yes, Tom had just stepped on the lake and left like an arrow as if he was walking on the ground.

This scene was so shocking to Trenton that it totally blew his mind. At that moment, he even thought that he was hallucinating, but soon, he pinched his thigh hard and it hurt a lot. Moreover, he heard the disciples's exclamation behind him and realized this was not an illusion. Tom was really crossing the river stepping on a reed!

In fact, he was wrong. Tom wasn't that capable. He didn't cross the lake by stepping on a reed. He stepped on the water, which was similar to the lightness skill in martial arts movies, but it wasn't that he didn't have any weight. Instead, he stepped on the water very quickly, evenly spreading the resistance to the surface of the water, and at the same time, he reduced the pressure on both feet to achieve the effect of stepping water.

Originally, he didn't want to show it in front of ordinary people, but he couldn't care less now, because he just found Sunny, right across the lake.

Trenton was so scared that his face turned pale, his legs were shaking, and his lips were trembling. "He is an e-e-expert of the Innate Realm!"

Then he gave himself a hard slap, full of fear and regret, and wailed. "What the hell have I done? I actually said that he, an expert of the Innate Realm, stole other's skills, and I even attacked him..."

The disciples were all stunned. The scene just now was extremely shocking and even mind-boggling to them.

"Ma-master, is that person a human or a ghost?"

A disciple asked in a trembling voice. His eyes were filled with fear and a sense of worship and excitement that he did not even realize.

Immediately, another disciple asked, "Master, what is he? He could walk on water."

"There are no ghosts or demons in this world. I think you are bewitched. There must be something wrong with the lake. He tampered with it. I'll try it!"

A disciple turned around. He was a firm materialist and didn't believe that Tom did that on his own, so he tried to get into the water...

The result was very cruel. He couldn't step on the water like Tom did and fell directly into the water. The water was so cold that he kept crying out and screaming and ended up being such a mess.

Trenton had to get into the water and save him. This time, he finally understood that Tom was not playing tricks, but really capable. For a moment, everyone worshipped and respected Tom.

Just then, three people came over, and they obviously knew Trenton. Seeing them in such a mess, they asked in surprise, "Brother Liao, why are you all covered in water? Did you fall into the water?"

When Trenton saw these three people, he greeted them. They were his junior apprentice brothers and sisters. He was embarrassed that they saw him in such a sorry state. He then simply told them what happened just now.

"What? An expert of the Innate Realm?!"

"He stepped on the water and didn't wet his pants at all. This is not something that can be done by an ordinary master of the Innate Realm!

The person is at least in the third stage!"

The other beautiful woman with a nice figure opened her eyes wide and said excitedly, "Brother, is that man you're talking about very young? He looks like an ordinary white-collar worker. His skin is very fair, and he is about 1.83 meters. He looks gentle and cultured.
Right?"

Trenton was stunned. He looked at the excited girl in front of him and asked curiously, "Sister, do you know this master?"

The girl clapped her hands and said even more excitedly, "That's him. Tom, the number one master in G State, a master in the Innate Realm. And he is less than thirty years old! He is my idol!"

This girl was Diana. She came here early this morning with her two senior brothers for morning exercises. She didn't expect to meet Tom, her idol again.

In an instant, she was so excited that she even wanted to cry.

Hearing her words, Trenton and the two men were also shocked and blurted out. "It's him?!"

"He is the legend! I heard that his cultivation has reached an unfathomable level. Even May, the female devil, is not his match. He has killed her!"

"G State's number one expert. If it was him, stepping on the water was not surprising then."

They were all shocked and looked in the direction of Tom's disappearance. They were so excited and could not calm down for a long time. This lake was not small. It was more than 300 meters from here to the opposite side. But Tom just left like that, which was obvious how high his cultivation was.

Diana's eyes shone brightly. She clenched her fists and said firmly and yearningly, "I will definitely see you again. I will be your disciple!"

Tom did not know that Diana had said those. If he knew, he would be very distressed.

This was the first time he stepped on the water, so he didn't use the right force due to the lack of practice, which caused his shoes to get wet. But soon, he mastered the skills and sped up.

Not everyone could walk by stepping on water. At least they had to reach the third stage of the Innate Realm and consolidate his cultivation before they could do it. Otherwise, Trenton wouldn't have been so shocked. After all, masters of the Innate Realm were already rare, let alone those at the third stage.

Tom was very fast. He was leaning forward and his arms were tightly pressed against his body. He was in the shape of a bullet, moving at high speed through his legs to reduce wind resistance.

He had already locked onto Sunny's smell and breath. He could sense Sunny was right in front of him, and the distance between them was shortening.

In the past, even if he met Sunny, he couldn't do anything about her and could not catch up with her at all. Now his strength had improved a lot, and he could finally catch up with her.

He had wanted to see Sunny for a long time, but Sunny had been avoiding him. She had assumed an air of superiority, which made him uncomfortable.

Now that he found Sunny, he would not let her go easily. He had to ask her what was going on with his mother and when he could meet her!

He was getting closer and closer...

Tom's legs were so fast that the trail could not be seen clearly like the propeller of a helicopter. The shoes he was wearing couldn't bear the speed at all and had already burst open. It was conceivable how fast he was.

Finally, Tom saw the red figure in front of him on the ground. It was Sunny.

Sunny frowned. She was just on the spur of the moment and wanted to come over and take a look at Tom, but she didn't expect Tom would follow her. What was more unexpected was that Tom had unknowingly grown to such a level that he even could catch up with her.

Sunny tried to speed up, but she still couldn't get rid of Tom, which made her a little helpless and embarrassed. She felt that Tom was too self-righteous.

It was not that she was so not strong as Tom, but that she had been in the declining period for the past few days. Her cultivation had fallen to the third stage, and it would take two days for her to get back to her peak.

If this went on, Tom would catch up with her sooner or later...

She sighed and did not run anymore.
Instead, she chose to stop and meet Tom.

In her plan, it was far from time to meet Tom.
