

Chapter 401

Wade shuddered, became afraid, and quickly flattered him, "Yes. We have you around, why shall we be afraid of Tom?"

May glared at him, then looked at Tom without concealing her murderous intention to kill Tom.

There were thousands of people present, and none of them didn't feel creepy.

"There's going to be a good show!"

"Yes, May and Tom are about to fight. They are both top masters at Innate Realm. Their life and death fight will definitely be marvelous!"

"We didn't come here and got nothing."

"I have to admire Tom's guts. At this time, he still dares to take the initiative to provoke May! He has balls!"

"Hmph. I think he's brainless. Who is May? She's a famous female devil. She killed every family member of her enemy more than ten years ago. Now that more than ten years have passed, her cultivation has reached a terrifying level. Tom is just a newborn. How can he be May's opponent?"

"That's not necessarily true. Tom had won Peter. And Peter is also a master at Innate Realm who has enjoyed a good reputation for a long time."

"Gee, what is that Peter? May is a lot more powerful than him. Even if Peter and Tom united, they might not be May's match. Tom wants to defeat May himself? What a dream!"

"Damn, is it true that May is so powerful?"

"Of course. She is a true genius who can only be seen once in 30 years."

Everyone present began to discuss enthusiastically and was very excited.

When Isabella heard these discussions, she asked worriedly, "Dad, is Tom really not May's match?"

Myles sighed and said, "They are not on the same level. What do you think?"

Hearing this, Isabella clenched her lips.

Coen also knew about it now and was especially excited. He thought Tom would die this time.

Similarly, many people were waiting to see Tom being defeated.

Everyone thought that with May's character, she would immediately use all her strength to defeat Tom, but May did not do so. She took her eyes away from Tom and continued to celebrate Wade's birthday.

Tom also took his eyes back. The corner of his mouth rose slightly and a smile appeared.

Tonight's birthday party, because of Tom's appearance, became different. The atmosphere was very weird. There were thousands of people here, but it was surprisingly quiet, and no one dared to make any noise.

Wade had May as his backer, and now he was not afraid of Tom at all. Instead, he felt very excited. He felt that Tom came here purely for looking for death. After May took action and killed Tom, his position would be even more unshakable!

Thinking of this, he was especially happy, and the smile on his face could not be concealed.

He said loudly to everyone, "Today is my thirty-second birthday. Thank you for coming. Let me give you all a toast!"

As he spoke, he raised his glass and toasted everyone.

There were nearly 4,000 people here. All of them stood up to show respect to Wade. Even the Hawthorne and his family members, people from the Cloud and Sky Pavilion, and other dignitaries all stood up and toasted Wade.

Only Tom and Amelia were still sitting there, unmoved.

Amelia felt great pressure at this moment. She was a person who had seen and experienced a lot before, but the situation here still made her breathless.

The more she felt like this, the more she admired Tom. It was because Tom was very calm, drinking and eating his own way without being affected at all.

Just as Wade was about to gulp down his drink, Tom made a move. He threw the pot at Wade hard.

The speed was extremely fast, and ordinary people could hardly see any trace. They could only hear a sharp piercing sound. It was as if the air had been cut. The sound was especially piercing.

The wine pot reached in front of Wade from tens of meters away in less than a second. It was about to hit Wade in the face! It was conceivable that once it hit him, Wade would faint on the spot and his face would be disfigured.

Wade was at least a master at Extrinsic Peak. He immediately felt the power of this wine pot. He was so scared that his head went numb and his face turned pale.

Just then, May, who was standing next to him, made a move. Her expression was cold, and she made a bold move to catch the wine pot which came quickly.

However, even if she had caught the pot, the wine in the pot was still spilled out because of the huge inertia. More than half of the wine was poured on Wade, making him be especially in a mess.

Wade was frightened. He panted heavily with a layer of cold sweat on his forehead.

This scene shocked everyone. No one expected Tom to do this to Wade.

When Wade came back to his senses, he was furious and pointed at Tom and scolded, "Tom, are you looking for death..."

Wade's face was twisted. The wine he had just been poured had a high alcohol concentration. Some of the wine got into his eyes, making him feel pain.

Tom ignored him and drank and ate without caring about other things.

The whole room quieted down.

May snorted, and with a flick of her hand, the wine pot flew towards Tom even faster.

Tom didn't even look at it. He dodged it easily, but the person behind him was not lucky. That person was hit hard in the chest by the wine pot, and a mouthful of blood spurted out, making a miserable scream.

The people around them all dodged quickly, and their faces turned pale with fear.

"May, no matter how domineering you are, you don't have to attack the guests, do you?" Tom said with a smile, his face full of amusement.

May's face was extremely gloomy. Tom was challenging her majesty!

Wade was so angry that he gritted his teeth. "Tom is so hateful. Fuck!" He thought.

"Tom, you're risking your neck." May narrowed her eyes and showed her murderous intent.

Even Wade, who was standing next to her, felt creepy.

Tom didn't answer her, but said directly to Wade, "Today is your thirty-second birthday. As your old friend, I'll give you a gift."

As he spoke, he snapped his fingers and a few people came in carrying a huge object. A piece of white cloth was draped over it. Tom moved the white cloth. The thing under the cloth was a bronze clock which was half a man tall!

At Wade's birthday party, Tom sent him a bronze clock. This could be regarded as a curse to let Wade die as early as possible.

Everyone in the room was shocked to see this. Tom was going to have a fight openly with May. None of them would stop until one was dead!

Wade was so angry that he almost went crazy. He pointed at Tom and cursed.

Tom smiled. Others only saw him holding the bronze clock in one hand, which weighed more than a hundred kilograms, and moved forward step by step to Wade and May. His imposing manner was magnificent. He was like the god of war. Everything that stood in front of him dispersed. People were so scared that they quickly got away.

Chapter 402

Tom became more and more dominating as he stepped forward. The huge stadium suddenly quieted down. Everyone held their breath and stared at Tom.

Not everyone had the guts to challenge the entire the Halls on his own.

Amelia looked at him from behind and clenched her fists. She was so nervous that she could hardly breathe.

Tom's broad back left an indelible impression on her!

In fact, she was not the only one. There were many people present. When they looked at Tom's back, they were also deeply shocked.

Isabella's eyes widened and her breathing quickened. Tom was so charming that she would never forget him for the rest of her life!

"Tom is really a big shot. No wonder his cultivation is at such a high level although he's so young. If it were another ordinary man, he would be crushed immediately, let alone dared to challenge May."

"Yes, Tom is really a genius. Unfortunately, he is still too naive and impulsive. He shouldn't have challenged May at this time."

"What a pity. Tom will be killed today..."

Master Fann, Hawthorne, Myles and the others all shook their heads and felt sorry for him. They didn't think Tom could defeat May from the bottom of their hearts.

There were also a lot of people who were waiting to see Tom's being embarrassed. At this moment, Tom was pressured and walked forward with his back up.

The pressure was so great that it was unprecedented. Tom had never experienced such a scene before.

The pressure pressing on him was overwhelming. His muscles and bones were under great pressure.

It was a wonderful feeling. It was like a shy man was forced to speak in front of thousands of people. That kind of pressure could really overwhelm a person.

Tom was under much more pressure than that.

Because he would be the enemy of the entire the Halls and the enemy of May. Moreover, May alone could scary enough.

With just one glance, Tom could tell that May was far more powerful than Peter!

No wonder she could be called a rare genius in thirty years, but it was because of this that he became more excited. He felt it challenging to fight such a genius.

As he walked over, hundreds of experts surrounded him. There were more than a dozen of them who were at Extrinsic Peak. They were all staring at him, trying to beat Tom up.

Tom stood five meters away from Wade and May. He stopped and put down the huge copper clock, making a dull sound.

"Tom, you really want to go to hell today. Very well, you are a dead man today!" Wade gritted his teeth and looked at Tom with a ferocious expression.

Tom laughed. He slapped the copper bell and made a loud thud. He said with a sneer, "Wade, you shouldn't have got Phoebe and her family into trouble! Today, you would be killed! by! me!"

After saying this, Tom suddenly threw the copper clock out.

The force was so strong that the thick copper bell rushed towards Wade at a fast speed.

Feeling the tremendous force, May couldn't be calm anymore. Her expression finally changed. At the critical moment, she had to grab Wade's arm and pulled him violently, so he could avoid the bronze bell.

But the Halls behind him were not so lucky. They were hit and fell to the ground, seriously injured and screaming.

When people present saw this scene, their scalp tingled and they gasped sacredly. They did not expect Tom to be so fierce. The bronze clock of more than a hundred kilograms was like a basketball to him, and it hurt so many people in an instant.

May was finally angry. Her eyes widened and she roared, "Tom, you must die!"

Then she couldn't hold her anger any longer and directly attacked Tom.

It had to be said that May's cultivation was really incredible. With her move, Tom felt as if the sky had been torn apart and collapsed.

If Tom had not defeated Peter, he would not be able to bear this move and his spirit would be affected and he would have been defeated in an instant.

May's cultivation was so high that she could affect the spiritual world of an expert in the Innate Realm. It was shocking!

Fortunately, after the war with Peter, Tom's strength had greatly increased, or else he would be killed by May now.

Almost in an instant, Tom returned to normal. Facing May's slap, Tom did not choose to take it. He took two steps back to avoid it. When May's momentum was half weaker, he made a violent attack and punched May in the ribs.

May moaned. Her eyes seemed to have turned black now, which were very scary. In an unexpected angle, she suddenly stepped out and wanted to kick Tom to death first.

And Tom did not let her succeed. He immediately changed his moves. In a second, he used three kinds of methods to fight May. The speed was extremely fast and overwhelming.

All the furnishings around them were blown up in all directions as if there were explosives on them, and some of them were cracked.

"They start!"

"That's amazing! How powerful they are! They are no longer human beings!"

"They are at Innate Realm! I think they're similar to the superhuman, just like superheroes in movies."

"This is excellent. It's worth it to see two masters of the Innate Realm fight once in my life!"

"If only I had the same power..."

"You? Wake up..."

More than 3,000 people at the scene began to get excited, and many people still wanted to take out their cell phones to take a video.

Unfortunately, Tom and May's movements changed too fast. And their phones were not professional equipment, so even though they recorded the fight, they could not see their movements clearly.

Tom finally felt the horror of May. He thought even if there were two Peter, they couldn't compare to May. No wonder so many people were afraid of May.

"Tom, your strength is indeed beyond my expectations. In the future, I may not be your match. But today, you will die!" May stopped and stood ten meters away from Tom. They looked at each other.

Tom smiled and said, "May, as a master of the Innate Realm, you actually attacked ordinary people. No matter how high your level is, you are just a piece of trash! I can kill your lover, Peter, and I can also kill you."

When Peter was mentioned, May was furious. "Tom, you killed my senior, I must kill you for revenge!"

"You want my life? Well, if you can, come and get it! Hahaha..."

Tom burst out laughing. At this moment, he was confident and unrestrained and heroic, like an immortal with incomparable charm.

Chapter 403

Many of the women present were deeply impressed by Tom's confidence!

Especially Amelia and Isabella, whose hearts were thumping with excitement.

Their eyes were fixed on Tom. At this moment, Tom was so handsome, confident, and charming.

Amelia bit her lips and clenched her fists tightly. She knew that she would never forget Tom in her life. If Tom was really killed by May, then she would follow him to die.

Logically speaking, for a woman who had seen too much hypocrisy, she would not fall in love with a man so easily. Especially she and this man had not had any unforgettable experience.

But in fact, she fell in love with Tom hopelessly. She was like a flying moth darting into the fire. Falling in love with Tom was destined.

Isabella's feeling was not that strong but Tom's confidence also left an indelible impression on her.

But to May, Tom's words were a great provocation, a great offense, which ignited her anger.

"You Will Die a Terrible Death!" She was gnashing her teeth. And then she no longer retained her strength. Instead, she exerted herself all of a sudden.

Her tsunami-like momentum swept through the entire stadium. And more than 3,000 people present were terrified, trembling as if they were frozen.

Master Fann said in horror, "May is really horrible. Is that the cultivation of the higher level of the Innate Realm? Even we can feel such a huge shock, and I can't imagine how much pressure Tom has to bear."

"May's so powerful. I didn't know she's so powerful before. Many people thought that Peter's cultivation was above her. But the contrary is true!"

"She's scary..."

"Tom is doomed!"

Hawthorne's heart beat faster too. He was just an ordinary person, and May's terrifying momentum had done huge damage to his heart. Sitting on the stool, his face was pale and he was breathing heavily. He had to take medicine to keep calm.

Hawthorne was not the only one who was suffering. Many elderly people felt overwhelmed too.

And her opponent, Tom, did feel unprecedented pressure, which made his breathing a little faster.

In his spiritual world, May was no longer a human being, but a dark female devil with three wings on her back. Her wings were made of black iron and were extremely strong!

After a while, May exerted her spiritual power even harder, and in an instant, her consciousness enveloped Tom.

Tom could clearly feel that the air around him seemed to become sticky at this moment. It was not a gas anymore, but turned into liquid. Of course, this was his illusion. It was because May's momentum was too overbearing and fierce, which directly affected him.

How powerful May was!

'Bang'!

Tom did not dodge the punch from May, but chose to punch her back.

He couldn't retract but move forward now.

Moving forward brought him hope of life, but retreating brought him only death!

An invisible sound wave, emanating from the center, made a huge noise, forcing the people who were close to them to cover their ears. It was too loud, much louder than they could bear.

"Good!"

Tom roared loudly and then began to fight back. He was fighting May with all his might.

Their moves were extremely exquisite and fast, much better than those in martial arts movies.

'Bang bang'...

They kept moving, jumping, punching each other, and the sound they made excited people present.

Some ordinary people with poor eyesight could not follow their movements at all.

'Boom'!

May's raised her right palm up to her head, then flipped it down again. With such a simple action, it seemed that she had overturned heaven and earth and held and pressed the earth on Tom. It was domineering. May seemed to be using the entire continent to suppress

Tom.

And Tom felt an unprecedented sense of crisis. He subconsciously wanted to step back and had an idea that he could not bear it.

But he had no room to retreat, because he knew that once he retreated, he would be at a disadvantage, and then would be defeated and killed by May, such a master!

So at the critical moment, Tom made the quickest and most correct decision, which was to punch her in the chest to break May's continent.

Now he was the god of war. Facing the suppression of god, he was unyielding, unwilling, and he shouted out his resistance. He would stab a hole in the sky and destroy the earth!

'Bang'!

Almost instantly, Tom's punch hit May in the palm. It seemed that he was taking advantage of it.

But actually, he suffered losses because May had prepared for a long time. Her punch bringing was to stamp on Tom, but Tom fought back immediately, though not as powerful as May's.

'Poof'!

So Tom spat out a mouthful of blood. May's punch hurt him, mainly because May was too powerful.

"Oh my god!"

"Tom!!"

In the crowd, Amelia and Isabella both screamed out. When they saw Tom hurt, they were extremely anxious. Amelia's eyes were red and she almost burst into tears.

As for Wade, he was so excited that he couldn't hide the smile on his face. He kept shouting, "Kill him! Kill him! Hahaha..."

Surprise flashed through May's eyes. She did not expect that Tom would be able to stand her punch. It was one of her trump cards. Even if it were Peter was here, he couldn't stand it.

And his brain was smashed by her.

"Tom, you lost." May sneered without stopping and began to attack Tom even more fiercely.

Tom's eyes were indifferent. At this moment, he seemed to have suddenly lost his soul and become an emotionless machine.

Facing May's crazy attack, he had no choice but to fight back.

Chapter 404

Tom did not respond to May. Others thought Tom was doomed.

However, they were still surprised that Tom could stand May's attack for so long. They had thought that Tom was vulnerable and would be defeated soon.

They were both masters of the Innate Realm, and they caused huge damage!

The fight between Tom and Peter in the forest had caused such a big stir, and it could be imagined that how shocking the damage was due to the fight between Tom and May. Everything they had touched exploded and flew around.

Fortunately, they were in the gym, and there were no residents nearby, or else there would be big news. But even so, the people around the stadium were wondering what happened, and they thought that there was a demolition.

There were many people on the spot, and many of them were accidentally injured. They were trembling with fear.

"My God, are they still human beings? They're so scary!"

"They must be tyrannosaurus?!"

"No wonder it's said that the masters of Innate Realm are extraordinary, like the superheroes in the movie. It is true!"

"I think even bullets can't hurt them.
Amazing, how amazing!"

Everyone dodged far away, afraid that they would be hurt because they could not stand the damage caused by Tom and May.

Tom had now been at a wonderful stage. He had blocked his senses of smell, hearing, vision, and touch.

At this moment, he seemed to be the only one in the world. More than 3,000 people on the spot seemed to disappear. There was only silence. And even May's figure was blurred in his vision.

It was as if he had entered his own meditation, using his own instincts to manipulate his body, so that he could block out the mental impact May had on him.

And May immediately noticed that and her expression changed for the first time. "This bastard..."

May was especially shocked because she had never seen such a method before. How could he manage to block all his senses and fight against her relying on his instincts? She even felt that Tom was soulless and was just a robot.

She had never seen such a method in her lifetime! It was beyond her comprehension of the Innate Realm. She even suspected that Tom was already dead.

The key was Tom was more powerful and frightening after he closed his senses and became a 'shell'. May was under great stress and felt that she couldn't even stand Tom's attack.

The main reason why she was able to stamp on Tom was that her spiritual cultivation was much stronger than Tom's. She kept invading Tom's spiritual world and finally made Tom unable to exert his strongest power. Therefore, she would defeat him.

But now, Tom's spiritual world was no longer affected by her. In this way, her advantage over Tom disappeared. What else could she use to defeat Tom?

But fortunately, her realm was higher than Tom's, so she could defeat Tom with her martial arts alone.

Since that was the case, May stopped invading Tom's spiritual world. Instead, she attacked Tom violently.

Although she was a woman, her martial arts were incredible. Not only were her martial arts great, but her physical strength was also endless.

If it were not Tom but other masters of the Innate Realm, they would have been scared by May's fierce attack.

But Tom was not affected at all, because he was already a 'shell'.

And his fighting instincts were shockingly terrifying. Like a sophisticated computer, his fighting instincts could learn May's moves in a short time, and then improve himself. Gradually, they were matched in skill and strength.

May was getting more and more frightened. She even suspected that Tom was not a human being, but a machine!

All of a sudden, she roared at Tom. A huge wave of sound expanded from her mouth and rushed towards Tom. The sound was so loud and deafening that even Wade, who was hundreds of meters away, could not stand it. His ears buzzed with pain and he had to cover his ears. And it was more unbearable for other ordinary people.

It was as powerful as the Lion's Roar in the martial arts movies.

This was one of May's trump cards. Even if Tom was a master of the Innate Realm, his eardrums would have been broken and then he would lost his strength and be defeated.

But Tom seemed to guess that. When May exerted 'the Lion's Roar', he reacted in advance. His earlobe pressed against his earholes tightly, avoiding the impact of May's roar.

Almost at the same time, Tom also roared at May. The roar was as loud as May's. It was even louder. It was a dragon chant, shocking others' minds.

May's expression changed in an instant!

She did not expect that Tom could learn that so quickly, and his roar was even more powerful than hers. The wave of roar blew her hair and clothes up. It could be seen how strong it was and how loud it was.

Bang!

May's brain exploded. She couldn't press her earlobe against her earholes like Tom. At this moment, her eardrums were about to break, and blood flowed out of her ears. And she was extremely shocked! As a result, her movements were a little slower. And in front of such a top expert like Tom, such a flaw was fatal.

Tom immediately seized the opportunity and punched her quietly. It was as if his fist had appeared from the void, breaking all May's retreats. May could not dodge at all, so she could only watch this punch hitting her chest.

With a thud and a heavy bang, May spat out blood. His strength was so great that it destroyed all her strength and she flew out like a piece of scum.

Then she fell heavily to the ground, her face full of pain. She was seriously injured!

The scene quieted down all of a sudden.

Everyone was dumbfounded. They couldn't believe that the scene in front of them was true. May was defeated by Tom? This was too... unbelievable!

His punch broke several ribs of May and all her confidence.

She lost, and she lost to a junior like Tom!

Wade's pupils constricted, and his face was filled with fear and disbelief. He was pale, and his legs were trembling. He kept saying, "Impossible, impossible... How could Tom win..."

Chapter 405

He was right. May was a top expert in the upper level of Innate Realm. She was famous in the circle, and many people were afraid of her. Tom, on the other hand, was a newcomer who had just been cultivated to the Innate Realm for less than half a year.

Moreover, a few months ago, Tom was merely an expert in Extrinsic Peak. It only took him such a short time to become an unattainable existence?

He really couldn't accept this!

Why, why would there be such a capable person in this world? Comparisons were odious.

Similarly, May was the most horrified one. In the life-and-death struggle with Tom just now, she could clearly feel that Tom was constantly improving himself and his learning ability was exceptional. She had never met such a person!

Why? It was not reasonable.

In particular, Tom's last punch was too fantastic. Until now, she couldn't figure out how he punched her. His strength was so strong that he beat her to a serious injury!

More than 3,000 people present looked at Tom with awe and shock. At this moment, no one dared to look down on Tom.

In particular, some people who had talked about him behind his back were now all numb and began to panic with fear. They wanted to slap themselves. How stupid they were!

As for Amelia, she was so excited that tears welled up in her eyes. Tom won, who did not disappoint her! It proved that her choice was right. A light appeared in her dark life and drove all the darkness away.

Tom, under the gaze of so many people in the room, he began to move and walked towards May. His eyes were cold and emotionless.

It meant that he was still in the "shell" state, without emotion or consciousness, but completely out of the combat instinct.

Soon he walked up to May. May saw his cold eyes and could not see a trace of "human". Even her strong psychological quality could not help but tighten her heart with fear.

"Tom, I really underestimated you. I lost. From now on..."

It seemed that May had given in and admitted defeat. In her current state, she could not win Tom at all. If she still fought with him, then she must die.

She lowered her head and her eyes flashed with coldness. She was not that kind of person who could easily admit defeat. When she recovered, she would kill Tom's friends and then Tom!

It was her murderous intent that was caught by Tom. Before she could finish her sentence, Tom kicked her with his leg like a whip. The speed was extremely fast, approaching the speed of sound and seemingly blowing up the air. With a bang, May realized what happened and wanted to dodge, but she was seriously injured, which greatly affected her speed. Unable to dodge, she was kicked heavily by Tom. She screamed and spat out a mouthful of blood again, being kicked ten meters away.

This kick was too heavy and her waist was about to break!

Tom's punch hurt her seriously, and his kick made her lose the ability to resist.

She gritted her teeth and trembled with anger. When had she been hurt like this in public? This humiliation drove her crazy.

"Tom, how dare you attack me! I will kill you."

May threatened Tom coldly.

But as soon as she finished speaking, her pupils suddenly shrank. She saw Tom had already come to her again. His clear black and white eyes, without any emotion. He was just a cold machine. At this time, Tom, like the devil from the hell, wanted to devour her!

She immediately sensed Tom's murderous intent. No, or it couldn't be called murderous intent. She simply didn't think of her as a human being. Now Tom only had the instinct to fight and wanted to end her life like a pig or a dog.

It was horrible. May was really terrified, and began to tremble from the depths of her soul!

"Tom, you can't kill me..."

Bang!

Tom ignored her and kicked her again. May was at least the top expert at the upper-level of Innate Realm. Now she was prepared for Tom's kick even if she was seriously injured.

But she could not dodge every kick from Tom.

Bang bang...

Tom's legs were like iron whips, constantly beating May's body. May stepped back. After a while, Tom had kicked May so hard that she couldn't even stand.

Everyone looked at this scene and felt creepy. They had an unprecedented fear of Tom!

May looked so miserable now that she had no strength to fight back. She fell to the ground and was dying. In her usually cold eyes, there was intense fear and despair. She began to beg for mercy. "Tom, I was wrong. I shouldn't be against you. Please let me go, please..."

The way May begged for mercy now deeply stimulated everyone, especially Wade. He was now like in the abyss, bone-chilling cold!

May were defeated, no ability to fight back.

Tom stepped on May's chest and looked down at her. His eyes were as dark and emotionless as ever, which was the most frightening thing.

Crack!

Tom stepped hard and crushed May's chest. May straightened up for a while, and there was despair, regret, fear, unwillingness, and reluctance on her face. She froze, and then died.

May was dead.

More than 3,000 people present received this message that May was killed by Tom in front of so many people. This impact was great for everyone!

After all, May was not nobody, but an expert in the Innate Realm. Now she was dead.

Everyone looked at Tom and only felt bone-chilling fear and cold.

Tom still didn't "wake up". After he stepped on May, it was as if he had done something easy. Then he turned around and looked at Wade.

Wade's whole body trembled when he saw Tom's eyes. He wanted to turn around and run, but his feet seemed to be rooted to the ground and could not move at all.

"Tom..."

Before he could say anything, Tom was already in front of him.

Tom grabbed Wade's neck with one hand and lifted him up. Wade's feet flailed around in the air, helpless and scared.

As Tom's hands tightened, Wade felt a great pain and his neck was about to be crushed. He couldn't breathe. His vision began to disappear and he was about to die.

At this moment, a shout came from behind, "Tom!"

It was Amelia. This shout made some emotions appear in Tom's cold eyes. Slowly, he began to regain consciousness with his eyes rolling.

He turned around and saw Amelia looking at him with fear and worry.

Chapter 406

Tom regained his senses. Meanwhile, his face changed colour. As soon as he loosened his right hand, Wade fell to the ground, and the air was filled with the stench of urine. Obviously, Wade was so scared that he peed his pants.

Amelia walked over carefully and stared at Tom. "Tom, are you okay?"

Tom shook his head and said, "I'm fine. Did I scare you just now?"

Amelia nodded first, then shook her head. As soon as she was sure that Tom had regained his consciousness, she threw herself into Tom's arms with deep affection.

Just now, she was so worried. Now that Tom had defeated May, she cried with joy and hugged Tom tightly. She was unable to hold back her tears.

Tom felt quite distressed and moved by her emotions. He put his arm around her, patted her on the back, and said gently, "It's okay."

"Well..." Amelia grew to be relaxed by the consolation of Tom; she nodded hard and mustered up the courage to kiss Tom on the lips, "From now on, I belong to you. You cannot abandon me."

Tom stiffened and smiled bitterly.

At this moment, Wade wanted to escape, but Tom kicked a stone even without looking back, which smashed Wade's back. Wade fell to the ground, screaming.

Tom walked over with a cold face, stepped on Wade's chest, and looked down at him. "Wade, I would have spare your life since I had killed Peter. But you didn't appreciate my good intention. How dare you call May to put a crimp?"

Wade was so terrified that he trembled to beg for mercy. "Mr. Howard, Mr. Howard! You are the bigger fish, please spare me this time! I'm begging you. I really don't want to die, please~~please~~"

Today was Wade's birthday, and the event was unprecedentedly grand.

Almost all the famous officials with big titles in G State had come to support him. It was originally a glorious day for Wade, but because of Tom's appearance, the situation was completely reversed. Wade was extremely embarrassed!

He couldn't care less about this now. Now he was really scared out of his wits. Even May was no match for Tom, so he could never take revenge. He just wanted to save his life right now. He was still young and didn't want to die!

Tom narrowed his eyes and looked at him coldly, saying, "Wade, you shouldn't have hurt the people around me. What's more, you beat the Scotts up and down so badly! You've already crossed the line."

Hearing this, Wade was so terrified that he quickly begged for mercy and explained, "Mr. Howard, that's not what I meant. It's May's crazy idea. It has nothing to do with me!"

Now he betrayed May without any vestige of dignity.

Hearing his words, more than three thousand people present were utterly contemptuous of his disrespectful pleading.

Tom sneered. Of course, he wouldn't believe Hans' lies, let alone spare Wade.

Although Wade was in despair, stepping down on his chest, Tom ended his life.

Until now, everyone was in complete silence!

Everyone was stunned, staring at Tom — a mighty person or a demon coming from hell.

Tom killed a person in front of so many people. According to the law, he was going to be sentenced with death penalty.

But everyone knew that Tom would not die. His future was bright and promising!

Moreover, things were turned around in G State from this moment on and a new power was merging.

Undoubtedly, Tom was arising and became the strongest person in G State.

As for those who chose to draw a clear line with Tom because of May's warning, they now almost went mad with grief.

Sure they were as they chose the wrong side. Nobody would have thought that Tom who had just been promoted to the Innate Realm to be so terrifying, killing Peter and May in succession.

Tom looked around all of their faces. Anyone seen by him felt heart beating, nervous and scared. They all quickly lowered their heads and did not dare to look at Tom, afraid that Tom would be angry.

Now the Paynes and the Cloud and Sky Pavilion had mixed feelings. A wry smile tugged at the corner of Hawthorne and Master Fann's mouths. They really shoot themselves in the foot this time!

Tom could tell their thoughts, and his lips arched into a thought-provoking sneer.

"Let's go." Tom said to Amelia and was about to leave.

Amelia lovely leaned into Tom's arms, nodded meekly and left with Tom.

Tom walked slowly out of the ruins. As he passed the crowd, everyone who stood in front of him stepped back and gave way to him a five-meter-wide path to let Tom leave, afraid that they would hinder Tom.

"Tom, what happened just now was a misunderstanding. In fact, the Cloud and Sky Pavilion has always been on your side!"

At this moment, a few people walked out from the side. They were all in the top management of the Cloud and Sky Pavilion. Master Fann was bowing while apologizing, with an unprecedented humility.

Several other Cloud and Sky Pavilion executives also quickly explained that they hoped to restore a friendly relationship with Tom.

But would Tom restore the relationship with them?

Of course, it was impossible.

He sneered and said a few words faintly, "Get out of here."

The voice was very low and it sounded like a conversation between friends, but when the words were heard by the Cloud and Sky Pavilion, it was like a bolt from the blue, which blew their minds! Their face turned pale and became extremely terrified.

Even Master Fann was frightened. His face was full of regret and panic. He had to ask Amelia for help and said in a low voice, "Amelia, could you speak for us? There is a misunderstanding between us."

Amelia said drily with a cold expression, "There's nothing to say. I know what the Cloud and Sky Pavilion has done better than anyone during this period of time."

Master Fann's face darkened when he heard this. Other people from the Cloud and Sky Pavilion were also very mad. Amelia, as a member of the Cloud and Sky Pavilion, did not speak for them. She was a traitor!

They even looked at Amelia with a threat in their eyes.

But how could they hide this from Tom? Tom snorted coldly, stepped on the ground with his right foot, and the strength exploded. With a thud, the appeared crack on the hard floor run to the people from the Cloud and Sky Pavilion. Finally, Phut! The tile under the man's feet who looked threateningly at Amelia exploded directly.

"From now on, Amelia is taken by me. Whoever dares to hurt her is going against me. I promise you will come to a sticky end."

Sensing the murderous intent emanating from Tom, all the Cloud and Sky Pavilion members were shocked and quickly lowered their heads, not daring to speak anymore.

On the other side, Hawthorne and his men, who originally wanted to reconcile with Tom, immediately dismissed the idea.

Myles slapped himself hard and regretted it to the extreme!

In the end, Tom and Amelia left the stadium under everyone's gaze.

Everyone would not forget what happened tonight, and they knew that after tonight, Tom's identity was completely different!

Chapter 407

Tom came out of the gym and got into the car. He suddenly spat out a mouthful of blood. And Amelia was shocked to see his face was pale.

"Ah, Tom, what's wrong with you?!"

Amelia hurriedly hugged Tom anxiously. She quickly lifted Tom's clothes and examined Tom's injuries.

Although Tom seemed to have defeated May with ease, he was also seriously injured.

He had entered the 'shell' state, sealed his senses, and left behind instincts to control his body just now, which hurt himself a lot.

May was at the upper level of the Innate Realm. Her cultivation was terrifying, especially in terms of spiritual cultivation. She had caused huge damage to Tom's spiritual world. If Tom hadn't found this method to seal his senses during the three days of 'fast', he couldn't have been May's match.

In addition to the damage he caused to himself, May also hurt him seriously. After all, her martial arts were extraordinary even though her spiritual impact was useless. Now Tom's hands and feet were bruised, and it would take a long time to recuperate.

"Amelia, let go of me, you-you almost suffocate me..."

Tom was held in Amelia's chest, and the plump boobs covered his entire face. He was overdrawn, and couldn't move at all. If Amelia kept holding him tightly, he could really be suffocated.

He would be a joke if he really died of that!

If others knew, he would be laughed at.

Amelia screamed and quickly pushed Tom's face out of her chest. Seeing Tom gasping helplessly, she blushed. She stuck out her tongue and said, "Tom, I didn't mean to."

Tom had enough fresh air. He had been better now, and he said weakly, "I see. You can send me home first. I was seriously injured in the fight with May. I need to rest."

Amelia bit her lip and asked, "Don't you need to go to the hospital? You're seriously injured."

Tom shook his head weakly and said, "There's no need to go to the hospital. I just need a week of rest."

"A week?" Amelia's eyes widened. Suddenly, she thought of something and her eyes were sparkling.

Tom was too weak to speak, and he did not notice Amelia's strange eyes. Otherwise, he would not have asked Amelia to send him back.

"Yes." Tom nodded and said, "I'm weak now. I'll rest in your car. When we get to Dragon Bay, please wake me up."

"Oh." Amelia agreed, then let go of Tom, fastened his seat belt, and started driving.

Tom was so tired that he fell asleep in less than three seconds.

Amelia's car stopped very soon, but it didn't stop at Dragon Bay, but at another villa area. Amelia had bought a villa here not long ago. She hadn't told anyone about that, and even the members of Cloud and Sky Pavilion didn't know.

She parked her car and looked at Tom, who was sleeping soundly in the passenger seat. Her face blushed with excitement.

That was great. Tom needed to rest for a week, which meant that during this week, he belonged to her!

During this week, she would manage to let Tom become hers.

Seeing that Tom was sleeping soundly, she did not wake him up. Instead, she picked up Tom quietly and walked towards her villa.

She was a woman of power at the Master Realm. A dozen of bulky men were not her match. So she could easily carry Tom, who was less than 100 kilograms in weight.

Tom's breath hit her ear, making her particularly excited and shy. His breath was warm and she felt itching and wet.

Finally, she carried Tom into the villa and put him directly on the bed. Seeing Tom sleeping soundly, she was happy and satisfied. And she leaned over and stole a kiss Tom on the lips.

Now Tom was in a mess. Not only was he dirty, but his clothes were broken. He had to take a shower and change into new clothes.

Amelia thought about it and tried to call Tom, but she couldn't wake him up. It seemed that he had fallen into a dormant state. So she decided to bathe Tom herself!

As soon as his thought came to her mind, she was extremely excited. Her pretty face turned red.

She carried Tom to the bathroom, prepared hot water, and took a deep breath. She had taken off her clothes, only left her underwear, and then helped Tom take off his clothes.

Although she usually looked very seductive, in fact, she was still a virgin. She had never been so close to any man, let alone showering with others.

When she saw Tom's perfect figure, her breathing began to be faster.

When Tom was wearing clothes, his perfect figure was hidden. But now she finally saw Tom's real charm.

At this moment, she even began to envy Phoebe for having Tom by her side for so long!

But she still remembered to help bathe

Tom, and she couldn't help but take advantage of him.

She thought Tom didn't know what she was doing since he was sleeping soundly, but Tom knew almost everything. But now he was too overdrawn to refuse. He was helpless!

At the same time.

dozens of meters away from Amelia's villa, Sunny, who was dressed in a fiery red suit, withdrew her gaze from Tom and towards Amelia. Her eyes were full of anger and she cursed Amelia as a bitch. Then she softly got down from the tree and walked towards a black Mercedes-Benz Maybach on the side of the road.

Master Chou opened the door for her and said respectfully, "Master Sunny, needn't we take Young Master back?"

A trace of shyness flashed through Sunny's eyes. She was a very pure person. After living for so long, she was still a virgin. She had never seen a man's naked body. But she what she saw through the window made her heart beat faster and she felt ashamed.

She was Tom's godsister, but she saw Tom's naked body. It was so inappropriate!

"No, he's enjoying now!" Sunny said that through her gritted teeth and then went into the car.

Master Chou was stunned. Was Master Sunny being shy?

Chapter 408

The news that May was killed by Tom spread like wildfire all over G State.

Suddenly, Tom's reputation reached an all-time high.

Some people had made a clear break with Tom because of May's warning. However, they were now not only regretful but afraid that Tom would take revenge against them.

So they couldn't wait to confess to their mistakes and asked Tom to forgive them.

Unfortunately, they could not find Tom at all. It seemed that Tom had disappeared, which made them even more frightened and uneasy...

Where on earth was Tom?

He was still with Amelia. He slept for two days and nights, namely 48 hours.

The battle with May was too demanding for him, and he was utterly exhausted. If Amelia hadn't woken him up in time, he would have gone crazy by now.

In the unbroken 48-hour sleep, his injuries were constantly repaired. He was much better when he woke up.

Opening his eyes, He was stunned for a moment at the sight of the scene. He soon felt something was wrong...

This was not his room!

Besides, this bed was much softer than his.

Then, Tom felt a woman lying next to him, who was hugging him tightly and putting her thighs on his lower abdomen.

Worst of all, he felt that he was naked, and the other party was in the same state. He could clearly feel the touch of her skin.

In an instant, he held his breath, with his muscles tensed up.

He turned around in a hurry. Immediately, he saw a beautiful face. The woman was Amelia!

Could it be that this was Amelia's house? Amelia didn't send him back to Dragon Bay at all?

Damn!

He was doomed.

This immediately gave Tom a headache. According to the situation, maybe Amelia had already done something to him.

"Oh, honey, I'm sorry for you. I haven't expected to be caught off guard by Amelia. She is such an enchantress."

At the thought of what Amelia had done with him when he was in a coma, he felt particularly helpless.

At this moment, Amelia gave a low moan and woke up. When she stretched herself. Tom blushed, with his heart beating faster.

It had to be said that Amelia's figure was really voluptuous, not in the least inferior to Phoebe. She was definitely a beauty.

Faced with this situation, Tom was very confused. For a moment, he didn't know what to do. Could he continue to pretend to be asleep? Or should he question what Amelia had done to him?

Amelia opened her eyes and looked at Tom. In an instant, she blushed, "You are awake."

Tom nodded. He was also embarrassed as a thin-skinned man. He said, "When is it now?"

The best solution was to pretend that nothing had happened.

Amelia told him the time. When Tom heard this, he was a little surprised that he had been asleep for two days and nights.

Phoebe must be overwrought.

Judging by his expression, Amelia guessed what he was thinking of and said, "Don't worry. I've already called your wife and told her not to worry."

"What?!" Tom's eyes immediately widened. What the hell was this? If Phoebe had already known their affair, he was done for!

"You! I... Uh! Didn't I ask you to send me back to Dragon Bay? You... I'm doomed!" Tom slapped his forehead and looked desperate.

Amelia put her arms around his neck and said with a smile, "Don't worry. Your wife is not angry at all. She asked me to take care of you."

Hugged like this by Amelia, Tom felt her fairly sexy body and immediately tensed up, "Can you let me go first?"

"No!" Amelia coquettishly wiggled her body and pouted, "I have had sex with you. You can't abandon me, or I'll tell your wife."

Tom could only smile bitterly.

Now he really couldn't push Amelia away or scolded her.

He had no choice but to sigh and said, "Amelia, why are you doing this? I'm already married. You're such a charming woman that you can easily find someone better than me..."

Tom couldn't continue because his lips were kissed by Amelia.

"I don't care. I've already decided to accompany you for the rest of my life. You can't abandon me!" Amelia said firmly. With her expression softened a lot, she said, "Actually, you don't have to worry. I just want to be by your side. I don't have to be your legal wife."

Tom's lips moved. He could feel Amelia's deep love for him. No one could be heartless. Until now, it was impossible that Tom had no feelings for Amelia at all.

However, he had such a heavy burden now. It was a risk for Amelia to follow him.

But it would be too apathetic of Tom to refuse again since Amelia had already said that. He said seriously, "Amelia, I have a much more complicated background than what you know. In the future, I will face a formidable enemy beyond your imagination. The slightest carelessness will render me doomed! If you follow me, then you will also run the risk."

Amelia was stunned for a moment. She did not expect Tom to tell her this.

With Tom's current status and strength, he had become a superior person. So many people had to rely on Tom for their living.

How could there be a formidable enemy of Tom?

In her silence, Tom smiled and pushed her away. He said, "I should go back."

Amelia came back to her senses, with unprecedented firmness in her eyes. Then she hugged Tom tightly and said, "Tom, I'm serious. Even though the future is on the brink of apocalypse, I will always be by your side. I'm yours whether I'm alive or dead."

Tom was stunned. He had never thought that Amelia would be so affectionate towards him.

However, it was not so surprising that Amelia could say these words when Tom recalled her performance at Wade's birthday party. Under the pressure of May and the Cloud and Sky Pavilion, she still chose to accompany him at that time.

"Okay!" Tom held Amelia in his arms. Now, it was an affectation if he continued to refuse her.

After two days of rest, Tom had felt much better. He had recovered half of his strength, and his injuries were slowly recovering. In just a few days, he would be completely recovered.

When he got up, he immediately called

Phoebe to tell her that he was okay.

Fortunately, it sounded that there was nothing unusual about Phoebe, which made Tom breathe a sigh of relief. He couldn't help but remember what Phoebe had said to him before. Could it be that Phoebe really didn't mind that he was together with a woman?

Then Tom called Elliot. Receiving his call, Elliot was especially excited and relaxed. Elliot and Malcolm had been worried about whether something happened to him for the past two days. After all, Tom had never lost contact with them before.

Then Elliot told him that many people came to apologize to him with expensive gifts during this period.

Had already guessed this, Tom was not surprised.

After giving some instructions, Tom hung up.

Just as Tom hung up and was about to say goodbye to Amelia, he suddenly heard Amelia's excited voice coming from the room, "Mom! How many times have I told you? I will never go back for a blind date, let alone marry Wyatt... OK, I'll tell you the truth. I've had a boyfriend! Mom, can you make sense... Okay, okay, mom, don't be impulsive. I'll go back now..."

Finding Amelia's annoyance and helplessness, Tom asked, "What's wrong?"

Amelia said, "It's my mother. Afraid that I won't be able to get married, she has been arranging blind dates for me. I don't know how many men I have rejected. This time, she introduced me to another one who was reportedly a well-educated man of the gentry. So she asked me to go back for a blind date. She threatened to commit suicide if I don't go back, alas..."

Suddenly, Amelia thought of something. With her eyes lit up, she said, "Tom, why don't you accompany me home? As long as they see that I have found a boyfriend, they won't force me to go for a blind date!"

When Tom was stunned, Amelia had already laid in his arms...

Chapter 409

Tom could not stand Amelia's coquetry and had to agree.

However, he first went back to Dragon Bay to show Phoebe and her family that he was fine, then went to Elliot and Malcolm for the same purpose.

Hearing the news of his appearance, a lot of people immediately came to him, giving him gifts, apologizing, and fawning over him.

Tom ignored them all because he knew these people were all timid drifters. This time, because of May, they broke off their relations with him. The next time if the same thing happened, they would also choose to betray him.

Of course, Tom would not choose to offend them. He had to have some air, so he would give them the cold shoulder for a while before accepting their flattery.

Tom had now defeated May and became the most popular and famous person in G State, but no matter how powerful he was, he could not bear to offend everyone. If he wanted to further strengthen himself, he had to keep making friends. No matter when it was always good to have another friend.

After giving some instructions, Tom and Amelia went back to her hometown.

Amelia's hometown was not in H City or Phoenix but in W City, a city with a very good climate and very suitable to live.

It was the first time that Tom had come to W City to see this beautiful scenery. He had a good impression of this city.

Amelia was in a good mood. She was like a magpie that was just let out of a cage. She held Tom's arm the whole time.

Tom was influenced by her happiness and relaxed a lot.

"Is this your hometown?" Tom asked as he looked at the peaceful town in front of him.

"Yes, how is it? Is my hometown beautiful?" Amelia looked up and said proudly.

Tom nodded and said, "Not bad."

After getting out of the car, Amelia held Tom's hand intimately and said proudly, "You bet. Our W City is a place of creative minds and gifted talents. There are many beautiful girls here too."

Tom agreed on that. At this glance, he saw many beautiful women.

Of course, compared to a beautiful woman like Amelia, they were much inferior.

At this moment, a surprised voice came from behind. "Amelia?"

When Amelia heard the voice, she looked back and saw an old man. She said in surprise, "Second Uncle, nice to see you."

When the old man saw Amelia, he smiled happily and said, "Young lady, you haven't come back for so long. I thought you were missing."

Then, the old man saw Tom, who was holding arms with Amelia. Immediately, his face changed and he asked in a low voice, "Amelia, who is this?"

Amelia said with a smile, "He is my boyfriend. Mom has always been worried that I can't find a partner. Now I brought my partner back."

The Second Uncle did not smile, but his expression became more serious. Instead, he said, "Amelia, come with me."

"What's wrong, Uncle?" Amelia had a bad feeling when she saw her second uncle's serious face.

Her Uncle pulled Amelia aside and said in a deep voice, "Amelia, why are you bringing your boyfriend back at this time? Your mother has arranged a blind date for you. He is a whole package and is waiting for you to go home! Now that you've brought a man back, this is a real slap in the face for him!"

They walked to the side and Tom could still hear them clearly.

Amelia said calmly, "I don't care whether the man is at my home or not. What's the big deal? Actually, it is time to make him give up."

When her Uncle heard this, he became even more serious. "Hey! You must not have such an idea. He is the nephew of the city lord. He has a bright future, and he is a brilliant graduate overseas! If you take this man back, how can he save his face? Besides, he's good at every aspect. I think you'd better dump this man!"

Amelia was unhappy after hearing this and said, "So what if he is the lord's nephew? I already have a man I like. Can he kill me?"

"Amelia, your mother has asked many people for help to get this man to have a blind date with you. The man is very outstanding. Don't let down your mother's kindness to you." he persuaded Amelia.

"Uncle, don't say anything more. I brought my boyfriend back this time just to tell mom not to arrange any blind date for me anymore. I'm so annoyed." Amelia said firmly.

Her Uncle wanted to say something else, but Amelia had already gone back to Tom's side and prepared to go home.

He looked at their backs and shook his head helplessly and worriedly.

Tom said, "Your family is powerful.

Your mother even gets you a blind date with the lord's nephew."

Amelia rolled her eyes and said sullenly, "Don't joke with me. My mother thinks I can't get married and has been setting me up with others all the time. I have been so annoyed. This lord's nephew was a classmate of mine. He went abroad to study a few years ago. I didn't know when he heard that my mother was trying to arrange a blind date for me. He then came back. He has called me many times. I didn't like to talk to him."

Tom did not doubt it. After all, Amelia was beautiful and powerful, so she must have many suitors.

Not long after, they arrived at Amelia's house. It was a foreign-styled house in the countryside. The wall was a little old. It should have been built about ten years ago.

There were three cars parked at the door, one of which was a Porsche Cayenne, probably driven by the city lord's nephew.

"Mom, I'm back. Open the door."

Amelia shouted into the room.

Immediately, a group of people came out of the room, men and women, old and young, and their faces were filled with joy. When they saw Amelia holding a man's hand in an intimate manner, everyone's expressions changed.

As soon as Tom saw this, he knew that this trip with Amelia was not that simple.

A teenage boy came to open the door and shouted at Amelia, "Sister Amelia."

Amelia's face was filled with a happy smile. She stroked the little boy's head and said with a smile, "Musa, I haven't seen you for two years. You've grown so big."

Musa smiled shyly and scratched his head. Then, he looked at Tom beside him and asked, "Sister Amelia, who is this big brother?"

Amelia said, "He's my boyfriend. You have to call him brother."

Musa was polite and called Tom brother-in-law. Immediately, he was slapped on the back of his head by a middle-aged man from behind and the man scolded in a low voice. "He is not your brother-in-law!"

Musa immediately pouted in a grievance.

The middle-aged man said to Amelia, "Amelia, it's okay for you to be home. But why did you bring a friend back? Didn't you know that your mother had set a blind date for you and he was the nephew of the city lord?"

The middle-aged man's tone was obviously unkind and his look at Tom was especially full of threat and contempt. When he saw Tom looking so common, he looked down on him even more.

He then said, "You must be Amelia's colleague. Thank you for sending Amelia home. It's not convenient for you to have dinner here. You can leave now."

Chapter 410

He spoke in a commanding tone, which showed he was arrogant and looked down on Tom.

In his eyes, Tom was just Amelia's colleague, a white-collar worker and could earn at most ten thousand a month. Tom was no match for the nephew of the city lord inside.

How could such a lowly white-collar worker be qualified to be the son-in-law of the Castillos?

Tom didn't take his words seriously, but Amelia couldn't bear it. She said angrily, "Uncle, be careful about your attitude. His name is Tom. He's my date, not my colleague. Also, he's staying for the night."

When her uncle heard her words, his face immediately darkened and he said, "Amelia, you want to destroy our the Castillos? The city lord's nephew is sitting in the house, waiting for you to come back and get engaged! Now you bring a man back without our permission, this is a real slap in the face of the city lord's nephew and the city lord!"

The other people also came over and discussed Amelia disapprovingly.

"Isn't that right? We have spared no effort to set up this date for you and the city lord's nephew. Now that you've brought back this man, you are embarrassing us."

"That's right, Amelia. You're too thoughtless."

"And look at this guy. He looks so sly. He's not a good person. This would sully the reputation of our family if you marry such a person?"

"Not only is he sly, but he is also an ordinary person. His monthly salary is not more than ten thousand, right? He is definitely no match for the nephew of the city lord."

"Amelia, you are a whole package. Don't marry such a mediocre man. Get him out of here."

"That's right. Don't let the city lord's nephew see him. Otherwise, he would be angry, which will be bad for us. Just now, the city lord's nephew asked us if you have ever been in a relationship. We all said you were still a virgin."

"Why are you still talking? While the lord's nephew is still drinking tea in the house, chase this guy away!"

They were all chattering and showing disdain towards Tom, trying to drive Tom away.

Tom frowned. He had expected that there would be difficulties in his trip with Amelia this time, but he did not expect that even Amelia's family was so rude and bitchy.

No matter what, he was a guest who came so far away. No matter how much they didn't like him, at least he deserved to be invited in for tea.

Amelia was even angrier. She felt worse for them to scold Tom than to scold her.

"Shut up!" Amelia scolded angrily.
"First, he's my man. I would never chase him away. If you really want to do that, then I won't come back! Second, I won't marry the city lord's nephew. Stop dreaming!"

Her words angered many of the Castillos, especially several elders, who began to scold. Two of them had a short fuse, and they pointed at Tom's nose and scolded him in the dialect of W City. Tom was not from W City but could know that they were cursing.

His face turned grim. He was being kind to escort Amelia back. He had even bought a lot of gifts on the way, only to be treated badly.

If it weren't for Amelia's sake, he would have been furious.

"Enough!" Amelia shouted and said coldly, "I won't go back to this house. You go on a blind date with the city lord's nephew!"

After that, she took Tom's hand and turned to leave.

She was really angry and aggrieved now. She hadn't been home for two years. This time, she brought Tom home but they were treated like this! Were they her family? Sometimes she really didn't want to go home!

Moreover, they scolded Tom so harshly that she felt it was too much.

At this moment, a middle-aged woman came out of the room. She looked a little like Amelia and shouted at Amelia, "Amelia, come back here!"

Amelia stopped, looked back, looked at the middle-aged woman, and said, "Mom."

It was obvious that Amelia still had some reverence for her mother.

The middle-aged woman came over and said, "If I didn't call you, you wouldn't go home, would you? Am I still your mother? Is this still your home?"

It had to be said that Amelia's mother was quite imposing.

Amelia moved her lips and wanted to say something. In the end, she just said, "You've always wanted me to have a relationship with someone. Now that I've found one and brought them back, uncle and the others want to drive us away."

Amelia's mother did not reply. Instead, she looked at Tom with an overbearing aura. It was obvious that Amelia's mother had worked in the public services with a relatively high position, so she had an aura that ordinary people did not have.

When Amelia's mother stared at someone like this, most people would feel uncomfortable, look away, and stammer.

But it was nothing to Tom. He even had killed that she-devil May.

"What's your name?" Amelia's mother asked Tom.

"Auntie, my name is Tom. I..."

Before he could finish speaking, Amelia's mother interrupted him impatiently and waved her hand. "All right, you are a guest anyway. Come in."

Tom smiled. He did not take Amelia's mother's contempt to heart. Now he could see that all the Castillos wanted Amelia to marry this so-called nephew of the city lord. Now that Tom appeared as the boyfriend of Amelia, they would naturally be unanimously hostile to Tom.

Amelia was relieved to see her mother turn around and return to the house. Tom smiled and said, "I didn't see you're quite afraid of your mother."

"Tell me about it. You don't know how bad-tempered she is usually." Amelia sighed and said, with obvious fear on her face.

Then, Amelia and Tom entered the house together. With the warning just now, Amelia did not dare to hold Tom as intimately as before.

When she came in, she immediately saw a young man sitting on the sofa in the living room. He was about thirty years old and not very handsome, but he looked noble, obviously from a prominent family.

When he saw Amelia, his eyes immediately lit up, and his gaze fell directly on Amelia.

When Amelia saw his gaze, she frowned unhappily and deliberately tried to hold Tom's arm. But immediately, her mother saw through her, coughed twice, and looked at her threateningly. She immediately did not dare to do it.
