

Chapter 71 Who Is the Mistress

"What are you doing?!"

"Cecilia, you b*tch, stay away from my husband!"

When Carrie drove past the kindergarten, she saw Cory, and Cecilia's body was pressed against Cory. She got out of the car in a rage and rushed over, pushing Cecilia away.

"Who's the b*tch, Carrie? Didn't you steal your husband from Christina..."

Cecilia has pushed away but was not angry. Instead, she smiled and ridiculed Carrie.

"What did you say?!"

Carrie's face darkened instantly, and she took a big step forward as if she was about to pounce on Cecilia and tear her apart.

"We are in public. Stop it."

Cory standing there, silent, reached out and grabbed Carrie.

Carrie looked angry and like she didn't want to give up, but she didn't dare to mess around in public. She looked up, glared at Cecilia, and shot her a warning look.

While Cecilia put on a perfect smile and gently said to Cory. "Don't forget to come to me..."

"When did you hook up with that b*tch?"

8:32 AM

As soon as Carrie got into the car, she immediately shook his arm nervously and asked.

"Are you crazy? I have nothing to do with her."

Cory looked in the direction of Cecilia's departure and remembered what she had just said. He shook off Carrie's hand impatiently, stepped on the accelerator, and the car drove steadily down the highway.

Carrie sat in the passenger seat and yelled angrily at the man beside her.

"Cory, don't try to lie to me. That b*tch was pressed against your body!"

"Cory, we have been married. I'm your wife now. But you are still thinking about your ex-wife, Christina, right?

This b*tch looks so similar to her..."

"Shut up!"

Cory's face was gloomy. He clenched the steering wheel with her right hand. He could not control himself and yelled at her as she shouted and mentioned Christina's name.

"Carrie, I told you, once we are married, I won't have an affair, believe it or not. At least, Christina was willing to believe me..." Cory's voice dropped, tinged with complex emotions.

During the three years of marriage between him and Christina, she had always believed in him, but he cheated on her...

8:32 AM

If Carrie had not suddenly returned from abroad with his daughter, he wouldn't get a divorce but remained to be indifferent to Christina.

Carrie saw the guilt on his face clearly and immediately bit her lips, angry and not willing to accept this.

The look in his eyes made her more worried than when she saw him snuggling up with Cecilia. He really cared about his ex-wife...

"Cory, I told you a long time ago that I came back because our daughter wanted to see her father. I didn't want to break up your family. It was you who said you didn't love Christina at all. You asked her to get a divorce, and you took her naked pictures..."

8:32 AM

Carrie lowered her head and her voice became aggrieved as she sobbed. "Do you know that those people are saying that I stole Christina's husband and that I'm a homewrecker..."

Cory's face was grim and livid. As he listened to her cry and talk about the past, he became even more agitated. The car got off the highway and stopped abruptly at the red light.

He took a deep breath and opened said to her as gently as he could. "Carrie, you are being paranoid."

"We've got married, and we're going to have a wedding soon. As for Christina..."

He paused for a moment, then turned around and glanced casually at the window. "I've been decorating our new house recently. I found something Christina left behind in the apartment. I just wanted to send those items to her..."

"Why not use the express?" His tone became gentle, Carrie did not dare to be unreasonable for fear of offending him.

"No."

However, Cory was a little tough this time. The light in front of him turned green. He stepped on the accelerator and thought for a long time before continuing, "That's Christina's wooden box. I have to return it to her personally."

It was ridiculous that although he had been married to her for three years, he didn't know anything about Christina's family background, her parents, or her hobbies.

8:32 AM

But this rosewood box, which Christina had locked in a secret drawer in her closet, had always been very precious to her.

This wooden box, as Christina had said, seemed to be the only thing left by her missing childhood friend, named Eric or something.

"What's in that wooden box?" Carrie was alert and curious.

Cory's face changed and immediately changed the subject. "Our daughter said that she wants to wear the pink princess dress at our wedding next week..."

8:32 AM

"This is my wedding. I just want it to be perfect. Her pink dress doesn't match my white dress. Or she can't attend the wedding. Your family only cares about our daughter, and they don't care about me. Do whatever you want. It's up to you and your family anyway!"

Carrie angrily turned to look at the window. Every time she asked him about Christina, he deliberately changed the subjects, and he was always partial to their daughter.

Cory had thought that she was just jealous of him being better to their daughter, but now, he saw Carrie's gloomy side face, he couldn't help thinking of something else.

8:33 AM

[Is your daughter not very close to Carrie?]

Cecilia just told him about this, but why did she know this?

He looked down and his eyes fell on the screen of his phone. Cecilia had entered her phone number into his phone...

He wasn't interested in having a mistress, but...

The car stopped in front of the Hampton Family, and Carrie got out of the car. But Cory turned the car around and went straight back to the company.

He typed very quickly on his phone and sent a text message. [Meet me in

8:33 AM

Beachside Hotel tonight. You said before that Patrick plotted something against me. What is it exactly...]

The phone vibrated and a new message came in.

Christina looked curiously at the screen of her phone on the bedside table. The line of text flashed, so she didn't see the message clearly. But she saw it was sent by a private hospital in Seattle.

"... Are you awake?" She read the text and reached out to grab her phone.

"Don't touch my phone."

However, the man in the bathroom called out to her in a low, anxious voice.

8:33 AM

Then Patrick walked over quickly. He grabbed his cell phone as if he didn't like people intruding on his privacy.

Christina was yelled at and immediately withdrew her hand guiltily before she turned to look at him awkwardly.

"There was a new message from the United States... saying that someone woke up."

She suddenly remembered something and reminded Patrick, who was always busy. "Grandpa just asked to go to the Hampton Family this afternoon. Don't forget..."

Cory and Carrie would have a wedding soon, and the Hopkins Family would be there. On the day of the wedding, it was a little improper for her, Cory's ex-wife to go, but she had to go over for dinner tonight.

8:33 AM

She reached the bedroom door, but the man inside still did not reply to her.

Christina frowned and looked back, a little dissatisfied. "Hey, don't get caught up in your meetings. If you don't go tonight, grandpa will be angry again..."

Before she could finish her words, she noticed that Patrick's face was complicated. He looked perplexed but also surprised. He stared at the phone and was stunned.

"Patrick, are you okay?" She had never seen him look so shocked.

8:33 AM

"I need to go to the United States right now..."

8:33 AM

Chapter 72 Attending Ex-husband's

Christina stood still, watching him as he walked out of the bedroom door with his phone clutched in his hand.

"Patrick, did anything happen?"

Christina said to the man in front of her. She did not know if it was her illusion. She felt his footsteps a little hasty and heavy.

"That message just now..." As she guessed, she followed him downstairs.

"A message from the United States..."

Christina had just arrived at the Main Residence of Hopkins Family when she heard from afar that Mr. Hopkins was in a hurry to ask, "There is really a new situation. He has woken up. Is there a chance to recover?"

"Young Master has rushed to the international airport." The butler was also very excited.

She couldn't understand what they were talking about, so she walked up to him worriedly. "Grandpa, Patrick..."

The old man looked up at her and hesitated for a moment before asking, "Didn't he mention it to you?"

Christina smiled awkwardly and shook her head.

Thinking about it, she really worried for nothing. She had no right to interfere with Patrick's personal affairs.

"There are some urgent matters in the United States. Patrick needs to rush over immediately. He may be staying there for a long time." The butler smiled kindly and explained briefly to her.

"Oh."

Christina lowered her head. Her tone was somewhat sad.

She did not continue to ask about it. She pretended not to care and sat with the old man for a while. When she returned to her bedroom, she immediately grabbed her cell phone and opened WhatsApp.

Invincible Tina: "Charles! Come out. Come out!"

8:33 AM

Brother Charlie: "Why?"

Originally, Charles didn't want to talk to her since he was at the company meeting, but Christina seemed a little agitated today.

Christina entered a string of words in a flurry, but she felt it rather awkward when she was asked by Charles so calmly.

After thinking for a while, she calmly replied as she typed a line of words, "Patrick received a text message from Seattle hospital today, saying that someone woke up, and then he acted abnormally and rushed out..."

Brother Charlie: "Really? Woke up?"

8:33 AM

Even Charles was shocked. He spoke to his assistant, stood up, and walked out of the conference room.

After thinking about it, he replied to Christina, "Patrick is going to Beauty Island."

Invincible Tina: "What? Beauty Island???"

Charles looked at the emojis of anger she sent, raised his eyebrows, and teased, "Christina, do you think Patrick went to the US to find beautiful girls? Are you jealous?"

Brother Charlie: "Don't worry. Patrick has suffered enough from you alone. Beauty Island is a rich area in Seattle, where a friend of his lives."

8:33 AM

Invincible Tina: "Who?"

Charles did not answer her and he looked thoughtful.

Christina knew that Charles was also a busy man, and did not dare to disturb him. She thought of quietly withdrawing from WhatsApp as she felt a little silly to inquire about Patrick's personal affairs.

Brother Charlie: "When there's a chance, perhaps Patrick will introduce the person to you."

At last, Charles sent the message and Christina looked at it in a daze for a while.

She browsed her WhatsApp content and read some inspirational articles.

8:33 AM

She found that she hadn't updated her Moments for a long time, so she sighed and wrote a paragraph.

"Being pregnant with no appetite and brain's swelling. It is as if I'm getting increasingly stupider." Christina then added a meme of a drooping orange cat at the end.

To Christina's surprise, someone instantly commented on the boring exclamation in her Moments.

"Tina, don't be too tired. Take more rest as much as possible." It's a very polite saying.

Christina only glanced at the word "Tina", which was a little nauseating...

8:33 AM

She checked the other party's message. The nickname was Sleeping Beauty.

This was a new WhatsApp account. The other party had not updated any things in Moments. "Sleeping Beauty? Why does a man use this nickname? Is he really so beautiful..."

Christina didn't take it to heart and withdrew the WhatsApp directly.

Cory and Carrie were officially getting married next week. They and family relatives were supposed to have a meal this afternoon to talk about the details of the wedding. Patrick suddenly went to the United States, so Christina naturally did not go.

8:33 AM

In order to have a healthy big fat baby, Christina had a regular routine. She stayed at home for a week and she didn't go anywhere, but occasionally, she subconsciously looked at her cell phone.

After Patrick went to the US, he didn't call her.

"What do you miss him for?"

Getting used to getting up early, Christina picked up her phone to check as soon as she got up, and her expression was a little unhappy.

"Ma'am, why have you been so distracted all week? Are you feeling unwell?"

8:34 AM

Early in the morning, Christina had breakfast with the old man. When the butler served them, he asked with concern.

Before Christina could answer, Mr. Hopkins raised his eyebrows and said in a deep voice, "Patrick will not return until the end of the month..."

"Ma'am, it turns out that you miss Young Master. He has something important to do....." The butler understood a little and immediately explained to her.

Christina was embarrassed.

Mr. Hopkins teased her as well and said leisurely, "Don't stay at home all day long. Depression does no good to my great-grandson's IQ. Find yourself some things to do..."

8:34 AM

Thirty minutes later, Christina sat in the car expressionlessly. The car was driving forward steadily, heading for the church on the east side of the city.

She thought that the old man had just asked her to play chess with him when he said that she shall have something to do. Why didn't she expect that he wanted her to attend the wedding?

"Grandpa, I don't think I'm a good fit..."

"What, are you feeling guilty?"

Mr. Hopkins did not let her come alone. He sat with her in the car. "Christina, remember that you are the granddaughter-in-law of our Hopkins Family. It makes sense that you attend the wedding of the Hampton Family.

8:34 AM

Hiding or escaping from it will only end up in making trouble."

"Not because of this. I don't want to..." I didn't want to see those people.

Seeing that she hesitated to speak, the old man immediately frowned and looked at her. "You must keep a suitable distance from other men, you know. Don't do anything to make Patrick misunderstand..."

In fact, today, the old man proposed to attend the wedding with Christina with another purpose, which was to clear the relationship between her and Cory.

Christina was stunned for a moment. It sounded like a joke, but when it was said by the old man in his deep and aged voice, it was more like a warning.

8:34 AM

She turned to the window and answered, "I know."

But deep down in her heart, she was very dissatisfied. "Patrick may have a beautiful woman in his arms in the United States. It's really unfair..." He didn't even send her a text!

The wedding ceremony became more solemn with the presence of Mr. Hopkins.

The people present all went to greet Mr. Hopkins one after another. Christina was always by the old man's side. Indeed, no one dared to look at her even a little strangely, and no one dared to gossip.

8:34 AM

Laurie was clearly unhappy when Laurie saw Christina was here, but she also smiled.

Everything was going smoothly, just waiting for the main character to enter.....

"Why did the groom take so long....."

8:34 AM
